'Horns to Play in Bi-District

Team Season Record Ten Straight Wins

Powered by speed, because they aren't especially big, the fantastic Lazbuddie Longhorns will trek to Tulia Friday night where they will meet Groom in bi-district gridiron action. Game time is 7:30 p.m.

Groom, coming into the game on a 6-4 season record, has a 10-0 season record to face for the Longhorns, plus four straight wins carrying over from last year for a total of 14 straight wins for the 'Horns.

Lazbuddie clinched the district title by hooking the Matador Matadors 74-6 last Friday night at Lazbuddie. Area fans flocked to Longhorn stadium for the district game in chilly, slightly windy weather. Many Muleshoe faces were sighted among the enthusiastic band of supporters for the Lazbuddie team.

Amassing an impressive record during the 1968 football season has come about by much hard work and many hard knocks for the 'Horns. Not satisfied with just a win, the team has striven to and has managed to accumulate an enviable set of records in any books.

The 'Horns have averaged a total of 44.1 points per game, while holding their opponents to an average of 6.9 points per game. At the start of the season, they stomped New Home 38-0; followed that with a 47-12 win over Tatum, N.M.; rolled over Bovina 20-12 in their closest game; waylaid Whiteface 34-14; stomped Amberst 46-19; blanked Turkey 38-0; whipped Nazareth 54-0; moved by Hart 26-6 and stunted

Robert Hooten Presented Ford Award

Robert Hooten of Muleshoe Motor Company, Ford dealership at Muleshoe, was presented the Ford Division Dealer Customer Relations Recognition Award in a recent ceremony at Muleshoe Motor Company.

The award, given to 450 dealers from coast to coast this year, recognizes those dealers who meet the division's objectives in their practice of outstanding customer relations.

"This award is an adjunct to the long-standing annual distinguished achievement award presented earlier this year to Muleshoe Motor Company," said W.H. Coleman, Ford Division Dallas District sales manager.

"This identifies the dealer as possessing sound management, good merchandising practices, and modern, efficient services facilities. 'The Customer Relations Award recognizes that the dealership management and employees are committed to make their facility a good place to do business.'

Thanksgiving Is Pilgrim Tradition

around muleshoe Most Area Business To Observe Holiday

with the journal staff

Mrs. Freddy Owen flew to Austin Friday to attend the graduation of her husband who has just completed seventeen weeks of training at the Texas Department of Public Safety Academy.

Mr. and Mrs. Owen and their daughter, Angella, will be stationed at Crosbyton where he will be a probationary highway patrolman.

Angella stayed with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J.L. Phipps while her mother was away from home.

Sunday visitors in the Bill Johnson home were Johnson's brother and family from Portales, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Johnson and family.

His sister and family, the Bob Hardaways of Muleshoe also visited in the Johnson home Sunday.

Most of the business and professional offices and companies in the area will close down Thursday to observe Thanksgiving. Traditionally, Thanksgiving began in the early pilgrim days when the pilgrims met in union to give 'Thanks' for the blessings received during the past year. They gave thanks for their food, their health and their new found freedom.

This still holds true today, even with the faster pace at which the world moves. Almost everyone, especially those who are in occupations where they can, pause on this special holiday to give 'Thanks' for the blessings they received during the preceding year.

Almost all who will be 'open for business as usual' in the area will be the hospital, law enforcement offices, a grocery store or two and perhaps a couple of service stations. Provisions are being made for even most of these persons to enjoy a Thanksgiving dinner, such as the fifth annual law enforcement Thanksgiving dinner which will be held at the Muleshoe Police Department.

Reaching back into years past, a history of the Plymouth Bay Colony presents an explanation of the origin of Thanksgiving. Governor Brad-

Pioneer Spirit Still Alive In '68

Mr. and Mrs. Elwin Julian, who live west of Enochs, near the Maple community are the first to say that the pioneer spirit is not gone in their community.

When the pioneers first came to the area, all the people worked together to help each other, especially when there was sickness or tragedy among themselves.

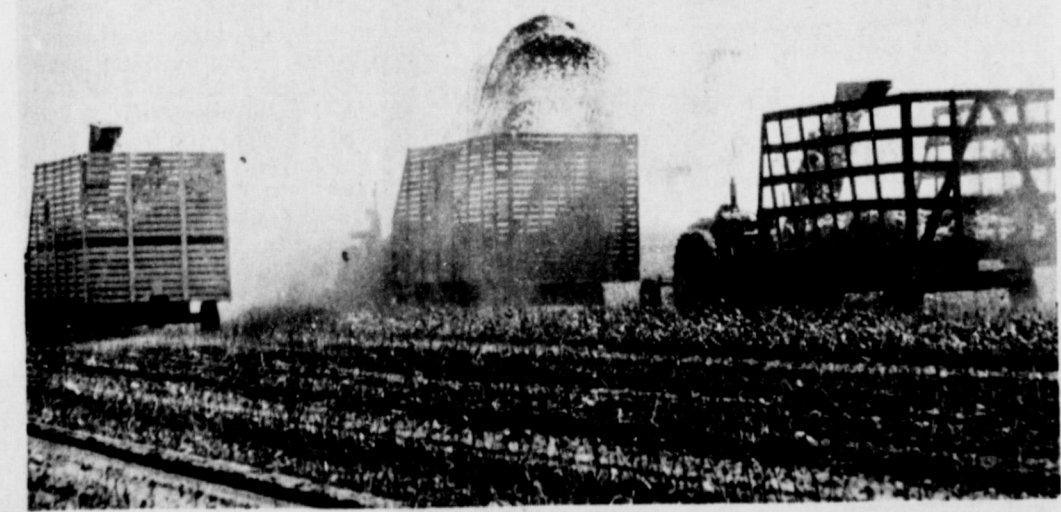

The Julians found that this still holds true today. On October 23 of this year Julian was hospitalized with a severe heart attack. He is recovering but is unable to work as yet. As he is a farmer, all his crops were in the field awaiting harvest, but all he could do was look out the door or window at the white cotton dotting the fields.

Last Saturday, friends and neighbors of the Julians moved into the fields and within a matter of hours had harvested 27 acres of cotton for Elwin Julian and had the cotton ready to move to Maple to the cotton gin for processing. At Maple, the Maple Co-op Gin was waiting to receive the cotton and gin it all at one time. By noon, eleven cotton pullers were in Julian's fields with more than twenty men working to harvest his crop.

Those who assisted in gathering the crop included Earl Bowers, Ed Neutzler, Carroll Fort, Billy Simpson, Jack Hodnett, Frankie D. Fine, Willie Welch, M.L. Fine, Chester Petree, Andrew Wittner, Adolph Wittner, Bo Batteas, Richard Lebow and Joe Alkamyrta.

Also Rev. Hugh Jack Norwood, Leon Dupler, Jay Boyce, Johnny Wheeler, Glenn Lowe, Don Lowe, Bud Warren, Dean Waltrip, Bill Eubanks, T.D. Davis and Paul Carlisle.

When asked about noon Saturday if he had any thoughts to express his feeling about his friends and neighbors coming in to harvest his crops and what he thinks about them he replied, "I couldn't." He added, "Words cannot express what I feel on this day. These are my friends and my neighbors who have come in to help us, and words are just inadequate to say what I feel at this time."

DO UNTO OTHERS. . . --Elwin Julian found this Biblical expression was quite true as more than 20 friends and neighbors moved into his fields Saturday morning to harvest his cotton crop. Julian has been recuperating from a severe heart attack he had October 23 and unable to work.

WHOA THERE--A Matador player goes down hard, all doubled up to protect the ball in the Friday night Lazbuddie-Matador district championship game. Lazbuddie will meet Groom at Tulia in a bi-district championship game Friday night at 7:30.

Goodfellows Begin Christmas For 1968

Christmas is peeping around the corner. . . the street decorations are up and the Goodfellows are beginning operations for another year.

The Goodfellows are an anonymous group of area businessmen who work each year to make sure that no children of any family will have to do without Christmas.

Last year the Goodfellows provided Christmas for a total of 456 children. . . expect to help a slight increase this year in the number of children needing toys, clothing and food for that special day.

On Monday, December 2, boxes and cans for money and foods will be placed in stores over Muleshoe and will be collecting until December 21. The Goodfellows are soliciting cash donations, money, food and useable toys. Since there is no way for the Goodfellows to repair or replace broken toys, they ask that no broken toys or dolls be donated. A spokesman for the Goodfellows asked that clubs be encouraged to bring food or clothing to their Christmas parties instead of personal gift exchanges to be used for the children.

Donations may be taken to the City Hall or after hours to the Muleshoe City Police Department where items will be stored until they are ready to be boxed for delivery on the weekend of December 21-22.

Goodfellows also remind clubs, churches or organizations who are taking a family

In second place is Mary Watkins. She missed the Yale-Harvard tie; the Dartmouth-Pennsylvania game and the Duke-North Carolina game. But she was 31 points off on the tie-breaker.

Muleshoe

Dear Sir,
 With reference to your item about Hubert Humphrey's election eve telecast "taking phone calls from far - off hamlets like Podunk and Muleshoe." I resent Muleshoe being put in a category with Podunk.

Muleshoe (pop: 5346) is the capital of Bailey County and the center of one of the richest irrigated farming areas in Texas. The population has doubled from 1930 to 1960. It is the center of cattle feeding, grain, vegetable and cotton processing plants. There is also a large National Wildlife Refuge near Muleshoe.

I thought you might appreciate the enclosed card.

Vernon H. Thomas 3515 Bob Billa Dr., city.

-- The card shows a 10 - gallon - hatted cowboy standing in New York's Grand Central Station, boots and all, and glaring at a sophisticated little city man as he says, "Ya'll mean to stand there, son, and tell me you never heard of Muleshoe, Texas?"

LAZBUDDIE SCHOOLS' LONGHORN STAMPEDE

by Junior Class

F.H.A.
On Monday, November 18, the Lazbuddie F.H.A. Chapter had a regular meeting. For the program, the girls played a game similar to the "Newlyweds Game" called the "Bestfriends Game". The panel consisted of Elaine Jesko and Vicki Robinson, Delayne Steinbock and Christie Ivy, Lee Ann Harlan and Raygena Trieder, and Ann and Jean Culver. Some interesting questions were asked although some proved quite embarrassing.

The Chapter would also like to thank everyone who bought Christmas cards from them and would like to announce that there are still cookbooks and school record books available. JUNIOR HIGH BASKETBALL. Congratulations are in order for the Junior High Basketball teams, which have played two games thus far this season. Both girls and boys have a record of 1-1. In both of the previous games, the teams have shown fine athletic ability in their efforts. Like most teams, they show some inexperience the first of the season, but we wish them all the luck in their coming season.

On arriving at a house in the northwest part of Muleshoe, they were joined by a second man who got into the automobile with them and according to the story McGee told officers, forced him through threats of doing him bodily harm, go to a bank and withdraw the money.

Investigation by city and county officers and reports from local citizens made a fairly short investigation, as the first suspect was picked up and charged in Lubbock the following afternoon. William Lewis, Jr. was the first man arrested on the charge. He was released Friday morning on a $7500 bond.

Here are some second thoughts:

We could add hobby hauler to the list. Chevy trucks are great for rock hounding. Collecting antiques. Etcetera. The point is: They're as versatile as anything on the road. Or off. Especially, four-wheel drive versions. They go anywhere.

Wherever you go, you go in style. Sleek front end features a new aluminum grille. In back, there's a new 8 1/2-ft. box on some models. Great for big campers.

AN ARMPFUL OF LOVE--With one arm filled with baby brother, a Vietnamese girl puts her conical hat (Mu) to good use by collecting potato chips in it. The two youngsters were among more than 400 Vietnamese children at a picnic at Dong Ha, sponsored by the Marine's Force Logistic Support Group Bravo, a unit of Force Logistic Command, by Sgt. J.S. Addington)

Vietnamese Enjoy Picnic

DONG HA, Vietnam, -- A holiday can be a happy day for an orphan, if someone cares; and being a Vietnamese orphan on Tet Nhi Dong or mid-Autumn Festival is like being an American orphan at Christmas. The festival is a special occasion for parents to honor their children with gifts; a night when parents traditionally delight in preparing a party for their children. American Marines played the role of parents during the Tet Nhi Dong this year at Dong Ha. For over 400 youngsters from the Dong Ha orphanage and school system, Tet Nhi Dong was a joyous occasion, because Marines cared. A day-long festival of gifts, games, entertainment and food was organized for the children by Marine Capt. Joseph F. Mahoney, West Seneca, N.Y., civil affairs officer for Force Logistic Support Group Bravo (FLSG-B) a unit of the Force Logistic Command. Assisting were Navy Chaplain Joseph R. Grosko, Pittsburgh, Penn., and Sgt. Nathaniel F. Johnson, Chicago, Ill. The festival was held at the Dong Ha High School, a structure which has been severely hit by enemy artillery during recent attacks on the city. Enemy attacks were forgotten during the children's festival, as Vietnamese entertainers shared the stage with the 3rd Marine Division band. Shopping bags filled with gifts were passed from Marines to children. The bags containing sewing and school kits, clothes, toothbrushes, soap, toys, gum and cookies. Volunteers from FLSG-G served fried chicken, rice, gravy, milk, fruit and ice cream.

Angelia Owen Celebrates Birthday

Colors of red and pink were carried out in crepe paper, balloons, cake, punch and ice cream. A miniature clown, made by her mother, was the centerpiece for the serving table. A clown motif was also used in decorating the cake, tablecloth, cups and napkins. Guests included Starla Black, Cherie and Randy Moore, Gail Dale, Donna Black, Sue Moore, Mrs. Phipps, and Mr. and Mrs. Owen.

Betty Crocker Homemaker Tests Slated December 3

Fifty local high school senior girls will take a unique test December 3 -- one on homemaking, the only one of its type exclusively designed for girls at that educational level. This written knowledge and attitude test on all facets of homemaking will be given simultaneously that day to more than half a million girls representing some 15,000 high schools in the nation. Scholarships to colleges of their choice will be awarded to both state and national winners. The highest ranking girl in each state will receive a $1,500 scholarship and a chance to win one of four national scholarships. These range from $5,000 for the girl chosen Betty Crocker All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow, to $4,000, $3,000, and $2,000 respectively for second, third and fourth place winners.

Mrs. Street Leads Study on St. John

Mrs. John Gunter was hostess to Dorcas Circle of Women's Society of Christian Service Tuesday morning. Mrs. Oscar Allison, circle chairman opened the meeting by reading a prayer and Mrs. M.C. Street, Jr. led a portion of the study on St. John, which dealt principally with love. Plans were made for the Christmas party to be held at the church December 10 at two o'clock. Five residents of Muleshoe Nursing Home are to be guests at the party.

Dorcas circle is in charge of the program for the party and plans either Bingo or charades, with "white elephants" to be used as prizes. The program will close with a Christmas story by Mrs. Ben Cockrell. A money tree is planned for Rev. and Mrs. Calvin Cooper, missionaries to Brazil, to buy bibles and hymnals. Members are also asked to bring gifts for residents of Girlstown and a field trip is planned for sometime in January or February. Mrs. Jim Moore, a new member, reported that she had worked two years at Girlstown as housemother and that the greatest needs were for hose, stationery and lingerie. There will be no general meeting the first Tuesday as usual, but the Christmas party will replace this meeting.

Farwell Bridge Party Announced

Mrs. Willie Flowers has announced a bridge party to be held at the new Farwell Country Club, on the Amarillo highway out of Farwell, at 1:30 in the afternoon, December 2. Foods to Mail With Confidence COLLEGE STATION, -- Cookies and cakes which are long-lived and can stand a few knocks can be mailed with confidence, regardless of distance, says Elizabeth Barnard, foods and nutrition specialist. Soft drop cookies, chewy bar cookies, squared and filled cookies travel well, according to the specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Applesauce, molasses, oatmeal and mince-meat cookies are good packers. Cookies flavored with honey and fruit improve with age. If cookies are too rich, they may crumble or turn rancid, warns Miss Barnard. Cakes are different to ship successfully because they dry and break. Syrups substituted for part of the sugar help to prevent rapid drying. Fruit cakes and those made with applesauce remain moist for some time. The Extension specialist recommends sending cup cakes baked in fluted paper cups. Or, she says, cut a square cake and frost pieces on all sides, wrapping each piece individually. To send pie, Miss Barnard suggests tarts or individual pies. They pack better. Adding all-bran to the pastry dough helps prevent the crust from breaking up, she says. Firm fillings are less apt to soak through the crust. Miss Barnard recommends mince-meat and fruit thickened with cornstarch. Custard fillings spoil too rapidly to be safe. The Extension foods specialist says products of these two recipes travel well.

HONEY HERMITS

Melt 1/3 cup shortening and add it to 1-1/3 cups of strained honey. Then add 2 eggs, 1/2 cup milk, 1/2 teaspoon salt and 1 cup chopped raisins. Sift together 3-1/2 cups flour, 1-1/2 teaspoons cinnamon, 1/2 teaspoon ground cloves, and 4 teaspoons of baking powder. Add the dry ingredients to the moist and mix well. Drop on greased cookie sheet and bake in 375-400 degrees F. oven until done.

APPLESAUCE LOAVES

Cream together 1/4 cup shortening and 1 cup sugar. Add 1 cup applesauce. Sift together 2 cups flour, 1 level teaspoon baking soda, 2 teaspoons cinnamon, a pinch of salt and a pinch of nutmeg. Add dry to moist ingredients, then stir in 1 cup chopped raisins and currants. Mix and bake in individual small loaf pans, using 350-375 degrees F. oven. Chopped citron or candied fruits can be substituted for a portion of the raisin-and-currant mixture, if desired.

PROFESSIONAL AMATEURS--The students of Mrs. Pena's Junior High reading classes presented puppet shows November 22 during their regular class periods, culminating a four weeks period of constructing stage, scenery and puppets and selecting the plays to be shown. Plays presented were "Jack and the Beanstalk", "The Wizard of Oz", "Baba Yaga", "The Three Golden Oranges", "Paul Bunyan" and "The Feast of the Lanterns".

Look, Look, Look At Yourself

If I honor myself, my honor is nothing. --John 8:54. Have you ever missed your mouth with the lipstick or found that you have done a beautiful job of powdering your left ear? Or perhaps you have managed to firmly affix a false eyelash to your forehead. These catastrophes may be a little exaggerated but they serve to point out that most women lack one of the essentials of good makeup application--an adequate mirror. You can have the best cosmetics money can buy, but they won't do you any good unless you put them on correctly. And you can't apply cosmetics correctly unless you have proper lighting and an overall view of your face.

Schools Recieve Safety Rules; Loading Buses

AUSTIN -- Ten suggested safety rules for unloading and loading school buses are being sent to superintendents across the state by the Texas Education Agency. These safety rules were drawn up with one objective: to cut the number of accidents involving school buses on Texas city streets and country roads. The need for greater school bus safety is underlined by the accident statistics, Richard M. Commins, Agency director of school transportation, points out. "Four children have already been killed this year in accidents involving school buses, all of them little tots in the first three grades," Cummins adds. School buses were involved in a total of 209 accidents during 1967-68, including eight fatalities and 48 injuries, according to Department of Public Safety records. Nearly half a million children ride school buses 481,475 miles each school day in Texas, travelling along 7,755 routes from big city neighborhoods to the scattered farms and ranches. A total of 399,040 of those daily miles are ridden on surfaced streets or highways while the remaining 82,435 extend along dirt roads.

One key safety suggestion zeroes in on young children, recommending that school bus drivers escort children in the first three grades across streets and roadways at all times. Other rules detail safe methods of boarding the school bus, discharging pupils who live on the right-hand side of the road or across the highway, how students should cross the highway to meet or leave the bus in safe areas, use of flasher lights, and backing (more importantly, not backing) the bus when delivering students. The advantage of riches is that they enable a man to indulge his passions, and help him to bear up against whatever harm befalls him. -Herodotus, (430 B.C.).

ford wrote the history and it was reviewed by Henry Hazlett in the November 1968 issue of 'The Freeman.' The article is entitled 'Instead of Famine. . . Thanksgiving.' 'Most of us have forgotten that when the Pilgrim Fathers landed on the shores of Massachusetts they established a communist system. Out of their common product and storehouse they set up a system of rationing, thought came to 'but a quarter of pound of bread a day to each person.' Even when harvest came, 'it arose to but a little.' A vicious circle seemed to set in. The people complained that they were too weak from want of food to tend the crops as they should. Deeply religious though they were, they took to stealing from each other. 'So as it well appear,' writes Governor Bradford, 'that famine still intill usse the next year also, if not some way prevented.' 'So the colonists,' he continues, 'begane to thinke how they might raise as much corne as they could, and obtaine a better croke than they had done, that they might not still languish in miserie. At length (in 1623) after much debate of things, the Gov. (with the advise of the cheefest amongst them) gave way that they should set corne every man for his owne particuler, and in that regard trust to themselves. . . And so assigned to every family a parcell of land. . .

'This had very good success; fit it made all hands very industrious, so as much more corne was planted than other ways would have bene by any means the Gov. or any other could use, and saved him a great deall of trouble, and gave farr better contents. . .

'The women now wente willingly into the feild, and tooke their little-ones with them to set corne, which before would aledge weakness, and inability; whom to have compelled would have been thought great tiranie and oppression. . .

'The experience that was had in this common course and condition, tried sundrie years, and that amongst godly and sober men, may well evince the vanitie of that conceite of Platos and other ancients, applauded by some of later times;--that the taking away of propertie, and bringing in communitie into a comone wealth, would make them happy and flourishing; as if they were wiser than God. For this communitie (so farr as it was) was found to breed much confusion and discontent, and retard much employment that would have been to their benefite and comferte. . .

'For the yong-men that were most able and fitte for labour and service did repine that they should spend their time and strength to worke for other mens wives and children, with out any recompense. The strong, or man of parts, had no more in division of vi-tails and cloaths, than he that was weake and not able to doe a quarter the other could; this was though injustice. . .

'And for mens wives his wife, Jo Ann; two daughters, Donna Jo and Susan Denise, both of the home; his father, Ernest Gaston, Dimmitt and his mother, Mrs. Nora Gaston, Littlefield; one sister, Mrs. Ernestine Cox of Lubbock and two brothers, Bernard, Finley, Ohio and Glen, Vidor. . .

'By this time harvest was come, and instead of famine, now God gave them plentie, and the face of things was changed, to the rejoycing of the harts of many, for which they blessed God. And the effect of their particuler (private) planting was well scene, for all had, one way and another, pretty well to bring the year about, and some of the abler sorte and more industrious had to spare, and sell to others, so as any generall wante or famine hath not been amongst them since to this day. . .

'Let us be thankful for this valued lesson from our Fathers. . . and yield not to the temptations of socialism.'

HARMON HIGHLIGHTS

Texas, Notre Dame Picked to Win

If that word 'traditional' could be ignored in connection with many of this Saturday's final football games, it wouldn't make us feel quite like we were standing on the edge of that thin limb with the axe ready to fall. However, traditional or otherwise, football is the game of the unexpected, and our perch on the old limb is becoming pretty familiar.

And what better example of the traditional game than the annual spectacle in Philadelphia - Army versus Navy. On paper, the Midshipmen from Annapolis should be totally submerged by powerful West Point, Army is 6 and 3 on the season. . . Navy, 2 and 7. But Navy plans to show up for the ball game! We'll live safely and go with the expected: Army should bomb the Navy by 22 points.

A Southwest Conference Thanksgiving Day tradition is Texas-Texas A&M. The Longhorns are ranked 4th in the nation and are tied with Arkansas for the lead in the conference. . . just ripe for upsetting! Ignoring tradition, Texas will topple A&M by 16 points.

If it isn't a traditional game, it should be. Notre Dame and Southern California have met 39 times with the Irish having the edge in 25 games. Notre Dame has had trouble this year coming up with the big ones, so just possibly they're due. Very quietly, we're going with Notre Dame. . . 2nd-ranked Southern Cal will be upset by five points. (Hmmm, think we'll move closer toward the tree.)

When Alabama meets Auburn - or Georgia meets Georgia Tech - or Oklahoma meets Oklahoma State, all intra-state niceties are completely cast aside. 11th-ranked Auburn will spill 17th-rated Alabama by just five points. 5th-ranked Georgia, even in this traditional game, should have no trouble with Georgia Tech. . . Georgia to win by 31. Oklahoma, ranked seventh, walks right into 'upsetter's haven' in Stillwater. They're favored by 21 over Oklahoma State, but 'tradition' could be the Cowboys' 12th man on the field!

Another dog-eat-dog backyard rivalry matches Florida and 18th-ranked Miami. The Gators have had a disappointing season, and will have a tough one against the Hurricanes, Miami may add to Gator woes. . . they're favored by 14 points.

9th-ranked Houston is only a nine-point favorite over Florida State, a team that finally moved back into the top twenty. . . they're 16th. Vanderbilt is a 23-point underdog to 6th-ranked Tennessee. And in the final game of the regular season on December 7th, third-ranked Penn State will beat Syracuse by 15 points.

Editorial

Thanksgiving, 1968

Our American Thanksgiving, one of the few holidays we have exported to other countries, dates from 1863. Credit for bringing about the annual observance is generally given to Mrs. Sarah J. Hale of Boston, who in the Ladies Magazine of Boston and later Godey's Lady's Book of Philadelphia wrote many editorials proposing such a holiday.

Having campaigned for over thirty years in behalf of a Thanksgiving Day, Mrs. Hale finally wrote and suggested observance of such a day to President Lincoln, who issued the first national proclamation setting aside a Thanksgiving Day during the Civil War, in 1863.

In the early years, especially in the North, children often adopted the old Scottish custom of donning their parents clothes and soliciting from adults fresh fruit--a custom related to New Year's Day in parts of Europe. This and the almost purely religious observance of the day has changed with the years.

During President Franklin Roosevelt's years in the White House the date of Thanksgiving was sometimes changed but most Americans preferred the fourth Thursday in November as a day of thanksgiving for the year's harvest, and life's blessings in general, and Congress established this date as a permanent one.

In 1968 the American people still have much to be thankful for, but the agony of the times is a continuing war in Vietnam and many families observe this year's Thanksgiving with the hope that next year the fighting and dying in Asia will have ended. In connection with the domestic strife and dissension recently prevalent in many parts of the country, millions hope that those who have damned our country, and emphasized its faults, will take stock and realize the many advantages and benefits enjoyed by all Americans of every race, creed and political belief.

America's Farmers Can Meet Challenge

COLLEGE STATION,--"Today one farm worker in the United States provides the food for himself and more than 42 others," said John G. McHaney, Extension economist at Texas A&M University, in commenting on National Farm-City Week, November 22-28.

It is estimated that the last third of this century will add another 100 million Americans to today's population. But McHaney feels that through the combined efforts of all those associated with agriculture, the challenge to provide an agricultural abundance for this expected large population increase can be met.

The United States has had a strong agricultural economy for many years, and through efficient agricultural production, has been able to release workers to other industries in order that they might produce the other needs and wants of our people, he explained.

Farmers and ranchmen today look to machinery and fuel producers for their power rather than raising work animals and feed as they did years ago. This is only one example of how people in towns and cities are handling more of the jobs that once were done on the farm or

Comeback For The 'Old Morality'

BY PAUL HARVEY

Russia does not allow college women to visit the bedrooms of college men.

Moscow University does not allow coeds to sign out of their dormitories and spend the night in hotel or motel rooms--with or without parental permission.

Izvestia, the Soviet newspaper, denounces swearing. "Cussing is verbal hooliganism--a crime to be punished."

Egypt, reacting from the licentious days of Farouk, has outlawed kissing in public. Performing "harem-dancers" are required to be clothed from neck to ankles.

Spanish towns such as Los Santos allow strolling couples to "touch hands", nothing more.

East German soldiers have a new, officially prescribed code of conduct. Locker pinups are now taboo. Further, "A soldier in the East German People's Army should kiss the back of a woman's hand only, that his intentions may not be misunderstood. Respect for a girl should be so great that one does not try to force or extort that which is not given willingly."

This evidence of a renaissance of the "old morality" in the Old World provides an interesting comparison with the so-called "new morality" in the United States.

The New York County Bar Assn. urges that "adultery and homosexuality should no longer be considered crimes."

A Boston University philosophy professor says "the old arguments for chastity before marriage are outmoded."

A New York City specialist in public health says, "One in five U.S. brides is pregnant on her wedding day."

London designers display the "nude top" to match the almost-nude bottom.

Communists in Russia, following the Bolshevik Revolution, practiced the freest of free love.

Now they--the Russians--are reverting to respect for women, self-discipline and recognition of the sanctity of marriage. These qualities they recognize as necessary to national strength.

Meanwhile, however, they are seeking to weaken us by subverting morality in the United States.

I am not one who blames an international conspiracy for all our home-front immorality. But we do know that admitted Communists in the United States are encouraging the worship of filth.

Communist publications are filled with obscenity urging American youths to public licentiousness, urging them to reject the "morality of the establishment," to disrobe in public and display themselves and reject the "archaic formality of marriage" and "express themselves" through the use of drugs.

While Russia campaigns against "cussing" in Russia, Communists in the United States shout defiance in the vilest language. A mop-haired, barefoot New York youth now on a California campus leads a demonstration in favor of filthy words.

We don't have to let them get away with it. We Americans don't have to wallow in dirt and depravity unresisting.

Indeed, the new President of the United States has a splendid background--and opportunity--to lead Americans back home.

Citing history, he can show that there is nothing constructive or progressive or daring about sin.

And certainly it is nothing "new."

And by example he may lead us to a renewed respect for godliness-for home and family and decency--which once made America the powerhouse of this planet.

And can again.

The Sandhills Philosopher

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm takes notice of the Thanksgiving season in his letter this week.

Dear editor: "Well, haven't got too much to be thankful for this year," a friend in town told me the other day when I asked him if he had his turkey ready for Thanksgiving. "What's the matter?" I asked. "The matter? Don't you read the newspapers? They're still fighting in Viet Nam. School teachers striking, Streets not safe to walk in. Crime getting worse. Government's in debt. College students acting crazy. Taxes too high. Everybody dissatisfied. . . . He was fixing to go on but I told him I had to go back home, which I did, and after I got here I got to thinking. Sure, a lot of things are wrong in this country, but a thinking man can still find plenty to be thankful for, whether his television set is working or not. For example, I'm thankful that the fireplace in my office out here on this Johnson grass farm works fine when the north wind is blowing, which is the time I need it the most. If a south wind is blowing, the chimney doesn't draw right and smoke fills up the place, but a man who can't tell which way the wind is blowing deserves to be smoked out of this office or the one you get elected to. Incidentally, I occupy probably the only office in the United States which has had its doorknob kicked off by a cow. Happened one day last year. What man in what city, I don't care how big it is, can make that claim? I'm thankful some men have nerve enough to explore the moon, and I'm thankful I'm not one of them. The same goes for football. I'm thankful a man in this country can think what he pleases, without having to do anything about it, just as others can try to do something about it without first thinking. I've got lots to be thankful for, but if I mentioned all of them the government might want to raise my taxes. I'm not sure the Pilgrim Fathers, could they return after all these years and look the place over, would be thankful for everything that has resulted from their trip, but I'm thankful they made it. Yours faithfully, J.A.

Preston Smith Naming Officials

AUSTIN, Tex. -- Lt. Gov. Preston Smith is making arrangements to take office as governor on January 21. He already has selected some of his official family. Jim Oliver of the Legislative Budget Board, which Smith now heads, will become director of the executive budget office. Oliver is working on the budget which the new governor will recommend to the Legislature. Jerry Hall, chief of the Capitol Bureau for Newspapers, Inc. -- the Austin, Waco, Port Arthur and Lufkin dailies -- will become Smith's press secretary. Certain to have a top job, either as secretary of state or as chief administrative as-istant, will be Harold Dudley, who managed Smith's campaigns. SCHOOL -- New members of the Legislature came to Austin for two days to learn the ropes about the legislative process. Speaker-to-be Gus Mutscher of Brenham, with the help of the Legislative Council, arranged the orientation sessions.

Freshman legislators will thus have an insight into how the legislative process works when they start the 140-day session on January 14. Turn-over in the Legislature this year was low. Only 30 new members were named to the 150-member House, and only three new senators among the 31-member Senate. Two of the senators have been in the Legislature before, so there are only 31 in all who have had no had legislative service. POVERTY -- With 28.8 per cent of the Texas families having incomes under $3,000, well above the national average of 21.4 per cent, Gov. John Connally feels that Texas should continue to make every effort to find and cure the cause of poverty. In his report on operations of the Texas Office of Economic Opportunity, the governor said that $113,038,642 in Federal money was allocated to anti-poverty programs in Texas during the year ending August 31. Grants ranged from the $18,055,846 used to operate the three Job Corps centers at San Marcos, McKinney and New Waverly to the $8,345,358 allocated to 94 colleges to provide campus jobs for 28,073 college students who needed jobs to stay in school. COURTS SPEAK -- On January 8 the State Supreme Court will review an Amarillo man's suit against a TV station which identified him as a robbery suspect after he had been released as blameless by police. Lower courts held for the station. High court will hear arguments January 15 in a suit wherein Ford Motor Company is charged as negligent in manufacturing a brake assembly on a new Ford truck that hit an Amarillo couple's car. Trinity River Authority was loser in its effort to enforce a condemnation award for property it sought in San Jacinto County. Supreme Court over-ruled the application for mandamus. Another loser was a Lubbock man trying to collect damages for arm cuts suffered when he accidentally rammed a fist through a liquor store glass door.

LAZBUDDIE SCHOOLS' LONGHORN STAMPEDE

On November 19th the Bula High School girls' basketball teams swatted Anton in both games.

The Bula 'B' team walked over the Dogettes to a tune of 43-25. Pam Layton dropped in twenty points for Bula, with Iva Clawson and Terry Claunch having eight each, and Margaret Richardson hit for seven.

The 'A' team game was a slightly closer game. When the buzzer rang, the Bula Bulldogs were ahead 40-39. Diane Crume and Sharon Turney led the Bulldog's scoring with 18 points each, and Sheila Medlin had four.

Later on in the week, November 21, the same teams competed with the Sudan girls on the Bula court. The outcome was a little different this time.

The Bula 'B' team eased by the Hornets, with the final tally 28-26. Terry Claunch hit the basket for 18 points to lead the Bula attack. Iva Clawson popped the net for eight, and Margaret Richardson had two.

The Sudan 'A' team took the Bula 'A' team with a score of 47-40. Diane Crume made 21 points for the Bulldogs, Sharon Turney hit for 12 and Sheila Medlin put in seven.

Monday morning, November 25th, the Bula Student Council had their regular meeting. The main topic for discussion was the Christmas decorations for the school, and the Christmas assembly. The group decided that each class would decorate two doors each, one would be religious, the other non-religious. The doors will be judged the last week before we let out for the Christmas Holidays.

The Bula F.F.A. sponsored a Turkey Shoot November 24th. It was held north of the school building in Jim Claunch's field from 1-5 p.m.

Iva Clawson, a Junior girl at Bula, had a slumber party for the High School girls, Saturday night, November 23rd. The girls who attended were: Sheila Medlin, Freda Layton, Pam Layton, Jolene Cox, Diane Crume, Carolyn Turney, Sharon Turney, Margaret Richardson, Judy Snitker, Patricia Robertson, and Iva Clawson. The Sophomore class went to Lubbock Saturday to plan for the annual Athletic Banquet to be held January 3rd. The class representatives and sponsors who went were Diane Crume, Pam Layton, Jolene Cox, Gene Stroud, Mitchell Autry, and Coach and Mrs. Halbrooks. The group arranged to have the Banquet in Furr's Cafeteria.
