'OPERATION MOTORCIDE' Focus on Holiday Driving

The acting director of the Texas Department of Public Safety today called for "heads up" driving on the part of Texas motorists over the upcoming four-day Fourth of July weekend to help bring about a reduction in the estimated toll of 38 lives in traffic during the holiday period.

Wilson E. (Pat) Speir announced that "Operation Motorcide," a special emphasis program designed to focus attention on the added dangers of holiday travel, will be placed in effect from 6 p.m. Wednesday, July 3, through 11:59 p.m. Sunday, July 7.

Traffic fatalities will be tabulated by the DPS throughout the period, and the totals will be announced officially three times daily as a means of keeping safety uppermost in the minds of the motoring public, he said.

"It is a known fact that the unusually crowded conditions of the highways on Independence Day holidays makes driving more hazardous than usual," Speir said. "Past experience and the present trend of traf-

Sticker Contest

Can you think of a good, sharp slogan for Muleshoe? If so, submit it. It could be chosen as a bumper sticker slogan for Muleshoe by the Chamber of Commerce and the Jaycees, sponsoring organizations.

Most cities have slogans and need for one to represent our city has been cited.

Deadline for entry in the contest is July 10. Entries are to be mailed to the Jaycees, Box 571, Muleshoe and the sticker slogan will be chosen soon after the deadline passes.

The slogan adopted will be drawn and printed in strips five by 12 inches and distributed by the Chamber of Commerce.

The person submitting the winning slogan will receive a $25 prize.

Judges will be members of the Lions Club, Rotarians, Jaycees and of the Chamber of Commerce.

traffic accidents during the 102-hour period of the holiday this year, according to DPS Statistical Services. This means that on the average one person will be killed in traffic every two and-a-half hours.

"Of course, we hope this proves to be too high an estimate, and will do everything we can to keep down the expected toll of lives and suffering from accidents. As part of this effort, we will be utilizing additional personnel from our other uniformed services to augment the regular Highway Patrol force during the holiday period.

"However, the most important effort needs to come from the drivers themselves who, of course, have the most at stake. We can talk all we please about inadequate highways, we can talk about mechanical defects, but in the end, the vast majority of all accidents and fatalities can be traced to misbehavior, misjudgment, recklessness, negligence, and mixing drinking and driving.

Weasel Weasels In, Dog Weaseled Out

HEY... WATCHIT!--This warning sound is built in as far as this slender, sleek creature is concerned. His ability to back up that warning is reflected in his unflinching stare and his agility expounded through attacks made here before, during and after his capture Tuesday, on dogs and humans alike. City Patrolman Ray Rowe did not use those proverbial 'kid gloves' in handling the animal... they were leather!

"Fast" . . . seems to be the key word and the key action in catching a small, but vicious animal . . . the innocent-looking weasel.

Ray Rowe, city patrolman, found out Tuesday morning that although keeping law and order is the major purpose of having a city police force . . . it comes in many forms.

In fact, it did just that Tuesday morning when the patrolman was not dealing with law breaking people . . . but disturbance creating weasels.

Patrolman Rowe was asked: "How did you catch it?" "Fast!" came the snappy reply.

After observing the creature for awhile, seemed this method was the only way.

Rowe was called to the John Shelton home Tuesday morning when a report came in that a strange animal had been freed by the family dog.

By the time Rowe arrived at the home, the weasel had the dog on the run and was firmly attached to the dog.

"We really caught the dog, then snatched the weasel from its back."

Rowe brought the animal to the Sheriff's Office, then to the Journal office where it was kept in a large barrel until he could find a more suitable container.

The patrolman returned to get the weasel, wearing a pair of leather gloves.

The question was asked: "How are you going to get it out of the barrel?"

"Very carefully!" he replied and that he did.

The weasel had dined on a meal of raw steak and lettuce and was extra frisky. A long-handled broom and the aid of the gloved hand, he was transferred into a cage to be taken to Rowe's home for a time.

There's just no such thing as weaseling out . . . once you catch a real live weasel, if you don't get them . . . they will get you first!

Thirteen Jailed, Charges Vary

A total of 13 persons have been picked up by the four law enforcement departments during the past few days.

The Texas Highway Patrol charged one with failure to dim headlights, another on DWI charges and the third person on charges of being drunk.

Bailey County Sheriff's office reports one arrested on a DWI charge, two on drunk charges; one on Absent without leave from service and another for disturbance.

50 Golden History Years

Day-Long Celebration, Parade Slated to Observe Half-Century

Bailey County residents, new and old, are preparing for the July 4 celebration which will mark the Golden Anniversary of the county.

A day of festivity has been planned for the entertainment of the public and events will begin at 7 a.m., and conclude before the midnight hour with a gigantic fireworks display.

Judge Don Chak has headed the July 4 celebration planning with many citizens assisting in different phases of the work.

The day will kick-off with a "Ride-In Breakfast" to be held at the south end of the football field with all the pancakes you can eat for $1. The breakfast, to be served by the Muleshoe Jaycees, will start at 7 a.m., and serving will conclude at 9 a.m.

Those who have horses are asked to ride them to the breakfast, however, those who do not are urged to drive in and eat breakfast with the crowd.

A historical marker has been erected on the east side of the courthouse square and a dedication ceremony has been set for 10:30 a.m. Relatives of the first county officials will be recognized at the ceremony.

Old settlers are to gather at Fellowship Hall of the First Methodist Church at 2 p.m. for a reunion. In the past, pioneers of the county have attended, some coming from many miles around, to visit with old friends and relatives. Entertainment, aside from visiting, and refreshments will be provided.

A parade will start at 4 p.m., at the Boy Scout grounds on south Main Street. Several area riding clubs will be featured in this parade along with local participants.

A short history of Bailey County will be given at the conclusion of the parade. A barbeque supper will be served in the city park for participants in the parade and historical ceremony.

Beef for the barbeque is being donated by John Fried and other food by the Muleshoe Women's Service Organization and will be served by members of the Lions Club.

The annual family picnic starts at Benny Douglass football stadium. Families will take their lunch and join other area families to eat and enjoy entertainment arranged for them during the picnic time which concludes at 10 p.m.

During this time, the Jaycee sponsored beard growing contestants will be judged and prizes will be awarded to the man with the longest beard, the ugliest beard and the fanciest beard.

A gigantic fireworks display will follow the picnic and round out the day of events. Muleshoe Volunteer Fire Department will oversee and assist with the fireworks display.

Rotarians will operate concession stands at events during the day and ask that no bottle nor can be left on the football field during the picnic.

An art display will be open all day in the Johnson - Pool building on Main Street. This is under sponsorship of Muleshoe Art Association.

Other displays which can be seen in stores around town are those of a variety of antique items. The antiques were gathered by the Jaycees-ettes. A brief history of their origin will be with the item on display.

Residents and visitors are urged to dress western style for this special day.

HISTORY IN PART
It would be impossible to record all the colorful history of Bailey County. However, in a story written by Mrs. A. W. Copley and published in the Muleshoe Journal, first April 18, 1940 and again in the June 30, 1963 edition, published for the Golden Anniversary of Muleshoe, tells the story.

This is a portion of that story.

Every year a large part of the high schools and colleges offer some of their students a simple short course in how to prepare their income tax return. There are about 100,000 students in the northern half of Texas, and a similar number in the southern half of the state, who receive this simple training. These young men and women are receiving some of the most valuable training that they will get throughout their entire schooling. (Most of them will realize tax savings as a direct result of the free IRS training course.)

Don't you think one of Richard Nixon's disadvantages in politics is his lack of a sense of humor?
 That shouldn't be held against him. You'd probably lose your sense of humor too, if you had to shave twice a day.

President and Mrs. Johnson are expecting another grandchild. Do you think he will continue to give each one a whiteface calf?

Lyndon may be sorry he started that. If a drouth hits the LBJ ranch, he'll be in the position of parents whose kids feed out calves for stock shows. The first cost is not so bad, but the feed bill gets pretty expensive.

You frequently refer to "ketchup" in your column, but aren't you misspelling the word? The labels on the bottles spell it "catsup."

Webster says either way is correct, and to me "ketchup" comes nearer spelling ketchup than "catsup" does.

Don't you think the North Vietnamese have escalated the war since the Paris talks began?

Yes. Apparently our leaders still don't understand Communists. Any Korean veteran could have told them that fighting an ordinary war with the Reds is bad enough, but those "peace negotiations" are murder.

Why were so many of the demonstrations of the Poor People's Campaign in Washington directed at the Dept. of Agriculture?
 It makes sense. Many of those people used to work on farms, and when a Federal farm program plows under a farmer, it also uproots his hired hands.

Have you seen the latest fashions in women's swim suits with cutouts on the sides?

I don't think so, although it's possible I may have seen them and wasn't paying any attention -- to the sides, that is.

touches the extreme southeast point, Bailey County, lying on the plateau of the Great Plains, is one of the highest counties in the state, reaching in several places an altitude of four thousand feet or more. It has an area of one-thousand thirty square miles, being one of the smallest counties in this section of the state. A large percentage of the land is rolling plains with shallow valleys, interspersed by narrow strips of sandhills that have been piled up by strong prevailing winds of this section. However, level and dark soils predominate. The drainage system is formed by draws which form a part of the upper water shed of the Brazos River. The few natural lakes are usually dry, even though situated in the shallow water belt.

The County was part of the Texas Territory along with more than a hundred other counties from 1836 to 1876. The Texas Constitution of 1876 set apart three million acres of land for the purpose of the erection of a new State Capitol. Later in 1879, Texas made a contract exchanging the three million acres of land, which included Bailey County, for the construction of the present State Capitol.

On August 2, 1876, Bailey County was created and was named for a hero of the Alamo, Peter James Bailey, 1812-1836, a young Kentucky lawyer, who joined the doomed company in time to give his life, the following day, defending the Alamo.

Twenty-four years after the county was created (1900) the first census report on its population appeared which was four inhabitants, only one of whom was a qualified voter. Ten years later, 1910, the cheap school lands, free federal lands and enterprising land companies had enticed three hundred twelve venturesome pioneers into the county.

The year previous, 1909, marks the beginning of the struggle of the settlers with non-resident land owners for county organization. The general tax rate at this time was ten cents on each hundred dollars valuation. All land owned by absentee landlords was exempt from taxation and the other value was so low that sufficient money for the maintenance of schools and the building of roads was not available. The territory was attached to Castro County for judicial purposes and any legal transaction requiring presence at a county seat consumed at least three days of valuable time. It required one day for the forty-five mile trip to Dimmitt, the county seat, driving in a spring wagon or a buggy with a good team; another was spent in the transaction of business while the third day was needed for the drive home. The conditions aroused in the minds of the people an insistent desire and demand for their own county seat and officials.

Hence, in 1909, one hundred twenty-seven people, representing themselves to be qualified voters of the county, drew up and signed a petition requesting that Bailey County be organized in accordance with the provisions of the revised Civil statutes of Texas. When this petition was presented the Commissioners' Court of Castro County they considered the plea and granted the request, marked off the boundary lines for four precincts, and set the date for the election of officials for June 19, 1909. Some of the voters were so enthusiastic over their apparent independence that the entire night of June 18 was spent in celebrating the anticipated day of election. But the day brought a crushing disappointment in the form of an injunction, served on the voters, prohibiting the selection of a county seat and local officials. The rich non-resident land owners, who had been watching the efforts to secure local government knew that if the attempt were successful and county taxes were levied, they would suffer financially. representing the non-resident land owners, were instrumental in serving the injunction which stated that there were names of many persons on the petition who were not qualified voters of Bailey County. That after deducting the names of minors, women, and children, there remained less than one hundred fifty qualified voters of Bailey County, and that this was the result of a conspiracy, and a deliberate design of Stevens A. Coldren and others to organize Bailey County and establish the Town of Hurley as the county seat, for the purpose of giving an enhanced or speculative value to land in and near Hurley and that the names of women and minors were placed on the petition to deceive the Commissioners' Court. This action on the part of the property owners was accepted with resignation by the residents of the county because they knew that their list of voters would never pass rigid inspection by a court. In fact, the old timers of the county later humorously admitted that they were accused (perhaps justly) of not only adding names of minors, but also pets and animals. However, they settled down to watchful waiting and systematic planning for any opportunity that might present itself in the future.

The years 1916-1917 marked the fruition of the voters' plans that were put into action in 1918. The called session of the Thirty-fifth Legislature was the first legislative body to serve the purposes of the citizens. A fund of $1,500 was raised and two men were sent to Austin to secure the passage of a new law changing the number of qualified voters of county organization from one hundred-fifty to seventy-five. On March 16, 1918, the Legislature passed an emergency law, making the desired changes which became effective immediately. This enactment on the part of Bailey County voters by a second petition for organization was drawn up and signed by one hundred and ten people who represented themselves to be qualified voters of the county. After the signers had been summoned and examined by the district court, eighty four legally qualified voters were found, and therefore, the petition was duly presented to the Commissioners' Court of Castro County, April 8, 1918. The court spent the entire day and most of the following one in careful consideration of the request. On April 9, 1918, the court granted the plea and Bailey County, for the second time, was marked off into four precincts, as required for an election. It was further ordered that the election be held throughout Bailey County, Texas on May 11, 1918, for the selection of a county seat and county officers.

Care of Pillows

Pillows should be kept clean for sanitary reasons and to retain their comfortable softness. Almost all pillows can and should be washed once or twice a year.

Suds-and-water is the reliable washing formula, although the method varies according to the filling.

Most pillows actually have two coverings - an inner case of lightweight fabric, plus an outer ticking or decorative slip-cover. First the non-washable "shell" must be removed.

It is advisable to remove and wash ticking separately because this fabric is so closely woven that it keeps suds and water from circulating through the filling.

If a pillow has no lining, rip about a 2-inch opening in the ticking seam on opposite sides and fasten these openings with loose basting or over-casting stitches or pin with a large safety pin. Then suds and rinse water can flow through these vents, allowing dirt to escape but not the stuffing.

Feather, down, Acrilan, Dacron and Orion filled pillows can be laundered and dried by machine. To balance the washer load, wash two pillows at a time or add clean towels.

With feather filling, use extra soap or detergent because feathers cause the suds to die down quickly. Pillows tend to float on the surface of the water, so knead them in the water to get them wet before you start the washing cycle.

Rinse well, re-stitch the open vents, then dryer-dry at a LOW setting or hang them outside for a day. Shake and punch pillows several times during drying to plump up and fluff the filling.

Latex foam rubber pillows can be machine-washed, using a 4-minute washing cycle with warm suds. Unless already covered, place the pillow in a mesh bag or a pillow case with its open end fastened by loose stitches. This will protect the foam from shredding or breaking during the machine action.

Foam pillows may be left in an automatic washer during the spin cycle. Pillows filled with shredded foam rubber can be dried automatically at low heat.

If you wash pillows by hand, use a deep tub or bathtub to allow plenty of room for suds and rinses. Use a squeezing three rinses to remove all residue of soiled suds.

Polyurethane foam pillows are best washed by hand in warm soap or detergent suds. Don't twist or wring. Just compress each pillow with an up and down motion of your palms to create movement of suds.

These pillows can be safely tumble-dried at any setting, or may be air-dried at any setting, or may be air-dried after pressing out excess moisture between towels. Plastic foam dries slowly, the specialist says.

It will pay off in saved time and effort to cover each bed pillow with an inner case made of muslin. Then put a zipper on the outside ticking which can be laundered every month or so to wash away hair tonic, face cream, body oils, and ordinary soil which go through pillow-cases.

If the living room couch is used for naps, keep some washable pillowcases handy to protect decorative throw pillows from preventable soil.

Magic with Sour Cream

There's magic in sour cream cookery! Dairy-made sour cream has long been a staple in hotel, restaurant and club kitchens presided over by famous chefs.

Use of dairy-made sour cream has increased 42 percent within the past five years, according to Gwendolyn Clyatt, Extension consumer marketing specialist. Its greatest use still is by families and mass-feeding places in the large cities of our nation.

Sour cream is not really sour, it is "cultured."

Lactic acid is the magic ingredient for making sour creams, says the Texas A&M University specialist. It is added to pasteurized and homogenized light sweet cream resulting in specially controlled sour cream.

Dairy sour cream may be made a bit smoother and stiffer by whipping slightly but don't overwhip or you'll make butter. Stir dairy sour cream into sauces and gravies at the end of cooking, adding only a tablespoon at a time.

Remember to heat sour cream gently; never boil. Cook sour cream hollandaise-type mixture over warm, not boiling water, not over direct heat. These mixtures makes sauces for cooked vegetables such as broccoli, cabbage, asparagus and for garnishing vegetable or fruit salads.

Dairy-made cultured sour cream is perishable and should be kept cold until used. Stored in its original, tightly closed container at 35 degrees to 40 degrees F., dairy-made cultured sour cream will keep well for two weeks. Do not freeze since it weeps as it thaws, Mrs. Clyatt says.

Dairy-made sour cream adapts readily to meals the year around. Greatest consumption however, occurs during warm weather -- from April through September. May and June are the months of highest sales when sour cream is used extensively with salads and garden-fresh vegetables, notes the specialist.

Vietnam News

Lieutenant General Lewis W. Walt, Assistant Commandant of the Marine Corps, spent two years in Vietnam as the commanding general of the III Marine Amphibious Force. Early in May he returned for a four-day tour of the I Corps area, his first visit in 11 months. The general, sometimes referred to as the "Three-star Grunt (Rifleman)," observed many striking changes in the country, the people and the character of the war, which he pointed out during a press conference held at the III MAF Combat Information Bureau in Da Nang. Marine Corps Combat Correspondent Gunny Sergeant Larry E. James on reports on the conference.

The general tagged the Tet offensive as the confidence builder. He also cited the Marines' pacification effort, reemphasized I Corps as a probable continuing hot spot, told how Khe Sanh had "cost" enemy heavily and pinned the future of Vietnam to its children.

General Walt referred to the "physical changes" since turning over the III MAF post as

"just fantastic" from Chu Lai to Dong Ha.

"I think the most remarkable change," he stressed, "is the attitude of the Vietnamese people -- and particularly the ARVN (Vietnamese Army) forces." He said it is an "entirely different attitude than they had last year at this time."

"I don't know what's put it into them but they've got a lot of confidence now -- confidence that they can do the job -- that some day they will be able to do it alone."

"I think that the Tet offensive -- the assistant commandant said he felt the Vietnamese officers are "looking forward to the day they can do it alone."

"I think that the Tet offensive gave them confidence," he continued, stressing that it "was a resounding victory for the ARVN forces in I Corps. I think they have improved 100 percent in the last year."

quire at least five years, and we should not become impatient.

Located near Hoi An in the old Operation Harvest Moon area, Thong Binh was referred to as a spot where the villagers are proud. General Walt said that two years ago the villagers were scared but now they spoke freely about the Viet Cong and their efforts to keep them out.

He spoke of pacification as allowing the Vietnamese to "take care of themselves."

The general pointed out the lack of a strong pacification effort around Hue contributed to the old imperial capital's problems during Tet. He compared the city with Da Nang which he said was a primary objective but the enemy "didn't get far" thanks to the Marine pacification efforts. He tied in the overall guerrilla attempts at trying to "pull us away from the populated areas."

The general scored the enemy strikes against schools, churches and hospitals during Tet as meaning "we are hurting them in the pacification effort."

He spoke of the headway that has been made and pointed out "a bright spot in pacification-- Thong Binh."

VETERANS Q's and A's

Q -- I am interested in the new Modified Life plan of government insurance I have been reading about. I now hold $10,000 of government insurance. Where can I get more specific information about the Modified Life plan?

A -- Write to the Veterans Administration Regional Office where your records are held or to the VA insurance office (Philadelphia or St. Paul) where your premiums are paid. Ask for a copy of VA Pamphlet 29-22 which discuss the benefits of this plan.

Q -- I read recently that the Post-Korean G. I. Bill is two years old. I got out of service in 1965 after four years in the Army. Am I eligible for education and training benefits under this bill? If so, how long do I have before my entitlement expires?

A -- First, and most important, you are eligible for education and training benefits under the Post-Korean G. I. Bill. This third generation G. I. bill was enacted for veterans who served for at least 180 days consecutively in the Armed Forces, some of which was after January 31, 1955.

Since you were released from active duty between January 31, 1955, and June 1, 1966, your eligibility for VA education and training assistance runs until May 31, 1974. Veterans discharged since June 1, 1966, when the Post-Korean G. I. Bill education and training program went into effect, have eight years after their separation from service to use their benefits.

History, Goals Program Theme

Mrs. L. E. McDowell, district chairman of Women's Cotton Promotion Association, was in Bula Monday, June 17 to help area women organize a local chapter whose purpose is to promote our own product and to be of service to the cotton industry.

Mrs. McDowell also gave the history of the organization since the Wake Club, a small rural group of sixteen members first started this promotion idea almost four years ago. Twelve counties have been organized since then and six more have shown interest.

As a result of the work and interest shown, the organization has been endorsed by groups ranging all the way from local civic clubs to Plains Cotton Growers, National Cotton Council and the Cotton Producers Institute. The new president of National Cotton Council, Roy B. Davis has been a staunch supporter from the very beginning.

These cotton promotion groups are more than social clubs. Too much has been learned about cotton and cotton competitors to be anything but dead serious about promoting cotton. We are non-profit and non-political. Our aims are to try for much larger stocks of cotton in our retail stores and to create a greater public awareness of cotton and cotton problems. Since the American housewife herself buys 75 percent of all items taken into the home and she is largely responsible for the choice of the other 25 percent -- this buying power gives the woman an advantage in promoting cotton. We do believe as time goes on and memberships are added, thousands of informed and organized women can definitely help cotton.

Those elected to the by-laws committee are Betty Harlan, Imogene Claunch, Madge Cannon, Betty Medlin, Marcy Danel, Beth Watson and Dolores Drake.

Washington Report

From Congressman
BOB PRICE 18TH DISTRICT, TEXAS

1222 LONGWORTH OFFICE BUILDING, WASHINGTON, D. C. • 225-3706

Last Wednesday the U. S. House of Representatives approved the President's proposed tax increase along with the Senate-aided provision for a $6 billion cut in Federal spending. I was one of the 150 members voting against the bill most of which had actually never been considered by the House Ways and Means Committee.

The Constitution of the United States placed the power of taxation, of raising revenue, in the House of Representatives the branch of government closest to the people. This bill is as it was first passed by the House was an excise tax bill, and had nothing to do with income taxes. The Senate added the amendments for the surtax, social security changes, and expenditure control. I opposed the bill on final passage not only because of that question, but because I believe our problem is, as it has been for the last eight years, Government overspending, not undertaxing.

There is no real assurance in the bill that there will actually be a spending reduction. In fact, the Director of the Budget nor the President has ever said where the $6 billion in spending cuts would be made. If past budget reductions are any indication, the cuts will be directed at such programs as school lunches, soil conservation, and other programs where the President knows Congress will not tolerate cuts rather than any in the many areas such as foreign aid where substantial cuts could be made. There is now some $12 billion in Foreign Aid funds unspent from previous years. The Administration in January said it would spend $186 billion in fiscal 1969, but has increased that figure to $189 billion. While Congress was talking about making cuts, the Administration was increasing the actual expenditure figure by $3 billion. The budget includes $28 billion for various welfare programs.

So we were asked to give the President $10 billion of the purchasing power of the private sector by increasing taxes, and if the government sector spends it, we have done nothing to slow down inflation. Since fiscal 1960, the Democrat Congresses, at the direction of Democrat Presidents, have had annual deficits without exception, each year which now total $60 billion for this eight year period.

Where and when will these reductions in spending occur? In 1965 the Administration said it would reduce Federal employment by 25,000 jobs. Since that time, 190,325 have been added. The 1961 budget of the National Science Foundation was $152 million. Their "austerity" spending this year is $495 million. A week before the tax-spending bill was passed, the House increased the Peace Corps to $112.8 million, $5.3 million over this year. Yours will be reduced by over 600.

The Senate has passed and the House Banking and Currency Committee has approved an Omnibus Housing Bill that will cost over $6 billion. The leaders of the so-called "Poor People's Campaign" have now embarked on the civil disobedience phase of their demands for new welfare and spending programs and a guaranteed annual income. No one knows where their demands will stop or what they will cost if Congress concedes.

We are no longer discussing cutting expenditures for fiscal year 1968 but for fiscal year 1969, only six months of which are under the Johnson Administration. Six months of fiscal year 1969 will be under the new Administration and without some commitments from President Johnson, he could keep spending at an unreduced level for his six months and leave all the cuts for the last six months to his successor. This would aggravate, not help correct inflation.

So where is the fiscal responsibility to stop the endless government spending and halt inflation? I have voted and will continue to vote for spending cuts, but I could not see my way clear to take another $10 billion away from people already overtaxed and run the risk of that amount being added to needless government spending that is the real cause of inflation.

Sandburrs and Opossum Liven's Up the Ball Game

Take a hot Sunday afternoon in the middle of June... a long drive to Lubbock... a real sandlot baseball game... complete with opossums and sand burrs and you have a most unusual and full afternoon, especially when the game is tied up and goes 11 innings instead of the usual nine.

The Muleshoe Outsiders team experienced such a day last Sunday.

It all started with the drive to Lubbock to play the Lubbock Texans team. The day was hot and the sand was kicking up in the mid-afternoon wind. On arrival, it was found that through a mix-up on dates, the playing field which would normally be used would not be available for the game.

So - out of town on the Ralls highway to a sand lot. Yep, a real sand lot to play the game. Now, the infield wasn't really all that bad, just hardpacked, with no grass, but the outfield was a weed patch.

In the very first inning, with the Muleshoe team at bat, one of the Muleshoe batters hit a ball into left field. When the Lubbock player reached down into the weeds to get it, he let out a shriek - and - scratch one player. He was bitten by a 'possum, who had been disturbed in his afternoon nap.

Each time the outfielders came in after an inning, they had to sit down and pick the sandburrs out of their uniform and their socks. One player ruefully commented, "I think we should adopt the sandburr as our official team flower."

As the afternoon rocked on, and the innings piled up, the game tied up in the seventh inning - there was no score in the first, the second or the third inning - then in the fourth inning, Muleshoe brought in four runs to break loose the scoring. By the time the seventh inning came around, it was tied 4-4. It tied up again in the eighth inning and both teams stood at 6-6. In the ninth, still tied; in the tenth, still tied -- and in the eleventh, Eugene Shaw, who had walked, then had stolen bases around the diamond, scored off a one base hit by Bobby Burge. The Texans were unable to score in the bottom of the eleventh inning, ending the game 7-6 for the Muleshoe team.

At this point in the season, with fifteen games played thus far, the record for the Muleshoe Outsiders team is 14 wins and one loss. The team carries a record of only about five losses in the last few years.

Scheduled this weekend for the Muleshoe team is a Saturday night game in Muleshoe Babe Ruth Park against a team from Clovis and another game on Sunday afternoon against a team from Brownfield.

Troop 633 Home from Camp

Muleshoe Boy Scout Troop 633, sponsored by the Methodist men of the First Methodist Church, were among 178 Boy Scouts and leaders from nine different Scout troops in the South Plains Council, Boy Scouts of America, who were in summer camp last week at Camp Tres Ritos, N.M., according to Camp Director Warren Green. This was the first week of the summer camping season for Scouts at this site.

Upon their arrival, the Scouts set up their troop campsites and cooked supper and generally prepared for a week of tent-living.

During the week, they cooked all their meals, either in the camp or out on the trail. They participated in hiking, fishing, archery, skeet shooting, bait casting, forestry, nature study, conservation, pioneering, and all of the outdoor skills that enables Scouts to achieve their second class and first class ranks.

The troops' Scoutmasters will be supported by a sixteen-man central camp staff for the summer season, Green said. Evening activities include several different kinds of campfire activities for fun and fellowship.

This week, Boy Scout Troop 634 is at Camp Tres Ritos. Closing campfires are held at the conclusion of the week-long stay and parents are invited to attend on Friday night at which time new candidates will be tapped out for the Order of Arrow.

Also on the program will be recognition of all badges and awards earned by the Scouts during their week at camp.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford

AUSTIN--Arrival at the mid-way mark in the 30-day special legislative session touched off an explosion of activity in key areas of spending, taxation and liquor-by-the-drink. Both House and Senate passed versions of the 1969 budget and went to conference committee to work out differences. House passed by a narrow margin (78 votes to 67) Gov. John Connally's bill to permit liquor by the drink sales in mini-bottles under taxation and strict regulation. House Revenue and Tax Committee sent out for debate and full House action Connally's $119 million tax package. This controversial measure hopefully will land in conference committee this week after amendments in both houses. Representatives voted overwhelmingly for a $474 million general revenue budget, senators for a $479.7 million general fund appropriations measure. House version would require $132.6 million in new revenue, Senate bill $137.9 million. All phases of Connally's tax liquor-by-the-drink legislation were designed to raise $127.2 million, so additional revenue must be found. House fought a bitter battle over the mini-bottles bill which was combined with proposals of a sub-committee for strengthening liquor laws. Tax on little bottles and increased fees will produce over $8 million. An additional $6.5 million would come from a gross receipts tax on private clubs, as called for in Connally's tax bill.

Bill also sets specifications for private clubs and raises fees, although it will allow managers and most other employees to issue guest cards to the drop-in trade and it authorizes credit card sales. Legislation would further permit 16-year-olds to sack beer in groceries and serve as bus-boys where mini-bottles are handled. It would outlaw gambling, increase punishment for permitting minors to buy or consume alcoholic beverages, raise beer dealers' license fees from $30 to $150, provide for faster sale of confiscated liquor by the state and make most of the Texas Liquor Control Board records available to public inspection. Barring logjams the legislature has a fair chance of beating its deadline and winding up most business in a single special session.

REGAL LILIES---This picture, taken at the Arnold Morris home in Muleshoe, shows a bed of Regal lilies in full bloom. Mr. and Mrs. Morris are retired and for their past time, enjoy raising flowers of different kinds. The Morris' have two children, Barbara Blackman, who works for the Pioneer Natural Gas Co. of Muleshoe and Marshal Morris of Marieta, Ga., who is manager of Hipeco Branch Plant of Marieta, Ga.

Margin on mini-bottles in the Senate is said to be even closer than in the House. Poll takers said 14 to 15 senators would be counted as sure supporters.

A sales tax increase to three percent is certain to figure in the final tax package. This whether the legislature votes a straight rate hike or goes along with Connally's plan to raise the rate and rebate 75 percent of the take to cities (in lieu of their present local option sales tax levy). Connally also proposes to put sales tax on many services and cigarettes.

Mini-bottles bill would make one-drink-sized containers available in licensed hotels, clubs, restaurants, planes and trains. Sellers would have to do at least a third as much business in food sales as on liquor. Mini-bottles probably will be expensive, since they would carry a tax of about 10 and a half cents each. Sellers will have to pay the state permit fees ranging from $500 in the smallest towns to $1,250 in cities over 250,000. Furthermore, cities and counties can match the charge.

GIN DUST--One of the differences between the Senate and House is whether the Texas Air Control Board is going to be allowed to require cotton gins to put in dust-abatement devices. Senate voted to strike out a "rider" which would prohibit the board from spending any money on activities connected with cotton gins. But the House voted to keep it in, by a vote of 95-47.

This prohibition was put into the present appropriations law in 1967. It led to a blast at the Legislature by some members of the Air Control Board. But a provision put into the air pollution control law in 1967 cannot be changed by this session of the Legislature... so it operates effectively to keep the Air Control Board out of the cotton business.

DRUNK TESTS ADVANCED--A bill to require those suspected of driving while intoxicated to submit to breath or blood tests on penalty of having their licenses suspended has been approved by the House State Affairs Committee.

Legislation provides that a driver gives implied consent to undergo chemical testing to determine if he is drunk when charged with the offense.

Most other states have similar laws as required by the 1966 federal highway safety act. Tests showing a blood content of one-tenth percent alcohol by weight would be prima facie evidence of being under the influence of alcohol. Arresting officers would have to appear in court. Those with religious objections to blood drawing could take a breath test.

RURAL ROADS--That long-quiet farm-to-market roads fuss has come back to life.

Some city legislators are pushing a bill to do away with the $15 million a year of general tax money which is being spent on rural roads. They want it spent on city streets. But their efforts have failed so far.

TAVERN "MONOPOLY"---Fort Worth Dist. Atty. Frank Coffey, testifying before a House committee on a bill to regulate vending machine companies under the Liquor Control Board, claimed a single coin machine concern controls hundreds of Texas taverns.

Coffey says 85 percent of taverns in Fort Worth owe money to the concern which operates under many names. He said the same conditions exist in most other cities. Vending machine chain, the district attorney testified, started with B & B Music Company in El Paso. Former LCB Administrator Coke Stevenson Jr. recommended regulation of the vending machine operators and that they be barred from the tavern business.

DRAFT QUOTA CUT--Texas draft quota for next month has been reduced by 266 men from June order to total of only 695.

However, State Selective Service headquarters reports that more than 5,300 will be called in for pre-induction physical and mental exams in July.

May call was 528 above the July figure, since additional manpower was needed for the Marine Corps. All July inductees will be for the Army.

COURTS SPEAK--U. S. Supreme Court has granted a stay of mandate in a lawsuit testing the constitutionality of Texas disturbing the peace law.

Three-judge Federal Court last April declared the law "impermissibly and unconstitutionally broad." Top Court said it would allow the law to remain in effect until it passes on the question.

Texas Supreme Court ordered a Harris County district court to have a new trial on the lawsuit by R. L. Foree and other operators in Haskell County seeking damages from Crown Central Petroleum Corp. Unusual in that the provision has never been used before is this suit for $89,000 in damages from a pipeline company. Plaintiffs content that they had to pay 11 cents a barrel to truck their oil to the pipeline over a period of five years. Law requires a common carrier-common purchaser pipeline to connect to leases of all operators in an area. Foree's case started in 1962, with a contention that Crown Central had discriminated against the group of independent operators in Haskell County.

Lower courts turned the independents down without a trial. But Chief Justice Robert W. Calvert held that they were in error, and the high court ordered a full new trial on the merits. Plaintiffs' wells were connected up in 1964 after the cases were started, but the operators still are trying to get back their hauling money in the form of damages.

APPOINTMENTS - Governor Connally named Louis Henna of Round Rock to a new term on Texas Youth Council. He has served 15 years.

Connally also reappointed C. T. Parker, A. J. Farfel and Mrs. Gus Wortham of Houston to the University of Houston board of regents.

M. M. Jackson of Mexia was selected as president of Texas' branch of the National Association of Postal Supervisors.

Dr. Charles D. Barnett, deputy state commissioner for mental retardation has been named vice president of the National Association of Coordinators of State programs for the Mentally Retarded.

ATTACK PLAN--Gov. John Connally has adopted an emergency - resources management plan for the state to be used in the event of an enemy attack. Plan was developed by a special resources organization coordinated by Maj. Gen. James E. Taylor.

Connally issued an executive order assigning responsibilities for carrying out the plan to state officials, agencies, professional groups and private business institutions. Overall coordination of activities under the plan is assigned to the director of the Department of Public Safety. Col. Wilson E. Speir, acting director of Texas Department of Public Safety, played a major role in its development.

Plan was financed through the federal Office of Emergency Planning.

NATURAL - FIBERS INDUSTRY--State Agriculture Commissioner John C. White has released the results of an evaluation of the natural-fibers industry in Texas. Evaluation was ordered by a legislative committee to determine the impact of cotton, wool and mohair on the state economy.

Evaluation says that the three natural fibers -- their growth on the farm and related agribusinesses of transporting, processing and distribution -- are of "vital importance in maintaining a balanced agricultural production, effective land utilization and support of the rural economy of society in general."

Texas leads all states in the production in each of the three natural fibers.

SHORT SNORTS--State Banking Board received application for a new Bank of North Texas in Hurst.

Pasadena Savings Association wants a branch office in Deer Park and a hearing has been set for September 5.

U. S. Department of Agriculture reports South Texas crops doing fine, but cotton, sorghum and other crops on the High Plains have been wrecked by weather.

Texas Railroad Commission raised July oil production to 3,055,344 barrels a day, after getting reports that imports of oil have been as high as was expected.

It has been some time since we have discussed the relations of the United States with the Soviet Union. Perhaps that is because we have been preoccupied in the foreign sphere with Vietnam where the influx of Soviet arms and equipment makes it very clear that our two nations are in direct opposition.

Also, it is clear to those of us on the Armed Services Committee that the Soviet Union's continuing buildup of sea and missile strength represents a threat and challenge to the United States' worldwide defensive posture.

There has been some talk around the world in the last year or so to the effect that the policies and aims of the Soviet Union have changed under its new leaders. Some diplomats on both sides of the Atlantic have claimed that they see evidence the Soviets are turning 180-degrees to a policy of seeking permanent peace for the world.

The record of the Soviets in the Middle East war caused a reassessment of this point of view. At a time that they were talking peace and detente in Europe, the Soviet leaders were arming Nasser and his colleagues. They encouraged the Arab leaders in their aggressive actions. They blocked diplomatic moves to avoid the war. They supported a ceasefire only when it became necessary for them to do so to save their Arab clients from further losses.

Then came the Glassboro conference. Kossygin was a gentleman. He did not bang his shoe on the table at the United Nations. Many hoped that the Soviet leaders had learned their lesson, and the spirit of Hollybush swept over the land. But it soon became apparent that, while the music was different, the words were the same.

More revealing were the actions of the Soviet leaders since Glassboro. Kossygin stopped to see Castro on his way back to Moscow. The Soviet Union sent millions of dollars in arms to build the shattered Arab armies. The Soviet Union is still providing 100 percent of the oil and 85 percent of all sophisticated military equipment for the armies of North Vietnam. The Soviet line against West Germany has perceptively hardened. The Soviet continues to build both offensive and defensive missiles.

This does not mean that the Soviet leaders have not changed. But what we must recognize is that the change is one of the head and not of the heart --- of necessity, not choice.

The Soviet leaders today have three major foreign policy objectives, as I see it.

They are still Communists, and they are committed to the goal of a communist world. They are battling the Chinese for leadership of that world. They want to achieve that goal without war. At the same time they want more economic progress at home. They will work with us only when doing so serves one or more of these three objectives.

In the light of this analysis, the policy America should follow, becomes, it seems to me, clear.

Militarily, we must recognize that we have not had a world war for twenty years because of America's military superiority. That superiority is now threatened, both because of Soviet progress in missile development and because of an attitude in U. S. policy circles that nuclear parity with the Soviet is enough. Because the primary Soviet goal is still victory rather than peace, we must never let the day come in a confrontation like Cuba and the Mid-East where they, rather than we, have military superiority. The cost of maintaining that superiority, including the development of an anti-missile capability, is a necessary investment in peace.

Economically, it may be possible for us to have a policy which encourages more trade with the Eastern European countries. We must recognize however, that to them trade is a political weapon. If we build bridges, we should build only our end of the bridge. For example, there should be no extension of long term credits or trade in strategic items with any nation, including the Soviet Union, which aids the enemy in North Vietnam.

Diplomatically, we should have discussions with the Soviet leaders at all levels to reduce the possibility of miscalculation and to explore the areas where bilateral agreements would reduce tensions. But we must always remember in such negotiations that our goal is different from theirs: We seek peace as an end in itself. They seek victory with peace being at this time a means toward their end.

In sum, we can live in peace with the Soviet Union but until they give up their goal for world conquest, it will be for them a peace of necessity and not of choice.

As we enter this last third of the twentieth century the hopes of the world rest with America. Whether peace and freedom survive in the world depends on American leadership.

Never has a nation had more leadership potential. Our economic and military superiority can be whatever we choose to make them. Most important, we are on the right side -- the side of freedom, peace and progress against the forces of totalitarianism, reaction and war.

This bonanza for the home town appliance dealer is a challenge to the management of Bailey County Electric Cooperative. This ever increasing demand for more electricity calls for ever larger services... bigger lines... heavier poles... larger transformers... more sub-stations. But the Bailey County Electric Cooperative will be ready with the power when you buy your next appliance, offering a low-cost dependable electric service that is Helping Texas Grow.

Five Rural Accidents Investigated

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated five accidents on rural highways in Bailey County during the month of May, according to Sergeant Thurman Keffer, Highway Patrol supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in no persons killed, one person injured and an estimated property damage of $3,590.

The rural traffic accident summary for this county during the first five months of 1968 shows a total of 23 accidents resulting in no persons killed, 12 persons injured, and an estimated property damage of $12,508.

During the next three months millions of motorists will be heading for the road on vacations and outings. More vehicles on the road mean congestion and congestion leads to accidents. In order to prevent accident-producing circumstances the Sergeant has listed some summer vacation driving tips:

1. Know and obey traffic laws and rules.
2. Maintain speeds consistent with legal limits and conditions.
3. Signal for turns in ample time and turn only from the proper lane.
4. Have yourself and your car under control at all times.
5. Be alert while passing, turning, pulling out, and backing.
6. Be courteous and considerate to all other drivers and pedestrians.

BAILEY COUNTY ELECTRIC COOPERATIVE ASSOCIATION

"The rest of the world seems to believe the United States has the sole responsibility for maintaining a balance between cotton supply and demand and that we should sacrifice our own interests to carry out that responsibility."

This is the impression gained by Donald A. Johnson, Executive Vice President of Plains Cotton Growers Inc., who just returned from Athens, Greece, where he attended meetings of both the International Cotton Advisory Committee and the International Institute for Cotton. Cotton leaders and government officials from some 50 countries were on hand.

Johnson said "Liberal U. S. foreign aid and trade policies of the past have led other cotton producing countries to feel we have an almost moral obligation to protect their cotton markets, whatever the cost to U. S. cotton producers, processors or taxpayers."

"And until we take the actions necessary to dispel that notion it is going to be extremely difficult for us to share in the world's increasing demand for textile fibers."

The ICAC is an association of governments having an interest in the production, export, import and consumption of cotton. It is designed to promote cooperation in the solution of cotton problems, particularly those of international scope and significance. It now has 42 member countries.

Johnson was invited by the U. S. Department of Agriculture to attend the Athens meeting as producer adviser to the official U. S. delegation.

"Despite a firm and highly commendable U. S. Cotton Policy Statement to the contrary, most of our foreign competitors are convinced we will continue to adjust our production in this country to suit the production plans of the rest of the world," Johnson observed.

The U. S. policy statement, presented by USDA's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service Administrator Horace Godfrey, pointed out that the U. S. has been almost totally responsible for bringing world cotton carryover down to a "reasonably satisfactory" level.

On August 1, 1966 cotton carried over by all countries totaled 30.5 million bales. The figure is expected to be down to 20.5 million by August 1 of this year, largely as a result of reduced production in the U. S. from almost 15 million bales in 1965 to 9.7 million in 1966 and about 7.5 million last year.

"This adjustment program has required severe sacrifices in the United States," Godfrey said. "The reduction has had widespread community effects, especially in reducing the volume of business for ginners, buyers, machinery dealers, fertilizer and pesticide firms and cottonseed oil mills."

Later in his report Godfrey said "The United States has every intention of sharing in the improvement of the world cotton situation which has been brought about to such a significant extent through our own efforts. We are not satisfied with the current level of U. S. cotton exports. We intend to continue to take vigorous steps to export more cotton in the future."

If taken at face value this should put foreign cotton producing countries on notice that the U. S. will no longer be content to remain the "residual supplier" in world markets.

But Johnson does not believe this statement of policy alone is going to convince anyone.

"We've got to show the rest of the world we mean business. We've got to produce enough cotton to meet a larger share of world demand and we've got to adopt what some will call cold-blooded sales policies that will move our production into world markets. If we do this we can return to a more normal level of production in the U. S. without creating a surplus, and other countries will be obliged to accept their part of the responsibility for maintaining a supply-demand balance."

Specifically, Johnson referred to the need for improvements in U. S. cotton quality, bale packaging, credit arrangements, arbitration procedures, technical services and the expanded use of trade teams.

He said "When we begin to use these sales tools to the fullest we may be able to convince foreign cotton producers that we are in the export market to stay and that we aren't going to sacrifice our own producers and processors to their expansion plans."

RED RAIDERS ARRIVE---Texas Tech Red Raiders came to Muleshoe for a day of entertainment Tuesday. They were officially welcomed by Mayor pro-tem Irvin St. Clair and a group of Muleshoe Ambassadors and Ambassadors, Chamber of Commerce representatives and businessmen. Among the visitors were Leete Jackson, L. Edwin Smith, Major Don Brown, Joe Winegar, Col. Henry Gantz, Gerald Coppege, Frank Church, Gene Henderson, Ralph Carpenter, Clyde Prestwood, Bradley Mills, Burl Bartlett, Gene Gibson, Don Henry, Sammy Smith and "Mule" Dowell. The members of the welcoming committee are scattered among the visiting group at random in the picture. The visitors were guests of the Lions Club, Rotarians and Jaycees for a noon luncheon. They spent the afternoon golfing and a free barbecue was served to the visitors and interested public provided by First National Bank, Muleshoe State Bank and Muleshoe Publishing Company.

Cotton, an organization of cotton exporting countries who contribute $1 per bale on exports toward international cotton research and promotion, held its annual meeting immediately prior to the ICAC meeting.

Johnson was favorably impressed with IIC reports on programs of technical and market research, promotion and public relations.

He said "Several of the programs started by IIC have been adopted by large fabric and apparel merchandisers in Japan and other countries, and that is about the finest compliment IIC could have."

On the return trip from Athens Johnson visited with cotton and textile leaders in Milan, Italy; Zurich and Winterthur, Switzerland; Amsterdam, Holland; Bremen, Germany and London, England.

The Sandhills Philosopher

(Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm takes a minor look at the tax situation this week, more or less.)

Dear editor:

I don't know that this is very important, but there are so many starkly important things staring us in the face from one side of the world to the other these days that when a man runs across an unimportant one he ought to grab hold of it. There aren't too many of them left.

At any rate, I read an article on an inside page of a newspaper last night about a motorist in England who refused to pay a 12-cent toll to cross a bridge, because, he said, the tax was imposed 900 years ago by King Canute and couldn't possibly apply to a modern automobile. Despite the fact that since the year 1023 people have continued to pay the tax, he said, 900 years is long enough and he refused to pay. Of course they took him to court and made him pay anyway.

Clearly that man doesn't know the first thing about taxation. He should have been grateful that King Canute thought up the idea of charging him only for crossing the bridge. Had Canute been on the ball he would have taxed a man to come onto the bridge, then taxed him an equal amount to get off the other end. Have you got time to figure up how much tax money England would have brought in during the past 900 years if that bridge tax had been 24 cents instead of 12 cents? Probably could have made enough to have left the tax off tea and saved us the trouble of holding Presidential elections.

Another thing that man doesn't know about taxation is that a tax's age has nothing to do with it. The longer ago a tax was thought up, the more used to it people become and the easier it is to collect. The easiest tax to collect is one that was thought up and put into effect before you were born.

If we're smart we'll be figuring out some taxes now to go into effect just before the next generation arrives.

The fact that King Canute may have told his people that bridge tax was just a temporary measure till England got on its feet, has nothing to do with it. Any man who has studied the matter knows that there's nothing more temporary than a permanent wave or more permanent than a temporary tax.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Veterans

Some World War II veterans still have more than two years to obtain GI guaranteed or insured loans, Jack Coker, Manager of the Veterans Administration Regional Office in Waco said today.

Final deadline for World War II eligibility is July 25, 1970, he said.

Those eligible may obtain a guaranteed loan to purchase a home, a farm, or to buy or start a business.

Eligibility has been expiring for World War II veterans according to a formula that adds 10 years to the date of their discharge from active wartime service, plus one year for each 90 days of that service plus four days for each additional day of active duty. The date reached by this formula is the individual deadline date for each veteran.

Thus eligibility has already expired for most World War II veterans, but the program will end for all on July 25, 1970.

World War II veterans who were discharged for a service-connected disability will be eligible until the final termination date of July 25, 1970; this also applies to widows of veterans who died of service-connected disabilities.

Coker invited World War II veterans to visit or call the Waco VA Regional Office for answers to any questions they may have concerning the GI loan entitlement.

Loan applications are ordinarily sent to the VA lenders. The veteran, therefore, should see that his loan application reached the VA before his entitlement expires, Coker said.

 A man from the country saw an article in a music shop, but could not understand the purpose for which it was used.
 "What is that thing for?" he asked the shop assistant.
 "That sir, is a chin rest," he was told. "It is used quite a lot by lady violinists."
 The man from the country gave a cry of joy. "Give me one" he said. Then after a slight pause, he added. "No, I'll take two. We've got the wife's mother staying with us!"
