LCHD CLINIC? Lamesa hospital CEO weighs in on LCHD clinic proposal there

by JUANELL JONES

Lynn County Hospital District administration and Board of Directors continue to consider a proposal to open a rural health care clinic outside the Lynn County Hospital District area, considering the pros and cons of leasing space in Lamesa to open a clinic for three Lamesa physicians who have approached LCHD seeking to work with the Tahoka hospital. It has become a controversial issue, with both Lynn County and Dawson County citizens trying to understand the issues. Last week, The News interviewed Dawson County Hospital District Chief Executive Officer (CEO) Letha Stokes, for her response to the proposal.

Basically, LCHD's CEO Randy Lindauer, and Chief Financial Officer Steve Brock, have presented information to the board that they believe shows the proposal as a good revenue source for the hospital, and as a good plan to diversify services. Proponents of the proposal believe that it would improve the financial strength of LCHD and add a non-tax increase revenue stream coming from the services provided there. The proposal would add three doctors to LCHD's Emergency Room (ER) rotation, and

LETHA STOKES, CEO
DAWSON CO. HOSPITAL DIST.

Lynn County could gain access to OB/GYN services provided by one of those physicians. The additional physicians would also broaden the LCHD physician base for nurse practitioner supervision and peer review.

Lindauer has stressed to the Board that without diversifying and adding revenue streams from services, taxes would have to support the hospital. Currently, property taxes bring in approximately $1.2 million in taxes for a $12 million annual operating budget for LCHD.

At least 35 Dawson County citizens attended the last LCHD Board meetings to express their desire for LCHD to pursue the proposal that would allow them to keep seeing their doctors in Lamesa.

Lynn County citizens have also come to the board meetings here, voicing their concerns about the financial obligations that LCHD could be facing with the proposal, as well as concerns about how beneficial the proposed clinic would be. They have expressed concerns about the legal issues involved in crossing into another county, and have asked if the timing for the proposal is poor, considering a new CEO coming on board in September and the financial obligations in improving the LCHD clinic in O'Donnell, which is currently in the planning stages.

Lynn County citizens purchased a half-page ad in last week's issue of The News, presenting questions and issues they are concerned with about the proposal. This week, The News reached out to CEO Lindauer to respond to all or some of the questions, and his response was the following:

"Here is my response to the ad in the paper. Through Jesus Christ, all things are possible."

The Dawson County Hospital District CEO, Letha Stokes, has told the Lynn County News that she and the DCHD Board of Directors do not support the idea, and are perplexed as to why LCHD would want to compete with Dawson County Hospital District in Lamesa.

"This whole idea just blindsided us - we just didn't know where it was coming from," Stokes told The News in an interview last week. "We met with the LCHD CEO, Randy Lindauer, and also board member Cal Huffaker. They came down on Feb. 7 and met with myself and Chris Norris, our

Illegal dumping, break-ins reported during last week

A break-in at T-Bar Country Club's clubhouse was reported at 12:07 p.m. Monday, with evidence of someone kicking in the front door to gain entry. Approximately $35 in change was reported missing.

Another break-in was reported Friday at 6:45 p.m., when a neighbor

County Hospital benefit auction to be held Saturday, April 21

The 38th annual Billy Tomlinson Memorial Hospital Benefit Auction benefiting Lynn County Hospital is slated for Saturday, April 21 from 5:30-8 p.m. at the Lynn County Show Barn. Sponsored by Tahoka Rotary Club, the event features a live auction, silent auction, fish fry, and homemade ice cream, and provides an opportunity for community members to support their local hospital.

Lynn County Hospital District, overseen by its own locally elected board of directors, is one of the few remaining small community hospitals that are locally owned - that is, not under the jurisdiction of a large medical corporation.

Throughout the past 37 festivals, the auction has raised thousands of dollars which have been used to help purchase hospital equipment and ambulances, and for updating the facilities. This year's proceeds will go towards the purchase of a new ultrasound machine at the hospital.

Many local businesses, organizations and individuals donate a variety of items to be auctioned off at the event, including artwork, guns, lawn and garden items, quilts, home decor, and more. To make a donation, contact Kathy Grant at Lynn County Hospital, 998-4533 ext. 333, or a local Rotary Club member. All items are appreciated.

LCHD clinic proposal ...

board chairman, and it was a good meeting. Chris and I were very open, very honest, about how we felt about the proposal. Mr. Lindauer was very frank in saying that this is something LCHD intended to pursue, but it seemed that Mr. Huffaker indicated he had some concerns about the plan.

"We told them that we did not agree with this plan, and did not support it. LCHD is a taxing authority and they have taxing district lines, just like Dawson County Hospital District does. It is very unusual in a small rural hospital environment to cross those lines. We all work together, we have to, to survive. Crossing that district line can be perceived as competitive. If the Lamesa Medical Arts Hospital was not providing all the services needed in Dawson County right now it would be different, but LCHD is not going to provide any services that we are not already doing. If it were a situation where we were in dire straits and needed a certain service, and LCHD could provide it - that would be different. But that is not the scenario," she stressed.

On March 1, the DCHD Board of Directors sent a letter to the LCHD Board expressing their views about the proposal to open a clinic in Lamesa, saying, in part, "We feel that this is a moral and ethical interference since Medical Arts Hospital has owned and operated a successful rural health clinic for years. Your idea for intrusion upon our trusting patient base is viewed as destructive." The letter went on to say, "We would ask the Board of Lynn County Hospital District to reconsider this path. If not, as a Hospital District and an elected Board, we will legally challenge this decision."

Stokes told The News that she believes the proposal would hurt both Tahoka and Lamesa hospital districts.

"LCHD plans to come in to put a clinic in place that, in our minds, is going to divide the communities, because neither community is going to agree with this decision 100%. And when you divide your community, you also divide your patient base. When there is that dilution of service capture, the risk we see here - a very real risk - is that you risk losing both clinics," Stokes predicted.

"We are small, rural - we're not Lubbock, and it is difficult to survive. It will dilute. We have two great little rural hospitals that serve our communities with care and compassion and quality - both Tahoka and Lamesa. We have absolutely no problem with LCHD having a clinic in O'Donnell, because that is in their taxing district. But to move into Dawson County is unhealthy, we feel it is nonproductive, and it's harmful, we think, as much for LCHD as for DCHD.

"We have a fully functioning rural healthcare clinic, and we also have a federally qualified healthcare clinic that is supported by the state - so there are already two fully functioning clinics in Lamesa, open 8-5 Monday through Friday. We feel we can provide adequate, sustainable health care for the population that we have. How is a third clinic going to support itself?" she added.

Stokes admitted that Dawson County Hospital District has faced financial difficulties, and has had to cut certain services as part of a five-year plan for their hospital.

"If LCHD had come into difficult times, we would never have considered moving into this district to create any kind of competition or dilution. We would have reached out to you and asked if there is anything we can do to help each other. We never would have just moved in.

"One of the things we told Mr. Lindauer and Mr. Huffaker, was that this is just not a good neighbor deal. This is not what neighbors do to one another," Stokes said.

The DCHD CEO would not comment on whether the district would pursue legal action if LCHD opens a clinic in Lamesa, but did say, "We are researching all of the avenues open to us to resolve this issue."

Kevin White selected for All-Star Football Classic

Tahoka High School senior Kevin White has been selected to play in the 2018 ASCO All Star Football Classic. This game will be played June 2nd at 7pm at Plains Capital Park in Lubbock.

"Kevin is responsible for a $225 ad to be displayed in the game program. If anyone is interested in helping him out please let me know, or be on the lookout for him coming around asking for donations to pay for this ad," said TISD Athletic Director Stephen Overstreet.

White was also selected to play in the 2018 Greenbelt Bowl which will be in Childress on Saturday, June 9th.

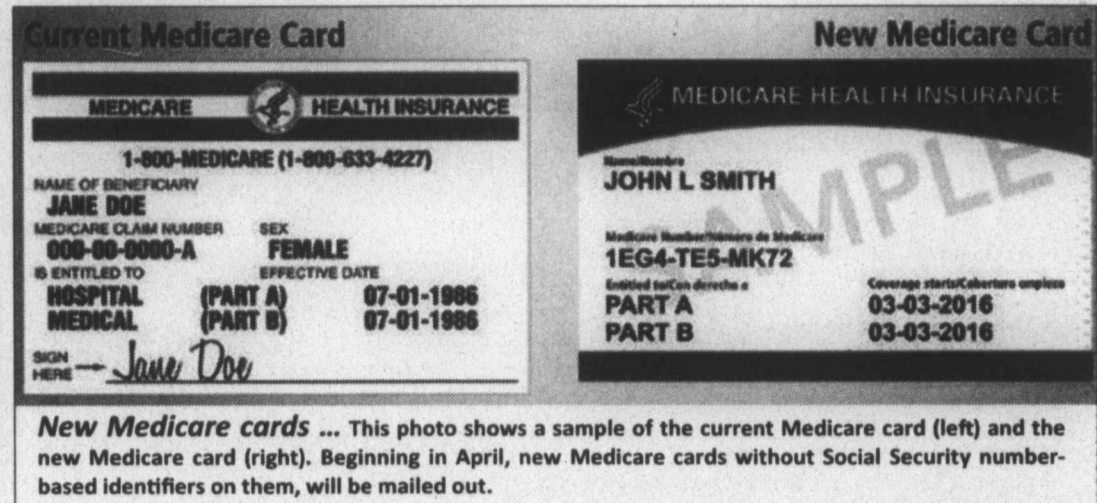

"Congratulations to Kevin on being selected to represent Tahoka in these All Star games this summer," said Overstreet.

New Medicare cards, without SS numbers, to be issued

Beginning in April 2018, the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS) will start mailing new Medicare cards to all people with Medicare. A new alpha-numeric identifier will replace the current Social Security Number-based identifier. This roll-out will occur over a several month period, based upon the geographic location of the Medicare beneficiary.

New Medicare cards ... This photo shows a sample of the current Medicare card (left) and the new Medicare card (right). Beginning in April, new Medicare cards without Social Security number-based identifiers on them, will be mailed out.

There are concerns that people might believe that this is a "scam," and therefore, will ignore notifications or throw new identification cards away.

"If you are a Medicare beneficiary, please watch your mail closely over the next few months for notifications from Medicare relating to this change. Medicare beneficiaries should begin bringing their new card with them to healthcare visits as soon as they receive it," said a CMS representative.

Here is the way this will work:

- newly eligible Medicare beneficiaries will get a card with a unique number, regardless of their geographic location.

- Distribution of cards for current beneficiaries will be randomized by geographic location. People in Louisiana, Arkansas, Mississippi and Texas will not begin to receive the new cards until after June of this year. However, they may begin to receive notifications relating to this change before that time.

- Starting in April, people with Medicare will be able to go to Medicare.gov/newcard to sign up for emails about the card mailing, and to check the card mailing status in their state.

- People with Medicare should use the new card once they receive it, but either the Social Security Number-based (old) card or the new random alphanumeric-based numbers can be used through December 2019. Beginning January 1, 2020, only the new card will be usable.

NRCS Announces 2018 deadline for conservation assistance funding

The USDA-Natural Resources Conservation Service (NRCS) in Texas has announced the first funding application deadline of April 20, 2018 for the Environmental Quality Incentives Program (EQIP).

Applications are taken year around for NRCS programs, but deadlines are announced to rank and fund eligible conservation projects. Producers interested in signing up for EQIP should submit applications to their local USDA service center or if already a USDA client, on-line via Conservation Client Gateway (CCG).

EQIP is a voluntary program that provides financial and technical assistance to agricultural producers. Technical assistance is provided without a fee from NRCS specialists to help landowners and land managers plan and implement conservation practices to help them meet their land management goals, address natural resource concerns and improve soil, water, plant, animal, air, and related resources on agricultural land and non-industrial private forestland.

For additional information visit the NRCS Texas website.

USDA designates 60 Texas Counties as disaster areas

The U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) has designated 60 Counties in Texas, including Lynn County, as primary natural disaster areas due to losses and damages caused by a recent drought.

Qualified farm operators in the designated areas eligible for the Farm Service Agency's (FSA's) emergency (EM) loans, provided eligibility requirements are met. Farmers in eligible counties and parishes have eight months from the date of the declaration -- March 8, 2018 -- to apply for loans to help cover part of their actual losses. FSA will consider each loan application on its own merits, taking into account the extent of losses, security available, and repayment ability. FSA has a variety of programs, in addition to the EM loan program, to help eligible farmers recover from the impacts of this disaster.

A variety of homestead exemptions could lower your property taxes!

A homestead exemption lowers the property taxes on your home by lowering its value. If your home is valued at $50,000 and you receive a $25,000 homestead exemption, your home will be taxed as if it were worth $25,000.

Who qualifies for an exemption?

Anyone who owns a home on Jan. 1 and uses it as a primary residence on that date is entitled to a $25,000 homestead exemption to lower school taxes. It doesn't matter if your home is a house, condominium or mobile home. Counties, cities and special taxing districts may also offer homestead exemptions.

Are other exemptions available?

If you're disabled—or if you're 65 years old or older—you are entitled to an additional $10,000 school tax exemption on your home. And if you qualify for the age 65 or older or disabled exemption, you're also entitled to a permanent, locked-in "ceiling" on the school property taxes on your home. The county, city or junior college may adopt a tax ceiling for age 65 or older or disabled homeowners. The age 65 or older homeowners school tax ceiling transfers to the surviving spouse, if the spouse is age 55 or older at the time of death and lives in and owns the home. The age 65 or older homeowners (or their surviving spouses age 55 or older) also may transfer the percentage of school tax paid, based on their former home's school tax ceiling to a new home.

If you are a disabled veteran, surviving spouse or surviving child of a disabled veteran, you are entitled to an exemption of a portion of the appraised value of your residence homestead. This includes homesteads donated to disabled veterans by charitable organizations at no cost to the disabled veterans, and their surviving spouses.

If you're a disabled veteran who receives 100 percent disability compensation due to a service connected disability and a rating of 100 percent disabled or a determination of individual unemployment from the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs, you are entitled to an exemption from taxation of the total appraised value of your residence homestead. Surviving spouses of veterans who qualified for this exemption or who would have qualified for this exemption if it had been effective at the time of the veteran's death are also eligible with certain restrictions.

If you are the surviving spouse of a U.S. armed services member killed in action, you are entitled to an exemption from taxation of the total appraised value of your residence homestead.

Do I have to apply each year?

No. If you had a homestead exemption on your home last year, you won't need to reapply unless your chief appraiser requires it. However, if you haven't received an exemption on your present home—or if you've moved to a new home—you'll need to file an application for exemption. If you are age 65 this year, you may file for the age 65 or older exemption up to one year after the date you became age 65. And if you became disabled, you may file for the disabled person's exemption.

When and where should I file?

File applications before May 1 at your appraisal district office. If you need more time, contact us at:
