City - School Elections Saturday

Council and Trustee Posts are Sought

Four Vie For Three School Board Places

With two places on the City Council to be filled by election Saturday, April 5, and both uncontested, very little interest had been noted locally in the election. Frank Ellis, who was appointed last fall to fill the unexpired term of Woodrow 'Woody' Lambert, is seeking re-election to Place Four and is unopposed. Irvin St. Clair, who has served as a City Councilman for nine years in Muleshoe, has declined to seek re-election. Kenneth Heathington is running for Place Four and he does not have a candidate opposing him.

The polls will open at 8 a.m. in the Muleshoe City Hall and will close at 7 p.m. Saturday. Election judge will be Mrs. Sylvan Robison and serving as alternate will be Mrs. Bill Taylor.

Many future promotions were on the agenda when the Businessmen's Activities Committee met at the Muleshoe State Bank Tuesday morning.

First item to be discussed was the upcoming Father's Day Promotion, in which a 'Dad's Fishing Wagon' will be given to some lucky father in the area.

Roger Albertson, chairman of the promotion, explained that a pickup has been acquired and is being worked on at the present time. It will have a new paint job, new seat covers, good tires and will be sound mechanically.

It was discussed at the meeting what requirements will be necessary in order to win the 'Fishing Wagon.' Registration will be limited to those 16 years of age or older and they must register a man's name. It will also be necessary to be present when the name is drawn the afternoon the fishing wagon is given away. It will be presented on Saturday, before Father's Day the following day.

Prior to the presentation, the pickup will be mounted on a trailer and will be displayed in front of the businesses of participating merchants for five or six weeks before the day it will be presented to the winner. Stores participating in the promotion will have a placard and tickets for their customers.

The chairman of the Tourism Committee, Bob Stovall, gave a report on the upcoming Appreciation Banquet for the service people in Muleshoe. This will include employers and employees in the service stations, motels, and restaurants. Stovall said that the banquet has been tentatively set for April 24 at the Corral Restaurant.

Those planning the program are awaiting word from the Texas Tourism Committee of the Texas Department of Public Safety who have a program they present for various groups concerned with tourism in Texas.

Stovall emphasized that the banquet will both be a 'Thank You' and an educational program for those people who the tourists meet first, the ones who form

Farwell Scouts To Sell Candy In Muleshoe

Gene Bitner, Scoutmaster of Texico - Farwell Scout Troop 200 has announced that his troop will be selling Mrs. Leland's "Pollywogs" and "Crunch-a-Roos" candies in Muleshoe within the next two weeks.

The troop which is served by the Muleshoe Scouting Equipment Distributor, is attempting to raise enough funds to buy a 54-passenger bus for their activities.

Each box of candy will sell door-to-door for $1.

Bitner said, "This project has the approval of Muleshoe City Manager Albert Fields; Ronnie Shafer, scoutmaster of Troop 634; Roland McCormick, Scoutmaster of Troop 633; and Muleshoe Scouting officials Owen Jones, Bob Copeland, and Rev. Walter Barthol.

"The boys will not be in uniform, due to national regulations, but will be wearing identification tags saying Troop 200."

SCS Grass Strains Are Being Tested

Seed from 65 select grass strains are being planted in Texas and Oklahoma this Spring for field evaluation as part of a search for superior plants that will solve specific soil and water conservation problems.

The Soil Conservation Service reports about 6,000 pounds of seed from the 65 strains are being planted this year. The seed was grown at the SCS plant materials center at Knox City from grasses selected in Texas and Oklahoma.

Progress is being made in finding superior grasses adapted to a wide range of soil and climatic conditions. The individual problems, however, are so varied that it's a tedious job. Some 1100 strains of more than 100 different grasses are being evaluated at the plant center.

Some of the problems SCS is trying to help solve, are: Blue grama is a top grass on certain droughty range sites in the western portion of Texas and Oklahoma and should be used in range seedings in that area. The only blue grama seed on the market, however, is harvested on the High Plains and it is not well adapted to other areas.

Twenty native selections of blue grama are being evaluated at the Knox City center to try to find a better, more widely adapted strain. Two selections, one collected at Aspermont and one at Waurika, are showing promise but further evaluation work is needed.

MHS Golfers Still in Front By 22 Strokes

Muleshoe High School's golf team widened their lead in the southern region of District 1-AAA by 22 strokes Tuesday afternoon after downing the Hereford and Tulia teams on home grounds.

Muleshoe shot a low 309, which could have been partially because the game was played on home grounds, but more likely, it was the skill displayed by the high school golfers.

Coach Raymond Schroeder said it was the lowest score by the golfers since he had moved to Muleshoe.

Hereford had 321 in the Brush Control Emphasized

A group of Bailey County farmers and ranchers last week in Lubbock heard the grim facts about brush and its control. Brush now infests more than 82 percent of the state's rangeland and can be aptly labeled as "a green giant choking our land to death."

The local group, members of the County Livestock Committee, attended the half day session to become more familiar with the new Brush Control and Range Improvement Association which was recently formed to fight brush on a statewide basis. Those attending were: Carl Pollard, Lewis Scoggin, Henry Stoneham, Jonny Ohlenburg and J.K. Adams.

They will request every rancher in the county to invest in this intense effort to control brush and improve Texas' rangelands. The investment asked is one cent per acre per year for five years. Any contribution made to the new brush control program is tax deductible.

County Agricultural Agent J.K. Adams, in describing the new Association, said, "It was formed last November in Abilene as a non-profit, tax-exempt organization, whose working members (22 directors) will receive no compensation of any kind. It is the result of long-time thinking by directors of the Texas Farm Bureau, Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association."

AN ARMFUL OF BOYS--Mrs. Zenon Lopez is shown with her new boys who were born Sunday at West Plains Memorial Hospital. Twins are rather a rarity in Muleshoe and these are the first twins born in quite some time. The father of the new boys works at Mills Machine Shop. The couple also have two young daughters.

Twin Boys Born To Local Couple

The 21-year old mother of two young daughters evened out her family all at once Sunday afternoon when she gave birth to twin boys at West Plains Memorial Hospital.

Mrs. Zenon Lopez found out about two weeks ago that she was to have twins when x-rays were ordered by her doctor, B.E. Sanderlin.

Mrs. Lopez said, "It is exciting. For the past two weeks, I have felt like I am dreaming; That I will wake up and it won't be true." However, lying in her bed with her armful of boys, Mrs. Lopez could realize it really was true.

Twin 'A', who was later named Aaron, was born at 1:54 p.m. Sunday and was the larger of the two boys. He weighed five pounds and four ounces. Twin 'B', who was named Darron, was born at 2:01 p.m. and weighed four pounds and eight ounces.

Daughters Kathy, three, and Rosalina, 16 months old, are all but impervious to all the commotion caused by the birth of their brothers. Twins are a relative rarity in Muleshoe and Jo Jean Blackwell, who has worked at the hospital for almost three years, said she does not remember the last twins born there.

Zenon Lopez, 25, proud father of the boys, is employed by Mills Machine Shop. The family lives at 924 South Main.

their first opinion of a town or community. In the past, the banquet has been held at the end of the tourist season, but this year, it was felt it would be more beneficial to hold the banquet to open the 1969 tourist season.

Don Harmon introduced new Chamber of Commerce Manager Jerry Hutton who said that he would appreciate the help of everyone in becoming acquainted with the Chamber of Commerce and the activities conducted by the Chamber.

He said that he had spent the past 10 days becoming acquainted with the office and functions he would be handling.

Don Harmon said he, Harvey Bass and Olan Burrows had interviewed high school girls for Ambassador-ettes and that Devona Bradley, senior; and Kathy McCormick and Kathy Mardis, juniors, had been chosen the new Muleshoe Ambassador-ettes. They will replace the present Ambassador-ettes who are graduating or married during the past year.

Water was also discussed at the meeting. Harmon told the large group of businessmen present that since Representative Bill Clayton had just been appointed Executive Director of Water, Inc. that there was a good chance now for the water importation proposal to become a reality. He stressed the fact that Clayton is recognized as an authority on water and that Water, Inc. has a good goal. He said, "We are looking to progress with Clayton heading the water plan for Texas."

Earl Harris talked about the upcoming 'Sidewalk Sale' which will be held in Muleshoe on July 3, from noon to 6 p.m. He said that a gift or plaque would be presented to the store with the best participation in the sale and also to the individual sales person who is judged to be best-dressed for the sale day.

Lyndal Murray brought the businessmen up to date on what is happening at the City Council. He said that the City Hall bids were opened but no contracts have been signed as yet. He said that completion date for the new City Hall will probably be late September.

Two annexations to the City of Muleshoe were also discussed by Murray, one is the Morrison Addition in northeast Muleshoe and the other at the west city limits.

He also discussed paving and said that Jake Diehl had been awarded the paving contract for the paving project to be conducted in Muleshoe.

Last on the agenda for the meeting was a discussion of the 4th of July celebration. It is expected to be larger than ever this year, with a parade, possible Indian dances, a wagon train, horses, mules, and everyone will be encouraged to wear western type clothing for the entire week preceding the celebration.

Further plans will be given later.

sociation, Texas Farmers Union and Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Association as well as by hundreds of farmers and ranchers across the state.

"Much research has been done in controlling brush and improving rangelands," said Adams, "but the need is urgent now for cash funds to support additional basic research. That research will be aimed at new breakthroughs in control. And any type of brush that has become an economic liability in our county or in any other county of the state will be studied so that we may learn how to control it."

C. E. Fisher emphasized the need for brush control "so that we can increase our production efficiency." "There is only so much land so we have to make it more productive. We can do this by controlling brush. But we need to develop methods of brush control that are cheaper and more effective. And, once we clear our rangelands of brush, we must follow a sound program of range improvement in order to get the highest return per dollar invested in brush control. Killing brush for the sake of killing brush is a hopeless case."

"Brush has cut our earning power, sapped our water reserves, reduced the carrying capacity of our grasslands and cost millions in our efforts to control it," pointed out Pope. "We need 10 times the number of acres presently under brush control if we are to attain our goal. One big breakthrough in this new program may pay for all the cost of all the necessary research."

Other work being done at the center includes a search for better ways to harvest certain grasses; ways to make some grasses, such as vine mesquite, produce seed more consistently; better ways to establish several plants; proper time and rate of fertilizer application; and irrigation efficiency studies for seed producers.

Groups cooperating with SCS in plant materials work include Texas A&M University, Oklahoma State University, Texas Technological College, Prairie View A&M College, Oklahoma and Texas Agricultural Experiment Stations, the Agricultural Research Service, and soil and water conservation districts in the two-state area.

A search is also underway to find a strain of western wheatgrass, a valuable winter grass on bottomland, for planting in central Texas. Again, the only seed available is from the High Plains and is not widely adapted. Selections from Tahoka and Floydada are looking good but evaluation work is incomplete.

Work is also underway to find a grass that will thrive on land high in salt content. Such a plant would be extremely valuable for vegetating thousands of acres of bare, "salted-out" grassland in Texas and Oklahoma, as well as oil field areas damaged by saltwater.

Selections of alkali sycamore strains collected in Kenedy County and near Dell City are showing up especially well. Evaluation work on inland saltgrass has been hindered by its failure to produce seed at Knox City.

Other promising collections include several strains of sidecoats grama for use in South Texas; a strain of silky bluestem, native to the deserts of Australia, for planting on arid sites in the Trans-Pecos area; and a Harvard panic that shows promise for vegetating sand dunes.

After top plants are collected and proven at the SCS plant center, they are grown under field conditions on farms of soil and water conservation district cooperators. After final tests, superior varieties are identified and released to commercial seed growers who produce seed for sale.

A superior strain of Kleingrass, called Selection 75, was certified and released by SCS and the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station for public use this year, Smith said. Other grass strains proven and put into use by SCS include El Reno, Uvalde, and Vaughn sidecoats grama; King Ranch bluestem; plains bristlegrass; green sprangletop, weeping lovegrass, Blackwell and Grenville switchgrass; and Elida sand bluestem.

Other work being done at the center includes a search for better ways to harvest certain grasses; ways to make some grasses, such as vine mesquite, produce seed more consistently; better ways to establish several plants; proper time and rate of fertilizer application; and irrigation efficiency studies for seed producers.

Groups cooperating with SCS in plant materials work include Texas A&M University, Oklahoma State University, Texas Technological College, Prairie View A&M College, Oklahoma and Texas Agricultural Experiment Stations, the Agricultural Research Service, and soil and water conservation districts in the two-state area.

LIVING COSTS JUMP

The Labor Department has announced that living costs rose 4.7 per cent in 1968 for the highest one-year jump in 17 years. The report stated that this increase virtually wiped out wage gains of 45 million rank-and-file workers.

Good Land Use Assures Crops For Farmers

Farmers and rancher of today have many things in common with farmers or ranchers of long ago. One of the main concerns of farmers or ranchers has always been good crop production. To produce these good crops there has always been some things that must be done.

The using of land according to its needs and capabilities has always assured the farmer getting the most from his land without misusing or damaging the land. The misuse of land always results in low production. Continued misuse of the land can and will result in such low production that farming ceases to be economical.

Farmers in the Blackwater Valley Soil and Water Conservation District are concerned about the yields of 1969 will be. In addition to being concerned about the present yields wise farmers will be concerned about good yields for years to come.

One of the important values that should be followed on all agricultural land is using the land according to its capabilities. Treating the land according to its capabilities can best be determined by making use of a good soil map.

Soil, water and plant conservation practices that can be applied now will affect crop yields now and for years to come. Each farmer in the district who is interested in getting the best possible yields should take inventory to see if all the conservation practices have been applied and are being maintained.

Soil condition and fertility has been compared to a bank account. If a bank account is drawn on without depositing more in the account, it continues to decrease and eventually there will be nothing left to draw from!

COMMITTEE ON ARMED SERVICES

Next Thursday I plan to begin a 10-day visit to Southeast Asia. It will be my fifth visit to South Vietnam and my first since November of 1967.

Since my last visit several developments have taken place: President Johnson imposed a halt in our bombing of North Vietnam. General Creighton Abrams has taken command of our forces in Vietnam. The work of upgrading the effectiveness of the ARVN troops -- the Army of the Republic of Vietnam -- is going forward. Negotiations in Paris have begun. The Communists have initiated another offensive. And, most recently, the South Vietnamese government indicated it is now ready to talk privately with the Viet Cong in Paris.

As a member of the Senate Armed Services Committee, it is important, I believe, for me to gain a first-hand impression of the effects of all these developments upon our military effort in Vietnam.

To gauge these effects, I will take time to talk privately and informally with many of our troops in the field as well as with our military and civilian leaders. I plan to visit Army, Air Force, Navy and Marine enlisted men in the four major combat zones -- the Mekong Delta, around Saigon, the central highlands and the area just south of the de-militarized zone between North and South Vietnam.

Among our military and civilian leaders with whom I plan to meet are our ambassador to South Vietnam, Ellsworth Bunker; our ambassador to Thailand, Leonard Unger; General Abrams; and the commander of our 25th Infantry Division, Major General Ellis W. Williamson; our 4th Infantry Division, Brig. General, Donn R. Pepke; and our 1st Air Cavalry, Major General George I. Forsythe.

I know that the Vietnam war is the issue uppermost in your minds. The war has already gone on for a much longer time than any of us would have liked. And the peace negotiations in Paris are progressing very slowly. Apparently the North Vietnamese government is following the traditional Communist strategy of slowing down negotiations while intensifying their combat activities in the hope that we will become frustrated and settle for far less than our original goals.

Our original goals, however, were not unrealistic and it is my belief that we should not settle for less. Let us recall just what it is that we seek through our military activities in South Vietnam and at the negotiations in Paris.

We seek first and foremost an honorable, just and lasting peace for all of Southeast Asia.

We seek a chance for the South Vietnamese people to freely develop their economy, freely choose their form of government, and freely develop stable political institutions.

We seek to make credible to our enemies in this world, our determination -- our ability to resist aggression -- and our willingness to fulfill our obligations under our treaty commitments.

And we seek eventually to help develop Southeast Asian regional organizations through which those countries can undertake effective self-help programs.

These are our goals. They are just, reasonable and clear. And it is imperative to our own national interest that these goals be achieved.

I do not know exactly what I will find in Vietnam. I hope that when I return I will be able to report that the training of the ARVN troops is going along so well that it will be possible in the near future to reduce our own troop commitment in South Vietnam. But this is only a hope. It is not an expectation.

I have always hoped for an early end to the war in Vietnam, but at the same time I have strongly opposed any action on our part which might show a lack of resolve to our enemies -- which might bolster their claim that the United States is a "paper tiger."

We cannot afford to become impatient in our efforts to seek to find a just, honorable and lasting peace in Southeast Asia. A peace settlement which can be interpreted as a "pull-out" on our part, will only encourage our enemies to continue their aggressive activities elsewhere. Such a settlement would not ensure peace for our nation but would only insure another war. We must remain firm in our resolve to contain the communists and keep them as far as possible from our shores.

When I return from my Vietnam trip, I will make a full report to the Armed Services Committee and then meet with the press to make a public report. I hope that I will have good news to report to you in my first broadcast after my return.

The life of the average politician consists of passing the buck and placing the blame.

The surest way to enjoy life is to provide your own security by saving something every month.

Isn't it odd that your friends always select your busiest day to come in to pay a social call?

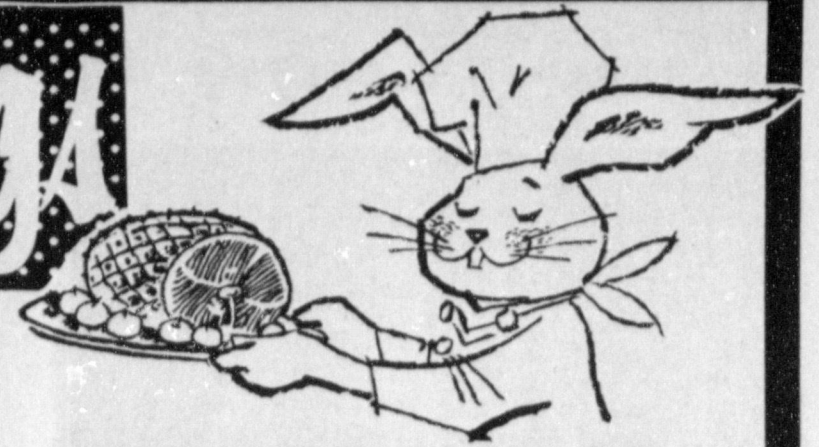

One reason why so many of us fail to get rich is that we run from hard work like it might be a plague.

Advertising is as necessary to a successful business as the ability to buy the right thing at the right price.

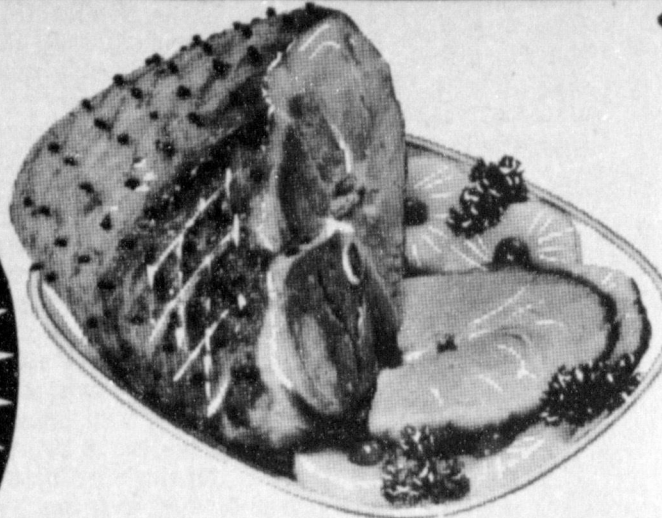

Profits based upon service are justified but those based on monopoly or manipulation are not just.

Miss Hanson Weds Allison Precure

Mr. and Mrs. Allison Ray Precure Photo by Morris Nowlin Studio

Miss Floy Irene Hanson and Allison Ray Precure, both of Muleshoe, exchanged wedding vows March 28 at 8:00 p.m. in Trinity Lutheran Church, Clovis, New Mexico. Rev. Lawrence R. Juull officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Hanson, Route 4, Muleshoe, and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Precure, also of Muleshoe.

Vows were pledged before an altar decorated with arrangements of yellow and white mums and white altar candles. Spiral candelabra trees entwined with greenery, each holding 20 lighted tapers, formed the background for the lovely candle-light service.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a formal length gown of Chantilly lace over white taffeta. The waistline was accented by a satin band and a large satin bow in front. The high neckline was edged with lace scallops. The bride wore a gold and pearl necklace, gift of the groom. The bridal bouquet was a cascade of white roses and white carnations tipped in yellow, and white streamers, atop a white Bible. Following tradition, she wore a blue garter, borrowed a lace handkerchief from her grandmother, Mrs. Irene Wickson; her bridal ensemble was new and she wore a penny in her shoe minted the year of the bride's and the groom's birth. She wore a penny minted in the year of their marriage in the other shoe.

Miss Lynne Hanson, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Her formal length gown was of yellow chiffon over yellow linen. A short veil of yellow tulle was attached to a yellow rose headpiece, and she carried white mums with yellow streamers.

James Hanson, brother of the bride, served as candle-lighter.

Gary Strahan was best man, and Larry Crawford, Mike Burreson and David Hanson, brother of the bride, served as ushers.

Jean Haskins, presented traditional wedding selections, and accompanied Jane Branscum, who sang Elizabeth Barret Browning's "How Do I Love Thee" and "The Wedding Prayer."

Wedding guests were registered by Miss Elaine Hanson, sister of the bride, at a table covered with white satin and net and decorated with an arrangement of yellow jonquils and the bride's book.

Mrs. Hanson chose, for her daughter's wedding, a mystic blue suit-dress, with accessories of white and mystic blue. She wore a white orchid corsage, Mrs. Precure wore a beige dress with matching coat and accessories. Her corsage was a yellow orchid.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the fellowship hall. The bride's table was laid with a lace-edged net cloth over white satin accented with white satin roses and streamers. The centerpiece was white wedding bells under a glass dome, topped with the bride's bouquet. Yellow fruit punch and a three-tiered wedding cake, decorated with yellow roses and topped by wedding bells, was served with nuts and yellow mints. Assisting with the hospitalities were Mrs. Irene Wickson, Mrs. Bill Rook, Mrs. Gene Cotton, Miss Sherry Blackwell, Miss Melanie Precure, sister of the groom and Miss Kathy Myers.

Out of town guests other than those from Muleshoe and Earth were: Mrs. Irene Wickson, Amarillo and Mrs. Keith Marich, of Fredrick, Oklahoma, grandmother of the bride and of the groom; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Rook and family, Amarillo, aunt of the bride, Miss Zona Branscum, Dennis Burrows, and Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Mallory from Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Allen Smyer of Levelland; Mr. and Mrs. John W. West III of Spade; Misses Elaine and Jaquie Carlton of Amarillo. The groom's paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. R.D. Precure of Muleshoe, were also present.

For traveling, the bride chose a yellow dress with sleeveless coat of yellow and white. Her accessories were white and she wore a corsage of white Sweetheart roses lifted from her bouquet.

The bride is a 1968 graduate of Springlake high school and attended Commercial College at Lubbock. The groom is a 1968 graduate of Muleshoe high school and is presently employed by Sante Fe Railway Co.

The couple will be at home in Amarillo where the groom will be attending a school sponsored by Sante Fe Railway Company.

MARRIAGE ANNOUNCED Mr. and Mrs. Harrold White announce the marriage of their daughter, Venita Gayle King, of Wichita Falls, to Gregg Hartney of Wichita Falls, in a ceremony performed March 8, at 7:30 p.m. at the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, Wichita Falls, Texas. Hartney is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hartney of Wichita Falls, Texas. Mrs. White is a senior student at Hershey high school, Wichita Falls and her husband is presently attending Odessa College, where he is majoring in law. The couple will be at home in Odessa when this school term is out.

Jaycee-ettes Choose Outstanding Member

Mrs. Larry Combs was chosen "outstanding Jaycee-ette for 1968-69" by a secret vote of the members and was given a surprise award at their annual installation banquet Friday night at Corral Restaurant. Mrs. Curtis Walker made the presentation.

Mrs. Combs said of the presentation, "I don't know why I was selected, it's a mystery to me." However, a spokesman said, "She would drop anything she was doing to help, and it was during the time of the year she was expecting her baby and it did not make any difference. She never did use that as an excuse-always has that smile and is really willing to help in anything where she is needed. All the girls enjoy working with her, she is great to work with. After she had the baby, she works right on."

After the banquet the meeting was moved to Muleshoe State Band community room where games of cards were played.

Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Combs, Mr. and Mrs. John Blackwell, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Henry, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Christian, Mr. and Mrs. Marlin Mills, Mr. and Mrs. Dale, Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Spies, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Berry, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Sudduth, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Stovall, Mrs. Jerry Gleason, Harold Neal and Joel Young.

Mrs. Donnie Carpenter of the Stegall community, Bailey County Conservation Homemaker for 1969, and the Bailey County Commissioners' Court were honored Friday evening at a dinner in Fellowship Hall, United Methodist Church, Progress and Muleshoe Home Demonstration Clubs were hostesses for the occasion.

The five areas for consideration are family stability, family housing, family health, consumer problems and community resources. She showed colored slides illustrating these points, using some local homes and scenes.

Following her talk, Mrs. Taylor presented awards to the outstanding member of the Muleshoe Club, Mrs. Hayney Poyner.

Diane Crawford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Crawford, and a Junior at Muleshoe high school, reviewed 4-H work for 1968.

Miss Wool Contestants Sought

Flashes of photographers' lights and congratulations of well-wishers will mark the year on May 26 of a magic year for some young Texas woman.

Miss Wool & Mohair of Texas for 1969-1970 will be crowned in the Great Hall of Dallas' Apparel Mart to climax four days of fast paced activity and as the finale of a glittering pageant to be presented before retail buyers attending the Fall-Winter apparel market.

Competing in the Dallas pageant will be 15 finalists between the ages of 18 and 25 who will have been selected for the honor by a screening committee.

Contest officials outlined the basic requirements for the 18th Miss Wool & Mohair of Texas Contest. They are: applicants must be between 18 and 25 years of age, enrolled in an accredited college or university, be a resident of Texas, unmarried and able to wear a size 10 in women's apparel.

According to contest officials, applicants are not required to have sponsors on their behalf. Rather than representing a specific city or a specific area, finalists will be from the state at large. Those young women chosen as finalists will travel to Dallas on May 23 to compete in the 4-day contest.

Contest directors have reported a great deal of interest in this year's contest, but stressed that April 1 is the deadline for all entries. Applications postmarked on or before that date will undergo an intensive screening, with names of the 15 finalists to be announced about May 1. As a traveling representative for Texas sheep & goat raisers' Association, Mohair Council of American and Texas Fashion Creators Association, she will present style shows in the major areas of the state, working closely with leading apparel stores in various cities. In addition, she will make selected trips to other sections of the nation.

As a fashion representative, she will be outfitted from head to toe in the best of Texas fashions of wool and mohair, travel with a matched set of Sansonite luggage and be feted wherever she goes. She receives a two-season wardrobe of Deliso Debs shoes, and has the loan of a new Chevrolet Impala convertible during her reign.

The climax of her year will arrive in June of 1970 when she will represent Texas in the Miss Wool of America pageant, held annually in San Angelo. This pageant, where representatives of the 26 wool producing councils of the nation compete, is televised nationally in color.

Contest application forms may be obtained by writing: Frank A. Fecher, Womack-Claypode Advertising, Inc., 301 West Beaugard, San Angelo, Texas, 76901.

Curiosity is still the basis of most of our knowledge, are you curious?

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights
by Wern Sanford

AUSTIN, Tex. -- Showdown time is near in the Legislature. That's when the time comes for crucial issues of spending and taxation.

Moving at a billion-dollar-a-minute clip, the Senate whipped through a record $5.8 billion 1970-71 appropriations bill which would require a minimum $63.3 million in new taxes.

Of this $5.8 billion budget, $69.7 million is recommended for support of the State Department of Public Safety, an increase of $10.2 million over the current level of spending by that agency.

Difference would pay for the hiring of 150 more highway patrolmen, 50 more narcotics agents and 10 additional intelligence agents, as well as $864,638 for an addition to the Homer Garrison Jr. Training Academy in Austin.

Despite all its heft, the Senate bill contained no funds for the anticipated $220 million teacher-pay-raise, the contemplated $30 million lift in the welfare ceiling, $16.5 million for two new medical schools, $7.5 million for a new dental school or $6 million for planning new colleges.

Include these high-priority items and you are looking at a tax bill a lot closer to $345 million than $63.3 million.

However, House Speaker Gus Mutscher has called for an appropriations bill which will require no new revenue. It would include money for new medical schools, dental school and college planning.

Major difference in the bills is in the area of higher education, where the Senate would raise general fund appropriations of 22 senior colleges and universities $106.5 million, public junior colleges $19.3 million.

First hearings on major tax bills are getting underway. Hearing on Gov. Preston Smith's supplemental revenue recommendation, to place a one-half of one percent levy on chemical producers and raise the cigarette rate to 15 cents a pack, will be set for mid-April.

House may very well pass its version of the budget next week. It would permit a $240 million increase in general revenue spending without additional taxes. Difference between lean House and fat Senate spending measures must be ironed out in conference committee during the next two months.

Tax battle, which must start in the House, will see-saw back and forth from House - to - Senate - and - vice - versa. Senators have some revenue ideas of their own. LEGISLATURE MOVES ON - Senators stole the spotlight from the House by churning out 53 bills to 38 for their colleagues across the rotunda.

quiring that year's lay-off. Both measures are awaiting hearing in the House Public Education Committee.

COURTS SPEAK -- Third Court of Civil Appeals tossed out Fort Worth Sundaco Inc.'s suit to determine the legality of its scheme for evading the state's Sunday closing law. Court said operations, which include "buying stock" of certain stores every Saturday night, have not been challenged yet.

Meanwhile, State Supreme Court heard arguments on the constitutionality of a 1961 closing law. San Antonio dis-count houses claim the law is vague and indefinite and therefore invalid. Bexar County District Court held the law unconstitutional, State appealed.

High Court declared the state's new polygraph-examiners licensing law is unconstitutional. This due to a defective title which fails to size up the full extent of coverage.

Court of Criminal Appeals upheld the death penalty given a Dallam County man for rape of a 74-year-old woman.

CITIES GET SALES TAX REBATE -- Nearly 290 Texas cities last week received a whopping $28.2 million in allocations from the state comptroller as their share of the one percent local option municipal tax for the last quarter of 1968.

Totals ranged from $122 for Little Josephine to $6.4 million for big Houston. Comptroller reported totals exceeded expectations in nearly all cases.

TAX FACTS UNCORKED -- Committee on Public School Education has released its study on school district tax inequities which admittedly may provoke legal action.

Survey found "inequities are the rule in this state rather than the exception," that 64 percent of state's school districts have an average ratio of assessed value to market value of 20 percent or less. Ratios range from 14 percent on undeveloped land to 41 percent on banks and private homes.

COPE Chairman Leon Jaworski of Houston said the Committee was reluctant to publish figures since they might lead to embarrassment for many local districts.

Legislators sponsoring COPSE recommendations as bills in House and Senate said that, whether legal action results or not, people "have both a right to know the facts and an obligation to take appropriate action."

APPOINTMENTS CONFIRMED -- Senate confirmed Joe W. Burkett Jr. of Kerrville and Tom Gordon of Abilene to Texas Liquor Control Board and Leslie R. Neal of San Antonio to the Water Rights Commission.

Appointments of Dorsey Hardeman of San Angelo and William B. Blakemore II of Midland were passed over. Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes named Sen. Jack Strong of Longview chairman of a special investigative committee on the use of narcotics and dangerous drugs by Texas high school and college-age youth.

A G OPINIONS -- Governor Smith challenges the validity of last minute appointments to the University of Texas board of regents made in January by former Gov. John Connally.

Smith made it clear that he wasn't objecting to the individuals, he merely questioned the legality of the action.

While Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin nullified that one, he handed down these opinions: *Federal reserve banks operating cafeterias are not required to remit sales taxes measured by gross receipts and not actually collected from small purchase customers.

Under SB 184, now before the Legislature, the State Board of Dental Examiners would promulgate rules prescribing services of dental assistants, including cleaning of teeth.

*Bill to grant Panhandle Ground Water Conservation District No. 3 South of Canadian River power to space irrigation wells is constitutional.

Texas Department of Welfare is offering foster care in private homes as a new service to elderly people who do not need nursing care, but need some personal services and supervision to assure their safety, comfort and well-being.

Rep. Bill Finck of San Antonio has introduced a bill giving the State Department of Health more control over the quality of the medical staff and care of patients in hospitals.

House Parks and Wildlife Committee heard strong attacks by ranchers and driver authorities on a bill by Rep. Ben Atwell of Dallas, which asked for a study of the idea of preserving stretches of Texas rivers.

A bill by Rep. Temple Dickson of Sweetwater, to strip away some immunity from lawsuits for state, city and county and other governmental units, has emerged from a Senate committee with many crippling amendments and now is limited only to lawsuits resulting from accidents with state motor vehicles driven by state employees.

Senate Constitutional Amendments Committee has approved a proposed constitutional amendment by Sen. Joe Christie of El Paso to insure that farm, ranch and forest land will be taxed on its productive agriculture value.

Sen. V.E. (Red) Berry introduced Senate Joint Resolution 22 to divide the state of Texas into North and South Texas.

Governor Smith has named John B. (Jay) Pumphrey of Fort Worth as his personal representative at the National Cowboy Hall of Fame's Western Heritage Awards program set for April 25th in Oklahoma City. (John Wayne is to be honored this year.)

Smith announced approval of $145,000 in 1969 Summer Youth Opportunity Planning Grants to be shared by five Texas cities to hire youth coordinators as assistants to mayors to coordinate efforts for youth opportunity in recreation and employment.

Department of Public Safety announced plans for a seven-helicopter fleet for use in emergency missions.

Seventeen million auto visitors pumped $1 billion into Texas' economy last year, and 5.5 million arrived on commercial carriers, spending $467.4 million, Highway Department reports.

From Congressman BOB PRICE

The following is a statement of my position regarding the Congressional pay raises and my efforts to prevent enactment of what I consider unwarranted increases for Supreme Court Justices, Cabinet Members, Congressmen, and other high ranking Federal Officials.

The authorization for the proposed increases were included in the Postal Revenue and Federal Pay Act of 1967 which included a three-stage salary increase for civilian Federal employees that was intended to close the so-called "comparability gap" between salaries of private employees and Government workers.

Another provision of the Act was the establishment of a commission to recommend rates of pay for judges, Administration executives and Members of Congress.

In a roll call vote, I opposed the establishment of the commission but the proposal carried and was enacted into law.

The commission, known as the Kappel Commission, made its report to the President who in turn scaled the recommendations down considerably and submitted them to Congress on January 15, 1969. In accordance with provisions of the Act, the increases became effective after thirty (30) days unless disapproved by Congress.

I and several other Members introduced resolutions to disapprove the increases and to bring the issue to a vote on the House Floor. But the House Rules Committee by a vote of 12-3 refused to send the proposal to the Floor so the House membership had no opportunity to vote at all. The Senate did bring it to a vote but voted against disapproving the pay raises.

I also voted against the resolution to recess Congress from Friday, February 7, to Monday, February 17, during which time the pay increase would become effective. That resolution was offered by the House Democratic majority leader and was objected to by Rep. H.R. Gross, a Republican of Iowa who also opposed the pay raise.

Actually, 199 Members, including myself, voted against establishment of the Kappel Commission on October 11, 1967, when the bill was passed.

On February 4, 1969, I introduced the two resolutions to disapprove the pay increase and bring it to a vote on the House Floor. On February 5, 1969, I voted against the resolution to recess Congress for the period during which the increase would automatically become effective. A total of 125 Members opposed that resolution.

The owner of the country newspaper went home to dinner, smiling radiantly.

Breathalyzer In Wide Use

inside breathalyzer in use. The Breathalyzer, a portable instrument used for determining the alcohol content of the blood by a simple "breath test," which was put into operation November, 1968, over the state of Texas is proving to be quite useful in the Northwest Texas area, announced Major C.W. Bell, Regional Commander of the Texas Department of Public Safety for this Region.

During the months of November and December of 1968, there were 1164 suspected drinking drivers who took various types of tests to determine the amount of alcohol in their blood. Of this number 957 or 82 percent as compared to 207 or 18 percent who took other types of tests.

Major Bell stated that the Breathalyzer not only will help in convicting a drunken driver, but assists in absolving a person who appears intoxicated, but may actually be suffering from epilepsy, a heart attack, an overdose of insulin, or many other pathological conditions.

The magnitude of the problem is reflected in studies conducted by the Texas Department of Public Safety. Based on a ten-year traffic death toll of 27,000 in Texas, the use of alcohol may have accounted for about 50 percent of these fatalities.

Bell stated, "It is hoped that the use of the Breathalyzer will hit hard at the problem and help reduce the traffic deaths in Texas."

Crawford urged every person in Bailey County to increase his or her support of the Texas Easter Seal Society and its program of services to the crippled children and adults. He added that anyone who could benefit from rehabilitation services should contact him at the Muleshoe State Bank to request services from the Easter Seal Society.

"Do you know a handicapped person who needs help and isn't getting it?" is the question being asked by Jimmie Crawford, who is Bailey County's Easter Seal Representative and the person to contact for services from the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults of Texas.

The Easter Seal Society offers rehabilitation services from the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults of Texas. The Easter Seal Society vices to help disabled persons and their families to find and make the most effective use of resources which will be helpful to them in developing their abilities and living more purposeful lives, Crawford said.

This is accomplished through direct treatments, services, education, research, and cooperative efforts with all other health agencies, private, state and federal. The Easter Seal Society does not duplicate services, but strives to fill all unmet needs of the disabled, he added.

The Texas Easter Seal Society is carrying out its fortieth annual Easter Seal Appeal to finance a program of rehabilitation services for crippled children and adults. The Texas Easter Seal Society helps support 21 treatment facilities where children and adults are treated regardless to ability to pay. Physical therapy and speech and hearing programs are offered to help the disabled make their lives fuller, despite their handicaps.

The Sandhills Philosopher

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm has an odd but typical idea this week.

Dear editor: I found a newspaper wedged in the back door to keep it shut, I've been meaning to get around to fixing that latch and will as soon as the Paris peace talks are over, and pulled it out and propped the door shut with the brick I've been using for years and got out of earshot and immediately read an article that gave me an idea.

According to it, life in many big cities has become dangerous. It's awful. People can't walk the streets at night, parks are useless even during the day unless there's a cop every 15 or 20 feet, houses are being broken into regularly.

In fact, it's got so bad that city people are going to great extremes to stay safe in their homes.

Some people are putting three locks to the door, double barring the windows, keeping floodlights on all night, buying extra watch dogs, installing electric-eye beams to set off alarms when a prowler shows up, carrying mace in their purses, etc.

But the gadget that set me to thinking is an inflatable dummy, for use when you're driving alone in your car.

You blow it up, it looks just like a big, husky man, and you put it on the front seat next to you. This is supposed to scare off a highwayman or thug hunting for some one driving alone.

I wish you'd find out where I can buy one. I know the stores in Muleshoe don't stock them, there's no market for them in a civilized town like this, but I'd like to get hold of one if the price isn't too high.

What I want it for is to blow up and set on my tractor seat, its hands on the steering wheel, with the tractor parked on the far side of the field, away from the house.

Then I'm going to get in a comfortable position some place and read. A glance from the house will lead one to believe I'm on my tractor and hard at work, and other people can attend to their own business.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

There is no way to accurately estimate the dollar damage done to the US cotton industry in general and the High Plains cotton industry in particular by the longshoreman's strike that has now had West Gulf ports tied up for well over three months.
 But, according to officials of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., it is no exaggeration to say that millions of dollars are being lost in storage costs on cotton awaiting shipment and that untold more millions will be lost in cotton sales opportunities, some of which are gone forever.
 An estimated 720,000 bales of cotton, much of it West Texas cotton, worth over $70 million and costing over $1 million dollars a month to store, are now stacked up at Texas ports, principally at Galveston and Houston. These two ports account for three quarters of all US cotton exports in a normal year.
 Textile mills all over the world are awaiting delivery of this cotton. But even worse is the fact that there are also textile mills all over the world who are NOT waiting -- they waited as long as they could, then switched their orders for cotton to Mexico, Brazil, Pakistan or some other cotton exporting country that could make delivery.
 Obviously some of these mills will be pleased with the cotton and the service they are able to get from other exporters. And these will not be back to the US as cotton buyers for years, perhaps never.
 Cotton producers and allied industry in this country, especially in the High Plains area where exports account for almost two-thirds of the cotton market, will feel the sting of the strike long after the stevedores go back to work and the ship owners return to making a profit.
 Loss of export markets mean loss of acreage and loss of production.
 And cotton is not the only loser. The same sorry situation applies to grain sorghum, rice, wheat, some citrus fruits, vegetables and other agricultural commodities.
 Following a meeting of concerned agricultural people in Houston on March 27 Donald Johnson, Executive Vice President of PCG said "Everything we can do is being done to get the President and Congress to force an end to the strike before hundreds of cotton shippers go broke and all of our export markets for cotton are gone for good."

A similar meeting of farm interests was held in Houston on March 19 and telegrams were sent to President Nixon, members of his Cabinet, the governors of some 14 states and a number of Congressmen and Senators.
 The telegrams urged that all stops be pulled in the effort to secure an immediate resumption of shipping from West Gulf ports and that steps be taken to preclude the possibility of such strikes jeopardizing the livelihood of agricultural people in the future.
 They were signed by 47 organizations and company representatives from five states on behalf of 19,000 rice farmers, 75,000 cotton farmers, 250,000 wheat farmers and 250,000 grain sorghum producers in the southwestern United States.

STRANGE REUNION
 Chatham, England--While sharing a room together awaiting the birth of their babies, two women struck up a conversation. They discovered they were sisters who had not seen each other since their parents separated and they were sent to foster homes. The sisters had been living within five miles of each other.
