Two vehicles hit same buck on US 87; others collide with deer, wild hog

by JUANELL JONES

Five accidents occurred in Lynn County during the past week, two of them involving hitting the same buck on US 87 just minutes apart, one that involved hitting a deer, one a wild hog, and one that crashed into a guardrail.

Two separate accidents occurred just minutes apart during the early morning hours on Friday, Nov. 3 on US 87 about 5.5 miles south of Tahoka. A woman called 9-1-1 at 3:14 a.m. to report that she had just witnessed a vehicle hit a large buck on the highway, and then she called back a few minutes later to report that another vehicle had hit the same buck before it could be removed from the road. The vehicle involved in the first accident was a black 2014 4-door Mazda with a driver out of Amarillo, and the second vehicle was a 2000 Ford 4-door with a driver out of Plano. No injuries were reported, and EMS was not called to the scene.

At about the same time of night, at 2:57 a.m. on Saturday, Nov. 4, another accident with a deer was reported 5 miles south of Wilson on FM 400. Sharon DeLeon of Tahoka was the driver of a white Nissan Versa that hit the deer, and she requested treatment by Lynn County EMS, who transported her to Lynn County Hospital.

Last Monday, Oct. 30, at 8:30 p.m., a man called Lynn County Sheriff's Office to report he had just hit a wild hog on US 87, about 1 mile south of Tahoka. Mike Morris of Shallowater was driving a Ford F-150 when it struck the hog. He reported that he was not injured, but that his vehicle would not start after the accident.

At 5 p.m. last Thursday, Nov. 2, a red SUV lost control and struck a guardrail in the southbound lane of Loop 472 and US 87. No injuries were reported, and the driver's name was unavailable.

Wilson and Tahoka volunteer fire departments were called out several times for fires involving burning cotton during the past week. Wilson VFD responded to a cotton module on fire in a module truck at 2:41 a.m. Nov. 2, approximately 2 miles east of Wilson on FM 211. Firemen were able to pull the burning cotton off the module truck and then let it burn. Wilson VFD was also called for cotton on fire in a cotton stripper basket at 3 p.m. Nov. 2, at a location 1 mile north of FM 211 on FM 2192. Firemen pulled the burning cotton out of the basket and let it burn.

Tahoka VFD responded to a cotton module on fire at 2 p.m. Nov. 2, at FM 2956 and County Road 24, pulling the burning module away from other nearby modules and letting it burn itself out. Tahoka VFD also responded to a grass fire on the side of US 87 4 miles north of Tahoka at 4:12 p.m. Friday, Nov. 3.

A woman reported a phone scam to the Sheriff's Office on Oct. 31, saying she had received phone calls for the past three days from an individual claiming they were with the IRS, saying if she did not pay what she owed (by phone) then a warrant for her arrest would be issued.

A Lubbock woman was arrested on a Grand Jury indictment this week, from recent proceedings in 106th (See POLICE REPORT, page 2)

O'Donnell voters approve legalizing liquor sales

Citizens in O'Donnell voted overwhelmingly to legalize the sale of alcohol beverages, including mixed beverages, in an election held Tuesday, Nov. 7. The measure passed 119-25.

"The City of O'Donnell held its first ever local option liquor election on Tuesday. Like every other struggling small community in our area the legalization of alcohol within our city limits will provide a much needed additional source of revenue for the city by keeping alcohol sales tax dollar within our community," said Mayor Scotty Martinez. "With the anticipated legalization of alcohol sales, the construction of a new Allsup's Convenience Store is also underway which will bring additional business and revenue to the city. The new store will be a much larger truck stop type store encompassing over four acres. The communities to the north and the south of us have already legalized alcohol sales, so it only makes sense that the City of O'Donnell follow suit."

8 local offices up for election: Filing period opens for March Primaries

Eight county offices will have positions up for election in the 2018 March Primaries, with the filing period opening Saturday, Nov. 11 and continuing through Dec. 11, 2017, for all candidates interested in filing for a seat. In Lynn County, there is no County Democratic Party chairman, so all candidates must file on the Republican ticket, through Lynn County Republican Party Chairman John Baker.

"With no county chairman for the Democratic party, no candidate will be allowed to file on the Democratic ticket for any of the county positions open here," confirmed Susan Tipton, elections official for the county. "All Lynn County candidates must file on the Republican ticket, which means if there are any contested races those will be decided in the March 6 Republican Primary, for the Nov. 6 General Election in 2018," she explained.

The 106th District Judge seat is also up for grabs in the 2018 elections, with current District Judge Carter Schildknecht unable to file to retain her seat, due to meeting the age limitation. Two local attorneys have already indicated they plan to file for the seat of 106th District Judge. The 106th Judicial District includes Lynn, Dawson, Gaines and Garza Counties. Filing for this position, however, is not through the local party chairman, but is instead through the state.

The eight county offices that candidates may apply to file for a four-year term include the County Judge, County Treasurer, County Clerk, District Clerk, Justice of Peace Pct. 1, Justice of Peace Pct. 4, County Commissioner Pct. 2, and County Commissioner Pct. 4.

Candidates interested in filing may contact County Republican Party Chairman John Baker, at 806-789-1257.

Fall Harvest ... Area producers are busy stripping cotton, with many cotton strippers in the fields of Lynn County right now. Rows of cotton modules are ready for gins to pick up for processing. As of early this week, area cotton gins have processed 54,863 bales of cotton. Lynn County generally is one of the leading producers of dryland cotton.

THIS YEAR IS fading fast, so if you haven't yet done all the things you planned to do this year, you'd best get busy. Actually I didn't plan to do anything special this year, and I have succeeded in my campaign for mediocrity quite well.

It has been a good year, though; I have enjoyed many things and have just about reached my only goal—to get through the year in reasonable physical and mental condition, and enjoying association with people I love and others I like a lot.

A lady in California sent me a story about an elderly man whose attitude toward life is admirable, and should be a standard for most of us, closing with Five Simple Rules for Happiness.

I don't know if the story is true or not. Regardless, it makes some really good points, especially for older persons (it's good for you younger readers, too, but hopefully you still have time to shape up before your bodies and your plans all fall apart).

Here's the story:

A proud 92-year-old man, who is fully dressed each morning by 8 a.m., shaved perfectly even though he is legally blind, moved to a nursing home today. His wife of 70 years died recently, making the move necessary. After hours of waiting patiently in the lobby of the nursing home, he smiled when told his room was ready.

As he guided his walker to the elevator, I described his tiny room to him, including the window decoration.

"I love it," he said, with enthusiasm.

"Mr. Jones, you haven't seen the room yet; just wait."

"That doesn't have anything to do with it," he replied.

"Happiness is something you decide on ahead of time. Whether I like my room or not doesn't depend on how the furniture is arranged; it's how I arrange my mind. I already decided to love it. It's a decision I make every morning when I wake up. I have a choice: I can spend the day in bed thinking about how much trouble I have with parts of my body that no longer work, or get out of bed and be thankful for the ones that do.

"Each day is a gift, and as long as my eyes open I'll focus on the new day and all the happy memories I've stored away. Old age is like a bank account. You withdraw from what you've put in."

He then listed five simple rules to be happy:

- Free your heart from hatred.
- Free your mind from worries.
- Live simply.
- Give more.
- Expect less.

Those sound like good points to me. I might add something about the need for a strong Christian faith, and the need for a good sense of humor. Pretty soon that may be the only sense you have left.

Tahoka 3-D Band is finalist in Area UIL Marching Contest

The Tahoka High School 3-D Band competed at the Area A UIL 2A Marching Contest on Saturday, Oct. 28 at Lubbock Lowery Field, competing with 25 bands in the preliminaries, and then Tahoka was chosen among the top 10 finalists in the competition. After a very good performance in the finals, however, Tahoka was not named among the top five bands by the judges to advance to the State event, ending their state hopes.

After qualifying for the Area finals the Tahoka 3-D Band was the first of 10 bands to perform at 6:45 p.m. in the finals competition. After the last band performed at 9:00 p.m., the five bands qualifying for State were announced: Sundown, Forsan, Panhandle, Iraan County, and New Deal.

"Tahoka placed eighth with one of the two marching judges placing them at third. This was the fifth time that the 3-D Band has made it to finals, but it had been six years since the last time," said Director Carroll Rhodes.

Tahoka qualified for Area finals in 2005, 2007, 2009, and 2011. In 07 and 11 the 3-D Band advanced to the UIL State Marching Contest at the Alamodome in San Antonio.

"Although we were disappointed in not reaching our final goal of State, we accomplished our first goal of making finals for the first time in six years," stated directors Rhodes and Cristal Burse. "They really stepped up their performance from the prelims to the finals and we are very proud of them."

Rhodes expressed a special thank you to Liz Tew, who has served as an aide to Mr. Rhodes during football season after Mrs. Burse had a baby boy, Braden, the second week of September.

"Liz has provided the organizational skills and definitely helped keep the band running on schedule," said Rhodes. "It was great to have Mrs. Burse back for a half day all last week and now back this week full time. The Tahoka 3-D Band greatly appreciates the tremendous support that the community of Tahoka has provided at its competitions, especially Region and Area. We have the best fans!" added the directors.

Santa's Land to open Thanksgiving weekend

Tahoka Santa's Land Drive thru Park will open Thanksgiving weekend, November 23, 24 and 25 (Thursday-Saturday). There are lots of new things this year and everyone is invited to come out and enjoy the lights and Christmas scenery. The WST&O train will be at the park on opening weekend only. The train ride is free to everyone and all ages may ride. The park is open from 6:30-9:00 p.m.

Santa's Land Drive-Thru

Christmas Park is located in Tahoka, at South 11th and Ave O. Admission is free, and donations will be accepted to help keep the lights on. The park includes four acres of land, thousands of lights, 100-plus wooden cut outs, 15 blow-ups, tons of Christmas trees, and a decorated antique car. Visitors are able to stay inside their cars or get out and mingle while enjoying a warm fire, hot chocolate and cookies.

Santa will be there on opening weekend to visit with children, and on other nights as well. The park will be open Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights throughout December, as well as open every night the week of Christmas.

Christmas for Kids seeks volunteers to adopt children

The Christmas for Kids organization is requesting volunteers to adopt children in the program for providing Christmas gifts.

"We are accepting donations from those willing to help make this program a success this holiday season," said a spokesperson for the program. "Please open your hearts toward these children this year and make their Christmas a special one. Christmas for Kids appreciates your support."

Barbershop report ...

Several Lynn County News readers have sent responses to our query about the vintage barbershop photo that ran in last week's issue. Three believe it was a barbershop that was in the building where the Lynn County News is currently located, at 1617 Main Street. One said that barber George Glenn was running this barbershop in the 1950s-1970s.

Another reader believed that the second man in the chairs was her father, Clarence Carpenter, but that the barbershop may have been in Post.

One reader thought that the barbershop was located next door to the former Dayton Parker Pharmacy building on the north side of the square, in the early days before the pharmacy expanded to include that space.

On closer scrutiny, the sign hanging on the mirror frame in the top left corner reads "Hub Moore, Mgr." and there is a Tahoka Chamber of Commerce sign on the mirror as well, and possibly the date 1929. The next sign hanging above the mirror may read "CM.Conway" but it is very fuzzy and this interpretation may be incorrect.

75th service award ... The Lynn County SWCD was recognized and presented with a plaque, at the 77th Annual State Meeting held October 23-25 at Galveston, for 75 years of public service for assisting farmers and ranchers in addressing their soil and water conservation needs.
