American Legion Plans $40,000 Building

City Gives Site for Structure To Be Built Near Ward School

A modern brick building costing upward of forty thousand dollars is being planned as a county-wide project under the sponsorship of the local post of the American Legion, Haskell officers of the post have revealed. The building is to be located on the plot of ground joining the South Ward School on the north.

The project has been mapped for some weeks, but no concrete plans had been announced heretofore, pending acquisition of a suitable site. The City Council of Haskell recently voted to present the Legion with the property near the South Ward School. The site has a west frontage along Highway 77 of 360 feet and extends eastward for the same distance, thereby forming a square of approximately 300 feet in each direction. It is bordered on the north by Spring Branch.

A building committee is to be named in the near future to make further plans in support of the structure. An architect will draw plans as soon as specifications of the building are determined.

No estimate has been given of just when construction of the building may be expected to start. However, it has been pointed out that suitable building materials are not available just at present. But some indication that such materials may be more plentiful in the near future is seen in the fact government officials have removed restrictions from all sorts of construction.

Officials of Press Rogers American Legion Post No. 221, the local organization, have made it clear that the building is planned as a county and community center where various sorts of public meetings and entertainments could be held.

"There is not a suitable building in the county where a large public meeting can be held," G. L. Neely, post commander for the past two years, said. "I think the citizens of the county will agree that it is a worthwhile plan. The citizens here have had to depend on the churches and the schools when a large meeting has been held here," he said.

Dr. David L. Stitt Will Preach Here Sunday Morning

Dr. David L. Stitt, president of the Austin Presbyterian Theological Seminary, will preach Sunday morning, September thirtieth, in the First Presbyterian Church, in the First Presbyterian Church.

From 1938 until his removal this summer to Austin, Texas, to assume the presidency of the Seminary, Dr. Stitt served the Westminister Presbyterian Church, St. Louis, Missouri, first as Assistant Pastor, and then as Pastor.

Dr. Stitt will also preach in the First Presbyterian Church of Rochester Sunday evening at eight-thirty.

1.41 Inches of Rain Halts Long Drouth; To Help Late Feed

Breaking a month-long drouth, rain fell nearly an inch and a half on Haskell this week to give the prospect of better production in late feed crops.

The showers began Monday morning about 8 o'clock and .36 of an inch was recorded during the day. After skies had cleared, rain clouds gathered in the north Tuesday afternoon and precipitation began early Tuesday night to bring the total for the week to 1.41 inches. It was the first rain in the county since August 31 when .40 of an inch was registered.

Farmers are of the opinion that the rain is too late to benefit cotton, but believe it will help late feed stuff.

The rain of Tuesday night brought an end to the unseasonably hot weather that has prevailed in this section for the last two weeks.

798 Bales Ginned As Record Indicates Short Cotton Crop

Considerably behind the corresponding date of last year, the six gins of Haskell had ginned only 798 bales of cotton through Wednesday. However, rainfall that started Monday stopped the gins for most of the week.

Ginners are of the general opinion that the crop this year will be considerably shorter than that of last year. They point out, however, that the crop is much later than usual and that a fair record may be made yet. Some are of the opinion that parts of the county will equal their production of last year. One ginner estimated that 25,000 bales will be made in the county.

Value of the grain was declared to be $819.48. Newberry was arrested on a charge of driving while intoxicated on July 28, and faces a similar charge on a previous indictment.

District Attorney Fred Stockdale listed members of the Grand Jury as A. C. Chamberlain, foreman, Thurman Bynum, Hallie E. Chapman, Ray Lusk and Norman Nanny, all of Haskell; Carl Clark

Grass Fire Alarm Calls Firemen Out Monday

Firemen answered an alarm Monday afternoon when a grass fire at the home of Mrs. J. T. Therwanger threatened to get out of control. The blaze was confined to grass and trash piles in the alley and no property damage resulted, firemen answering the alarm reported.

George Neely, chief of the local Fire Department, commenting on the danger of grass fires at the present time, urged prompt reporting of all fires, however small, where damage to property appears likely. "We'd rather be called out and find that apparatus and firemen are not needed, than to be called after a seemingly harmless blaze is out of control," he said.

National War Fund Quota of $9,094.42 Given For County

Haskell County will have a quota of $9,094.42 for the 1945 County War Chest of the National War Fund campaign, J. M. Crawford, county chairman, announced this week. The drive will begin October 1.

With the avowed intention of bringing into the ranks every possible discharged veteran, local legionnaires declare the veteran can derive many benefits through membership in the Legion, and the post has given notice that it will shape its policies so as to be of service to the veterans.

The campaign for new members is to be intensified from now to November 11, traditional day for eliminating such drives.

The Haskell post meets on the first and third Thursdays of each month in the courthouse.

Announcement of the election of new officers was made following the meeting of September 20 as follows: Dennis P. Ratliff,

Lawson Pool Gets Big Producer in Canyon Lime

First oil production from the Canyon Reef lime in Haskell County was brought in Saturday in the Edward C. Lawson No. 2-B Rose, six miles east of Haskell, with the well estimated as a 500 to 800-barrel producer.

Tubing has been run and Railroad Commission gauge will be made as soon as sufficient storage can be erected. F. H. Hunter, field superintendent for Lawson, said.

The offset drilled four feet in factured lime to a depth of 2767 feet after passing Canyon sand from 2694 to 2706 feet, and set pipe at 2763 on top of lime.

Spudder was moved in to drill out plug Friday and when plug was cracked the well filled and flowed natural in one hour and 50 minutes. In a three-hour test the well flowed 35 barrels an hour with oil testing 42.6 corrected gravity.

Connections with storage and surface pits was made Saturday in order to let the well come to head and finish drilling out plug but the well blew itself in when plug was forced to the top by oil and gas pressure.

The well is located in the center of the west half of the J. M. Cass survey, where Lawson brought in his No. 1 Rose as a producer from Canyon sand at 2600 feet. His No. 1-B Rose, second well drilled in the pool, produces from Second Canyon Reef lime at 2810 feet.

Lawson, Tulsa, Okla., operator, who developed the field, has staked locations for two additional offsets, 660 feet north and south of 2-B Rose.

Fifteen Sections On S.M.S. Ranch Seared By Fire

An area of approximately fifteen sections of grassland on the Swenson Ranch in east Haskell and west Throckmorton Counties was burned over last week in one of the worst grass fires to occur in this section in several years.

Origin of the fire apparently was in grass cut along the highway, believed to have caught from a match or cigarette thrown from a passing automobile near the Haskell-Throckmorton county line. Farmers and ranchers living in the area first gathered to fight the fire, and several hours later apparatus from the Throckmorton and Haskell fire departments was called.

The area burned over extended from the Haskell-Throckmorton highway north to Swenson's West Camp, and eastward for several miles.

Friday, As Usual, Was Fish Day: Year's Best Story

Friday, as usual, was fish day. It is the day that encourages fish stories. There was one Friday. It reminds one of the man who was called a liar when he showed friends his biggest catch.

T. J. Arbuckle and M. D. Richmond were exhibiting a yellow cat, weighing twenty-eight and one-half pounds, said to be caught at Phantom Hill Lake.

"We caught it with this string," said Mr. Arbuckle, snapping a rotten, thread-like string between two fingers.

"The string is five years old," said Mr. Richmond. It looked it. "It took us forty minutes to land it," they said.

The fish kept chewing thoughtfully on a quarter-inch cotton rope in its mouth as the story was told.

Friday, as usual, was fish day.

LONE STAR GAS NEW

Published by Lone Star Gas Company to bring you news about Gas Industry planning for easier, better living in postwar world.

FLYING GAS RANGES ARE THE LATEST NEWS.—Above is a consignment of Universal gas ranges as they were packed snugly into an American Airlines cargo plane for a flying trip from Chicago to Los Angeles. The history-making flight occurred recently when Cribben & Sexton Company at Chicago loaded 18,500 pounds of Universal gas ranges into the Consolidated Vultee which made the trip. More than half the shipment of ranges was left uncrated to establish proof of savings in time by this method of transportation. The flight was considered a significant beginning of fulfillment of postwar merchandise and transportation.

Atom Energy and Future Power

Probable development of atomic energy for household and industrial uses gives rise to the question as to whether such energy could displace present sources of power and energy such as gas and electricity. Thomas S. Bacon, research engineer for Lone Star Gas Company, states that the new development lends emphasis to the importance of exportation of natural gas from Texas in order that its benefits may be derived while a market still exists. "The atomic bombing of Hiroshima meant the solving of the primary problem of the use of atomic energy," Mr. Bacon said. "The secondary problem, the peace time use of atomic energy, remains unsolved. The energy is certainly there, but ways of economically releasing it are not presently known. When and if these ways become known, the gas, petroleum and electric industries may become out of date. "Our natural resources must be used wisely at all times as they must be used in the future. It proves his dreams of atomic energy release is not simply a dream, but can be economically beneficial. And on the same count, exportation of natural resources from Texas should not be wasteful in the expectation that atomic energy will economically replace the chemical energy of natural gas in the near future. "Such exportation is, of course, entirely justified by present conditions. It may be emphasized, however, that probable developments in the use of atomic energy in the future would lend emphasis to the importance of exportation of natural gas from Texas now, so that income may be derived therefrom while a market for the commodity exists. "In explaining the theory of the atomic bomb, Mr. Bacon pointed out there is an analogy that may be drawn between it and the natural gas business that might be helpful in obtaining some conception of the significance of the atomic bomb in physical terms. "Consider the pilot flame on the modern cook stove which employs a very small amount of natural gas," he said. "The flame involved is so insignificant as to escape notice; yet if one holds his hand a few inches above the flame some heat can be felt. So the flame is a very small thing yet it evolves energy continuously. "Radium is a close relative of uranium, and uranium, or a special isotope of uranium, has been mentioned as the principal active constituent of the atomic bomb. Very minute quantities of radium will evolve appreciable amounts of energy. "This energy is atomic energy as defined by the physicist and is substantially identical with the energy released in the atomic bombs. The rate of evolution of energy from radium is not controlled by man but is controlled by the inherent properties of the radium metal itself. However, man has been able to measure it and also to measure its rate of decline. "The physicist has estimated that a given piece of radium will lose just one-half of the energy that it now contains in 1,690 years. In other words, the rate of energy decline of the given piece of radium is extremely slow. "The gas flame mentioned above releases a small amount of energy continuously, as does radium. Assume now that we had the gas pilot 1,600 years ago and connected the pilot to a storage tank in which we would store the amount of gas that would pass through the pilot in that period of time. If now we take this tank containing unburned natural gas that has been passed through the small pilot during 1,600 years and mix it with the proper proportion of air and pass a spark through the mixture, a very impressive explosion would result. The impressive nature of the explosion may be gauged by the fact that calculations show that 7,000,000 cubic feet of gas would have passed through the tiny gas pilot during the 1,600-year period. "The atomic bomb represents the similar explosion that is the liberation instantaneously of energy stored in the radio active element, uranium. As mentioned, the normal liberation of this energy is slow but the physicists have discovered how to release it at their will and in a brief period. This, then, is the significance of the atomic bomb. It demonstrates that man has finally learned how to control at least one form of radio active energy on a significant scale."

HEATING SHOULD BE PLANNED AS PART OF HOUSE FOR COMFORT

Since so much of the health and comfort of the family depend on the heat of the home, the type of heating and how it is installed should be one of the most important considerations in the building of a new home or modernizing the present one. The time to attend to the selection and installation of gas appliances is during the planning stage. For only with proper equipment correctly located and installed will you enjoy the many conveniences and benefits of using America's sought-after fuel—Natural Gas. In building a new home or in remodeling an old one, Lone Star Gas Company urges that necessary flues for venting gas heating equipment be installed. Vented heating is heating by means of appliances which are connected to a flue. The purpose of connecting an appliance to a flue is to carry to the outside air the products of combustion resulting from burning fuel, thus preventing release of these products into the room. The natural gas industry is returning to peace-time operations in an excellent position to expand its service to the public and to other industries, according to R. H. Hargrove, chairman of the natural gas department, American Gas Association. Mr. Hargrove said that natural gas companies carried a tremendous responsibility during the war. The natural gas industry in the Southwest made it possible to operate hundreds of war-time industries, flying fields, and Army camps, while delivering record quantities of gas for homes and commercial users. The industry has filed projects or has recently received approval of the Federal Power Commission for construction of nearly 5,000 miles of additional gas pipe lines throughout the country. Mr. Hargrove said that the industry expected to spend more than $160,000,000 for plant expansion, maintenance, and inventories and for construction of the next 12 months, greatly aiding in the employment problem.

Gas Industry Plan Includes Millions For Big Expansion

The natural gas industry is returning to peace-time operations in an excellent position to expand its service to the public and to other industries, according to R. H. Hargrove, chairman of the natural gas department, American Gas Association. Mr. Hargrove said that natural gas companies carried a tremendous responsibility during the war. Safety Awards

Dallas Division of Distribution and Lone Star Gas Pipe Line Operating Department have each been awarded first place in their classifications in the Texas Safety Association's annual Safety Contest for 1944. The contest is conducted by the Industrial Section of the Safety Association and is based on the lowest accident frequency submitted by contesting companies. Both Dallas Division of Distribution and the Pipe Line Department are in the 1,000,000 employe hours classification.

Bombs for Gas Wells

Not all bombs are destructive ones. The type used by the Lone Star Production Department, for example, are extremely valuable in determining the future natural gas reserves of the company. The units, of cylindrical shape and equipped with clock, chart and stylus, are lowered into the well to determine bottom-hole temperatures and bottom-hole pressures of the reserves. From this data information is obtained which aids in more accurately calculating the potential and reserve of the well. This is a view of one of the New Freedom gas kits soon be available to users of natural gas service in the multiple beauty combined with scientific arrangement and compact design of the silent gas refrigerator and CP gas kitchen compact and efficient. It is one of the many new products from months of research and planning by the cooperation with appliance and cabinet manufacturers and chemists. It is an easier-to-work-in kitchen where steam and greasy vapors are removed before they can condense. Plan and save for your New Freedom Gas Kitchen.

Novelty Act To Be Given Oct. 3rd

The Novelty Trio will appear in the Haskell High School Auditorium on October 3 at 3 p. m. according to an announcement by J. Cleo Scott, superintendent of Haskell schools.

This is really a three-in-one program, featuring juggling and balancing, trained dogs, and novelty music. For many years Al Conner has been a headliner in vaudeville, circuses, and on school assembly circuits with his balancing and juggling acts. Among other things, he mounts a wagon wheel and rides it, a step at a time, up a stair way and then jumps to the ground still astride the wheel. This is the only act of its kind in the world. He jumps rope astride this wheel; rides a unicycle and juggles Indian clubs at the same time. He twirls hoops around each arm and his neck and one leg at the same time, while balancing a plate, etc., on a stick held in his mouth!

Miss Eddy's dog menagerie consists of four poodles and a Scotty. In one act they are dressed to imitate motion picture stars such as Mae West, Pop Eye, Dagwood, Stepin Fetchit, etc. They have a routine of barrel rolls, hoops, rope jumping, etc. This is one of the most complete and delightful dog acts on the platform today.

Miss Jane Cole provides piano music as background for the rest of the program and gives solos on beautiful English organ chimes imported from England before 1900. Marimba tumblers, played by merely rubbing the tips of the fingers over the glass, and ever popular Swiss Bells lend a novel and delightful touch to the program.

NOTICE

The First Baptist WMU will send a box of used and new clothing, also a cash offering, to Buckner Orphans Home. If you have a contribution please send to the church by Monday Oct. 1 or call Mrs. Hugh Watson, president, or your Circle chairman.

What is Peace?

PEACE is more than the absence of war. Peace is a friendly handclasp, small talk on a front porch, friends in for dinner.

Peace is a birthday party, a Christmas tree, an Easter service in a white church. Peace is people helping instead of hurting one another, trusting instead of suspecting, tolerating instead of hating.

Peace is meeting on equal terms. It's honoring a man for what he is instead of defaming him for what he isn't.

This is peace. And until we have...

real peace — the feeling in our hearts that all is right once more.

Right now, we can make a good start towards this goal. For, right now, in our County War Chest campaign, we have the chance to help our neighbor. To help him regardless of who he is or how he worships. To act together in mutual trust and confidence.

And this is democracy in its finest expression. This is part of all we are fighting for. This is what you help to bring about when you contribute to the local War Chest. Make your contribution today—and make it as big as your heart!

The American Legion Building

Believing the building proposed by the local American Legion post to be a worthy project for the county, we endorse it and urge the support of every citizen for the project. We believe it will fill a great need for this county because there is not an adequate building available.

Construction of the building will be a step forward in making this a more progressive community. It will be an added attraction for citizens who are considering making this their home. Already many of these citizens are moving to Haskell and bringing more purchasing power to this area. As new citizens increase business, the need for the building proposed by the American Legion also increases.

It is not known now what means will be employed to raise the necessary funds for the building. But whatever the means and whatever the extent of participation, the citizens have an obligation and opportunity that calls for generous cooperation.

The Free Press believes in Haskell. It believes in the county, in this section of the state, and in its people. The present high standard of living in this community is the result of being blessed with a fertile surrounding territory and with people who have the foresight and courage to make the most of an opportunity. New advantages and new opportunities are coming our way. We believe in facing the situation with an open mind.

Not all new ideas and movements are good. But the citizens of a community are not going to have worthwhile opportunities tailored and dumped into their laps. Progress does not come that way. It takes intelligent imagination, foresight and hard work. And a community that is not willing to examine new ideas, that is not vigilant for new developments, is not a progressive community. They wither and die for lack of spirit.

But every community in America is obligated to plan for the welfare of the veteran who has put his life on the line. G. I. Joe is coming home from the battlefield and he wants a place to work and live. He is going to be impatient with slow-moving ideas and disgusted with backwardness. He is going to be a valuable citizen and he wants to live where he can use his talents, where his fellow-citizens are ready to go forward with him.

"Give A Texan's Share"

Haskell County has given proof that its people have a generous heart when it comes to helping others, especially in regard to standing by the wounded and sick veterans of the battlefields who are now crowding hospitals throughout the nation.

The citizens of the county are going to be called upon again in the near future to give their aid to these veterans. There have been well over a million American casualties in World War II, many of whom lost arms, legs and other parts of their bodies. It can hardly be denied that we owe them all the cares and comforts we can give them. Sacrifices were made in the name of the people of this country, most of whom necessarily were not members of the Armed Forces.

The Haskell County quota for the campaign is little more than $9,000, a figure that is small enough in consideration of the benefits to be gained. Haskell County has not and will not fail in a crusade of this nature. Its citizens will "Give a Texan's Share."

Good Driving Is Good Insurance

Occasionally on the streets of Haskell we have a collision between two automobiles. About the least that can be expected in such cases are repair bills and frayed tempers, usually caused by carelessness on the part of one or both drivers.

Maybe not all such accidents are avoidable, but the great majority of them are. With the streets so crowded with traffic, it certainly is safer and more economical to exercise caution in driving about the city streets. And most important of all, someone might be seriously hurt. It doesn't cost anything extra to be careful and drive slowly.

Now that gasoline is plentiful, the highways are again teeming with automobiles. Before the war automobile accidents were the single greatest cause of death in the United States. We can hardly make a trip to a neighboring city without realizing we might have had an accident. Most of the time we do not have an accident, but there are many of them that take lives and maim people for life. An automobile out of control is no respecter of persons.

Maybe you will never have an accident, and again maybe you will. You will reduce the possibility by being careful. There are not many of us who have not been in automobile accidents. Just about all of us realize that we could easily have been killed or seriously hurt. Good driving judgment and a wholesome respect for the rights of the other driver is good insurance against death and injury.

HASKELL COUNTY HISTORY

Brief Items Taken from Old Copies of The Free Press

20 Years Ago—Sept. 25, 1925

A surveying crew of the Santa Fe Railway Company has moved into Haskell to begin surveying the route for a proposed railway line east and west through Haskell. It is understood that the Santa Fe contemplates building a direct line from Post, Texas, on the South Plains, into Fort Worth. The Board of City Development and Chamber of Commerce has sent out a call for 3,000 additional cotton pickers needed in the Haskell vicinity to gather this year's cotton crop.

Misses Lucille Taylor, Nettie McCollum and Estelle Tennyson were in Abilene this week attending the West Texas Fair.

The Haskell County agricultural booth at the West Texas Fair, Abilene, won first place for the second successive year, it was announced this week. The products were assembled at W. P. Trice.

In a deal closed this week, Messrs. Bains and Collier of Weatherford, Texas, purchased the Crenshaw tract of farmland on the Brazos river in the northwest part of the county for a cash consideration of $26,280.00.

A Ford car driven by a small negro boy crashed a plate glass window in the McCollum hardware store Thursday morning. The lad lost control of the car while attempting to park against the curb in front of the building.

Varner Dulaney, assistant manager of the Haskell Electric Gin, suffered severe injuries to his left hand Saturday morning when it was caught in one of the gin stands.

A three inch rain which was general over Haskell County Wednesday boosted rainfall for the month of September to slightly more than 9 inches. Cotton picking and other farm work will be halted for several days as a result of the downpour.

Judge C. M. Cureton of Austin was here several days this week, visiting in the home of Judge and Mrs. Bruce W. Bryant. Judge Cureton is a former Attorney General of Texas.

30 Years Ago—Sept. 18, 1925

Tom Davis, a young attorney from North Carolina, has located in Haskell and has opened an office upstairs over the Corner Drug Store. He comes to Haskell highly recommended as a young lawyer of ability. He is a nephew of Dr. J. C. Davis of Sager-ton.

Late Monday night fire broke out in the hull house of the Haskell Oil Mill, and considerable damage was caused before the blaze was brought under control.

The little son of W. H. Patterson was seriously injured Sunday afternoon when struck by an automobile.

Miss Gladys Wright left Monday evening for Abilene, where she will attend school.

50 Years Ago—Sept. 21, 1895

Messrs. T. E. Ballard and Sid Post of Paint Creek have bought one hundred head of beef steers that they will feed this fall.

In a disastrous fire at Graham Tuesday night the S. B. Street dry good store, John E. Morrison & Co. dry goods store, and the Norris hardware store were destroyed. Damage to the three buildings and merchandise stocks will exceed $50,000.00.

Judge Glasgow and Lon Bennett of Seymour were here this week looking after the telephone project from Seymour to this place by way of Throckmorton.

Messrs. F. M. Morton and others had us print a poster the other day requesting campers and others who build fires along the roads or on prairies to put them out and cover with dirt before leaving. This will help to prevent grass fires which could be highly destructive at this time of the year.

M. H. Gossett's favorite horse nearly severed one of its fore feet the other day by catching it in a barbed wire.

R. E. Sherrill is going around

Sheriff W. C. Allen returned Sunday from Eastland, where he had gone to investigate rumors that a man wanted here for murder had been seen in the vicinity of that city recently.

on crutches, having an injured foot as the result of being thrown from a horse.

There is a 12 pound, bank vice, president at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Pierson. Date of arrival, Sept. 18th.

Joe A. Jones visited in Throckmorton this week.

Messrs. Jim Craig, John Russell and Will Gibbs were some of the prominent Knox County farmers down trading with our merchants this week.

J. E. Davis was in town this week with a game leg. He was attempting to kill a snake in front of a mowing machine when one of the guards stuck in the muscle of his leg, making a severe wound.

WERE all hearing a lot about ceilings these days. It's suddenly become one of the most popular words in the English language. Aviators started it with their ceilings. They're all faced with the problem of adjusting their businesses to increased costs, decreased personnel, and shortages of materials.

Ceiling prices are an old story to business-managed electric companies. And they're constantly working and planning to make the price of electricity still lower. They've accomplished some pretty remarkable results along this line, too. For example, the average American home today enjoys about twice as much electricity for its money as it did fifteen years ago. Perhaps you may not have noticed this reduction because you've added more electric appliances and used more electricity all the time the rates were coming down.

Maybe you wonder how this has been accomplished: this reduction in the price of electricity in the face of rising costs for almost everything else. Well, the answer is sound business methods—plus the practical experience of men, women, and management working together. That's a team that's hard to beat! And one that won't be beaten as long as we have that grand old American freedom of working together, planning together, and profiting together!
