The article is decidedly richcutting deep under the short ribs without any expressed wish to do so. As to whether the road will ever be built, it is not for us to say; but this we do say and challenge its refutation-that every man, town and county that has or may take any stock in the road, will loose every cent paid in. It will of necessity pass, by the inevitable operation of the contract, into the coffers of the contractors, as a part of their bonus for the great sacrifice made in building the road at something like forty thousand dollars per mile. Here is the article:

The Grand Jury of San Francisco had ust made their report or presentment, which is a very interesting document, as showing the state of the city in many respects not otherwise likely to be brought to notice, especially on such good authority. The Herald gives the following resume of it: From this report we learn that the hospital is in excellent condition and the patients well provided for. The building D. B. LENT, Esq. Deur Sie: I have seen an application of "Blake's Metalic Fire Proof Paint" however, is utterly unfit for the purposes to upon the roof of the house in which I reside. Said roof was of shingles, in a very bad condition, which it is put, and it is urged that another should be provided. The city station house is well kept. Attention is called to the shameful condition of the public cemetery; and to the dilapidated state of the streets. The county records were found in satisfactory order, and the conceived impression: It appears from the statistics we publish to-day that our population has received but ings, comprising all the various kinds most insmall increase during the present year. In fact, the departures exceed the arrivals during the month of July. We shall receive large accessions, however, by way of the Plains, and may confidently look for an addition of fifty thousand to our population from all sources by the end of the year.-Although this is a much smaller increase than in past years, it is of for better materials, being mainly composed of those who have brought their households to settle permanently in our State.

The following is the account given by the Herald of the shooting of Joaquin, the famous bandit :

The famous bandit Joaquin, whose name is associated with a hundred deeds of blood, has at last been captured. The company of State Rangers, under the command of Love, have been diligent in their search for the robber and his band ever since their organization. We apprised our readers some time since that they had received information that Josquin was lurking in the wilds of Tula Valley, whither accordingly they dirested their search. It is reported they encountered the robber duef himself at the head of his band, at a place called Panoche Pass. A desperate fight ensuest; the robbets being well mounted attempted to fly, but being closely pursued by the Rangers they kept up a running fight un il Josquin and one of his lieutenants were October 7, 1852, rate takes all lander warm [Setf. killed; two others were taken prisoners, and three managed to make their escape.
