Harvest Ahead of Last Year

Nursing Home Construction Slated Soon

Cotton Gins Have Overflow on Yards

On November 1, 1967, 23 bales of cotton had been ginned by Bailey County cotton gins. On November 1, 1968, more than 1000 bales of cotton had been processed by the gins. This is representative of the early cotton harvest on the South Plains.

The early harvest which has cotton rolling in to the gins was caused by the freeze on October 17.

County Agent J.K. Adams said, "There seems to be a wide range in micronaire readings. Most low micronaire readings can be attributed to either the variety or the early and late watering of cotton."

Since cotton was planted early, the micronaire has been very satisfactory on an overall basis.

"Some cases have been reported in which the micronaire has been higher than desirable. An ideal 'mike' strength is 4.5."

"As far as variety is concerned," continued Adams, "some farmers attempted to grow a longer fiber cotton and planted a variety of cotton which did not have time to mature."

The weather made a rapid comeback from the murky days last week and farmers had begun to go to their annual stripping full blast. Cotton is pouring in to the gins and some gins were losing ground and unable to keep up with the overflow.

No grades have been received following the damp weather and cotton is appearing as white and marketable as it was before the weather turned bad.

Award Program Is Available At Texas A&M

Texas A&M University, through its Opportunity Awards Program, offers numerous scholarships and grants to single students who will graduate from Texas high schools next spring, announces County Agricultural Agent J.K. Adams.

"Dennis Newton, Enochs, is taking advantage of this program now," said Adams.

Senior high school students interested in obtaining a college education should take a close look at this awards program. Since only several months remain before the deadline for applying for these

Funds Voted In Departments For Fine Arts

Fine Arts Boosters Club held their regular November meeting Monday, the 18th and heard reports and requests for funds needed from heads of departments.

Jim Harvey, band director, reported a total of $1000 cleared from magazine sales by band members, which is to be applied to the band's travel fund.

Band members are at work painting house numbers on curbs to raise money for the same purpose. The annual sale of fruit cakes, under the direction of A.V. Wood, will begin very soon, with cakes to be placed in local stores.

It was reported that tentative date for the Fine Arts Banquet is January 18, Mrs. J.W. Coppedge is chairman of the banquet committee.

Elizabeth Black, head of the Art Department, expressed appreciation for the jewelry casting kit purchased last year for the department, then asked for an eight foot ladder and approximately $18 for postage and insurance on pictures to be sent to contest. Her request was approved.

Kerry Moore, of the speech department, asked for $75 for a cabinet to house lighting control backstage; also for $125 to help pay expenses for speech trips out of town; this was also approved.

HARVEST WELL UNDERWAY--Representative of the action at 20 cotton gins in Bailey County is this scene at a Muleshoe cotton gin. Workmen are taking the cotton from the trailer in the section and transferring it inside the gin in preparation for turning out the finished bale. Cotton harvest is well underway following a few days last week of damp weather.

35 More Beds, More Lobby To Be Added

With construction slated to begin immediately, work will soon be underway on the newest addition to West Plains Memorial Hospital.

Hospital Authority Board members have finalized plans for an additional 35 beds to be built as an addition to the Muleshoe Nursing Home.

Completion of the new facilities is expected early in 1969. Decision to enlarge the present facilities came about because of the severe shortage of beds available for nursing home patients in the area.

Muleshoe has long had a lengthy waiting list and area people are often forced to go out of the area to find available facilities.

The present nursing home is short on lobby space and this is one of the areas which will be changed in the new construction. The lobby space will be enlarged and the new rooms will be larger than those in the existing facility.

Last week, city councilmen closed a portion of the alley west of the present building. The new construction will cross the former alley at mid-point on the west side of the existing nursing home. Construction on Page 2, Col. 4

Santa Claus To Lead Parade December 7

Santa Claus will make his first official appearance in Muleshoe for 1968 when he arrives to lead the All-Christmas parade this year in downtown Muleshoe on Saturday, December 7.

Two divisions have been announced for the floats in the parade, both fantasy and religious, but all floats must have a Christmas theme.

In the two float divisions, first prize is $100 in each division; $50 for both second place winners and $25 for the two third place winners. An additional $15 is to be added for out-of-town float winners. This is expected to be an added incentive for out-of-town floats to enter the annual parade. Con't. on Page 2, Col. 7

First National Bank Has Bank Americard

A news release by the First National Bank of Muleshoe has announced plans for the introduction of the BankAmericard and all-purpose credit card plan.

M.D. Gunstream, president of the bank, said the move was based upon results of an extensive survey conducted in Bailey County. The survey indicated that the growth of the area warranted a full-scale plan.

The Grace Paul Memorial Fund Deadline Nears

Those who wish to contribute to the Grace Paul Memorial Fund and have not yet had an opportunity to do so are asked to send their gift to the fund to Mrs. J.J. McDonald, Route 1, Friona, before the November 25 deadline.

The fund will be used to purchase a permanent memorial for the Lazbuddie school. Prior to her recent death, Miss Paul had been a longtime teacher in the Lazbuddie school system. Con't. on Page 2, Col. 6

Two Men Found After Lost Six Days

Ross Glaze, a rancher from Amarillo, and brother of James 'Sugar' Glaze of Muleshoe, and his New Mexico foreman, Louis Hernandez, of Springer, New Mexico, walked out of the mountains near Tierra Amarilla Tuesday afternoon.

The two men left last Wednesday on a cattle buying trip and became lost after taking a wrong turn about 10 a.m. that morning. The men said they stayed in the Bagwell cowcamp for three days until they ran out of food. Glaze said they found two raw potatoes and some matches in the camp and that is all they had to eat for three days. When they decided the food wouldn't last much longer they walked to another camp Saturday night. But there was no food in the other camp.

James 'Sugar' Glaze of Muleshoe and Mrs. Ross Glaze became lost overnight, along with officer Joe Hernandez, a brother of the lost ranch foreman. James Glaze left Muleshoe Sunday morning to assist in the search and met Mrs. Ross Glaze and officer Hernandez near the site of the hunt. The trio became lost over night Sunday, but were able to make their way back Monday morning.

Bill Jim St. Clair and Carl Bamert spotted the yellow car which had been driven by the two missing men from a plane just a short time before the men walked up to a Forest Service construction foreman, Sabino Trujillo who was installing culverts in a country road. State Police, Civil Air Patrol, National Guard troops and volunteers had all participated in the six day search.

Glaze told searchers that it stormed all the time they were lost. He also said that things got real bad Sunday as they could not even tell at times which direction they were going. "We were out of food," he said, "and it didn't look like it would ever clear up, so we decided then that we would just have to try to walk out." He said the weather cleared enough Monday for them to see a plane flying over the area. The duo burned some fence posts in an effort to signal the plane, which did not see the men.

When the men walked out of the mountains they each carried two biscuits and a jar of peanut butter they had found at the Laganitus cowcamp on Sunday afternoon.

The men were in good condition despite being dressed in relatively light clothing for the type of weather they endured.

Muleshoe plays Perryton in a 3 p.m. Friday afternoon football game for the last time of the year and Matador will be at Lazbuddie to wind up regular season for the Longhorns Friday night.

The public is invited to attend a play by the seventh and eighth grade speech class Friday afternoon at Muleshoe High School auditorium.

The play which will be presented at 1:30 p.m. is entitled 'Printer's Devil.'

No decisions were made at an open meeting Monday night by the city council revolving around the possibility of closing parking near Highway 84-214 at the crossroads.

Among the items discussed were the possibilities of one-way streets, angle parking the way of Avenue J.

The consensus of opinion was that of opposition to most suggestions made. There was opposition to eliminating parking at the intersection and area businessmen preferred to change the parking to angle parking. It was noted that several businessmen on the south and west of the intersection had painted new angle parking places Tuesday afternoon.

Attending the meeting were Alex Williams, J.V. Peeler, Con't. on Page 2, Col. 1

Contest Winner

For the third week in a row, the younger generation is walking off with the money in the weekly 'Back the Mules' football contest.

This week, Preston Wilson is top winner with a perfect score and only a 10-point spread in the tie breaker.

Quinton Nichols, Enochs, is right there in second place, also with a perfect score, but a 28-point spread in the tie-breaker.

Although there were a couple of upsets on the card, many people read them right, as six people had cards this week with only one game missed. They include Irene Splawn, Larry Calvert, L. C. Roddam, Adele Tompkins, Billy Cowan and Jim Walker.

An additional eleven entrants missed two games, which is usually the average for the two top winners.

Cotton...

With a projected yield of 85,000 bales of cotton in Bailey County, some 21,000 bales have been received in the 20 cotton gins in the county to date. This is almost 20 percent of the 1968 cotton crop already in from the fields. If good weather holds, it is expected to be an early year to complete the cotton season.

On the South Plains, cotton harvest is far ahead of last year.

The three Cotton Clipping Offices of the USDA in this area classed 151,000 samples of new crop cotton last week ending Friday, November 15, 1968. This brought the total for the entire season to 322,000. 132,000 Samples had been classed on the South Plains this time last year.

Predominant grades were Middling, Strict Low Middling, Middling Light Spotted, and Strict Low Middling Light Spotted. These four grades represented 87% of the total classed.

The average staple length from the South Plains area last week was 1-1/2 inch.

Micronaire readings by percentages were 3.5 - 4.9 64%, 3.3 - 3.4 16%, 3.0 - 3.2 15% and 2.7 - 2.9 5%.

The average Pressley tests, which is the breaking strength of the fibers, for the Lubbock area was 88,000 pounds per square inch, for the Lamesa area was 84,000 pounds, and for the Brownfield area was 84,000 pounds.

Prices reported to the Consumer and Marketing Service of the USDA at Lubbock ranged from $10.25 to $12.75 per bale over the Government loan value for White Grades, and $13.25 to $17.25 per bale over the loan for Light Spotted grades in the 3.5 to 4.9 micronaire range.

Average cottonseed prices paid to producers was $49.00 per ton.

Funds...

Choir director Jeff Ingham asked for $200 to begin a music library for the choir and the group approved his request.

Band directors Harvey and Badger asked for $1675 for instruments needed for the band. The full amount was not granted but $1200 was voted, to be used for the best buys they can get for that amount.

Following the business meeting, Harvey showed a film of Muleshoe band made at the Canyon contest November 5.

He said he was very pleased with the performance of the band in the contest, at which they received a rating of III. "Both the directors and those who viewed the film felt the rating was unfair," said Mrs. Herb Griffiths.

ALL PACKED AND READY TO GO--Charles Coomer and his eight children are shown all packed and ready to catch a plane for Olympia, Wash. to make their new home. Mrs. Coomer died following childbirth November 6 and area individuals and churches collected funds to send the family to Washington where Coomer is to make a new home for the children. Coomer and his children will make their home with relatives of the late Mrs. Coomer.

Pep Festival Slated

All roads will lead to Pep on Thanksgiving Day. On that day, November 28, the twenty-third annual Pep Thanksgiving Festival will be held in that community.

If anybody happens to be driving on Highway 303 southwest of Littlefield and northwest of Levelland through the little community of Pep on that day, you will probably be amazed at all the activity and excitement going on in that community. People gather from all over the area to enjoy the festivities throughout the day.

Highlighting the day, will be the wide selection of food available as there is each year. Featured will be country sausage and turkey with all the trimmings. Two meals will be served during the day. The first meal will be from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m., and the second will be from 5 to 7:30 p.m. Tickets are $1.75 for adults and $1 for children.

There will be carnival attractions all day, a cotton and general auction at 6:30 p.m., and a western dance, beginning at 9 p.m.

Bank...

California, there are currently more than 13,000,000 card holders and approximately 300,000 merchant members nationally. BankAmericard is presently offered by 50 leading banks in the country. BankAmericard is also good in Great Britain. Barclay Bank Ltd., which has 2000 branches throughout England, recently became a licensed system.

Similar interchanges have been announced recently in Canada, Japan and Mexico.

Explaining further plans for BankAmericard in the area, Gunstream states, "It's real beauty lies in the compatibility of services to individual card holders and merchants alike, such as extended payment options to the customers, with the immediate payment to merchants."

He also pointed out that BankAmericard is the only major credit card which does not charge card holders a fee to join and belong. Other advantages to card holders, including consolidating purchases into one monthly statement which may be paid by a single check; improved record keeping; because card holders receive copies of all sales tickets, and automatic credit at numerous businesses locations locally and throughout the nation, without having to apply for credit at each individual establishment.

Parade...

Plans for the parade are being made by two committees of the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce, The Muleshoe Area Women's Service Committee is organizing the parade which is being financed by the Business Activities Committee. Marie White is parade chairman, and R.A. Bradley will be parade marshal.

Money prizes will be given for first, second and third in both divisions. This year, a new award will be given to the best float from out of town. The selection of the winners will be made known by the out of town judges immediately following the parade at a short ceremony at the Boy Scout grounds.

All churches, clubs and school organizations in the Muleshoe area are urged to enter the Christmas parade by turning in their entry to the Chamber of Commerce office by November 27.

The parade will start at 3 p.m. Saturday afternoon, December 7, and all floats are asked to be in place at the Boy Scout grounds by 2:30 p.m. The parade will move from the Muleshoe Nursing Home on South First to the crossroads and then will move over to Main Street and proceed back to the Boy Scout grounds.

Both the Muleshoe High School and Junior High School bands will march in the parade along with several marching teams which have been invited from area colleges and universities. Miss Muleshoe and Little Miss Muleshoe will be featured in the parade also.

The best show on earth is the human race, and the performance is continuous, and free.

Few people have the courage to resist the crowd, even when they know the crowd is off base.

In our opinion, enjoying the beauties of life, and living and helping others, brings genuine happiness.

Also a part of the program are grants awarded under the Higher Education Act of 1965. These are in value of up to $1,200 per academic year with financial need being the major consideration. Academic achievement and promise are also considered. These grants include a cash stipend with part-time employment or a long term loan to fulfill the individual's financial need. Grants can be renewed for a maximum of four years with a total value of $4,800.

Objectives of the program are threefold: (1) To reward academic achievement and leadership capability; (2) To assist qualified students who need financial assistance to continue their education; (3) To pursue excellence at the University by assisting qualified students to continue their education.

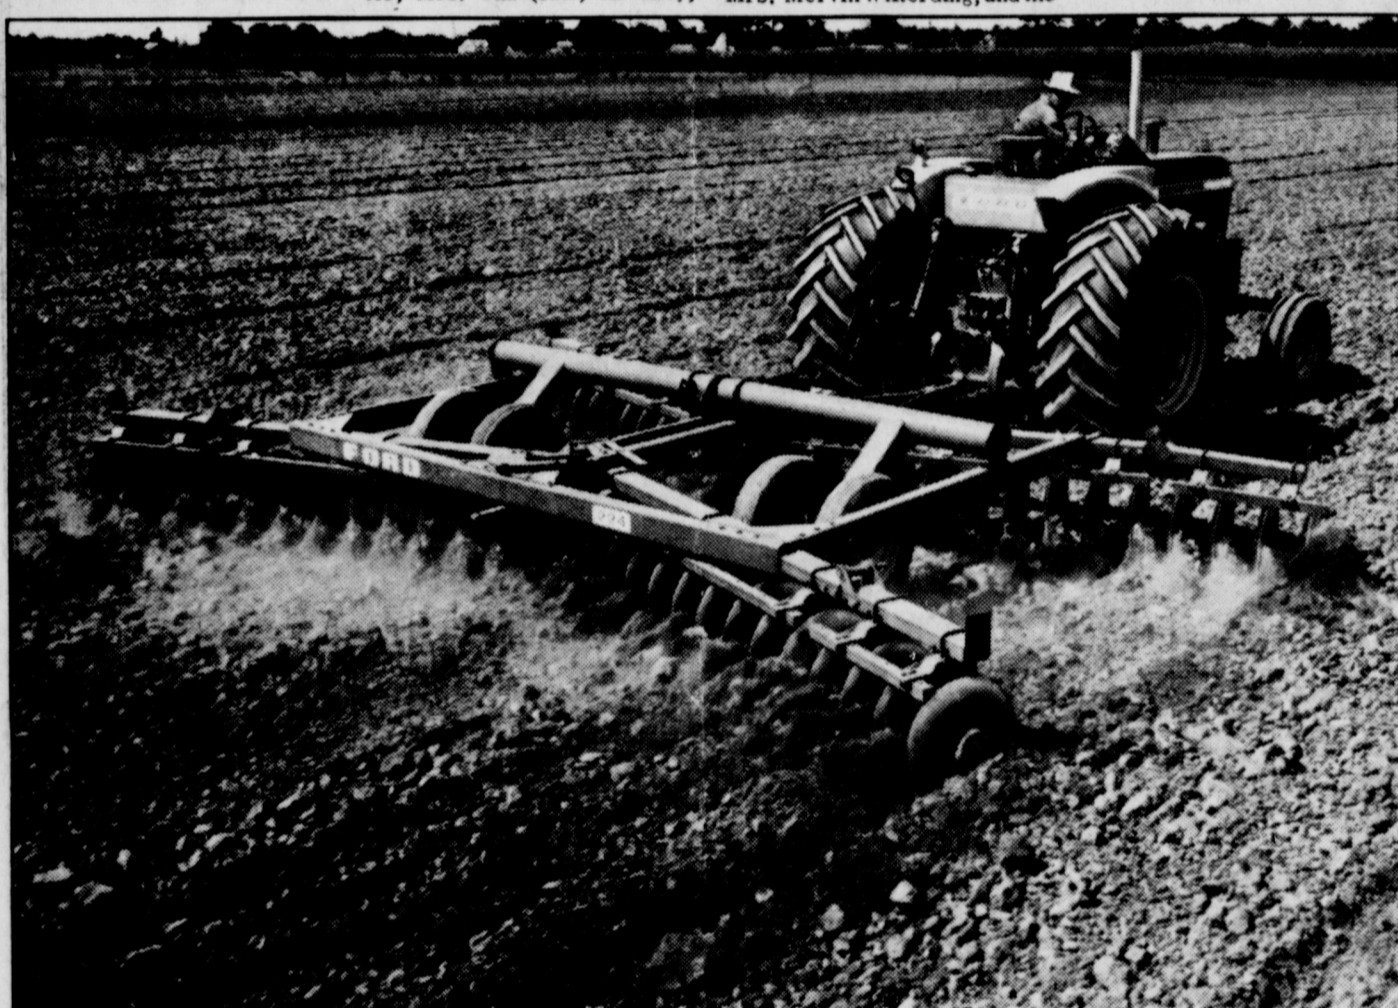

A College Entrance Examination must be taken before applying for admission to any college or university. Check with your high school counselor concerning this examination. ## Seedling Cotton Protection Studied at High Plains

Reduction of farmer's expenses in seedbed preparations, minimum tillage and protection of seedling cotton are receiving major attention at the High Plains Research Foundation as scientists plan for next season's crops.

Involved in the studies will be fall-planted wheat to protect young cotton; retention of crop stubble for seedling protection and an interplant protection method using cotton with corn or forage sorghum.

According to Dr. Tom Longnecker, Foundation Director, the wheat protection study conducted this year was discontinued when hail destroyed the cotton crop in May, the corn and forage sorghum protection idea was conducted on a Hale County farm with notable results this year but the stubble protection program is new to the Foundation.

Explaining the problem, Dr. Longnecker said cotton seedlings, in the two to six leaf stage, are vulnerable to the West Texas winds and sands especially following rains when the surface is left smooth.

Today, farmers use sand fighters to combat the blowing sand problem. But, sometimes wind and sand can damage the seedlings when it is too wet to get into the fields with sand-fighters or at night when a farmer is unaware that his crop is being ruined.

Attempting to find a solution to this problem, Foundation scientists in cooperation with the Chevron Chemical Company designed a 1968 testing program using wheat as a protector.

For the test, wheat was planted in March with two rates used -- 90 pounds of wheat seed per acre planted in 10-inch rows and 45 pounds of seed planted in 20-inch rows.

Prior to cotton planting, a contact herbicide was applied to kill the wheat. The cotton was planted with the dead wheat to provide necessary protection. The test was hampered by heavy hail which damaged the cotton crop in mid-May and was discontinued when a second hail destroyed the remaining crop the last of May.

"However," Dr. Longnecker said, "the test was complete enough that we did learn a few things."

And these lessons will be incorporated in the 1969 work plan.

First, the wheat will be planted in November. "The March planting did not give the wheat sufficient time for development," Dr. Longnecker said. "The lush growth attained by the wheat during this period disappeared quickly after the herbicide application", he said.

Secondly, the wheat planted on 10-inch rows had used too much ground moisture by planting time so that the soil was too dry to germinate cotton seed. With wheat planted on 20-inch rows, moisture was adequate for cotton seed germination. "We now recommend that the wheat be seeded at a 30 to 45-pound rate in 20-inch rows," Dr. Longnecker said.

"The same contact herbicide (Paraquat) applied to kill the wheat also killed all weeds that had germinated in the thin stands of wheat", the Research Director said.

In the test, the cotton was planted north to south in eight row strips with 16 rows of bare land to the west so that prevailing west and southwest winds would have ample opportunity to damage the test. "Prior to the hail, there was evidence that the cotton was getting protection from the dead wheat and with the changes planned in the 1969 program we believe this can be an effective and practical solution," Dr. Longnecker said.

Another idea is not to prepare a seedbed following the harvest of grain sorghum.

"It has become a common practice to plant grain sorghum in double rows 12 inches apart on a bed and this could offer ample protection for cotton," Dr. Longnecker said.

For this practice, research plans call for a rotary cutter to cut the sorghum stubble to a height of five inches. Prior to planting the cotton in the sorghum stubble, a contact herbicide would be broadcast to kill the weeds. The cotton would be planted on top of the bed between the double rows of grain sorghum.

An Arizona study using this method in a three-year program where the only seedbed preparation was a chisel run down each middle, showed reduced costs of $12 per acre and an increased lint cotton yield of 140 pounds per acre. "This means a total of $40 in increased gross profits," he said. "And I see no reason why this can't be done in this area since the soils are similar."

"Farmers following regular cotton-grain sorghum rotation practices can do the same and plant sorghum on either side of this year's cotton stubble", Dr. Longnecker said.

"Pointing to the benefits of surface stubble mulch," Dr. Longnecker said, "the stubble would prevent soil moisture evaporation and speed rainfall penetration into the soil. In this way, surface stubble mulching benefits could compensate for the problems met in handling surface stubble", he said.

Dr. Longnecker said the mulch problem might interfere with flood irrigation practices used in this area. But proper tools can do much to alleviate the problem.

"We feel this practice offers great potential in reducing production costs but our research is not far enough along for us to make recommendations except on an experimental basis", Dr. Longnecker said.

A third study met with success on the Hale County Farm belonging to Frank Moore of Plainview, a Research Foundation Trustee.

In this program, Moore incorporated the interplanting method -- planting two rows of cotton then a row of forage sorghum at the same time. Dr. Longnecker said the forage sorghum germinates in cooler temperatures than cotton and was big enough to supply wind and sand protection for the seedling cotton. He said corn also could be used for a protector.

The forage sorghum was killed when it was about knee-high, four to five weeks old, by running a knife about three inches under the plant. The sorghum died about three weeks after knifing and remained in an upright position about four more weeks. The sorghum provided ample wind and sand protection and held enough additional heat from sunlight to aid the cotton to grow more rapidly than cotton planted the same time without interplant.

The High Plains Research Foundation at Halfway is a private enterprise supported by area agriculture, business and industry.

Bride is Wed In Home of Grandparents

A single ring ceremony performed in the home of Mr. and Mrs. M.L. Carpenter, Baileyboro, grandparents of the bride, November 8 at eight o'clock, united in marriage Miss Shirley Kay Carpenter, and James Henry Carpenter.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N.C. Carpenter of Lubbock and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J.D. Carpenter of Lazbuddie.

Rev. Roy Patterson, pastor of the Lazbuddie Church, officiated.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a matching dress and coat of white brocaded cotton, with a corsage of white carnations. She was attended by her cousin, Mrs. Forest Creamer of Muleshoe.

Best man was Bob Blackburn of Muleshoe.

Homemakers Hear History

The history of Bailey County was discussed for Muleshoe Young Homemakers at their regular meeting November 14 in the homemaking department of Muleshoe high school by Clela Williams.

Eleven members were present and one guest, Mrs. Hattie Heathington.

Roll call was answered with what they liked most about Bailey County.

Giving the background of the county, Mrs. Williams told the group Bailey County was annexed to Bexar County in 1876 and land deeded to the State was used to build the State Capitol. We were later annexed to Castro County for judicial purposes.

She gave the early history of Old Hurley, what it consisted of; the background of New Hurley, James; how and why Muleshoe was first planned and started, interspersed with stories of the pioneer settlers during early days; how irrigation started and when and where; early crops and entertainment and historical buildings.

The next meeting of the club will be December 12 at which time Jo Ann Bray will present a program on Christmas confectons and candle making.

Creative Family Living P-TA Topic

Vernelle Craig, special education teacher from Farwell and a former teacher in Muleshoe schools, spoke to Richland Hills P-TA at their Monday afternoon meeting. Her topic was "Creative Family Living."

Mrs. Craig said, "Creative family living should start early in life. Children should be trained to work through games." Illustrating this, she said children should be taught to pick up toys by using the biblical story of the lost coin. Another suggested method given was to list the tasks to be done and ask each child to draw one.

Family play, things that can be done as a family group, is an important factor in creative family living, the speaker told the homemakers present. She also stressed family worship and teaching children the art of giving. One such mean she told of was where children were taught to visit elderly people at Halloween time with gifts rather than the usual "trick or treat."

Invocation for the meeting was offered by Mrs. W.T. Watson.

Mrs. Mitchell's third grade music class sang "My Boat" and a "Thank You" prayer. The rhythm band played two selections.

Presiding over the meeting was Mrs. Harold Cowan, 1st vice-president, in the absence of Mrs. Royce Turner. Mrs. Turner, Mrs. Kenneth Precure and Mrs. Don Harmon are attending the State P-TA Convention in Houston this week.

Reports were heard on teachers' aid by Mrs. Watson and on the special education class breakfasts by Mrs. F.D. Harris, the class teacher.

Room count was won by Mrs. Pugh's room (the first time in her eleven years teaching.)

Mothers of third grade children served punch, cookies and coffee. The next meeting will be December 20, a joint meeting with Mary DeShazo at DeShazo School at four o'clock.

Area Couple Marries

Ada Rudd and Charles Wesley Evitt exchanged wedding vows November 10 at two o'clock in the home of Mrs. Russell Weems, Clovis, with the Rev. Jack Moffett, pastor of First United Methodist Church officiating.

The bride chose a two-piece knit suit of navy and white and wore an orchid corsage centered with a tiny pale pink rose bud.

Attending the couple were Mrs. Rudd's daughter, Mrs. Myrtle Lee Weems, and her son, Oscar Rudd of Muleshoe. Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the Weems home. The bride's table was covered with a handmade cutwork linen cloth and centered with a five-pronged bronze candelabra holding blue tapers. An arrangement of white gladioli and blue spider mums further add to the beauty of the table.

Serving the three-tier wedding cake, coffee and spiced tea were granddaughters Becky Weems, of Clovis, and Debbie Rudd of Muleshoe.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Rudd and family of Muleshoe; Mrs. Lavern Hunt, sister of the bride, from Houston; Mrs. Pearl Sherbert, Houston; Mrs. Ruby Thomason of Roswell; and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Rudd of Springlake.

The new Mrs. Evitt is a former resident of Earth, having moved to Clovis five years ago. Her children are graduates of Springlake schools.

The couple will be at home at Route 3, Box 2478, Greenacre Road, Clovis.

Work that is performed ahead of schedule is a pleasure, when completed.

Miss Brenda Tanner

Gift Tea Fetes Miss Tanner

Miss Susie Tanner, sister of the bride, registered the guests.

The serving table was laid with white lace over pink. A large floral arrangement, flanked by pink candles, featured various shades of pink and carried out the bride's chosen color of hot pink.

Mrs. Lillian Gandy of Lubbock, and Mrs. L.C. Wrigley, of Plainview, aunt of the honoree, served pink punch and a decorated cake.

Special guests of the afternoon were Mrs. V.T. Tanner, mother of the bride, Mrs. Wrigley and Mrs. Gandy. Mrs. Gandy will stand-in for the groom's mother at the wedding. Mrs. Mike Miller of Canyon was also a guest.

Local OES At Banquet

The Annual observance of the Grand Cross of Color was held in Plainview, Thursday evening, November 14th.

A delicious banquet and program were enjoyed by approximately 60 members of the area Assemblies of the Order of the Rainbow for Girls. The tables were in the form of a Cross and decorations were in keeping with the colors of the Rainbow, with favors of felt in the shape of a cross, adorned with rainbow colored sequins.

The meeting was called to order by the Chairman, Wendell Smith, Plainview. Invocation was given by Alex Williams, Muleshoe.

Oletha Sanders, Earth, gave a humorous monologue, searching for an important item she was supposed to read, and all the while, removing the contents from an over-crowded purse.

The history of Rainbow colors was exemplified by members of Earth Assembly and narrated by Oletha Sanders.

"My Rainbow" was sung by Anita and Donita Kelley, Earth Assembly, members of the Grand Music Committee of Grand Assembly. The Ritual of the Bread Service was observed, with Nancy Smith and Kay Vaughn, Plainview, serving.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Horace (Bud) Kelley, Petersburg; Vice-President, Oletha Sanders, Earth; Secretary - Treasurer, Mrs. Birda Foster, Lockney; Decorations, Mrs. Wendell Smith, Plainview.

The Mispah Benediction was given in unison. The Grand Cross of Color is an honorary degree, conferred by the Supreme Assembly, Order of the Rainbow for Girls, upon those who have contributed time and service to the Rainbow Organization.

Attending from Muleshoe were: Mr. and Mrs. Alex Williams; Mrs. Louise Williams; Mrs. Mary Farley; Mrs. Lavonne Hinkson and Mrs. Glenn Lust.

Fur coats for women are unusual-various furs are used-some with long naps and others clipped. Some are loosely fitted while others are belted.

Thespians Name Most Beautiful, Handsome Music Teachers Hear Methods Discussed

BEAUTIFUL AND HANDSOME--John Elliott, left, was named the 'Most Handsome' and Peggy Williams, 'Most Beautiful' at the annual Thespians Beauty Pageant at the Muleshoe High School Auditorium Saturday night. Elliott did a comedy pantomime and Miss Williams presented a dramatic patriotic reading in the talent part of the pageant.

Cranberries Add Zest To Season

COLLEGE STATION -- The unusual cranberry fruit comes into season in time for versatile holiday use. Cranberries are easy to cook because there is nothing to peel, and there are no seeds or pits, says Gwendolyn Clyatt, Extension consumer marketing specialist.

Cranberry sauce, which contains vitamins A and C, is good with meats and poultry. To make it, first wash and sort berries. Then combine 2 cups of water and 2 cups of sugar, heat to a boil and add 1 pound of cranberries. Then cook over low heat until berries pop--usually 15 minutes.

The sauce can be used whole or strained through a food mill or strainer.

Mrs. Clyatt suggests freezing the berries in the bag or box in which they are purchased. Simply put the unopened container into the freezer. Since they go in the freezer dry, they are easy to separate while still frozen.

They need not be thawed before cooking, says the specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Just a brief rinse in water and they are ready to go into a pie, fruit cake or this recipe for Cranberry Crunch:

- 1 cup uncooked rolled oats
- 1/2 cup flour
- 1 cup brown sugar
- 1/3 cup butter or margarine
- one pound cranberry sauce (jelled or whole)

Mix oats, flour and brown sugar. Cut in butter until crumbly. Place half of this mixture in an 8" by 8" greased baking dish. Cover with cranberry sauce. Top with the remaining half of the oat mixture. Bake 45 minutes at 350 degrees. Serve hot in squares topped with vanilla ice cream. Serves 6 to 8.

Education Program Studied

A visit was made November 6 to the Muleshoe Public Schools by Mr. Calvin Story from the Texas Education Agency and Dr. Weldon E. Day of the Education Service Center - Region XVII.

Purpose of the meeting was to coordinate continuing work with the Muleshoe Public Schools in the pilot project on comprehensive planning. Team members from Muleshoe Public Schools included Mrs. Elizabeth Watson, curriculum director, and Mr. Ralph Stevenson, director of programs.

The team also met with the Mathematics Curriculum Committee during the afternoon. This committee is one of seven curriculum committees which are meeting regularly to provide a study of each instructional area that will become the basis of data for a comprehensive plan for the Muleshoe Public Schools.

Meetings involving staff members from Muleshoe Public Schools, Education Service Center and Texas Education Agency are conducted periodically to coordinate efforts in generating this plan. The next meeting of the team is slated for December 17 in Muleshoe.

At this time the seven curriculum committees will have completed their first series of meetings. A compilation of the data will be followed with an initial draft of a comprehensive plan.

Pupils of Muleshoe Music Teachers Association performed at their November meeting Monday night in the parlor of United Methodist Church and presented varied selections before approximately 35 persons.

Church to Celebrate 40th Anniversary

The Lazbuddie United Methodist Church will celebrate the 40th anniversary of the organization of the church on Sunday, November 24. In connection with this they are combining a Homecoming for former pastors, members, District Superintendents, and Bishops; and also the annual Harvest Festival.

The Rev. Cecil Matthews, second pastor, who is now campus minister at West Texas State University at Canyon, will be guest speaker for the afternoon program.

The Lazbuddie Church was organized in the fall of 1928 by Rev. W.B. Hicks, Methodist minister of Muleshoe. Rev. Lloyd H. Jones was the first pastor of the church, which was a part of the Y.L. Circuit. Services were held in the school house.

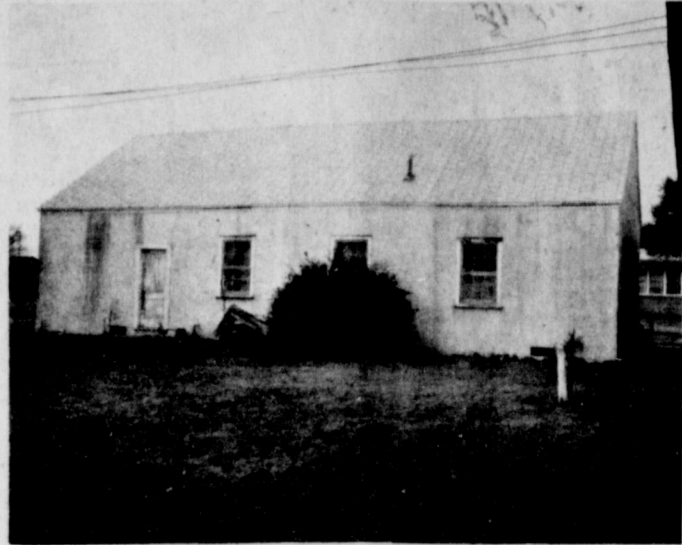

There was really an earlier beginning than this, however, when the first Sunday School was organized at Lazbuddie in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Paul. It was an interdenominational and community Sunday School. It was organized in 1908. Miss Greta Paul still resides in the Lazbuddie community in the original family home.

The first church building for Lazbuddie Methodists was constructed in 1937 at a cost of about $500. The present structure was built in 1955, costing approximately $40,000. The Rev. Bruce Matthews was pastor at the time.

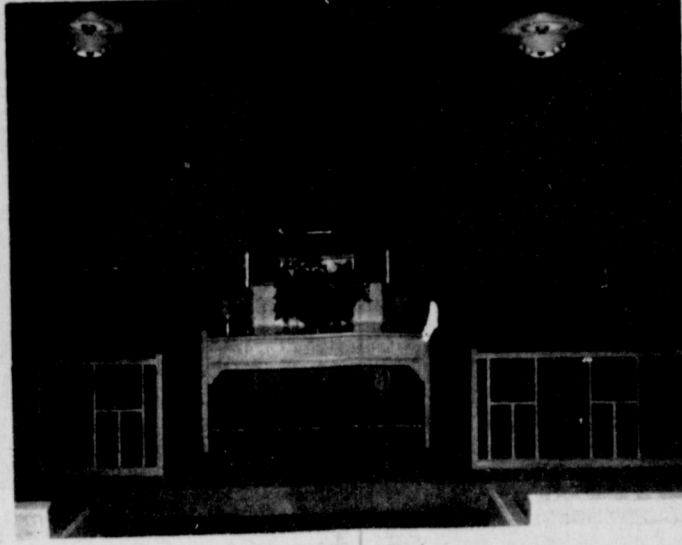

The program will begin with regular morning services, and the ladies of the church will serve lunch in fellowship hall. The afternoon activities will begin at 2 o'clock at which time charter members and visitors will be recognized, and a history of the church will be read. Rev. Cecil Matthews will bring the message. Special music is being planned.

All friends of the church are also invited to attend, according to the pastor, Rev. Roy Patterson, and the committee in charge of special arrangements, Glenn Lust, Mrs. Frank Hinkson, Mrs. J.D. Carpenter, and Mrs. Joe Bates Jennings.

ON THE 40TH ANNIVERSARY - A BRIEF HISTORY OF THE LAZBUDDIE UNITED METHODIST CHURCH.

In the fall of 1928 a small group of Methodists gathered in the Lazbuddie school auditorium for the purpose of organizing their church. Rev. W.B. Hicks, pastor of the Muleshoe Methodist Church officiated this organization.

A few of the Muleshoe members were present for this occasion, among whom were Mrs. Beulah Carles, the postmistress, Mr. Good Harden and probably Miss Elizabeth Harden. Two or three of the charter members of the Lazbuddie church organization are still around the country - Mrs. O.N. Jennings, who is now a member of the Muleshoe Church, and the writer of this bit of history, Mrs. Finis Jennings, who at the time of organization was Miss Alwilda Noble, a teacher in the Lazbuddie School and who also is the only charter member in the Lazbuddie Methodist Church today.

Another charter member still living, and with her daughter in Roswell, N. M., is Mrs. Walter Noble. Two others, Mr. and Mrs. Loyal Lust, who moved away several years ago, are living in Klamath Falls, Oregon.

In 1937 the first Methodist church building was constructed at Lazbuddie. From the 1928 organization until this little sanctuary was built, the Methodists had their Sunday School jointly with other denominations in the community who had not as yet built churches, alternating church services with other ministers, the Methodists having one Sunday each month for their pastor. All Sunday school and church services were held in the school building.

With Methodist membership increasing during these nine or ten years, the church services were by now every other Sunday. We were a "half-time" church.

This first little church building was dedicated in 1942 with Bishop Ivan Lee Holt officiating. Then in 1947 the first parsonage was built. We asked for, and got, our first full-time pastor. The District Supt. Rev. E.D. Landreth (later receiving his Dr.'s honors), raised objections to our wanting full-time and building a parsonage. He said Lazbuddie Methodists couldn't afford it - but Lazbuddie Methodists are a persistent people - we "fast talked" Bro. Ed, as he was affectionately called. Even with less than 75 members, we did build that parsonage and instructed Bro. Ed to get us a preacher. He was a young man, just out of high school we suspected, and a "supply" but we did have our first full-time pastor. (Churches just think they have a hard time now.)

In 1955 the new and larger church building was erected. It was dedicated (we had paid off that debt) in 1961, with Bishop Paul V. Galloway officiating.

This next Sunday, November 24, the Lazbuddie Methodists celebrate their 40th year, with as much determination and vision as was in evidence when they began. Many good men have pastored the church, have superintended our endeavor with encouragement and a bit of "awe", no doubt, but we give thanks to a kind and patient God for the many achievements and goals the Lazbuddie Methodist Church has attained - and for the young and dedicated leadership within our group.

We pray for enthusiastic continuance in His Service.

Public Hearing Is Attended By Bill Clayton

A four day public hearing was conducted in Dallas last week by the House Committee to investigate the financial relationship between vending machine companies and taverns. Rep. Bill Clayton, a committee member, stated, "Testimony before our committee brought out that gambling, prostitution, and illicit drug trade was an every day occurrence in many of the taverns that were controlled by the vending machine companies. The reason being that the operator of the tavern did not make much money and they would allow things of this nature to take place to draw customers."

After returning from the Dallas hearings, Rep. Clayton called a meeting of his 169 Acre Limitation Committee in Oklahoma City Monday, November 18, just prior to the annual meeting of the National Reclamation Association being held in Oklahoma City this week. Clayton said, "We hope to get some action from the N.R.A. on the 160 Acre law."

Clayton also stated that the House Interim Water Committee will meet in Austin November 27, at 9:30 a.m. in the old Supreme Court Room. This will be the last public hearing of this committee before recommendations are made to the 61st Legislature. "It looks like there will be lots of water legislation to consider this next year," Clayton said.

Rep. Bill Clayton stated that he would like to take this opportunity to express his appreciation for the support given him in the recent election. Clayton said he would like to have your comments pertaining to any or all issues that will come before the next session of the Legislature so he will be able to effectively represent the wishes of the people of this area.

Plains Division Manager Safety Contest Winner

J.M. Collins, Plains Division manager for Southwestern Public Service Company, today (Thursday) was awarded a Certificate of Achievement for the performance of the division's motor fleet in the National Fleet Safety Contest conducted by the National Safety Council.

The presentation was made by Arlie Hudson of Amarillo, director of personnel, and Roy Holmes, system safety supervisor.

This award is based on the company's safety performance from July 1967 through June 1968. During this period, the firm's drivers operated approximately 2,000,000 miles and had 3.97 accidents per 1,000,000 miles of operation.

The record of 3.97 accidents per 1,000,000 miles of operation represents a reduction in frequency of accidents of nearly 50% and is much lower than the national average for competing fleets of 12.83 accidents per 1,000,000 miles.

Jerry Hays of Plainview is the division safety and personnel supervisor responsible for the training programs which contributed to the award.

Vietnam News

Vietnam View as reported by Marine Corps Combat Correspondents and edited by G/Sgt. Bob Montgomery

"Everytime we open a fire support base, we're adding to the problems confronting North Vietnamese Army staff officers and tactical unit commanders," states BrigGen. Frank L. Garretson.

Garretson, with his headquarters at Vandegrift Combat Base, commands Task Force Hotel, the 3rd Marine Division's command center for its striking force in the field.

The growing number of fire support bases strategically located throughout the western I Corps on key hillsides is a thorn in the side of the enemy.

"Our 138 helicopter landing zones and the current 18 fire support bases are important segments contributing to the highly mobile posture of the 3rd Marine Division," explained Garretson.

He added that a recount of the number of active landing zones (LZ's) and fire support bases (FSB's) is almost a daily necessity, as LZ's and FSB's are opened as needed anywhere south of the Ben Hai River in areas formerly considered sanctuaries by the NVA.

"Basically a fire support base is an artillery position defended by a minimum of infantry. Other infantry and tactical elements operate within the protective fan of the artillery," explained the general.

As applied within the 3rd Marine Division, fire support bases offer overlapping artillery support to each other and protection for several landing zones.

"It is important to remember," continued the Task Force Hotel Commander, "that we occupy and hold only those fire support bases and landing zones that meet our current needs. We seek to engage the enemy wherever he is and we open and close these positions as the tactical situation dictates.

"Historically, not since the Civil War can I recall an offensive operation wherein the infantry, artillery and combat engineers have worked so closely, shoulder to shoulder, in seizing and holding a common objective on the battle ground," continued Garretson.

"The added factor of combat power is the pilots of jet aircraft and helicopters of the 1st Marine Aircraft Wing. This makes the whole concept feasible," said the general.

Development of a new fire support base generally begins with artillery preparatory fire on the selected terrain. If necessary, fixed wing (jet) aircraft may deliver heavy bombardment to clear the selected area.

A reconnaissance team is inserted by helicopter to investigate the site, particularly if there has been known or suspected enemy activity in the area.

An infantry element is then added to provide security and clearing of debris at the site is begun.

An air transportable bulldozer, a back-hoe and an engineer team of woodsmen and chain saw operators are added as necessary to hasten the development of the FSB. An artillery reconnaissance plans gun positions and ammunition storage areas.

Next to arrive on the scene are 105mm howitzers, crews and ammunition all transported by helicopter.

In some instances, it is just six hours from the time of preparatory artillery and air bombardment to the time the first 105mm howitzer is in position and ready to fire.

The tactical infantry elements may then make a helicopter assault to any area within the 360 degree reach of the fire support base.

"Under this concept our assault units are always protected by artillery and bad weather does not materially influence this support," Garretson explained.

As the assault rifle companies and battalions progress from one objective to another, new helicopter landing zones may be opened wherever necessary for resupply.

Once the FLB's and LZ's have been hacked out of the jungle wilderness they are ready to be used anytime the need arises.

"The return to old fire support bases or landing zones is the simplest part of the task. We can place preparatory artillery fire on the site if we suspect enemy activity or we can insert a reconnaissance patrol to check the site if it has been quiet. But the hard, time consuming task of clearing the area has already been completed. We can get back in there and be ready to operate in no time at all," concluded the Marine commander.

The Sandhills Philosopher

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm adds a final note to the recent campaigns.

Sitting through a stack of newspapers printed before the election and dumped in a ditch near my house I was looking for something to read besides out-dated campaign oratory and yesterday's claims of victory that didn't pan out when I ran across an article on the cost of running for office.

According to it, the politicians, from the local level to the White House, spent around $300,000,000 running for office this year.

Now a lot of people say that's too much, that it doesn't make sense to spend a million dollars seeking a job that pays $25,000 a year, or 20 million for a job that pays $100,000.

But take that $300,000,000. It sounds like a lot of money, but did you know that if the 200 million people in this country all went out to dinner tonight and ate $1.50 worth apiece, not including the tip, it'd amount to $300,000,000?

Show me the candidate that's not worth at least $1.50.

Running for office is sort of like raising children. It used to be that there was a profit in a kid, he made a good farm hand free of charge from sunup to sundown from the time he was 6 till he got big enough to catch on and pick up and move to the city.

Nowadays, there's very little profit in say a Congressman's or a Senator's or a Governor's salary, yet people keep on running for the jobs.

It leads you to believe that there are other returns from the office than the salary, although maybe not altogether in the same category as the returns from raising kids.

On the whole though I'd say the level of the current crop of politicians is about the same as the current crop of kids, or their parents or their grandparents.

Let's face it, it's all we've got to work with.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

Dear Turnrow Tunkel . . .

O. C. McBRIDE

DEAR TURNROW TUNKEL:

Did you know that the Labor Dept. is spending $50,000 to train 20 poor farmers in Arkansas to be goat-herders?

I wish I hadn't quit farming. If being poor qualifies a farmer to be trained in a skilled profession, I would probably have been a licensed goat-herder by now.

What did you think of the distribution of votes in the Presidential election?

It came out about the way I expected. Wallace won five Southern states, and Humphrey ran well in Eastern and Northern cities. However, Nixon carried Appalachia, and his landslide in Marlboro Country was too much to overcome.

I understand that authorities at a highly integrated high school in Oakland have problems concerning the school cafeteria. Colored students are demanding that "soul food" be served, while Mexican-Americans want Latin-style dishes.

The people running the cafeteria might take a tip from my teen-age daughter just learning to cook. The casseroles she whips up contain enough different ingredients to have something for everyone. The last one I tried tasted like a combination of enchiladas, turnip greens, pizza and chop suey--kosher style.

Did you know that movies are now being classified according to their suitability for young people? The designations range from "G" (for general audiences), to "X" (absolutely no one under 18 allowed).

This system may protect young people from viewing undesirable movies, but I'm wondering what effect it will have on older folks. For instance, I haven't been to a movie in years, but if one of those "X" pictures ever comes to town, I may be tempted to sneak off and see it.

Do you approve of so much money being spent on our space program?

I'm sure it will have future benefits, but we shouldn't ignore some of the smaller problems here on Earth. For instance, I'd enjoy my favorite breakfast more if those smart-aleck scientists would figure out a neat and painless way to remove the shells from a couple of hot soft-boiled eggs.

I read that Dean Martin is organizing a $15 million golf club. Memberships will cost $25,000, and will be limited to young people.

If Dean is deliberately trying to keep me out of his club, he sure thought of two ways of doing it.

Tax Man Sam Sez:

TAX FRAUD

The Commissioner of Internal Revenue, in his Annual Report Summary for the Fiscal Year of 1967, states "The mission of the Service is to encourage and achieve the highest possible degree of voluntary compliance with the tax laws and regulations and to maintain the highest degree of public confidence in the integrity and efficiency of the Service. This includes communicating the requirements of the law to the public, determining the extent of compliance and causes of non-compliance, and doing all things needful to a proper enforcement of the law."

On the last page of the Commissioner's Report Summary, under the title "Investigation of Alleged Tax Fraud," there is listed "Plea of guilty or nolo contendere or conviction after trial . . . 1,173." Apparently, out of 100 million, there were still 1,000 who didn't volunteer.

AVERAGE CONSUMPTION OF ELECTRICITY BY CO-OP MEMBERS

1970 THE CO-OP WILL BE READY

If rural people continue to use electric power at the present rate, by 1970 they will require 600 kilowatt hours per family per month, or about five times more than they were using just 20 years ago. The increased demand for electricity is the result of more electric appliances and equipment in rural homes. Yet, the market for these appliances is far from saturated. Although 91% of the rural homes have TV sets, only 5% have a dishwasher, 2.5% a garbage disposer and only 2.6% have central air conditioning. This means the years ahead will be fruitful ones for the main street appliance store. The electric cooperative will have the power when it's time to plug these appliances in. Advance planning lets the electric cooperative anticipate this need and stay ahead of the demand for electric power that is Helping Texas Grow.

Workman's Comp Increase Legislation is Proposed

AUSTIN, Tex.--A dramatic 40 per cent increase in benefits to injured Texas workers is proposed in compromise legislation agreed to by labor, employers and trial lawyers.

AFL - CIO, Texas Manufacturers Association and Texas Trial Lawyers Association unveiled details of agreement on "workmen's compensation administrative reform bill" which will go to the Legislature in January.

Proposal would raise the maximum weekly benefits for on-the-job injuries from $35 to $49 during time lost from work. This will cost employers 18 per cent more in insurance rates -- or about $36 million in additional annual premiums.

While employers apparently are satisfied with that, state and local governmental employees would also be brought under terms of the bill, and that will mean a cost to taxpayers estimated at two to three per cent of payrolls. Opposition is expected, particularly from city and county officials.

Highlights of the bill in addition to the benefit hike and coverage to all governmental workers include:

*Raising total and permanent disability recovery ceiling from $14,035 to $19,649 and death coverage from $12,600 to $17,640.

*Provisions for pre-hearing conferences by Industrial Accident Board examiners, to save time and money.

*Encouragement of employers to continue paying part of injured employees' wages until workmen's compensation benefits begin, with reimbursement guaranteed for 10 weeks' maximum from insurance carriers.

*Granting Industrial Accident Board authority to require medical evidence.

*Establishment of uniform attorneys fees not to exceed 25 per cent of recovery regardless of whether court appearance is necessary. (Lawyers are now limited to 15 per cent for cases settled before the Board and 30 per cent if they go to court, Board and court will set fees.)

Sponsors term the bill "fair to all."

COURTS SPEAK--Reversing intermediate court, State Supreme Court held that an oil well servicing company could not be sued for damages in an illegal slant-well case even though it knew the well was out of line.

In a pair of cases, the High Court overruled lower courts and upheld State Savings and Loan Commissioner James Gerst. Commissioner had refused application of Mission Savings and Loan Association for a Northeast San Antonio site, granted Richardson S&LA application and denied Guardian S&LA bid.

Some discount houses are starting to stay open Saturdays and Sundays, in violation of blue laws which are being tested in appellate courts after a Midland district judge ruled them unconstitutional.

Supreme Court refused to direct a Tarrant County judge to change his verdict that a Fort Worth man was insane before and after he was charged with rape of a young mother and drowning of her two children.

Court of Criminal Appeals called for a new trial in a Harrison County murder case because the state impeached its own witness.

ATTORNEY GENERAL RULES Deaf and blind students are exempt from all fees at state colleges except property security charges and deposits, lodging, board or clothing, Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin said in a new opinion.

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded that:

*A justice of peace has authority and duty to require a court reporter to prepare examining trial proceedings for proper court.

*An administrative judge's term expires with his regular term of office, but he can be appointed for four more years after retirement.

*School district personal bonding requirements are satisfied when bond is signed by a bank officer or other authorized agent, and bond so given fulfills requirements of security for funds deposited from sale of school bonds.

MAJOR COLLEGE DECISIONS DUE -- Coordinating Board, College and University System will make showdown decisions on dental, medical school and North Texas higher education needs here on December 3.

In a day-long public hearing November 11, Board heard rival bids of San Antonio and Dallas as site for the new dental school. Houston, Austin, Lubbock, Amarillo and Temple all want the next medical school. Board's staff recommendation to bring campuses at Arlington and Denton under a single "urban university" governing board received strong criticism.

FACULTY AID EXPLORED--Whatever the Coordinating Board decides, Texas obviously will need more teachers for institutions of higher education. To get those, and to keep the ones now teaching, a senate committee headed by Sen. D. Roy Harrington of Port Arthur will propose state payment of moving costs for new faculty members; group disability income insurance; free tuition for faculty members' families and free parking space. If just a few of the proposed changes in education come about, you can see new taxes will come about, and not the least of the tax-provoking proposals will be a public school teacher pay raise of $1,800 over the next two years.

MONEY-SAVING IDEAS LAID OUT-- Senate Committee on Economy in Government, chaired by Rep. Bill Patman of Ganado, is looking at ways to save taxpayer dollars. Texas Research League, a non-profit state helper, already has given the committee a few suggestions:

(1) Centralize all janitorial, mail and messenger, office supply and duplicating services, instead of allowing each agency to budget them separately.

(2) "Lookat" state employee travel costs, and allow air travel when it would be cheaper than auto transportation.

(3) Convert McKnight State Tuberculosis Hospital near San Angelo into a school for the mentally retarded, and allow other TB hospitals to take inpatients for illnesses other than tuberculosis.

(4) Save $4 million a year in prison and welfare costs by providing a more efficient system of parole.

(5) Classify more "realistically" highway and road construction.

(6) Save close to $93,000 a year by abolishing the Board of County and District Road Indebtedness and letting the treasury take care of that function.

(7) Develop a more meaningful information network than the present proliferation of electronic data processing equipment.

SCHOOL FUNDS RECEIVED-- Texas Education Agency has been allotted $10 million in federal funds for elementary and secondary schools and programs for handicapped.

More than $8.4 million will go to finance supplemental education facilities statewide. Grant of $1.2 million will help strengthen state administration and identify needs. About $1.2 million will go to programs for handicapped. Smaller grant of $29,405 will help strengthen arts and humanities programs in public schools.

WATER USE REPORT READY--Water users along the Rio Grande between Falcon and Amistad reservoirs can now examine the water use report and photographs of the area at county clerks offices in Cameron, Hidalgo, Starr, Zapata, Webb, Maverick, Kinney and Val Verde counties.

Texas Water Rights Commission has completed its study of this area in preparation for adjudication of water rights. Hearings will begin next January after notices to all water users and publication in newspapers of Zapata, Jim Hogg, Webb, Maverick, Kimit, Kinney, Edwards and Val Verde counties.

Commission, in first test of a new law, will then enter determination of rights which will be appealed automatically to district court. Report shows all types of water uses by farms, industries and cities.

SHORT SNORTS Texas Liquor Control Board will hold a public hearing here November 25 on its proposed new rules and regulations for private clubs, one of which would require permanent and recorded memberships.

Jim D. Vollers of Beaumont will succeed Leon Douglas as the state's attorney in Court of Criminal Appeals when Douglas moves up to judgeship January 1.

Undesirable predatory walking catfish will be the subject of a public hearing in Parks and Wildlife Department December 2.

American Party, which backed George Wallace for president, is opening permanent state headquarters in San Antonio.

Hospital construction programs in 42 Texas towns will get a shot in the arm under the $15.1 million in Hill-Burton health facilities construction funds approved by the State Health Board.

State's General Revenue fund was $86.6 million in the red as of October 31, but State Treasurer Jesse James says that doesn't mean the government was broke, because on the same day, there was $456 million in the treasury.

Gov.-elect Preston Smith said he's asked the Texas Research League to do a detailed analysis of the organizational set-up of the governor's office to see if it can be made more modern and more responsive to needs of the state.

Putting you first vaaaarrrroooooomm keeps us first.

Chevrolet's got a big surprise for the guy who'd buy a sports car if only it had more room. It's the Impala SS 427.

Like all Impalas, it comes with a 119-inch wheelbase, Astro Ventilation and full door-glass styling. Like all Chevy Sportsters, it comes with a beefed-up suspension and grabby red-stripe wide oval tires. Under the hood, it's more of the same. We tucked in a 427-cubic-inch 390-horsepower Turbo-Jet V8.

That means it's the kind of car you can take for a workout even if you're just going to work.

There's driving excitement in these other packages too: Corvette Stingray, Chevelle SS 396, Camaro SS, Camaro Z 28 and Nova SS.

Vaaaarrrroooooomm! Listen for it at your Chevy dealer's Sports Shop.

Putting you first, keeps us first.

See the Super Sports at your Chevrolet dealer's Sports Department now.

'69 Impala SS 427 Custom Coupe.
