Courtney Hunt Resigns WTCC Directorship; Disagrees With Organization's Policies

Quits WTCC Post

COURTNEY HUNT

Courtney Hunt, Haskell's director in the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, this week tendered his resignation in that capacity in a letter to A. C. Pierson, president of the Haskell Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Hunt gave as his reason for his resignation personal disagreement on policies with the management of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Hunt, who has served as WTCC director since 1931, was unanimously re-elected by the local chamber of commerce for the 1948-49 term last week and was given a vote of confidence by that body. Throughout his terms of office as a local director to the WTCC, Mr. Hunt has had full approval of his local board.

In the 18 years Mr. Hunt has served the WTCC as a director, he has never missed a meeting and has given freely of his time and ability to serve his community in area matters. One of the highlights of his service was in 1947 when he vigorously opposed the repeal of the State gasoline refund to the farmers of the state. He has favored more farm-to-market roads, development of water resources, freight rate equality, and has been instrumental in the development of these projects.

In accepting the resignation of Mr. Hunt, Mr. Pierson said that the services rendered this community by Mr. Hunt was invaluable to Haskell, and that he had served tirelessly and unselfishly. The resignation was accepted with regrets.

Hunt is a director of the local chamber of commerce, and has served in that capacity since its re-organization in 1936.

Indians Lose To Anson; Play Friday At Throckmorton

The Anson Tigers scored two quick touchdowns in the first quarter and added another in the fourth to beat the Haskell Indians, 18 to 7, in a District 6-A football game at Anson Friday night. The victory leaves the Tigers undefeated in district play.

Gordon Veck, Anson right half, plunged over from the 4-yard line early in the first period for the initial touchdown. Charles Pearce, Anson fullback, broke through center for 14 yards and a touchdown, in the same period. Both tries for extra point failed.

The Indians posed a chilling threat to the Tiger squad and fans when they unleashed a dazzling attack in the second quarter which netted a payoff and kept the Ansonites on the defensive.

Billy Ray Lusk, Haskell quarterback, passed to Kenneth Stuart, left half, for 13 yards and the lone Haskell marker, in the second period. Bobby Jack Price kicked the extra point.

This week the Indians journey to Throckmorton Friday night for a conference game with the Greyhounds.

Leads Demos To Sweeping Victory

President Harry S. Truman, the man from Missouri who "had to be shown," upset all pre-election predictions and opinion polls Tuesday in leading the Democratic Party to a sweeping and clear-cut victory over Presidential-aspirant Thomas E. Dewey and other Republican nominees for high State posts. President Truman, on the basis of practically complete returns Wednesday night, polled 304 electoral votes to 189 for Dewey.

Pranksters Observe Halloween Here Saturday Night

Halloween pranksters "jumped the gun" on the calendar and took advantage of Saturday night to loose their pent-up energies and display individual ideas in rearranging sign and other movable property to locations of their own choosing.

Although their activities were on a fairly comprehensive scale, with the pranksters moving automobiles, tractors, buildings and farm machinery to choice display sites, very little real damage was caused.

Committee Named To Plan Annual Christmas Program

Plans were under way this week for the development of the annual Christmas program sponsored by the Haskell merchants. A steering committee composed of Oland Harrison, Dorsey Looney, C. C. King, Buster Gholson, John Fouts and Cecil Gregory has been named to plan the program.

In a meeting this week, the committee laid plans for the installation of the colored lights which annually adorn the courthouse and the decoration of the community Christmas tree on the southwest corner of the square. Under consideration also is the decoration of the tree on the southeast corner of the square. The decorations this year will be substantially the same as last year and were purchased by the county commissioner's court, city council, the Haskell Fire Department and the local chamber of commerce.

Preliminary plans called for one of the most elaborate programs ever held in Haskell, and the full program is to be announced at an early date.

With the date tentatively set for December 7, the committee in charge of the program will solicit the aid of all organized service clubs of the city in the plan, according to Oland Harrison and Dorsey Looney, chairmen of the committee.

Definitely a part of the program is to be the home and yard Christmas lighting contest under the direction of one of the ladies clubs of the city, and suitable awards are to be made in this contest. All home owners are urged to participate in this phase of the program.

Annual Poppy Day Observance Set For Saturday

Saturday, Nov. 6th, will be observed as annual "Poppy Day" in Haskell, and Camp Fire Girls of this city will sell the handmade memorial flowers during the entire day on the streets in the business section.

Everyone will be asked to buy and wear a Poppy on this day, in memory of the nation's war dead, and to help some disabled veteran.

Poppies which the people of Texas will wear in honor of the war dead on Armistice Day, are being shipped weekly from the Legion Hospital in Kerrville and the Veterans' Administration in Waco, where the little red flowers are being made by disabled veterans of both world wars, working under supervision of the Texas Department of the Auxiliary.

The poppies are fashioned by hand, veterans working in their beds, in wheel chairs or in occupational therapy shops. Materials are provided by the Auxiliary and the finished products collected regularly by Auxiliary workers. The flowers are made of crepe paper in replica of the little wild poppies of France and Flanders, which grew on the battlefields and cemeteries of the two world wars.

Haskell Pilot, Based In Japan, Designs Navigation Aid for Jet Planes

MISAWA, Japan.—By the spin of a dial Air Force pilots in Japan soon will be solving the technical navigation problems encountered in flying jet aircraft.

A six-inch metal and plexiglass computer, designed by 1st Lt. Alfred T. Reese of the 5th Air Force, enables jet pilots to determine navigation and cruise control data at a glance. With the computer they can adjust for change in altitude, wind, and fuel supply in flight as quickly as a photographer finds his camera settings on a light meter.

Lieutenant Reese, whose home is in Haskell, Tex., arrived in Japan June 5 for duty with the 5th and was attached to headquarters in Nageya for temporary duty to work with operations in preparing duplicate models of his computer for the jet squadrons of 5th Air Force. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Reese of Haskell.

The lieutenant designed the computer early this year while he was assigned to the 56th Fighter Group at Selfridge AFB Mich. While working with Lt. Col. David C. Schilling, commanding officer of the group, Lt. Reese began research on the project. He gathered all available data on jet aircraft cruise control and set to work on devising some method to provide instantaneous solutions for the problems peculiar to navigation in jet planes.

Lieut. Reese, who holds the aeronautical ratings of pilot and navigator, realized soon after he started flying jets that the cumbersome cruise control charts user for navigation in conventional aircraft are impractical in jet fighters.

Any method of cruise control must be flexible, efficient and quick because of the rapidly changing conditions encountered in flying jet planes. Jets, flying at extreme altitudes and at accelerated speeds, encounter high velocity winds and consume about 10 times as much fuel as reciprocating engine aircraft of the same size.

The instant availability of a combination of navigation and cruise control data when a jet plane encounters high velocity winds or sudden loss of fuel may save the pilot's life.

The end result of Lieutenant Reese's research took shape in March of this year when he completed his first computer. The six-inch disk has two sides—a navigational side consisting of 3 dials and a cruise control side composed of two dials. Date is arranged so that the pilot can determine technical navigation information merely by moving the dials.

Vitally essential information concerning such factors as altitude, range, wind and fuel is now at the pilot's fingertips—information that before took hours of research and required graphs, charts and technical instruments.

Lt. Reese is now stationed at Misawa Air Force Base on northern Honshu with the 49th Fighter Group, one of Fifth Air Force's top fighter outfits. The 49th ran up one of the most impressive scores of any fighter group in the Pacific during the war and claims such outstanding airmen as Major Richard T. Bong, Colonel Mar Arnold, Major Johnson and other great pilots of the past war.

Reese is presently assigned to medal of honor winner Bong's 5th Fighter Squadron of the 49th group.

Don't throw the celery tops away. They can be saved and chopped up fine or dried for future use in soups, stews, creamed vegetables, dressing or vegetable loaf.

REMEMBER?

REMEMBER when a bare bulb like this was the last word in lighting? That's when you started calling your electric bill a "light" bill.

Then electricity began to take on more chores. It learned to cook and sew and clean, to wash, and iron, preserve food, entertain the family—in general, to make life healthier and happier and easier all around. Lighting became only a fraction of that job.

Naturally, you came to depend on electric service for more and more jobs—until now you couldn't imagine living without electric service! Today your electric service bill is just about the biggest bargain in the family budget—yet what else does so much, for so little?

Yes, it's a service bill today—it does your chores, cleans your home, cooks your meals, and gives you more time for "living."

Baptist Youth Group Meets With Pinkerton Church

The Youth Group of the Haskell Association met with the Pinkerton Baptist Church Monday evening, Nov. 1, in the first youth Rally of the new association year. Some 85 were present for the program and the fellowship hour together. Despite the absence of both the president, Miss Carolyn Turner of Haskell First Church, and the Sponsor, Rev. Houston Walker, Pastor of the Rule First Church, a rather spirited meeting was entered into by all present. Rev. Meadow, Pastor of Rochester First Church, brought the main message of the evening.

The time of the next meeting was set at Christmas Season, with the exact date left to the later decision of the sponsor, the president, and the host church. Three invitations were presented for the next meeting and those present voted unanimously to accept them in the order given—Rochester for the December meeting and Rule for the next meeting following. A goal of "Double the Number Here Present" was agreed upon for the next Rally. Churches and towns represented besides the host church were Gore, O'Brien, Rochester, Rule and East Side Church, Haskell.

The program lasted for about an hour. It was introduced by song and prayer service in which the young people shared freely. Then followed the sermon by Rev. Meadow on Remembering Thy Creator in Thy Youth. In a stirring admonition, the speaker pointed out that youth is the time of plastic formation that shapes for all of later life. It is the time when foundations should be built deep if structures of personality are to rise high and remain unshakable within. The way out of sinning seems harder and longer when the years of indecision and doubt have formed adamant habits, the Rev. Meadow declared. A soul for Christ is precious, but a life of service with it is more glorious, and the need for youth in Christian service today is a crying need.

Officers of the Youth Movement, locally, are:

President — Carolyn Turner, Haskell, First.

Vice Pres.—Sammie Lee Johnston, O'Brien.

Sec.-Treas.—La Nelle Glover, Pinkerton.

Publicity Sec.—Peggy O'Neal, Rule, First.

Choirster—Patsy Ann Ingram, Pinkerton.

Pianist—Daisy Belle Shelley, O'Brien.

Sponsor-Advisor — Rev. Houston Walker, Pastor, Rule, First.

The ladies of Pinkerton Church served open-faced cheese sandwiches with cake and Hawaiian punch during the fellowship hour.—Patsy Ann Ingram, Reporter.

Introducing A New . . . Conoco Retail Station

. . . . In Haskell

November 1, 1948

Dear Customers and Friends:

We are changing over this first from Sinclair to Continental Products which products are transferred from the Continental Refinery, Wichita Falls, Texas.

This change was made necessary because Sinclair is folding up their retail business throughout this part of the country. We have carried a large stock of "Conoco" oils for many years, so we thought best to change over to the Continental Products, as they can furnish us with that high grade Bronze Regular, Clear Gas, Kerosene, and many other of their famous products. We will continue to handle Sinclair Pennsylvania and Opaline Motor Oils, also Quaker State.

We take this means to thank you and each of you for all the patronage you have given us in the past, and would appreciate a portion of your business in the future, at least a try out tankfull of this high test gas, together with a crankcase change of "Conoco" oils.

Yours for Service,

Here is a recipe for creamed chicken that may be frozen in your frozen food locker ready to be thawed and used when you need a meal in a hurry.

Cook the bony pieces by simmering in salted water until tender.

Cool meat quickly in the broth, skim off fat, remove meat from broth and cut into big pieces of uniform size cubes. You can get about three pints of meat from the wings, backs, and necks of six hens weighing 5 to 7 pounds. For each pint of cut, cooked chicken make a pint of medium white sauce. For the sauce use 1/2 pint chicken fat, 3/4 cup of flour, 3 cups chicken broth, 3 cups milk, and 1 teaspoon salt. Heat the fat, stir in flour; add broth, milk, and salt. Cook over hot water, stirring constantly until thickened. Add cooked chicken and heat to blend flavor. Cool the pan of creamed chicken quickly in ice or running cold water. Package at once in paper-board cartons lined with heat sealing cellophane. Freeze promptly.

To serve: Heat the frozen chicken in a double boiler about 1/2 hour. Start with warm water, not hot, in the lower pan, so the thawing meat won't stick. If heating several blocks, use a wider pan.

Each pint of creamed chicken makes about three servings.

Complete Chart on Cancer Is Prepared for First Time

For the first time a complete chart on cancer has been prepared for publication with the approval of the American Medical Association and the American Cancer Society.

Prepared by Maxine Davis, noted medical reporter, the complete chart appears in the October issue of Good Housekeeping magazine.

Categories into which the chart is divided include 1—the site or location of the cancer; 2—the frequency with which such cancers occur in each sex; 3—the common age at which they occur; 4—details of the doctor's examination; 5—technical laboratory studies; 6—treatment; 7—chances for cure; 8—preventive measures.

"No such comprehensive and succinct investigation of cancer ever has been made available to the public," the magazine declares. "In an illness in which early diagnosis continues to be the most important factor, and fear of examination a contributor to delay, this unhysterical presentation of facts renders a unique public service."

"For the first time in the history of medical science, there is reason to hope for some solutions to the tragic riddle of cancer," Miss Davis writes in an article which accompanies the chart; "In the past, although no one denied cancer's gravity, few scientists studied it. . . . So profound is the subject that few had the courage to investigate it, and the funds available to them were minuscule. Today money for research on a grand scale is being provided, and many investigators are at work.

"Your chances of suffering from cancer are not increasing, but the incidence of cancer is rising. This is because cancer is more likely in middle and later life, and as science lengthens our life span, more of us live to be cancer victims.

"Cancer is not necessarily fatal. Cures do exist. Thousands are cured each year. Nevertheless, one in every six who live into middle age is doomed to die of cancer.

"For the first time the federal government has appropriated adequate money. Last year it gave $14,000,000 to the National Cancer Institute of the U. S. Public Health Service, staffed by as competent administrators and scientists as can be found. This year the National Cancer Institute has been given another $14,000,000 plus authorization to make contracts amounting to $8,000,000 for construction of essential laboratories.

"Some of this money goes for education of the public and of the medical profession; but the greater part is being spent for research. Research and education are long-time undertakings, and we may regard these appropriations merely as down payments on a bill that easily will exceed $100,000,000 within ten years."

$128,525 IN MONEY BELT

New York.—When Mrs. Antionette Lindsey, 85, was taken to a hospital from her fashionable hotel suite, for observation for senile psychosis, nurses found a silk money belt bulging with $128,525 in bills tied around her waist. In the belt were 55 $1000 bills, 66 $544's, 300 $106's, 63 $50's and others of smaller denominations. Her chauffeur explained that Mrs. Lindsey feared someone was after her wealth.

Farm Income Drop Foreseen During Coming Year

On the average, prices paid for Texas farm products will go down a little in 1949; prices farmers pay for things they buy will probably be a little higher than they were this year.

It all adds up to an expected 1949 net income on Texas farms and ranches of some 5 to 10 per cent below that of 1948, but still greatly above any prewar year.

That's a two-sentence summary of the 1949 farm prospects as seen by Tyrus R. Timm, extension economist and professor at Texas A. & M. College, who returned last week from the National Agricultural Outlook Conference in Washington, D. C.

As to farm commodities, livestock and livestock products seem to hold the most favorable price position. The most speculative situation is indicated for fruits and vegetables. No sharp decline generally is expected, but certain individual commodities in this grouping may experience "short-run" seasonal declines. In between, these two groups of commodities is the outlook for cotton and grain, with cotton holding a more favorable spot.

Meanwhile he expects prices of automobiles, farm equipment and building materials to be as high or perhaps even higher than in 1948. Some economists, he says, think a general increase of 5-8 per cent may be expected.

You may pay a little less for radios, some items of household equipment and textiles.

The outlook interpretations are based on present supply and demand situations and requirements of existing government programs, Timm points out. Drastic changes from normal weather conditions, or a major overhauling of the government's programs, could change the picture completely.

Madame Stephanie will offer an hour of charm with her famous magic acts Tuesday night, Nov. 9, at 7:15, at the Mattson gymnasium. Under the auspices of the Junior and Senior classes, this unusual entertainment will be open to the public at lower than popular prices: school children 15c and adults 25c. Madame Stephanie lists among her startling effects such features as Spring flowers produced out of season; the Lota Bowl of ever-flowing water; the very temperamental "Foe Can"; the famous Wooden Block Trick (they pass through glass); she will show how Fo Wang overcame the food shortage in China; she promises to produce birds from an empty basket; make cigarettes and milk disappear; she will have the Magic Changing Boy and will do fascinating and unbelievable card tricks. Supt. Weldon Norman wishes to again thank the business men of Haskell and Weinert and especially the cotton gins who so generously helped in making the Harvest Festival one of the best in the history of Mattson school. Such whole hearted response and co-operation on the part of the faculty, school board and community is indicative of a successful school term. Some of the proceeds of the Festival will be used to purchase new volleyball suits for the girls and it virtually assures jackets for all of the football lettermen of this season. Mr. Norman states that Mattson has her last home game, played at the Haskell field tonight, Thursday, 7:15, with Sagerston. If you like 6-man football, come out and see a good game.

GIRL SAVES BOY, 2, FROM TAR

Los Angeles—Looking for little Larry Standbury, 2, at the request of his mother, Ruth Vivian Orina, 17, found him buried to his eyes in the clinging ooze of an old tar pool. She quickly threw down two planks, crawled out 10 feet and pulled the child's head above the tar. With her fingers, she carefully dug tar out of his mouth and nostrils. Then she pulled and tugged and got him onto the planks and finally back to solid ground. Quickly, she began applying artificial respiration. By that time, the firemen arrived with a respirator. The little boy taken to a hospital is recovering.

Qualified persons in Texas, Louisiana and Mississippi can now obtain jobs as clerk-stenographers with the VA in Washington D. C., VA announced.

VA is extending its recruiting into most parts of the nation because of the current shortage of qualified stenographers in the nation's capital.

Entrance salary for these positions is $2,498 per year with a very good chance for quick promotion to higher grades, VA said. Travel to Washington will be at government expense.

An adequate number of rooms for single persons are available in Washington at rates from $5 a week and up. Government quarters at Arlington Farms in dormitories are also available for girls.

Employment may be obtained through any regional office, hospital or center of the VA.

A savings in insurance premiums is available to World War II veterans who still are paying their GI insurance premiums on a monthly basis, VA said.

Pointing out that approximately 90 percent of the veterans are paying premiums on a monthly basis, VA explained that they may receive a three per cent annual discount by paying their premiums on a quarterly, semi-annual or annual basis.

In addition, the fewer premiums due lessens the chance of a policy lapsing.

Veterans can take advantage of the savings by visiting any VA office or writing to the VA Dallas Branch Office insurance service, requesting the type of premium payment desired.

Prevalence of Rabies Not Of Seasonal Incidence

The "dog-days" of the mid-summer months originally derived the name from the prevalence of rabies spread from rabid dogs at that season of the year, but actually rabies occurs at all times of the year. During the past year the State Health Laboratory found 847 animal brains positive for rabies. Four deaths occurred in humans.

Dr. Geo. W. Cox, states, Few persons need to be warned that rabies is a fatal disease yet proper precautions against its spread are often neglected. Stray dogs should be humanely destroyed or impounded, and all household pets should be vaccinated. Annual vaccination efficiently practiced will stamp out rabies in Texas.

The State Health Officer stressed this fact as important: A dog suspected of being rabid should not be killed at once, but should be kept confined for ten days, since this is the infective period before death of the animal. If the dog does not develop rabies within ten days, the individual bitten is safe as far as that particular bite is concerned. Further observation of the animal should be at the discretion of the veterinarian since many other conditions resemble rabies.

The head of the suspected animal should be packed in ice and sent to the State Health Department for examination. Freezing the brain, or killing the dog prematurely or in such manner as to injure the brain may make correct laboratory findings impossible.

Mere handling of a rabid animal is not sufficient reason for treatment, as scratches by the animal's paws ordinarily do not constitute exposure. It should be understood that rabies is transmitted only through exposure to saliva which gains entrance into the body wound, ordinarily thru a bite.

Questions and Answers

Q.—My husband is a World War II veteran suffering from a service-incurred disability and is in need of a prosthetic appliance. Will VA pay for the appliance?

A.—VA will furnish a prosthetic appliance if the veteran has a service-connected or service-aggravated disability requiring an appliance.

Q.—I enlisted in the war during July, 1947. Am I entitled to loan benefits under the G-I Bill?

A.—If you served at any time between Sept. 16, 1940 and July 25th, 1947, and you were discharged under conditions other than dishonorable after at least 90 days of active service, or for a service-incurred disability in less than 90 days, you may qualify for a G-I loan.

Q.—What is the last date on which a veteran of World War II may apply for a G-I loan?

A.—Such veterans have until July 25, 1957, in which to apply for G-I loans. Armed Forces Recruitment Act enlistees will have 10 years after their period of enlistment is ended where the discharge date is later than July 25, 1947.

Q.—My son was disabled during World War II. Will VA pay him an additional sum for dependents?

A.—If your son is rated 60 per cent or more disabled, he is entitled to an additional sum for his dependents.
