Earth-Sprinklake Vote on Dissolution

In May, 1967, a hospital district was created in Lamb County to serve the Earth-Sprinklake area. The area covered by the newly created district is roughly one-quarter of Lamb County.

With the creation of the Earth-Sprinklake Hospital District, directors were appointed. Neil Pounds was named president of the Board of Directors; other members included Douglas Parish, Marshall Kelley, Dub Chesney, Perry Martin, Joe B. Temple and James Busby. Busby, Martin and Temple later resigned from the board of directors.

The election to create the hospital district was contested in the summer of 1967. The election was upheld and an appeal was made to Appellate Court in Amarillo. No decision was ever reached as the election for directors was held and the new directors filed to dissolve the district.

In February, 1968, the board of directors was involved in a lawsuit which was filed at Littlefield in an attempt to determine the disposition of the tax funds which had been collected for the hospital district.

The case was designed to produce instructions for Lamb County Tax Assessor Herbert Dunn either to turn over the monies to officials of the district, or to withhold it until completion of all appeals to a court decision upholding the district's creation.

Herbert Dunn informed the Journal at the time of the lawsuit that the verdict called for the monies to remain the same as is until further lawsuit that the verdict called for the monies to remain the same as is until further order of the court. In other words, he was to retain custody of the taxes collected until further disposition was made by the court.

Last April, ten candidates filed for election for the five places on the board of directors for the Earth-Sprinklake Hospital District. Those filing included incumbents Marsha Kelley, Hershall Belew, Doug Parish, Neil Pounds and J.D. Chesney.

NFO Organizes In Muleshoe Monday Night

Don Kimball, Amarillo, spoke to more than 50 area farmers who attended the organizational meeting of the National Farmers Organization at the Muleshoe High School Cafeteria Monday night.

He told those assembled that farmers are leaving for cities at the rate of 25,000 per week and that there are only 5,000,000 farmers left in the United States. He also said that another 1,000,000 will leave the farm during the next year.

Kimball explained that the exodus from farm to city has been caused by low farm prices. He told the farmers that although prices in the grocery stores may be rising, that prices farmers are receiving for their crops are constantly moving downward. Stating that land

Congressman Price Talks About Cotton

Panhandle Congressman Bob Price told Texas Cotton men in Dallas Friday that he believed there "is more concern about cotton than ever before."

Speaking to members of the Texas Cotton Association at their 58th annual convention at the Sheraton-Dallas Hotel, Price said this concern was "not only by cotton producers and the cotton trade but also by government officials and financial institutions."

"It is encouraging to note," Price said "that the use of cotton still exceeds that of man-made fiber. And despite all the advancements of man-made fibers, not one of these fibers can duplicate all the fine qualities of cotton."

Price said, however, he was disappointed at the poor performance of cotton markets this year which he attributed to a lack of expansion in world trade. "There are fierce competitors for U.S. cotton in world markets," he said. "One is foreign grown cotton, and the other is man-made fibers." Both, he said, are increasing abroad.

Cotton also has suffered record losses in the domestic market during the past year, Price said. Cotton's share of the fiber market fell to 42 percent last year. Cont'd. on Page 2, Col. 8

As Roger Gorrell, candidate for president of the Jaycees, was not at the meeting as his mother was undergoing surgery in Lubbock, President Christian read his campaign speech to the members present. Following this, candidates Curtis Walker and Bob Stovall spoke of their candidacy for president of the organization.

Several guests were present at the meeting. Guests included members of the Corn Chips volleyball team and members of the Sledgehammers volleyball team who were presented prices are going down, he told the group that 1,000,000 acres of land would be bought this year by corporation farmers. He said there are towns in Kansas that have all but been closed up by corporations buying the surrounding farmland.

The NFO representative said that only by blocking production in one unit and bargaining collectively can the farmer bring prices back up to a level where farmers can receive a fair price for their crops.

Through collective bargaining, said Kimball, can the small family farmer of today afford to keep his farm and have an unlimited future in farming.

He explained the function of the NFO and said that it is farmer owned, farmer started and farmer run. No member is eligible who does not receive the major part of his income from agricultural means.

Kimball stated that the NFO does not and will not condone violence in any form for any reason and there is a limit set by NFO policy as to how much a farmer may ask for his crops.

He said that the ultimate goal of NFO is to get enough production blocked together to sit down at the collective bargaining table. The representative said that one farmer will feed upwards to 60,000 people a year and said, "You've got it, you've got it first...no one else can get it until you let them have it." This was said while explaining the low prices paid for feed grains last fall.

Explaining that the organization is conducted on the one-man, one-vote rule, he said that officers are elected each year, from the area or regional level, through the state level and on the national level.

Following the meeting, representatives from the newly chartered NFO organization in Farmer County had applications available to be signed by any farmer present who would like to become a member of the organization.

Kimball explained that other meetings would follow, with the addition of other members and a charter would follow, with the would be issued to the Bailey County National Farmers Organization.

They were opposed by Don Bryant, Fred Smith, Kenneth Cowley, Pat McCord and John Bridges, who were elected as the new board of directors.

The new directors applied to the Texas Legislature to dissolve the Earth-Springlake Hospital District in January, and the Legislature approved the bill to dissolve the district. The original bill to create the district was HB 768 and the directors filed an amendment to HB 768 to dissolve the district. The ballot reads: "For the dissolution of the hospital district as it now exists (or) Against the dissolution of the hospital district as it now exists. The election is set for Saturday, March 29, in Earth at City Hall.

Don Bryant, member of the board of directors, said, "Too many people felt they were disenfranchised in the original vote on the hospital district."

"Also," continued Bryant, "the area is not large enough and does not serve enough people to warrant a hospital at Earth. A hospital in a small area as Earth and Springlake would always be in debt."

Bryant said there are approximately 800 registered voters within the hospital district and that most of the 800 are husband and wife or something in excess of 400 families. Figuring this on an average of four children per family, this would represent something a little more than 3000 people to be served by a hospital in the Earth-Springlake Hospital District.

"Tax evaluation," continued Bryant, "is not figured on 30 cents per $100 valuation as the proponents said, but is figured on 35 cents per $100."

year, a loss of seven percent from 1967, while man-made fiber's share of the market increased by the same percent. Price said a new chemically modified rayon fiber is now selling below the price of cotton and that use of the newest competitor, non-cellulosic man-made fibers had risen 31 percent during 1968.

Lower prices for man-made fibers and higher fabric prices have stimulated the use of polyester fiber particularly in blends of cotton. Price pointed out. He quoted James R. Donald, senior cotton analyst for the Department of Agriculture Economic Research Service as predicting that foreign free-world countries will be producing all the cotton they need by 1972.

"It is his opinion," Price said, "that a drop of 1 or 2 cents in the current level of US prices in import markets could boost US exports in a year or two by 500,000 to 750,000 bales. He believes, "Price added, "that a stable price a cent or two lower than current prices would keep us in the 3 1/2 to 5 million bale export range."

Price also mentioned proposals by "an increasing number of people" of a "way ...to bridge the gap between the competitive price at which cotton must be sold in the market place and the price producers must receive to cover costs and allow a reasonable return for labor, management and investment."

"One alternative," he said, "would involve a cost adjustment certificate attached to every bale produced." The certificate he said, would be valued at the amount necessary to provide the difference between a competitive market price level and the cost of production and would be redeemable by anyone handling the bale in market channels.

Another proposal has been made, Price said, to spread price support payments over total cotton production without limitation to that produced on domestic allotment as at present.

Mental...

This Center has 75 children, mentally retarded, culturally deprived, or emotionally disturbed in its Day school that meets 5 mornings a week. Group therapy sessions are held on Saturday mornings, and testing is done in the afternoons.

Mrs. Woodley stated that "The new concept of handling the emotionally ill and mentally retarded in or near our local community, just as we treat physical disorders; and the theory that prevention, early detection and care in the local community is more effective than waiting until the patient must be placed in a distant institution...all of this gave impetus to what has happened and what is happening in the development of this MH/MR Center in Plainview."

The Mental Health Center actually is the outgrowth of a committee headed by Hale County Judge C. L. A. Bernethy. This committee, appointed in 1963, developed a Texas Plan for Mental Health Services. On the committee were the top men and women of Texas in the field of mental health. According to Mrs. Woodley, the group consisted of doctors, lawyers, researchers, representatives of the Hogg Foundation for Mental Health, the Ford Foundation, psychiatrists and psychologists, and persons from every walk of business and professional life.

The 59th Legislature answered this plan by passing House Bill 3...which sets up these Community Health Centers...for areas of a total of 103,000 people, if the community cares enough to work for it, and put up matching money. Plainview did this for the nine county area to get the ball to rolling. They put up $250,000 to get the building that is being built adjacent to the Central Plains General Hospital, Health, Education and Welfare has put up $311,000 for the building. It is so needed in this nine county area that the planners feel that when the time comes the nine counties, the communities involved, will all help to make it a success. Mrs. Woodley will work with an advisory board from each county and the nine man board, each having been selected by the County Judge from his respective county. The needs of these counties will be considered in the formation of a workable plan for the Center. Health, Education and Welfare will help with the staffing money needed for the first 54 months of the Center. "Hopefully," said Mrs. Woodley, "the Legislature will come up with some sort of help in financing the treatment services for those who are unable to pay their total cost. School counselors, doctors, ministers, public health services, and anyone interested in the total program of mental health/mental retardation is asked to join the team to bring this wonderful plan to our area."

"Anyone wishing to discuss this plan, needing information as to the services, or needing programs on this new Center are asked to contact: Mrs. Elizabeth Woodley, Box 578, Plainview, 79072, or telephone 806-293-5289, Plainview. Members of the Bailey County Advisory Board can also give desired information on the Center."

Yes it was time again on March 22 for the annual forecast on the Crim Ranch in the Lazbuddie area for the Indian Crim forecast. J.W. Indian Crim signing the old Indian smoke sign piled wood and lit a fire just as the sun came up making the smoke swirl. The wind was from the southeast and a flurry stream began to make its way to the northeast. Folks stood in silence waiting to hear Crim in his audible voice make the forecast. "Just about the same as last year," Crim stated. A fair crop is in sight for the farmers but they must keep their irrigation engines greased 'cause they're going to have to run the well a lot this year. And those standing around knew that's the way it will be, 'cause Crim is too close with his forecasting from year to year to be wrong. Friends and relatives made the crowd coming from Clovis, Farwell and other places. A carload was on hand from Lariat. Crim has done this forecasting about all his life. He reported getting the old Indian sign from his father. Four of Crim's children were present. A son John Crim, from Hydro, Oklahoma and a daughter, Mrs. L.H. Johnson from Dallas were unable to attend this year. Mrs. R. L. Curtis and Mrs. David Besson and son from Lubbock visited Monday with Mrs. Besson's mother, Mrs. James Harvey, Mrs. Harvey is Mrs. Curtis' daughter.

Funeral services for Mrs. Heneietta Duncan of Hereford were held Thursday in the Lazbuddie Baptist Church with the former pastor the Methodist Church Rev. Don Davidson of Hereford and Raymond Carson of Latter Day Saints of Olton officiating. Mrs. Duncan, mother of Mrs. A. E. Redwine of Lazbuddie passed away Monday after about two weeks of illness. Burial was in the Bailey County Memorial Cemetery with the Singleton Funeral Home of Muleshoe directing.

Rose Mary Harris has returned home after having surgery Monday of last week in Methodist Hospital of Lubbock, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Harris, Sr. were at Lubbock Monday to be with Rose Mary Harris.

Marilyn Pool Chosen DeMolay Sweetheart

Royce Harris and Marilyn Pool

Fellowship Hall of United Methodist Church was the scene of the first DeMolay Sweetheart Banquet Friday evening.

Featured speaker was the Rev. Roy Ward, pastor of YL Methodist Church who spoke on Filial Love, which is one of the seven cardinal virtues of the DeMolay organization. He quoted from Shakespeare's Hamlet when he lived to revenge his father's death. He told the boys of one of Franklin Roosevelt's sons, when asked by a newspaper correspondent why he was such a loyal soldier, replied that "my father taught us to be."

General Douglas McArthur is quoted as saying, "I hope my son remembers me as a father instead of a soldier." Rev. Ward told the young people.

Dinner music was furnished by Leland Ferris. Following the speaker's message, entertainment was furnished by a trio composed of Leland Ferris on guitar, Delton Bass at the drums and Waid Griffin playing the electronic organ. Their selections included their own arrangement of "Louie, Louie", "White Room" and "In-A-Gad-a-Vida."

The banquet tables were decorated in red and white streamers the length of the table, with candles before each couple. The head table was covered with a gold banquet cloth embossed with the DeMolay emblem, the gift of Sharron Hutton Putman, a former DeMolay Sweetheart.

DeMolay mothers assisting in preparation of the food were Mrs. Louie Bass, Mrs. E.T. Ford, Mrs. Jesse Fox, and Mrs. Wayne Williams.

Servers were Debbie Kerr, Belinda Nickles and Kelly Chahk.

Special guests were Mr. and Mrs. Alton Epting, chairman of Adult Advisors, Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Nowell, Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Nowell and Rev. and Mrs. Roy Ward.

Would You Like To See...

Now she doesn't have to belong to S.O.G.W.P.I.P.—she only needs now to be a member of S.O.P.W.P. Since all six of her darlings, those 'outstanding children', are displayed on the exterior of her purse Mrs. Horace Blackburn no longer needs a pocket to carry pictures of her grandchildren.

To the uninitiated, the select sorority of which she is a member is Silly Old Grandmother With Pictures In Pocket.

A loving sister-in-law, Mrs. Gladys Berry, widow of Mrs. Blackburn's eldest brother, recently sent her a gift of a purse she had made with portrait frames, three to a side. Colored pictures of the six children of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hart of Lancaster, their only grandchildren, are firmly attached to the wooden, box-type purse, with thirty coats of varnish.

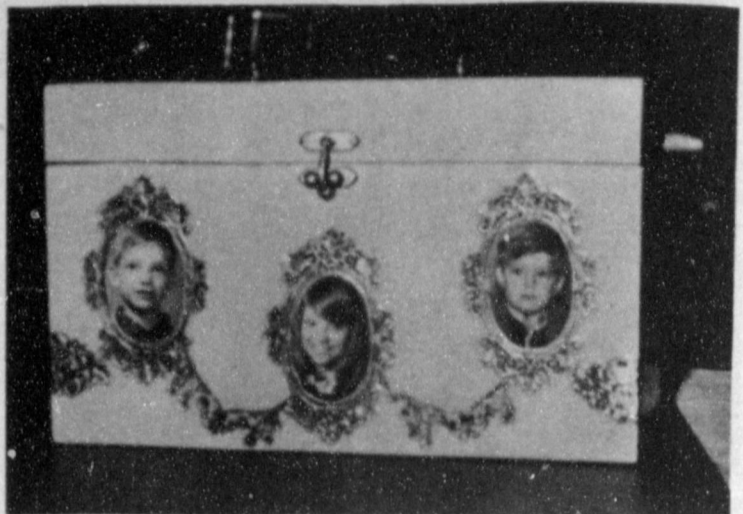

Exercising great self-control, Grandmother Blackburn did admit that sixteen year old Bobby has recently been chosen as a member of the "Key Club" at Lancaster, requirements of which are outstanding grades, outstanding morals and extra curricular activities. He plays football, basketball and goes out for track and maintains high grades, is president of his youth group at First Baptist Church and with that she said that is enough about him...but there really was more. Ken Donalds Daughter Born Word has been received of the birth of a daughter, Melissa Kim to Mr. and Mrs. Ken Donald, of Savannah, Georgia, March 14 at 3:02 p.m. She weighed 6 pounds, 10 ounces and was 18 1/2 inches long.

W/O Donald is the son of Mr. and Mrs. B.C. Donald of Muleshoe, and is presently stationed at Hunter Air Field at Savannah where he is a helicopter pilot. Mrs. Donald is the former Bonnie Batteas of Goodland and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E.T. Batteas. They both were graduated from Three Way high school.

The reason some people despair of the improvement of mankind is that they are too familiar with their own shortcomings.

Fourteen year old Linda is an eighth grader and was recently Sweetheart candidate. Sandy, a sixth grader makes fine grades and has been an outstanding Little League player. He will play football in Junior High next year. Denise is eight and a half and in the third grade. Bill is seven and a first grader. David is now three and a half, at home with his mother, and rarin' to go.

The Hart family is "a happy family" and Horace

Blackburn says of it, "It is never out and never over". Bob is employed by Erwin Investment Company and Joyce does substitute teaching, a great deal of it. She will be president of Jr. High P.T.A. next year. Her first project will be to work against pornographic movies.

The entire family is active at First Baptist Church, Lancaster, where Joyce teaches a Sunday School Class, Bobby is president of his youth group and Linda sings in the youth choir.

MAWS Planning Study Courses

Six members of Muleshoe Area Women's Service organization of the Chamber of Commerce met in their regular luncheon meeting Tuesday, Jerry Hutton, the new Chamber manager, met with the women.

Mrs. Horace Hutton, acting secretary, read the resignation of Mrs. Robin Taylor, the secretary. Replacements were discussed but a secretary was not appointed at this meeting.

Mrs. Wayne Williams, the chairman of the group, reported the Business Activities Committee of the Chamber urges attendance of interested women at the Tuesday meeting, at 10 a.m. April 1 in Muleshoe State Bank community room.

A new name for the Women's organization was discussed and several names were offered but a vote was not taken. This matter is to be voted upon, however, at the next meeting.

Mrs. Williams urged all members to bring another woman to the next meeting. A proposal was heard that the women's organization sponsor study courses from Texas Tech for the summer. Six weeks course for three hour credit would meet three hours for six weeks at a cost of $45.00 per person. If sufficient number of persons are interested in taking the course, anyone desiring more information on such a course of study should contact the Chamber of Commerce at 272-4248. These courses could be for college credit or the course could be edited and without the need of taking examinations or seeking college credit.

Attending the meeting were Mildred Howell, Patricia Keese, Mrs. Don Harmon, Mrs. J. G. Arnn, Mrs. Horace Hutton, Mrs. Wayne Williams and Jerry Hutton.

"Do Nothing Janie" Does a Lot

"But I don't do anything....." and "What in the world could you write about?" Such was the response of Mrs. Rudolph Moraw when asked for an interview.

With statements from friends and acquaintances such as "Any time anybody wants anything done, she is good to get", or "Could not do without her, she's just the type person you enjoy having around", one doubts the statement that "I Don't do anything."

'Janie Moraw' as she is known to all, is thought of first as a person willing to help wherever she can, really willing, and usually already doing it before being asked.

As she says of herself, her family comes first in her life, and that means that she is actively interested and engaged in anything they are interested in or a part of, it means that through the years her children were in school she was always a room mother, member of Parent - Teacher Association, or a class mother, Band Booster—there the similarity to other mothers stops—because though her children are now graduated from public schools she continues to work for the welfare of the students and in fact has been dubbed "Honorary Senior Mother" because she always helps with the Junior-Senior Banquet.

She has baked so many cakes for Teacher Appreciation Week that hers are now a tradition. (There was the year that the cake broke when taken from the pan and she covered it with strawberries to hide the mishap, so that now the traditional cake must be a strawberry covered one.) Anyone who has ever worked in Band Booster's Booth, or for Fine Arts Boosters as they are now known, is familiar with the large trays of homemade doughnuts baked by Janie—sold at far less than they were worth but sold so quickly the Boosters wished for many times more. Some of these were even baked during the time she wore her neck brace following surgery.

JANIE'S DOUGHNUTS
Dissolve 1 package dry yeast in 1/2 cup warm water and 1 tsp. sugar.
Warm 2 cups milk, add 1/2 cup cooking oil, 1/2 tsp. salt, 1/2 cup sugar, 1/2 tsp. vanilla and one cup flour. Beat well.

Add two eggs and yeast mixture, beat again. Add 2 1/2 to 3 3/4 cups more flour. Let rise until double in size, stir down and roll out to about 1/2 inch thickness, cut doughnuts and let rise about 10 minutes. Fry in shortening (about 2 1/2 inches deep in pan) until golden brown—drain on paper towel, dip in glazing.

GLAZING FOR DOUGHNUTS
1 box powdered sugar
1/2 cup cold water
Mix well, dip and drain doughnuts.

This recipe can also be used for cinnamon rolls.

Soc a 41 to Janie

Janie Lou Garth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G.J. Garth, was born in Ellis County, one of a family of nine children. She and her family lived a short time in Crosby County and moved to the Baileyboro community in 1924 where she finished high school.

In 1931 the family moved to the Needmore community, one mile south and a mile and a half west, where they still live. Her sister, Mrs. James Debbins, now lives in the family home, just a mile west of the Moraws. A brother, Royce Garth, lives in Muleshoe.

April 2, 1940 Janie Lou Garth was married to Rudolph Moraw in Littlefield. He was engaged in ginning at that time and has been at various times ginner, gin manager and farmer or both.

The Moraws are parents of three children and have two grandchildren. (Janie was engaged in making an Easter frock for her granddaughter, six year old Donita Wells, when interviewed.) Mrs. Elizabeth Wells and her children, Donita and eight year old Richard, live at Houston, where Mrs. Wells works as a secretary. Their son George, 24, also lives in Houston, and is employed by Cameron Iron Works as a machinist. Twenty year old Charles has been attending West Texas State University but expects to go into the Service of his country soon. Richard is a second grader and Donita attends kindergarten.

Janie says "I raise boys instead of flowers"—"Our house is always like Grand Central Station." They are a game playing family and enjoy '42', 'Skip-Bo' and 'South of the Border.' The Moraws and the R.D. Dale family of Oklahoma Lane community have "played the one year out and the new one in since 1949, "always with a meal together and then games until after the year changed.

"I love people—I love to be with people".....these statements are born out by the number of things she is involved in. She and her father, the late G.J. Garth, reportedly are responsible for obtaining the shell of the building now used as a community center at Needmore. Mrs. Moraw was recently elected president of the club. Needmore is one of the few remaining places with a strong spirit of community. Janie works along with others to raise money to furnish the club house, where games for the adults, showers, bridge parties and other games are regularly played, community dinners are served and even dinners for bereaved families.

Although not a member of the church, she is an active working member of St. Mary's Circle of the Immaculate Conception of Mary Catholic Church.
An alto singer ("just for our own pleasure") she has long been a part of a quartet that sang where asked. Recently she and others who like to sing have formed an informal group called most often "The Needmore Singers" and they have from twenty or eight to nearly twenty meet Monday nights to sing hymns and other songs. Mrs. J.C. Shanks is their pianist.

Mrs. Moraw recently purchased an upright piano which she plans to antique sometime this summer with a friend who also has one to be refinished. She took a course in antiques furniture and will assist her friend.

Janie says, "I love to do ceramics— but I don't like to dust them." She sews and enjoys it, sews for herself and for her daughter's family.
Long-time friends call Janie "Blackie" in contradiction to the color of her red blonde hair, and that she was "cotton headed" when a child, and always call her if they are in trouble. A friend said, "I wish I could be as thoughtful as she is." Another expressed his feeling, "She's a go-getter, that gal is," and anyone interviewed was aware of her zest for living and her love for people.

For one who disclaims doing anything, Janie manages to help family, friends, school and community surprisingly well.

One of the chief items of business was a decision to abide by endowment plans to build an addition to old folks home.

Only awards were given for new members brought into the Lodge. Out of the two awards given to the Assembly of 3700 persons, one was won by a Muleshoe man, Jarrell Otwell.

Entertainment was furnished by children from the Corsicana Home.

Following the closing of the Assembly the Ottwells and Berrys visited San Jacinto Monument, Galveston and the Sea Arama and the beach. The Ottwells returned home by way of Abilene where they visited with Mr. and Mrs. Ramon Martin.

Mr. and Mrs. DeLoach visited en route at McKinney with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Berry left Muleshoe March 9 and drove to Ira where they visited with Mr. and Mrs. Albert Perkins, Mrs. Berry's brother and wife, and their son and family, the Larry Perkins. From there they drove to Garland to visit with Mrs. Berry's sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Harper, and her brother, Calvin Perkins.

From Dallas the Berrys drove to Hilltop Lake and to Houston where they visited with friends, Mr. and Mrs. Carey Fenner and then checked into the Rice Hotel for the Assembly.

After the convention they drove to Aransas Pass for sightseeing and to Corpus Christi to visit his brother, Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Berry and a niece and family, Mr. and Mrs. Wylie Rose.

The determined and highly unified effort of cotton producers across the belt to secure new Commodity Credit Corporation loan and sales policies that will prevent the "catalog cycle" of recent years and give them a reasonable chance at existing markets for each year's crop has taken formal shape.

The beltwide Cotton Producer Committee met in Dallas February 28 and voted unanimously to support a proposal for revision of CCC policies and have since had the proposal printed in booklet form and presented it personally to USDA officials. The committee is made up of cotton producer groups from all across the belt and has support from an assortment of other groups, including the Texas and National Farmers Union and several State Farm Bureau Federations.

Committee Chairman is L. D. (Don) Anderson of Crosbyton, President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., and PCG Executive Vice President Donald Johnson is Secretary. The two vice-chairmen are from Georgia and California, and these four officers, acting as the Executive Committee, presented the proposal to USDA in Washington March 6.

The final draft of the producer request, as set forth in the booklet "CCC and Cotton", is based on one principle: "Cotton from one crop, properly supplemented by reserves, should supply the market through private trade channels until the succeeding crop is fully available."

Therefore, the booklet continues: (1) The loan period should be adjusted to match the marketing period and should extend from harvest to harvest; (2) Government stocks of cotton should enter the market to fill a shortfall or to relieve shortages of certain qualities, not to displace the kind of cotton at a cost equivalent to the price at which CCC is willing to sell comparable cotton from its inventory, and (4) The loan level should be adjusted annually as required to maintain a competitive price, taking due care to avoid decreased production and unwarranted increases in program costs.

To accomplish number (1) producers are recommending a loan period which extends 14 months from the month the loan is made to a producer. This is being referred to as an "anniversary month" loan. It would give producers a period from the harvest of one crop through the harvest of the next to find a market for their cotton.

These changes producers believe would return cotton to a private marketing system and move it to market through normal channels of trade - an industry-wide goal for many years. Producers believe it would build cotton markets by making a continuously adequate supply of cotton available to mills at reasonable and stable prices.

On the other side of the question are those who contend the changes would "withhold cotton from the market," "create an artificially high price", and thereby destroy cotton markets.

In answer to that charge Committee Chairman Anderson, in a letter to Congressman George Mahon and others, points out that no producer wants to put cotton into the loan and leave it there. "He wants to sell his cotton at loan value plus carrying charges and a grower equity, in accordance with long-established marketing procedures."

Consequently, cotton would neither be withheld from the market nor made less available. "In fact," Anderson continues, "cotton under this system will be considerably more available to the country merchant than it is in the hands of CCC."

On price, the letter says the question is not one of whether producers seek to create an artificially high price for cotton, but a question of whether CCC will continue to create an artificially low price by forgiving carrying charges, offering re-class privileges worth about $6 per bale and offering substantial savings on compression of most cotton for export.

With reference to the producer request that CCC not take title to all 1968-crop cotton on July 31 this year, the accusation has been made from several quarters that this would be "changing the rules in the middle of the game" and "breaking faith" with those producers who have already sold their 1968-crop cotton.

To this Anderson replies that rules for the disposition of 1968-crop cotton after July 31 have not been made, and not having been made, can't be changed.

He quotes the language found in the Federal Register and on both Form A and Form G loan papers which explicitly gives USDA authority to extend loans following public announcement, and says this should serve notice on all concerned that the loan maturity date may be changed at any time.

The term "breaking faith" would imply that adoption of the proposal would have some harmful effect on producers who have already sold their 1968-crop cotton. But it should be noted that any producer who has sold his cotton did so at a price above loan value. And Anderson thinks it would be a rare thing if that producer objected to policy changes being made which would give his neighbor a chance to do the same thing later in the year.

As to the price at which 1968 cotton may be offered after July 31, assuming CCC does take title, all in the industry should be aware that sales prices and terms for each marketing year are not announced until the preceding March, Anderson said in his letter.

He concludes that portion of his argument by saying "At issue is what happens to cotton AFTER July 31, the end of the marketing year, not what happens to it in the middle of the game."

The letter continues "We are similarly dismayed at use of the argument that changes would benefit cooperatives more than non-cooperative interests, and we certainly don't believe that such an attitude originated with any producer. Differences that may exist between cooperative and non-cooperative elements cannot legitimately be injected into arguments for or against CCC policy changes which stand to benefit ALL producers."

"It should be kept in mind that this is a cotton PRODUCER proposal, supported by virtually ALL cotton producers, and that three out of four producers now market their crops through non-cooperative channels."

Herbicides Study Finished

A herbicide residue study completed at the High Plains Research Foundation this past season might be useful to farmers in planning this year's cropping operations.

Herbicide residue due to the increased and repeated usage tends to pose problems in planning crop rotation. A specific herbicide rate providing full season weed control may remain active over a long period, thus causing damage to succeeding crops.

The residue study was initiated in 1967 with cooperation of the Geigy Chemical Company in the study Propazine 80W and an experimental herbicide GS 14-260-80W, now marketed under the brand name of Igran. These herbicides were applied alone and in combination on May 25, 1967 at 100, 200, and 400 percent of the recommended rate on grain sorghum.

Wheat was planted following grain sorghum harvest in the fall of 1967 and soybeans and cotton in the spring of 1968.

Residue carry-over from Propazine at the recommended rate of 1.25 pounds per acre had little or no effect on any of the following crops of wheat, cotton or soybeans. A yield reduction was noted in wheat and soybeans when Propazine was applied at 200 or 400 percent of the recommended rate either alone or in combination with Igran.

Hail damage resulted in the cotton having to be replanted twice. As a result, cotton yields were not influenced significantly by residue from the herbicides.

The residue study with Igran revealed no residual effect on any of the crops in 1968, according to Dennis Mooney, Assistant Agronomist conducting the test. "The Igran chemical is slated for another two-year testing program at the Foundation," Mooney said. Plans call for Igran to be applied on grain sorghum in 1969 to be followed in 1970 by vegetable crops of cucumbers, potatoes and onions. Complete findings on the Propazine - Igran residue study are included in the 1968 Annual Report of the High Plains Research Foundation to be released in March.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Wern Sanford

AUSTIN, Tex.--Texas lawmakers are nearing the halfway mark of the 61st legislative session and the pace is beginning to quicken visibly.

More than 1,200 House bills and some 700 Senate bills (plus nearly 100 proposed constitutional amendments) were filed by Friday, the deadline for free-introduction of bills. A four-fifths majority now is required.

Although floor sessions are brief, a lot of legislation is getting passed--63 bills last week alone, including some of the session's major business.

And the lights burn bright at the state capitol after midnight for some committees which schedule hearings on as many as a dozen bills at a time. Other committee meetings begin as early as 9 a.m. and last until floor action starts in the House and Senate.

So far, the Senate has reversed its usual form. It is cranking out general bills far faster than the House, where the representatives are pursuing a more-methodical, look-'em-over-carefully procedure.

Last week, for example, the Senate banged through 34 bills on its regular calendars, some so fast there was no time allowed for explanation, let alone debate. Across the rotunda, the House passed only 13 measures on major calendars, but representatives reduced the gap considerably by cranking through 16 local bills at a single, hour-long sitting. Gov. Preston Smith signed six more into law.

One thing is sure, as the second lap of an historic legislative session begins, things will get a lot faster and a lot more hectic before early June when adjournment is scheduled.

MAJOR BILLS MOVING-- Legislature has completed action on, and handed the governor, a tough new measure providing fines up to $200 and jail terms up to six months for disruptive activity on college campuses. Bill won't take effect until the start of the new school year.

Senate passed key bills to put sharp teeth in air and water pollution controls, require breath tests of suspected drunk drivers, require public agencies to give three days notice of their official meetings and provide tougher controls over teenage drinking.

Other Senate bills would authorize payment of up to $5,000 for moving homes and businesses displaced in highway right-of-way condemnation proceedings, remove the $8,400 salary ceiling on which teachers contribute to retirement, establish a temporary Governor's Human Relations Committee, set up a new commission to regulate credit unions and request the U.S. Congress to ease restrictions on cable television.

Both houses have passed their own version of bills to permit schools to teach in a foreign language those students who have difficulty with English in elementary grades, to lower from two years to one year the minimum time between elections to adopt or abolish city sales taxes and to close some public roads on state-owned land held for use of the Texas Department of Corrections.

House approved creation of a new Texas Technological College of Medicine at Lubbock and voted to strike down immunity of government units from lawsuits for damages. Representatives gave strong support to a bill to give the Legislature the right to set Washington's Birthday, Memorial Day, Columbus Day and Veterans Day holidays on Mondays to conform to the federal holidays.

Another House bill sent to the Senate would permit the states 14 courts of civil appeals to issue writs of habeas corpus in domestic-relations cases.

Senate has adopted an amended version of a House bill to permit a statewide cooperative network of local libraries. Governor Smith now has the bill.

BILLS RUNNETH OVER-- Several education bills have been filed in the last few days. Rep. Guy Floyd of San Antonio wants the Attorney General's office to assist school districts threatened with the loss of Federal funds.

Rep. David Evans of San Antonio wants the state to contribute as much money to private school students as it does to public school students through the minimum Foundation School Program.

Rep. Jim Nugent filed a bill to prohibit the Legislature from enacting an individual state income tax.

Rep. Carlos Truan of Corpus Christi has a constitutional amendment to remove the ceiling on welfare payments.

Rep. Neal Solomon of Mount Vernon has a bill to allow the agriculture commissioner to prohibit the sale of any milk not meeting agriculture department standards.

Rep. David Allred of Wichita Falls introduced a one bill package prohibiting racing a car motor, sudden stops or starts, unnecessary horn-blowing, contesting speed, fighting, indecent language, throwing things, littering, loitering or intoxication on shopping center parking lots.

TAX TIME-- House Speaker Gus Myers has been talking with legislators to see what sort of tax program they will support to pay for the new programs which they may pass. Governor Smith's tax program was introduced by Rep. Ben Atwell of Dallas. It also puts a $10 "superfine" on all who violate the traffic laws where motion is involved.

COMMITTEES AT WORK-- House State Affairs Committee got into the basic philosophies of rural life and business economics while considering a bill by Rep. Neal Solomon of Mt. Vernon. It would require telephone companies to maintain an office in every county seat they serve. Bill was sent to a subcommittee for further study. Rep. Jack Blanton of Carrollton chairs the subcommittee.

Senate State Affairs Committee acted favorably on Sen. Tom Creighton's bill to cut the time period between local elections on the optional City Sales tax from two years to one. It has gone on to the Senate floor.

Also reported favorably by the Senate committee and tentatively approved by the Senate, was creation of a temporary Governor's Committee on Human Relations. It was sponsored by a triumvirate of liberal senators. Sponsors, however, lacked the endorsement of Sen. Joe Bernal of San Antonio -- a leading liberal. He introduced a measure calling for a permanent state organization on human relations.

Texas physicians who specialize in organ transplants teamed up to testify for two bills by Rep. Jack Ogg of Houston before a House Public Health Committee. Drs. Denton A. Cooley, Michael Debakey and Robert Bloodwell spoke for an organ gift act which would allow donors or their next of kin to give parts of the body and another bill that would give the county medical examiner a chance to examine the organs prior to transplantation. Measures were sent to a subcommittee.

Drug bills are plentiful at committee meetings. Senate Jurisprudence Committee delayed for two more weeks Sen. Charles Herring's bill to set a mandatory five-year sentence for anyone over 21 giving narcotics to a minor.

House Public Education Committee sent to subcommittee Rep. Joe Golman's bill to include drug education in public school curriculum, school curriculum.

Senate Jurisprudence Committee approved a bill requiring appeals from Liquor Control Board orders to be heard in the county affected.

House State Affairs Committee sent to subcommittee a controversial bill that would require Texas school districts to adopt "continuing contracts" for their teachers. It would not allow dismissal except for specific circumstances.

A-G OPINIONS-- A bill which proposes to change the boundaries of two of the 31 state senatorial districts would be a general law and on the effective date would require election of an entire new senate, says Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin. However, Martin said the measure would be repealed by the re-apportionment required after the 1970 census, or by legislative redistricting board apportionment.

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded that:

*A bill changing powers and qualifications of the Red River Authority directors is constitutional, as is another measure which would give the Galveston City Council the right to recommend three of seven Galveston County Water Authority directors who are city residents.

*Texas Water Developmental Board could not transfer water from East Texas basins to other basins and thus circumvent a 50-year protection clause in the state constitution because of the addition of words "or for any other beneficial use" in legislation regulating acquisition and development of massive water storage facilities over the state.

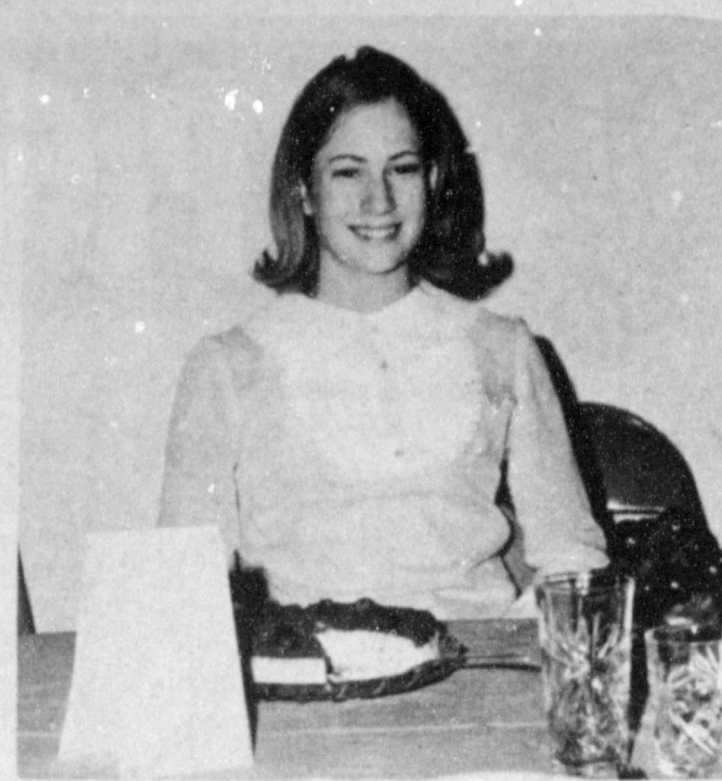

*Austin Urban Renewal Agency preliminary loan notes, guaranteed by the Federal government, are authorized collateral to secure deposit of state funds.

COURTS SPEAK-- Third Court of Civil Appeals upheld an injunction to keep the proposed Air Southwest from starting economy passenger flight service in big planes between San Antonio, Houston and Dallas-Fort Worth.

State Supreme Court, rejecting an appeal of the Trinity River Authority, upheld six percent interest assessment in a case where the authority was ordered to pay a larger amount than originally awarded for property condemned. Court said interest should go back to the original award while the case was on appeal to the jury.

High Court held juvenile delinquents are not exempt from court costs in proceedings where the parents are able to pay.

APPOINTMENTS ANNOUNCED-- Senate has approved 95 appointments by Governor Smith and former Governor Connally. Included are Gen. Ross Ayers of Friona as adjutant general, L.P. Gilvin of Amarillo as Parks and Wildlife Commission chairman, and Mirrya L.

MMMMmm, YUMMY..... Linda Head, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Head, displays the cheesecake which made her the winner in the senior class of the Milk Group at the Foods Fair held Saturday at Richland Hills School by 4-H club members.

McWhorter of Austin to Veterans Land Board, Senate has not approved Connally's selection of William B. Blakemore of Midland to Texas Public Safety Commission.

Smith, meanwhile, has asked for the attorney general's opinion squarely on the subject of whether the term of State Securities Board member Randall C. Jackson of Abilene began on Jan. 15, or whether appointment (made by Connally just before he left office) should have been left to the new governor. Smith may also ask similar advice on appointments by Connally to the University of Texas and A & M boards of regents.

Ned Price, Texas Board of Insurance member, is the new president of the National Association of Insurance Commissioners.

Alfred Lehtonen of Austin will be administrator of Office of Interstate Land Sales in U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development.

SHORT SNORTS-- April 15 is the deadline for required motor vehicle inspections, says Col. Wilson E. Speir, Department of Public Safety director.

Texas Memorial Museum has loaned to the Institute of Texan Cultures in San Antonio a pair of Irish flintlock pistols used around the year 1830.

On April 1 the public school teachers won't be fooling -- that's the day they will appear at hearings by Senate and House committees on bills to raise their pay.

Texas motor vehicle deaths reached an all-time high of 3,401 in 1968, an increase of three percent over 1967, DPS reports.

Red measles may be wiped out, due to a continuing immunization program in Texas, says the State Department of Health.

FIGHT BACK

Fight the farm price/cost squeeze with NITROMITE... NITROMITE packs a powerful punch with more usable nitrogen per dollar to help increase yields without increasing your cost appreciably. Then even low prices can't floor you - if they're good, you'll be the big winner.

Put down some NITROMITE before you plant to give your crop a great big shot in the yield. It'll give you a fighting chance in the marketplace.
