

TERMS OF THE BULLETIN.

Subscription THREE DOLLARS per annum, if paid in advance; THREE DOLLARS and FIFTY CENTS if not paid until the expiration of the year.

Advertisements, not exceeding a square of five lines or less, first insertion ONE DOLLAR, and for each subsequent insertion FIFTY CENTS.

Business cards, if not more than one square, will be inserted for THE BULLETIN per annum.

All advertisements sent without the number of insertions, otherwise they will be continued until halted, and charged accordingly.

All communications must be addressed to the Publishers, post paid.

Agents and others having money in their possession due this office, can remit it our risk.

Major Wood, formerly stationed at Austin, has been appointed Quarter Master at Indianola.

More wagons came into Indianola on Monday, from the country, than we remember to have ever known in one day.

The most casual observer will discover in passing events a growing determination through the country to do business here.

It cannot be expected after the spring business is over that much will be done before September; but we now look forward with confidence to a very large business next season.

It is gratifying to see that there is a fair prospect of the business on the bay settling speedily at this place.

We have never doubted that this would finally be the case, but while believing that the best interests of the country would be subserved thereby, the necessary conclusion followed that the sooner the change took place, the better it would be for all concerned.

A WORD TO STOCK RAISERS.—The stock raisers in this neighborhood complain bitterly that persons on the Guadalupe above, in driving their cattle home this spring, have driven every thing indiscriminately that fell in their way.

Some 2,000 head a few miles from this place, belonging mainly to people in Indianola, were driven off by one party, and we have understood that some of the cows have been seen on their way back with their calves branded.

This is neighborhood talk hereabouts, and we speak from personal knowledge in saying that the large herd alluded to suddenly disappeared from the range they had been in all winter and spring.

Now we know it is a common thing in the country to charge all wrong doings in this way on the Indianola and Lavaca butchers; but this thing has been done more or less every spring by persons above and not by the butchers. It is time it should be stopped.

No man has a right to go into a range and drive off stock belonging to others, perhaps 20 or 30 miles distant. It is a crime and nothing else.

Our owners have been driven from our own grazing lands where they belonged, because, per chance, the guilty parties had a few head on the same prairie.

Stock raisers should hold a meeting and organize fairly and honestly for mutual aid in collecting and branding their cattle once or twice a year. Let all go together, collect and brand at any convenient point, or aid in separating stock, so that each man can brand his own.

This freebooter system of taking stock belonging to others because they happen to be with ours will not do. It is forcing good men either to do wrong in self-defense or to give up their property to the caprice of others.

Let a meeting of all stock raisers in the lower part of Victoria and all the western part of Calhoun county be called to discuss the subject.

Beckes.—By the Louisiana, on Saturday, Mr. Foster shipped to New Orleans 110 of the largest and fattest hoes ever shipped from Indianola.

He brought them from St. Joseph's island by the reef. Like all our cattle they were reared on the wild pasture.

Deputy Collector and Inspector.—Mr. C. F. King has been appointed Deputy Collector and Inspector of the Saluria District for the port of San Antonio.

The Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Times says that J. D. DeBow now Superintendent of the census, is to have the London Consulate.

It is now certain that the Hon. James Webb has been elected Judge, and J. T. Enoch of Corpus Christi District Attorney, of the new 14th judicial circuit, composed of the counties of Goliad, Karnes, DeWitt, San Patricio and Nueces.

Marshall St. Arnaud's pay as Commander of the French forces in the East, is to be 500,000 francs, with 300,000 for outfit.

It was reported at Acapulco that General Alvarez, with 2,000 men, would meet Santa Anna's troops the following day, about 100 miles from Acapulco.

The Washington Star understands that there is now $25,000,000 in the Treasuries of the United States.

ARRIVAL OF THE CHARLES MORGAN.

The new steamship Charles Morgan, Captain Thomas Fortin, arrived at the Lower Wharf this morning. She is said to be one of the finest and fastest steamships in the Union.

The clerk of the Morgan furnishes us with N. O. papers to the 7th, from which, before going to press, we collate the following telegraphic and other news.

The bark Francis Wills, with cargo from Rio Janeiro, sank at Pass a la Poutre, mouth of the Mississippi, April 21.

Gen. Twiggs left New Orleans on the 5th to establish his headquarters at St. Louis.

The Whigs have carried Connecticut by decided majorities and elected their candidate for Governor of Rhode Island.

The news from the seat of war in Europe is not important. The French fleet is conveying troops to the East.

Cotton has declined 1 cent in New Orleans.

Steamboat W. B. Clifton sunk at Cairo—no particulars.

The Western rivers were slowly falling.

New York, April 6.—The Evening Post publishes a letter from Boston, according to the authority of Mr. Everett, that Mr. Webster was not the author of the Hulemeu letter.

Hosios to San Houston.

A movement is on foot in Boston, having for its object the prosecution of a letter written by Hon. Z. H. Hayes, his defence of the New England clergy's position on the Nebraska bill.

King's Island Election.—Loyola, who has been elected Governor of Rhode Island, The Legislature is also probably Whig.

Baltimore, April 6.—The sixteenth bill has passed both Houses of Congress.

THE LADIES SUPPER.

Mr. Horton: Seeing your pleasant and interesting notice of our Episcopal Supper, and thanks to the community in general, it reminds us that our thanks must be more diffuse.

Therefore permit me, in behalf of the ladies of the Episcopal church, and its much loved pastor, to lengthen that notice somewhat and speak from the true source of our faith—that is, the Managing Committee—who fulfilled their duties upon that occasion with so much alacrity and grace.

It is always pleasant to receive an encouraging word and kind wishes when we are labouring in the strong hope of doing good.

That a great change is being effected in public opinion respecting the estimation in which the influence of women should be held, no one who reads and observes can doubt.

And who can say that the ladies upon the Soliciting Committee have not performed wonders.—Almost every individual of whom they solicited aid for their charitable purposes—of rearing a church—gave unhesitatingly and liberally; many of them stating, at the same time, that they would increase their donation when they saw our church commenced.

For which generous and noble assistance the ladies of the Episcopal church thank them most cordially and heartily, and are willing to reciprocate their kindness in our humble aid towards the laudable efforts on the part of other denominations when called upon.

To the well known humanity and kindness of the captains of the Zouaves, Mexico and perseverance, permit us to add another line, and to thank them warmly for their cheerful and prompt benevolence in our endeavors to build our little coast church; and, in the meantime, let us say to them, that whatever their charity may prompt them to do for us abroad, will not fail to be seen by us, and gratefully received by the Ladies of the Episcopal Church.

THE INTERIOR.

By Monday's mail we received a full supply of interior papers, but found nothing of special interest in them, excepting evidences of health, improvement, good crops, etc.

In the State Times is an interesting letter from D. T. J. Wood, describing the country on the parallel of 32 in Texas.

Another article showing the advantages of the Texas route for the Pacific road.

The Bastrop Advertiser speaks encouragingly of the navigation of the Colorado.

The San Antonio Ledger further ridicules the idea of the present contractors ever doing anything towards building the railroad.

The Ledger contains a letter from the interpreter of the Lipan Indians entirely exonerating them from the late charges of robbery and murder made against them.

They have been slandered it seems.

Huguenin's train of wagons left San Antonio for El Paso on the 5th.

We had the Brownsville flag of the 21st of March but find no news in it.

The Clarion says the District Court was in session in Lockhart on the 5th and speaks flatteringly (as do all the papers in that district) of Judge Hancock.

The Zone Star of the West, says the Clarion has been established in Lockhart.

Palmer, of the Advocate, has been to Texas for the first time, and was delighted with the views and proper enjoyment of the hospitalities of our associate, Democrat, and first rate all over.

He has been eating straw, presented by Ingram, and seems delighted in that pursuit.

Mr. G. M. Edd, in the Advocate, states some important facts about the growth of timber on the land of Uncle Dick Chisholm, at Elgin.

Large trees have grown upon land cultivated by the old man twenty odd years ago.

A simple forest covered the old field. This is the experience of all who have long lived in the west or south-west.

IMPORTANT TO IMPORTERS OF STOCK.—The instructions to the Deputy Inspector and Collector of the port, require it quite clear that the animals to be admitted free of duty, except such as are calculated to improve the stock of the country.

The opinion has prevailed, that some and other broad animals were exempt from duty, without any regard to the quality of the animals, and under this interpretation, many Spanish horses have been brought from Mexico. The object of the law, in prohibiting blooded animals free of duty, was to encourage the improvement of the stock of the country.

No one will for a moment doubt that those animals brought from Mexico are an improvement upon the native stock. And when such animals are brought into the country exempt from a number of duties, the importer is subjected to a heavy obligation, and is exposed to any other importations.—San Antonio Ledger.

REMINISCENCES OF WESTERN TEXAS—No. XI.

THE YEAR 1832 occupies a prominent position in the annals of Texas. It was then, during Bustamante's administration as President of Mexico, that that system of encroachments was commenced which terminated in the revolution resulting in the establishment of our late Republic.

A plan was put on foot to bring the people of Texas strictly under military rule and to destroy the civil power. To do this more effectually, Naogoches was garrisoned by a considerable force under Col. Piedras; another fort was built at Anahuac, at the mouth of the Trinity, garrisoned and commanded by Col. John D. Bowburn; and a third one at Velasco, mouth of the Brazos, with 170 Mexican troops, Col. Ugartechea in command.

Efforts were also made to restrict the traffic of the colonists and the importation of goods through the Gulf, which caused an alarming excitement.—The colonists foresaw the intention of the government to stop American emigration and thereby prevent the population of Texas, and secure their submission to the despotic will of the powers that were.

This was looked upon as reasons to their future prospects. At the same time a number of prominent Americans in the country had become obnoxious to the government, the real cause being a fear of their influence in resisting the contemptible measures of tyranny. Under secret orders from the capital, Col. Bradburn arrested and imprisoned Col. William B. Travis, the hero of the Alamo; Hon. Patrick H. Jack, Ben Hardin and Monroe Edwards, who were tried by a court-martial and ordered to be shot.

The news of this high-handed outrage spread like magic through the colonies, and the public mind, already excited, rose to a degree of determined enthusiasm in resisting the enforcement of the military decree.

Men assembled at various places, and resolved upon an appeal to arms. Piedras was besieged at Naogoches and compelled to retreat towards San Antonio, but being pressed by a few men, (tradition says but 17), he was made the victim of a ruse and of the Trinity and surrendered.

The credit of this movement is accorded to some of the younger members of the Durst family, descendants, we believe, of the celebrated Daniel Boone.

Another body of 112 men, organized at Brazoria, one company of rifles being commanded by Capt. Henry S. Brown, the other by Capt. Russell, Col. John Austin acting as chief. They marched upon Ugartechea at Velasco, and took position on the night of the 25th June. Russell's company was placed on board a schooner lying in the mouth of the river to serve as artillery; Brown's rifles, under cover of the night, took position under some drift logs but seventy yards from the fort, and at day-break on the 26th opened a galling and destructive fire on the enemy.

Russell's artillery performed good service. So unerring were the Texas rifles that not a Mexican could expose his body, head or hand, but he received a leaden messenger to remind him that they had to contend against men whose aim was death whenever a vital point was exposed.

Ugartechea discovered that to dislodge the rifles was his only hope of successful defence, and brought all his guns to bear upon their position; but all in vain. The brave young heroes, tho' inexperienced and somewhat wrought upon by the first roar of artillery, were encouraged by the coolness of their leaders, and very soon manifested the most determined, if not reckless, resolution.

The conflict was one of desperation on both sides. Ugartechea was both a brave and a humane man—he was resolved to hold his position so long as there was hope; but when convinced of the futility of further bloodshed—the inferiority of Mexican troops, within a fortified position, defended by artillery and muskets, to a less number of American riflemen—freemen, defending their homes and families—he preferred an honorable surrender to a further and needless spilling of blood.

After a defence that commanded the respect of his assailants, he hauled down his banner and surrendered. Of his 173 men one-half were slain and many others were wounded, some losing an eye, others a hand, and all attesting how deadly had been the precision of the heroes' rifles. Of the Texans, eleven were killed and fifty-two wounded.

About the same time another party of colonists marched upon Bradburn at Anahuac, who surrendered with but a show of resistance, and thus relieved the colony of the presence of an obnoxious military power.

But notwithstanding these brilliant successes, the colonists were fully aware of their weakness, and dreaded the effects of their temerity when the facts should become known to the supreme government. But here a fortunate breeze brought news of Santa Anna's declaration against Bustamante and his pronouncements in favor of the constitution of 1824, and to relieve themselves of what had occurred, the Texans held a mass meeting at Turtle Bayou, and declared that they had taken up arms for Santa Anna and his cause. The political chief of the department of Busta, Don Ramon Muzquiz, called a meeting at San Felipe to deliberate on the state of affairs.

He sent Don Luciano Navarro and Juan M. J. Carragual to represent his views to the Americans. The meeting assembled and was addressed by Col. Samuel M. Williams, agent of Galveston, and approved as the good people had done at Turtle Bayou, that they had been fighting for Santa Anna, (although at the time of the fighting they did not know Santa Anna had pronounced), and satisfied with their good luck and showed diplomacy, after resolving that the conscripted soldiers should leave the colonies, they adjourned and returned home, to enjoy peace and quiet until in 1834—5 aroused to a new sense of danger by the imprisonment of Austin—the treachery of Santa Anna, and finally the declaration of an exterminating war against them. $5 closed the year 1832, promising much but peace and prosperity to Texas.

The Washington correspondent of the N. O. Phoenix, under date of the 24th ult., has the following item:—The Navy Department is in receipt of dispatches from Gen. Peary of the Arctic expedition, dated at Hong Kong, January 21. The Commodore states that he was expecting shortly to start on a second visit to Japan. It has been erroneously reported in some papers that the intention of the Admiralty is to abandon the expedition, and to recall the East India squadron. It is probable that the squadron will be retained in the Indian Ocean, and will be kept in these seas as our commercial interests render necessary, in view of the disturbed state of affairs in the East.

There has been a very serious apprehension entertained as to the result, in regard to the safety of Lord Stirling's remaining party, who went to make a reconnaissance of a ship canal route across the Isthmus of Panama. I understand that the Navy Department has no alarm about the company. He is being, Lieut. Stirling, is a comrade, and will not be deterred from the prosecution of his enterprise by any privation or hardship which it is possible he may encounter.

Advice has also been received at the Navy Department from Com. Stringham in command of the Mediterranean squadron. He announces that Capt. W. Walker at Panama, on the 24th of February.

The statement that the only witness of the affair in Texas between the officers of the army, and Major Arnold, which resulted in the death of the latter, was a sergeant who has since deserted, is incorrect. The affair was witnessed by a daughter of the deceased, who was present at the agreement at the time through a glass door. Her statement is said to be very unfavorable to the accused.

The government has an intelligence of his desertion. There is some reason to expect that one time since the home-leave, he landed in Savannah, Georgia. A letter was received from him, enclosing the account of his desertion, of which was identical with that of the affair. Of course the department refused to accept the resignation, but ordered a court-martial to try the officer.

COMPLIMENT TO LIEUT. MAURY.—King Oscar, of Sweden, says the Baltimore Sun, has ordered a gold medal to be struck at the Swedish mint, in honor of Lieut. Maury, of Washington, having on one side a likeness of the king, and on the other a Latin inscription with the name of the distinguished object of the compliment. It will be made of Swedish gold coin, one of the purest in Europe, and in weight will be equal to fifty Swedish ducats.

THE PETERS COLONY DEFICIENTIES EXPOSED.—The editor of the Dallas Herald is writing "most delightfully" over what he calls "The end of the Colony Difficulties." Hear him!

We feel very much like sounding the heuwags. The Peters' Colony troubles are at an end, so far as the colonists are concerned. The Trustees of the company have filed their release to the lands claimed by the colonists, which precludes them from interfering any further objection to issuance of patents. The question of title is settled, forever, and the colonists, after years of turmoil doubt and vexation, will receive patents to their land as fast as the cap is issued by the commissioner of the General Land Office.

An insidious that has weighed with oppressive force on the most fertile and lovely region of the South, is at last removed, and also will at once enter on the brilliant career of prosperity that awaits her.

Blow the tuba! sound the heuwag! Let the loud hoggans ring!

The Rome (Geo.) Southerner learns that John W. Caldwell, of that place, has declined the appointment, tendered him by the President, of Judge of the Territory of the Utah.

TEXAS CREDITORS.—A meeting was held in Washington City on the 22d ult., preparatory to some general action by the creditors of Texas. General Leslie Combs presided. It was, after some discussion, resolved to await the action of Congress upon their claims. It appeared to be the general opinion that the State of Texas would eventually pay her creditors in full as soon as justice had been done to her by Indian spoliation, as well as of the five millions reserved under the boundary act. These two sums amount together to $10,350,000. The five millions reserved in the United States Treasury, now amounting, with premium and interest, to $5,250,000, and the claims of the State of Texas against the United States for Indian spoliation, to $4,100,000.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., April 11.—It is estimated the British force in Turkey, is now sixty years of age, having been born in 1788. His elevation to the peerage is very recent—only a year or two since. He has been better known as Lord Fitzroy-Solmes, younger brother of the late Duke of Devonshire. He entered the army at the age of sixteen, and at the age of twenty-one, having been promoted to the rank of captain, became military secretary to the Duke of Wellington, which post he occupied during the whole of the Peninsula war. At the peace of 1814, he returned to England, and married one of the Wellingtons, daughter of Lord Maryborough, and niece of the Duke of Wellington. He was always attached to the military family of the Duke, and from the time (1827) when the Duke became commander-in-chief of the army, up to his death, in 1832, Lord Fitzroy-Solmes, as he is commonly called, had the substantial command of the army. When the Duke of Wellington died, and was succeeded by Lord Harlington as commander-in-chief, Lord Fitzroy-Solmes was general of the division, which post he held when appointed to his present command.

He has never had any active command in the field, but there is unlimited confidence in his military capacity and knowledge, and his personal character stands high.

The ship Middlesex, from Liverpool, which has arrived at New York, reports that she was in the sea for five days, and had a very long voyage. A large quantity of ice was passed through, nearly 200 miles long. Many letters were received from the following facts:

REMINISCENCES OF WESTERN TEXAS—No. XI.

THE YEAR 1832 occupies a prominent position in the annals of Texas. It was then, during Bustamante's administration as President of Mexico, that that system of encroachments was commenced which terminated in the revolution resulting in the establishment of our late Republic.

A plan was put on foot to bring the people of Texas strictly under military rule and to destroy the civil power. To do this more effectually, Naogoches was garrisoned by a considerable force under Col. Piedras; another fort was built at Anahuac, at the mouth of the Trinity, garrisoned and commanded by Col. John D. Bowburn; and a third one at Velasco, mouth of the Brazos, with 170 Mexican troops, Col. Ugartechea in command.

Efforts were also made to restrict the traffic of the colonists and the importation of goods through the Gulf, which caused an alarming excitement.—The colonists foresaw the intention of the government to stop American emigration and thereby prevent the population of Texas, and secure their submission to the despotic will of the powers that were.

This was looked upon as reasons to their future prospects. At the same time a number of prominent Americans in the country had become obnoxious to the government, the real cause being a fear of their influence in resisting the contemptible measures of tyranny. Under secret orders from the capital, Col. Bradburn arrested and imprisoned Col. William B. Travis, the hero of the Alamo; Hon. Patrick H. Jack, Ben Hardin and Monroe Edwards, who were tried by a court-martial and ordered to be shot.

The news of this high-handed outrage spread like magic through the colonies, and the public mind, already excited, rose to a degree of determined enthusiasm in resisting the enforcement of the military decree.

Men assembled at various places, and resolved upon an appeal to arms. Piedras was besieged at Naogoches and compelled to retreat towards San Antonio, but being pressed by a few men, (tradition says but 17), he was made the victim of a ruse and of the Trinity and surrendered.

The credit of this movement is accorded to some of the younger members of the Durst family, descendants, we believe, of the celebrated Daniel Boone.

Another body of 112 men, organized at Brazoria, one company of rifles being commanded by Capt. Henry S. Brown, the other by Capt. Russell, Col. John Austin acting as chief. They marched upon Ugartechea at Velasco, and took position on the night of the 25th June. Russell's company was placed on board a schooner lying in the mouth of the river to serve as artillery; Brown's rifles, under cover of the night, took position under some drift logs but seventy yards from the fort, and at day-break on the 26th opened a galling and destructive fire on the enemy.

Russell's artillery performed good service. So unerring were the Texas rifles that not a Mexican could expose his body, head or hand, but he received a leaden messenger to remind him that they had to contend against men whose aim was death whenever a vital point was exposed.

Ugartechea discovered that to dislodge the rifles was his only hope of successful defence, and brought all his guns to bear upon their position; but all in vain. The brave young heroes, tho' inexperienced and somewhat wrought upon by the first roar of artillery, were encouraged by the coolness of their leaders, and very soon manifested the most determined, if not reckless, resolution.

The conflict was one of desperation on both sides. Ugartechea was both a brave and a humane man—he was resolved to hold his position so long as there was hope; but when convinced of the futility of further bloodshed—the inferiority of Mexican troops, within a fortified position, defended by artillery and muskets, to a less number of American riflemen—freemen, defending their homes and families—he preferred an honorable surrender to a further and needless spilling of blood.

After a defence that commanded the respect of his assailants, he hauled down his banner and surrendered. Of his 173 men one-half were slain and many others were wounded, some losing an eye, others a hand, and all attesting how deadly had been the precision of the heroes' rifles. Of the Texans, eleven were killed and fifty-two wounded.

About the same time another party of colonists marched upon Bradburn at Anahuac, who surrendered with but a show of resistance, and thus relieved the colony of the presence of an obnoxious military power.

But notwithstanding these brilliant successes, the colonists were fully aware of their weakness, and dreaded the effects of their temerity when the facts should become known to the supreme government. But here a fortunate breeze brought news of Santa Anna's declaration against Bustamante and his pronouncements in favor of the constitution of 1824, and to relieve themselves of what had occurred, the Texans held a mass meeting at Turtle Bayou, and declared that they had taken up arms for Santa Anna and his cause. The political chief of the department of Busta, Don Ramon Muzquiz, called a meeting at San Felipe to deliberate on the state of affairs.

He sent Don Luciano Navarro and Juan M. J. Carragual to represent his views to the Americans. The meeting assembled and was addressed by Col. Samuel M. Williams, agent of Galveston, and approved as the good people had done at Turtle Bayou, that they had been fighting for Santa Anna, (although at the time of the fighting they did not know Santa Anna had pronounced), and satisfied with their good luck and showed diplomacy, after resolving that the conscripted soldiers should leave the colonies, they adjourned and returned home, to enjoy peace and quiet until in 1834—5 aroused to a new sense of danger by the imprisonment of Austin—the treachery of Santa Anna, and finally the declaration of an exterminating war against them. $5 closed the year 1832, promising much but peace and prosperity to Texas.

The Washington correspondent of the N. O. Phoenix, under date of the 24th ult., has the following item:—The Navy Department is in receipt of dispatches from Gen. Peary of the Arctic expedition, dated at Hong Kong, January 21. The Commodore states that he was expecting shortly to start on a second visit to Japan. It has been erroneously reported in some papers that the intention of the Admiralty is to abandon the expedition, and to recall the East India squadron. It is probable that the squadron will be retained in the Indian Ocean, and will be kept in these seas as our commercial interests render necessary, in view of the disturbed state of affairs in the East.

There has been a very serious apprehension entertained as to the result, in regard to the safety of Lord Stirling's remaining party, who went to make a reconnaissance of a ship canal route across the Isthmus of Panama. I understand that the Navy Department has no alarm about the company. He is being, Lieut. Stirling, is a comrade, and will not be deterred from the prosecution of his enterprise by any privation or hardship which it is possible he may encounter.

Advice has also been received at the Navy Department from Com. Stringham in command of the Mediterranean squadron. He announces that Capt. W. Walker at Panama, on the 24th of February.

The statement that the only witness of the affair in Texas between the officers of the army, and Major Arnold, which resulted in the death of the latter, was a sergeant who has since deserted, is incorrect. The affair was witnessed by a daughter of the deceased, who was present at the agreement at the time through a glass door. Her statement is said to be very unfavorable to the accused.

The government has an intelligence of his desertion. There is some reason to expect that one time since the home-leave, he landed in Savannah, Georgia. A letter was received from him, enclosing the account of his desertion, of which was identical with that of the affair. Of course the department refused to accept the resignation, but ordered a court-martial to try the officer.

COMPLIMENT TO LIEUT. MAURY.—King Oscar, of Sweden, says the Baltimore Sun, has ordered a gold medal to be struck at the Swedish mint, in honor of Lieut. Maury, of Washington, having on one side a likeness of the king, and on the other a Latin inscription with the name of the distinguished object of the compliment. It will be made of Swedish gold coin, one of the purest in Europe, and in weight will be equal to fifty Swedish ducats.

THE PETERS COLONY DEFICIENTIES EXPOSED.—The editor of the Dallas Herald is writing "most delightfully" over what he calls "The end of the Colony Difficulties." Hear him!

We feel very much like sounding the heuwags. The Peters' Colony troubles are at an end, so far as the colonists are concerned. The Trustees of the company have filed their release to the lands claimed by the colonists, which precludes them from interfering any further objection to issuance of patents. The question of title is settled, forever, and the colonists, after years of turmoil doubt and vexation, will receive patents to their land as fast as the cap is issued by the commissioner of the General Land Office.

An insidious that has weighed with oppressive force on the most fertile and lovely region of the South, is at last removed, and also will at once enter on the brilliant career of prosperity that awaits her.

Blow the tuba! sound the heuwag! Let the loud hoggans ring!

The Rome (Geo.) Southerner learns that John W. Caldwell, of that place, has declined the appointment, tendered him by the President, of Judge of the Territory of the Utah.

TEXAS CREDITORS.—A meeting was held in Washington City on the 22d ult., preparatory to some general action by the creditors of Texas. General Leslie Combs presided. It was, after some discussion, resolved to await the action of Congress upon their claims. It appeared to be the general opinion that the State of Texas would eventually pay her creditors in full as soon as justice had been done to her by Indian spoliation, as well as of the five millions reserved under the boundary act. These two sums amount together to $10,350,000. The five millions reserved in the United States Treasury, now amounting, with premium and interest, to $5,250,000, and the claims of the State of Texas against the United States for Indian spoliation, to $4,100,000.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., April 11.—It is estimated the British force in Turkey, is now sixty years of age, having been born in 1788. His elevation to the peerage is very recent—only a year or two since. He has been better known as Lord Fitzroy-Solmes, younger brother of the late Duke of Devonshire. He entered the army at the age of sixteen, and at the age of twenty-one, having been promoted to the rank of captain, became military secretary to the Duke of Wellington, which post he occupied during the whole of the Peninsula war. At the peace of 1814, he returned to England, and married one of the Wellingtons, daughter of Lord Maryborough, and niece of the Duke of Wellington. He was always attached to the military family of the Duke, and from the time (1827) when the Duke became commander-in-chief of the army, up to his death, in 1832, Lord Fitzroy-Solmes, as he is commonly called, had the substantial command of the army. When the Duke of Wellington died, and was succeeded by Lord Harlington as commander-in-chief, Lord Fitzroy-Solmes was general of the division, which post he held when appointed to his present command.

He has never had any active command in the field, but there is unlimited confidence in his military capacity and knowledge, and his personal character stands high.

The ship Middlesex, from Liverpool, which has arrived at New York, reports that she was in the sea for five days, and had a very long voyage. A large quantity of ice was passed through, nearly 200 miles long. Many letters were received from the following facts:

TEXAS CORRESPONDENCE.

BY D. H. HENRY.

DIRECTOR CORTEZ.—The District Court has been in session during the last week. They had nothing to do, or if they had anything they were not prepared to do it. The post jury were obliged to wait about the streets several days, gaping, stretching, and waiting, but their pay for their services are not enough to compensate them for even gaping and stretching if they allow nothing for mileage.

JAMES AND JEFFERSON.—Several months ago we noticed the fact that there was a prospect of our having a jail in this county in the coming year or so, to put our unruly members in. We understood that a contract had been made to build the jail. We begin to feel that such a building is needed in this county.

Our Grand Jury may find a citizen guilty of murder, or any other crime.

NEW ORLEANS CARDS.

CONVERSE & CO., Grocers & Dealers in Western Produce, 97 Tchoupchoula, corner of Lafayette Street, NEW ORLEANS.

F. F. FOLGER & CO., 17 NEW LEXTER, 32 and 34 CHOCOUTOULAS STS., NEW ORLEANS, L. L. A. N. S.

R. RICHARDS, No. 11 Chartres street, Importer and Wholesale Dealer in Foreign and Domestic Hardware.

Joseph H. Palmer & Co., Importers & Wholesale Dealers in Foreign and Domestic Dry Goods.

MAGEE & KEASS, Respects the attention of persons desiring to purchase articles in the Saddle Business.

A. & H. BLOCK, Wholesale Grocers, No. 3 Front Street, NEW ORLEANS.

RICHARD M. ELLIS & CO., Commission Merchants, 67 GRAVIER STREET, NEW ORLEANS.

ACADE HOTEL, Magazine, between Natchez and Gravier Streets, NEW ORLEANS.

CHAS. A. KELLOGG & CO., Importers and Dealers in Foreign and Domestic Hardware.

JAMES V. LINDSAY, Grocer and Dealer in Western Produce, 11 POYDRAS STREET, NEW ORLEANS.

J. H. BURGEN, Dealer in New and Second Hand Furniture, No. 55 MAGAZINE STREET, NEW ORLEANS.

NEW ORLEANS CARDS.

J. B. STEEL, NEW ORLEANS STATIONERS WAREHOUSE, 60 CAMP STREET.

H. BONNAEL, Corner of Natchez and Tchoupchoula Streets, NEW ORLEANS.

R. Yeatman & Co., Cotton and Tobacco Factors, No. 65 Common Street, NEW ORLEANS.

HALL & RODD, General Commission, Receiving and Forwarding Merchants, No. 3 Front Street, NEW ORLEANS.

John A. Mitchell, Commission Merchant, 34 POYDRAS STREET, NEW ORLEANS.

PRIESTLEY & BEIN, Importers and Dealers in Foreign and Domestic Hardware, No. 30 and 32 Gravier St., NEW ORLEANS.

S. ROBB & CO., (Late Robt & Fairbank), Wholesale and Retail Saddlery and Tack, No. 50 Camp Street, NEW ORLEANS.

PAYNE & HENDERSON, Dealers in Sugar, Coffee, Tea, Candles, Soap, Rice, Spices, Sarsaparilla, Tobacco, Wines, Brandy, &c., No. 30 and 32 Gravier St., NEW ORLEANS.

A. F. DUNBAR & CO., Manufacturers and Wholesale Dealers in Boots, Shoes and Brogans, Nos. 34 and 36 Common Street, NEW ORLEANS.

CRESCENT STEAM MARBLE WORKS, Monuments, Tombs, Grave Stones, Marble Pieces, Table Tops, &c., 222 Camp Street, NEW ORLEANS.

CHARLES C. GAINES, Importer of Foreign and Domestic Goods, 25 MAGAZINE and 40 GRAVIER STS., NEW ORLEANS.

J. H. DAVIS, Wholesale and Retail Dealer in Fancy and Staple Dry Goods, Groceries, Saddlery, Crockery, Glassware, Tinware, Hardware, &c., Opposite the Post Office, Indiana, Texas, Sept. 30, 1852.

NOTICE is hereby given, that I have been appointed by the county court of Calhoun county, administrator of the estate of Daniel Egan, deceased, late of said county.

NEW YORK CARDS.

Merchants' Line of Packets, N. York & Matagorda Bay, N. York & Matagorda Bay, N. York & Matagorda Bay.

STAR LINE, Western Texas Packets, New York and Matagorda Bay, THE line is composed of the following splendid vessels.

ARCHD H. LOWERY, Wholesale Grocer, 101 Front Street, New York, A. M. GENTRY.

N. W. Butrie, Importer and Dealer in China, Glass and Earthenware, No. 83 WATER STREET, NEW YORK.

WILLIAM GROSBECK, With Waldron & Paige, Grocers, Importers and Commission Merchants, No. 71 and 73 Front Street, NEW YORK.

STANTON & THOMSON, Commission Merchants, No. Orleans, Mobile and Texas Packet Agents, 114 Wall Street, New York.

Livingston & Myers, State and Stock Brokers, No. 28 WILLIAM STREET, NEW YORK.

ORR & CO., Indiana, Texas, HAVING removed their store to the room between the Postoffice and J. H. Davis's.

THIRTY FEET OF TAPE WORM EXPULSED by using B. A. Farnestock's Vermifuge, Mr. Booth is a gentleman well and favorably known in his place of business.

CRESCENT STEAM MARBLE WORKS, Monuments, Tombs, Grave Stones, Marble Pieces, Table Tops, &c., 222 Camp Street, NEW ORLEANS.

CHARLES C. GAINES, Importer of Foreign and Domestic Goods, 25 MAGAZINE and 40 GRAVIER STS., NEW ORLEANS.

J. H. DAVIS, Wholesale and Retail Dealer in Fancy and Staple Dry Goods, Groceries, Saddlery, Crockery, Glassware, Tinware, Hardware, &c., Opposite the Post Office, Indiana, Texas, Sept. 30, 1852.

NOTICE is hereby given, that I have been appointed by the county court of Calhoun county, administrator of the estate of Daniel Egan, deceased, late of said county.

J. A. C. ASHWORTH, Commission and Forwarding Merchants, Dealers in Groceries and Western Produce, Powder Horn Wharf, Indiana, Texas.

PHILADELPHIA CARDS.

Linn, Smith & Co., Wholesale Druggists, No. 8 SOUTH THIRD STREET, PHILADELPHIA.

CHAS. HARKNESS & SON, Wholesale Jobbers, Manufacturers of Clothing, 128 Market Street, S. E. corner of Fourth, PHILADELPHIA.

Anderson & Harland, Manufacturers and Wholesale Dealers in Boots, Shoes, Straw Goods, Artificials, &c., No. 31 North Third Street, PHILADELPHIA.

PEYTON & THOMAS, General Produce Commission Merchants, Southeast corner of Front and Walnut Streets, PHILADELPHIA.

ARANAMA COLLEGE, GOLIAD, TEXAS, Under the Care and Supervision of the Presbytery of Western Texas.

ENGLISH DEPARTMENT, McCREERY'S Edition of Baskin's Grammar, Mitchell's Geography, Willard's History, Ballou's English Grammar, Logic and Rhetoric.

MATHEMATICAL DEPARTMENT, Mental and Higher Arithmetic, Algebra, Geometry, Plane and Spherical Trigonometry, Mensuration and Surveying, The entire course by Davies.

PHILOSOPHICAL DEPARTMENT, Natural Philosophy, Chemistry and Geology, by Comstock, Astronomy, Moral and Mental Philosophy, Rhetoric, Penmanship, Mitchell's Geography, Willard's History, Ballou's English Grammar, Logic and Rhetoric.

FREDERICK VISSCHER, Manufacturer and Dealer in all kinds of Furniture and Upholstery, SHOP and Warehouse directly opposite the Alameda Hotel, in the city of New Orleans.

PETERSBURG STORE, E. B. Pennington, Dealer in Dry Goods, Groceries, GENERAL MERCHANDISE, PETERSBURG, Lavaca County, Texas.

LAND FOR SALE, THE undersigned has 2,064 acres of Land, situated on Campagna Bay, and being part of the large known as Huguenot's, 12 miles N. of the city of New Orleans.

COOKING STOVES, A NEW and full assortment of the favorite Nonpareil Stoves, just received per schooner Three Stars, which we offer low.

READY MADE CLOTHING, A FINE lot of assorted clothing just received from the North and sold by ORR & CO., Indiana, Oct. 2, 1852.

FOR SALE, 15 BBS. Fire Proof Paint, at $3-25 per 100 pounds per barrel, and Oil at 70 cents per gallon, delivered at Indiana, Tex.

SCHOOL BOOKS.

For the Million, THE Education of School Books now published by the West and South, where the progress of the University of Virginia, whose life has been spent in the West and South.

Anderson & Harland, Manufacturers and Wholesale Dealers in Boots, Shoes, Straw Goods, Artificials, &c., No. 31 North Third Street, PHILADELPHIA.

PEYTON & THOMAS, General Produce Commission Merchants, Southeast corner of Front and Walnut Streets, PHILADELPHIA.

ARANAMA COLLEGE, GOLIAD, TEXAS, Under the Care and Supervision of the Presbytery of Western Texas.

ENGLISH DEPARTMENT, McCREERY'S Edition of Baskin's Grammar, Mitchell's Geography, Willard's History, Ballou's English Grammar, Logic and Rhetoric.

MATHEMATICAL DEPARTMENT, Mental and Higher Arithmetic, Algebra, Geometry, Plane and Spherical Trigonometry, Mensuration and Surveying, The entire course by Davies.

PHILOSOPHICAL DEPARTMENT, Natural Philosophy, Chemistry and Geology, by Comstock, Astronomy, Moral and Mental Philosophy, Rhetoric, Penmanship, Mitchell's Geography, Willard's History, Ballou's English Grammar, Logic and Rhetoric.

FREDERICK VISSCHER, Manufacturer and Dealer in all kinds of Furniture and Upholstery, SHOP and Warehouse directly opposite the Alameda Hotel, in the city of New Orleans.

PETERSBURG STORE, E. B. Pennington, Dealer in Dry Goods, Groceries, GENERAL MERCHANDISE, PETERSBURG, Lavaca County, Texas.

LAND FOR SALE, THE undersigned has 2,064 acres of Land, situated on Campagna Bay, and being part of the large known as Huguenot's, 12 miles N. of the city of New Orleans.

COOKING STOVES, A NEW and full assortment of the favorite Nonpareil Stoves, just received per schooner Three Stars, which we offer low.

READY MADE CLOTHING, A FINE lot of assorted clothing just received from the North and sold by ORR & CO., Indiana, Oct. 2, 1852.

FOR SALE, 15 BBS. Fire Proof Paint, at $3-25 per 100 pounds per barrel, and Oil at 70 cents per gallon, delivered at Indiana, Tex.

FOR SALE, 15 BBS. Fire Proof Paint, at $3-25 per 100 pounds per barrel, and Oil at 70 cents per gallon, delivered at Indiana, Tex.

CASINER HOUSE.

At the Steamship Wharf, Indianola, Texas, THIS new and spacious Hotel, situated on Bay Street, adjoining the steamship landing, with a commanding view of the harbor and surrounding country, was opened on the 1st of December, 1852.

EUREKA HOUSE, INDIANOLA, TEXAS, THE undersigned having leased the above property, heretofore so favorably known as the Advertiser, and having given it a thorough renovating throughout, and furnished with the most comfortable and elegant accommodations, those who may favor him with a call, he pledges himself to spare no pains to satisfy those who may call on him in giving them the best of the country and market will afford.

JOHN H. DALE, Wholesale and Retail Dealer in Groceries and Western Produce, INDIANOLA, TEXAS.

NEW STORE, INDIANOLA, TEXAS, THE subscriber, having removed the stock of Goods from Lavaca to Indianola, respectfully informs his friends and the public that he has taken the old stand on the corner opposite the Post Office, where he will keep a full and complete assortment of Dry Goods, Clothing, Groceries, Hardware, Queensware, and General Merchandise.

JACOB MAAS, Importer of Foreign and Domestic Goods, Commission and Forwarding, INDIANOLA, TEXAS.

Wm. J. Howerton, Attorney and Counselor at Law, INDIANOLA, TEXAS.

Wm. S. Glass, Attorney and Counselor at Law, INDIANOLA, TEXAS.

JAMES A. POAGE, Attorney and Counselor at Law, INDIANOLA, TEXAS.

R. B. PORTER, Attorney and Counselor at Law, INDIANOLA, TEXAS.

Dr. E. Kane's Water Cure, WATERDALE, COMAL COUNTY, TEXAS.

NOTICE, ALL persons having any claims against the Corporation of the City of Indianola, are requested to present them to the Mayor's Office on or before the 1st day of August, 1852, otherwise they will be barred.

FOR SALE, A desirable residence, with five acres of land, in the city of Indianola, is offered for sale. This desirable place is situated on the beach, and one of the most desirable for a residence in the city.

LAND FOR SALE, THE subscriber will sell for Cash, the upper half of Lot No. 2, on the West side of the College Street, about 100 acres, being the land right of John Stephen F. Austin.

WAGGON & BLACKSMITHING, SEGUIN, TEXAS, THE subscriber has established in connection with the town of Seguin, the Blacksmithing, Wagon-making & Saddlery business, in all their branches, and having a liberal patronage.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

Raymond, Freeman & Co., Attorneys at Law, 100 N. 3rd Street, Indianola, Texas.

J. S. JONES, Attorney and Counselor at Law, INDIANOLA, TEXAS.

PASCHAL & STRIBLING, Attorneys and Counselors at Law, SAN ANTONIO, TEXAS.

WILLIAM S. GLASS, Attorney and Counselor at Law, INDIANOLA, TEXAS.

Wm. J. Howerton, Attorney and Counselor at Law, INDIANOLA, TEXAS.

Wm. S. Glass, Attorney and Counselor at Law, INDIANOLA, TEXAS.

JAMES A. POAGE, Attorney and Counselor at Law, INDIANOLA, TEXAS.

R. B. PORTER, Attorney and Counselor at Law, INDIANOLA, TEXAS.

Dr. E. Kane's Water Cure, WATERDALE, COMAL COUNTY, TEXAS.

NOTICE, ALL persons having any claims against the Corporation of the City of Indianola, are requested to present them to the Mayor's Office on or before the 1st day of August, 1852, otherwise they will be barred.

FOR SALE, A desirable residence, with five acres of land, in the city of Indianola, is offered for sale. This desirable place is situated on the beach, and one of the most desirable for a residence in the city.

LAND FOR SALE, THE subscriber will sell for Cash, the upper half of Lot No. 2, on the West side of the College Street, about 100 acres, being the land right of John Stephen F. Austin.

WAGGON & BLACKSMITHING, SEGUIN, TEXAS, THE subscriber has established in connection with the town of Seguin, the Blacksmithing, Wagon-making & Saddlery business, in all their branches, and having a liberal patronage.

WAGGON & BLACKSMITHING, SEGUIN, TEXAS, THE subscriber has established in connection with the town of Seguin, the Blacksmithing, Wagon-making & Saddlery business, in all their branches, and having a liberal patronage.