Jim King

Contest Winner

The youths have it this week in the weekly 'Back the Mules' football contest.

Jim King, a college student, was first place winner in this week's contest. He missed the Tennessee-Auburn game and the Kansas-Oklahoma game and had an eight point spread in the tiebreaker.

In second place was Billy Riels, young son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Riels. Billy also missed the Tennessee-Auburn game, but missed the Michigan State-Indiana game and had a 15 point spread in the tiebreaker.

Fourteen entrants in the contest missed three games.

Eight Wins, No Losses Mark Season

Riding on a ten game winning streak, eight of them during this season of football, the unusually fantastic Longhorns of Laz-buddie face the best season in the southwest.

At the present time, the Longhorns are the only undefeated 'B' team from El Paso to Abilene to Amarillo to the New Mexico line. For a while, they were in competition with undefeated Meadow and Ropes, but those two teams fell by the wayside recently.

Maintaining their record, the 'Horns have amassed some outstanding records in football competition this season.

They have scored 303 points and have held their opponents to a total of 63 points. The 'Horns average 37.9 points per game and their opponents average 7.9 points each game.

They have a total of 2,745 yards rushing, while holding their opponents to 1,044 yards rushing.

In individual rushing Frank Hinkson has a total of 904 yards in 121 carries; Troy Steinbock has 770 yards for 86 carries; Derrell Matthews has 616 yards in 113 carries and Steve Foster has 494 yards for 82 carries.

In the air, the Longhorns have made 501 yards with 36 completions in 77 attempts. They have held their opponents to 382 yards in the air.

City Council Sets Discussion Of Crossroad Parking Monday

Several items were under discussion Tuesday afternoon at the meeting of the Muleshoe City Council.

A meeting has been called for Monday night November 18, at 8 p.m. at the Bailey County Electric Cooperative Association to discuss with interested parties the elimination of parking around the intersection of Highways 84 and 214.

The city is taking this action in order to meet Texas Highway Department requirements.

Dr. R.C. Janeway, head librarian at Texas Tech, was retained to serve as library consultant as required by Title Program of the Texas State Library.

Alex Williams made a report on the Park and Recreation Board activities. The Park and

Plans Progress To Expand Library Service

The wheels of Library-supporters' efforts continue to turn this week in Muleshoe, as co-operative planning by all agencies involved moved Muleshoe Area Public Library a bit closer toward implementation of September 10th's public mandate authorizing the City of Muleshoe to float $40,000 in bonds to match Texas State Library Title II program and Federal Library Services and Construction Act funds, officials announced Wednesday.

Additional and supplemental data to be sent to State Library heads Dorman H. Winfrey and Lee B. Brawner in Austin is being completed this week. Information is to be included details of present area library services and facilities - past and present, as well as proposed; the readiness of city, county and library board groups to carry out extension of local library services which will be made available with the new library building facility, the availability of local matching funds; and indications of the county-city cooperation toward obtaining the proposed, more

Eagles Flog Bulldogs

It was a cool, frosty night... a faint moon was shining... and the final score was 79-10 to wind up a wild scoring spree by the Three Way Eagles against the Bula Bulldogs at the Three Way homecoming game.

Everything started last Saturday with a supper served in the Three Way cafeterium. Ham, turkey, potatoes, salads, dessert and drinks were served to a continuous crowd prior to game time. A meeting of Three Way ex-students followed.

At gametime, Johnny Ferguson was the first Eagle to reach the end zone on an 11-yard run at 8:27 in the first quarter. Wendell Williams kick made it a 7-0 game.

Wendell Williams received a Mike Lynskey pass in the end zone for the second Eagle TD with 5:40 on the clock in the first. Williams' PAT kick was good to make it 14-0.

Jackie Dupler made the next score one minute and 29 seconds later on a seven-yard dash. Williams' kick was blocked and the score was 20-0 for the Eagles.

Ron Risinger of the Bula Bulldogs intercepted an Eagle pass and made it to the Bula 21 yard line before losing the ball. An Eagle TD was called back on a penalty immediately following the play when Bula lost the ball to the Eagles. With 2:53 in the first quarter, Dupler again made it over from the four-yard line to make it a 26-0 game. A pass from Lynskey to Ferguson added two points and left the score at 28-0.

Going into the second quarter, Dupler again made it over from the five yard line to make it 34-0 with 9:50 on the clock.

Area Leaders To Attend Scout Meet

Marshall Cook, Webelos Den Leader, and Mrs. Ronnie Shaffer, Mrs. Darrell Kenemer, Betty Estep, Mrs. Joel Nowlin, Peggy Bates and Loretta Young, are among local den mothers who plan to attend a scout pow wow in Lubbock Saturday.

The annual Cub Scout Leaders Pow Wow in the South Plains Council, Boy Scouts of America, will be held from 1 to 4:30 p.m. at Reese Air Force Base on Saturday, November 16, according to Warren Green, Director of Programs for the Scout Council.

Den mothers and assistants will participate in a county fair of crafts and games instruction for the first three hours in hangar ninety-two. The men in Cub Scouting will engage in training sessions on Pack Management and the Webelos Den during the same time in the base chapel annex. All leaders will assemble in the hangar for a presentation on ceremonies at 4 p.m.

More than 150 early registrants have indicated their plans to participate, Green said, and people can register at the Pow Wow if they chose.

Child care will be provided by members of the Women's Service Organization at Texas Tech.

Tragedy and violence again struck the Muleshoe area over the past weekend. It began Saturday afternoon just before 4 p.m. south of the Muleshoe dump grounds in the sandhills.

Three boys had been riding horses. Tiring, they tied their horses to a telephone pole and went over to a ledge to sit down. Two of the boys who are cousins, Richard Wayne Copley, 17 and Randall Copley, 16, scuffled for a few minutes then sat down beneath the ledge to rest.

Donnie Bruce Carpenter, 17, walked over to the ledge to sit down... and as he started to sit down between the two boys, the ledge gave way, burying all three boys beneath damp sand.

Randall Copley, son of Mr. and Mrs. W.T. Copley, was the first boy to dig his way out of the sand. He dug out his cousin, Wayne, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J.R. Copley. Wayne was all covered except one foot.

Leaving Wayne to dig Bruce out, Randall rode horseback to the Muleshoe Livestock Auction Barn to seek help. Local law enforcement officers began converging on the scene and working to revive young Carpenter. Chief of Police Harold White, who was hunting across the pasture from the accident scene, saw the red lights and ran across the field to help. On arrival, he immediately began mouth-to-mouth resuscitation until the ambulance arrived. The Muleshoe City Police Department logged the call at 4 p.m. and the ambulance arrived at the scene 13 minutes later.

Bruce was brought to West Plains Memorial Hospital and was transferred to Methodist Hospital at 8:35 p.m. Saturday evening. He is in the intensive care ward at Methodist.

At presstime, young Carpenter remained in extremely Sound place winner was Frank Fitzgerald, Lubbock, with a seven pound, fourteen ounce bird. In third slot was Bobby Smith, Lorenzo, with a seven pound, eleven and one-half ounce crane.

David Keith, Dimmitt, brought down a seven pound, eight ounce crane for fourth place and Nickie Landers was the only Muleshoe or Bailey County winner, in fifth place with a seven pound, five and one half ounce crane.

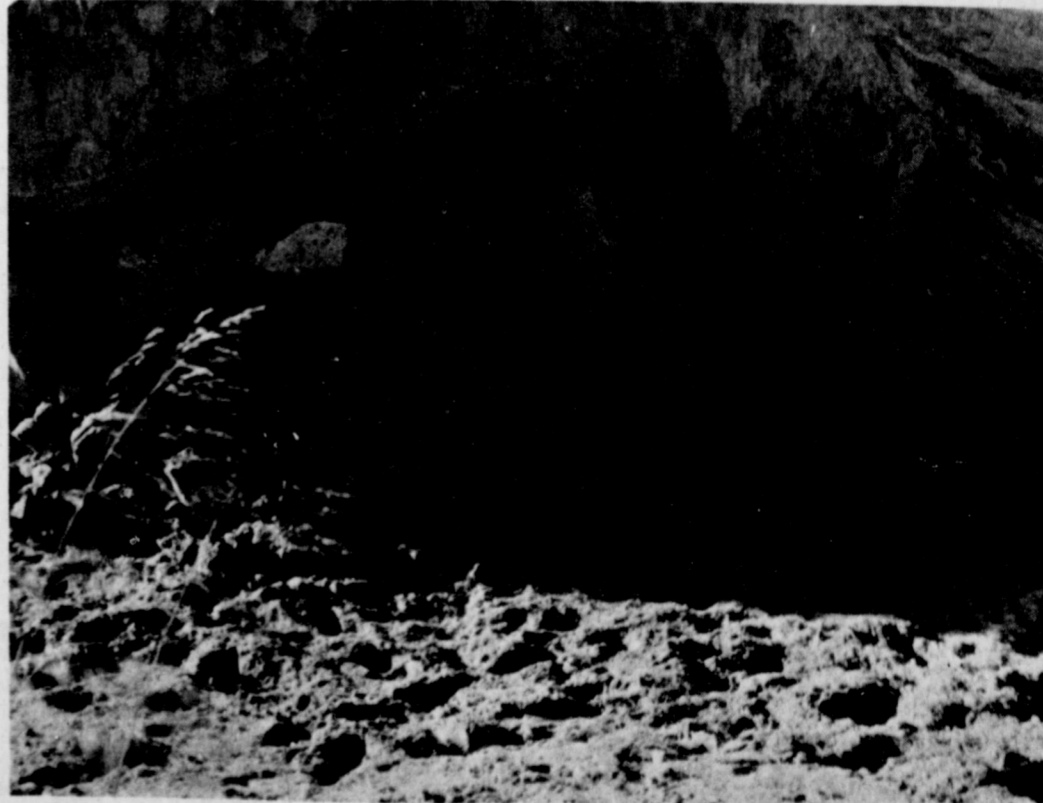

Bob Stovall termed this years hunt the best in years past and that the Jaycees look forward to the Seventh Annual Hunt next year.

Annual Dinner At Needmore Slated Soon

Needmore's annual Thanksgiving dinner is slated for Saturday, November 23 at the Needmore community building.

This affair, which is hosted by the Needmore Community Club, is held each year with the traditional turkey and all the trimmings.

Tickets will be available at $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for children. The entire area is invited to attend the dinner.

CAVE-IN--Three area boys were covered by this innocent-appearing pile of sand when a ledge crumbled on them just before 4 p.m. Saturday afternoon. Wayne Copley, 17, Randall Copley, 16 and Bruce Carpenter, 17. The Copley boys were treated at West Plains Memorial Hospital and released. Carpenter was treated at West Plains and removed to Lubbock Methodist Hospital Saturday night.

HANGING ON FOR DEAR LIFE--Bruce Pruitt, No. 11, finds himself caught by the foot as another Bulldog piles across his mid-section to stop his progress with the ball in the Three Way Homecoming Saturday night.

Eagles...

Williams again kicked the extra point. Dupler, who proved to be outstanding in the game, pointwise, again added points at 4:44 in the second on an 18-yard romp downfield, and also ran two extra points to make it 43-0. Bula still was unable to penetrate the Three Way line and the ball went back to the Eagles. A Ferguson touchdown was called back on a penalty Geneo Abbe made it over with 28 seconds in the half on a 37 yard run to make it 49-0 at half-time.

Next TD was by, yep, you guessed it, Dupler with a 74 yard run at 6:50 in the third and the try for points failed which made it a 63-0 ball game. Ferguson made the next TD at 4:54 of the third and Williams kicked the point to make it 71-0. Allen Joyce then ran long yardage for two touchdowns, but both were called back on Penalties on the Eagles. Joyce was called back to the Bula 10-yard line and Bula hit the scoreboard on their first two points with a safety after trapping an Eagle with the ball in the end zone.

Rodney Claunch put Bula's lone touchdown on the board at 8:31 in the fourth and the Bulldogs ran the extra points to make it 71-10. A toughened up Bulldog defense held the Eagles to two touchdowns in the fourth, their second and final of the game coming at 4:59 in the fourth when Ferguson made it over from the Bula seven yard line. Lyskey ran the extra points to end the scoring for the game at 79-10. Ron Risinger made it into the end zone after picking off an Eagle fumble, but the play was called back on a penalty and the scoring was ended for the game. Final score, 79-10.

centrally located site for the new construction. Long-time friend of Muleshoe library and bookmobile Ray Janeway, Director of Texas Technological University Library at Lubbock, Monday accepted the City Council's request to serve as Library Building Consultant for the project. He will prepare, in consultation with Architect Bill Cantrell, also of Lubbock, and Board Building Committee members, a written comprehensive library building program. The functional layout of the new proposed library and review and consultation of furniture/equipment plans and specifications, are goals which were preliminarily worked out at Tuesday's meeting in Lubbock of the two Lubbock men and local building committee members. Janeway and Cantrell were to continue their planning this week in order that written Building Program Plans might be submitted to Library Board President David Sudduth, the latter part of the week. Sudduth will present the planning report for approval and committee and building to Library Board and to the City Council - County Commissioners' joint meeting to be held Friday, he said.

Library Building Committee members are Board Chairman Sudduth, Librarian Ann Camp, Consultant Janeway, Architect Cantrell, Ralph Douglas, Pat Bobo, E.T. Ford, Mrs. Bernard Phelps, Mrs. T.R. White and Mrs. Hall.

Monday morning's planning meeting this week as attended by City Councilmen Alex Williams and Irvin St. Clair, County Judge Don Cihak, Sudduth, Mrs. Camp and Mrs. Hall. At the Tuesday Lubbock meeting were Janeway, Cantrell, Mrs. Camp and Mrs. Hall.

Sudduth commended the efforts of both consultant and architect, city and county officials, and building committee members for their work in establishing for the Muleshoe library's eligibility for priority in qualifying for Title II matching funds in the amount of $50,000.

Muleshoe Area Public Library not only serves the some 5,250 residents of Muleshoe proper, but substantial portions of the surrounding trade area in neighboring counties. Through the High Plains Bookmobile residents of all community and rural areas in Bailey County, as well as neighboring Lamb, Parmer and Cochran counties, are served. Bookmobile headquarters have been housed in the local library since its conception in 1963, and the expanded proposed facilities will adequately and efficiently serve an estimated service area of some 54,000 persons, officials pointed out.

Foster has made 15 pass interceptions for 203 yards; Monte Barnes eight for 149 yards; Matthews, five for 77 yards and Mike Casey four for 57 yards.

Troy Steinbock is leading scorer with 16 touchdowns and 10 extra points; Frank Hinkson, 10 and 6 EP for 66 points; Foster, 7 and 12 extra points; Matthews, 8 and five extra points and Barnes, four and no extra points for 24 points.

Kicker Barnes has 24 punts for 1,007 yards. His average punt is 39.9 yards.

In tackling, Roque Flores has 11, eight assisted and three unassisted; Matthews has 96 tackles, 73 assisted and 23 unassisted; Hinkson has 151, 116 assisted and 35 unassisted; Hodges, 66, 54 assisted and 12 unassisted; Terry Scott, 50, 46 assisted and four unassisted; Jimmy Noland, 52, 47 assisted and five unassisted; George Wilson, 68, 57 assisted, 11 unassisted; Gary Elliott, 86, 79 assisted and 7 unassisted; Mike Casey, 64, 43 assisted, 21 unassisted; Monte Barnes, 90, 78 assisted and 12 unassisted; Rene Flores 46, 41 assisted and five unassisted; Troy Steinbock, 40, 27 assisted and 13 unassisted and Pablo Mendoza, six, four assisted and two unassisted.

This amazing team, which has lost only three games in the past two seasons of play is not a large team, but extremely fast on the field. Coach Pat Casey will lose four players this year. Troy Steinbock, Steve Foster, Frank Hinkson and Gary Elliott are all seniors.

Thusfar in the season, the Longhorns have only had four pass interceptions and have lost only three fumbles. Steinbock has made three punt returns for touchdowns, all more than 70 yards.

In speaking of his speedy team, Coach Casey said he couldn't run a backfield of 200 pound players. His players are trained to skip around their guard and speed downfield instead of running over the opposition. The two coaches, Casey and Mike Flankin, agreed that Mike Casey might be the fastest boy on the team. They said he possibly saved four touchdowns at Hart by running down the ball carrier who was well on his way to a touchdown. Friday night, the Longhorns will travel to Amarillo for a non-conference game with Alamo Catholic School. Coach Casey said, "We expect a rough game from these players. They are all big boys. This could be a game we will lose." Friday night, November 22, the Longhorns will face the Matador team. Matador is the third rated team in District B and the team could go into a tie for championship should Lazbuddie lose the game. Lazbuddie will play the winner of the Booker - Groom November 22 game later in district championship playoffs.

serious condition at Lubbock Methodist Hospital. William F. Stienbock of the Lazbuddie community was next on the accident list for the weekend. He was driving a 1964 Buick east on FM 145 four miles east of Farwell at 2:55 a.m. Sunday when he hit a horse on the highway. Stienbock's car received extensive damage in the accident. He was taken to Clovis Memorial Hospital where he was treated for facial cuts and released.

As Neil Pierce, wrecker driver, was bringing in the Stienbock car, he found another accident. At 5 a.m. Sunday morning, he found a 1961 Ford literally wrapped around a utility pole three and a half miles northwest of Muleshoe on Highway 84.

Ira Powell, 55, of Clovis, N.M. was apparently killed instantly in the accident. His car was headed southeast on 84 when it skidded off the highway, he apparently jerked it back onto the highway, lost control and it swapped ends and broadsided from the left side into the pole, wrapping the vehicle around the pole. Wreckers had to pull the car away from the pole and pull the door off before Powell's body could be removed from the wreckage.

Justice of the Peace Joe Vaughn pronounced Powell dead at the site and his body was brought to Muleshoe by Singleton Funeral Home ambulance then transferred to Clovis Sunday for burial.

Powell was a painter for the Santa Fe Railway and worked in the maintenance department at the railroad.

Vietnam News

I had just finished digging my home for the night and was preparing to enjoy a can of cold Ham and Eggs, Chopped, when I spotted the first one to my left.

It was by no means the first time I had gone hand-to-hand. This would be my 53rd.

No he was not new to me. He's silent and ever so swift. He's through your lines and on you before you know what happened.

The night I last encountered him was like all the others. At first, as always, I lost sight of him for a while. That's all he needed. He was on me before I knew what happened.

I swung with all my might as he lunged at me. Thoughts of apple pie, Mom and the girl I left behind raced through my mind.

As quickly as it began, it was over. He lay dead at my side. I felt no remorse for him. I knew it was my duty to rid the world of his kind.

Before I leave Vietnam I know I'll kill many more, as will my fellow Marines.

It makes my happy to think of how many we'll kill, . . . because I hate $#% MOSQUITOES!!!

Trung Thu, or the mid-autumn festival, is a long-awaited occasion for Vietnamese children.

To the children of Cam Le and Hoa Tho villages near Da Nang, the thought of a joyous Trung Thu was almost inconceivable.

Many had lost parents, relatives and friends in what was termed as the third-phase enemy offensive during the latter part of August. Their hamlets were scenes of heavy house-to-house fighting.

The enemy was stopped by Marine reaction forces.

The villages soon learned of "Project Hope," a combined effort of Marines in Vietnam and groups throughout the United States.

The project began when concerned groups in the Minneapolis-St. Paul area were given a series of slide and lecture presentations by two Marine Vietnam veterans.

The slides included scenes of Marine Civic Action work with the Vietnamese. Soon, interested groups began writing commanding officers in Vietnam and the project quickly developed into a major civic action program.

One such group representing three Nebraska communities, Verdell, Verdigre and Niabrara, began sending clothing and food-stuffs to the Force Logistic Command's 1st Military Police Bn., near Da Nang.

Under the chairmanship of Mrs. Norman DeKay, Niabrara, Neb., the organization also contacted local 4-H clubs which began sending clothing.

According to 1st Lt. John W. Judge, Albia, Iowa, the items were distributed to needy Vietnamese in Xuan Hoa, Cam Le and Hoa Tho villages. The Civil Affairs Officer also obtained self-help kits, purchased through the Marine Corps Reserve Civic Action Fund, and comprised of metal working, carpenter and blacksmith tools, which were given to the villagers to aid in rebuilding their homes and establishing a means of income.

"We also received 150 pounds of candy and 500 packages of toys, but these we saved for a special occasion," recalled Judge.

Earlier this month, on the day marking the start of the three-day mid-autumn festival, Judge and the other Marines distributed the goods to those Vietnamese who had lost so much during the fighting at Cam Le.

With brightly colored lanterns and dancing children, Trung Thu was celebrated at Cam Le, and with the festivities came new hope.

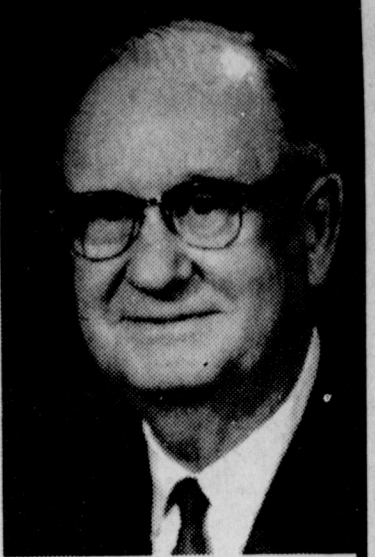

The people of Cam Le had not been forgotten. . . .

Three Way Enjoys School Carnival

ELEMENTARY ROYALTY--Elected to reign over the Fall Festival from Three Way Elementary school were Mitzi Altman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayland Altman, and Wayne Parkman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Freddie Parkman.

The community of Three Way each year enjoys a Harvest Carnival and this year's was a night of wholesome entertainment for the entire family. The early part of the evening was taken up with activities at the various booths, as follows: First grade, cake walk; second grade, fishing pond; third grade, movies; fourth grade, country store; fifth grade, cake walk; sixth grade, spook house; seventh grade, homemade ice cream, and turkey raffle. Opal Hanna won the seventh grade turkey raffle; eighth grade, dart throw and softball throw; ninth grade, car bash; tenth grade, hayride and blanket raffle; Eleventh grade, pull a string; twelfth grade, bingo and basketball throw.

The FFA sponsored a dunking board and the Boy Scouts sponsored a penny throw and a pantry. Dovie Miller won the Cub Scout pantry.

At nine o'clock a program called "Our Heritage" began, with Janice Sue Lane serving as mistress of ceremonies. Mark Corkery and Larry Hale served as flag bearers during the Star Spangled Banner, with the audience joining in the salute to the flag.

The first and second graders, dressed in patriotic costumes, presented two folk dances: Belinda Richardson and Dale Simpson, Toni Johnson, Delila Parson, Tammie Davis and James Lee Simpson, Kristin Corkery, Bryan Kirby and Lonnie Warren, Berry Alvis and Spike Dunlap, Irene Duarte and Sylvia Escalante, Rudy Ornales.

The third grade students, also dressed in Uncle Sam costumes, did a folk dance: Princess Parkman and Mark Lowe, Susan Corkery and Ronnie Altman, Jody Wylie and Mike Parsons, Glenda Fine and Bill Hudnett, Sondra Gilliam and Jason Huff, Doris Joyce and Robert De La Rosa.

The event of the evening was the crowning of the high school and elementary king and queen. Cynthia Long and Larry Trelvethan reigned over high school and Mitzi Altman and Wayne Parkman were selected king and queen of elementary school.

Crownbearers were Sherry Alvis and Renee Lowe, Allan Fine and Doug Dupler. The queens and kings were chosen by popular vote of the entire school.

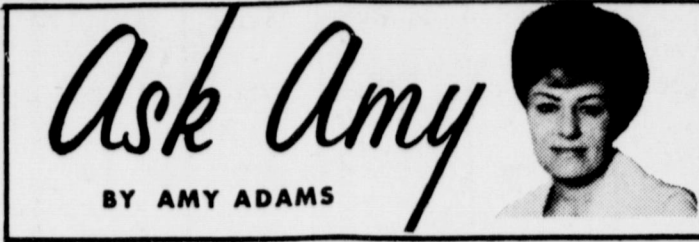

HAPPY BIRTHDAY--Rickey Stockard's 16th birthday and Narssia Otwell's 17th birthday were celebrated Saturday at a dinner Saturday evening at Leal's Restaurant, hosted by Mrs. Jerrell Otwell. A decorated cake with their names told the story. Sharing the fun were, l to r, Lee Ann Yerby, Beverly Ewins, La Donna Hawkins, Barbara Wilhite, Debra Rudd, the honorees Narssia and Rickey, Debbie Sain, Becky Sain, Karen Mayhugh, and Ann Newsom. Rickey is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S.P. Stockard and Narssia is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerrell Otwell.

It takes a lot of patience to improve the human race and it also takes a lot of time.

HUBBY'S AFFECTION EMBARRASSES HER

Dear Amy: My husband is very affectionate. We have two teenagers and he doesn't care if they are around or not. He is always putting his arm around me and kissing me in front of them.

I told him a hundred times not to do that in front of the children, but he does anyway. Should I feel embarrassed or not?

Dear Mrs. L. K.: Certainly not! Children who are brought up in a home filled with love and affection grow up to be lovely children.

According to my mail, there are a few hundred women who would literally give their bruised right arm to change places with you!

Dear Amy: An argument has arisen which I hope you can clarify. Is it proper for the immediate family to give a shower for an expectant mother . . . of her fifth child?

Dear Perplexed: A baby shower is given by friends rather than relatives. Showers should be limited to the first baby in the family. In my opinion, it's an outright imposition upon others for a mother to expect a shower for each subsequent child.

Anyone who wants to send a baby gift doesn't need an invitation to do so!

Dear Amy: I am 3 years, 2 months and 14 days older than my girlfriend and I want to know if you see anything wrong with this age difference? I have kissed her and she tells me her father doesn't approve. I am going along with her father on that, but I ask you if you think kissing is too premature for a boy of 13 and a girl of 10--

Dear Bewildered: Your thoughts and actions are all too premature! Simmer down, son. At your age you should be more interested in scoring with a bat than scoring with a girl!

Dear Amy: An argument has developed between my future in-laws and day. In addition, God's love is magnified by his considerate promise to resurrect hundreds of millions of the dead.

At the conclusion of the main public Bible lecture, Dugan suggested, "We must learn to imitate God's way of love by helping others to find the happiness that comes from serving him. Such a course will convince others that God's way of love is the only practical course for man today."

WHY IS RIGHT Why worry about posterity? Our progenitors worried about us--and what good did it do?

myself. I am having a big wedding and my family is paying for everything except the flowers and the drinks (whiskey, beer and pop) because we have always held that the groom or his family should pay for that.

I find that many people agree with the thoughts of my family on this matter, but my fiance's mother is giving him a hard time by saying he is a sucker if he does pay for this part of the wedding. He, in turn, not wanting to argue any further with me (after all he is going to spend the rest of his life with me) is willing to supply the flowers and drinks.

Amy, at this point I am only interested in doing what is right. Please help!

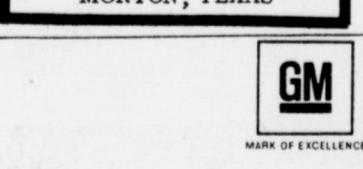

Dear Mixed Up: What you have always held is wrong. The bride's family assumes the entire cost of the wedding reception or dinner, whichever it may be, including the beverages. The only flowers the groom is responsible for are those for his bride, his mother, boutonniere for himself, his father, the best man and the ushers--the bride's family supplying all other flowers where needed.

Dear Amy: I have a question that could not get a answered the other evening. We were serving guests dinner and asked them to please pass the food to their left. They said it was improper to pass to the left, it should go to the right. I was always under the impression that food should be passed to your left. Who was right?

Dear Wondering: When food is brought to the table, it is set down at the guest's left and removed from the guest's right. When passing food around the table, the host or hostess proceeds to pass the food to the guest on the immediate right. Therefore, passing food around the table is from right to left.

Attend the convention in Levelland were 22 delegates from Muleshoe.

Jehovah's Witnesses Meet

The delegates to the three-day convention of Jehovah's witnesses returned to Muleshoe this week to resume their regular schedule of activity.

The Christian gathering in Levelland was attended by 636. Convention officials described it as a "spiritually uplifting series of Bible talks designed to appeal to old and young alike."

Mr. L.M. Dugan, principal speaker for the assembly, encouraged the audience to show God that they appreciate His love for them.

Speaking on the subject, "God's Way is Love", Dugan said, "We need to examine our attitude toward God and His word, the Bible, to determine if we truly appreciate God's love for us. In addition, our attitude toward prayer reveals how deeply God's love touches the heart."

Dugan described the God of the Bible by name, Jehovah, and suggested that "God's gift to man is man's ability to appreciate and enjoy Jehovah's marvelous creation. He is a happy God and this is further proof that God is love."

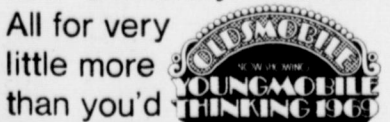

Pointing to the future, Dugan declared that God's promises for the future magnify His loving ways. "Permanent peace and happiness is to be restored," Dugan said. "God's way is to make this earth a paradise by restoring it as it was in Adam's

HOSPITAL BRIEFS

Perhaps, you have wondered why so many questions are asked when you are admitted as a patient to the hospital. You find yourself having to remember your middle name which you haven't used for years. You have to sometimes "dig" to remember the actual day, month, and year of your birth, where you were born, the church you attend, and many other questions about yourself that may seem unnecessary to you.

Did you ever pick up the telephone directory of a large city and turn the pages to find how many people were listed with the same name as yours? You may realize from doing this that there are often four to six "Carl Smith's" listed but only ONE "Carl Arnold Smith."

When "Carl A. Smith" is admitted, the hospital is interested in only ONE "Carl A. Smith" and that is "Carl Arnold Smith."

The reason for all these questions is that this admission procedure is the initial start of the individual medical record of the hospital stay for "Carl Arnold Smith"; no one else; and it is very important to the patient, doctor, nurse and other hospital employees that this medical record be identified as "Mr. Carl Arnold Smith's" record, and his alone.

The patient's medical record is made up of many reports from the doctor, nurses, food service personnel, technicians, and sometimes from experts behind the scenes.

The medical record will contain the patient's preliminary diagnosis (admitting diagnosis), symptoms of the present illness, the patient's medical history, including family medical history, findings in the preliminary physical examination and in examinations made during the patient's stay; orders for tests and treatments in special departments of the hospital such as laboratory, EKG and x-ray, and reports of the results; orders for and a record of administration of drugs and medications; the type of diet the patient needs; progress notes for each day and night the patient is hospitalized; reports of treatments carried out—from the simplest such as "sat up on side of bed" to the detailed record of a surgical operation—and finally, the patient's condition and final diagnosis at the time of discharge.

With the expanding advances in medical science, and the increase in the number of services which make diagnosis and treatment more precise and more effective, the medical record has become increasingly important and increasingly complex.

Each time your doctor sees you in the hospital, he checks your medical record which shows how and when his orders were carried out; the results of tests he ordered; your temperature chart, pulse rate chart and all the nursing notes of your day-to-day care and progress.

The medical record legally belongs to the hospital. The hospital is charged with its maintenance, storage and safety. It becomes a permanent record of the hospital and except when your doctor recalls the chart for review, may not be released to anyone without the patient's written consent or by court subpoena.

The keeping of complete and accurate medical records is just one of the many behind-the-scenes hospital activities.

The Sandhills Philosopher

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm apparently is having a hard time getting into the computer age, his letter this week indicates.

Dear editor:

I was out here on this Johnson grass farm trying to recover from the election -- a neighbor asked me if I thought the next President will have all the answers and I told him I don't know, personally I don't even know what most of the questions are -- and to get my mind cleared I picked up a newspaper I'd been saving and got over to the inside pages away from the campaigns and ran into an article that certainly got my mind off politics.

According to it, a college professor told the National Academy of Science that teaching as it's done today will soon be out of style, that computers will be used to teach children, saying that a computer for example can "teach such a basic skill as mathematics in one-tenth the time and at half the cost now required." He went on to say that "computers will monitor each student's progress minute by minute, correcting mistakes immediately. It'll flash right or wrong to each answer it is given."

I have been thinking this over and have concluded the professor hasn't gone far enough. Instead of substituting computers for teachers, why not go one step further and substitute computers for students? If you've got a computer that knows all the answers to all the problems of math and can give them to you in one one-thousandth of a split second, and on top of that doesn't wear out shoes or need braces on its teeth or listen to phonograph records or tie up the telephone, haven't you got what you're looking for? What's the point in running the same stuff through some kid's mind?

At his best, the kid can get up to 12 times 12, whether taught by man or machine, but how many can tell you what's 12 times 13? Why not skip teaching kids math and teach them how to oil a computer, change its fuses, and punch the right buttons? Teach them how to protest the passer, give them computer for graduation, and they're on their way.

Here's a machine they claim knows all the math there is, so let's leave it in charge in that field and work on one that can do the same with history, literature, science, etc.

By the way, is 12 times 12 154 or 164? I never could remember.

Yours Faithfully,
J.A.

AG Economist Looks At Swine Situation

COLLEGE STATION.--Since ten Corn Belt States reported one to two percent fewer pigs in weight groups that will provide the bulk of the fall slaughter, hog slaughter for October, November, and December is expected to be a little smaller than during the same time period last year.

John G. McHaney, Extension economist at Texas A&M University, says prices will likely decline seasonally during the fall months as a while, they should be a little higher or about the same as those for the last three months of 1967.

Hog slaughter in the first half of 1969 will probably be up from the total during the first half of 1968. Producers in ten Corn Belt States reported plans to have four percent more sows farrow during the period of September 1968 to February 1969. The 1969 spring pig crop is also expected to increase. Farrowing intentions for the quarter only, for ten Corn Belt States, are up four percent from a year earlier.

The total 1969 spring pig crop could be up five percent from the previous year, says McHaney. If so, summer and fall prices may very well feel the effects of this increased supply.

The hog-corn price ratio, which explains the economist, is the bushels of corn equal in value to 100 pounds of live hog, averaged 17.4 during the first half of 1968, compared with 15.2 in the same months of 1967.

During the July-September 1968 period, the ratio averaged about 19.6. Some point out that at present corn prices, all costs of hog production in well-managed operations can be covered at a hog-corn price ratio of around 14.5. If this is correct, one can understand why producers have been encouraged to expand production, says the economist.

Dear Turnrow Tunkel . . .

O. C. McBRIDE

Soon you won't have the Johnson Administration to criticize. Won't this cause you to run short of material for your column?

No. Up until now, I've only had to point out the mistakes of the Democrats, but with a Republican Administration and a Democratic Congress, I'll have to keep my eye on both. It may become necessary for me to increase the length of my column.

Did you read that after recent wage settlements, bricklayers in Ohio receive $9.75 an hour, or $19.50 if they work overtime?

The way things are going, it won't be long until only doctors can afford brick homes and only bricklayers can afford to get sick.

I understand that the new microwave ovens now on the market can cook a 5 pound roast in 26 minutes.

That wouldn't change anything at our home. My wife would put the roast in the oven exactly 26 minutes before the start of my favorite television program.

In Aristotle Onassis richer than Howard Hughes?

He's not even in the same league. Onassis might own an island, but I'll bet he couldn't even buy Reno, much less Las Vegas.

Some political experts think Eugene McCarthy and George Wallace will both lead new political movements in the future. Would you approve of a four-party system?

This would cause a serious problem, especially during election years. How could a nation survive with four political parties, two professional football leagues, and only three television networks?

What do you think of the makeup of Congress after the elections?

I would have preferred a general housecleaning, but there are some bright spots. For instance, Barry Goldwater is back in the Senate, and Wayne Morse is out. This may not please everyone, but I'm sure it displeases the Communists, and that's good enough for me.

New *Kink-proof tower to tower safety system.
New *Gaskets eliminated by continuous one-piece sprinkler line.
New *Skids give you better traction, better stability, more floatation.

New *One oil hydraulic cylinder controls movement - All your irrigation water goes for your crops.
New *Patented, positive in-line control. System won't buckle, tangle or go down.
New *You control both rate of travel AND water flow according to your needs.
New *Tall towers put the sprinkler line above crops
New *Annual lubrication cuts maintenance time to a minimum.

I started ditch irrigation in 1948. I went from ditch to canvas pipe to hand move sprinkler line, then to wheel move. The Dowd Farmhand is, by far, superior to any system I have used. I like the single oil hydraulic cylinder located at the pivot point and the self alignment feature. The Dowd Farmhand has been the most trouble free system that I have ever operated.

The Farmhand sprinkler saves roughly 30 hours of labor per week over the other type systems I have now in operation.

Duck Migration Now Being Studied

The Interior Department's Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife announced today that it is making a special study of canvasback duck migration on the continent this year to learn how this species can be better protected during the hunting season.

The Bureau will cooperate with State fish and game departments and Canada in aerial and ground surveys of major movements, specific routes, and important concentration areas.

"If the fall flight continues to decline," Bureau Director John S. Gottschalk said, "stricter hunting regulations may be necessary to assure the canvasback's future as a sporting species."

The canvasback, a favorite of waterfowlers, has been hit hard by recent droughts in its favored prairie pothole nesting grounds.

Because canvasbacks nest in vegetation over water, they are exceptionally vulnerable as potholes get drier. They do not bounce back as quickly as most other ducks when water returns, since growth of nesting vegetation takes at least an additional year.

The Bureau reports that exceptionally heavy rains in the prairie pothole country this fall have improved the outlook for well-watered potholes next spring. Barring another drought next year, canvasback nesting habitat should be in good condition in 1970, with a maximum number of breeding birds returning to rejuvenated nesting grounds, Dr. Gottschalk said.

This fall's flight is expected to be the lowest in recent years based on information from breeding ground surveys. As a result, hunters are permitted a daily bag and possession limit of only two canvasbacks in the Pacific Flyway and one canvasback or redhead in the daily bag and possession limit in the other three flyways.

The Wild Turkey..Texas' Wildest Game

AUSTIN-- Ben Franklin once suggested the wild turkey rather than the bald eagle should be our national bird. He was over-ruled, but the idea remains that the wild turkey, more than any other bird, symbolizes a bountiful land.

The wild turkey was, of course, the main dish in the first Thanksgiving Day feast, and turkey, both wild and domestic, has been traditional fare ever since. The man who sits down to a feast of wild turkey he has killed himself gets a double bonus. The big bird is not only delicious, but fun to hunt as well and is considered by many sportsmen to be one of the most elusive game animals in North America.

There are three races of wild turkey in Texas--the Merriam or mountain turkey, the eastern turkey, and the Rio Grande turkey. Of these three, the Rio Grande turkey remains the most abundant for hunting purposes with the Merriams being limited locally in two West Texas counties.

E.A. Walker, director of wildlife services, for the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, says knowledge of the wild turkey's habits and appearance is a must for the hunter.

Walker says the education of the hunter should include a visit to a turkey farm which raises bronze domestic turkeys to study the differences in gobblers and hens as to feather coloration and body confirmation.

It is legal to kill gobblers and bearded hens in regulatory districts during open seasons, but, Walker says, many fine young gobblers are passed up because they have no visible beards, and inexperienced hunters are afraid they will shoot an illegal hen.

A knowledge of the wild turkey's habits and behavior might help the hunter, Walker says. He offers this brief rundown on the turkey.

Wild turkeys normally appear in the largest flocks during the last fall and winter months when hens and gobblers are observed flocking separately. In the last fall, hens and young of the year may be seen together, the young including male and females.

Walker says old toms at this time flock by themselves in groups ranging from three or four up to about 20 birds with nine to 12 constituting an average flock.

Turkeys, during the winter months, usually inhabit the rougher terrain of a given turkey range, particularly along stream courses in relatively heavy wooded areas.

Acorns, when available, make up a large percentage of the fall and winter diet but may be supplemented by various berries including some of the sumacs, the hackberry, and the cedar berry. Winter greens are taken along with any beetles and grasshoppers which may be present.

According to Walker, the turkeys begin to move out from their wintering area around the last of February. It is during this time that the old toms begin gathering harems, three to seven or eight hens. Nesting begins in April and May and the average clutch is approximately 11 eggs which hatch 28 days after incubation begins.

The peak of nesting activity usually occurs in May and June, when the greater proportion of the young are hatched. During laying, each old gobbler ranges in a very restricted area, and is visited each day or second day by the hens in their harems. They eat very little at this time depending on a fat pad behind their crops for nutrients. These fat pads are built up from rich foods such as acorns, during the fall and winter.

As the end of the nesting season nears, the old toms begin to gather in small flocks. In late summer, hens and young combine to form their own flocks.

When the first northers come in the fall, usually in October, the drift back to the wintering area begins and is usually completed by the middle of November.

This behavior of wild turkeys results in the occupation of a large block of range by one flock. The distance from wintering areas to nesting areas has been found to be as far as 26 miles in one specific instance.

It is these normal movements from winter range to summer range which make turkey management complicated.

In order to efficiently manage any game species, it is necessary to have an area sufficiently large to include their year-round range. In some cases any area less than 20,000 acres is probably too small.

Blocks of 50,000 acres are often necessary in sections where the quality of range is only moderately good.

Biologists and game management officers in the field report the turkey population this year to be better than most can remember. Excellent breeding conditions and plenty of feed due to unusual amounts of rain are the reasons for the high numbers.

Turkeys can be still hunted, stalked, or called up by various mechanical means. No matter how they are hunted, most hunters will agree that the difference between success and failure may be the "bat of an eye." Domestic turkeys have a reputation for being dumb, but wild turkeys are, as one early day writer put it, "crafty like foxes."

CARD OF THANKS

During the illness and loss of our beloved Mother and Grandmother, Mrs. L.W. Haney, we have realized anew just how much our friends mean to us.

You, for many years, have shared with us in making her life richer and more meaningful. The esteem you manifested toward her, was a motivating force in her life, and one of our sweet memories. For your thoughtfulness of her and your loving concern for us at the time of her homegoing, we shall always be grateful. May God Bless You.

Mrs. David Anderson and Family

William Wood wrote in 1930 that a turkey can "fly like a goose, run like a dog." That and its intelligence, make the wild turkey a worthy quarry for the hunters who like a challenge.

accidents. Seldom is it known that many pedestrians have met their death on the streets and highways because they had been drinking to the extent that they were unaware of the danger they faced as they staggered along the road.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford

By--Vern Sanford
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN, Tex. -- General election day was a rosy one for statewide Democratic contenders.

Not only did Texas endorse liberal presidential candidate Hubert Humphrey, but also all statewide Democratic standard bearers. No incumbent congressmen lost their jobs and the partisan lineup in the state legislature remained just the way it is.

Preston Smith of Lubbock won the gubernatorial race with about 57 per cent of the votes over his opponent and first-time candidate G. P. Paul Eggers of Wichita Falls.

Ben Barnes, 30, of DeLeon will become the youngest lieutenant governor in history by virtue of his overwhelming triumph over Republican Doug DeCluitt of Waco. Barnes was the top statewide vote-getter on the ballot.

All incumbent statewide officials seeking re-election won handily.

In congressional races, three Republicans seeking new terms had no great trouble, but none of their colleagues seeking to unseat incumbent Democrats was successful. Congressional lineup remains 20 Democrats to three Republicans.

Eight Republican state House members were elected -- four incumbents, four newcomers. Three incumbent GOPers were defeated. Two GOP state senators were re-elected. Lineup remains 142 Democrats to eight Republicans in the House, 29 Democrats to two GOPs in the Senate.

Boasting that no other state can compare with Texas "regarding its support of, loyalty to or victory for the Democratic party," former State Democratic Committee Chairman Will D. Davis observed:

state to have a Democratic governor and only one of ten largest to have solid statewide Democratic administration.

*Texas was the only one in the southern and southwestern regions to give Humphrey plurality; and only Texas, Washington and Hawaii west of the Mississippi voted for the Democratic presidential nominee.

MOST AMENDMENTS DEFEATED--Voters showed they are in an economy frame of mind in their decisions on 14 proposed state constitutional amendments.

They voted November 5 to cut out the state property tax, but they refused to go along with raising the state's public welfare ceiling from $60 million to $75 million a year or to increase legislators salaries from $4,800 to $8,400 annually.

Approved were changes in state employees' pension system, university fund investment liberalization, removal of the $504 a year ceiling on contributions to teacher pensions, wiping out the property tax and clarification of a legislator's eligibility to run for other office by virtue of the termination date of his elective term.

Texas turned thumbs down on tax exemptions for warehouse-stored property, El Paso local governmental consolidations, Dallas road bonds, tax aid for Texarkana tobacco merchants, state contract changes tax benefits for anti-pollution equipment purchasers and industrial bond issues.

NEW JOBS ANNOUNCED--Gov. elect Preston Smith announced as his first staff selection James P. Oliver, formerly of Caldwell, to serve as executive budget director after the new administration takes over in January. Oliver currently serves as assistant director of the Legislative Budget Board. Walter N. Corrigan of San

SAVE THE HENS!--Refuge Manager Bert Blair of the Muleshoe National Wildlife Refuge brought in this colorful cartoon to emphasize the need to "Save the Hens" during the annual duck hunts in the area. He stated that there is a drastic reduction in the number of hens this year, and encourages all hunters to shoot drakes and leave the hens to re-populate the dwindling duck population.

Antonio is new chairman of Texas Research League. C.I. Wall of Amarillo is vice-chairman, and Grogan Lord of Georgetown was renamed secretary-treasurer.

C.C. Miller of Dallas is chairman of University Inter-scholastic League Legislative Council and B.E. McCollum of Port Neches is vice-chairman.

Glenn Eggs, formerly of Abilene and one-time executive assistant to House Speaker Barnes, has been appointed president of National Western Life Insurance Company.

HILL - BURTON FUND APPROVED -- Forty-two applicants received allocations of $15,198,504 in federal Hill-Burton hospital construction modernization funds through State Board of Health.

Biggest allocation of $1 million each went to hospitals in Houston, San Antonio, Dallas, Bonham, Irving and Fort Worth, Memorial Hospital of Uvalde received two grants totalling $865,000. Atlanta City Hospital received $900,000; Brownfield's Terry Hospital District $650,000; Hotel Dieu at El Paso $885,500; Johnson City Hospital $390,000; Community Hospital of Brazosport in Freeport $242,090; Ballinger Memorial Hospital $300,000; Highland General of Pampa $321,119; St. Joseph's of El Paso $594,313; Seton of Austin $375,000; Denison Memorial $210,000; Newton County Memorial $320,350; and Mornside Manor (home for aged), San Antonio $700,000.

Smaller amounts went to facilities in Waco, Lone Star, Jacksonville, Floresville, Hempstead, El Paso, Robert Lee, Coleman, Sterling City, Midland, Greenville, Corpus Christi, Wichita Falls, Dallas, Houston and Fort Worth.

Hill-Burton funds pay up to half of the cost of construction modernization work.

ATTACK REDIRECTED -- Texas Animal Health Commission has changed its attack on hog cholera in Texas by de-emphasizing the cure which has turned out to be a cause of the disease.

Commission has been depending on the modified live-virus vaccine to combat the disease. But statistics show that, in 1967, 31 per cent of the hog cholera cases were traced back to the use of the MLV.

In 60 per cent of those cases, the vaccine was improperly used. But in the other 40 per cent, it was not. Texas statistics showed that 33 per cent of the cases were caused by use of the MLV.

So, the Commission approved a new requirement that all hogs leaving a market for destinations other than slaughter be inoculated with inactive serum. Then, if the owner wants to use the live virus, he may.

Secondly, the Commission amended its regulation that all hogs entering the state must have been treated with the modified live-virus vaccine. New requirement will be the use of the inactive serum alone.

TEXAS GETS RECREATION FUNDS--Texas is due to get $1.7 million of $45.7 million in funds for acquisition and development of outdoor recreation facilities approved by Bureau of Outdoor Recreation, U.S. Department of Interior.

Allocations are made largely on basis of population, federal resources and programs and out-of-state visitor use. States must match the grants 50-50.

BLUE LAW SUIT--Texas Supreme Court has heard the first arguments for and against Penal Code Article 286a, which prohibits the sale of certain listed items -- covering just about everything -- on consecutive Saturdays and Sundays.

Suit is the State vs. Gibson's Discount Center of Midland, which -- the State contends -- tried to get around the law by staying open the legal six days then "leasing" its facilities and stocks to another company -- created and owned by Gibson's -- for the seventh day.

At the local level, a district court judge upheld the Gibson's move by saying that the "Blue Law" is unconstitutional, because the items listed in the statute are vague and indefinite.

In its arguments before the court, Gibson's concentrated on allegations that the state's appeal -- directly to the Supreme Court from the district court -- was improper and should be refused.

High Court will rule on the jurisdictional question before it gets into the substance of the case.

LOANS BONDS SOLD--Coordinating, Board, Texas College and University System sold $12 million in student loan bonds to Harris Trust and Savings Bank of Chicago at 2.8673 interest.

Money provides assistance to needy students. So far, 29,480 have benefitted from it.

Board also approved fine arts programs at nine schools and administrative reorganization of arts programs at the University of Texas at Arlington and West Texas State. Construction of a $1.5 million physical education complex at San Angelo State College got authorization, as did the plan for participation in federal aid to campus building.

On December 3, Board will make key decisions on dental education, medical education and North Texas higher education needs.

COTTON GIN RIDER DUMPED--A controversial appropriations bill rider twice vetoed by Gov. John Connally was stricken from a budget draft on motion of Lt. Gov. elect Ben Barnes.

Barnes got some opposition from House Speaker-designate Rep. Gus Mutscher of Brenham and Rep. W.S. Healy of Paducah, but Gov. elect Preston Smith held his motion carried on voice vote.

Rider sought to keep funds from being spent to police air pollution by cotton gins. Mutscher said the problem is insignificant and is used by politicians to "demagogue." Connally has maintained that the problem caused by gins is major. Barnes argued that the rider is unneeded and is simply a "political factor."

"Plenty of time during the legislative session to work it out," Smith said in sustaining the vote on deletion.

SHORT SNORTS

Presiding judge in each precinct has responsibility of determining validity of irregular ballots, Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin has held.

Conditions are right for record quail harvest this year, according to Parks and Wildlife Department experts.

Eighth grade students across Texas will get a closer-than-usual view of their government and how it works with a new 16 class-hour unit on "You and the Law," developed by the Texas Education Agency.

Savings and Loan Commissioner has set hearings on applications for new loan concerns, one for February 11 on a Longview application and one February 18 on a Brenham application.

State Comptroller reports tax from cigarettes and liquor last month was an increase over the October, 1967, mark.

1968 Gun Law Registration Is Outlined

Dallas, Texas--Detailed procedures for registering machine gun, sawed-off shotgun, sawed-off rifle, silencer, deactivated war trophy and other destructive devices were announced today by B. Frank White, Regional Commissioner of Internal Revenue for the Southwest Region.

The Gun Control Act of 1968 requires that weapons and devices of this type must be registered with the Internal Revenue Service by December 1. Mr. White said that copies of Registration Form 4467 are available at Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division, Internal Revenue Service, Washington, D.C. 20024. The third copy may be kept by the owner of the firearm or destructive device.

Firearms or destructive devices should not be brought to an IRS Office to be registered, Mr. White said.

Under the new law all firearms and destructive devices requiring registration must be identified by a serial number. If a firearm or device does not have a serial number, the owner should phone, visit, or write the nearest IRS Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Office and a number will be assigned.

After obtaining the number, the owner is responsible for affixing it to the firearm or device before completing the registration form. Additional information may be obtained by contacting the nearest Alcohol and Tobacco Tax or other IRS Office.

Good Shooting In Goose Season Is Expected

AUSTIN--A fall flight forecast from the U.S. Bureau of Sports Fisheries and Wildlife indicates that when the goose season in Texas opens October 30, hunters should have good shooting.

A.J. Springs, Assistant Director, Wildlife Services, says this year's season should be similar to last year's. The Canada goose population forecast for the western part of the State is as good or a little higher than last year's, and in the eastern portion of the State the population should show a slight increase. This increase can be attributed in part to the restricted bag limit last year in this area, and Springs pointed out the reduced bag on Canada geese will continue this year in this area.

Springs says the white-fronted goose population is also still below the desired level, while the snow and blue goose population are about the same as last year's.

The season will open on October 30 and run through January 12. The bag and possession limit is five but with the following restrictions.

The daily bag and possession limit west of U.S. Highway 81 is one Ross's goose and, in the alternative, one white-fronted goose; or one white-fronted goose and one Canada goose; or two Canada geese.

East of U.S. Highway 81, the daily bag limit is not more than one Ross's goose and, in the alternative, one Canada goose; or one white-fronted goose. The possession limit is not more than one Ross's goose and, in the alternative, two Canada geese; or one Canada and one white-fronted goose.

The shooting hours for all migratory game birds are one-half hour before sunrise to sunset.

Duck and goose hunters must purchase a Federal duck stamp. One fully feathered wing must remain attached to dressed migratory game birds while they are being transported.

The law requires that a reasonable effort be made to retrieve any killed or wounded migratory game bird.
