The Dorcus Sunday School Class of the Trinity Baptist Church met Monday afternoon in the church annex for a business meeting and social hour. Opal Pugh led the opening prayer. The devotional was by Vivian Morris entitled "Do You Know Your Bible?" taken from various scriptures.

Mrs. Morris also read two poems, "Mother's Day" and "Requirements of a Pastor." Refreshments were served to Josephine Wenner, Minnie Redwine, Roxie Hoover, Opal Pugh, Vivian Morris and Loyce Brewer, hostess.

The children of Mrs. F. L. Wenner honored her on Mother's Day. The event was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Merriott in Littlefield. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Delton Wenner, Mr. and Mrs. Rayford Wenner, LaReta and Rayborn; Mr. and Mrs. Ansel Ashford, Linda and Lynial; Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Merriott, Gary and Mickie, Muleshoe; Ronald Ashford, Canyon; Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Wenner, Donald and Shirley, Hub; Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Merriott, Randal and Elma, Lubbock; and Mrs. Dorris Horsley of Muleshoe.

Mr. and Mrs. Burt Mathis spent Mother's Day in Clovis with their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Mathis.

A tax levy of 40 cents per $100 property value was lowered during the Monday, May 13 meeting of Bailey County Commissioner's Court.

The new tax rate is to be 12 cents per $100 value and the reduction includes Precinct 1, Precinct 2, and Precinct 3.

Precinct 4 which is not included does not have the 40 cent levy due to the fact that much of that Precinct has sandhills and less road.

The motion was made by W. H. Eubanks and received a second by Stephens for the cut in the levy.

Permission was granted to Bailey County Historical Survey Committee to erect a Texas State Historical County Marker on the courthouse grounds.

A Certificate of Deposit in the amount of $58,487.47 from the Highway 84 Improvement Fund was purchased to draw interest at the rate of five percent per annum. Bailey County Judge Don Cihak put the move before the Commissioner's Court in the form of a motion and was seconded by R. P. McCall and approved.

Other Certificates of Deposit purchased were for $200,000 and $160,510.61 from current Certificates of Deposit and $39,489.39 from the Road District 1-A Interest and Sinking Fund. This proposal was passed by unanimous vote after the motion was made by Loyd Stephens and the second by Judge Don Cihak.

The sum of $12,000 is to be transferred from the Road and Bridge General Fund to each of the four respective precincts for inter-fund transfer. This motion made by R. P. McCall received a second from Loyd Stephens and carried.

Attending were Judge Don Cihak, Loyd Stephens, Precinct 2, W. H. Eubanks, Precinct 3 and R. P. McCall, Precinct 4.

Farm Measurement Applications Accepted

Applications for measurement service will be accepted through May 20 at the local ASCS office. The cost of this service is $12 per farm, plus 10 cents per acre measured.

The responsibility of measuring and reporting acreage is the farm operator's, the office management points out, and the producer certification program has worked very well in the past and contends that those farmers who carefully measure their land will have no problems.

Those who estimate or do not measure very carefully may have the unhappy experience of paying a heavy penalty, ASCS officials relate.

In 1967, measuring service was provided for 250 farms at the request of the farm operators at an average cost of $32.46 per farm. After August 15, some 300 farms were spot checked by the local ASCS office and only 20 of these farms had to pay a penalty, however the average penalty amounted to $351 per farm.

The statistical reporting service survey will mail acreage forms to Bailey County farmers early in June. The farmer cooperation will be needed in conducting

Rain General Over Area: Farmers are Optimistic

Several days of rainfall which began last week and continued during the weekend spilled from approximately three and one-half inches down to one-half inch of moisture over Bailey County have left farmers with a look of optimism.

Some wheat was lost in the hardest hit part of the county when large hailstones pelted the area near Coyote Lake some 22 miles southwest of Muleshoe. There the moisture was recorded at nearly the record, three and one-half inch mark.

Crops will have to be replanted in that area due to the hail and some due to heavy wash-outs.

The rain, generally, was a big boost to the wheat this year, as dryland farmers to the south, southeast and southwest say that this year's crop already had a jump on that of the previous year and the recent rain will add to its chances of making more bushels per acre.

Wheat, called "a chancy crop," with hail as a prime hazard, along with dry weather, extreme wet weather, bugs and disease that it is virtually impossible to forecast harvest results.

About all that can be said right now is that it looks like Bailey County farmers will have a wheat crop to harvest.

An estimate of how much wheat was lost or damaged was not available, however, its acreage is not believed to be high.

One thing considered in the farmer's favor is that, when the rains came, the ground was ready for the moisture. Most Bailey County farmers had their land in shape, thus creating a more advantageous situation.

Tracy Cowan Wins Contest: Award Presented at Banquet

The twenty-third Awards Banquet sponsored by the Soil Conservation Service of Texas, was held Thursday evening, at the Plainview High School Cafeteria in Plainview.

Walter R. Humphrey, editor of the Fort Worth Press and founder of the Conservation Awards Idea, was the Master of Ceremonies and made the presentations to the winners of the different divisions.

Tracy Cowan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Cowan, Muleshoe, and a seventh grade Muleshoe Junior High student was presented the third place trophy in the Region I Essay Contest. This contest was open to Texas boys and girls 19 years old or younger. The topic of the essay was "Conservation: Key to Texas Prosperity?" and the essay was required to be 300 words or less in length.

Region I covers 51 counties of Texas including the Panhandle, South Plains, and West Plains. Over 50,000 students participated in the state-wide contest which included five regions.

"Since the contest was also open to high school students it was quite an honor for a Muleshoe Junior High student to be selected as one of the top winners of the contest," a spokesman said.

First place winner of Region I was a senior high school boy from Aspermont, and second place winner was a boy from Perryton. Only the top three winners of each region received trophies; medals were given to the next seven winners.

Sherman Inman, Lewis Scoggin, and Henry Stoneham, local Soil Conservation personnel, Mrs. Inman, Mrs. Lewis Scoggin, Mrs. Stoneham, Mrs. Cowan, Kim Cowan, and Mrs. John Watson attended the achievement program.

Approximately 250 persons from a wide area in Texas were in attendance.

ESSAY AWARD---Tracy Cowan is shown with the trophy she was presented as winner of the Soil Conservation Essay contest. She was granted the award at a banquet held in Plainview. Shown with her is Mrs. John Watson, curriculum director for the Muleshoe Public School system.

It's Success All the Way For Corpsman Martinez

It has been a success story all the way for Ovidel Martinez, 18, a member of the Job Corps.

Martinez has been training with the Job Corps for the past six months at Curlew, Wash. for construction work.

Beuford Scarbrough, manager of Texas Employment Agency here said, "Martinez is one of those who makes the Job Corps what it is. His success makes up for and by far offsets the stories of those who have been given the opportunity to succeed in the Job Corps, yet have not made the effort."

Martinez has been visiting in the home of his guardian, the Julio Garcias.

He left Monday at 6 p.m. for Washington where he will stay for two more weeks before going to work in Oregon. He outlines his work week like this: "We get up at 6 a.m. for the day and start with making the bed, cleaning and buffing our rooms. Then they are ready for inspection. I am Corpsman leader and am responsible for seeing that all the dorm is clean. Each Thursday an inspection is held in the effort."

Tower, Connally Get County Support

Democrats and Republicans in Bailey County held their respective county conventions here Saturday.

The Republicans gathered at 10 a.m. in the Vic Benedict home and the Democrats met at 8 p.m. in the District courtroom in the courthouse.

The Demos adopted the unit rule to support the favorite son candidacy of Governor John Connally at the National Democratic Convention.

Jack Young was permanent chairman and Glenna Shelton, permanent secretary.

Delegates who are to attend the State Democratic Convention in Dallas June 11 are Sam Fox, chairman, Jack Ferguson, Maple and Irvin St. Clair.

Alternates are Joe Costen, Roald Johnson and J. G. Arnn. Approximately 30 persons attended the Democratic County convention.

Bailey County Republican delegate named at the Saturday morning convention here, Kenneth Precure, was instructed to support John Tower at the State Convention. This held true with most of the State's County Conventions.

As Precure was named delegate to the June 11 convention to be held in Corpus Christi, Clarence Mason was named alternate.

The Republicans discussed circumstances of law enforcement and adopted a resolution for enforcement of law and order, particularly in riot situations.

Some 20 persons attended the Republican County Convention.

COTTON TALKS
 FROM PLAINS COTTON GROWERS, INC.

The bill voted May 9 out of the House Agriculture Committee to extend the Food and Agriculture Act of 1965 "did not contain all of PCG's recommendations but was the only practical approach to passage of legislation this year," according to Donald A. Johnson, Executive Vice President of Plains Cotton Growers Inc. The Committee voted 28 to 5 in favor of extending the present law without amendments. The Act covers current programs for cotton, feed grains, wheat, wool, tobacco and dairy products. It expires at the end of 1969.

Jaycees...

Johnson commented, "but all of the proposed changes were of a controversial nature and any of them that the committee might have recommended as amendments could have created enough friction to doom the whole effort." Another reason committee members agreed to support no amendments when the bill reaches the House is the ever-present threat of limitations on the program benefits that could go to any individual farmer. "Voluntary farm programs would be rendered almost completely ineffective both as a means to control overproduction and as a method of protecting producer income," Johnson noted, "and I cannot visualize any conditions under which we would support legislation of that kind. It would ruin farmers, big and little alike." Next hurdle for the bill is the Rules Committee, which is already swamped with appropriations and other pressing matters. However it is possible that the measure could be scheduled onto the floor of the House in about two weeks. It is sometimes possible to bring legislation before the House under a "no-amendments rule," obliging a vote on the measure exactly as it comes from committee. But for obscure procedural reasons such strategy does not appear applicable to this particular bill.

Forgery...

He referred to Congressman Bob Poage, Waco, Chairman of the House Agriculture Committee and the major proponent in Congress of passing a farm bill this year. Poage felt that even if he had been able to get a long term measure voted out of his committee it would have been by a much narrower margin than 28 to 5. And the bill will need all the support it can get from committee members and others if it is to overcome the strong opposition that will develop on the floor of the House. This need for broad bipartisan and industry-wide support was given also as one of the reasons for the "no amendments" feature of the committee's decision. "PCG, the Department and most others would have liked to see some improvements,"

Poem Dedicated To W. J. Carter

The following poem is dedicated to the memory of the late W. J. Carter of Quitaque; father of W. R. Carter of Muleshoe and written by his granddaughter, Paulita McCranken Young.

GRANDPA
The ol' cultivator seat is now empty,
And has been for quite some time now;
Progress replaced his old horses and mules,
His Ford tractor replaced his old plow.
The bench on the front porch is silent,
Where for years he conversed with his friends,
And watched for his neighbors to slowly drive by,
Or watched for some of his kin.
His chair at the long table is empty
Over sixty-six years at its head;
Where with preachers and neighbors and kindred,
And five generations he broke bread.
His pew at the churchhouse is vacant
Many comrades have gone on before,
It's emptiness proclaims his faith and belief,
In a promise of land evermore!
His big hat was his trademark,
Emptiness too, is its fate;
He was never, ever without it,
In silent repose, now it waits.
That little town surely will miss him,
It was here he tread his last mile,
I'm thankful tho' when reminded,
"We had Grandpa a long, long while."
I can still hear his soft answer, "I reckon"
As we piled him with questions galore,
The tilt of his head and that slow little smile.

We'll have these with us no more,
Over eighty years was his life-span,
The flower has been plucked by the stem,
As little Katy Francis so ably expressed it,
"But I wasn't through talking with him."

They wore A-line street length dresses of polished cotton highlighted with blue net headpieces and wore long blue gloves. Each carried a single long-stem white rose.

Olga McMurry of Abilene, sister of the bridegroom, sang "O, Promise Me" and Mrs. David Jones, sister of the bridegroom sang "Whither Thou Goest," accompanied by Donna Mathis of Post, on the organ.

The reception was held in Fellowship Hall of the church with Linda McCamish and Barbara Clawson presiding at the bride's table which was centered with the bride's bouquet and appointments of crystal and silver.

After a wedding trip to Ruidoso, N.M., the couple will be at home in Levelland after May 8.

Adventures in Australia Yield Treasures for Couple

COLLECTION OF BOTTLES---A collection of bottles is displayed here by Mr. and Mrs. Joe West, who recently returned from Australia. The Wests found many valuable items in the country "down under."

Digging for sapphires, hunting wild boar or turkey for their next meal or searching for treasure -- a rather unusual agenda for a Mulshoe farmer and his wife, but part of the adventures of Joe and Fern West for the past year.

West has been on a year's leave from farm duty because of an automobile accident. The couple decided that the enforced vacation would be an excellent time to travel. They leased their farm and spent a year touring Australia.

The Wests arrived back in Los Angeles March 11. They are spending a few weeks with Mrs. West's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Landers.

"We went over to see what this talk was about farming and ranching in Australia. There are a lot of American farmers there now, you know," West said.

It did not take long for the Mulshoe farmer to realize that they weren't interested in the type of farming there, but they were interested in "prospecting" that the country offered -- gems, tin and bottles.

The Wests joined a couple from Tasmania and began their adventures as "sapphire prospectors."

They spent 15 days at the sapphire fields, digging up many precious and semi-precious stones. Among their finds were 18 good sapphires, including a star sapphire, and beautiful opals.

From the sapphire fields, the Wests traveled to tin country, where they spent five months. Tin country is along Star River, in Queensland.

The couple made permanent camp along the Star River. They cooked over a campfire for almost two months until they got a wood stove. Later they were given a kerosene refrigerator -- a genuine luxury. Mrs. West's birthday was also the occasion of her first fish catch -- an eight pound bream. The couple did most of their hunting and fishing as their larder grew empty -- usually on a day-to-day basis because of refrigeration.

They found some veins of tin along the Star River but the cost of mining was prohibitive. They did bring five pounds home. Scattered through the black sand-like substance are tiny rubies.

After five months in tin country, the Wests set out on their search for bottles. The search took them through campsites, mining camps, ghost towns, over old wagon trails and roads of their own making.

Their bottles -- 143 cartons of them -- are probably their most valuable treasure. They include:

*These were all made before 1930, when glassmakers were still using manganese. Once clear glass, exposure to the hot Australian sun has turned them a violet shade.

*Decorative bottles that once contained vinegar, hot sauce, Schwepps bitters, or tomato sauce.

*Tavern bottles of clay and crockery.

*Porcelain bottles that once held Holloway's Ointment "For the cure of gout and rheumatism, inveterate ulcers, sore breasts, sore heads and sore legs."

*A unique ginger ale bottle made with a pointed base so the user would have to lay it on its side to keep the cork wet.

*Bottles of all sizes and shapes for ink, chutney, pepper sauce, pop, vaseline, vinegar and aromatic schnapps.

"Australia would be pretty good," West said, "if it didn't get so hot and dry, and if there were a few billion less flies, and if they had some American food."

Mrs. West is also the sister of Boyd Landers of Mulshoe.

Art Association Calls Meeting

The Mulshoe Art Association met for a called meeting Monday at L. B.'s Cafe to discuss final arrangements for their annual Art Show. It was decided the show would be held the last part of June, opening to the public on June 28, 29 and 30. The show will hang on July 4th for the celebration. The show will be opened to artists within the Mulshoe trade area. Details on it will be given later.

The committees for the new year were given with the following chairmen: Program, Jackie Smith; Exhibit, Myrtle Steinbock; Yearbook, Jeanie Garth; Social, Mattie Hicks; Telephone, Bernice Amerson and Publicity, Marie Lenau.

The club is now having a membership show at L. B.'s Cafe with some thirty paintings hanging. There are various medias and subjects, that should be of interest to all. The pictures are for sale.

Several members have won awards recently. Blanche Lenderson won a money award on her painting "Spring Abundance" and also a "Citation" in the recent Plainview show. The winning paintings are hanging at the Van Heusen Library of Wayland College in Plainview. Mrs. Lenderson and Marie Lenau had painting's selected to go on to the South Plains circuit show, chosen during the recent 13th annual citation Exhibition of Texas Fine Arts Association Region 20, held in the Municipal Garden and Art's Center of Lubbock. Mrs. Lenau also had a watercolor selected to be sent to the annual state citation Exhibition scheduled at LaQua Gloria Art Museum in Austin July 12 through August 4.

Pauline Jamerson and Marie Lenau's paintings were among the eleven florals selected to hang in the meeting rooms at the center. The South Plains Circuit show is being featured at the Rainey Gallery in Levelland during May and will be shown at the Lubbock Methodist Hospital cafeteria in June. Arline Phelps "One-man show" continues to hang this week at the Art Loft, with over 100 paintings hanging. The show has been well received by the public. All of the paintings are done in acrylic, and are mostly of landscapes and florals in sizes from miniatures to large canvasses. Mrs. Phelps' work is admired for its subtle beauty and especially for her unusual handling of trees.

The next regular meeting of the association will be Wednesday, June 12, 9:30 a.m. in the community room of the Mulshoe State Bank.

TOPS News

At the meeting of the TOPS club Thursday night, eighteen members weighed in and two guests, Angie Leyba and Jessie Friesen of Palooalpo, Clai., were present. Mrs. Friesen is a sister of Mae Provence. With the enthusiasm she had from visiting here with the local TOPS club two years ago, she went back to California and was instrumental in organizing a TOPS club there. In the past two years, their club grew so much it had to divide in to two clubs and now, each club is large enough for another split.

Mrs. Friesen's daughter, Pat, helped organize a Teen-TOPS club there also, and has reached her goal as KOPS and was Queen for the year last year.

The local club recognizes Mae as having a lot of influence on behalf of her club here and also in California.

Queen for the week was Margie Platt, first runner-up was Myrtle Wells and second runner-up was Mable Wolf. Also two members celebrating birthdays this month were Ruth Clements and Zora Mae Beller. Dena LaRue read a portion of the speech which was given by Dr. V. J. Wooten at the convention recently. He said "Until the dieters learn that only

Frank Ford Pledges Efforts In Non-Partisan Program

Frank Ford, Republican candidate for the Texas Legislature, pledged this week his efforts toward water importation on a non-partisan basis, and urged increased use of lake water and tail-water return systems in an effort to conserve our underground water supplies.

"Every farmer and businessman knows that the value of anything he needs in his production is determined by its replacement cost," stated Ford. "And the replacement cost of our water is going to be determined by the cost of about a thousand miles of aqueduct, dozens of huge pumping stations, lock systems, and storage reservoirs."

"When we add to this the cost of a dispersal system at the end of the main importation canal, with the cost of crossing roads, ravines, and acquiring rights of way, we have the replacement cost of water which we see evaporating in our playa lakes while underground water is being pumped a short distance away, or tail-water running wasted down a roadside ditch."

The Hereford farmer added, "We have some areas which will not make it to the earliest possible date of importation without reducing water use to the crop insurance level, rather than maximum yield irrigation. With today's low prices on many commodities, such water is more valuable when retained underground. Once an area reverts from irrigated to dryland, most farmers and supporting businesses move away, and then it is too late for any serious importation effort."

"Although I intend to use my campaign as a vehicle for any ideas that will help maintain and strengthen the economy of this area," Ford concluded, "It will be in an effort to cooperate with all parties, including my opponent, to solve this most important problem." Ford is running in the 72nd Legislative District, which includes Cochran, Bailey, Lamb, Castor, Farmer and Deaf Smith Counties.

John Tower

I think we ought to remind ourselves this week about the real forgotten American -- the lawabiding citizen.

Let's take a look at that forgotten man, in the form of a small merchant operating in any city of our nation.

Let's draw a typical picture of a citizen who has saved enough money, or borrowed enough money to set up a small shop where he can display his wares. This is apt to be a grocery store, or a service station or something similar.

From the very beginning this citizen of our Republic if circumscribed and directed by various levels of his government. He must conform to government-imposed ordinances about fire hazards and sanitation.

He, himself, can work as long and hard as his physical stamina will allow. But if his business gets large enough to employ a helper he must pay that helper no less than the government dictates, and the hours must be no longer than the government dictates.

He must not defraud his customers. He must not falsely advertise his products. He must not discriminate in his hiring practices, or in selling his wares. He must, in short, operate the way government tells him to operate or he must not operate at all.

The citizen of whom we speak accepts all these rules and regulations. Perhaps not happily, perhaps grudgingly, but nevertheless legally. In return he is allowed to pay a heavy tax burden to practically all levels of government.

He pays a tax for schools though he may not have children in school. He pays taxes for parks and recreational areas even though his own business may demand so much of his time that he seldom uses a public park. He pays taxes that sometimes go to subsidize his competitors.

All this he does because it is required of him by the laws, and he is a lawabiding citizen.

And, he also pays taxes for the financial upkeep of a system of law and order that is an absolute necessity if freedom is to prevail over anarchy, if the individual is to have any rights as opposed to the whims of the temporary mob.

Then, our citizen finds out too late that the policeman who walks his beat has been ordered not to be too harsh on those who would rob him, or burn his store and thereby endanger his life as well as destroy his property. He finds the Attorney General of the United States taking issue with, and undermining the authority of, local officials who have voiced their determination to see that law and order is upheld.

It has been said time and time again in the field of foreign affairs it does this nation little good to possess massive military power if we lack the will to use that power in the defense of the Republic and for the security of our citizens.

By the same token it does us little good to have the means to protect the lives and property of our citizens if we lack the will to use those means. We might as well, under those circumstances, disarm and disband our police and turn our streets over to the tender mercy of arsonists and looters.

Much has been said about some kind of sickness abroad in our land that causes this unbelievable rioting and looting. And, the villain somehow turns out to be the decent, hard-working, law-abiding American citizen.

Despite the fact that he gives more than 30-billion-dollars annually in programs to aid the poor and underprivileged, the decent citizen is castigated as the creator of the ghettos, the cause of riots, the oppressor of the poor. The lawabiding citizen is expected, because of his manifold sins, and because of his "sickness," to suffer in silence and pay still more, as ransom for his home, his business, his system of law and order.

Otherwise, he is told, he must expect the torch; he can expect everything, in fact, except protection by his government in his hour of need.

I will accept the fact that there is a sickness in our land. But the patient should not be identified as the lawabiding citizen.

The patient should properly be identified as the fuzzy-brained, foggy-thinking, opinion maker who blame everyone but the arsonist for burned buildings; who attempt to blame every citizen of our Republic; except the murderer, of course, for murders.

Yes, there is a sickness in our land.

There is that sickness of heart that is present in all lawabiding citizens when they see their cities, their homes, their businesses go up in smoke while looters and arsonists cavort for the benefit of television.

There is a sickness of dismay among us all when we see smoke obscure our nation's capitol.

And there is, of course, that terrible sickness which comes when we see our chief federal law enforcement officer vacillate in the face of mobs in our streets.

Yes, there is a sickness abroad in the land--it is an illness of the lawless.

And the best medicine to cure that illness is a good, stiff dose of law and order.

OPPORTUNITY

Hay supplies were tight at the end of the current winter season and now is the time to make sure the same situation doesn't happen again. The favorable statewide soil moisture situation, points out Neal Pratt, Extension agronomist, gives hay producers an opportunity to make large tonnages of high quality hay this year. He suggests starting with a soil test; fertilizing according to the test recommendations and harvesting at the right growth stage.

The Sandhills Philosopher

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm speaks up, more or less, for farmers this week.

Dear editor:

I have been following the presidential nomination races in every newspaper that turns up out here and have failed to find a single candidate who's making any special play for the farm vote, and I think I've figured out why.

The trouble with us farmers is there aren't enough of us to be counted a major voting bloc anymore, but there're still too many of us to be called a disadvantaged minority group. So, nobody pays any attention to us. The steps to my back porch can collapse and you won't hear a voice raised in protest.

Obviously, there's too much city-ism and not enough farm-ism in this guilt-ridden country.

On top of that, there are people who're trying to make it even harder on the farmer.

Only last night I read an article agitating for more laws making it illegal for anybody to sell anything below his cost. It's unfair competition, the argument goes, for a big outfit to sell a few items below cost to lure customers away from small outfits that can't afford the practice.

Maybe so, I don't know about that, that's out of my field, but have you ever stopped to think what this would do to farmers and ranchers?

You pass a bill saying it's against the law for me to sell a crop for less than it cost me to produce and it'll put me out of business.

Farmers have got to fight this movement with all they've got. It'd wreck American agriculture.

It's bad enough to work all year on a crop and sell it for less than it cost, but not to be able to sell it at all would be disastrous.

I sometimes think what this country needs is a law limiting the number of laws that can be passed.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Rural Community Water Systems FHA Financed

"Rural community progress in Texas has been spurred by the development of 436 modern water systems, sewer systems, and recreation centers through the Farmers Home Administration," Bailey County Supervisor John C. Kennedy said today.

Kennedy reported on benefits brought to the state under Rural Community Facilities programs that have enlarged under President Johnson's efforts to improve living conditions in rural areas.

Bailey County has a water system financed by Farmers Home Administration. This system supplies domestic water for the people of the Maple Community and Three Way School.

Water supply problems have been solved for more than 180,000 people in rural Texas through 418 water systems made possible by FHA loans and grants totaling more than $54 million. The new systems serve both rural towns and countryside where the people have had to exist on uncertain, and sometimes, unsafe water supplies.

Kennedy reported that three rural communities in the state also have new or improved waste disposal systems through FHA loans and grants approved the past two years. At present, there are 48 waste disposal projects underway in Texas from application stage to those under construction.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights
by Vern Sanford

AUSTIN--Presently there are two major topics of speculation in capitol corridors:

1. When will Gov. John Connally call the legislature into special session?
2. Who will win the gubernatorial runoff race.

Conservative Preston Smith or Liberal Don Yarborough? As for Item #1, Governor Connally must call the lawmakers back to the capitol by mid-June at the latest to pass a 1969 budget and a new tax bill ranging in the $125,000,000 a year bracket. Congressional approval of the 10 percent federal income tax surcharge may drive the state tax requirement even higher. This because of a reduction in income will affect the sales tax revenue in Texas.

Legislators mention June 4, June 10 and June 11 as probable starting dates. Rumors were widespread at last week's Legislative Budget Board meeting that Connally was considering calling the session before the June 1 runoff election. Lt. Gov. Preston Smith told reporters that he feels it will be "difficult" for the legislature to pass a major tax bill in a 30-day special session, starting cold.

House Appropriations Committee Chairman W. S. Healy of Paducah noted that never before have lawmakers been called to pass a complete general appropriations bill in a botched session. He said he would like to start his committee to work unofficially on budget proposals even before the session begins, in hope of meeting the deadline.

As if the legislature did not have its hands full with financial matters, liquor-by-the-drink advocates are urging Connally to submit that red hot issue to the special session. Passage of a May 4 referendum favoring mixed-drink-sales by a narrow margin added impetus for early consideration by legislators. Smith and key lawmakers feel that the referendum was not conclusive enough numerically to be of any great benefit in winning legislative approval of mixed drink sales.

As for Item #2, Smith and Yarborough now are engaged in a runoff battle to determine who will be the Democratic candidate for governor of Texas. Yarborough led by 36,000 votes in the first primary. But Smith quickly picked up the wholehearted endorsements of third place candidate Waggoner Carr and fifth place runner Eugene Locke.

Classic liberal-conservative lines are drawn in the Yarborough-Smith clash. Researchers contend that continuing disinterest and a light turnout on June 1 could prove disastrous to Smith.

Republican gubernatorial nominee Paul Eggers, who won hands down in a light-vote GOP primary, plans a serious, well-financed general election campaign against the winner of the Yarborough-Smith runoff.

Ben Barnes won the Democratic nomination for lieutenant governor over two opponents, State Rep. Don Gladden and former Rep. Gene Smith, both of Fort Worth. Barnes' near-record majority (exceeding 76 percent) means that he will be a key figure in the state government during the next two years.

District Judges Tom Reavley of Austin and Sears McGee of Houston are new justices-elect of the State Supreme Court. They won Democratic nomination and are unopposed by Republicans.

VETERAN DPS CHIEF DIES
Col. Homer Garrison Jr., 66, Texas' top police officer and head of the vast Department of Public Safety for 30 years, died of cancer.

All of the state's highest officials joined in mourning his loss.

"He was one of the most capable and effective law enforcement administrators in America," said Governor Connally. "Under his leadership, the Texas Department of Public Safety has become recognized throughout the nation as a symbol of law and order. Its reputation will live as a personal tribute to Colonel Garrison."

Wilson E. Speir is serving as acting director of DPS.

COURTS SPEAK---U. S. Supreme Court has postponed a suit which would require the State of Colorado to meet the obligations of downstream discharges from the Rio Grande as long as the state meets compact requirements for supplying water to Texas and New Mexico. Suit can be resumed any time Colorado fails to comply.

State Supreme Court upheld a $44,400 damage verdict favoring a Jefferson County woman who claimed she suffered back injuries when a 200-pound bill collector for a loan company pushed her against a wall by forcing open a door. Overzealous collector came to collect a car note.

High Court set June 12 for review of an insurance company's claim that it is not obligated to pay on its bond covering a building contractor for concrete sold directly to the owner of a new apartment complex that's under construction.

Travis County 126th District Court continued its temporary injunction against the Liquor Control Board enforcing the ban on cash sales in private bottle clubs. Case will be heard in July.

NEW BAR OFFICERS---State Bar Association reports that Josiah Wheat, 39-year-old Woodville attorney, is the new president-elect of the State Bar of Texas. He defeated Bar Vice president R. E. Schneider Jr. of George West in mail balloting among state lawyers. He will assume the presidency July 1, 1968.

Elected to the Bar Board were Ralph Elliott of Sherman, Ed Fleming of Dallas, W. A. Keils Jr., of Teague, Louis R. Renfrow of Lufkin, George E. Fletcher of Houston, Jim Bower of Temple, Carl Cayton of Lamesa and John D. Logan of San Angelo. A vice presidential runoff will be held between Morris Harrell of Dallas and C. M. Hudspeth of Houston.

Ralph Brito of San Antonio takes over the presidency at the Bar convention in Houston on July 3-6.

OIL-GAS LEASES SOLD---Sale of 34,368 acres of state oil and gas leases the first week in May brought $1,400,000 in new revenue to the state's coffers. So reports Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler.

Biggest single bid was $211,235 for 640 acres in Ward County by Humble Oil and Refining Company. Bids on 1,590 acres of sulphur leases brought $155,267. Highest of these bids was by Duval Corporation for $76,918 or 40 acres in Culberson County.

Also Attorney General Martin reports that his office won 261 lawsuits out of 263 cases tried in April. During the fiscal year 2,297 cases were won by the state and 54 lost. A total of 3,132 cases still are pending.

Outdoor Recreation

By F. W. Armstrong
SCS Office

The demand for outdoor recreation has never been greater. From all indications it will continue to grow at a rapid pace. With more leisure time, more spendable income, and more mobility, people will seek the out of doors in increasing numbers. Outdoor recreation is one of the fastest growing industries in the United States today. Farmers, ranchers and rural communities offer recreational opportunities that many urban people crave - out doors, animals, nature, country life and community atmosphere.

Thus, recreation is a salable farm product. Three ingredients are necessary to any successful outdoor recreation enterprise: Resources or combination of resources, either natural or developed that will bring enjoyment and relaxation to people. Management that will keep the members or patrons happy and entertained and at the same time make the enterprise yield an adequate return. Location within reasonable access of an adequate number of patrons or members and a long enough season to give reasonable assurance of adequate usage.

The most common kinds of recreation enterprises that have been successful are: vacation farms, youth camps, golf driving range, picnic areas, camping areas, riding facilities, hunting facilities and nature trails.

Recreation enterprises provide enjoyment to the farm families themselves. They enjoy making new friends; they enjoy serving people; they enjoy teaching urban visitors, especially children, about plants, animals, insects, machinery and farm life in general.

But it is a business too. Recreation enterprises must be soundly developed and well run if they are to succeed. They entail financial investments, liability insurance, operating expenses, hard work and some time inconvenience.

They also hold possibilities for satisfactory returns. Those who begin on a small scale and grow into a larger operation based on experience probably stand a better chance of success than those who try to develop swiftly on a large scale.

Further technical assistance and information in the development of recreational sites is available through the Soil Conservation Service in cooperation with your local Soil and Water Conservation District.
