Muleshoe City Council Issues $405,000 in Bonds

Library Funds in Top Three for 1970

$250,000 GO Bonds Purchased by MSB

Friends of Library Projects; New Officers Appointed

All signs point ahead to the Muleshoe Area Public Library receiving a "first priority" consideration for 1970 Texas State Library funding for a new library building.

Lee B. Brawner, Assistant State Librarian, said in a letter to Library Board Chairman David Sudduth that "if it is not possible to approve funds in Federal Fiscal Year 1969, . . . (Muleshoe) . . . will be in the top three priority in 1970". The federal year begins July 1, 1969 although funding probably will not be determined until later, he noted.

The local library, through applications under the Library Services and Construction Act Title II Program, applied for $50,000 in state funds for library construction here. Local matching funds include the $40,000 bond issue passed September 10 authorizing new library building construction and more than $10,000 assets in properties.

Brawner said the 1969 Title II allotment from the Department of Health, Education and Welfare was "considerably reduced". The State Library received $1,288,635 for this program in 1968 and will only be receiving $340,480 for 1969. Due to the decreased funding only about six projects will be able to receive funds in 1969 although fourteen applied. Muleshoe's project is in ninth place in order of priority, moving up from fourteenth when five of other applicants failed to satisfy all criteria (i.e. availability of local funds; adequate local budget support, etc.). Priority rating is also set by the "chronological order applications were received", added Brawner.

Friends of the Library board members heard the details of Muleshoe's status in the construction funding program in a Tuesday afternoon meeting at the library.

The FOL board also voted unanimously a resolution endorsing the proposed legislative bill entitled Texas Library Systems Act. The Act enables community libraries such as the local unit to participate in the Inter-Library Loan program and others. The service enables persons to request books at the local library and the request is forwarded to larger libraries in the system; thus, a small library may use the facilities and books of any Texas library upon request. This is a tax-saving to the state, locally and to library patrons, FOL discussed. The system has already been successfully used in Muleshoe, Librarian Anne Camp testified.

In an effort to promote better and expanded 1969 local library services from the present library, several FOL projects were approved for implementation. Volunteer "Friends" assistance will be asked for projects expanding library services to the local hospital patients, to area shut-ins, to the Goodwill Center children, as well as expanded "books - by - mail" services. Continuing cooperation between the local library and four-county bookmobile service, so as to better serve the four

'Oklahoma' Awards Presented At Fine Arts Gala Banquet

Frosted tumbleweeds, ceiling height bare trees, dusted with white frost, gnarled and twisted in their stark simplicity, lighted by hidden spotlights in the base; midnight and white walls, with fluffy clouds floating overhead and numberless golden multifaceted snowflakes suspended from the ceiling formed the setting for 'Fantasy in Frost'; the theme for the annual Fine Arts Banquet at Muleshoe High School Cafeteria Saturday night.

The white draped tables were centered with frosted devils catclaw and tiny golden musical instruments were hidden in the branches of the frosted centerpieces.

Joe Harbin gave the welcome to the full house attending the banquet. He said, "I would like to thank all who worked on the banquet, you see no abacadabra here, it took people, and working hard, to put together what you see here tonight."

Harbin introduced the officers of the Fine Arts organization who were present for the banquet. They included Mr. and Mrs. A.V. Wood; Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Milner; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wrinkle; Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Seymore and Mrs. Joe Harbin. R.A. Bradley was unable to attend.

He then introduced the Fine Arts members who prepared the meal and headed the decoration committee. They were Mrs. J.W. Coppedge, general banquet chairman; Mrs. Jack Schuster, Foods, assisted by Mrs. Bernard Phelps, Mrs. Ben Chapman, Mrs. Irvin St. Clair, Mrs. Carl Bamert and Mrs. Kirk Pitts; Mrs. Kenneth Preucere, servers (students); decorations, Mrs. Clarence E. Mason, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Willard Tibbets, Mrs. Charles Mayhugh and Mrs. Bob Badger; Set Up, Mrs. J.H. Evans, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Harold Allison, Mrs. R.A. Bradley, Mrs. Neal Dillman and Mrs. S.K. Flatt; Plate servers, Mrs. Raleigh and Mrs. W.B. Wagon, Jr.; Clean-up, Mrs. Carl Ellington, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Seymore, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Harbin and others not listed.

Students from junior high school, dressed in black and white skaters costumes served. Vicki Henexson responded for the students to Mr. Harbin's welcome.

Entertainment was furnished by an all girl septet from Lubbock Christian College. They were accompanied by guitarist Danny Church, of Brownfield, a nephew of Jimmy Milner. The girls sang "Winter Wonderland", "Scarbroed Affair", "Maria", "Unchained Melody", "Wayward Wind", and "Rock My Soul. I Wind", and "Rock My Soul."

Big Moment of the evening was the presentation of awards for the musical 'Oklahoma' by Speech Department head, Kerry Moore.

Two awards were given to orchestra players, David Gunpton and Cindi Crane; best supporting actress honors were shared by Betty Harbin and Rebecca Phelps; best male dancer was judged to be Royce Harris; the coveted best actress award went to Sheryl Mason; the best female dancer was Greta Bamert and the art award went to Mart Francis for his work on the sets.

More improved was Trevor Ford; best supporting actor was Waid Griffin and Steve Woodard was best actor.

Strategic Command To Practice Bombing

OFFUTT AFB, Neb.--Commencing January 29, 1969, Strategic Air Command B-52 and B-58 jet bombers will fly low-level bombing missions against simulated targets near Eunice, N.M. and Friona, Tex. Radar bomb scoring equipment at Air Force facilities near Eunice, N.M. and Friona, Tex. will use radio and radar signals to measure accuracy of the simulated bomb drops.

For several months SAC B-52 Stratofortresses and B-58 Hustlers will fly at subsonic speed along the centerline of a 10 mile wide corridor at 800 to 1300 feet above the ground during these training missions. The aircraft do not carry bombs on these flights.

Starting at a point near Elkhart, Kan., the corridor heads southwest and turns southeast at the Texas-New Mexico border near Dalhart, Tex., passing near Friona, Tex., to near Dimmitt, Tex., the corridor turns southwest to near Leveland, Tex. There the corridor turns south to near Brownsfield, Tex., where it makes its final turn southwest to a termination point near Eunice, N.M.

All target and route selections have been coordinated in advance with the Federal Aviation Administration. Areas of population, poultry farming and heaviest air traffic are avoided whenever possible.

The RBS facility is designed to inject realism into SAC training programs by providing crews with a wide range of unfamiliar targets and routes. Approximately 60 Air Force personnel will man the site at Eunice, N.M. with a smaller detachment at the Friona, Tex. site. These are radar and electronic technicians plus personnel needed to maintain the facility and furnish other support.

Texas is Second in Contracts

Senator John Tower, a member of the Senate Armed Services Committee, said today that Texas remained in second place among the states in amount of defense contract work during the 1st quarter of fiscal year 1969 (July-September 1968).

Newly released figures for defense contract work during the 1st quarter period which ended September 30, show that Texans contributed 10.3 per cent of the nation's defense contract work during that year at a total of $1,062,974,000. That kept Texas ahead of New York which did 9.4% of the work and second only to California, which did 22.2%.

Senator Tower said the FY-69 1st quarter figure for Texas represents an increase over that period in fiscal year 1968 of $204,344,000. The FY-69 1st quarter figure was broken down this way: Army---$304,238,000, Navy---$100,931,000, Air Force---$444,766,000, Defense Supply Agency---$213,039,000.

The Sandhills Philosopher

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson-grass farm ignores the international situation this week and concentrates on domestic issues.

Dear editor:
Three items in one newspaper that turned up on here on this Johnson grass farm yesterday have convinced me that the saying, "Nothing succeeds like success," should be changed to "Nothing fails like success."

One item reported that the Saturday Evening Post, with the largest circulation in its 175-year history, is closing down because it's busted. It had so many subscribers and such a shortage of advertising it couldn't make ends meet, it even tried cutting 3 million subscribers off, but still it didn't work.

Another item reported that college football, breaking all attendance records at higher ticket prices, is losing money, and some coaches are arguing they ought to go back to one-platoon football, where one player plays on both offense and defense. Like it is, it takes four teams, two for offense, counting the No. 1 team and the No. 2 team to back up players who get hurt, and the same for defense. "It costs too much money for scholarships and equipment for that many men," some coaches argue. I don't know what the solution is, but those coaches ought to know that if they switch to one-platoon ball, they can't expect the boys to play double time for the same money, so the total salary bill would be the same. They might save a little on headgear, but I doubt it since they too would be used twice as much and last only half as long.

The third item reported that the U.S. Post Office Department is getting so much business it's in worse shape than football or the Saturday Evening Post. The more business it gets, the more money it loses.

I have thought of one-platoon mailing, where it's all right to get a letter but against the law to answer it, and while this would cut down on volume all right, some soreheads would object.

I don't know what the answer is, but Congress ought to get to work on the problem as soon as it gets its salary raised and other routine business out of the way. It's bad enough to lose the Saturday Evening Post, but we can't have the Post Office shutting down too.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

What to Expect in Food Prices for 1969

COLLEGE STATION, -- Retail food prices in the first half of 1969 are likely to average close to current levels.

According to Gwendolyn Clyatt, Extension consumer marketing specialist, prices will be lower on many fruit products, fresh and processed vegetables, fats and oil products and pork. Eggs, turkey, dairy products, potatoes, candy and other chocolate products and soft drinks will be higher than in 1968, she says.

Prices will stay about the same for beef, cereal and bakery products, sugar, tea and coffee, says Mrs. Clyatt who works with Texas A&M University.

On the average, about 17.2 percent of after-tax income was spent for food in 1968, down fractionally from 1967. Americans will continue to earn more meat and other high protein foods and less carbohydrates

Bradshaws Visit Guam

Halfway around the world is not very far any more, since jet travel is routine.

The C.W. Bradshaws, of Lubbock, returned last week from a two weeks trip to Guam, which is 5800 miles from San Francisco. Direct flight from Honolulu to Guam is a six hour trip, but the Bradshaws were mistakenly routed via Tokyo and including a layover of an hour, they made the flight on Pan American Airlines in thirteen hours, their first trans-oceanic flight in a jet.

Purpose of the once-in-a-lifetime trip was to visit with their son and daughter-in-law, Naval Hospitalman 2nd Odis Bradshaw and Mrs. Bradshaw, the former Donna King, daughter of the Vernal Kings. Odis, a 1961 graduate of Lubbock schools, is a physical therapist technician in the naval hospital on Guam.

The Bradshaws have been on Guam fifteen months and he expects to be discharged in December, 1969.

Leaving Lubbock in fifteen-degree weather, they arrived on Guam to find the temperature 89 degrees, cloudy and pleasant, and the entire countryside green, green, green. Mrs. Bradshaw said they "saw the island, every bit of it", that they "ate, slept and went" the whole time.

The lush jungle countryside is filled with wild orchids, poinsettia trees (not bushes, trees, she said), avocados, coconut trees and a thick growth of vegetation.

With friends of the younger Bradshaws, they waded in the ocean and played on the beach and 'enjoyed every minute'.

Mrs. Bradshaw remarked that all the people they met were homesick for family and friends and so glad to see someone from 'home', that they were escorted on their return trip to the airport by a large crowd of people.

Hospitalman 2nd Bradshaw plans to go to Hong Kong on his R&R and will be accompanied by his wife. They also plan to go to Saipan, another of the islands in the same chain as Guam.

THEY SANG SO SWEETLY ..... Lubbock Christian College's Septet, with guitarist Danny Church accompanying, entertained at Fine Arts Banquet Saturday night, singing old and new favorites.

Peruvian Student Visits Jerry Rays

Miss Maclovia Vines, a 22 year old student at the university of Trujillo, Peru, is making life exciting this week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Ray, near Sudan.

Miss Vines, in company with seventeen other 4-H-ers from Peru arrived in the area last weekend, to be here a week to participate in a cultural exchange between the two countries. The youth are sponsored by International Farm Youth Exchange and it was through the efforts of Lamb County Agricultural Agent Buddy Logson, working with Associate State 4-H Club Leader Edward F. Shultz, that Miss Vines was sent to the Ray family. The Rays actually live in Bailey County but because their children transfer to Sudan schools, they were considered a suitable family for the visit of the Peruvian girl.

a silver thunderbird emblem on a silver chair and her hair-styling and make-up were similar to a Texas college girl. Maclovia thought clothing prices much higher than Peru after shopping for some needed items. Like American college students, Maclovia likes guitar and is taking lessons. She also enjoys singing and was a member of a choral group at the University. She asked, "Where do you dance?" and expressed a wish that she might enjoy dancing while here. The Ray girls took their guest to Sudan schools with them Friday and she spent the entire day, to the delight of the students. Spanish-speaking students interpreted for her and she spoke to the classes.

Tuesday Lita and Maclovia were to accompany a group of the exchange students to the stock show at Amarillo for the day and they have appeared on Lubbock and Amarillo TV programs.

Burl Block, Spanish teacher in Muleshoe high school interviewed Miss Vines briefly Saturday morning and arrangements were made for her to visit his classes Thursday, where she will speak to the students. Block spent some time last summer in Paraguay and was in Peru four days, he stated. Maclovia likes to think of herself as being of Spanish extraction and says the Peruvians are a mixture of approximately 45% Inca Indian, 35% Spanish and 0% Anglo. She speaks Castilian Spanish. Peru is approximately twice the size of the State of Texas.

THE SHOES OF THE FISHERMAN Makes President Roll at Phillips

For those of the Catholic faith and others interested in the workings at the Vatican, inside elections and other non-public rituals, "The Shoes Of The Fisherman," should be interesting.

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer has spared no expense in regards to color and pageantry.

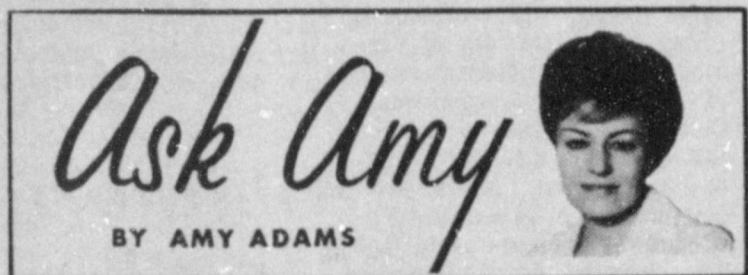

Not only is the Vatican a central part of the story, the career of Pope Kiri I, played by Anthony Quinn, is the main character throughout the film. It begins while Quinn (a political prisoner) is in a Russian labor camp. Laurence Olivier portrays the Russian Premier.

The Chinese Premier and Russian Premier and a chance of a third World War holds a period of highly suspenseful maneuvering. And, as a TV correspondent during this time, David Jansen should be given due credit for a good job.

ENID, Okla.-- Miss Jana Stevenson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph H. Stevenson, 1905 West Avenue E, Muleshoe, Tex. was named to the President's Honor Roll for the fall semester at Phillips University, according to Robert W. Pearce, Director of Records. "A straight-A average must be attained to receive this honor," Pearce explained. "Only 35 of the 1200 undergraduate students were named to the President's Honor Roll. Inclusion on the list is one of the highest academic honors a student can earn at college," Miss Stevenson is a senior at Phillips this year.

INTER-FAITH DATING IS THE PROBLEM

Dear Amy:
I'm 16 years of age and have the same problem that most girls my age have. It's our parents. They like us to go out with boys of our own religion. I am of the Jewish faith and so are most of my friends. A lot of non-Jewish boys keep asking me out and I have to say no because of my parents. They like me to go out with Jewish boys. I'm still young and have a long life to live, so I'm not going to marry the kids I go out with now.
Why can't I go out to have a nice time?
It's mostly non-Jewish boys who ask me out and I would really like to go. Your advice would be greatly appreciated.

Dear Tied Down:
I am of the opinion that the heart knows no religious barriers and that it's conceivable that your love would be given to someone not of your faith.
While in my eyes it is not a sin to fall in love with someone not of your faith, serious problems can arise.
Parents do not want their children to be subjected to problems of this nature. That is the reason for their disapproval of inter-faith dating.
You won't change their minds, so don't try!

Dear Amy:
My husband just told me he doesn't love me and has left. How can I start over? I have two small children and in no problem financially, but I just don't know what to do. How can I find another father for my children?
Help Please

Dear Help:
I don't know what prompted your husband to leave, but if you love him, make every effort to get him back home and settle your problems even if it means enlisting the aid of professional help (marriage counselor).
Your problem is not one of finding a new father. It is attempting to reconcile your present one. Good luck!

Dear Amy:
I have never written to anyone for advice but I think my problem needs an airing. Here goes!
I am a divorcee in my early 30's dating a man in similar circumstances. From time to time we associate with couples (mostly married ones) who knew him before I dated him. They have always been very nice to me. However, there is one woman, married, by the way, to one heck of a nice guy who has always acted overly familiar to my friend whenever we chance to be in her company -- always in the presence of her spouse.
I am not jealous, more embarrassed as I know my friend isn't aware of how foolish this looks.
Is it up to me to say something to him? I just can't imagine what he would think. He is so easy going and very fond of me. What would you do?
Perplexed

Dear Perplexed:
This gal can hurt your to-morrow if you let her get to you. It's clear that she's patronized by the others. So take a tip, button your lip and humor her.

Dear Amy:
I am a 19 year old girl who reads your column and when I read about "M.E.N.", a 19 year old who was in love with a married man, I just had to tell you about my friend.
She was a young girl who married a man who left his wife to marry her. They weren't married more than two years when Ann found out he was leaving her for someone else.
All I can conclude from my friend's experience is that if a man will leave his wife for you, he will leave you for someone else. Maybe this will help "M.A.N."

House Interim Water Committee to Present Recommendation

The House Interim Water Study Committee, chaired by Representative Bill Clayton, after holding hearings regarding water resources development and related State water problems in various parts of the State, is prepared to present to the Legislature several bills and proposals. The following are some of the recommendations that will be made.

1. That a constitutional amendment allowing three and one-half billion dollars of revenue bonds for use in water development by the Water Development Board be proposed. Under the provisions of the amendment, these bonds can not be issued except when they have been approved by a 2/3 vote of the legislature in stipulated amounts.
2. That the power of eminent domain be given to the Water Development Board in order to allow the purchase of lands for reservoirs.
3. That the Water Development Board be allowed to lease land acquired for reservoir sites to individuals and corporations and that a method of payment to the local government entity be provided in such an amount that it will equal their present ad valorem taxes.
4. That certain types of inactive water districts be dissolved.

5. That the State, through the Water Rights Commission have control of ground water to the same extent that underground water conservation districts presently have, but only in those areas where there are no districts.
6. That there should be closer coordination of personnel, data collecting and assimilation, and equipment for the various water agencies; and that a new State Office Building be constructed to house all State water agencies.
7. That various types of Districts and River Authority be given the authority to issue revenue bonds to build parks.
8. That a Master Water Authority be created with the powers to contract with the United States Government, State of Texas, and other persons; and the power to levy a tax and issue bonds. Such authority territory to be designated by the people in a given import area.
9. That the Texas Water Quality Board be designated as an arbitrator when needed in settling disputes over the cost of treating sewage.

Representative Clayton and the Committee fully endorse and support the economic in-put, out-put study being conducted by Doctor Herb Grub of the Planning Division of the Governor's Office. The Committee also urges full support and speedy implementation of the Texas Water Plan as presented by the Texas Water Development Board.

Clayton stated that he felt the Committee's work has been very fruitful, and that most of the recommendations presented by the Committee will prove acceptable to the Legislature. Representative Clayton also stated that he believes the incoming administration will give top priority to water resource development and implementation of the Texas water plan.

AUSTIN, Tex.--Now that the Legislature is back in session, Austin is back to normal. At least it seems normal for Austinites and veteran lawmakers. But 30 of the 34 new members of the 181-member Legislature still are about as confused as a lost child at the state fair.

Two "new" House members know their way around very well indeed--Doyle Willis of Fort Worth formerly served in both House and Senate, and Glenn Kothmann of San Antonio also is making a comeback.

Sen. W.E. (Pete) Snelson of Midland served in the Senate in 1965-66, then was re-districted out of business and defeated by former Sen. Dorsey B. Hardeman of San Angelo. Last year, however, Snelson turned the table for a return match in the upper house. Sen. Ronald Bridges of Corpus Christi was a long-time House member before he defeated the late Sen. Bruce Reagan.

For the other 30 newly-elected legislators it's a brand new ball game. They began work in the usual maelstrom of activity, trying to learn the names and faces all at once of 151 other lawmakers. Also, about the same number of full-time lobbyists, some 300 secretaries and committee clerks, and more than 100 state officials who work with the Legislature.

Texas' stately old Capitol finally has been renovated to provide offices for all members. But finding these offices and committee rooms, scattered all over four stories and basement of a block - long building, is not easy on any newcomer.

For the first couple of weeks, most new members walk everywhere with a diagram of the Capitol in one hand and a list of members' desk numbers in the other.

Activity at the session really won't be heavy until Speaker Gus Mutscher and Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes appoint their committees. And Mutscher has said he won't get to that until about the last week of January. So this first week the big excitement is the upcoming inauguration of Gov. Preston Smith and Barnes.

INAUGURATION -- Governor Smith expects more than 4,200 persons in about 100 marching and performing groups to participate in the inauguration parade down Congress Avenue at 3 p.m. Tuesday (January 21).

At least three times that many will be dancing in six inauguration balls for Smith and Barnes that night. But the inauguration won't be all frolic. A 7:30 a.m. prayer breakfast at the Terrace Motor Hotel starts the big day. Inaugural ceremonies then take place at noon.

GAS STORAGE SAFETY--Rep. Charles Jungmichel of La Grange says his House State Affairs subcommittee will ask the Legislature to pass a bill requiring that all service station gasoline storage tanks be located underground.

Recommendation resulted from several subcommittee hearings around the state on recent explosions and fires caused by storage tanks. As the proposal now stands, service stations with above-ground tanks would be given six months to comply with new safety regulations.

MIGRANT SCHOOL PROGRAM Eight summer weeks of all-day school would be offered the children of migrant workers under a federally-funded migrant school program approved by the State Board of Education.

High school-age students would attend regular summer schools, with the federal government paying tuition fees for families who cannot afford them.

An estimated 11,500 children of migrants would participate in the $1.6-million summer school program.

APPOINTMENTS -- Ben R. Howell of El Paso was named chairman of the state board of education, Paul R. Haas, Corpus Christi, vice-chairman and Paul G. Greenwood, Harlingen, secretary. Dr. J.W. Edgar was named to a new four-year term as commissioner of education.

Dan S. Petty is Governor-elect Smith's director of planning coordination.

Outgoing Gov. John Connally, racing to clear his desk, turned loose another flood of appointments. Among them were the following:

Dee J. Kelly, Fort Worth, Jerome Johnson, Amarillo, and Bernard G. Johnson, Houston, to the board of regents, state senior colleges;

Randall C. Jackson, Abilene, re-appointed to the State Securities Board;

Carl C. Anderson, Waco, judge of the 54th district;

Mrs. Jack T. Bowman, San Antonio, Mrs. E.L. Green Jr., Pampa, and Frank B. Appleman, Fort Worth, re-appointed to the board of regents, Texas Woman's University;

Sylvan Lang, San Antonio, Mrs. Edwin Singer, Corpus Christi, Mrs. W.R. Hawn, Dallas, and Mrs. Faye Sarafim, Houston, to the Texas Fine Arts Commission;

Dr. Thomas R. Williams, Gatesville, to the State Board of Dental Examiners;

Dr. Isaac Eugene Willis Jr., Longview, to the State Board of Podiatry Examiners;

Dr. Jack Winston, Houston, re-appointed to the Podiatry Board.

Joe R. Darnall of Austin was appointed to the legal staff of the Texas Liquor Control Board and Claude L. Webster, formerly of Fort Worth, will handle insurance programs for the Texas Hospital Association.

James F. Ray of San Antonio is the new assistant director of University of Texas Institute of Urban Studies at Arlington.

BOYS SCHOOL PROBED--A House investigating committee marched up the hill and back down again in exploring charges of brutality by guards at Gatesville-Mountain View School for Boys.

Juvenile Delinquency panel headed by Rep. Vernon Stewart of Wichita Falls aired allegations in a public hearing. After House Speaker Ben Barnes ordered an on-the-spot midnight check, lie detector tests were ordered for complaining inmates.

Stewart acknowledged two days later that polygraph tests showed the boys were not telling the truth. Guards said they used only what force was necessary to disarm youths of homemade knives after they tried to escape.

Texas Youth Council said the ill-timed probe was damaging to its efforts. Barnes agreed TYC had been unfairly tried in the press. He recommended better pay for school guards, more counseling services for inmates.

COURTS SPEAK -- State Supreme Court refused to alter an intermediate court order directing re-trial of a suit brought by the widow of a Pasadena doctor against his onetime hospital partners alleging malicious prosecution.

High court upheld Henderson County real estate man's claim to a $6,574 commission on the sale of property on which he had exclusive listing. Decision concluded unenforceability of contract is no defense to action for tortious interference with its performance.

Court of Criminal Appeals reversed four-year sentence given a Beaumont woman for assault to murder because the jury doubled punishment under state law authorizing extra sentence where a knife is used in attack.

Gulf and Western Industries

Inc. lost its bid to buy controlling interest in Sinclair Oil Corporation when stockholders of Atlantic Richfield and Sinclair agreed to a merger, says the U.S. District Court here.

ATTORNEY GENERAL RULES Texas laws which permit officials other than the governor to call out state military forces, including the National Guard, without the chief executive's prior approval are unconstitutional, says Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin.

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded that:

*Independent school district may borrow money from its school depository if a member of the school board is an officer in the bank, providing the board adopts appropriate statute and the officer-member does not vote on the contract.

*Houston has fire, safety and police power over the Harris County-Houston Ship Channel Navigation District within corporate limits. Harris County may enforce all state laws in the district, and either the city or the county may bring suit under Texas' clean air or water quality (anti-pollution) acts. District can also sue under the water quality act and has jurisdiction over fire, safety and police powers to the extent that it owns or operates terminal facilities outside city limits.

VENDING MACHINES--Final open meeting of the State Public Affairs Subcommittee studying state amusement vending machines closed with the beginning of contempt proceedings against a Dallas vending machine owner, C.E. Bradshaw.

Rep. Richard Cory of Victoria said that Bradshaw, owner of the National Amusement Company, refused to answer any questions directed to him at a meeting of the subcommittee in Dallas last November. Bradshaw said that the subcommittee was illegally formed.

COLLEGE GROWTH TOLD--Top officials and legislators were told by the Coordinating Board of the Texas College and University System that higher education will double in size and cost by 1980.

Board laid its "blueprint for progress in higher education" before executives and lawmakers. Details include proposals for six new state colleges, 53 community junior college districts and additional medical - dental education facilities.

It is predicted by the Board that enrollments will grow from 375,000 in 1969 to 707,800 in 1980. Additional facilities will require $401.4 million in expenditures by 1980. Annual spending on educational programs will rise from $203.5 million to $404.2 million by 1975, study indicated. As a means of financing part of the $132 million cost of new senior colleges, the Board apparently will suggest an $80 million bond issue secured by the $18 a month student activity charge.

Capt. Splawn Visits Home

Air Force Captain and Mrs. Arthur C. Splawn, and little son Shannon, of Yokota, Japan, left Sunday after spending a few days visiting his parents, the Howard Splawns. They had previously visited in Charlotte, Michigan with Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Baird, parents of Mrs. Splawn.

Capt. Splawn volunteered for three years duty in Japan in April, 1967. Although he lives with his family in Yokota, he spends much of his time in Korea 'on alert.' He flies an Air Force 'C'.

Splawn received his captain's rating in May, 1968 and only recently was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross, with four clusters.

Other visitors in the Splawn home during their stay were his brother and wife, Coach and Mrs. Ken Splawn of Olton; his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Askew and Mrs. Effie Splawn, and his sister, Mrs. Bill Calvert and son, Scott.

Ban on Aid To North Vietnam

A resolution to ban all U.S. aid and trade with any country furnishing supplies to North Vietnam was introduced by Panhandle Congressman Bob Price Friday.

Amendments to the Foreign Assistance Act prohibit grants, loans, credits, or other assistance to any country which sells or furnishes to North Vietnam or which permits ships or aircraft under its registry to transport to or from that country any equipment, materials, or commodities or gives any form of assistance to North Vietnam, Price said.

"But," he added, "the law has never been enforced. The resolution simply states that it is the recommendation of the Congress that the President take immediate action under the law to stop all aid to countries that are aiding our Communist North Vietnam enemies."

Activity at the session really won't be heavy until Speaker Gus Mutscher and Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes appoint their committees. And Mutscher has said he won't get to that until about the last week of January. So this first week the big excitement is the upcoming inauguration of Gov. Preston Smith and Barnes.

INAUGURATION -- Governor Smith expects more than 4,200 persons in about 100 marching and performing groups to participate in the inauguration parade down Congress Avenue at 3 p.m. Tuesday (January 21).

At least three times that many will be dancing in six inauguration balls for Smith and Barnes that night. But the inauguration won't be all frolic. A 7:30 a.m. prayer breakfast at the Terrace Motor Hotel starts the big day. Inaugural ceremonies then take place at noon.

GAS STORAGE SAFETY--Rep. Charles Jungmichel of La Grange says his House State Affairs subcommittee will ask the Legislature to pass a bill requiring that all service station gasoline storage tanks be located underground.

Recommendation resulted from several subcommittee hearings around the state on recent explosions and fires caused by storage tanks. As the proposal now stands, service stations with above-ground tanks would be given six months to comply with new safety regulations.

MIGRANT SCHOOL PROGRAM Eight summer weeks of all-day school would be offered the children of migrant workers under a federally-funded migrant school program approved by the State Board of Education.

High school-age students would attend regular summer schools, with the federal government paying tuition fees for families who cannot afford them.

An estimated 11,500 children of migrants would participate in the $1.6-million summer school program.

APPOINTMENTS -- Ben R. Howell of El Paso was named chairman of the state board of education, Paul R. Haas, Corpus Christi, vice-chairman and Paul G. Greenwood, Harlingen, secretary. Dr. J.W. Edgar was named to a new four-year term as commissioner of education.

Dan S. Petty is Governor-elect Smith's director of planning coordination.

Outgoing Gov. John Connally, racing to clear his desk, turned loose another flood of appointments. Among them were the following:

Dee J. Kelly, Fort Worth, Jerome Johnson, Amarillo, and Bernard G. Johnson, Houston, to the board of regents, state senior colleges;

Randall C. Jackson, Abilene, re-appointed to the State Securities Board;

Carl C. Anderson, Waco, judge of the 54th district;

Mrs. Jack T. Bowman, San Antonio, Mrs. E.L. Green Jr., Pampa, and Frank B. Appleman, Fort Worth, re-appointed to the board of regents, Texas Woman's University;

Sylvan Lang, San Antonio, Mrs. Edwin Singer, Corpus Christi, Mrs. W.R. Hawn, Dallas, and Mrs. Faye Sarafim, Houston, to the Texas Fine Arts Commission;

Dr. Thomas R. Williams, Gatesville, to the State Board of Dental Examiners;

Dr. Isaac Eugene Willis Jr., Longview, to the State Board of Podiatry Examiners;

Dr. Jack Winston, Houston, re-appointed to the Podiatry Board.

Joe R. Darnall of Austin was appointed to the legal staff of the Texas Liquor Control Board and Claude L. Webster, formerly of Fort Worth, will handle insurance programs for the Texas Hospital Association.

James F. Ray of San Antonio is the new assistant director of University of Texas Institute of Urban Studies at Arlington.

BOYS SCHOOL PROBED--A House investigating committee marched up the hill and back down again in exploring charges of brutality by guards at Gatesville-Mountain View School for Boys.

Juvenile Delinquency panel headed by Rep. Vernon Stewart of Wichita Falls aired allegations in a public hearing. After House Speaker Ben Barnes ordered an on-the-spot midnight check, lie detector tests were ordered for complaining inmates.

Stewart acknowledged two days later that polygraph tests showed the boys were not telling the truth. Guards said they used only what force was necessary to disarm youths of homemade knives after they tried to escape.

Texas Youth Council said the ill-timed probe was damaging to its efforts. Barnes agreed TYC had been unfairly tried in the press. He recommended better pay for school guards, more counseling services for inmates.

COURTS SPEAK -- State Supreme Court refused to alter an intermediate court order directing re-trial of a suit brought by the widow of a Pasadena doctor against his onetime hospital partners alleging malicious prosecution.

High court upheld Henderson County real estate man's claim to a $6,574 commission on the sale of property on which he had exclusive listing. Decision concluded unenforceability of contract is no defense to action for tortious interference with its performance.

Court of Criminal Appeals reversed four-year sentence given a Beaumont woman for assault to murder because the jury doubled punishment under state law authorizing extra sentence where a knife is used in attack.

Gulf and Western Industries

Inc. lost its bid to buy controlling interest in Sinclair Oil Corporation when stockholders of Atlantic Richfield and Sinclair agreed to a merger, says the U.S. District Court here.

ATTORNEY GENERAL RULES Texas laws which permit officials other than the governor to call out state military forces, including the National Guard, without the chief executive's prior approval are unconstitutional, says Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin.

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded that:

*Independent school district may borrow money from its school depository if a member of the school board is an officer in the bank, providing the board adopts appropriate statute and the officer-member does not vote on the contract.

*Houston has fire, safety and police power over the Harris County-Houston Ship Channel Navigation District within corporate limits. Harris County may enforce all state laws in the district, and either the city or the county may bring suit under Texas' clean air or water quality (anti-pollution) acts. District can also sue under the water quality act and has jurisdiction over fire, safety and police powers to the extent that it owns or operates terminal facilities outside city limits.

VENDING MACHINES--Final open meeting of the State Public Affairs Subcommittee studying state amusement vending machines closed with the beginning of contempt proceedings against a Dallas vending machine owner, C.E. Bradshaw.

Rep. Richard Cory of Victoria said that Bradshaw, owner of the National Amusement Company, refused to answer any questions directed to him at a meeting of the subcommittee in Dallas last November. Bradshaw said that the subcommittee was illegally formed.

"What did you come to college for anyway?" demanded the Professor. "You are not doing any studying."

"Well," replied the student, "Mother says it's to fit me for the Presidency of the United States. Uncle Jim says it's to sow my wild oats. Sister Helen says it's to get a chum for her to marry. And Dad says it's to bankrupt the family."

usually produce an average of two to four lambs per lambing in contrast to the one or two born to American domestic breeds, according to Dr. J.W. Bassett, associate professor of animal science at Texas A&M University.

Individuals sometimes produce six or seven at one time. The descendants of the flock from Ireland will be distributed to USDA Agricultural Research Stations in Beltsville, Md., Clay Center, Neb., and Dubois, Idaho for crossbreeding experiments. It is hoped that through crossing the Finnish Landrace with domestic breeds already in the U.S.

lambing rates can be increased. The sheep are now raised mainly for mutton and mature ewes average 100 to 130 pounds. The white-faced sheep are accustomed to cold climates but could be utilized in Texas, the A&M professor believes.

"We hope that in the near future Texas can receive some of these prolific sheep so we can do our own crossbreeding work to see exactly how the breed can be used within the state," Bassett added.

Direct imports from Finland are not permitted because of the danger of foot-and-mouth disease coming into the country.

From Congressman
BOB PRICE 10TH DISTRICT, TEXAS
1232 LONGWORTH OFFICE BUILDING, WASHINGTON, D.C. • 225-3706

Although I was able to attend the opening day of the 91st Congress, the flu laid me low for the better part of the next week. The medics were kind enough, however, to have me back on my feet in time to participate in the joint House-Senate reception for the Apollo 8 Astronauts, Col. Frank Bor-man, U.S. Air Force; Capt. James A. Lovell, Jr., U.S. Navy; and Lt. Col. William A. Anders, U.S. Air Force.

Col. Borman in addressing the session described the event as "awe-inspiring even to a transplanted Texan." It was, indeed, "awe-inspiring" to this transplanted Texan and the others gathered there including members of the U.S. Supreme Court.

Col. Borman made a rather pointed reference to the gentlemen of the court in his reference to "one significant accomplishment that has gone rather unnoticed."

"I think that one of the things that was truly historic" Borman said, "was that we were able to get good Roman Catholic Bill Anders to read the first four verses of the King James Version. But now that I see the gentlemen here in the front row (where the Supreme Court Justices were seated), I am not sure we should have read the Bible at all."

It is significant, however, that in spite of the court's ruling on prayer in public schools, the joint session which they attended was opened with a prayer by the House Chaplain, Rev. Edward C. Latch.

It was also significant that he opened his prayer for Anders' Bible-reading: "In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth." Rev. Latch concluded with: "We thank Thee for courageous men who, under the banner of our country, reach out for knowledge of other planets. We pray for them, for their safety, and for continued success in our astronomical endeavors. May the knowledge gained be used for the good of all men. . . Amen."

During the past week letters have poured into my office commending the astronauts for their Bible reading from space. One of these was from Rev. J.W. Sisemore, Pastor of the Olsen Park Baptist Church, Amarillo, and signed by 99 of those in attendance at services December 29.

Their message was: "We the undersigned do hereby make it known to all concerned that we rejoice in the prayer and the Bible reading that took place in the recent orbiting of the Moon. This is probably one of the greatest steps that could have been taken to let the world

On Monday the FHA chapter had a regular meeting. The theme for the meeting was Jobs, Careers, and You. A panel discussion was held for the program. The panel consisted of Debbie Burch, who portrayed a lady jockey, Ruby Lee, portraying a school teacher, Lee Ann Harlan who posed as an old maid, and Raygena Trieder who was a lab technician. These career girls were asked several questions about their professions, and they seemed to answer them intelligently, although the old maid seemed more interested in finding a husband than informing the members about her "career". The next social was also discussed, which will be a "Ma, Pa, and Me Supper". Committees were set up, then the meeting was adjourned.

ON AUTO SAFETY

The Department of Transportation has announced a proposed requirement that manufacturers advise consumers of specific safety and performance characteristics of the motor vehicles they purchase. The proposal was to include all motor vehicles made after next September 30th.

ON COAL DUST

The Government has recommended the first Federal standard to reduce coal dust, which causes an incurable lung disease blamed for more miners' deaths than accidents. The announcement was made after a 16-year study of the relation of coal dust to the disease known among miners as "black lung."

ON SILVER HALF-DOLLARS

A Government commission has recommended that the Kennedy silver half-dollar be replaced with coins of "sandwiched" metal alloys similar to the recently issued dimes and quarters. It is estimated this would save about 150 million ounces of silver a year.

PLANES TO BIAFRA

The United States Government has announced that it was giving eight C-97G Stratofreighter cargo planes to the relief effort for Biafran victims. A spokesman for the Defense Department said the planes would come from surplus Air Force stocks.

The Agriculture Department has announced that there would be four public hearings in February so consumers can tell the Government what they want in their hot dogs. At the present time, there are no specific standards for individual types of Federally inspected cooked sausage such as frankfurters, wieners, etc.

NEWS REPORT FROM WASHINGTON

Washington, D.C. -- Richard Nixon has managed to get off to a professional start as leader of the nation; he has avoided controversy, his appointments have been good and he has made no major mistakes.

Nixon's team has undoubtedly taken over the reins in one of the smoothest transitions in U.S. history, though President Lyndon Johnson is also responsible for an efficient transition. His appointees are well respected and, as a group, create a favorable image.

Basing estimates of the future on the record of the new President since last November, it might not be too soon to say chances are very good Nixon will establish himself as a very effective Chief Executive, thereby be hard to beat in 1972.

Certainly he is better equipped, by past experience and profession, than the last Republican to occupy the White House, Dwight Eisenhower. Whereas Eisenhower, commanding enormous popularity as a man, had little experience in politics and government, Nixon has much more than most Presidents.

He knew local politics in California, served in both houses of Congress, served as Vice President in the executive branch for eight years and as an attorney also knows the judiciary branch. He is a veteran party worker and organizer.

As a party pro he is likely to appreciate the importance of good party organization (in keeping Ray Bliss as national chairman he showed shrewd appreciation of this angle) and not be overly irritated by the demands of party politics, which Eisenhower never accepted.

These assets are formidable and if the former Vice President proves himself as effective in his new job as some anticipate, and if he manages to extract the country from the war in Vietnam without experiencing a recession he will be in a strong position in 1972.

Looking back on the year 1968, so fateful for Democrats, it's apparent Lyndon Johnson doomed his chances and those of the Democrats by following the Vietnam buildup policies he pursued in 1966 and 1967. Johnson's critics in Congress--on the war--didn't help his cause, especially Senate Democrats who broke with their own President.

(It was some of these same critics who insured Senator Edward Kennedy's election as Senate whip--such as William Fulbright of Arkansas, whose views on Vietnam came close to Kennedy's.)

The divided party lost the 1968 election in a divided nation although there are many more Democrats than Republicans primarily because of the unpopularity of the war, splits in the party resulting from it and the handicap Hubert Humphrey carried as its candidate, the handicap of having been part of the Johnson Administration when it escalated that war.

Senator Edward Kennedy, whose victory over Senator Russell Long (D-La) in the Senate's whip election, propelled himself into the national picture for 1972, has kept competition.

Hubert Humphrey is acting very much like a man who wants to make a second run in 1972 and Senator Edmund Muskie is embarking on a national speaking campaign, with an eye to the future and 1972. Kennedy has the hottest name, as a political property, but he may not be able to refuse second-place on the ticket in 1972, with Humphrey or someone else if he misses the party's top nomination.

The Demoralizing Spirit of Dependency

BY PAUL HARVEY

We cannot continue to make loafing profitable. During this most prosperous era, our welfare rolls continue to increase twice as fast as our population.

Politicians, handing out more and more dollars in exchange for votes, already have destroyed any desire to work on the part of many Americans, and others are encouraged to join the 8.4 million Americans now on relief. How are we going to provide for the genuinely deserving needy without creating a mushrooming army of parasites?

More importantly, perhaps, how are we going to subsidize more and more "dependents" without destroying the characteristically American "spirit of independence"?

The Nixon Administration is comparatively free from the obligation of extravagant promises to the poor. He has a better opportunity than any President since F.D.R. to seek and find a proper alternative to the presently demoralizing welfare system.

Three suggestions were reviewed recently by Roger Freeman of Stanford University's Hoover Institution.

1--The guaranteed annual income. This would raise the income of every four-person nonfarm family to at least $3,335. It could cost taxpayers $11 billion.

Obviously, such a program would further encourage many Americans to quit $3,000 - and $4,000-a-year jobs in favor of this "government income." Soon, therefore, the cost would climb far above the $11 billion.

"This," says Freeman, "is the most simple system and potentially the most destructive."

2--The family allowance. This would pay every family, rich or poor, $25 per child per month. This would cost taxpayers $21.5 billion a year. Advocates of this plan say that to pay rich and poor alike "removes the stigma from relief."

But where the pressure of increasing population is another of government's major anxieties, it would be strange strategy indeed for government further to increase that pressure.

3--The negative income tax. Under this plan, if you earn less than a specified amount in a given year, instead of you paying taxes to the government, the government would pay you enough to make up the difference. Cost? Probably $30 billion a year -- at first.

The Wall Street Journal acknowledges that society has an obligation to care for its citizens who cannot care for themselves. "For others, however, the overriding aim should be to provide an opportunity to work, not an opportunity to avoid it."

This, hopefully, is what President Nixon meant by his campaign slogans emphasizing "jobs."

Welfare was most effectively administered by churches and private agencies when it was called "charity," before the politicians found out they could use such handouts as vote bait. Perhaps the Salvation Army should be subsidized and government-administered welfare phased out entirely.

Before the arch-liberals jump on me as heartless, please heed this quote: "The lessons of history show conclusively that continued dependence on relief induces a spiritual and moral disintegration fundamentally destructive to the national fiber. To dole out relief is to administer a narcotic, a subtle destroyer of the human spirit."

Franklin D. Roosevelt said that in his State of the Union message, 1935.

With the 1968 cotton crop on the High Plains for all intents and purposes "in the barn," Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. has issued its final computer compiled report on crop quality for the year.

Based on a total of 61,832 samples out of classings just under 1,470,000 bales, the PCG analysis shows an improvement in staple length that can only be described as spectacular, a significant increase in fiber strength (pressley), and a slight gain in micronaire, or fiber maturity.

Grade and color of the year's crop however, thanks to a seige of wet weather in the middle of the harvest season, was not so good as in 1967.

The report calls attention to the following points:

1. Staple length of the crop averaged 32.3 thirty-seconds of an inch with 67.7 per cent stapling an inch or longer. Average length for 1967 was only 31.6 thirty-seconds, with just over 39 per cent pulling an inch or more.

2. Pressley for the 1968 crop averaged 82,400 pounds per square inch and 90.2 per cent tested 75,000 pounds or above. The same figures, respectively, for the 1967 crop were 79,100 pounds and 67.1 per cent.

3. Micronaire readings averaged 3.4, up from last year's 3.3, with 36.4 per cent equal to or above the "tenderable limit" of 3.5. Last year's report showed 35.5 per cent in this latter category.

4. White cotton for the season accounted for 38.1 per cent of the crop with only 5.9 per cent grading Middling White and above. This compares with 40.8 per cent and 14.1 per cent, respectively, from the 1967 crop.

5. In the Light Spot class this year's came 47.5 per cent of ginnings with 17.5 per cent going Middling Light Spot or above. Light Spots last year came to 46.4 per cent, and 32.5 per cent was Middling Light Spot or above.

6. The remaining 14.4 per cent of the harvest in 1968 was made up of Full Spot, Tinged, Light Gray and Gray grades, as compared to only 12.8 per cent that fell to these lower grades in 1967.

The PCG quality report, widely used and accepted by textile mills and others as the most complete and accurate analysis of each year's crop from the High Plains, cross-classes grade with staple, staple with micronaire, grade with micronaire, and micronaire with fiber strength.

It also contains a chart on fiber elongation frequency and one which correlates fiber strength and elongation, information not available to spinners and buyers from any other source.

PCG receives the results from Smith-Doxey classing on one sample from each sack delivered by gins to classing offices at Lamesa, Brownfield and Lubbock. For Pressley and elongation, figures PCG gets from the classing offices "pressley plugs," which are tested for strength and elongation by the Textile Research Center at Texas Tech.

Analysis of the data is accomplished through the Computer Center at Texas Tech and a printed report is sent to members of the cotton trade, textile mills, researchers, seed breeders and others.

At the end of the season a county - by - county summary, plus complete figures on acreage, production and yields, is put together and distributed to interested parties.

While on the subject of quality, PCG's Executive Vice President Donald A. Johnson has accepted an invitation to speak Sunday, January 19, to directors of the Texas Cotton Ginners Association on the producer's view of cotton classing by instrument. The TCGA Board is meeting in San Antonio January 19 and 20.

Instruments that will scientifically foretell the spinning performance of a bale of cotton have long been a goal of the industry. Dreams of such instruments go back far enough to tax the memory of almost everyone now in the cotton business.

But only in very recent years has the development of such instruments reached the stage that they are being seriously considered as a replacement for the human hand and eye in the judgement of cotton quality.

Three "lines" of such instruments measuring the various quality characteristics of cotton are in operation on the Plains this year. One, located at Plains Cotton Cooperative association, is in its third year of operation and is enjoying considerable success.

The other two were set up this year for the first time. One is operated at Texas Tech by Quality Fiber Control, Inc., a group of independent ginners, while the third line is being operated by USDA on an experimental basis at the Lubbock cotton classing office.

So Johnson says "The time may well be just around the corner when we will have the possibility of all cotton classing done by instruments, and now is the time for us to take a hard look at the broad range of effects this could have on cotton producers."

The text of Johnson's address on instrument classing will be released after the meeting.

be found for these problems, we must oppose a minimum wage for farm labor and any legislation which provides for compulsory unionism or compulsory collective bargaining," he emphasized.

Other goals outlined by Dean included: Education -- Opposed to forced consolidation of smaller schools.

Egg Law--Will support necessary revision of Texas Egg Law to correct conditions which have made Texas "dumping ground" for eggs from other states.

Taxing agricultural land--Will support full implementation of the Constitutional Amendment which provides for taxing agricultural lands according to their agricultural use and productivity.

Farm - to - market roads--Will support current provision of Colson-Briscoe Act in regard to farm-to-market roads.

Snapshot The photographer had just taken a picture of an old gentleman on the latter's 98th birthday. He thanked the oldest, saying, "I hope to be around to take your picture when you're 100."

said, is to find more economical and effective methods of brush control.

"We favor immediate implementation of an intensified program of agricultural research in all areas, including cost cutting and utilization as a means of regaining our ability to compete in world markets," Dean said.

The farm leader said TFB will request necessary money for animal health programs, including operation of the Texas Veterinary Medical Diagnostic Laboratory, for completion of the screwworm program. He pointed out that the brucellosis and hog cholera programs are essential in order to comply with federal regulations. Otherwise, Texas cattle and hogs might be prevented from moving outside Texas, he warned.

Dean told the state officials and lawmakers that a shortage of agricultural transportation is hurting Texas farmers.

"We will request and support legislation to allow permits to be issued to any person for hauling agricultural products in the raw state without having to prove need and necessity to the Railroad Commission, and without having to abide by rate schedules established by the Commission, and without having to abide by rate schedules established by the commission," he said.

In explaining the Farm Bureau's opposition to a state minimum wage for farm workers, Dean said that producers and laborers alike must face the "cold hard fact" that producers have no way of passing on the increased production costs to consumers as in the case of most other industries. A minimum wage for farm labor would, in most cases, increase production costs to the point where producers would be faced with three alternatives, Dean said.

"The first alternative would be to mechanize completely and deprive unskilled farm workers of their greatest opportunity for productive work.

"The second alternative would be to change over to enterprises which require little or no hired labor--again depriving farm workers of jobs.

"The third alternative would be for the producer to get out of agriculture and sell his farm or ranch to some other producer who would face the same problem," Dean said. He said the same situation would prevail in the event of unionization of farm labor.

Compulsory collective bargaining and resulting strikes at harvest time would cost producers not only the proceeds from the sale of their crop, but also the considerable investment required to bring the crops to harvest stage, the farm leader explained.

"Until workable solutions can be found for these problems, we must oppose a minimum wage for farm labor and any legislation which provides for compulsory unionism or compulsory collective bargaining," he emphasized.

AUSTIN -- Farm Bureau's 1969 state legislative program was presented Wednesday night (January 22) to a banquet audience that included practically all high state government elected officials, more than 100 legislators as well as some 400 county Farm Bureau leaders. Sidney Dean of Victoria, president of the state's largest farm organization, outlined the TFB's legislative goals covering a wide range of issues. The banquet was a highlight of the TFB's bi-annual legislative conference.

On the vital question of taxation, the TFB leader said, "We will continue to support sales tax exemptions on farm machinery and equipment. These exemptions are vital to farmers and ranchers."

As for the state water plan, Dean said the organization recognized the necessity for a workable water plan and will favor any such plan that is equitable to all sections of the state and takes into full consideration the future needs of agriculture. He added that the TFB will oppose any attempt to repeal or modify the law which specifies that underground water belongs to surface owners of the land.

The Farm Bureau officer said Texas is lagging far behind in effective agricultural research directed toward the practical needs of farmers and ranchers. One of the greatest needs, he

A happy spirit is the greatest possession that comes to man, regardless of his wealth or lack of it.

Love is a great thing. If you don't think so look at some of the combinations that approach you on the streets.

An honest man, after reviewing his own life, will be inclined to let youth chart its own course.
