Vickie Reagor chosen homecoming queen

A week of excitement and anticipation culminated in the crowning of a happy and excited homecoming queen while the Lion varsity football team suffered a disappointing loss to Greenwood Friday night.

Vickie Reagor, a senior and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Reagor, won the homecoming queen's crown. Vickie, an honor student and three-year cheerleader, was escorted by James Sanchez, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Sanchez.

"I was really surprised," Vickie said. "I really didn't expect it."

The four duchesses, accompanied by their escorts, gathered near the football field's sidelines for the crowning minutes before the game's kick-off. The Ozona Lion Band stood at attention on the field behind the nominees. A large mass of purple and gold balloons clustered along the fence top was turned loose to quickly float up and away immediately after the crowning.

Students, parents and exes, who had returned home for the occasion, paused for the big moment while the band played.

In addition to Queen Vickie, duchesses were Esme Borrego, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Borrego, who was escorted by Butch Gonzales, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Vargas and Alma Gutierrez, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Juan Gutierrez. Alma was escorted by Abel Lara, the son of Rosendo Lara. Janet Diaz, granddaughter of Mrs. Rosa Diaz, was escorted by Sam Hightower, son of Mr. and Mrs. Royce Hightower.

All the girls are seniors as are their escorts, the football captains.

The week had been crammed with activities designed to boost Lion spirit beginning Monday, Sept. 29, when Peter Shacklette and Loretta Ledbetter took the Mr. and Miss Slob titles. Tuesday was designated Hillbilly Day. Jesse Fierro and Angel Henderson captured the Mr. and Miss Hillbilly awards.

Rodney Beasley and Trebie West showed their homecoming spirit for 50's Day on Wednesday and took the Mr. and Miss honors for that day. Thursday's specialty was clashing costumes and colors. Roger Flores and Adriane Wilson won the Mr. and Miss Clash titles.

Tradition reigned Friday with Lion Purple and Gold. Randi Thompson and Tracy Henry received spirit awards for their renditions of Purple and Gold spirit. Mr. and Miss Spirit awards went to Roger Flores and Randi Thompson for their week-long sustained efforts to build school spirit.

A bonfire on a Little League practice field just north of Ozona Thursday night featured a Greenwood Ranger burned in effigy beside a mock outhouse atop a huge pile of scrap lumber.

Most of the high school students and many parents were in attendance. Coach Pete Maldonado spoke about the need for building and maintaining intensity throughout the Greenwood football game.

Head Coach Jim Green spoke of home, one's desire to return home when one has been away, and homecoming.

Despite the week-long efforts to build spirit and intensity, the Lion football team failed to tally enough points to win the homecoming game, finishing 6-30.

A homecoming dance Saturday night was the final activity for the week. Dr. Toons furnished the music. Several Ozona exes were on hand as well as current students.

Ozona Junior High joined the festivities with special day designations of their own.

Wednesday was proclaimed Hawaiian Day. Grass skirts, leis and hibiscus flowers pinned in hair-do's were commonplace.

Hair-do Day was celebrated Thursday with various wild creations in assorted colors sported by both boys and girls.

The junior high student body was a sea of purple and gold Friday as they joined the high school students in Purple and Gold Day. No pep rally was held at the junior high, so no spirit awards were made.

Ozona High School senior Vickie Reagor was crowned homecoming queen during pre-game ceremonies Oct. 3 in Lion Stadium. One of four candidates, she was selected for the honor by members of the Lion football team.

Childress receives Excellence in Grazing award from TSSRM

Pleas Childress III was recognized Oct. 4 in San Angelo as one of the recipients of the Excellence in Grazing Management Award. This award was presented at the annual meeting of the Texas Section Society for Range Management.

The excellence in grazing management award is presented to those ranchers that the TSSRM feels are doing an outstanding job in range and ranch management. Nominations are sent in to a committee of the TSSRM each year. The committee evaluates the nominations and selects only those that are doing an excellent job and setting examples for others to follow.

Pleas was selected because he has done a superior job of range and ranch management and has actively promoted range management and other related activities. His understanding and wise use of natural resources have helped him gain a better appreciation of the land.

The TSSRM is proud to make these award presentations, as ranchers like Pleas are the ones actually on the land ensuring that productive rangelands will be here for future generations. The TSSRM had no reservations in presenting Pleas this award as he will undoubtedly continue his excellence in grazing management.

Please Childress III was the recipient of an Excellence in Grazing Management award Oct. 4 in San Angelo. The award was presented by the Texas Section Society for Range Management. Pictured with Childress is his wife, Sandra.

Lions lose homecoming game

By T. C. TUCKER

The Ozona Lions are faced with the situation of picking themselves up after losing last Friday in the 1986 homecoming game to the Greenwood Rangers 6-30. A game better left to the history books.

Greenwood controlled the tempo of the game throughout, scoring on their first possession after driving 74 yards down the field. The Lions countered with a drive to the Rangers' 31, but failed to get any closer. Greenwood followed with another touchdown and a 12 point lead at halftime.

The same pattern followed in the second half with Ozona not able to move the ball on offense and failing to control Greenwood's offensive drives.

Sam Hightower felt pressure all night from the Ranger defense and completed only six of 19 passes. Greenwood kept to the ground though, gaining 358 yards on rushing alone.

After scoring early in the third quarter, Greenwood moved down field once again on their next possession. However, Abel Lara's recovery of a Ranger fumble stopped that drive.

The defense, led by Sub Fierro, James Sanchez and Roger Flores, held the Rangers on the goal line twice in the fourth quarter, but both times Greenwood succeeded in crossing into the six-point territory.

The bright spot for Ozona came late in the game when the Lions took control of the ball on their own 28.

The first three plays ended for the worse for Ozona. But a few penalties, key passing and scrambling on the part of quarterback Copie Davis helped the Lions to within 18 yards of the goal. Then, a Davis pass near the end zone went through a series of tips off the hands of receivers and defenders alike. Harvey Dominguez came down possessing the ball and scrambled the four yards into the end zone. The extra point failed, and 53 seconds later the clock expired with Greenwood on top 30-6.

After this loss and a similar defeat by McCamey the week before, the Lions will have to bounce back and prepare for their tough district opponents.

"We'll have to play with more intensity," said Coach Jim Green.

Friday, Oct. 10, the Lions will see if they can get back in the swing of things, but it will not prove an easy task. Their first district opponent, Forsan, holds an impressive 5-0 record, and Stanton and Big Lake have proven they can play with the big guys as well.

The Lions will travel to Forsan after ending non-district play with a 2-3 record.

"I CAN'T THINK OF AN EXPERIENCE MORE ENRICHING FOR OUR YOUNG PEOPLE."

Plentiful rains bring needed moisture to Crockett County

Heavy rains brought up to nine inches of moisture to parts of Crockett County Saturday and Sunday, and temperatures in the 50's reminded residents that winter is on the way.

Extensive damage was reported to Taylor Box Road at the Buddy Moore Ranch. A portion of the roadway 30-40 yards long washed out and left a six foot drop from the center of the road and into the bar ditch.

Taylor Box Draw and Dry Devil's River draw ran big in the same area. Many ranches were cut off following rains such as the nine inches reported at Dorothy Friend's.

River Road in western Crockett County was under water in places due to the Pecos River being out of its banks. The river was reported over the bridge between Ozona and Sheffield at one time.

As much as 10 inches of rain in northern Val Verde County put the Devil's River on a 10 foot rise and contributed to the closing of Hwy. 163 out of Ozona. Mayfield's Country Store reported 6 1/2 inches.

Draws in the north and northwest parts of Crockett County ran with extremely wet conditions in the 09 Road area with two to three inches of rain reported. Powell Field had three to four inches.

The Kincaid Road area south of town received up to six inches with draw crossings running and very wet road conditions. Some roads were impassable.

Gurley Draw ran Sunday, and street crossings were impassable in the south and southeast sides of Ozona. The draw that runs by the cemetery carried a lot of water and washed down part of the cemetery fence.

Crockett County Road Department's gauge received more than six inches of rain from Thursday night, Oct. 2, through Sunday night, Oct. 5.

Filling the gaps

By Rev. Jim Gray

Recently I read an article about the role of deacons in the church. Most of the ideas expressed in the article apply to all members of the body of Christ - the Church. As I state some of the ideas, please substitute in your mind "churches" or "church members" for deacons.

Without question, the deacon must pray with and for his pastor. Most importantly, however, I believe the deacon must fill in the gaps in the pastor's ministry and leadership roles. The following key points lead to this conclusion:

•Pastors are only men (human) and they simply cannot be everything to everyone in the church. There will be gaps, unfulfilled needs, in the body. Deacons must fill the gaps, not enlarge them.

•In Acts 6:1, the need requiring selection of the first deacons was unrest arising because some members were being neglected. I believe this is illustrative of many needs that are neglected, leaving gaps in the ministry of our pastors. Deacons must address this unintended neglect in their churches; that's why they were called to be deacons.

•As pointed out so clearly in Ephesians 4:11-16, "...every part (of the body) does its share..." Because God, through His Holy Spirit, has gifted each of us to fill a specific role in the body. No one, not even a pastor, has all the gifts. He can't fill all the gaps.

If deacons (all Christians) will fulfill this role of filling the gaps, we'll see the Holy Spirit working with greater power in our churches.

Sunday, I brought a hammer and screwdriver to church and used them to illustrate to our children that like these tools, we are all different, but that God uses each one of us and that no one part of the body of Christ is more important than another.

Will you "fill the gap" at your church?

Any word from the Lord?

EDITOR'S NOTE:

This column is resumed after a summer absence.

America, for the past few years, has experienced a drought. The land has not been parched due to a lack of water, nor have the fields of amber grains failed to harvest. The fields have produced, and the rains have fallen. The problem has been a dearth of God's living Word.

It is amazing how the prophecies of God's spokesmen millenniums ago speak to the present hour. Listen to Amos, the shepherd turned prophet, "Behold, days are coming, declares the Lord God, when I will send a famine on the land, not a famine for bread or a thirst for water, but rather for hearing the words of the Lord" (Amos 8:11).

Those days have cycled in and out for literally generations. Periodically, there have been some that pushed out the message of the Lord, even some of the religious leaders. God has spoken, but preachers have not always echoed His Word. The past few years have been such a time.

A recent study cites the results of a survey of ministers. They were asked to answer this question, "Do you believe the Bible is the inspired word of God?" 89 percent of the Episcopal ministers said, "No". So did 82 percent of the Methodist, 81 percent of the Presbyterians, 57 percent of the Baptist and 57 percent of the Lutherans. With this kind of people in the pulpits across the land, is there any question about the spiritual famine we are having?

When mainline denominational preachers do not believe that the Bible is the inspired Word of God, they certainly aren't going to preach it. What then do they preach? How about positive living, self improvement and pop psychology for a start? The only good thing that is reflected in that survey is that 11 percent of the Episcopallians, 18 percent of the Methodists, 19 percent of the Presbyterians and 43 percent of the Baptist and Lutheran ministers still believe that the Bible is inspired. Either that or they didn't respond to the survey. I'd like to believe the former!

Liberals, in every church, have pushed their blatant unbelief down the throats of churchgoers until they stop going. These people are militant. There are severe problems of unbelief in every religious group.

Jesus said, "If you abide in My word, then are you truly disciples of Mine; and you shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free" (John 8:31f). Disciples of Christ are born of the Word of God, by it they grow. When the Word is not believed and preached, there are no births, and no growth. Fairy tales, political poppycock, and social services can not, must not, take the place of God's Word. The Apostle Paul gave inspired instruction to Timothy the preacher when he said, "Preach the Word!" (2 Tim. 4:2).

Every man, woman and child has the right to hear God's message. When people assemble to worship, I think they have an inner yearning that asks, "Is there any word from the Lord?" Those who preach must respond with a "Thus saith the Lord".

But our faith must move from the sanctuary into the street. Preachers who believe that the Bible is the inspired Word of God can, and will, deliver its pure water to thirsty souls. Preachers who don't believe should vacate the pulpit. Jesus said, "...the words that I have spoken to you are spirit and are life" (John 6:63). Christ speaks to our composite needs, and wise men still seek and preach Him.

Is there any word from the Lord? Indeed! It is life giving word. If you haven't heard it, I'd be honored to tell you.

CROCKETT COUNTY OUTDOORS

by Rod Chalmers

"How 'the deer look this year?', seems to be the standard coffee shop question thrown up to Wardens throughout Texas this time of year. So for those of you who are interested (and we're glad you're interested) but don't get a chance to ask personally, I'll take a little space to fill you in on the status of the Crockett County deer herd.

But first, let me explain that Texas Game Wardens are policemen, primarily. Our Texas Parks & Wildlife Department biologists are the ones who do the deer census and advise landowners and hunters on harvest recommendations, and that is their job, primarily. They, by all rights, should have a better handle on population data, trends, and figures regarding whether or not to kill spikes or how many "mama deers" you should remove from the herd. There's a Wildlife Technician in Sonora, Mary Haecker, who would, I'm sure, be happy to relate current census data and harvest recommendations to anyone interested. However, since Mary's over there, and you're here, and your Game Warden has been on a few spotlight deer counts himself, I'll go ahead and pass on some observations of my own, for whatever you might get out of it.

Generally speaking, if the '85-86 season was a good one for deer, this season should be super. Body condition is good, thanks to abnormally high summer rainfall and what appears to be a bumper crop of acorns already falling in the liveoak-studded areas of the county. Antler size is impressive, partly due to the good range conditions and partly due to the fact that the number of bucks killed in this area in '85-86 was down. That lack of hunting pressure last season, due to the economy and contrary weather, no doubt gave more bucks another year to grow, and age is a necessity in good antler development. It just seems to take that third or fourth year for a buck to reach the maturity needed to develop a "trophy" rack. Numbers of deer are up, thanks to a 75 percent fawn crop in '84 and a 100 percent crop in '85. Our spotlight census indicates about a 55-65 percent fawn crop this year, but that's deceiving as there are so many yearling does out there that are not really supposed to have fawns this year. And some of those yearling "does" are really yearling bucks with horns so short they can't be seen 100 yards out with a spotlight. Take my word for it, deer numbers are increasing.

Now for the bad news, if you want to call it that. The adequate food supply and cover are gonna make hunting tough. The deer won't have to forage long or far in search of groceries, and consequently you might not "see" as many deer as you're accustomed to. And you'll see a lot of small bucks - yearling deer with their first set of antlers. Remember those high fawn crops? And there are more big bucks out there that have had an extra season or two to get wise to the ways of the one-a-year rifle-packer.

Finally, the rapid increase in population makes it imperative that we harvest at least a portion of our antlerless deer. Lots of healthy adult deer make lots of baby deer! If we should hit a dry year in the near future, Heaven forbid, we're not going to be able to carry what we've accumulated, and then the inevitable disaster hits...die off. Death by starvation is much worse, they tell me, than by a bullet. Prepare for the future - harvest some surplus does, and do it early in the season while they're still fat and we can save some browse for those remaining.

Now please don't call and ask me, or the biologist, how many bucks or does you should take off your ranch or lease. That information can only be derived from a census and management plan done for your individual place. Every place is different. I've only given you an overall picture of most of the county. A lack of rainfall and/or excessive grazing could create a radical departure from the norm. If you're really interested in a deer management plan for your land, get in touch with me and I'll get you in touch with the folks that can help you with that sort of thing.

It's come to my attention that there are a number of landowners having trouble finding hunters for this season. The Texas Parks & Wildlife Department's new Deer Hunting Lease Registry might be of some help to both parties.

The Registry was established to assist hunters in finding a place to hunt while offering the landowners the opportunity to generate additional income through hunting leases. The TPWD is merely a clearinghouse for hunter/landowner contacts and is not responsible for subsequent negotiations. Hunters and landowners desiring information can contact TPWD, 4200 Smith School Road, Austin, 78744, or call 1-800-792-1112. Texas is divided into regions, and Crockett County is included in the Central Region.

Sonora field day on tap Oct. 14

Local ranchers can catch up on the latest developments in Range Research Tuesday, Oct. 14, when the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station holds a grazing management field day.

The field day, the first in many years, is set to begin with an 8:30-9:30 registration and coffee session at the Experiment Station located on Highway 55 between Sonora and Rocksprings.

According to Dr. Charles Taylor, superintendent of the Sonora Station, the day's format will consist of a short presentation starting at 9:30 a.m. followed by lunch and an afternoon program of discussion and hands-on demonstration work including range evaluation, prescribed burning, and grazing systems.

"We are striving to meet several objectives during the field day," said Taylor. "First, we will be presenting and discussing current research results which emphasize proper grazing management and profitability. We also will discuss the direction of future research programs and explain our justification for that direction. Finally, we will present several new ideas concerning care and evaluation of range vegetation and site condition."

Some of the topics addressed during the day will include: History of Ranching in the Edwards Plateau, An Economic Analysis of Grazing Systems and Stocking Rates, Proper Grazing Management, Range Improvement, Grazing Management as it Affects Vegetation, Soil and Water and the Influence of Hoof Action on Water Infiltration and Soil Erosion.

Following the afternoon tour, the day's activities are set to conclude around 4:00 p.m.

TSGRA directors to meet in Ozona

The fall meeting of the Texas Sheep & Goat Raisers' Association directors will be Saturday, Oct. 11, in the Ozona Civic Center. Registration will begin at 9:00 a.m. with committees to meet at 9:30 a.m.

First will be the Predator Committee followed by: marketing, health, natural resources and tax and labor.

Local volunteers observe annual National Fire Prevention Week

Members of the Ozona Volunteer Fire Department are joining other firemen around the nation in special observances during Fire Prevention Week Oct. 5-11, 1986. This year marks the 75th anniversary of a national fire prevention observance.

In 1911, the Fire Marshals Association of North America suggested that the 40th anniversary of the Great Chicago Fire (Oct. 9, 1891) be set aside to advise the general public about the need for fire prevention. On Oct. 9, 1920, President Woodrow Wilson issued the first national Fire Prevention Day proclamation.

President Warren G. Harding proclaimed the first Fire Prevention Week Oct. 2-9, 1922.

Ozona volunteers will be conducting drills and demonstrations at Ozona Intermediate School Thursday as part of the observance. Department members will also give a program during the Thursday Lions' Club meeting.

Since 1978, there has been a 32 percent decrease in the number of people who die in home fires each year. Students and their parents are taught Learn Not To Burn firesafety methods through classroom curriculum and special observances such as Fire Prevention Week.

Installing and maintaining smoke detectors, knowledge of exits in the home and workplace and demanding the protection you deserve in public places are all part of firesafety.

Firesafe cooking and smoking practices and knowing how to "stop, drop and roll" and "cool a burn" make firesafety difference.

Supporting your local fire department year-round helps make every week "Fire Prevention Week".

Craft projects feature birds

Birds of all sizes and colors were started in Monday morning's craft class. Materials used to make the birds consisted of pinecones, pinecone petals, large beads, yellow felt, spray paint, glue and glitter. Residents attending the class were Juana Hernandez, Ola Mills, Tomasa Ramos, Doris Robnett, Pauline Clinton, Edna Wallace and Moriama Perez.

A game of ring toss followed Monday afternoon's exercise class. Juana Hernandez made it look so easy to aim a ringer that I tried my hand at it. Guess what. It's not as easy as it looks. Residents participating were Juana Hernandez, Tomasa Ramos, Lucia Rios, Moriama Perez, Jesus Hernandez, Elza Bishop, Virginia Hoover, Pauline Clinton, Edna Wallace and Ola Mills. Volunteers were Angie and Matthew Marshall.

Ola Mills won the first place prize of an El Chato's gift certificate in Tuesday morning's bingo. Other winners included Tomasa Ramos, Theo Burns, Doris Robnett, Emma Taylor, Pauline Clinton, Minnie Karr, and Charles Watson. Volunteers were Sophie Kyle, Georgia Kirby, Lillian Tambunga, Dorothy Doll and Mattie Cooper.

Kilpatrick and John Babb did a lot of pickin' and grinnin'. It was a very delightful evening, and we would like to thank the band members and the visitors for sharing their time and talents with us.

Wednesday morning's ceramic workshop was attended by Juana Hernandez, Tomasa Ramos, Ola Mills and Moriama Perez. Volunteers were Marie Pierson, Ruth Hester and Mattie Cooper.

Glitter was added to the pinecone birds in Wednesday afternoon's craft class. Residents decided the birds would make beautiful Christmas tree ornaments. Residents adding just the right amount of sparkle to each bird were Lucia Rios, Tomasa Ramos, Ola Mills, Pauline Clinton, Moriama Perez, Juana Hernandez and Virginia Hoover.

Clara B. Freeman and Clara Byrd delighted residents by playing the piano and organ Thursday morning after beauty shop. Volunteers for the beauty shop were: Clara Byrd, Vivian Hughes, Melinda Hokit, Lola Rios and JoAnn Williamson.

Mid-week Bible study was presented by Jim Gray of First Baptist Church and Carlos Venegas of the Temple of Jerusalem Baptist. Naomie Gonzales played the piano and hymns were sung in English and Spanish.

The Spanish Hour of Praise wrapped up the day's activities with a large number of visitors present. Heriberto Gutierrez played the guitar while residents and visitors sang hymns.

Volunteers for Friday's bingo were Dorothy Doll, Mattie Cooper and Lillian Tambunga. Two special games were played. One was for a beaded necklace won by Tomasa Ramos, and the other for a polished stone heart necklace won by Theo Burns. The first place prize winner of a Clayton's gift certificate was Minnie Karr. Other winners included Juana Hernandez, Pauline Clinton and Ola Mills.

Residents were busy working on their pinatas Friday afternoon. With the Arts and Crafts Guild sale right around the corner, the residents are wasting no time. Residents hard at work to complete their projects were: Moriama Perez, Juana Hernandez, Ola Mills, Tomasa Ramos, Pauline Clinton and Virginia Hoover. Volunteers were Angie and Matthew Marshall.

Sunday's worship service was presented by Rev. Ken Harrison of Ozona United Methodist Church. Communion was offered and hymns were sung. A short visitation followed.

We would like to thank all those who brought pinecones, spray paint and other craft material. We appreciate it. We would also like to thank the ladies who took time out of their busy day to tear newspapers for us. We could not have finished our pinatas without your help.

Cross country teams off and running

The girls and boys' cross country teams traveled to Big Spring Saturday, Oct. 4, to compete in their first cross country meet of the season. Because of the inclement weather, many of the scheduled teams did not compete.

Ozona competed against Abilene High, Abilene Cooper, Midland High, Odessa High, Irion County, Lockney, San Angelo Central, Big Spring and Andrews.

In the girls' division, there were more than 35 participants, and in the boys' division, there were more than 50 competitors.

Due to the bad weather and course conditions, the starting time was moved up. The Ozona teams were not notified, and they started at the rear of the pack. Maria Sanchez started some 100 yards behind.

The boys' three-mile race was shortened to two miles without Ozona's knowledge. These two facts probably kept the local teams from placing even higher.

The individual team members placed as follows:

5 Maria Sanchez, 10 Diana Sanchez, 16 Tricia Ethridge, 21 Lanessa Porter, 25 Sarah Pullen, 5 Danny Sanchez, 22 Louis Rico, 30 Johnny Lambrano, 37 Jason Montgomery, 42 Mark Trujillo.

Medals were given to the top twenty finishers in each division.

Students plan menus FFA turkey sales

This year, National School Lunch Week is Oct. 12-18. The week pays tribute to the importance of a healthy and satisfying noon meal with the theme: "It Makes a World of Difference".

A nutritious lunch does make a world of difference to your body. Without adequate nutrients from all the food you consume during the day - including breakfast, lunch, dinner and snacks - your body will never be able to perform at its best. Whether you choose a hot cafeteria lunch or bring a sack lunch from home, make sure it supplies a variety of energy rich foods from the Four Basic Food Groups.

The Occupational Home Economics 3 and 4 class has just completed a unit of study about eating meals away from home which involved school meals. Donna Morris, Loretta Ledbetter and Vicky Villarreal worked together to plan the menus for the school cafeteria during National School Lunch Week.

Cafeteria director Mrs. Curtis Keith explained to Mrs. David North's sixth period class how the cafeteria operates and the guidelines that she must follow for students to have a nutritious noon meal.

Cooking in the cafeteria, with nutrition in mind, may seem like an easy job, but the students discovered that there were certain guidelines and limitations that must be considered when planning. Among these were the government foods to be used, the fact that 720 people must like the food and that it must be transported to the other schools.

"The students and I were surprised at everything it takes to prepare one meal, including the planning and the work," said Mrs. North. "It gave us a better appreciation of the cafeteria meals."

Mrs. Keith and the cafeteria workers checked the menus to make sure they met the guidelines and were workable before giving them the final okay.

The members of the OHE 3 and 4 class plan to eat the meals they helped plan and hope all the other students will, too.

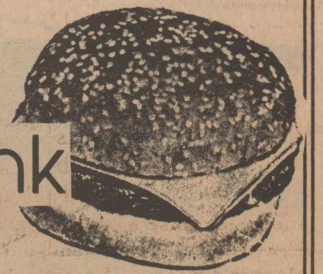

FFA members began their turkey sales Oct. 7 and will continue through Nov. 4. Whole and half turkeys and turkey breasts may be ordered for Nov. 24 delivery.

Chapter members will also be selling hams, sausage patties and links.

If you wish to purchase any of these meats, you may do so by contacting any FFA member or by stopping by or calling the Ozona High School Ag. Department at 392-5501.

National 4-H Week

Volunteer 4-H Leaders

Volunteer 4-H leaders are the backbone of any successful 4-H program. Leaders are responsible for keeping the program relevant to the local community needs and for sharing skills and experiences by assisting youth in 4-H projects.

Volunteers do not have to be experts in specialized subject matter areas. They can rely on the Extension Service staff and Texas A&M University (the state's land grant university) to provide them with training, educational materials, and resources to use in the 4-H program.

Nationwide, the 4-H volunteer corps is 600,000. Volunteers contribute time, travel, and support valued at $1 billion annually. Volunteers deliver practical educational experiences for some 4.3 million 4-H members in the U.S.

The 4-H program provides many opportunities for growth and stimulation for adults and helps them attain enjoyment and self-fulfillment.

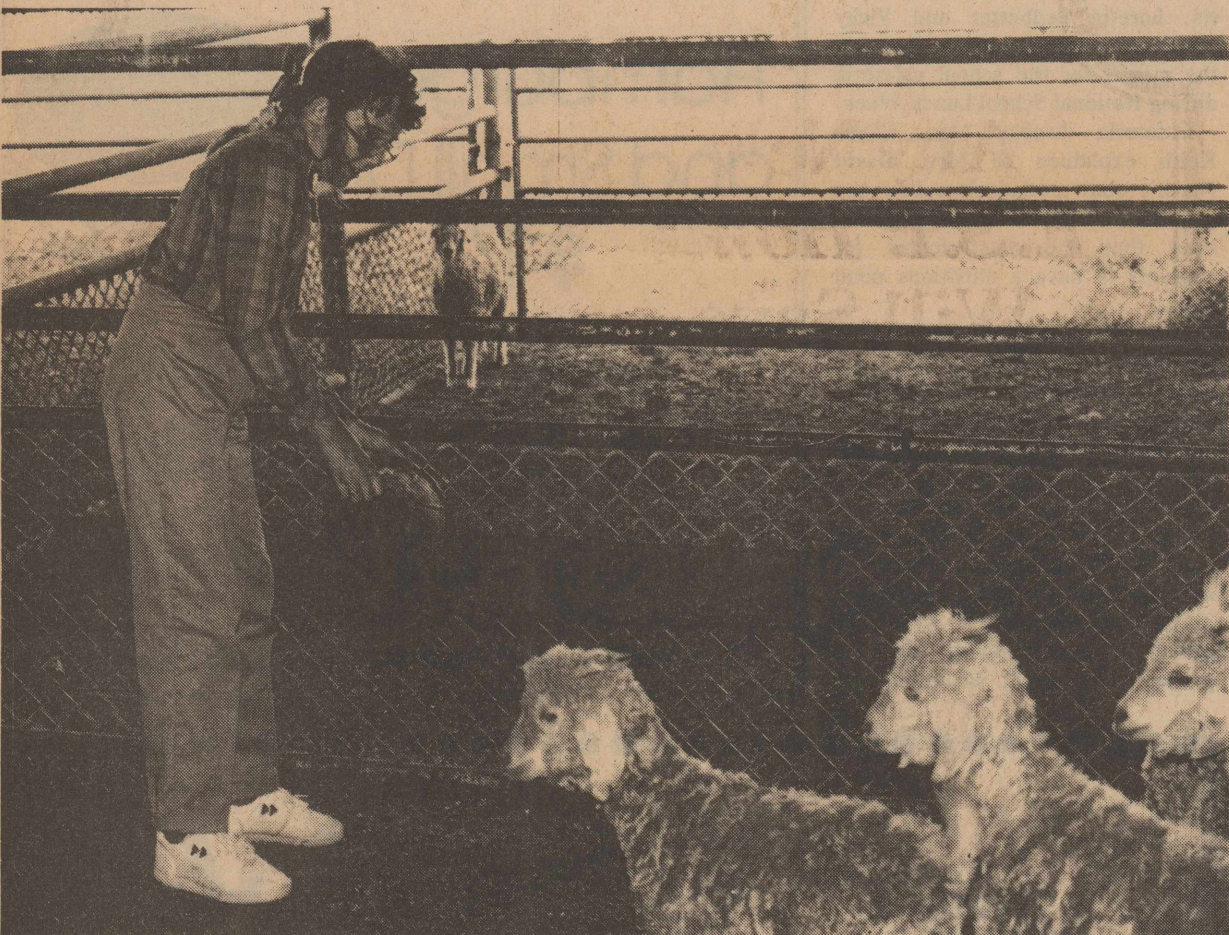

FALL 4-H PROJECTS-Horse-Shelly Conners, Tom Martin, Nathan Hubbard, Bonnie Martin, Andy Coates and Mindy Coates; 25 are participating in horse projects.

FALL 4-H PROJECTS - Foods & Nutrition - Mindy Chandler (leader); 95 are participating in project. Coates, April Graham, Kellye Robinson, Janie

FALL 4-H PROJECTS - Goats - Jeanie Cooper; 15 are actively participating in project.

FALL 4-H PROJECTS - Sheep - 70 are actively participating in sheep projects; Tamel West and Wesley West.

5th GRADE INTERMEDIATE 4-H CLUB MEMBERS

4-H Qualities

4-H centers on the "learn-by-doing" process which enables each member to build a foundation for a life as a productive and contributing member of society.

4-H is based on solid educational experience: educational materials which are research based, active involvement of family members who share in 4-H activities, and support from business and government leaders who provide human and financial resources.

4-H'ers build on their own experiences as well as on those of others in acquiring practical skills, using good health habits, developing respect for themselves and others, exploring career and leisure time opportunities, sharing responsibility for community service projects, developing leadership skills, and becoming involved as active citizens in their community, country and world.

200 4-H members in Crockett County actively participate in foods and nutrition, sheep, goats, shooting sports, clothing, flower arranging, horse judging, range and grass judging, wool judging, demonstrations, horse, and babysitting projects during the year.

4-H membership is open to any youth ages 8-13 regardless of socio-economic level, race, color, sex, religion, handicap, or national origin. Contact the county Extension office at 392-2721 about enrollment.

National 4-H Week Oct. 5-13

No one can question the fact that young people are the future of America, and the 4-H program is continuing to play a vital role in preparing youth for the future by providing training in leadership, citizenship and coping skills.

Thus the theme of National 4-H Week, Oct. 5-13, "4-H for Youth for America," points to this country's richest resource, its young people," says H. T. "Tom" Davison, state 4-H leader with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System. The Extension Service is the parent organization of the 4-H program, an informal, out-of-school educational program for youth between the ages of nine and 19 that is based around local clubs.

Texas boasts 203,585 4-H members. Nationwide, 4-H is more than 4.3 million members strong. Looking at the Texas 4-H enrollment, there are 105,541 girls and 98,044 boys.

Some 37,000 members live on farms, with almost 100,000 residing in suburbs and cities with a population of more than 50,000.

Adult volunteer leaders are the backbone of the 4-H program as they provide the organizational leadership for local 4-H clubs as well as training and resources in a host of subject-matter areas. Some 600,000 volunteer leaders support the 4-H program nationwide, with more than 16,000 of those in Texas.

FALL 4-H PROJECTS - Shooting Sports - Game Warden Rod Chalmers assists Derek Puckett, Leigh Chandler, and Naomi Arthur; 85 are participating in shooting projects.

JUNIOR HIGH 4-H CLUB MEMBERS

"I CAN'T THINK OF AN EXPERIENCE MORE ENRICHING FOR OUR YOUNG PEOPLE."

"It offers a unique blend of American traditions. It has its own special traditions of building responsible, capable citizens. It is building our country from the individual on up. It is one of the brightest examples of the American ideal of personal commitment. Dedicated adults working through 4-H have created a dynamic pathway to learning, achievement and good citizenship for America's young people."

Western art and portrait enthusiasts will receive a treat when they view the current display of oils at Crockett County Library. Paintings by the late Ray Sproul Elder will be exhibited through October.

Included in the group shown downstairs is Mrs. Elder's first painting. Of the 10 pictures on loan to the library, seven are from the collection of Mozelle Mears. The three paintings which are hung upstairs are owned by Sam and Polly Perner.

The paintings, portraits of Indians, were done at Mrs. Elder's Ozona home on the basis of records and pictures she had seen. Among the paintings are The Chief, Navaho Woman Weaving, Wolf, The Apache and Mojave Girl.

The copper skin tones of the subjects vary from portrait to portrait. Mrs. Elder felt that it was an asset to her work that each one of the subjects had a unique skin tone.

Mrs. Elder studied portraiture under Robert Miller of Abilene and landscapes under Mary Brocker. She also studied under George Maxwell of San Angelo.

Much of the work displayed was done during the time her husband, Cliff Elder, was A.S.C.S. officer in Ozona.

The talented artist died in 1986 and is buried in Eldorado.

A brother, Don Farrington, resides in San Angelo. He also does western art.

The Elder paintings may be seen at the library Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. until noon and from 1 p.m. until 5 p.m. The library is also open from 6 until 9 p.m. on Monday and Thursday evenings.

Rachel's Reviews by Rachel O. Hall

Calcium: natural vs. supplements

According to the American Society for Bone and Mineral Research, the best way for Americans to obtain sufficient amounts of daily calcium is through a balanced diet. Dairy foods are, for the majority of people, the best sources of calcium. The calcium in dairy foods is also highly available. To fulfill the Recommended Dietary Allowance of calcium, an adult need only drink 2 3/4 cups of milk or eat the equivalent amount of cheese, yogurt and other dairy foods. Non-dairy sources of calcium include kale, collard greens, mustard greens and salmon or sardines with edible bones. Those individuals who include an assortment of dairy foods and calcium-rich foods in their diets should be getting all the calcium they need - naturally.

Supplements are sometimes recommended as additions to a balanced diet for those people who have very high calcium needs: pregnant and nursing women (especially teenagers), post-menopausal women not taking estrogen, the elderly and those who have poor diets. In these cases, calcium supplements are a quick, easy way to get extra calcium over and above that which is consumed from meals. However, most scientists agree that we should get our calcium from natural sources. Calcium tablets, powders or liquids should be taken only to "supplement" natural calcium intakes for those people who have higher calcium requirements. Besides, pills don't taste as good as a brownie with a glass of milk or a slice of cheesy pizza.

Illiteracy program in effect

By Joan Nicholas

You have heard much on the media about the problem of adult illiteracy in the U.S.A.

Over fifty years ago, Frank Laubach, a deeply religious man, founded Laubach Literacy International to teach adults to read and write, initially, to enable them to read the Bible. The program has spread to over one hundred countries.

Recognizing the need in Ozona, I took the LLI workshop last February and became a certified tutor. I am instructing more students than I can comfortably handle, and there are several on a waiting list. As volunteer-coordinator, I am looking for more volunteer tutors, some of whom need to have a knowledge of Spanish. Each tutor is only expected to take one student, twice a week for a total of two hours.

A workshop for this area will be conducted at Tom Green County Library, San Angelo, on Oct. 31 and Nov. 1 (Friday and Saturday) from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. each day. All teacher and student books are furnished, and the LLI program is funded by the Big Country Library System through the Crockett County Public Library. Tutoring is done in the library. No degree is necessary, only one of caring.

My dream and goal is to wipe out illiteracy in Crockett County in the next few years, and it is so hard to turn students down who so obviously want to learn. You would not only be helping an individual seeking to better himself, but you will be serving your community, state and nation in fighting this escalating problem.

Feel free to call me for any information - Joan Nicholas, 392-3265. Workshop applications may be picked up at my house, 1204 Ave. D, or at the library. I guarantee, you will receive great fulfillment in this work. Please! May I hear from you?

Museum adds gift items

Alleane Young and Mary Jo Mason package note paper designed by Mrs. Mason for a museum fundraiser.

Crockett County Museum has a wealth of gift items for adults and children. New at the museum gift shop this fall are notecards with designs sketched by Mary Jo Mason. The eight designs in the set range from wildlife to windmills to range animals.

Texas wildflower notecards are also available at the museum.

For the avid reader and history lover, there are books on Texas and Crockett County. Copies of the History of Crockett County are also available at the museum.

For the younger set, there are arrowheads crafted by Rick Bachman, rock pencils, educational coloring books, and the Amanda paper doll collection.

Crockett County Museum doesn't just house history; it makes history come alive.

French wines owe Texas

If there's a slight Texas flavor in a glass of champagne or burgundy, there's a reason. The French wine industry owes its life to Texas.

In the late 1890's, grape production throughout France was threatened by a root disease known as Phylloxera. After every known remedy had been tried without success, the French Government appealed to T. V. Munson of Denison. Munson had become famous in horticultural circles by developing vast vineyards through the crossbreeding of native Red River Valley grapes.

Using the native Texas grapes, he was able to breed a variety that resisted the disease which was wiping out the wine industry in France. Eventually every French vineyard was regrafted with the new variety developed in Texas, and the industry was saved.

A grateful France conferred the Legion of Honor, its highest reward, on the small-town Texas nurseryman who had saved French wines for the gourmets of the world.
