Parmer County Water Organization To Meet

A meeting has been called for Saturday, February 8 in Bovina for the purpose of organizing a "Parmer County Water Users Association." The meeting will be held in the Bovina High School Auditorium, beginning at 2 p.m.

Proponents of the meeting point out that an organization of this type is necessary to encourage local participation for water importation.

Important studies are under way by the U.S. Corps of Engineers, The Bureau of Reclamation, as well as an economic study by Texas Tech to determine the impact that water importation will have on the area, state, and nation.

"We must encourage importation of water for this area if we hope to continue our economic development. Without an organized group we cannot be most effective," a spokesman for the meeting said.

The Texas Water Development Board thinks their program, which was recently revised to include a major plan for West Texas, could be implemented by the 1980s. "If this is possible, then we need to lay the groundwork to be ready for the water when it becomes available. In many ways the technicians are ahead of us, who need the water most," the spokesman said.

Saturday's meeting will be open to everyone interested in water and the future development of the area. Many people believe the two cannot be separated.

Operation Teenager was presented to Muleshoe High School students Tuesday morning, along with students from Three Way and Lazbuddie Schools. Junior high students saw the program Tuesday afternoon.

Three prisoners of the Huntsville State Penitentiary, accompanied by supervisory personnel, spoke to the students and told of their life experiences, how they came to be imprisoned and interest in seeing that future citizens eliminate from their lives motives and acts which will hinder their goals or cause one to be kept from society.

The program was well received by the students, a spokesman said.

Sgt. George William Calvert Jr., husband of the former Pam Splawn, has arrived back in the States after serving a year in Korea. After four years in service, he was discharged Tuesday. Mr. and Mrs. Calvert and son, Scott, expect to live in Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, where Calvert will be in road construction business. His wife has been making her home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Splawn, during his absence.

Police Active

The Sheriff's Department arrested one for felony, worthless check, for the county of Plains. Sheriff Dee Clements returned one from Dallas on charge of worthless check. The highway patrols arrested one on DWI. Muleshoe City Police arrested one on aggravated assault on a female and arrested one minor for possession of alcohol.

CC Tickets Available

Present at the Business Mens' Activities committee meeting last Tuesday, February 4 were: Roger Albertson, Harvey Bass, Olan Burrows, Lindal Murray, Robert Hooten, T.R. White, Brad Bradley and Don Harmon.

Don Harmon, president of Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce, announced that the tickets would be on sale today, Thursday, February 6, for the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce banquet. Dr. Charles Allen of Houston, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Houston, will be the featured speaker. Dr. Allen is widely known as a humorous speaker.

Plans were discussed on the George Washington Birthday Promotion to be held this month. Gordon Wilson is chairman.

Rev. and Mrs. Johnny Timms are parents of a son born January 27 in the Friona Community Hospital. The baby weighed eight pounds, fifteen ounces, and has been named Veldon Wayne Timms. Local People Take Field Trip To Girlstown, USA

A Methodist-sponsored field trip to Girlstown Sunday afternoon started a chain of events in Muleshoe. The sixteen people who made the trip included Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Moore, Mrs. W. F. Birdsong, Mrs. Claude Farrell, Mrs. H. C. Holt, Mrs. J. E. Day, Mrs. Lewis Wayne Shafer, Linda and Ellen, Mrs. J. A. Nickles and Belinda, Mrs. Oscar Allison, Mrs. J. E. McVicker and Mrs. Frank Ellis.

A spokesman said they enjoyed the tour of the home for girls and felt a deep urge to help in some way. Many Muleshoe families are already assisting by sponsoring individual girls, which means purchasing clothing, giving spending money, inviting them for weekend visits or even taking the girl along on a family vacation. Muleshoe Lions Club and other area Lions Clubs contribute 25¢ per month toward the support of this institution.

The need was felt for gardening tools at the Home and through the cooperation of the Muleshoe Lions Club, hoes, rakes and other tools were purchased. Lions members delivered them, together with two large boxes of girl's clothing and more than 100 drinking glasses.

In a recent meeting of the Board of Directors at Girlstown, USA, new directors and officers were named for 1969.

Coppedge Returns From Co-op Meet

J. W. Coppedge, manager of Five Area Telephone Cooperative returned January 31 from Las Vegas, Nevada where he attended the fifteenth annual meeting of the National Telephone Cooperative Association, held January 27-31 at Caesars Palace.

Others attending with Coppedge were Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Gage, of Circleback community, and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Simmacher, board members, and D. L. Tucker of Maple, a director.

Highlight of the meeting for Coppedge was an address delivered by Senator Karl Mundt (R) of South Dakota, who is one of President Nixon's right hand advisors on agricultural problems. Senator Mundt pointed out that people in the urban areas are becoming aware of the farmers' problems and that job opportunities in rural areas will have to be created, Coppedge said.

Senator Mundt stated most problems are the result of a breakdown of communications and urged a philosophy of "Live and let live - and help live." He quoted from Mark Twain, "You not only look where the guy stands, you have to observe where he started from."

Another impressive speaker was Sister M. T. More, head of the History Department of Holy Family College, Manitowoc, Wisconsin. She left the Telephone Cooperative meeting to go to Dallas to another speaking engagement.

The four-day meeting included addresses by many key people in Federal government, with manager's conference and director's special session, discussions of modern trends in rural and urban communication.

John Tower United States Senate COMMITTEE ON ARMED SERVICES

As you have been reading and hearing, Washington has been unusually busy in the last few weeks while Congress has been getting organized and President Richard Nixon and his Cabinet officers have been engaged in the transition of executive powers.

The transition involved, of course, the return to our state of former - President Lyndon Johnson. I made some remarks to the Senate about the leaving of Mr. Johnson, and I would like to share some of those thoughts with you today.

I have found myself politically opposite Mr. Johnson throughout my adult life, but that has not changed the fact that I have a high respect for our former-President.

I never had the privilege of serving in the Senate with Lyndon Johnson. Indeed, I succeeded to his seat in the Senate. As a skilled parliamentarian and skilled politician he left large shoes to fill.

I disagreed with many things President Johnson did while he was in the White House, I opposed many of his domestic and spending programs. But, I stood up for him when I conceived him to be right, and I urged Texans to support him on such occasions.

We can all acknowledge that the United States made some diplomatic errors which led us into the war in Vietnam. We know now that our gradualistic application of military force unnecessarily delayed the beginning of peace talks, but President Johnson's basic decision to arrest Communist expansion in Southeast Asia and to secure the territorial integrity of South Vietnam was and is eminently correct.

I believe the Free World can thank Lyndon Johnson for his decision to confront Communist aggression, and I think history will prove him right.

Clayton...

These two assignments are of particular interest because both of these members come from an area of the State where the recommendations regarding consolidation and taxes, as suggested by the Governor's committee, would be harmful to their area, and consequently they will probably oppose the Committee's report in its present form. Clayton re-emphasized his opposition to the proposed consolidation and tax measures for our schools. He stated that he has received lots of mail opposing the consolidation of schools and only one letter supporting the measure.

eral budget for the fiscal year that starts next July and ends in July 1970. It was a budget-in-the-black for the first time in eight years. However, in the recent past budget estimates have normally fallen far short of eventual government expenditures. President Nixon will now carefully restudy the 195-Billion-dollar Johnson budget; I hope he will find it a realistic document.

We must have a balanced budget to arrest the costly effects of inflation. Last year alone living costs inflated nearly five percent. In the last five years, the dollar has lost 12 cents in buying power. Interest rates are at record highs.

The course of events in Vietnam and at the Paris talks will bear heavily on our ability to balance the budget and to arrest inflation. If the level of the war slows, I think we can make fiscal progress and probably can reduce the amount of the current 10-percent surtax on individual incomes.

The task of restoring sound national financing may well be the Nixon Administration's greatest challenge and most pressing problem.

Just as I have in past years, I will support the new Administration when I conceive it to be right and point out my differences with it when I think it is on the wrong track.

And, I will be especially careful to see that Texas viewpoint is brought firmly and continually to the attention of the President and of all his key officials.

Read Deuteronomy 8:1-9; Philipians 3:7-14
Thou shalt remember all the way which the Lord thy God led thee (Deuteronomy 8:2) In a little devotional book written by Rendel Harris, an English scholar who died in 1941, one finds a fascinating word picture. In imagination he describes a high mountain commanding an excellent view. The feature of this mountain is a stone pillar on its summit. On its north side it bears this inscription: "Thou shalt remember all the way which the Lord thy God led thee." On its south side are these words: "Look with wonder at that which is before you."

Let us climb this mountain and ponder the inscriptions. The children of Israel found much to encourage them in remembering the guiding hand of God through forty years of wandering in the wilderness. Have not we all known the good hand of God about us as we have journeyed through our wilderness?

What an inspiration we find in the words: "Look with wonder at that which is before you"! God has a gracious plan of salvation which He offers to all mankind. The Promised Land is waiting for everyone who meets the requirements.

Evening fashions may be made of soft and filmy fabrics or of linen-type fabrics. Many of these bare more of you than in past seasons.

PRAYER:
Lord, let me remember today Thy goodness to me over the years. In the strength of Thy grace help me to consecrate to Thee all the remaining days of my life. Amen.
THOUGHT FOR THE DAY
How futile and hopeless our lives would be without God's guidance!

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Winn Sanford

AUSTIN Tex. -- Legislative committee appointments now have cleared the way for lawmakers to get down to the real business of the 61st Texas session.

Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes announced 27 senate committees which assured increased power for liberals, urban areas--and the presiding officer.

Speaker Gus Mutscher followed up two days later with a sweeping reshuffling of all major House Panels, leaving only three chairmen in their old places of authority.

Barnes picked veteran Senators Grady Hazlewood of Amarillo and William T. (Bill) Moore of Bryan to head the "Big Two" senate committees--finance and state affairs. Sen. A. M. Aikin Jr. of Paris, however, remains as finance vice-chairman and head of the working sub-committee which actually conducts hearings on the budget.

El Paso Sen. Joe Christie, prospective sponsor of a constitutional amendment to legalize sale of liquor by the drink, heads the constitutional amendments committee. Aikin is chairman of the education panel which probably will handle important school legislation.

Sen. Charles Herring of Austin heads the jurisprudence committee; Sen. Tom Creighton of Mineral Wells, water and conservation; and Sen. J. P. Word of Meridian, nominations.

All 45 chairmanships in the House went to veterans of two or more terms of service.

For the fifth time, Rep. W. S. (Bill) Heatly of Paducah will be chairman of the budget-writing, appropriations committee, and Rep. Ben Atwell of Dallas will chair revenue and taxation which originates tax measures. Only other chairman retained by Mutscher was Rep. John E. Blaine of El Paso, liquor regulations.

Rep. Rayford Price of Palestine, who came to the legislature with Mutscher in 1961, has been designated chairman of the busy House state affairs panel. Rep. R. H. Cory of Victoria, who headed state affairs last session, is in charge of the rules committee which controls the flow of legislation to the House calendar.

Rep. Tommy Shannon of Fort Worth directs the House administration committee with offices close to the speaker and his top staff assistants. BILLS PASSED--Even while awaiting committee assignments during the third week of the session, legislators boomed through two bills of a semi-emergency nature.

First passed was a $905,815 appropriation measure to forestall a welfare cut (in aid to dependent children), to assist growing junior colleges and to help finance legislative and governor's office operations this year. A fund transfer of $35,000 headed off a $28 cut in aid to needy families. Governor's office got $130,000 for new personnel, equipment, travel and postage. Colleges got $335,815 the senate $325,000 and House $115,000.

Second bill urged by Gov. Preston Smith increased retirement benefits of some 6,500 retired state employees an average of 10 per cent. Minimum benefit would be raised from about $30 to $50 a month. A retirement boost for elected officials will be the subject of a separate bill.

SENATE REFORMS RULES--Senate lost no time in adopting rulebook reforms designed to curb free-wheeling conference committees and to relax its own secret-vote provisions.

They voted 25-6 for new joint rules. Most dramatic change would limit conference committees named to adjust differences between House and Senate bills to doing just that--rather than writing totally new legislation behind closed doors. The House has yet to act.

Senate later approved 30-1 revisions of its own operating procedures which for the first time direct open committee hearings on appointments by the governor (unless a majority of the nominations committee votes for executive session). Senators also were authorized to announce how they voted on confirmation of appointments.

LEGISLATION RAINS IN--Bulk of legislation proposed by Governor Smith--and a lot he didn't ask for--in his first message to the 1969 Legislature already has rained into hoppers of both houses.

Constitutional amendment proposals would lower the voting age to 18, shore up women's legal rights and authorize horse track betting on a local option basis in Bexar and Harris Counties.

Among other bills introduced in the House and Senate are:

*A proposal by Sen. Criss Cole of Houston to make air and water pollution a misdemeanor offense--for corporations as well as individuals.

*A Texas Meat Inspection Law, sponsored by Sen. Jim Bates of Edinburg. (Without a state act, the federal government will take over meat inspecting in Texas.)

*Rep. Dick Cory of Victoria wants to abolish common-law marriage and permit divorce because of unsolvable discord between husband and wife.

*Liberals will try again for a minimum wage with a bill sponsored by Reps. Raul Longoria and Lauro Cruz setting a state minimum of $1.10 per hour.

*Senator Bates also has a bill prohibiting private clubs--including country clubs--in "dry" areas (based on his premise that if an area votes to be dry, it ought to be completely dry).

*Sen. V. E. (Red) Berry of San Antonio wants to extend until 2 a.m. every day the time in which alcoholic beverages may be sold. (Such a bill passed in 1967 but was vetoed by Gov. John Connally.)

*Affirmative action is expected on the industry-labor compromise bill to increase the tax on the industry-labor compromise bill to increase the maximum weekly payments under the Workmen's Compensation system to $49.

*Reps. Hilary Doran of Del Rio and Guy Floyd of San Antonio will run with a bill exempting Texas from Daylight Saving Time.

*Representative Cory wants a code of ethics for teachers and a state commission to enforce it.

*A proposal by Rep. Neil Caldwell of Alvin to require cities and counties to designate the right of way at intersections and put up traffic signs within two years to help establish blame in accidents.

There has been a shortage in only one field. Nobody is rushing forward with tax ideas. Although that may soon be the subject of a new address to the Legislature by Governor Smith.

BUDGET WORK BEGINS--A record $5.6 billion in spending proposals of the Legislative Budget Board has been placed before the House appropriations and Senate finance committees as a starting point in 1970-71 budget-making.

Bill calls for $1.1 billion in general revenue spending, an increase of $170.4 million, but it does not provide for teacher pay raises, new senior colleges and many other high-priority items.

Starting bill calls for $14.9 million for the judiciary; $277.2 million for health, hospitals, special schools and youth institutions; $2.67 billion to executive and administrative departments and agencies of state; $2.63 billion for education; and $16.7 million for the Legislature.

APPOINTMENTS--Governor Smith, according to advance predictions, appointed former State Sen. Dorsey B. Hardeman of San Angelo to a six-year term on the State Board of Insurance. He plans to name Hardeman chairman of the Board, which regulates the state's second largest industry, when he is confirmed by the Senate.

"Cotton producers on the Plains might do well to look beyond the sad marketing experience of 1968 in making decisions for 1969," says Donald A. Johnson, Executive Vice President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.

He thinks the marketing picture for medium staple cotton from the 1969 crop may not be nearly so bleak as some are expecting.

On the current market medium staple cottons, those in the 1 inch to 1 1/16 inch range, are generally going begging. Where they find a buyer for all the offering price is very little above loan value. Much of the cotton is finding its way into the government loan.

"Producers who have gone to extra expense and in some instances sacrificed yield in order to produce the better cottons are justifiably disgusted with the lack of markets," Johnson said, "but there are several reasons to think that a complete abandonment of varieties that produce such cotton would be a bad mistake, including some indications that medium staples will be back in demand by the time the 1969 crop is ready for harvest."

Among these indications he lists the significant narrowing of the price spread between short and long staples from December of 1967 to December, 1968. A year ago the average price of Middling 15/16 inch cotton in the spot markets was about 22 cents as compared to about 35 cents for Middling 1-1/16 inch cotton, a difference of about 13 cents per pound. At that time there was also a spread of some 5 cents per pound between the 15/16 inch quality and Middling 1 inch.

As of December, 1968, all three staple lengths had declined in price, but the drop for 1 inch and 1-1/16 inch cotton was much more pronounced than the decline for 15/16. Consequently the spread between 15/16 and 1 inch shrunk to about 3 cents per pound and to only a little over 6 cents per pound between the price of 15/16 and 1-1/16 inch cotton.

"This narrowing of differences," Johnson believes, "will almost certainly cause some mills to shift from the shorter to the longer staples, just as some of them shifted to the shorter staples when Middling 1-1/16 inch cotton was selling at such an abnormal premium."

"And while this switching is going on among spinners of cotton, growers of cotton are just as sure to be doing some switching of their own-- from the medium and longer staples for which there was no market in 1968 to the shorter staples."

A quick survey of area seed dealers and ginners bears this out. Without exception they report stronger sales of varieties in the short staple range, weaker sales for the varieties with higher potential.

One seed dealer, asked if he would give any advice to Plains producers for 1969, suggested they not "whole hog" in either direction.

"The man who makes money in watermelons is the man who plants them every year, not the man who tries to second-guess the market," he said, "and I think our cotton producers will find the same to be true in the production of medium and longer staple cottons."

Johnson is inclined to agree with this philosophy, saying he hopes producers will not "over-correct" from the 1968 experience by dropping all attempts to grow the medium staple cottons, particularly in those areas of the Plains where growing conditions are more favorable. As another factor favorable to markets for medium stapled cottons from the 1969 crop he pointed out that the total supply of 1-1/32 inch cotton on December 1, 1968 was down over 2 million bales from the supply at the same time a year ago.

He reasoned that "With the supply well below last year and with many mills stepping up their consumption of these cottons there is at least a fair chance that the market picture for medium staples in 1969 will be considerably improved from 1968."

It is also noteworthy, Johnson thinks, that the increase in production of cotton stapling above an inch in 1968 is mostly in cotton stapling 1-3/32 inches and above. Through November 30 last year ginnings of cotton in this higher category comprised almost 48 per cent of the crop as opposed to only a little over 37 percent in 1967.

The 1-1/32 and 1-1/15 inch staples, on the other hand, made up about 36 percent of the 1968 crop through November 30, compared to over 40 percent the previous year.
