One Death, Eight Injuries in 5 Days

A rash of accidents the past week have been wiping out vehicles in the area fast and furious. Eight area accidents left one person dead and at least eight injured through Sunday.

For almost a week, area highway partolmen have checked the equivalent of more than one accident a day.

Late Wednesday afternoon, August 27, Alfredo Alaya of Muleshoe flipped a grain truck which was being used to haul corn ensilage. Alaya lost control of the truck about three miles west of Muleshoe on 1760 and turned it over. No injured were reported from that accident.

In line with the attempt to beautify Muleshoe and the surrounding area, Muleshoe's city councilmen decided Tuesday morning to put 'teeth' into the existing junk car ordinance.

On being informed of the difficulty in getting owners of junked or abandoned automobiles and other vehicles to remove these vehicles from streets and property, the councilmen informed City Manager Albert Field to instruct Muleshoe City Police Chief Harrold White to strictly enforce the existing ordinance.

"Whereas, adequate protection of the public health, safety and welfare requires that such condition be abated;"

The penalty for failing to comply with the request to remove the vehicle from property states "...If the owner and/or the occupant fails, neglects or refuses to obey any order issued under the provisions of the preceding section, or if the premises are unoccupied, and the owner or his agent cannot be found, the City Manager or his representative shall abate such public nuisance by impounding the junked vehicle or junked vehicles and shall defray the expenses thereof out of any moneys in the city treasury available for such purpose. All expenses so incurred in the abatement of such public nuisance shall be charged against the owner of the lot, tract, or parcel of land, and a statement of the cost incurred by the City to abate such public nuisance shall be sent by registered mail, return receipt requested, to the owner of such premises..."

In other words, with the new 'get-tough' policy by the city council regarding junk cars, it would be well for everyone having such vehicles to begin the immediate disposal of such vehicle.

In other action Tuesday, the council passed a resolution affecting water and sewer rates; discussed the new city water wells and the new 1,000,000 gallon storage tank south of Muleshoe.

City Engineer Ralph Douglas said that soon the new well houses and pump stations would be built.

Councilmen approved payment to Nowlin and Martin for concrete work done in widening one-half block on West Avenue C, between Tri-County Savings and Loan and the alley across from the new city hall. Amount paid the concrete workers was $605.

Coming under discussion was a possible drainage problem on top of the new city hall and it was decided to contact the architect as it is an architectural problem.

Cutting of weeds on vacant lots and the possible condemnation of rundown and abandoned houses also received considerable discussion with no definite conclusion reached at the meeting. It will be further discussed at future meetings.

Several other minor items were discussed by councilmen before the meeting was dismissed.

Attending the meeting Tuesday morning were Mayor W.B. LeVeque; Councilmen Frank Ellis, Alex Williams and Lyndal Murray; City Engineer Ralph Douglas; City Manager Albert Field; City Secretary June Smallwood and Cleta Williams.

and a possible parking area for downtown.

The Muleshoe parks came under discussion by Rev. Walter Bartholf who is chairman of the Muleshoe Park and Recreation Board. He reported on the proposed city park and said that new lighting will soon be installed in the existing park, along with a blacktopped basketball area and commented that the school is building park playground equipment.

The Ministerial Alliance is adopting a resolution to be taken to civic clubs and social clubs concerning an outbreak of pornographic materials presently being received through the mail in the area, said Rev. Bartholf.

A report on the teacher appreciation dinners was given by Jo Harbin who thanked everyone who had taken part in that promotion.

Jerry Hutton gave numerous suggestions for next year's 4th of July Celebration and stated that all of these are suggestions which have been received in his office. He said that all could not be incorporated, but suggested that the BAC begin work now to enlarge the celebration.

Don Harmon, president of the Chamber of Commerce spoke briefly and Bob Stovall wound up with a report on the Muleshoe Athletic Booster Club and urged everyone to support the Muleshoe Mules from the beginning of the football season all the way through.

DARTMOUTH DEFENSIVE BACK--Joe Adams, son of Mr. and Mrs. J.K. Adams, has been named starting defensive back for Dartmouth. He graduated from Muleshoe High School and was named defensive starter during the 1968-69 season shortly after it began last year.

Gores Tour Northwest

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Gore have returned home after a tour of the Pacific Northwest and Canada, made under the sponsorship of Cappers Farmer Weekley. They were gone three weeks, they left home August 6 and drove to Dawson, Texas for an overnight visit with an aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. J.W. Jennings. The two couples drove to Bastrop and spent the night with Gore's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. M.A. Prokop.

The Gores and Prokops caught a train at Temple and rode all day through Texas, Oklahoma and into Kansas City, Mo. where they met their tour group. They slept a few hours on the train and at six were up to change for another one to take them to Chicago. From there they rode to St. Paul where they picked up more of the tour group and from that point to Glacier, Montana they just ate and slept and slept and ate.

At Glacier Park Lodge they saw "our own Muleshoe Jan Landers" and visited with her some. That night they saw a Hootenany presented by 600 youth employed in the national parks and were glad "to know we have some nice ones left".

Leaving there, the 69 persons on the tour rode to Seattle where they stayed two nights and three days, sightseeing. They saw the city of Seattle at night from the Space Needle, spent one day at Mt. Ranier and enjoyed two boat rides, went through the Government locks and down 21 feet out to Puget Sound and the Straits of Juan de Puca.

They arrived in Victoria, B.C. at 12:30 p.m. and had a tour of Boucharte Gardens where the flowers were "out of this world" - "but all of Canada grows pretty flowers".

Our next stop was Vancouver. We went by ferry to Hotel Vancouver and four couples from our group stayed on the 14th floor which was the same Queen Elizabeth stays on when she is in Vancouver - it was "just too pretty to tell anyone."

From Vancouver the party went to Jasper Park and on to Banff where they stayed two nights. En route to Banff they stopped off at the ice fields, ate lunch at the Chalet and walked down to the glacier to take pictures (everywhere one went one wanted to take pictures). They saw lots of elk, deer, moose, and goats but no bears and everyone had wanted to take pictures of at least one bear.

They visited Lake Louise and the Yo Yo Valley where they saw trains doing figure eights and their train backed up a grade. En route to Winnipeg they came upon a washed out tressel and had to be detoured by way of Prince Albert. Because of the delay they could not have a farewell dinner party as planned and instead had box lunches on the train.

Returning they saw thousands of acres of wheat not cut in Canada, lots and lots of corn in Iowa and Illinois still green. Thirteen of the group had

The Gore's thought a trip such as they took, by train and guided tour, is the easy way to travel. They recommend it.

COMMUNIST RULES FOR REVOLUTION (CAPTURED BY ALLIED FORCES IN DUSSELDORF MAY, 1919)

(A) Corrupt the young. Get them away from religion. Get them interested in sex. Make them superficial. Destroy their ruggedness. (B) Get control of all means of publicity and thereby: 1. Get people's minds off their government by focusing their attention on athletics, sexy books and plays and other trivialities. 2. Divide the people into hostile groups by constantly harping on controversial matters of no importance. 3. Destroy the peoples faith in their natural leaders by holding the latter up to contempt, ridicule and obloquy. 4. Always preach true democracy, but seize power as ruthlessly and as fast as possible. 5. By encouraging government extravagance destroy its credit, produce fear of inflation with rising prices and general discontent. 6. Foment unnecessary strikes in vital industries. Encourage civil disorders. Foster a lenient and soft attitude on the part of government towards such disorders. 7. By specious argument cause the breakdown on the moral virtues; honesty, sobriety, continence, faith in the pledged word, ruggedness. (C) Cause the registration of all firearms on some pretext, with a view on confiscation of them and leaving the population helpless.

NOTE: The above "Rules for a Revolution" were secured by the Florida State Attorney's Office from a known member of the Communist party who acknowledged it to be still a part of the communist program for overthrowing our government.

Hostile China Strikes Note Of Fear In Hearts Of Russians

(Editor's Note: This is the third of four exclusive articles from Moscow by veteran writer and newspaper-television executive Walter Brown, who has also served in key positions in the Department of State.)

Moscow -- That the Soviet Union is concerned and deeply so about the deterioration of relations with Red China is an inescapable conclusion any visitor to Moscow reaches after talking with observers here. This split has the Soviet people worried. For a number of years now the Russian propaganda machine has been pumping out stories about American imperialists and the long horns of capitalists, but it has not had the desired effect. An American can walk the streets of Moscow and Leningrad, the largest two cities, and there is no apparent animosity whatsoever. In fact, when the language barrier is overcome, many Russians will smile and act friendly in their own way. Just why all of this anti-American propaganda has not penetrated more raises some interesting questions. First of all, it is obvious that the Russian people themselves are not fearful of the United States as a potential enemy. They apparently remember more than the Soviet propaganda machine is willing to admit; and that is, the Russians still remember the United States as their ally when the Nazis were knocking at the door of both Moscow and Leningrad. These people know what invasion means, and this explains their concern about Red China. They were taught to believe that their homeland under Stalin was beyond successful attack by an outside foe. But they woke up one morning to find Hitler's troops storming in and almost capturing Leningrad which is the cradle of Communism, and Moscow, the seat of world Communism. The suffering of the Russian people during the German invasion is almost unbelievable. Although this has been a quarter of a century ago, to have an armed and unfriendly country on the border as close as Red China is something that strikes fear into the heart of the Russian people. Stalin at Potsdam and the other big three conferences kept saying the Polish corridor had been used by invading armies to ravage his people for decades, and he intended to close it with the defeat of Hitler. Hence East Germany and the satellite countries were brought under Soviet domination. There can be little doubt but that Russia has protected itself on the Western front, but Stalin and his successors apparently were not worried about their Chinese neighbors on the East. Relations with the East and not the West are what is causing the Kremlin to burn the midnight oil. And what happens between the governments of Moscow and Peking during the next weeks and months ahead must be watched with the realization that world history can well be in the making.

NEWS REPORT FROM WASHINGTON

Washington, D.C.--The price a national politician pays, because of the prying eye of the investigating press, is being demonstrated in the case of Senator Ted Kennedy. It was Kennedy's bad luck to wreck his car and drown a girl with him in a tragic accident. He might have gotten by with the accident somewhat lightly had he not been a man often mentioned as a possible President. As such, he must face the tireless investigation of newsmen. And they have already uncovered enough about his party night wreck to keep him awake nights. Even if the latest account that Kennedy and Miss Kopechne were going for a late swim, that Kennedy knew the way well, had often been to the same spot--is not accepted by all, it is a damaging report, because it comes after Kennedy had offered the nation on television a more innocent explanation. One of the two accounts is not true. The report that he asked his cousin to say he was driving the car, having later decided to face the music himself, is also damaging. It indicates, if one accepts it, the behavior of the man who has been boosted for President is not what it should be under stress. Would one want a man who leaves the scene of a fatal accident, fails to report it as required by law, and then suggest that another lie to police to protect him, be a man to have in the White House? Obviously many will think not, though some continue to accept the Kennedy version of events. The inquest in early September will involve questioning of a number of people. Newsmen will continue their search. Thus damaging details may continue to leak out in the press for some time to come. Kennedy may have caught himself in his own trap, if later press accounts of events that night are true. For he has given a public accounting of his actions which does not fit with certain stubborn reports. His credibility gap is therefore widening and he is feeling the same heat from the press that Richard Nixon once felt. Spiro Agnew felt in 1966 and Hubert Humphrey also felt in last year's political campaign. But he, unlike them, is tied to a fatal event with a young girl late at night under questionable circumstances and the others were linked to financial dealings questioned. Kennedy's plight is also that of the Democratic Party. In only one way the party is fortunate. If this event has finished Kennedy's hopes to become President, it has done so early in the Nixon era. There is still time for other Democrats to come forward. Yet the party is in poor position. It is split, the ultra-liberals which for so long have dominated it are in national disrepute, at least to a degree because of the current mess the nation finds itself in. What's more, President Richard Nixon is running a good ship and polls show a majority is behind him. He is doing most of what the Democrats promised to do and also carrying out reforms long needed, as he promised the electorate to do last year.

John Tower

The Senate will reconvene in the next few days and again get back to its daily work of legislation.

The pending business is still the military procurement bill but I am hopeful that passage will come with comparative speed. You will recall that this is the bill which contains funds for research and initial deployment of the Safeguard Anti-Ballistic Missile system which proved to be such a controversial issue shortly before the Congressional recess. We were able to withstand a concerted attack, although by a narrow margin, and the Safeguard system was approved. I expect the House to give its approval by a much larger vote. The bill contains authorizations for all the many defense department programs. Some of these are also somewhat controversial and that is why the bill is still under Senate consideration.

The Senate will be spending much of its time during the remainder of this year in consideration and passage of the fiscal 1970 appropriation bills which will provide the actual funds to carry on the work authorized in earlier legislation. There are at least a dozen of these bills each year and thus far the Senate has acted on only two of them.

Of vital interest to us all will be the Congressional action on recommendations for changes in our federal income tax system.

Before Congress recessed, the House passed a tax reform bill which called for reduction of the oil depletion allowance, which is so vital to the interests of all Texans, to 20 per cent. I am opposed to that reduction and when the bill comes before the Senate, I will support restoration of the full 27 1/2 per cent depletion allowance for oil. The bill is now before the Senate's Finance Committee and is expected to be reported to the full Senate by October 31.

Other provisions of the House-passed legislation include a reduction in individual taxes for most of us, a reduction in the number of tax-free foundations, a tax increase for most upper income taxpayers, and extension of the surtax from January 1 to June 30 but at a rate of only five per cent. Congress has already extended the surtax at the current 10 per cent rate through the end of this year, President Nixon had asked Congress for extension through this year at the 10 per cent rate and then another six months at five per cent. I believe it is vital that Congress provide the administration with this necessary tool in our efforts to combat inflation and keep this nation's economy healthy.

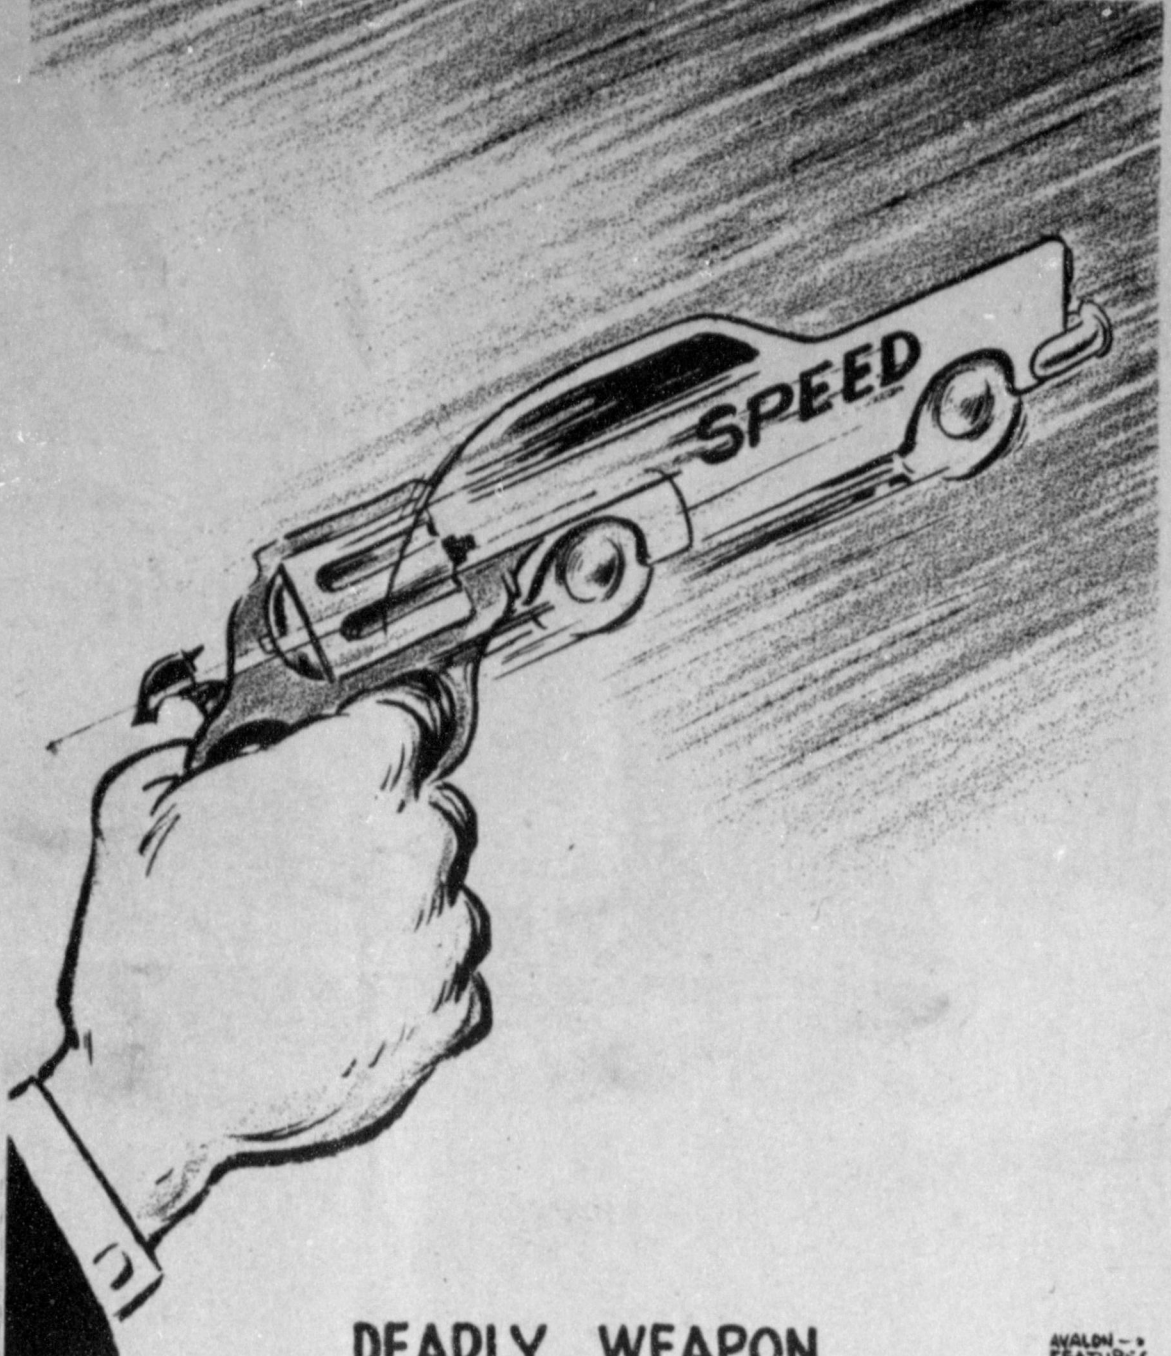

The tax bill, as passed by the House, would also affect the current tax advantage offered to purchasers of state and municipal bonds as an incentive which benefits local taxpayers. The current law provides tax free interest on state and municipal bonds. This allows state and local governments to sell their revenue bonds at interest rates which are lower than the rates offered by other competing investment possibilities.

In turn these lower interest rates help guard against increases in state and local taxes. This is why I favor continuation of the current tax-free status for interest on state and municipal bonds. The bill approved by the House would retain this tax-free interest provision but it includes language which will encourage state and local governments to issue bonds with taxable interest through provision of a federal subsidy. The language also discourages the purchase of bonds producing a total interest of more than $5,000 annually by any single individual.

Another piece of important legislation which I hope will gain passage as soon as possible includes significant reforms in our Selective Service System, commonly known as the draft.

Earlier this year, I was pleased that the President recommended draft revision legislation which closely paralleled a bill which I introduced last year and reintroduced in January.

My bill, and the President's requested legislation alike, would reverse Selective Service policy and take 19-year-olds first. Both would also limit the time of draft vulnerability for each young man to one year, barring national emergency. Under the existing system a man is vulnerable to the draft any

Dear Editor

Editor, Muleshoe Journal
Muleshoe, Texas

This letter is past due like many other things, but the Board of Directors of the Muleshoe Babe Ruth Baseball League wish to express our thanks to the many business concerns that helped to make our season a huge success.

Our boys have one of the finest diamonds in the state to play on (this was confirmed by the Pampa team which won the state tournament). So we can be proud of our baseball park. Many hours of hard work was donated to make it thus and it would take much space to print all the names of individuals and businesses that had a part in it. For next year we are in need of One Manager and One sponsor. Anyone that would like to offer their services for either can contact any one of the board day or night.

Anyone that has not seen the park just need to look south on Main Street and we invite you to do so. Wayne Williams, President; Si Stockard, Vice President; Beverly Heathington, Sec. time from age 19 through age 26. I believe such a length of time is unfair to our young men. It prevents him from being able to plan their lives with a high degree of certainty.

Both the President's proposal and my bill would allow continued educational deferments. An individual would be placed in his one year of prime vulnerability at the end of his period of deferment.

The President's proposal also includes a fair system of random selection to choose between the young men in their prime vulnerability year when our nation's military needs are less than the number of men available.

DRUG TESTS & HUMANS

The Food and Drug Administration plans to investigate reported abuses in drug testing on humans. A Senate Monopoly subcommittee was told the government would require "peer groups" to oversee experimental drug tests in hospitals, medical centers, old age homes and orphanages.

FARM WORKER DECLINE

The U.S. Department of Agriculture reports the number of hired farm workers declined in 1968 for the sixth time since 1960, 5 per cent below the 1967 figure. It was reported the 1968 farm working force totaled 2.9 million.

P.O. ON MAGAZINES

The Post Office Department has rejected a proposal to forbid magazines from carrying sections larger than the regular size of publication. Postmaster General Winton M. Blount made the announcement which came in response to complaints from magazine publishers about the proposed change.

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, Tex.--With the first special session of the Legislature a failure, Gov. Preston Smith called lawmakers back for a second try at writing a biennial budget and a balancing tax bill.

Midnight gavels fell August 26 with neither task accomplished after tax conference committees were unable to break a stubborn deadlock. Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes blamed the House refusal to place beer and liquor under the sales tax, House Speaker Gus Mutscher said that was a "smokescreen" masking other reasons for the Senate's refusal to come to terms with the Representatives. A Senate proposal to place food under a 2.5 per cent (reduced rate--sales tax was batted down unanimously (147-0) by the House. Thereafter, negotiations never budged beyond that point.

In calling for the second session, Governor Smith laid it on the line. "We have been treated to a spectacle of petty quarreling, jealousies between houses, obstinate and self-serving positions, demagogic rhetoric, childish personalities and undue interference from the lobby," said the Governor. "I believe the people of Texas are sick and tired of it, I know I am."

Smith warned that every function of state government would be "paralyzed or thrown into a state of uncertainty and confusion" if the new session failed to come up with a certifiable revenue appropriation by September 1.

Legislature responded by banging through emergency 60-day budget proposals which would operate the state government through October 31 while members sought to reconcile differences over long-range finances.

SAFETY PLAN RESUBMITTED

Texas failed to meet federal requirements with its traffic safety program, but a new plan now has been submitted. Highway Safety Bureau of the U.S. Department of Transportation is reviewing the second effort.

Governor Smith was notified by Robert Brenner, acting director of the bureau, that the plan presented last December, before Smith took office, was incomplete.

Comments on the new plan are encouraging, says Smith, but final action is not expected until fall. Meanwhile, said the governor safety efforts are continuing through the Texas Education Agency, the State Highway Department, the Department of

LATE HOURS PERMITS ISSUED

Texas Liquor Control Board now is issuing special late hours permits for taverns and private clubs in wet areas. A new law, effective September 1, provides that late-hours establishments can serve alcoholic beverages until 2 a.m. However, the statute is effective only in counties of 300,000 or more population (based on the 1960 census) and those where commissioners courts or city councils specifically approve. State fee of $100 is collected from taverns selling wine and beer until the new curfew hour. Private clubs which want to stay open until 2 a.m. must pay $500 for a permit. State Liquor Control Board must issue the permit or license.

SADLER CENSURE REFUSED

After lengthy debate, House of Representatives rejected a proposed resolution reprimanding Texas Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler for failing to cooperate with lawmakers. Rep. Frances Farenthold of Corpus Christi introduced the resolution (and resubmitted it to the second calling session) charging that Sadler misled a House committee inquiring about his handling of salvage asking the Railroad Commission

Nixon Welfare Policy: Fish or Cut Bait

BY PAUL HARVEY

President Nixon's proposal for fundamental reform of government welfare is both reassuring and timely.

At long last, the handout will be replaced by a handup. Our politically realistic President recognized that taxpayers still outnumber the nonworkers and they, the taxpayers, are fed up with a system that makes it profitable not to work.

So carefully was this welfare reform package prepared that even those politicians who are usually intimidated by the welfare bloc vote have voiced approval or said nothing.

There are, however, some individuals and some organizations attempting to scuttle the new concept. It's the business of the leaders of welfare organizations to persist in their demands for more. The only way they can hope to collect dues and contributions for the support of their organizations is to promise "more."

And because a nationwide TV forum is always so readily available to these self-appointed spokesmen for a few thousand people--America's disorganized majority had better make it self heard least this ambitious welfare reform should be still-born.

Presently workers are encouraged to loaf, fathers are encouraged to leave home, unmarried mothers are encouraged to have additional babies, welfare families are encouraged to migrate to "high payment states."

The Nixon "workfare" plan would change all that. It would assist a minimum income to everybody willing to work. It would even offer assistance to the long-neglected "working poor."

Under each family of four would be a financial floor. Such a family would be assured an income of not less than $1,600 a year--so long as the head of that household works or trains for work. It'll cost more than the present welfare program at first--$4 billion more. One in every 10 Americans would receive assistance of some kind.

But because the program would encourage workers to work, contributing to our nation's expanding economy, the expense is an investment which would further prime the productivity pump.

President Nixon would pay heads of families now on welfare while they trained for jobs. To enable welfare mothers to work, he would provide day-care centers for their children.

By the time Congress returns from summer recess on Sept. 3, many of our elected lawmakers will be among homefolks. Because your congressman is persistently subjected to pressures from professional parasites, be sure that he also gets the benefit of your point of view on this long-overdue reform. Under the President's new program it will always pay to work. Under the new "workfare" program nobody's going to starve--but all able-bodied Americans will be required, as we say in the Ozarks, either to "fish or cut bait."

operations on ancient Spanish islands which sank off Padre Island more than 400 years ago.

Sadler, appearing before the House rules committee, admitted his original testimony on the issue was evasive and misleading. However, he claimed his tactics were necessary because of the delicate nature of the subject under inquiry.

ATTORNEY GENERAL SPEAKS

CRIME RATE UP
Col. Wilson Speir, Department of Public Safety director, says Texas crime rate for the first six months of 1969 was 7.7 per cent higher than the comparable period in 1968.

Major crimes increased in all categories except murder and homicide, where the rate declined 8.3 per cent. Greatest increase was in robbery...up 31.2 per cent. Aggravated assaults increased 20.9 per cent, auto theft 14.8 per cent, burglary 9.7 per cent, rapes 7.2 per cent and thefts 3.9 per cent.

Urban areas experienced the greatest increase--8.5 per cent. In rural areas, the average hike was less than one per cent. In cities over 100,000, the increase was almost nine per cent. In those from 50,000 to 100,000, increase was 7.1 per cent and in cities of 25,000 to 50,000, 18.8 per cent.

Crime clearance rates for the period was 27 per cent...the same as 1968. Clearance rate for murders was 84 per cent, for rapes 66 per cent and robbery 39 per cent.

DPS noted that statistics show a major crime every one and one-third minutes during January-June.

ROAD PROGRAM APPROVED
State Highway Department has approved a $52 million highway safety and farm to market road improvement program for 1970.

Projects include construction work on 6,373 miles, to cost $51.2 million; and right of way and relocation assistance totaling $94.7 million. Some $871,000 was reserved for later assignment.

About 55 percent of the work will be on state and U.S.-numbered highways. Forty five per cent is assigned to Texas' farm to market road system.

Most of the work will serve to increase safety on the highways, and a large portion will go to reconstruction.

SECURITIES
Truman G. Holladay, deputy securities commissioner, says the State Securities Board has issued a cease and desist order against Pace International, Inc. of Austin (known as Paceco), prohibiting the sale of securities in Texas. He charged that the company had never been registered, as is required by law, with the board.

William King, securities commissioner, also announced that Wayne C. Davison has pleaded guilty to charges that he sold unregistered securities. King was sentenced in Harris County to three years in prison and given a probated sentence. One of the conditions of the probation is that Davison is to make full restitution to the investors.

Fausts Enjoy European Treasures

Eddie and Mickey Faust returned home Thursday, August 28, after a sixteen day tour of European cities and nursing homes in Europe sponsored by the Texas Nursing Homes Association. They were enthusiastic over the trip ("There is so much over there to see, Faust said"). The entire time could have been spent in Vatican City, they felt, but they particularly enjoyed Switzerland. The best part of all, though, they both reported was returning to their four daughters who stayed with their grandmother in Lubbock during the parents' absence.

Cities visited include London, Paris, Geneva, Venice, Milan, Florence, Rome, Madrid and Amsterdam.

They left Houston August 12, changed planes briefly in Amsterdam, and arrived in London the next morning at 9:40. That afternoon they visited two nursing homes in London.

The next morning a tour of West End took them to St. James Palace, the Changing of the Guards, Piccadilly Circus, Theatreland, Marble Arch, Hyde Park, Tate Gallery, Houses of Parliament, Westminster Abbey and Whitehall. Mickey said she found it unbelievable that "so many persons could be buried in one church". They also saw the crown jewels in the Tower of London.

Leaving the city of London they traveled through the Thames Valley to Oxford and Stratford-on-Avon country to Shakespeare's birthplace and to "Ann Hathaway's cottage".

The next city visited was Paris where they had almost two days. They were particularly impressed by the Louvre where they saw the "Mona Lisa", "The Winged Victory", "Venus de Mile" and many more famous paintings and sculptures. The very old paintings, many of them extending to the tall ceiling, were "really something", they thought. The Egyptian relics, many of them displayed on the lower levels of the Louvre, were so interesting.

They found the Palace of Versailles, with its 1800 rooms, magnificent. It was built by Louis XIV and is more than a half mile long. It was here the Treaty of Versailles was signed in the Hall of Mirrors.

The Fausts enjoyed Switzerland more than any other country visited. Here they took a full day's excursion to the Castle of Chillon (pronounced Sheon) along the edge of Lake Geneva. They went up on the side of the mountain among the terraced vineyards. Lunch was served to them at a hotel on the mountainside overlooking Lake Geneva. En route to the Castle they traveled such narrow roads through little villages "it seemed the bus would scrape the sides of the buildings." The weather was delightful.

The Fausts arrived in Geneva on the last day of a three day festival and enjoyed walking through the streets where natives were ridding themselves of frustrations by hitting passersby on the head with noisemakers, past booths selling grilled sausages or chickens on spits. It was a gay time and the travelers just entered into the spirit of the festival and enjoyed it.

Leaving Geneva, they flew to Milan but boarded a bus there and went to Venice. The only means of reaching their hotel at Venice was on a boat. They enjoyed a gondola ride the same evening seeing the ornate Venetian palaces and thought it very lovely.

A tour of St. Mark's Square which included the Cathedral of St. Mark was perhaps their most memorable experience in

"He gets more business from that other state."

Big Enough to Accommodate Small Enough to Appreciate

Venice, Faust told of the four horses sculpted for Caesar by the Arch of Triumph in Rome, in 400 A.D. which are now a part of St. Mark's Cathedral. When Napoleon captured Rome they were moved to Paris and after the defeat of Paris they were taken to St. Mark's Cathedral.

A visit to a glass factory in St. Mark's Square to see some of the world famous Venetian glass was most enjoyable.

The Fausts bought most of their slides but also took some. In most of the cathedrals they visited the light through stained glass windows was not sufficient to permit photography. The next city visited after Venice was Florence where they were awe stricken by Michaelangelo's works. They saw the statue of "David" and six other unfinished pieces and the sixteen famous door panels in bas relief.

Mickey thought it singular that although women were allowed in the Cathedrals without head coverings, if they wore sleeveless dresses they were required to cover their shoulders. (She happened to have a scarf that sufficed.)

"Rome is old, old, old", the Fausts said, and most of it built on the ruins of earlier civilization. St. Peter's Cathedral was built over St. Peter's grave and there is an excavation fifty feet below where he was actually buried. The Basilica of St. Pablo was built over the grave of St. Paul and the walls are covered with heavy gold.

They saw a pagan temple built in 300 A.D. and still used today. The walls are two feet thick and the only light comes from an open hole in the ceiling 23 feet across. Many pagan temples are being dug from Roman ruins, buildings destroyed by an earthquake.

Rome is brilliantly lighted at night, playing up such buildings as the Colosseum, or Trevi Fountain (the movie Three Coins in a Fountain was based on it).

Vatican City is so full of treasures to be enjoyed the Fausts wished for much more time there. The Vatican Museum, St. Peter's Cathedral and the Sistene Chapel and other buildings are all connected with hallways and seen one.

The Fausts stood in awe at Michaelangelo's "Pieta" which was sculpted when he was only 23 years old and was the only one of his works which was signed (because he was then unknown in Rome.) They marveled at his paintings on the vaulted ceiling of Sistene Chapel. The paintings on the ceiling required eleven years to complete and were done mainly while he lay on his back (and all the while he would have preferred to be doing sculpture rather than painting).

The cracks in Michaelangelo's paintings from age are not visible from the floor. The paintings on the walls were done by his students and are fading, but the Master's painting holds its colors. He mixed his own colors, quite often from bugs which no longer are found.

The Sistene Chapel is the building where Popes are elected. During elections Romans know as long as black smoke rises, the Pope has not yet been elected but when they see white smoke rising they know there is a new Pope.

They saw the "Mona Lisa" and other famous paintings and noted that whatever angle they were viewed from the eyes followed the viewer. The beautiful Belgium tapestries hanging from ceiling to floor in the Vatican Museum were beyond description. They thought a map of the "flat world" made prior to Columbus' time amusing and interesting.

From Rome the party went to Madrid, a lovely country with ultra modern cities. Here they saw bullfights and saw a matador flip the bull. That evening they enjoyed seeing flamingo dances.

The last city visited was Amsterdam where they saw Rembrandt's paintings in Rijk's Museum. They saw Anne Frank's house and visited a diamond factory but said there were "no samples being given that day". They enjoyed a charming Dutch guide named "Wilhamina" who explained that houses slanting out toward the canals were built thus so boats could unload cargo easier.

Faust said they found no "Texas food" anywhere on the trip and the dearth of good milk was hard to believe. Even ice was hard to find. They had fun trying with hand signs to communicate for their everyday needs.

The beauty of Switzerland and the innumerable number of art treasures to be linger with them. "It was wonderful, but it's good to be home."

IT IS YOUR MONEY

You have a right to know these facts

You spend a lot of money for auto insurance. You have read wild statements about insurance costs and companies. If you would like some plain talk, here it is.

They say . . . Auto insurance companies are guaranteed a profit.

FACT: Before insurance companies can make a profit they have to first pay to have wrecked cars repaired or replaced, pay hospital and doctor bills for folks injured in auto accidents, pay for stolen or stripped cars, pay for cars damaged by hail, fire, wind or flood waters, pay wages or commissions to 95,400 Texans who give service to policy holders in every county in the state, pay taxes and operate their companies. If there is anything left after all these payments have been made, it is profit.

They say . . . Texas auto insurance rates need to go up 11.1 percent.

FACT: The evidence is very clear. Accidents are up. Medical costs are up. Repair costs are up. Auto thefts and vandalism are both up. All this forces rates upward. Facts and figures prove that a 17 percent increase is needed now.

They say . . . There is nothing you can do to lower your auto insurance costs.

FACT: You can't lower labor and medical costs. You can't lower automobile and parts costs. You can help reduce the number of traffic accidents and crimes against automobiles. The accident that doesn't happen does not boost the cost of auto insurance. The car that isn't stripped or stolen does not increase the cost of your auto insurance.

Let Governor Smith, your Mayor and your County Officials know that you want a stop put to Texas' growing traffic accident and crime tolls . . . that you want the law enforced. Good law enforcement can reduce accidents and crimes against cars.

Lower accidents and crime rates can mean lower auto insurance rates for you. Isn't this worth a little effort on your part?

Field Day Set At High Plains September 11

Hundreds of West Texas area farmers are expected to be on hand September 11 for the 13th Annual Field Day at the High Plains Research Foundation.

With the addition of agricultural chemicals and seed distributor exhibits to the regular features, the Field Day is expected to be one of the most successful since the Foundation began in 1956.

The chemicals and seed displays will be exhibited in a tent on the lawn south of the Moody Building near area where field tours will begin.

The chemical and seed displays will become a part of the farm machinery exhibits which has proven to be one of the most successful features of Field Day activities. It is estimated that the farm machinery exhibits will number some 50 to
