Young Americans In Action, after five months of continuous operation and activities, will take a brief Spring recess. All young people are asked to watch and listen for the announcement of a new summer session, with varied activities which will begin in early June. "Appreciation is expressed to all young people, businessmen and parents who helped make the Winter session outstanding and successful," stated Rev. J. With the increased area interest in tennis, Kerry Moore, tennis coach at the Muleshoe High School has indicated an interest in establishing a city tournament to be played sometime during the summer.

According to Moore, three divisions could be set up, junior, senior and adult and trophies could be awarded in the different divisions.

Although he had a record breaking 142' 4" discus throw in district competition which set a new school record, Joe Pat Riley made it to the Regional meet at Odessa Saturday, but failed to obtain the distance necessary to qualify for state.

Area Men Go To Water Meet

On Friday, April 19, men from the Muleshoe area attended a water meeting in Lamar, Colo. at the invitation of the Lamar Chamber of Commerce, County Agent J. K. Adams, Ross Goodwin, director of High Plains Underground Water District and Bill Millen, all from the Muleshoe area, were among the more than 200 who attended the meeting.

Keynote speaker was Paul R. Cunningham, engineer for R. W. Beck and Associates, who spoke on "A New Water Resource Plan for the Great Plains."

Cunningham explained in detail how water could be transferred from the Missouri River in Nebraska to the High Plains area. He said this could be accomplished through a series of reservoirs and holding stations to a point near Alliance, Neb. A gravity flow canal would then distribute water to potentially highly productive land through Nebraska, Colorado, Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas and New Mexico.

According to R. W. Beck and Associates, who have surveyed the project, a total of potential irrigable lands would be more than 53,000,000 acres. Other benefits listed included

Vietnam News

As reported by Marine Corps Combat Correspondents and edited by G/Sgt. Bob Montgomery.

The butt - plate of the old M-14 rifle used to insure Marine's accuracy. Recently, a walking "Butt-plate" saved three U. S. Marines from walking into a Viet Cong ambush.

Butt - plate is a year - old mutt belonging to the Marines of Combined Action Platoon Hotel - 5.

Earlier this month, Butt-plate sniffed danger as his Marines walked a night patrol.

Lance Corporal Michael A. Wonn, 21, Whitehall, Mich., said he and two other Marines paused briefly on a trail, when Butt - plate started barking. Wonn said he and the others quickly took cover.

"Butt - plate barked once like he had been kicked. We fired in that direction and the VC fired back," Wonn continued. "They were probably waiting in ambush, but Butt - plate gave them away."

After initial firing, the Viet Cong broke contact and fled.

It's a rare occurrence when a Marine is shot in the back, then casually plucks out the bullet and nonchalantly strolls away.

That's exactly what happened when Cpl. Jeff Ault was struck by a ricocheting round in Hue.

Ault and another Marine, both combat correspondents with the 1st Marine Division, were walking to the Hue press center when a firefight broke out near the city's stadium, a half - mile away.

Suddenly something whirred through the air and hit Ault in the back.

Several Vietnamese kids were on the sidewalk playing with slingshots and Ault, jarred forward by the impact, suspected the laughing children.

"I thought one of the kids had hit me with a rock or something," he said, "as the children kept laughing."

The other Marine noticed a small hole in the back of Ault's shirt and told him. Impulsively, Ault reached over his shoulder. When he found the hole, the correspondent plucked out an AK-47 automatic rifle round that had struck his back.

For the first time the children cringed. Ault held up the bullet and laughed as half the youngsters gasped and the others took off running.

CHEMICALS FOR HEALTHIER ORNAMENTALS

Keeping fungi and nematode populations under control on ornamental plants will make them healthier and more attractive. The most effective controls come from the use of chemicals, says Wendell Horne, Extension plant pathologist. A visit with the local county Extension agents is suggested for needed information.

Expected to attend are the Harmony Plains singers from Cone and the Harmony Hill Hymnsingers from Azle. Nowlin said singers and instructors will be attending from all areas of Texas and New Mexico.

One of the most effective methods of treating acne is frequent and thorough cleansing of the infected area. Washing keeps the skin clear of oils and clears plugged oil glands, lessening the risk of blackheads. A regulated diet and sufficient rest are also considered effective remedies. Scratching or picking at a blemish can lead to permanent scarring. Consult your family doctor for proper treatment.

THE SCALPHUNTERS

Producers have been taking great liberties with the old-time cowboy and Indian themes and "The Scalphunters" is no exception to this rule.

Burt Lancaster portrays a trapper who survives the perils of a frontier fur trapper. His uninvited companion is a runaway slave, Ossie Davis, who reads Latin quite well and this affords quite a contrast to Lancaster's inability to even write his name.

Their mutual hatred of Indians results in a strange sort of companionship. Shelley Winters does well in her part as a questionable frontierswoman and Telly Savalas is convincing as western badman.

In this package one can find first-rate fistfights, clever dialogue that even affords much comedy.

KIDNAP GUESSING GAME—A kidnap guessing game was played at the Progress H. D. club meeting for a money making project. Those shown at the meeting are top row: Robin Taylor, Judy Roming, Sada Bass, Jauree Smallwood, Lucille Gross, and Ada Murrain. Bottom row: Kay Mardis, Ethel Montford, Maxine Rogers, Keva Roming and Elzada Gulley.

A garden rake for the carpet! Yes, its the "in" way to beauty for your new deep piled shag carpet. Experts at Evans. Black, manufacturers of several types of shag carpets, recommend the use of a garden rake — it must be bamboo — to fluff the shag before company comes, and for quick cleanups afterwards. Shag carpets do need the usual vacuuming, but the garden rake is the way to erase footprints and vacuum streaks and keep the carpet well groomed.

Post Office Condemns Pornographic Mail

Mail patrons offended by pandering advertisements can now take steps to curb such mail, Postmaster Spencer Beavers said today in announcing plans for administering a new law which gives each family the right to decide that an ad is "erotically arousing or sexually provocative."

When an advertisement sent through the mails is offensive on these grounds, a postal patron can now ask the post office to direct the mailer to send no more mail to him and to remove immediately the patron's name from all mailing lists he owns, controls or rents.

To assist patrons, the Post Office Department has published a brief pamphlet --- HOW YOU CAN CURB PANDERING ADVERTISEMENTS --- which is now available at the Muleshoe post office. In addition to explaining how the law works, the pocket-size leaflet contains a form letter one can use when sending his complaint to the post office.

The pamphlet explains that when a patron receives an advertisement which is, in his opinion, pandering, he must send the ad, its envelope and the form letter, or one which includes its language, to his post office with the words, "Request for prohibitory order" on the face of the envelope.

Postmaster Beavers said: "This new law should give some protection to American families offended by advertisements they believe to be morally harmful, particularly to their children.

"Last year the Post Office Department received some 140,000 complaints from those offended by pandering advertisements. While in most cases the ads were not legally obscene and were therefore not mailed, they are often offensive and are usually not the type of material one would want his children to read," Postmaster Beavers said.

He added that "because the law gives a mail patron the sole right to decide what is offensive, and does not deny others the right to receive the same mail, the Congress felt it does not violate Constitutional guarantees of freedom of speech."

While the patron's complaint will only be directed to the sender, Postmaster Beavers believes that one or two complaints will provide substantial protection because "the great bulk of this advertising comes from fewer than 20 so-called 'smut dealers' who are frequently swapping mailing lists."

If a mailer does not strike a complainant's name from this mailing list, and the patron receives a second mailing 30 days after the firm has received the prohibitory order, he may bring the matter to the attention of the postmaster issuing the initial order by writing him and enclosing the second pander-ing ad with its envelope. If the mailer still fails to respect the order, the Postmaster General may ask the Attorney General to apply for a Federal Court order directing compliance. Failure to observe the order may be punishable by a fine or imprisonment.

Included was John S. Reed, president of the Santa Fe Railway.

Cotton Spokesman Urges Longrange Policies

WASHINGTON-----A cotton spokesman today urged long-range government policies which will be in keeping with the industry's "enormous potentials" and its rapidly expanding efforts to build markets through research and promotion.

Testifying for the National Cotton Council before the Senate Agriculture and Forestry Committee, Dr. C. R. Sayre, Greenwood, Miss., said the present "Short-term" cotton program has succeeded in eliminating the surplus, while maintaining farm income.

But long-term policies are now needed, he said, to encourage producers and others to make the forward plans and heavy investments which are necessary if the industry is to be self-reliant and "profitably competitive."

Dr. Sayre recognized that American cotton faces stiff competition from manmade fibers and foreign-produced cotton, but emphasized that this challenge could be met by acceleration of the progress already under way in cotton cost reduction, quality improvement and promotion.

A director and delegate of the Council and chairman of its Industry Practices and Policies Committee, Dr. Sayre advocated government policies directed toward: (1) encouraging industry efficiency; (2) maintaining a competitive one-price system; (3) restoring the export market to a level of at least six million bales; (4) restraining cotton textile imports to a reasonable level; and (5) assuring adequate supplies, both in terms of quantity and quality.

If cotton does not meet its competitive challenges, he warned, it could lose most of its export market and the volume of domestic consumption could be headed sharply downhill.

Dr. Sayre said this would mean that millions of acres of productive farm land would be forced out of cotton and into other uses, the problem of excess agricultural capacity would be aggravated, the nation would lose a real source of strength in meeting its balance-of-payments problems, and consumers would lose much of the benefit of healthy competition between textile fibers.

Spelling out in more detail the government policies it feels will be in keeping with a soundly expanding cotton economy, the Council recommended:

*Toward encouraging industry efficiency: (1) retaining the present 16-million-acre minimum national cotton allotment; (2) provision of some type of cost adjustment program until farmers can be profitably competitive on their own; (3) not placing a maximum dollar limit on any farmer's participation in or benefit from a support or payment program; (4) continuation of 1965 skip-row planting regulations on a permanent basis; (5) immediate and full implementation of the special $10-million cost-cutting research program already authorized by Congress; and (6) an increase in the orderly movement of allotted acres into the hands of those who want and need them.

*Maintaining a competitive one-price system: "The concept of a competitive one-price system has been firmly established since 1964. . . . The price at which cotton can be considered competitive in domestic and export markets is virtually the same. Our domestic market is being heavily invaded by foreign-produced textiles and this invasion would only be further accelerated if foreign mills were permitted to buy cotton at a lower price than domestic mills."

*Restoring the export market: (1) assurance of adequate supplies and competitive pricing; (2) greater use of Export-Import Bank authority to guarantee credit risks in promising export markets; (3) revisions in the barter program; (4) reduction of transportation costs; (5) continued support for international promotion, customer relations, and technical services to foreign users of U. S. cotton.

*Restricting cotton textile imports: establishment by Congress of specific quantitative controls on imports of textile raw materials and the products thereof -- at levels "which will not usurp cotton's current markets and their future growth."

*Assuring an adequate supply: (1) careful re-evaluation of what constitutes a "normal carryover;" (2) a concept recognizing the wide margins of error involved in forecasting; and (3) recognition of the essentiality of producing supplies fully adequate to meet market needs.

In commenting on the industry's efforts to strengthen cotton, Dr. Sayre pointed out that producers have demonstrated their faith in the future by overwhelming approval of collection of $1 per bale to finance the greatly expanded research and promotion program of Cotton Producers Institute.

Cotton Producers Advised On Proper Seeding Rates

With the cotton planting season almost here, Bailey County producers should give careful consideration to proper seeding rates, advises County Agricultural Agent J. K. Adams. Studies at the South Plains Research and Extension Center show that an optimum plant population ranges from 20,000 to 50,000 plants per acre on 40-inch rows.

A planting rate of twenty pounds of good quality acid delinted seed per acre will provide a sufficient number of plants, points out the agent. In fact, if every seed produced a plant, there would be more than enough plants required for maximum yields.

With an average of 4,000 seed per pound, a 20-pound per acre planting rate could produce 80,000 plants. However, under actual field conditions about 60 percent emergence may be considered, explains Adams. Therefore, the plant population would number about 48,000 per acre with a spacing of slightly more than three inches between plants. Under skip row conditions the planting rate may be increased by 10 to 20 percent.

Farmers in the county sometimes use excess planting rates to compensate for possible adverse planting conditions or loss due to hail, adds Adams. Actually, this practice is rarely justified and would be of benefit only if hail took out 50 to 90 percent of the seedlings.

Why this range of hail damage? With an initial population of 48,000 plants per acre, a hail destroying up to 50 percent of the seedlings would leave 24,000 plants per acre, enough for maximum yields. On the other hand, if hail damage of 90 percent or more occurs, replanting would be necessary even if a planting rate of 40 pounds were used.

Often stands are replanted which should be left, it's always best, if possible, to leave that early first stand. Replanting in June places the boll maturation period in an unfavorable environment for producing high quality fiber. An early crop, even with a reduced stand of a plant every six to eight inches, will usually make the producer more profit in quality lint than thicker stands of replanted, later maturing cotton. As hail damage occurs later in the season, the decision on whether or not to replant becomes more critical.

This material was provided by Dr. Bob Metzger, area agronomist. Since farmers will be planting within the next month, now is an opportune time to emphasize planting rates.

W. L. (Louis) Middlebrooks For County Commissioner

On May 4, 1968, the people of Precinct #1, Bailey County, will have the responsibility of electing a County Commissioner.

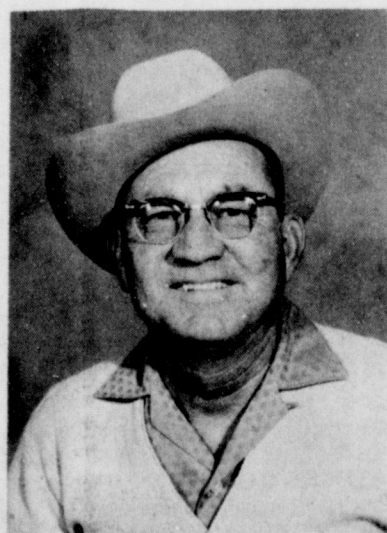

The person elected to this position will represent the people of this precinct in all county matters. This is a position of great responsibility. I would like to have the opportunity of representing the people of Precinct #1. I am a property owner and tax payer and I have lived in Muleshoe since 1952.

For the last 25 years I have worked for the State and County. During these years I have become well acquainted with the many problems that face our County Commissioners. I have been with the road maintenance department through all my years with the State and County, which gives me a thorough understanding of maintaining the county roads. I realize this is only a small part of the responsibilities that would be upon me as your County Commissioner.

I believe I am capable of making a good representative for the people of Precinct #1 as a member of the Bailey County Commissioner's Court, where important county business is transacted and the taxpayer's money is expended. The only promise I make to any voter is that if elected, I will devote my full time to this work and do the job to the best of my ability.

YOUR VOTE AND INFLUENCE WILL BE SINCERELY APPRECIATED.

Area Farmers Are Recognized For Corn Yield

Athletic Director Dick Stafford reported a collection of $258.03 in the 'Lily Day' Collection for Crippled Children last Saturday.

Each year, the athletic departments of Texas high schools hold a house - to - house collection during the Easter season to collect for the Easter Seal Crippled Children's Annual Drive.

Participating are all athletes, cheerleaders and twirlers from the Texas schools. Stan Johnson and Trevor Ford acted as chairmen for the event.

'Lily Day' was originated by Bob Lilly of the Dallas Cowboys as a means for athletes to assist with the promotion of the program for Texas' handicapped children.

Schools participate in 'Lily Day' according to the way they are rated. For example, Muleshoe is competing against other AAA rate schools for a trophy to be presented the school collecting the most money. Last year, the school that won the trophy had collected $155.

Area Farmers Are Recognized For Corn Yield

John Young and Glen Watkins, both of Muleshoe, were honored recently at the DeKalb 200 Bushel Club meeting in Wichita.

Excellent yields of number two corn, taken from a measured acreage earned them recognition as two of the top corn growers in the Western Corn Belt.

Young's yield was 151.16 bushels and Watkins' yield totaled 161.71.

The area farmers were two of 900 corn producers from throughout the country who participated in the 200 Bushel Club program.

Texans Warned On Insurance

Clay Cotten, Commissioner of Insurance, today warned elderly Texas residents of a fraudulent operation which has developed recently. The operation is being conducted by unknown parties and is being investigated in several areas where activities have been reported. Apparently, the operation is directed against elderly Texas residents and concerns promise of insurance policy refunds. "These parties," Cotten said, "will review policies and then tell the policyholder that he is due a substantial sum of money which the State Board of Insurance is requiring the company to refund. The policyholder is then advised that he will have to pay a sum of money (ranging from $200 to $700) and that the party will return in about three weeks with the substantial refund."

Commissioner Cotten stated, "In no instance where a company is required to make a refund by the State Board of Insurance is there any requirement that the policyholder must first advance any money to secure such refund." He advised the public to notify local police authorities after being approached with this or any other similar proposition which involves advancing money to secure a refund on a policy of insurance.

Mail Service To Servicemen Has Improved

An illustrated pamphlet---MAIL FOR SERVICEMEN--- outlining the expanded program for airlifting letters, packages and other military mail overseas at low postal rates is now available through Muleshoe Post Office window clerks, Postmaster Beavers announced today.

Postmaster Beavers said that "as a result of new legislation and action by President Johnson we are now airlifting more than 75 per cent of all mail going to the military men and women stationed abroad. We hope this guide will help more American families be familiar with these services and use them."

The eight - page pamphlet, illustrates three services for airlifting parcels at rates the average family can afford, the speedy service now available for newspapers and news magazines to most overseas bases, the special rates for books and similar educational materials, and how to mail sound - recorded personal messages. The guide also provides parcel wrapping instructions, information on the time it takes parcels to reach Vietnam and other overseas bases from major U. S. cities, and pointers on the correct way to address military mail.

A family sending a 10-pound package from Muleshoe to Vietnam, for example, pays only $2.75 on a package marked "PAL," while the air parcel rate for the same package is $6.59. Postmaster Beavers said,

On parcels weighing less than 5 pounds it may be more advantageous for a family to use the older (SAM) Space Available Mail service, which provides surface transportation to the port of embarkation and airlift overseas. A four - pound SAM package to a European military post from Muleshoe costs only $1.10. On packages weighing under two pounds air parcel post is often the patron's "best buy" for throughairlift service, the pamphlet suggests.

Unemployment Claims Down

"Texas Unemployment Insurance claims actions dropped an even 10,000 from February and showed a decrease from March of last year of almost 18,000," R. L. Coffman said today.

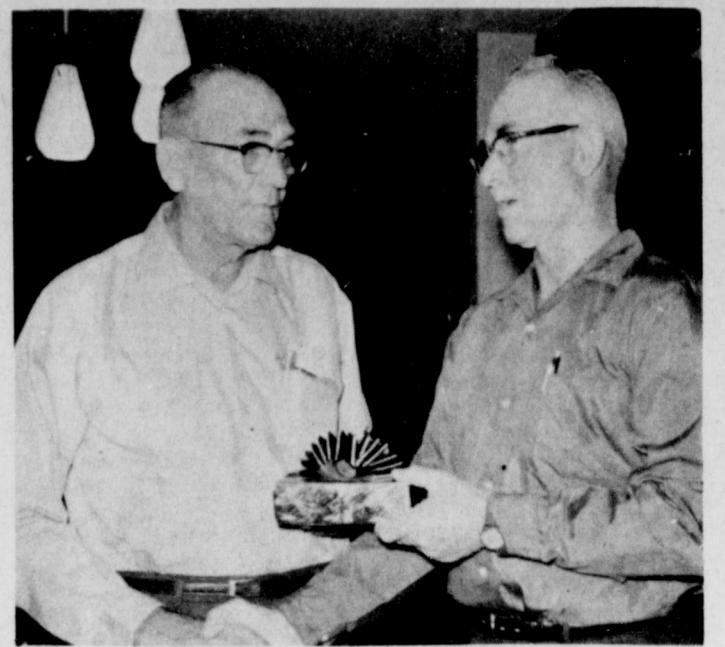

Initial claims filed were almost 4,000 under last month and 3,000 less than a year ago. Nearly 6,000 fewer continued claims were filed than for February.

The total payment of March claims was $485,000 less than March 1967, in spite of the increase in benefit payments authorized by the last legislature.

VETERANS Q's and A's

Q -- My Social Security check went up in March -- enough to put me over the income limit for the amount of pension I get from the Veterans Administration. Yet, I received a pension check in the same amount from VA around the first of April. Was this a mistake? Will I have to return the VA check?

A -- The amount of the VA pension check which you received around the first of April was no mistake. And you won't have to return it. On March 28, 1968, President Johnson signed Public Law 90-275 which specifically protects pensioners like yourself from any reduction in their VA benefits due to the recent hike in Social Security payments. This is true not only for 1968 but also for 1969. For information as to how your higher Social Security income may affect your VA pension beginning in 1970, check with your nearest VA office.

NEW! For clean Sorghum... spray weeds when you see them! with BANVEL

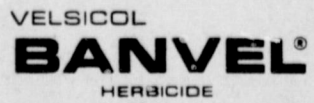

Velsicol announces Banvel herbicide for control of all hard-to-kill weeds of major importance in grain sorghum. This includes carelessness (pigweed), sunflower, lambs-quarter, purslane, morning glory and other annual broadleaf weeds. Banvel herbicide is applied post-emergence, so there are no wasted sprays in years when rain is scarce and weeds are not a problem. With Banvel you see your weed problem and then spray--all in plenty of time to give young sorghum plants plenty of opportunity to grow.

Banvel is sprayed onto weed leaves and translocates to the roots... for new, total control of weeds. Just apply Banvel between the 10th and 25th day after emergence of grain sorghum (approximately 4 to 12 inches tall).

Banvel is not dependent on soil moisture for its effectiveness, so its results are dependable. And it's a liquid that won't clog your sprayers; nor does Banvel need constant agitation.

Banvel increases yields. It's excellent for use on grain sorghum, wheat, barley, oats and field corn. Order Banvel herbicide to get full potential from your valuable, high-yielding sorghum seed.

Mule Outsiders Lose First Game

Playing without their regular pitcher, catcher and second baseman, the Mule Outsiders lost the first game of the 1968 season to the Rebels of Hereford. As many of the players on the team were sick, out of town or working, the high-rated team played short of men, and as a result the game ended with a score of 22-4.

The Hereford team had a whopping total of eight home runs in the game which was played in Babe Ruth Park. Winning pitcher for Hereford was Lupe Ramirez and Muleshoe's losing pitcher was Keith Griffin.

Tino Rojas, Joe Bara, Kenny Heathington and Prospero Aguilar scored runs for Muleshoe.

Practice is set for 8 p.m. each night this week in Babe Ruth Park for the Outsiders who will again play the Hereford Rebels in the High School Baseball Park at Hereford on Sunday, April 28, at 2 p.m.

Jacinto Bara is manager of the team. Records show that during the past three years, since the organization of the team, they have won 57 games and have lost only six. Two tournaments have been played in Muleshoe with the Outsiders placing second.

Team members include Kenny Heathington, John Agee, Joe Bara, Billy Darnell Jr., Keith Griffin, Robert Gilleges, Juan Garza, Sam Gonzales, Tino Rojas, Doyle Meadows, Ramon Solis, Prospero Aguilar, Eugene Shaw, Jerry Mick and Jacinto Bara.
