They were looking for a place no one else wanted and have made it one of the most beautiful cities in America, although it is strictly a place of religion for Mormons. She told of the most famous monuments in Utah, dedicated to the early pioneers, during Utah's Centennial.

Mrs. Ivy Palmer's subject was very interesting because of her visit to Utah. She spoke of Joseph Smith's religious influence in Utah. She said that the Mormons had built a wonderland out of the deserts of Utah, with their farming and irrigation. She described the stoves, expensive and vividly colored, that were used in Government buildings, the Cathedrals, the museums and the temple.

E. D. JEFFERSON

Stamford Man Reads Tree Rings To Predict Weather--Usually Hits

The success of E. D. Jefferson, Stamford stock farmer, to predict the 1947 weather through nature study is making his friends inquisitive for a 1948 prognostication.

His detail of predictions has an excellent "batting" record for performance, too.

He predicted spring temperatures would be below normal with mostly easterly winds with light evaporation; spotted rains for April, "more rain 40 miles south (Abilene) throughout the year, making up for 1946's deficit."

May, he predicted, "The rains will be general and may exceed normal—3.80 inches. Mostly northeast wind." And the prediction was accurate.

He "hit" on predicting "June, some light rains . . . September and October, mostly dry, except (note this) October some rain south 40 miles (Abilene) and beyond." Abilene got around 5 inches, but little fell at Stamford.

His prediction for November made then, was "November mostly dry. Some light rains, however, during the last ten days of the month."

"December should come in for second place for precipitation with May in first place."

His prediction made early in the year, continues: "The fall months will not be suitable for late feed crops because it will be dry and cold with early freeze in prospect, which is the opposite from last year." And verily it all happened. First freeze was reported Nov. 7. Last year he advocated a late feed crop and those who followed his advice did well.

In fact in much of West Central Texas the late 1946 feed crop was better than the early summer crop. Jefferson believes he will be able soon to tell within a few degrees the temperature rise and fall at any future date within the year, thus warning growers and stockmen against losses such as occurred last year due to severe cold weather.

Study of tree rings provides information on weather, Jefferson asserts. "I think by reading their recordings, especially of trees 100 years old, one can predict weather."

Mrs. Kenneth Thornton in presenting her subject, "The Utah Centennial," described conditions and events as she viewed them while she attended the Centennial. She stressed the fact of Utah's being a spectacular city. The purpose of the Centennial was to show Utah to the world. She described many interesting scenes and events. The three main events of the Centennial were the Centennial Parade, the musical Play and the Gallery of Masterpieces. Guests left the meeting feeling that they too wished they might go to beautiful Utah, The Rainbow State.—Mrs. J. M. Collins, Reporter.

"Our" Katherine Wair Wackwitz informally told us her viewpoint of conditions in Europe — excerpts from her lecture:

Communism in Europe is a cancerous growth, which we Americans must remove by operation, either with diplomacy or with force.

All peoples of all countries look to the U. S. with gratitude, and as the star directing their future. We, are their bread and butter, fuel, resources—and hope.

She said that is was very picturesque throughout Europe — horse drawn Victorias, sidewalk cafes, delicious fruits, beautiful flowers, breathtaking art, sculpture and landscaping, in those parts not bombed or completely destroyed.

People are rebuilding cities rapidly, and hardly any debris is noticeable, except in Poland and some parts of Italy. May the Master guide the leaders of our nation in handling these world problems.

The tea hour was spent in the parsonage with Mrs. Harrell who graciously welcomed the guests into the newly decorated home. Those who enjoyed this lovely occasion were:

How far will the family dollar stretch this year? This is the big question for 1948. It is worrying Congress, local merchants, banks and professional people, and all the rest of us who have to pay today's high prices. If the amount of Christmas buying done on credit in Haskell is any indication of future trends, a lot of families in Haskell are planning to use credit this year to help close the gap between cash on hand and family needs.

The practice of buying on credit has been condemned by some as an inflationary factor, but according to Miss Jane Holt, manager of the Credit Bureau of Haskell, Haskell merchants are doing everything in their power to keep the credit situation in hand.

"The best credit control that can be enacted," said Miss Holt, "is one enforced by the customer himself." She points out that 95 per cent of Haskell's customers pay their bills regularly, although not exactly as agreed in every case. Merchants and professional men are, according to Miss Holt using the service of the credit bureau to a greater extent than ever before. This checkup on credit extension is not prompted by a desire to snoop. Haskell's credit firms recognize the fact that customers who are over-

More than 52,000 veterans in Texas, Louisiana and Mississippi were admitted to Veterans Administration hospitals during the past year, VA's Dallas Branch Office reported this week.

The report showed that 143,000 treatments and 242,000 examinations of veterans in the tri state area were given by VA in out patient clinics during the same period.

VA offices in the three states dispatched 11,000,000 pieces of mail and conducted 1,700,000 personal interviews with veterans in 1947.

Direct payments to veterans in the Dallas Branch area during the year amounted to more than $425,000,000. This included disability compensation, death claims, insurance settlements, and tuition and subsistence to veterans in schools or training.

The efforts being made by local merchants and the Credit Bureau of Haskell to keep credit on a sound basis is being carried on in 1,409 other cities throughout North America. Miss Holt explained that a credit bureau like the one in Haskell is located in each of these cities. All of these bureaus are welded into a single group through membership in the Associated Credit Bureau of America—the national trade association of credit bureaus with headquarters in St. Louis. These 1,400 credit bureaus and their more than 170,000 business and professional users are urging the buying public to join with them in keeping credit under control. The wise use of credit says Miss Holt, helps the intelligent family obtain the purchases they want now and pay for them on a time basis. In this way credit can help stretch the 1948 family dollar by stretching payment over a period of time.

The only requirement is that the customer buy wisely and meet payments as agreed. Remember, says Miss Holt, it is almost impossible to cheat on your credit record. The files in the local bureau contain actual facts about how you pay the grocer, the furniture store, and the ladies ready to wear shop. Soon the story of how you are meeting your Christmas obligations will be checked and added to the bureau files. There is even a chance that that little doctor bill you overlooked is entered on the master card carrying your name. For that reason, and in the interest of establishing a sound business basis for your town, Miss Holt suggests "Keep your credit good" as a number one New Year's resolution.

At the end of the year, VA was paying disability compensation to 181,000 veterans in the three states.

Around 75,000 veterans reinstated lapsed National Service Life Insurance amounting to $510,000,000 during the year.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
 Q. What is vocational advisement all about and why is it required under Public Law 16?
 A. The main purpose of vocational advisement is to determine whether a disabled veteran should train for a profession, or for a particular trade or occupation based on his previous education, experience, personal desires and present ability. The veteran is interviewed by highly trained specialists who will consider his desires, but are required to advise him against starting a course for which his aptitudes or physical limitations do not insure reasonable likelihood of success. In short, this advisement is mandatory under the program to insure the disabled veteran's proper rehabilitation.

FORD Bonus Built TRUCKS

Built Stronger to Last Longer!
More Than 139 Models!

NEW All Through!

Bonus* Built — THE AMAZING RESULT OF AN ENGINEERING PRINCIPLE THAT ASSURES WIDER USE, LONGER LIFE . . . and ONLY Ford Trucks Have It!

EVERY single one of the great new Ford Trucks for '48 is Bonus Built . . . designed and built with extra strength in every vital part! But that's only part of this vital truck engineering principle . . .

This extra strength provides WORK RESERVES that pay off for truck operators in two important ways:

● FIRST, these WORK RESERVES give Ford Trucks a greater range of use by permitting them to handle loads beyond the normal call of duty. Ford Trucks are not limited to doing one single, specific job!

● SECOND, those same WORK RESERVES permit Ford Trucks to relax on the job . . . to do their jobs easier, with less strain and less wear. Thus, Ford Trucks last longer because they work easier!

Yes, Ford Trucks for '48 are Bonus Built . . . built stronger to last longer! That's why they give their owners wider use and longer life! That's why life insurance experts can certify proof that Ford Trucks last up to 19.6% longer. That's why the record shows there are more Ford Trucks in use today than any other make. Let us show you the revolutionary new Ford Bonus Built Trucks today!

Frank McCurley Asks Second Term As Weigher

Frank McCurley, Public Weigher of Precinct 1, has authorized The Free Press to announce that he would be a candidate for a second term in that office in the coming Democratic primaries. Mr. McCurley, longtime resident of this city, states that he appreciates the support given him in the past, and in asking for a second term, pledges that he will continue to try at all times to give the same efficient service that he has in the past, devoting his full time to the office during the seasons when his services are required. Mr. McCurley plans to see as many of the voters and citizens of the precinct as possible, and will appreciate an opportunity to discuss his claims for the office with them personally.

"Doc" Henshaw Is Candidate For Public Weigher

James O. (Doc) Henshaw of this city has authorized announcement of his candidacy for Public Weigher of Precinct 1, subject to the action of voters in the Democratic primaries. Mr. Henshaw is a native of Haskell, and is well and favorably known to a majority of the voters in Precinct 1. He was born and reared on a farm near Haskell, and has lived his entire lifetime here with the exception of time he spent in the Army during World War II, a part of this time being served in the combat forces overseas. Mr. Henshaw has never sought public office before, but believes that with the application of hard work and honest effort to give the farmers accommodating and efficient service, that he can handle the office of Weigher in a satisfactory manner if elected. He will endeavor to see as many of the voters in the Precinct as possible before the primary is held, in order to present his claims personally. In the meantime he will appreciate any consideration and support given his candidacy.

Ben Mapes Enters Race For Public Weigher

Ben Mapes, well known resident of this city and member of a pioneer Haskell county family, this week authorized the announcement of his candidacy for the office of Public Weigher of Precinct 1 in the coming Democratic primaries. Mr. Mapes, born and reared on a farm, is a World War II veteran, is married and has one child. He has never asked for public office before, but having lived on a farm most of his life, together with the business experience he has had, believes that he is fully acquainted with the service desired by farmers, and qualified to discharge the duties of Weigher in an acceptable manner if elected. He worked with the AAA for three and a half years in Haskell and Throckmorton counties. He will endeavor to present his candidacy to the voters of the precinct between now and time the primaries are held, and will greatly appreciate any consideration and support given his campaign.

Raymond Stuart In Race For Office Of Weigher

Raymond Stuart, resident of this city practically his entire lifetime, this week announced his candidacy for Public Weigher of Precinct 1, subject to the action of the Democratic primaries. Mr. Stuart, now engaged in the plumbing business, formerly worked for a number of years in handling and weighing cotton, and is familiar with the duties and requirements of the office. If elected, Mr. Stuart intends to devote his full time to the office during the cotton season, and other harvesting seasons when services of a Public Weigher are required, in order to assure both farmers and buyers the complete services of the office to which they are entitled. During the coming months, Mr. Stuart plans to make as intensive a campaign as time and means will permit in the interest of his candidacy, and will welcome and appreciate any consideration and support given in his behalf.
