HAS PASSED THE THOUSAND MARK.

YESTERDAY'S REPORT RAISED NUMBER OF YELLOW FEVER CASES TO 1005.

Death Rate is Fraction Less Than Ten Per Cent.

The official bulletin posted at headquarters of the State Health department at Laredo last night was 19 new cases and no deaths. Total cases to date 1005; total deaths 96.

Notwithstanding the fact that 164 cases developed this week, which is the greatest number for one week since the epidemic began, there are many things to be hopeful for. The weather, while it has not been cold enough to kill the mosquito, the temperature has been below 55 nearly all the week, which prevents the mosquito from working, and during the next week the number of cases will not be near as many as this week.

Mayor Amador Sanchez has appealed to the State for aid again and the people are responding rapidly.

Dr. Murray, who was dangerously hurt in a runaway Monday is reported to be improving.

QUARANTINE RAISED.

Wednesday morning the mercury went down to 31 in San Antonio, and in view of the fact that there is not a case of yellow fever in the city, and has not been for ten days, the State quarantine was raised, and San Antonians are now free to go where they please.

All counties, including Frio have raised the quarantine on all points except Laredo, and if the weather continues cool there will be no danger from that point in a couple of weeks longer.

Regular passenger trains will be put on again after today on this end of the I & G N.

IMMEDIATE STEPS WILL BE TAKEN.

TOGETHER RID OF THE YELLOW FEVER DANGER.

State Health Officer Tabor Will Ask Co-operation of Gulf States and Mexican Authorities.

Austin, Tex., Nov. 18.—Now that a killing freeze has made it certain that there will be no further spread of yellow fever in Texas during the present season, Dr. George R. Tabor, State Health Officer, will devote his attention to devising means whereby the disease can be prevented again entering this country from Mexico. He said today that the situation in that country is exceedingly bad; it has been demonstrated that the local health authorities are unable to cope with the epidemic in the towns and cities where it has appeared and strenuous methods will have to be adopted by those in power in that country to stamp it out.

"With the view of affording future protection to Texas and the South in stamping out the disease in Mexico, it is my purpose to issue an invitation to the representatives of the health departments of Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama and to Surgeon General Wyman of the Marine Hospital Service, to accompany me to Mexico next January for the purpose of conferring with Dr. Liceaga, who is at the head of the superior board of health of Mexico, and the other members of that body, as well as other State and municipal health officers of that country with the view of determining upon some concerted plan of action by which a recurrence of the epidemic may be avoided. We shall visit the infected localities and urge the importance of the sanitary conditions being improved.

ANOTHER PERSON GOES TO HIS REST.

"UNCLE JACK" HARGUS DIES AFTER A LONG ILLNESS.

Was Here Long Before The Organization of The County.

Uncle Jack Hargus is dead. His death occurred at 3:40 p m Wednesday, Nov. 18, 1903, after suffering many months from rheumatism and paralysis.

John Reed Hargus was born January 3rd, 1840, in Washington county, Missouri. He came to Texas when he was 18 years old and settled in Caldwell county, where he was married April 11th, 1859 to Miss Mary Barksdale. Just ten years later he came to this wild and unsettled country and established a ranch on the Tegra, which he owned and conducted up to the time of his death.

"Uncle Jack" was here during the worst of the Indian fighting days and participated in many a battle; he was with the advance guard of civilization that drove out the murderous savage. Later he was witness to many of the stirring events in the early history of the county.

For years Uncle Jack was County Commissioner, and has been bondsman for one or more county officials probably ever since the county was organized.

The last years of Uncle Jack's life was spent on the Tegra, where he has welcomed and fed many a wanderer. And it was only a few months ago that he was forced to move to town for medical attention. His sufferings were intense and he gradually grew worse until death relieved him of pain.

His friends were numbered by the hundreds and he was known all over Southwest Texas for his generous hospitality, and many will there be whose grief will be great on hearing of this good old man's death.

is survived by his wife and one son, W. L. us, of this city.

The funeral services were conducted at the home at 3 o'clock Tuesday evening and the remains were followed to the grave by a large procession of grieving friends.

DEATH OF JOHN FRIES.

John Fries, an old gentleman about 60 years old died yesterday morning at the Dunham Hotel of Bright's disease.

He has been boarding at the Hotel for several months, and previous to the time he came here he worked on the Levell Ranch for a period of ten years.

We learn from the proprietor of the Hotel, Mr. Dunham, that the old gentleman is a native of Cincinnati, Ohio. In his talks with Mr. Dunham he said that he went from Cincinnati to California in '59; a few years later he shipped to New York, thence to Matamoros, Mex. From Matamoros he went to Brownsville and stayed there awhile, then went up the river to Rio Grande City, where he was on the police force for quite awhile. After he left Rio Grande City he went to Laredo, thence to San Antonio, where he met Mr. David Levell and went to ranch with him where he stayed ten years.

Among the old gentleman's effects were a number of photographs of relatives in Ohio, and several letters of recent date were found from his niece who resides in Cincinnati. She had requested him to come home but for some season he had not gone.

Mr. Dunham says he always paid his board bill promptly and was honest in everything. We learn that he has something over $150 deposited in the bank. The remains were laid to rest in the Cotulla cemetery yesterday evening.

Cotton is hovering right around the 10 cent mark.

LEANDRO GUTIEREZ HAS SKIPPED.

STOLE HIS LAWYER AND BONDSMAN'S BEST HORSE AND LEFT BETWEEN SUNS.

Leandro Gutierrez, under indictment for accessory to murder, stole one of Col. E. R. Lane's best saddle horses last Saturday night and skipped.

Gutierrez was under bond in the sum of $500.00 with Col. E. R. Lane, his attorney, as surety. He has been working for Col. Lane on his ranch for more than a year.

The crime with which Gutierrez is charged as an accessory, was the murder of Gregoria Sanchez, which was committed on the dreary day of April 29th 1901.

Gutierrez made a voluntary statement when he was arrested, and stated that Jose Sanchez killed his wife and that he carried her more than a mile to an almost impenetrable thicket, and buried her. He afterwards denied the statement.

Sanchez, the principal in the crime, has been twice sentenced to a life term. He is now in the Frio county jail waiting to hear from the Court of Appeals. Gutierrez has never had a trial.

HAMILTON HOTEL CAUGHT FIRE.

Laredo Narrowly Escapes Big Conflagration.

About 7:30 o'clock last night Laredo was thrown into a state of excitement by fire breaking out in the Hamilton Hotel, the largest hotel in the city.

By prompt work the flames were extinguished before much damage was done. Just how the fire originated could not be learned.

WILL COME TO TEXAS.

GERMANY WILL SEND STUDENTS TO LEARN COTTON CULTURE.

Colonial Society Will Have Them Educated at Agricultural and Mechanical College.

Berlin, Nov. 17.—The German Colonial society contemplates the sending of a number of young men to Texas Agricultural and Mechanical School to study the methods of growing and marketing cotton. The young men will spend a year on a cotton plantation and so acquire practical experience which later they will employ in the German colonies.

The students will sign a contract to spend a number of years in the service of the German Colonial Society for the purpose of introducing the growing of cotton after the American system. The enterprise is the outgrowth of a suggestion by the German consul at Galveston, who undertakes to make arrangements for the preparation of the students.

The society has just sent a Texan named Becker to Dar-el-Salam, in German East Africa, who will be the first American expert to arrive there.

The latest reports from German East Africa indicate that interest in cotton growing is spreading and that many new communities are engaged in the industry. The crop this year will be the largest known there. It is expected Becker's work will consist principally in finding new localities adapted for the growing of cotton.

The Colonial Society points to a recent speculation in the American market as a reason for seeking if possible to make Germany independent of the American supply.

The gin at this place has turned out 515 bales of cotton and classes are good for 50 bales more.

SAURDAY NOV. 21 1903

Next Thursday will be observed all over the land as Thanksgiving day.

It's cold and dreary November but the editor has been feasting on roasting ears this week.

For years and years this has been a cow country but things look mighty like it's turning to a cotton country.

A wave from the icy regions of the Klondyke swept down over Texas this week, and it was welcome, very welcome.

Less than half of the cotton crop of the United States has been shovled into sight this season, yet it has brought almost as much as the entire crop of last year.

The cowman was strictly in it in the spring, but now he's wishing he was a cotton farmer. The cattle market is way down; the cotton market at the other extreme.

A crank gets in behind Roosevelt every now and then. There seems to be something peculiar about him to draw cranks as there is about yellow fever victims to draw mosquitoes.

The work in the cotton fields is about over but it will soon be time for transplanting the transplanted trans, which will furnish work for a hundred men until the middle of January.

This yellow fever disturbance has proved that the disease will not spread in San Antonio, and it's a pity that some of her physicians are trying to make a malarial swamp out of the health resort.

Deer are unusually scarce in this section this season so the hunters report. So far not a single hunting party from any of the Texas cities have been here, and very few are likely to come on account of the pasture men refusing to grant them permission to hunt.

Unfortunate Laredo has again been forced to appeal to the State for help. Every day there are from fifty to one hundred Mexicans going into Laredo, thus adding fuel to the flames of the disease. There is no employment there and besides preventing the stamping out of the fever, the burden of their support is falling on the people of Texas. There should be a law prohibiting people from entering a place where there is an epidemic.

A "role of honor" appeared in the columns of the San Antonio Light the other day. The roll was made up of an even half dozen doctors who denied the presence of yellow fever in that city and were tearing their pants in an effort to brand the State Health Officer and Government experts as liars. One of the doctors on this "honor roll," accompanied by a newspaper reporter went to Monterey some two months ago in search of yellow fever. He searched all Monterey, got a big lot of advertising, and then returned home and reported nothing doing—no yellow fever in the Nuevo Laredo Capitol. We doubt if he or any of the other liars who are tearing against the experts ever saw a case of yellow fever (before it appeared in San Antonio) and what they're reporting is a little...

A. R. HOWARD, Secretary, INTERNATIONAL & GREAT NORTHERN RAILROAD COMPANY.

DEMOCRATIC CHANCES IN 1904

Some of our Republican contemporaries are using the fact that on Tuesday the Republican strongholds, like Ohio and Pennsylvania, were stronger than...

level. They are saying to Democrats: "Oh, you are not so many!" Nevertheless, the Democrats all over the country are, as Brother Dickey would say, "moughtily hoped up" by the figures as they are settling down to a rationally indicative point. There are signs in the skies that a new day is about to dawn upon the union and that it will disclose a field covered deep with the Republican slain.

In 1900 McKinley had the electoral votes of twenty-eight States and Bryan of seventeen. Since that time the Democrats have won two more States and missed several others by only nominal pluralities. Recent elections point to the gain of four others as certainties in the voting of next year, making twenty-three, and leaving three others clearly but hopefully in the doubtful list.

The Constitution will not say here and now that the Democrats will win the Presidency next year. That will depend very largely upon the platform first and the men who represent it on the ticket. But we do say that present figures, combined with the local conditions in the States, point to the probability that the Democracy, given a wise platform and a "straight goods" candidate, can surely carry the following States and their electoral votes, viz:

Alabama, 11; Arkansas, 9; Colorado, 5; Florida, 9; Georgia, 13; Idaho, 3; Louisiana, 9; Maryland, 8; Mississippi, 10; Missouri, 18; Montana, 3; Nevada, 3; New York, 39; North Carolina, 12; Rhode Island, 4; South Carolina, 9; Tennessee, 12; Texas, 18; Utah, 3; Virginia, 12. Total, 217.

The electoral college of 1904 will be made up of 476 members. Half that number is 238, so that in one division it will require 239 votes to elect the President and vice-president.

Our figures of 217 for the Democrats is really only an average of the figures of the various States. It is not a case of yellow fever (before it appeared in San Antonio) and what they're reporting is a little...

and Illinois.

The vote of New York usually has a determining influence on New Jersey and Connecticut. A 5 per cent change of the vote in either State in favor of the Democrats would put them in the Democratic column. California's present Republican governor had only 1550 plurality in 1902, as against McKinley's 29,770 majority in 1900, and Oregon, that gave McKinley 13,146 majority in 1900 elected Chamberlain, Democrat, governor, by 276 majority in 1902.

These justified calculations show what a splendid fighting chance the Democrats have to give them zeal and hope for the contest next year.

It kind o' thrills through e bones that there will be an t horsed rough rider on the Whit House lot about this time next year.—Atlanta Constitution.

A tourist in Ireland who stayed over night at a wayside inn not frequented by visitors informed the landlord in the morning that his boots which had been placed outside his room door for cleaning had not been touched. "All sure," said the landlord, "an you might put your watch an chain outside your room door; this house and they wouldn't t touched."—Ram's Horn.

A young man so the story goes had a sister named Jessie, who was sent to a fashionable boarding school. When she went he remarked that she would not acquire any affectation often learned at such places. For a year he had no fault to find with that score. Then came a letter signed "Jessica" for Jessie, which he replied as follows: "Come letter received from you, George, and I'm in California yesterday. I'm a new horsica. Its a beauty. Its name is Mannica. Your affectionate brother, Sammica."

A newspaper man was the one in line at the box office of the popular theaters the other evening on the opening night. The first man asked for four seats, and when he started to pay for them the man in the box office said: "Oh, that's all right. There's no charge at all for those seats."

The man looked surprised, thanked the ticket manipulator, and went on. Then the newspaper man had his turn, and he said: "Please satisfy my impertinent curiosity and tell me why you wouldn't take that man's money."

"Well," said the treasurer, "I expect you didn't notice that the man was cross-eyed. If I had sold him the first ticket, we wouldn't have had a bit of luck through the whole engagement."—New York Times.

A certain young man from the east, where people are not regarded fast, journeyed into the west and hired himself to herd sheep. He was asked if he was a good runner. He said, "I am a professional, having been on the road for years."

With that assurance he was in charge of the herd out of range. When he returned to the herd in the evening and had them inside of the fold, he was asked if the sheep gave him any trouble during the day.

The "professional runner" who was better acquainted with cloth than sheep said: "A few of the lambs gave me quite a chase while bringing them down to the yards." The owner replied: "We have no lambs in that fold."

There he found a few rabbits yarded with the sheep and so badly exhausted that he didn't jump the fence to get at them. His persistence was good, for no more questions were asked.—Ex.

UVALDE, TEXAS. I have used Ripans Tablets with a great satisfaction. I can cheerfully recommend them. I have been troubled for about three years with what I called bilious attacks coming on regularly once a week. Was told by different physicians that it was caused by indigestion, of which I had several. I had the stomach extracted, but the attacks continued. I had seen advertisements of Ripans Tablets in all the papers but had no faith in them, but about six weeks since a friend advised me to try them. Have taken but two of the small sized boxes of the Tablets and have had no recurrence of the attacks. Have never given a testimonial for anything before, but the great amount of good which I believe has been done me by Ripans Tablets induces me to add mine to the many testimonials you doubtless have in your possession now. Marlin. 32 Cal. High Pressure Smokeless IN MODEL 1893. WE are prepared to furnish our full line of Model '93 rifles, sold for the new 32 Caliber HIGH PRESSURE SMOKELESS cartridge. This rifle has a built-in magazine and has a velocity of over 2,000 feet per second, making it the most powerful cartridge rifle for an American arm, with the exception of the .37-40 U. S. Army. It is especially desirable for use in game woods in North America. Another great advantage is that the barrel is protected and the rifle is made to resemble the regular 32-40 Marlin, so there is no trouble in carrying it. This makes it a regular black powder rifle. This rifle is the first High Pressure rifle developed in this country for a caliber larger than .30, and the first to use a slow enough twist to give long range with black powder ammunition. One day I saw a testimonial in the paper endorsing Ripans Tablets. I determined to give them a trial, and was greatly relieved by their use. I take a box of Ripans Tablets regularly. Didn't Stand to Loss.

Max O'Rell was booked to lecture in Hartman's hall in Grand Rapids something like ten years ago. Carroll Hartman was having a serious time in inducing the people of the valley to see the merits of lecturers. There was a big sale for the O'Rell lecture and Hartman wandered over to the Morton house in the afternoon to call on the French wit; also to pay him his fee of $100. "But I have not delivered the lecture yet. Suppose I should die before tonight?" said O'Rell, who could not understand why a manager should pay for something not yet delivered. "Oh, that's all right. I'd exhibit your corpse," replied Hartman. The witty Frenchman never recovered from the shock of Hartman's remark. At any rate, he refused to lecture in the city of Grand Rapids again.

Governor for Woman Suffrage.

Governor Garvin, of Rhode Island, has put himself on record as a believer in woman suffrage. In a recent address before the Rhode Island Woman Suffrage Association he said: "I think woman suffrage will be adopted in Rhode Island and in other New England states. It has been tried in other states, and has worked well, and sooner or later it will prevail throughout the Union."

The Governor's... Question.

Indulgent Father (dining in restaurant)—I presume, Horace, while you were attending that foreign medical college you formed the foolish and reprehensible habit of drinking beer? Son—Why, yes, father; I had to drink it occasionally. All the other students did. Indulgent Father—Waiter, two beers.

Why the Sky is Blue.

At the recent annual congress of the Swiss Society of Natural Sciences, held at Berne, a new and interesting theory as to the origin of the appearance of the higher atmosphere, which is popularly styled as the "blue sky," was advanced by M. Spring, a well known scientist of Lege. Hitherto the azure tint has been supposed to be due to the refraction of light upon minute corpuscles disseminated in the air. M. Spring, however, has conceived a new explanation of the phenomenon. He has carried on a number of experiments with luminous rays under almost all conceivable conditions, injecting them into agitated solutions and into a glass tube containing pseudo solutions such as chlorides of aluminum, of absolute limpidity, but although he could obtain red, yellow, violet, etc., under no circumstances could he obtain blue until by the use of electricity he secured a perfectly pure atmosphere in which blue was clearly discernible. M. Spring therefore concludes that the blue of the sky is purely electrical in origin and is an essential quality of the air.

"Light Housekeeping" En Pouts.

F Kendall tells of a man who was tugging on a train and pretended to become ill after eating a sandwich. The man opened his grip and took out a hot water bag. "He got a sympathetic porter," Mr Kendall continues, "to fill the water bag with boiling water and then he opened up his lunch basket, took out a piece of fried steak and warmed it up on the water bag. You talk about your light housekeeping! Then, after he had warmed the steak, he cut it all up with a pair of scissors and fed it to himself with a pair of sugar tongs because he would not take a chance with a fork going around a curve. But his feast was a limit. After he had eaten the steak he misremembered the stopper of the water bag and poured himself out a cup of hot coffee. He had the grounds in the bag all the time."

A Washington Story Spoiled.

The Hartford Courant denounces one of the numerous Washington traditions. George Washington stopped over night once at the home of Oliver Ellsworth. Tradition has reported that on that auspicious occasion he took the twin Ellsworth boys in his lap, and was found in the nursery dandling them on his knees and singing to them the well known hymn called "The Darby Ram." But the visit of General Washington was in 1789, and the twins were born in 1791.

The Industrious Hen.

In one year a hen eats food equal to sixteen times her weight, and lays eggs equal to about six times her weight. Her food costs about 1 cent a pound, while her eggs bring about 16 cents. An average hen will produce 240 eggs a year. Her food costs about 80 cents, and her eggs will sell for 2 cents each—or $4.80. Farm hens which are allowed to run at large cost the farmer from 47 to 83 cents a year for food. The first year is the most profitable age for hens.

Extensive Prohibition Territory.

According to statistics recently gathered about 30,000,000 people are living in prohibition territory in this country. This is more than one-third the entire population. In Maine, Kansas and North Dakota they have prohibition by state law, and in thirty-eight other states they have it by local option.

New York's Woman Lawyer.

The first woman to be admitted to the New York bar is Miss Gabrielle Townsend Stewart, who was entered upon the list of attorneys last week. Miss Stewart is a young Western woman, who has already acquitted herself brilliantly at the Ohio bar. In Cleveland, where she made her home, the social prominence of her family made her a belle before ambition persuaded her to study law. She is descended from an old Scotch-English family, many members of which have stood high in the legal profession of Great Britain for centuries. Her great-grandfather was at one time lord chief justice of the realm.

Sceptre's Rich Stakes.

The most successful race horse of the year seems to be the mare Sceptre, one of the most successful thoroughbreds ever raised in England. Up to the present time she has won something like $180,000. She has won the Jockey Club stake of 10,000 and the classic Two Thousand Guineas, Thousand Guineas, The Oaks, and St. Leger. She was fourth in the Derby, and in the Eclipse stake was defeated by Ard Patrick by a short head after having lead him all the way home. The only other mare that has approached her as a stake winner was the famous La Fleche, who won $172,040. Donovan holds the record for racing horses, having won $275,265 in his racing career.

Would Advertise Churches.

A prominent Milwaukee clergyman advocates the maintenance of a bureau of publicity in every church, his theory being that business methods should be employed in the conduct of religious as in secular affairs. People, he thinks, are not now less religiously inclined than in former times, but their interests are multifarious, and they need constant reminding of their church duties and obligations. Another clergyman of Haverill, Mass., takes the same view of the case, and publishes every Saturday in the local papers a prospectus of the Sunday services, as well as all church announcements and news. Of its advantages, he says that it keeps the Episcopal church before the people, furnishes instruction for those in the church and out of it, helps the rector in his work, and is the same scheme applied to parochial affairs that is so well exemplified by "our mission board and by every business."

Many Deaths in the Alps.

Some statistics published in Berlin of accidents during mountain climbing indicate that this season stands out as peculiarly unfortunate. The figures include Switzerland, the Tyrol, Italy and Germany. Altogether 148 serious accidents are recorded, involving 196 persons. One hundred and thirty-six persons have been killed either by falls, lightning, frost, or other causes. Sixty have been injured, and of these several subsequently succumbed to their injuries. The fate of ten persons who disappeared in the mountains has still to be discovered. July is accountable for thirty-seven accidents. August forty-four, September thirty, the others being spread over the remaining months of the year. Geneva authorities put the number killed at 300.

Britain's Cartoon Campaign.

It is largely a campaign of cartoons in Great Britain. Chamberlain may plant and Dalfour may water, but the cartoonists promise to give the larger portion of the increase on one side or the other. Here is Punch holding up his out as a jumping-jack, with Chamberlain pulling the string, and another cartoon represents a statue of Sir Robert Peel and Chamberlain side by side, the former leaning on its pedestal the words "He gave the people cheap bread," and the latter, "He gave the people cheap consols." This cartoon was circulated among the members of the stock exchange, copies being pasted on the interior wall of the house. Then here is a Chamberlain organ with a picture of the British lion confined in a cage, the bars of which are labeled "hostile tariffs," and against which the king of beasts chafes with impotent rage while the American eagle, the French rooster and the German dachshund run off with his food, labeled "British home markets."

Pharaoh Thothmes IV's Chariot.

The most interesting object found in the tomb of the Pharaoh Thothmes IV, by Theodore Davies, who has been excavating in the Valley of the Tombs at Thebes, is the chariot of the dead monarch. The body of it alone is preserved, but in a perfect condition. The wooden frame was first covered with paper mache made from papyrus, and this again with stucco, which had been carved both inside and out into scenes from the battles fought by the Pharaoh in Syria. The art is of a high order, every detail being exquisitely finished and the faces of Syrians being clearly portraits taken from captives at Thebes. The chariot is, in fact, one of the finest specimens of art that have come down to us from antiquity. Along with the chariot was found the leather gauntlet with which the king protected his hand and wrist when using the bow or reins.

Loaned Lowell His Cook.

With the engagement of May Coelet to the Duke of Roxburghe comes the inevitable flux of anecdote. The most recent tale is about the father of the present duke and runs something like this: When James Russell Lowell was sent to England as minister between him and the duke in waxed so strong... the duke insisted on lending Mr. Lowell his favorite cook, explaining that "it is only men of good digestion who succeed in war, diplomacy or in sport."

Best of Reasons.

A man in public life noted for his brusqueness was under discussion in cabinet circles. "There's one thing to be said in his favor, however," said Secretary Shaw, "and that is, he never importunes the departments to get promotions for his friends." "That's readily explained," commented Secretary... "He hasn't any friends."

Well Posted.

"And so Flanders is a candidate for congress! Has he any knowledge of political economy?" "Sure. His campaign has cost him only 80 cents so far."

Protest.

Doctor—"I should say that you have about three months to live." Patient—"Make it longer, doctor; I can never pay your bill in that time."

Switzerland's Most Popular Author.

The most popular author in Switzerland at present is not a novelist but a professor—Karl Hiltz, of University of Berne—and his most popular book is an ethical treatise, entitled "Gluck," of which more than 30,000 copies have been printed in a short time. Its theme is happiness. Unlike Schopenhauer, he believes that happiness is really attainable, although Goethe declared, when he was 75, that he had in all his life hardly had four weeks of real enjoyment. The secret of happiness, according to Professor Hiltz, lies in steady work of any kind.

Conscience of Money.

A strange case of bad conscience is reported from Lexington, Ind. A man there has just received a check for $5 from a man in Washington, and in the accompanying letter the man states that about 20 years ago he lived next to him and stole three of his geese. No charges were ever brought and no suspicion was attached to him, but he claimed that he had been unable to sleep well recently, as a flock of geese haunted his dreams when he went to sleep, and he thought that it must be because he had never paid for the geese he had stolen years ago.

A Hard-Working Candidate.

An Englishman relates the following election experience: "I was taking part in canvassing a constituency without a representative. I was announced as a speaker at a mass meeting held in a large field within shadow distance of a famous cathedral. One of the other orators delivered the most impressive speech I have ever heard. He spoke of the struggle of the poor, how they had to bear their burden. He made me almost cry by his eloquence. He talked about his own home, which he only just managed to keep together by 'the sweat of his brow.' 'Who is he?' I inquired. 'Well,' replied my friend, 'a candidate, he is known in his own town as "Pop-top Dick," because he is a prosperous pawnbroker."

J. W. THOMAS

United States Customs Inspector Woodlief Thomas came up from Laredo last Saturday and will spend several weeks here recuperating from a severe case of yellow fever. Mr. Thomas was stricken with the fever on October 10th and had one of the worst cases known to recover. He lost about 40 pounds in flesh and is yet very weak. Woodlief says numerous experiments have been made at Laredo in regard to the mosquito theory and everybody there is now thoroughly convinced as to its correctness. Many of the government men who are assisting in the search for cases among the Mexicans wear gloves and mosquito netting over their face, and although they handle yellow fever victims every day and help to bury them, they have never had the disease yet. A stranger will not lack for attention provided he is well screened from mosquitoes, otherwise non-immunes will not visit him. Mr. Thomas says that when he had the fever he was at Mr. Frank Moss' residence, and as soon as he was sick he was put in a screened room. There Mr. Moss' children came in several times every day to see him and even sit on the bed and played with him, and none of the family has had the fever yet. Mr. Thomas praises Dr. Murray, the International expert, very highly for his noble work at Laredo, and says he believes he can cure any case of yellow fever if he can get to it in time. He says Dr. Murray did some wonderful work in U. S. Consul Garretts case; he sat by the consul's bedside for 20 hours and kept him alive until the crisis had passed by injecting strychnine.

A FIVE DAYS TRIP.

EXPERIENCE OF ONE OF UNCLE SAM'S BOYS IN THE LAND OF THE AZTECS.

The following article was handed us by conductor Tom Barnes who picked it up in the railroad yards here the other morning. There was no signature to it, but it was evidently lost by one of the soldier boys from Ft. McIntosh, as they were here several hours Sunday.

"I took a five days trip down the Mexican Railroad last week. I was gone just five days—and never in my precious life have I had such days.

The beginning of it all was when I boarded the train—it stopped at every station, a few in between, and then some more besides.

And along the line the places were so close together that the train had to begin to stop before it commenced to start.

It just seemed to me like one continual case of coal-up, pull-up, puff-up and back-up.

I never got a chance to smoke up. Every time they would stop or start, I'd nod to something—until my neck got as limber as a piece of asparagus, and when we came to down grades the engine would cut loose from the train, run ahead to the next station and then wait and let the train come along and run into it. I asked and they told me that they did that so they could all stop at the same place, at the same time; otherwise they were apt to slide past four or five places, and they wouldn't know which one to back up to first, they were all so near together.

The first time they did this little trick, they caught me napping—that is I was not looking; I was standing on the back platform of the last car, when the train struck the back of the engine. The car struck the back of my head, the

I flew in so fast and so far that I passed the Conductor in the aisle. He said "Going through!" I said "Looks like it."—He said: "How does your ticket read?" I said: "One continuous trip," and just then I tripped over a valise and he said, "Well, your're getting it ain't you?" I said, "I should hope I am." Just then I came to another valise and I saw I could not step over it, so I asked the Conductor for a "stopover," and he gave me a push and down I went—all in a heap. But I saved my hands, by striking on my face. The Conductor looked at me and said: "That's it, get your back up." I said: "I can't see, but I think it is up as far as it will go." Then my coat-tail fell over the back of my neck, and a man—he was near-sighted, was looking for a place to strike a match on what he saw of me and at first I blamed my tailor. I thought something happened and before I could get up he struck two more matches on the same place then some one in the car yelled: "Three strikes, you're out," and I got up.

I looked around somewhat mad at first, but the train had stopped and I looked out of the window, and found I'd reached my destination, so here I call a halt.

MARLIN

THE MARLIN RIFLE, Model 1895, .35 caliber, is the best rifle made for the farmer, combining the good points of the old muzzle-loading squirrel rifle with the convenience and rapid fire of the most improved repeater. It is so constructed that the same rifle uses the following cartridges: .35 short and long rim fire, .35 short and long center fire, and is the only repeater made using rim fire cartridges larger than the .35 caliber. The short cartridges are just the thing for small game while the long ones kill hogs and beef handily. On the first 500 cartridges used you have saved the cost of a Marlin.

The Marlin Hand Book for shooters explains why this is so and tells how to care for, and how to use, fire arms. This valuable book free if you will send stamps for postage to THE MARLIN FIREARMS CO., NEW HAVEN, CT.
