

The Indian Bulletin.

Dedicated to Commerce, Agriculture and the Dissemination of General Information.

NO. 12.

VOL. 1.

BROWN & BRADY,

INDIANOLA, TEXAS, THURSDAY, APRIL 29, 1852.

PUBLISHERS.

Order is said to be completely re-established in Chiapas, the insurgents have fled to Guatemala.

Four hundred troops have marched from Manzanuto to reinforce the garrison at Matamoros.

The State of New Leon continues to suffer from the depredations of the Indians. Music is looking up in Mexico. The advent of Max Marzquez with his opera troops is anxiously expected.

A recent steamer brought four royal letters to President Arista. The first and second are from Queen Victoria and relate to the removal of Mr. Bankhead and the appointment of Mr. Doyle as Minister to Mexico.

The British House of Commons is about to be dissolved, and a general election will take place soon.

The papers of the capital say that it is certain that Gen. Canales has declared himself to be a free port, and the Porvenir, of Vera Cruz, makes this the subject of a long article.

The project of turning out the revenue, introduced into the Mexican Congress by the Minister of Finance, has met with much opposition from the papers all over the Republic.

Metz, Bates, Johnson & Co., a large English house in the City of Mexico, who have a branch in Brownsville, Texas, presented a petition to the Chamber of Deputies.

Three of the murderers of Senor Boitegas, named Jose Maria Rivera, Fernando Sanguin, and Jose Medina, have been sentenced to death.

The Legislature of Vera Cruz has resolved to petition the General Government to permit the introduction of foreign flour into the ports of Vera Cruz and Tampico at $6 per barrel.

From the Victoria Advocate.
WESTERN TEXAS PRESBYTERY.
A friend who was present at the recent session of this body, has furnished us with the following outline of its proceedings:

The Presbytery of Western Texas held its regular spring meeting at Matamoros, commencing at the designated hour on Thursday, there being a quorum in attendance.

Rev. Mr. Melton was received as a member of the Presbytery, having presented his certificate of dismission from the Presbytery of New Albany, Indiana.

On Saturday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, Presbytery proceeded to make choice of a location for a College, to be under its care.

There were three places in nomination: Lockhart, Goliad and Victoria. After a session of prayer, as contemplated by the above resolution, members were called up on first for remarks, and afterwards for the place of their choice.

Victoria offered as an inducement, $100,000 on the part of the corporation, and the Presbytery had assurances that individual donations, both of money and lands, would be a liberal character.

It is worthy of note, that one portion of the grounds upon which the "Grammar School" is located, contains a quarry of excellent building stone, and another an abundance of limestone of the finest quality.

What is a COQUETE?—A young lady of more beauty than sense; more accomplishments than learning; more charms of person than grace of mind; more similes than friends; and more side men for attendants than admirers.

From the Victoria Advocate.
CORRESPONDENCE OF THE PICAYUNE.
WASHINGTON, March 21, 1852.
Mr. Williams, who was present at the campaign on the Whig side of the House, with a very eloquent speech in defense of the Administration, and expressing a most decided preference for Millard Fillmore over Gen. Scott. The latter was presented by him as an unsafe candidate for the Presidency, and Mr. Fillmore as a tried and honest public servant.

It is now necessary to designate that notwithstanding the popularity of Gen. Scott in some of the Northern States, he cannot, without changing his position, and separating himself openly and voluntarily from Gen. Sevier, become the nominee of the Whigs.

Gen. Scott was nominated first by Mr. J. M. Clayton, the late Premier under Gen. Taylor, who was certainly not the kind of adviser the South could wish to see in the White House.

Mr. Williams embodied all these arguments in his speech, which will, we doubt, command the attention of the public.

Mr. Belmont today, in the Senate, introduced a resolution of inquiry into the motives and objects of the Japanese expedition to the Pacific.

Mr. Belmont today, in the Senate, introduced a resolution of inquiry into the motives and objects of the Japanese expedition to the Pacific.

Mr. Belmont today, in the Senate, introduced a resolution of inquiry into the motives and objects of the Japanese expedition to the Pacific.

Mr. Belmont today, in the Senate, introduced a resolution of inquiry into the motives and objects of the Japanese expedition to the Pacific.

From the Victoria Advocate.
LE DIABLE BOITEUX.
WASHINGTON, April 7, 1852.
Instead of four Democratic members from Pennsylvania, there were about twenty on the vote on the compromise resolutions of Messrs. Jackson and Hillyer, which, it is true, did not, as yet, elect to the House after the vote on Jackson's resolution was taken, and did not return to vote on Mr. Hillyer's resolution.

There is an effort made by both parties to make capital out of the whole proceedings on Monday, the 10th, in the House of Representatives.

Mr. Ward, of Kentucky, who introduced Gen. Scott in Committee of the Whole, and who had been elected to the Presidency from both sides of the House, Mr. Fillmore takes the matter very coolly, I assure you.

Mr. Ward, of Kentucky, who introduced Gen. Scott in Committee of the Whole, and who had been elected to the Presidency from both sides of the House, Mr. Fillmore takes the matter very coolly, I assure you.

Mr. Ward, of Kentucky, who introduced Gen. Scott in Committee of the Whole, and who had been elected to the Presidency from both sides of the House, Mr. Fillmore takes the matter very coolly, I assure you.

Mr. Ward, of Kentucky, who introduced Gen. Scott in Committee of the Whole, and who had been elected to the Presidency from both sides of the House, Mr. Fillmore takes the matter very coolly, I assure you.

Mr. Ward, of Kentucky, who introduced Gen. Scott in Committee of the Whole, and who had been elected to the Presidency from both sides of the House, Mr. Fillmore takes the matter very coolly, I assure you.

Mr. Ward, of Kentucky, who introduced Gen. Scott in Committee of the Whole, and who had been elected to the Presidency from both sides of the House, Mr. Fillmore takes the matter very coolly, I assure you.

From the Victoria Advocate.
TERQUANTEPEA.
The Tehuantepec Railroad scheme is making friends rapidly, wherever its claims are fairly investigated, and is beginning to be widely entertained as the great enterprise of the South.

The interior lines of railroad now advancing towards completion, and connecting themselves with a grand system covering the South, and rapidly converging towards the Gulf of Mexico.

The interior lines of railroad now advancing towards completion, and connecting themselves with a grand system covering the South, and rapidly converging towards the Gulf of Mexico.

The interior lines of railroad now advancing towards completion, and connecting themselves with a grand system covering the South, and rapidly converging towards the Gulf of Mexico.

The interior lines of railroad now advancing towards completion, and connecting themselves with a grand system covering the South, and rapidly converging towards the Gulf of Mexico.

The interior lines of railroad now advancing towards completion, and connecting themselves with a grand system covering the South, and rapidly converging towards the Gulf of Mexico.

The interior lines of railroad now advancing towards completion, and connecting themselves with a grand system covering the South, and rapidly converging towards the Gulf of Mexico.

The interior lines of railroad now advancing towards completion, and connecting themselves with a grand system covering the South, and rapidly converging towards the Gulf of Mexico.

From the Victoria Advocate.
HENRY CLAY.
When a great man is dying, all personal animosities and even political differences are forgotten, and the public are generally washed in respectful silence awaiting the event.

Many death-beds have been surrounded with an atmosphere of solemnity—some of them have been terribly grand and others exquisitely pathetic.

When many years have passed away, when the snowy arms of America have stretched across the world, and clasped the rocky unions to her breast;

When many years have passed away, when the snowy arms of America have stretched across the world, and clasped the rocky unions to her breast;

When many years have passed away, when the snowy arms of America have stretched across the world, and clasped the rocky unions to her breast;

When many years have passed away, when the snowy arms of America have stretched across the world, and clasped the rocky unions to her breast;

When many years have passed away, when the snowy arms of America have stretched across the world, and clasped the rocky unions to her breast;

When many years have passed away, when the snowy arms of America have stretched across the world, and clasped the rocky unions to her breast;

