The Bill Taylor family drove to Austin last weekend for the big game: Texas University and Texas Tech. It was an exciting game, obviously, and an interesting visit, Taylor said.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald L. Barber of Lubbock and Mr. and Mrs. Donald W. Peel were weekend guests in the home of the H. L. Strattons.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald W. Peel of the West Camp community have returned from a three and a half week vacation to Polson, Montana, to visit his parents, the M. A. Peels, former residents of West Camp and Baileyboro, and his sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Victor McAllister.

Accompanying them on the trip were Peel's grandmother, Mrs. Pauline Peel of Lubbock, and an aunt, Mrs. Opal Ruth Sowder, of Arch, N.M.

They also visited in Seattle, Wash. with Mrs. Sowder's and Mrs. M. A. Peel's brother and his family, the Norvill Stapps.

Jerry Hutton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Hutton, has purchased the Richland Hills Texaco service station from Carrol Goss. Goss is retiring due to health.

Hutton graduated from Muleshoe high school in 1963 and attended West Texas University and has recently been operating a service station in Friona. He and his wife, the former Pat Chitwood, Lazbuddie, have one daughter, Tracy DeAnne, 19 months old.

Ben Cockrell, Russell Bryant, and Derrel Oliver, special agents of the Bailey County Farm Bureau, are attending a state wide agents meeting this week in Austin.

The Muleshoe Flying Service has several new students beginning lessons recently. Those included are Joe Pat Riley, Hal Newsom and Gary Knowlton.

Visitors in the E. C. Galyon and Ida Collins homes on Sunday October 1, Pleasant Valley, were Mr. and Mrs. Tim Galyon, Midland and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Galyon, Muleshoe.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Puckett have been visiting in the homes of their sons, Richard and Vernon this past week. They are from Blanchard, Okla.

John Mill's sister, whom he has not seen in the past 14 years came to see him this past week. She is Mrs. Allie Austin, Modesto, Calif.

Tommy Black was delivering furniture last Thursday and fell in a hole and broke his foot.

Mrs. Elizabeth Black, High School Art teacher, is in Green Memorial Hospital with pneumonia.

Tri-County Area Grain Sorghum Crop Expected to Exceed All Expectations

A close look at the tri-county area of Bailey, Lamb and Parmer counties leaves little doubt that grain sorghum production could and is predicted to exceed all previous years in production.

Grain harvest started in Bailey county with the first reported loads of dryland crop being cut about September 11 and has continued to gain momentum with elevators beginning to run at full speed.

County Agent J. K. Adams

said: "For many years, large areas of Bailey county suffered from severe drought. In contrast this year, these drought stricken areas are relatively small and total dryland production may set an all-time record. More rain is needed on some of the late planted grain sorghum.

"Where midge was not controlled, grain which bloomed in late August suffered considerable damage.

"Irrigated areas had considerable help from rainfall and hardy grain survived the severe June 2 hail storm.

"Most of the irrigated sorghum bloomed ahead of the midge invasion and was not damaged by this 'pesky' pest. "Cotton in the Muleshoe area could make an average crop in spite of the adverse summer coolness, but to be average, the cotton must be blessed by an excellent fall with a killing freeze by November 11."

In the Morton area, Cochran County Agent Homer E. Thompson said most of the crop there is maturing late due to replanting necessitated by early heavy rains. Soybeans, which were planted when the original cotton was destroyed are drying out pretty well and should be all harvested before frost.

The first bale of cotton was ginned there last week and Thompson said the race between the maturing cotton and the first freeze of the year is going to be close. Cochran county farmers expect their crops to produce very well if the freeze does not come until early November.

Oilton area farmers began their full swing of harvesting this week and are expecting a bumper production in that vicinity. Already, elevators report more than three million pounds of grain brought in. Loads have been averaging between 5,700 and 5,800 pounds to the acre with a moisture content of around 14 percent of the average.

Elevator operators and farmers in the area say this year's grain crop average is as good as ever been harvested there. Littlefield and Friona also report production running high and prospects for an all-time high in grain sorghum yield.

Lazbuddie Elevator reported 150 loads passed over their scales Monday averaging 14 percent moisture and 57 pounds per bushel. Since the first load was delivered to the elevator September 13, approximately 100,000,000 pounds has been weighed in.

With Monday the first day for the Lariat Elevator to begin to feel the swing of the harvest, Asa Smith reports 140 loads in with moisture content running between 14 and 15 on the average. The test weight is averaging 58 and an average yield Cont. on Page 3, Col. 1

TOMATO HARVEST--Crate after crate of tomatoes are being shipped by truck to processing plants. Raymon Rodriguez, Pecos, is shown atop a truck taking a crate from Bob Kender, driver for V. L. Bogart Company of Leachville, Ark. This load of tomatoes is going to Allen Canning Company at Siloam Springs, Ark. They are being gathered on the Ernest Locker farm. Other growers in the area are in the process of shipping tomatoes out.

Saving Time Ends Oct. 29

Dark comes around somewhat earlier and the days are growing shorter, but Daylight Saving Time does not end for several more days yet.

Central Standard Time returns at 2 a.m. October 29. That is the hour of confusion. The clock will strike 2 a.m. then at that exact minute with the upcoming reversal of time, it will be 1 a.m.

People, through the summer months, have reacted indifferently to the time change. While some enjoyed the extra hour on the clock in which to garden, gold and engage in their various activities, those who enjoy retiring early found themselves 'clock watchers' trying to stay up until the hour which they felt no one would be dropping in to visit.

But that's the time set by Cont. on Page 3, Col. 1

Seven Names Removed From Pipeline Case

Hazel Gilbreath, Bailey County Clerk, advised today that Natural Gas Pipeline Company of America had filed application to remove seven condemnation cases for trial in the United States District Court in Lubbock.

Mrs. Gilbreath received notice that the cases had been removed on Thursday, September 28.

Names of the parties in whose cases applications have been filed to remove are L. W. Brooks and A. P. Childers, Horace Hutton, Frank Stegall, W. E. Meyers, R. L. Jones, Tommy Haley and Rosa Powell.

Thirty other condemnation cases are still pending in County Court.

Mules to Meet Denver City

Muleshoe's Mules will meet the Denver City Mustangs here at 8 p.m. in Benny Douglas Stadium Friday after their 'rest' period from gridiron clashes with last Friday night being an open date.

With the Mules' standing at one win and two losses, they will meet the Mustangs who defeated Slaton last Friday night, 40 to 6. A glimpse of the Mustang team and how they displayed their power against Slaton proved to be a good showing on both defense and offense.

The Mustangs relied mainly upon quarterback Robert Kizer to call the victory signals and upon halfback Biff Hatfield to take four of the scoring plays on his shoulders.

Fullback Jimmy McKee and guard Dwayne Young accounted for two other touchdowns. Hatfield was credited with two touchdowns in the second quarter with the first try for extra point failing and the second try for extra points netted two on a pass to Marshall Dolloff from Kizer.

Guard Dwayne Young ran on an open slot 33 yards for another score in the game.

Late in the third quarter the Mustangs intercepted a Slaton pass to begin the touchdown swing again. Guard Steve Steadman intercepted the ball as it sailed through the air, but was knocked loose from it and snared by Robert Hernandez. Quarterback Kizer carried the ball three times, moving to the four-yard line, where he handed the ball to Hatfield who made four Cont. on Page 3, Col. 4

Contest Winners

F. W. "Chief" Jones was last week's winner in the football contest after missing only one game played. He missed the Texas Tech-University of Texas game with a five-point spread in the score.

Clayton Myers was a close second as he too missed only one score, but had a nine-point spread in the Texas Tech-University of Texas game.

Several area entrants missed only two games for the week and these included Irene Splawn, Mrs. Bill Taylor, Herb Whalin and Harold Pollard.

Paxton Enters Race For Representative

Edwin Paxton

Edwin (Eddie) Paxton, Jr. of Levelland announced Wednesday he is a candidate for state representative in the special election November 11 to fill the 75th District vacancy.

The South Plains district includes Bailey, Cochran, Hockley, Terry and Yoakum Counties.

Paxton, 39, is a partner in a Levelland insurance agency and part owner of a Hockley County farm. He serves on the board for the Levelland Independent School District and formerly served on the city council and the Levelland Planning and Zoning Commission.

He also served six years as a county committeeman for the Farmers Home Administration, and as a director of the Rotary Club. He is a former president of the Levelland Jaycees and the Levelland Area Chamber of Commerce. He served as a director of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, and as Co-Chairman for the Hockley County United Fund.

"I know the problems and needs of our area and want to serve all citizens of this district in a responsible manner," Paxton said upon announcing. "We must continue to build an expanding economy. I'm particularly concerned about developing water resources, industrial growth and improving education."

"A strong, sound economy provides more jobs and better pay, and if we're careful with state spending, we can avoid undue tax burdens."

Paxton was reared in Hockley County and graduated valedictorian from Levelland High School. He has lived in Levelland all his life except for two tours of duty in the Army and while attending Texas A&M and Texas Tech.

He and his wife, Gwen, have four sons -- Brett, 15; Keith, 12; Todd, 8; and Micah, 4. They are members of the First Methodist Church where he is president of the Methodist Men and serves on the church's board. Mrs. Paxton serves as a district officer of the PTA.

In recent political activity, Paxton served as Hockley County Chairman for U. S. Senator John Tower's re-election campaign in 1966.

Directors Named At FB Meeting

Barbeque was served to more than 150 persons attending the annual Bailey County Farm Bureau meeting Saturday held in Muleshoe high school.

Directors named during the business meeting were James Warren, Ed Little, Lewis Wayne Shafer, Jack Schuster, Don Lowe, Freddie Parkman, Louis Henderson and Perry Lynsky. Door prizes were awarded at the meeting. Eddie Ramm was winner of the tape recorder; Sherman Inman, radio; H. E. Kirby, coffee maker; Clarence E. Mason, travel bag and S. B. Seagraves, swag lamp.

A regular meeting of the Farm Bureau Board of Directors will be held Thursday, October 5, (today) and officers for the coming year will be elected.

Youth Sets Soloing Record

Sunday was the end of a long, long waiting period in the time of Don Locker's life. It was his 16th birthday.

Sixteenth birthday is always important to teenagers, but this was a special day because it marked the time when the young man could take to the air alone

... and that he did by making solo flights in five airplanes during the morning hours Sunday.

Don, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Locker, who operate Municipal Airport and Muleshoe Flying Service, began his solo march in the sky with the smallest plane on the field, a Super Cub, then second was the land and sea Skimmer, third the Cherokee, Comanche and then the final one, a twin engine Aztec.

The first hangar was built by his father on the airport before Don was born, so during these 16 years, he has been around the airplanes and flying them under instruction whenever possible.

What makes the story of Don's life as a pilot unique, is that just because the airplanes were available to him, he was not given the opportunity to accomplish this milestone toward his anticipated future career. He worked for it.

He was never allowed to fly, just for the sake of flying, without having earned his way.

Since he was a small boy, he helped with the little tasks around the airport and let the money he made accumulate to be applied for his flying time, just as other youngsters over town have been given this opportunity to work their way to becoming a pilot under Locker's supervision.

As Don grew older, he assumed more duties and learned the aircrafts, how to service them and how to fly them. He worked during several summers as flag boy for agriculture pilots.

The summer trips made to Florida by the family in the Aztec allowed Don to accumulate more dual training in the twin engine plane, and he has had sufficient training to land the Skimmer on water as well as land.

He has received all his training under his father who is a Federal Aviation examiner.

TRADITION---Prentice Griffith takes his pocket knife and cuts Don Locker's shirttail to carry out an old pilot tradition. The shirttail was dated and placed on the airport wall in the airport office by Prentice.

FIVE TO CREDIT---Don Locker is pictured with five airplanes he made solo flights in Sunday morning which was quite a celebration, long awaited on, accomplished on his 16th birthday. The Muleshoe High School Sophomore student began work early in life working toward this goal.

WINNERS---Muleshoe's 8th grade football team met Frenship here Tuesday evening and won the game 31-8. Here, Randy Field is shown coming in to score for the team made on a flea-flicker pass thrown by Lee Clodfelter to Johnny Hays who pitched out to Field. Clodfelter carried for the two extra points.

Among college students at home the past weekend were Terry Parham, Leon Watson, Mr. and Mrs. Buster Steinbock, Charlotte Seaton and Robert Callman.

Congratulations to Katie Blackstone for receiving the Ethel Foe degree scholarship at Texas Tech recently. This comes to no surprise to Lazbuddie folks as Katie was honored with several first places for her outstanding work in the four years of homemaking at Lazbuddie high.

Katie, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Blackstone of Lazbuddie, is a junior student at Texas Tech. In addition to the scholarship, she also received a $700 grant from the Home Economics Department of Texas Tech.

Mrs. Luther Hall reports that her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Brown, from Oakland, Calif., have recently moved to Friona. Mrs. Hall says this is the first time she has lived this close to her sister for the past 35 years.

The H. L. Browns have visited the Halls near Lazbuddie about once a year and their names have been in the news each time of their visit here.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Goodwin from Seagraves visited with his sister, Annie Cargile, Sunday. The Goodwins, Mrs. Cargile and the P. E. Cargiles went to Friona Sunday afternoon to visit Mrs. Cargile's daughter and family, the Dwin Meneffes.

Mrs. Quinn Weaver reports that their son Jerry, in Vietnam since January, was still at the same place serving. The company he had been with was being sent to Danang. Due to the short period of time remaining for Jerry in Vietnam, he will be with another company the balance of this year and will be returned to the United States where he will serve the balance of his two years in the Army.

Visiting the Euel Mitchells Sunday were her mother, Mrs. J. J. Williams from Littlefield, the Jean Mitchells from Saint Jo and the Jake Mitchells from Olton.

Popped Grain Sorghum Good For Feeding

Popped grain sorghum racked up a respectable performance when it was fed to steers in tests at Texas A&M University.

Steers getting the popped grain ration gained more efficiently than those getting a normal grain sorghum ration, said J. K. Riggs of the Animal Science Department at A&M.

Riggs said the animals getting the popped feed took only 5.5 pounds of feed to make a pound of gain while the others took 6.9 pounds to put on a pound of gain.

Steers getting the ordinary grain sorghum gained 3.1 pounds a day for 84 days on feed while the steers getting the popped grain sorghum gained a lower 2.7 pounds a day. But because of the greater efficiency, it cost a little less to put the same amount of gain on the animals with a popped ration.

Riggs said the sorghum grain was popped in a gas-fired infrared burner and then dry rolled. Just like popcorn, not all the grain sorghum popped.

Steers fed the "normal run" --that is popped and unpoped-- had the greatest efficiency. Those fed 100 percent popped ration were next in efficiency, followed by those fed partially and unpoped grain --last were those getting original grain which had simply been rolled.

LUBBOCK---The U. S. Department of Agriculture has formally announced an amendment to Commodity Credit Corporation pricing policy which will prevent CCC cotton from being sold this year at less than 120 points above the applicable loan rate for given qualities.

The change was made by USDA at the request of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. to prevent current crop cotton, particularly the shorter staples, from being forced into the government loan program.

Previously USDA had sold government owned cotton at a minimum price determined by quotations from the 15 spot markets. That system applied market discounts on short staple cotton to a fixed 22-cent minimum CCC resale price for middling one inch cotton.

And as the market price for middling inch moved upward the increased discounts would have forced CCC's prices on the lower qualities down to, or even below, the loan value.

Under those conditions producers of the shorter staples would have had little or no chance to sell this cotton this year at prices above the loan rate and much of the crop would have moved into the government loan program instead of the market.

Provision for the resale of most upland cotton was set out last year in Announcement NO-C-31, which has now been amended to state that CCC cotton shall be sold at "The current market price as determined by CCC, but not less than a minimum price determined by CCC, which will in no event be less than 120 points (1.2 cents) per pound above the loan rate for such cotton at the time of delivery."

According to Donald Johnson, Executive Vice President of Plains Cotton Growers, this change should mean that all cotton grown on the Plains this year will have an opportunity to find a place in the market instead of going into the government loan.

Production of short staple cotton (below an inch) in 1967 is being estimated at less than two million bales while domestic and export consumption should total around 3.5 million bales.

"This will leave room for CCC to sell something more than 1.5 million bales of its short staple cotton without interfering with markets for the 1967 crop," Johnson said.

He points out that last year production of the shorter staples fell about one million bales below consumption but that USDA sold 1.8 million bales from CCC stocks, depriving producers of a possible market for some 800,000 bales.

"This is the kind of thing we think will be avoided this year by reason of the NO-C-31 amendment providing a minimum 120-point spread between loan prices and CCC's resale prices," he stated, adding "and it should mean additional producer income of at least one million dollars on the Plains."

He complimented USDA officials on their recognition of the problem and the prompt action taken toward a remedy.

"While the remedial action taken by USDA was not exactly what we asked for, we do think it will move our cotton into the market this year and give our producers a chance to get better prices. And we appreciate USDA cooperation to accomplish this goal."

PCG had asked that the premiums and discounts on all qualities of cotton, as quoted by the spot markets, be applied to the market price of middling inch cotton instead of to the fixed 22-cent minimum.

Treatment of carrying charges on cotton that may reach the new minimum resale price was not made clear in the USDA announcement.

But officials in the Department have assured Johnson and others that the 120 point spread between the loan and CCC's resale price will be in addition to normal carrying charges of 15 points per month, beginning in January, 1968.

Clarification of this point is expected later in a USDA news release.

Those who have questioned the ability of the High Plains to produce long staple, high quality cotton should look at the first 129 bales classed by the Lubbock classing office this year.

SILVER WINGS---Miss Clea Faye Love, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Major Love, 219 Southwest 7th Street, Morton, has been awarded the silver wings of an American Airlines stewardess after completing training at American's Stewardess College, Fort Worth. She has been assigned to flight duty out of New York City. Miss Love, who was born in Muleshoe, graduated from Morton High, Morton, in 1962. She also attended South Plains Junior College. Prior to joining American Airlines, she was employed at the Continental Oil Company, Midland.

grown mostly from the Lubbock area South.
But as new varieties are proven and more producers gear operations to producing for premium markets the percentage of short staple cotton grown on the Plains is bound to dwindle.

And those doubting Thomases who have said "It can't be done" will be silenced, once and for all.

Average staple: 1 3/32 inches, Micronaire: 99 percent 3.5 and above with most in the desirable 4.0 to 4.2 range.

This of course does not indicate what the entire Plains crop will be. But it shows what can be done and is probably a harbinger of things to come.

Most of this cotton was either Acala or Del Cerro and it was

Tax Man

Sam Sez:

Lots of us can't really tell how we got in this financial mess because we don't keep records. Every year Internal Revenue tries to verify thousands of tax returns where the taxpayer failed to keep records. The taxpayer ends up being embarrassed and the tax man saddened.

The Internal Revenue Service advised taxpayers to check over their records of deductions for the current year. It is always a good idea to make sure that you have a complete record of the additional income that you received. It is much easier to get your records straightened out in October before the end of the tax year than on April 15--the day that too many taxpayers wait for.

Eat Your Broccoli, Children

COLLEGE STATION—There's something about green vegetables that turn up little noses at the dinner table.

And U. S. Department of Agriculture researchers have found this may be the reason many American children, while fairly well fed, have diets low in two important vitamins -- A and C.

Miss Frances Reasonover, Extension foods and nutrition specialist at Texas A&M University, says that a recent study at the University of Minnesota showed children's vitamin A intake related to their feelings toward dark green and yellow vegetables and the mother's opinion about the importance of serving foods rich in the vitamin.

"Where the mother had some knowledge of nutrition and the father a higher than average income and educational level, the families were likely to have a satisfactory intake of vitamin C rich foods," Miss Reasonover points out.

However, where the mother had little nutrition knowledge or the father a low income, vitamin C intake was below recommended levels.

"Vitamin A helps keep mucous membranes firm and resistant to infection and the skin smooth and soft," the specialist says. "It also protects from night blindness."

Miss Reasonover suggests eating foods each day, such as eggs, deep yellow squash, pumpkin, sweet potatoes, carrots, apricots, cantaloupe or dark, green leafy vegetables, broccoli or green peppers for vitamin A.

She recommends a serving each day of grapefruit, orange, cantaloupe or tropical fruits, raw strawberries, broccoli, brussels sprouts, green pepper or sweet red pepper for adequate vitamin C.

Green Thumb Tips

Do you know that if you live in a mild climate your plants of snapdragons are likely to winter and come up again, bigger and better, next spring? Even in colder areas a heavy covering of litter often will save the plants for another year.

Snapdragons act this way because they aren't really annuals - we just treat them as if they were. They're really perennials and, given a chance, their roots will survive the cold.

Take an inventory of the pesticides in your garage. How long have you owned each one? Long enough so it is no longer useful? Rotenone powder, for instance, will be ineffective the second year. Might as well throw the remainder out each fall.

Earth News
by Buleah Newton

Mrs. LaDon Herring and Tod of Plainview and Mrs. Anetta Lea and girls of Midland visited in the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Messer, last weekend.
Work is well underway on the new Earth telephone exchange. Some believe the new dial system will allow residents to dial direct to adjoining towns. When Earth first had a telephone system, it was the old crank, battery operated wall boxes. That was 36 years ago.
A sub-district training school for Sunday School workers was held at the First Methodist Church in Muleshoe last Thursday night from 7:30 to 9:30, teaching technique and Sunday School attendance.
Those attending from Earth were Rev. Walter Driver, pastor of the local Methodist Church, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Axtell, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Dawson, Mr. and Mrs. Kenny Watson, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Gaston, Beulah Newton, Nelda Curtis, Bill, Judith and Clara Mae Jones, Gail Littleton, and Juanice Glasscock.
Mrs. Eula Whitford was honored with a birthday dinner in her home Sunday. The cake was baked by Mrs. Whitford's daughter, Mrs. Bill Struvie of Hereford.
It was iced in white, trimmed with red and a big "88" made with red and white peppermint stick candy.
Mrs. Whitford has been in this area 44 years, and is known to most everyone as "Grandmother Whitford."
Those present for dinner were her children, Mr. and Mrs. Almon Whitford, Springlake; Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Whitford, Earth; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Struvie, Hereford; Mr. and Mrs. Bob Boone, Springlake; grandchildren, Twila Whitford, Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Boone, Earth; Mr. and Mrs. Keith Boone, Springlake; Kerry and Kita Struvie, Hereford; and great-grandchildren, Dwala Boone, Danny Boone, Joe Bob, Danny and Donnie Owens, Earth; Mark and Machel Boone, Springlake. Others present were Larry B. Smith, Larlat; Norman Harder, Hereford; Bernice English, Muleshoe; Mrs. Mattie Boone, Springlake; and Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Higgins, Earth.
Percy Parsons was in Earth tending to business Monday morning.
Ed Danforth was rushed to the Littlefield Hospital about 8:30 Monday morning. Danforth fell in the yard at his home and it was reported he has a concussion.
Visiting recently in the home of their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Bulls of Amarillo, were his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Crill Bulls.
Mr. and Mrs. Harry Allen were visiting Mrs. Gladys Goodwin last week. Mrs. Allen is a sister-in-law of Mrs. Goodwin. The Allens were former residents of this area.
Mr. and Mrs. Lesly Lee of Lubbock were supper guests of his grandparents last Monday. Gary Bulls was also present.

Excerpts Related From Circuit Meeting in Altus
"Will God Intervene in Men's Affairs?" A. A. Catanzaro, in closing out a circuit meeting of Jehovah's Witnesses Sunday in Altus said, "God's loving interest in men's affairs prompted him to give 'his only-begotten Son, in order that everyone exercising faith in him might not be destroyed but have everlasting life.'"
Catanzaro, district supervisor of the ten circuits in Oklahoma, Texas and New Mexico, said, "To keep our mind in the proper channel, God's Son taught us to pray, 'Let your kingdom come. Let your will take place, as in heaven, also upon earth.'"
Speaking to the 478 in attendance, Catanzaro said, "We should feel honored that the perfect God of the universe gave us a book of instruction, the Bible, to guide men back on the road of life and peace in a paradise earth."
Carl Silva, circuit supervisor of the 15-congregation assembly, in his closing talk, "Showing Kindness to Others," said, "Kindness is a fruitage of the spirit and must be cultivated to oppose the works of the flesh."
Silva has received an assignment for a West Texas-New Mexico circuit from the directive agency, Watchtower Bible and Tract Society, and R. N. White from a circuit in Arkansas is assigned to supervise Texas Circuit 9 and prepare two assemblies yearly.
The overseeing minister of the Muleshoe Congregation, Elmer B. Lowery, said, "The purpose of the three-day training program was to fortify us in 'Walking Orderly by Spirit' in the face of increasing lawlessness."

Herb Alpert Will Appear in Lubbock
Herb Alpert, who appears with his Tijuana Brass at the Lubbock Coliseum on October 12, was recently described by music critic Joe X. Price as "... a tradition more than a trend."
Alpert has achieved his phenomenal success partially as a result of his unique ability to produce musical sounds that are accepted around the world by people of all ages.
Alpert says, "ONE of the most pleasant aspects of our success is the response of the entire family to our music. I'm delighted to be a part of something that everyone in the entire family seems to enjoy equally. For the past ten years most pop music has had to be geared to a specific age group, so we are pleased that our music has had an appeal for a larger group.
Alpert's concert appearances with his Tijuana Brass, sell out without exception, bring out crowds equally divided between teenagers, young adults, adults, and senior citizens. Although Alpert is the most popular recording artist in the world today the throngs that attend his concerts are never unruly and no fan has yet attempted to tear a jacket off the handsome musician's back.
Alpert with his "sound of the sixties" is appearing for one performance in... Lubbock while there are only three current TEXAS engagements.
Tickets may be purchased from Civic Lubbock, Inc. Box 5486, or in the Auditorium Box Office.

Know How to Harvest The Soybean Crop

By Dr. Douglas Owen,
Agronomist
High Plains Research Foundation

You get paid for the crop you deliver to the elevator, not for what you leave in the field. An Ohio survey found that the average harvesting loss on soybeans in that state was thirteen percent. This is almost four bushels per acre on a 30 bushel yield, or about $10 per acre. The study further showed that with proper management this loss could be reduced to less than three percent.

The most important thing is to be ready when the beans are ready. When the moisture gets down to thirteen percent have that machine ready to go. The poor manager will wait until his beans are ready before he gets his machine ready and limp through his harvest without replacing worn parts or making necessary adjustments to do the best combining job. Check your combine thoroughly. Replace worn parts and cracked V-belts. Check slip clutches. Check engine speed, beater speed, and cylinder speed. Make sure that these are set according to manufacturers specifications for soybeans. Locate all adjustments and know how to use them.

The most difficult problem in harvesting soybeans is to get ALL the beans into the machine. About 80 percent of the total loss is failure to get the beans into the machine. Nearly 50 percent of this is shatter loss. Excessive reel speed is one cause of shattering. The reel should travel 25 percent faster than ground speed. If the reel is 12.5 ft. in circumference, it should turn 10 revolutions in 100 feet.

Cut the beans as low as possible. The cutterbar should be operated right on the ground to get all the beans. This usually requires reducing ground speed to around two and one half to three miles per hour. Most combines have a fixed knife speed. As ground speed increases beyond three miles per hour, the knife begins stripping the beans before the stalk is cut and these beans fall from the cutterbar and are lost. Uneven stubble height is an indication of excessive forward speed. Also, as forward speed increases, height of cut increases resulting in more pods being left on the stalk.

If manufacturers specifications are not available the following general rules may be helpful: (1) Slowest possible cylinder speed (300-400 rpm), (2) widest possible concave clearance, (3) reel speed 25 percent faster than ground speed; reel bats high in plant (just low enough for control); center of reel about one foot ahead of cutter bar, (4) cut low and go slow (three miles per hour or less).

Remember, a loss of four beans per square foot is equal to one bushel per acre. An additional three to six bushels per acre will double the average soybean grower's net profit. One place to get these additional bushels is by reducing harvest loss. Every bushel saved at harvest is clear profit.

John Tower

It is becoming a yearly affair for Congress to arrive at autumn still facing a heavy schedule of legislative activity, and this year is no exception.

Although it appeared last January that Congress would be able to finish its work expeditiously by about Labor Day, there is now every likelihood we will be in session here in Washington through Thanksgiving and perhaps until Christmas.

There are many reasons why this Congressional session has developed into a long one. The continuing Vietnam war and the outbreak of civil disturbances in some cities demand further legislative attention. In addition, the Administration has not been particularly successful in obtaining prompt passage of some of its further "Great Society" requests.

I want to take this opportunity to review with you a few of the more important things Congress still has to attend to this year.

Perhaps the bill of most concern to Americans is the Administration's request for a 10 percent income tax surcharge on individual and corporate income. As of today that bill does not have the votes to be passed in the House. In fact, it is doubtful that it could even be voted out of the House tax-writing committee.

Here in the Senate I detect a singular lack of enthusiasm for any tax increase unless it can be accompanied by a sizeable reduction in federal spending. A tax increase on ordinary taxpayers would only serve to further increase their already-too-high cost of living. And, it could kick off a series of recessionary pressures.

So the tax bill remains very much up in the air. I want you to know that, as your United States Senator, I could not and would not vote for a tax increase in the present circumstances.

Here are some of the other bills pending:
Air pollution---The Senate has passed what I regard as a necessary and effective bill to assist in our nation's attack on air and water pollution. It provides for careful coordination of federal efforts with those of private industry and local governments. I hope the House will quickly approve this anti-pollution measure.

Higher education---The Senate and House still are studying in committees this year's bill to assist higher education. I continue to believe that the most effective help we could provide in this field would be the granting of income-tax credits to taxpayers for their education expenses. The Senate has approved such tax credits once, but the House has yet to accept that approach. In the meantime, I will continue to support those programs of federal assistance to higher education which recognize the need for state and local control of education funds.

Law Enforcement is another field in which Congress will undoubtedly take action this fall. One aspect of the problem is involved in the Anti-Riot Bill which would make it a federal crime for militants to cross state lines to incite riots. Another aspect is aid to state and local police programs in such fields as training and communications. I advocated both such approaches more than a year ago, and will continue to seek their approval.

Housing is a particular responsibility of mine since I'm ranking minority member of the Housing and Urban Affairs Subcommittee. Our subcommittee has been working for some months on perfection of a Housing bill to help provide more and better housing for low-income families. I expect the Senate will approve that bill when the subcommittee finishes it.

Social Security legislation already has been passed by the House and is now being studied in the Senate. The basic Social Security need is an increase in benefits to offset the cost-of-living increase which works particular hardships on our older citizens. But, we must find a way to do that without drastically and unnecessarily increasing the Social Security taxes on our younger citizens. I expect a benefit increasing about 10 percent can be achieved without a tax increase.

The Administration's so-called "Poverty Program" needs legislative attention this fall. Both House and Senate have full-scale investigations underway into allegations of waste, corruption and lack-of-control in federal "poverty" programs. Too often such programs have not been responsive to local influence and local control. Some, such as the American consumers unduly concerned about harmful pesticide residues in food may rest assured their worries are unfounded.

Tests Pesticides Residue in Food Items

The Food and Drug Administration's tolerance-setting and enforcement procedures have insured protection from harmful foods for all America, says Jack Price, leader agricultural-chemicals at Texas A&M University.

A report released by the FDA states that "currently the incidence and levels of pesticides residues in the nation's food supply are not approaching dangerous or even alarming levels."

FDA further asserts that "analyses of raw agricultural products, as well as total diet surveys, show that pesticide residues are much lower than the amounts judged safe by FDA and the World Health Organization."

In making its "market basket" or "total diet" studies, FDA buys in retail food stores, "as would any consumer, a diet list of 82 foods in quantity sufficient to satisfy the nation's largest appetite--a 17 to 19-year-old male--for two weeks," Price points out. The food is prepared and then analyzed by laboratory scientists using the most sensitive analytical techniques. These techniques can detect some pesticides in amounts as small as a few parts per billion.

Federal law provides that tolerances be established on the basis of the raw agricultural commodity, Price says. However, since foods are washed, trimmed, cooked and prepared in many different ways which affect the remaining residues, FDA total diet studies provide the most reliable index of residues consumed in the diet.

FDA in addition to its market basket studies does take thousands of food samples every year at producing, shipping and destination points and analyzes them for pesticide residues. In a three-year period, 49,356 domestic samples and 3,836 import samples were examined. A total of 81 different chemicals were found in domestic food samples during this time. Generally, the total residue level on imported foods were higher than those on domestic foods. However, FDA tests show a wide margin of safety. While there should not be alarm concerning pesticide residue in foods, there also must not be complacency, Price says. Continued responsible judgment and caution are required of those who use pesticide chemicals for whatever reason.

Enduring Links Related Between History, Baylor FDA

WACO---Former U. S. Senator William A. Blakely of Dallas Monday emphasized the enduring links between the history of Baylor, of Baptists and of Texas, when he formally presented the university with 12 paintings depicting high points in a long chain of mutual events.

"Baylor University history and the history of Texas are in such concordance that they are for ever inseparable," Blakely said in commenting on the paintings by artist Erwin M. Hearne of Dallas. The former U. S. Senator several years ago commissioned Hearne to do 15 paintings for Baylor illustrating dramatic moments in its history.

The paintings formally presented by Blakely and accepted on behalf of the university by President Abner V. McCall were the first 12 of the 15. The public was invited to the presentation and first showing of the paintings illustrating these events.
