Brad McCoy issues challenges at Chamber Banquet

Still looking like he could suit up, pull a helmet down over his head and go out for a long pass, former ACU football standout proved to be an engaging speaker at the Chamber of Commerce banquet last week. Brad McCoy has been instilling values in young men since his days as graduate assistant in the football program at ACU. Along the way, his teams have amassed an enviable record of 147 wins, 63 losses and 2 ties. Leaving his trademark of success in San Saba, Kermit, Hamlin and Jim Ned, McCoy is now riding herd on one of the finest programs in Texas at Graham High School.

Introduced by Karen Lenz, McCoy spoke about the role of perceptions in our lives. How we deal with perceptions of ourselves and other people as well as their perceptions of us is pretty much what defines us. Each person in the audience was encouraged to search his or her own heart to determine if we really accept the most of ourselves. McCoy offered the suggestion that we should not "limit our challenges, but rather challenge our limits." The real challenge then becomes seeing how much more we can do... for our churches, for our community, for our business and organizations. Small communities that continue to meet challenges successfully are the ones that stay on the map.

McCoy shared some interesting stats from a survey of Fortune 500 companies in which they were asked to categorize their employees into PULLERS (those who are willing and capable of acting as leaders), RIDERS (those who just go along with the group) and the ROCKS (those who like to get in position to stop progress). The companies collectively rated 29 percent of their employees as Pullers, 54 percent Riders and 17 percent as Rocks.

McCoy's challenge to the audience at this point was to try to get everybody in our collective associations to move to the next level; thus making all the groups in town stronger and more productive.

The glint of fatherly pride in his eyes was hard to miss as he shared stories of his three sons, most notable at the time being Colt, the starting quarterback for the University of Texas. He and wife Debra will certainly have a full schedule this fall, as they try to catch all of Colt's games, while keeping up with Chance at ACU games and of course, his own games with Case, a senior at Graham High School.

Admitting that he was a black and red football fan at heart, Chamber president David Estes confessed that he did enjoy watching Colt leading the orange charge—except for one game a year.

Estes presided over the annual gathering in the Family Life Center of the Baptist Church. Approximately 100 folks enjoyed the fajita dinner catered by Mexico City Cafe and a full evening of success stories.

Debbie Gosnell shared an update of progress by the EDC. She recognized the Wagon Roadside Cafe, Montgomery's Automotive and Parker Iron Works as the New Businesses of the Year. Other businesses being helped by the EDC this past year have been Hardwick's, as they have expanded into a year round operation and Pancake's Home Stitchin', who can now offer wider services through the acquisition of additional technical equipment.

The Subway Shop was recognized as the Business of the Year. Keith Lawrence presented the annual award to Tim and Denise Coulter and Yvonne Peevy. What started in 1996 as one little sandwich shop in the old Lawrence Feed Store on South Main has grown dramatically as the Coulters have expanded steadily into the fast food market. After opening shops in Cisco and Clyde, they took on Abilene, where they now operate five successful eateries. Coordinating the entire operation from the local site, they currently have 70 employees on their payroll—making them truly deserving of the award.

The fun-filled cake auction brought the evening to a close as Wimpy McCoy worked the crowd for $550 for the goodies donated by Arlene Stephenson, Dee Harrell, Kathy Chesshir, Shirley Smith and Wilma Lawrence.

Belton Truck Driver Killed in One-Vehicle Accident

By Vanda Anderson
Editor

Around 11:20 a.m. Monday, July 20th, Curtis Carl Kielman, age 64, of Belton, was driving a cattle truck down Highway 36 when he suffered an apparent heart attack and lost control of his 18-wheeler.

Gene Dillard, of Cross Plains, was directly behind the truck when the incident occurred. He stated that the truck was traveling west when it suddenly veered to the left.

There were no vehicles coming down the left lane and no one in the parking lot at Village Market when the 18-wheeler took out the stop sign at Chestnut Street and crossed over to the front lawn at 36 West Motel. It hit a small tree and finally came to rest within 12--18 inches along side of the motel. Justice of the Peace Burlie Taylor stated that the truck's antenna was touching the roof of the motel. Miraculously the motel building did not receive any physical damage.

Dillard followed the truck to see if he could help the driver. He noted that he was slumped over and the doors were locked. Dillard took a metal bar and broke out the window. "A nurse appeared on the scene about that time and I helped her into the truck to check on the man. The truck was out of gear and I wondered if the driver had kicked it out to slow it down," Dillard remarked. Kielman was pronounced dead by J.P. Burlie Taylor.

Kielman drove for a company out of Teague and the trailer was full of cattle at the time of the accident.

Baird, Cross Plains rural health clinics to benefit from stimulus funds

Editor's Note: This article appeared in the July 16th edition of the Albany News.

By Kathrun Stapp

Callahan, Shackelford and Stephens counties community health clinics will benefit from the federal stimulus package to boost health care for low income patients.

The Shackelford County Community Resource Center of Albany will receive $374,110, the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services announced last week.

The funds come from the U.S. Health and Human Services Department through the Increased Demand for Services Community Health Center Grants, the White House announced Friday.

SCCR is seeing five to 10 new patients daily, according to SCCRC executive director Susan Jones. It's projected to add 2,000 patients within another year.

The SCCRC clinics will use the funds to implement electronic medical records systems connecting their multiple locations.

"We are looking at a few different systems right now," said center chief financial officer

Meagan Marshall. "I'm going on-site to see other clinics and how well their systems interface with billing and other operations before we invest our money in one."

Health centers that serve the poor are among the first places the federal stimulus package is being spent.

The stimulus law sets aside $2.5 billion for free and low-cost health clinics, and a big chunk of it—about $500 million—is already being spent.

An electronic records system is extremely expensive, counting the costs of equipment and training personnel to make it work. Susan Jones, executive director of Shackelford County Community Resource Center, said that electronic records will greatly improve the efficiency of the organization.

SCCR primarily serves patients in Shackelford, Stephens and Callahan counties, Jones said. Services provided include health care, dental care and counseling services at clinics in Albany, Breckenridge, Cross Plains and Baird, the newest one.

The new funding will enable the Shackelford County Community Resources Center to hire three people who had lost jobs to work on the electronic medical records transition, Jones said.

The clinic serves the uninsured and underinsured as well as indigent patients and insured patients.

The clinics mainly serve the uninsured, but SCCRC clinics also see people with insurance, Jones said.

The clinic charges on a sliding scale.

Low cost health clinic executives say the money will allow them to keep their doors open as the rolls of uninsured patients grow. An estimated 64 million people use rural health clinics, a number that is expected to rise as people lose their jobs and health insurance.

"I look at the stimulus bill as one step to health care reform," said Maggie Elehwan, vice president for government affairs and policy at the Washington-based National Rural Health Association. "It isn't everything."

The Shackelford County Community Resource Center received a $150,004 grant in late March. Those grants were expected to provide health care to 149,445 more patients in Texas.

9 Students Attending EMT/ECA Course

The Cross Plains EMS Volunteers were called for nineteen 911 EMS ambulance runs for June. They drove, attended and served 108 volunteer hours providing professional services as trained and qualified Emergency Medical Technicians, Attendants and drivers.

The 108 hours may not seem like "that much". However, to accomplish the timely 19 Emergency Responses, every day your trained and committed members were on call 24 hours for a total of 2,160 hours! That is a bunch!

Currently, rather than the usual and intended 6 shifts a month, some like Scott Bland (18), Donnie Dillard (16), Mark Ring (16), Charles Chesshir (13), John Swift (13), Debra Childers (12.5) and David Holmes (12.5) are serving more than double shifts!

The 3 month intensive 2009 Professional EMT/ECA Course (Emergency Technician/Emergency Care Attendant) began as scheduled on Tuesday, July 7 at the EMS ambulance bay with nine dedicated students.

This demanding course requires 125 hours of scheduled classes, over 250 hours of study plus review, clinicals with participating hospitals, National Testing, and state licensing.

Each graduate will have accomplished a new measure of self-discipline, commitment and intensive EMS training. And each will be a welcome addition to our Cross Plains roster of committed serving volunteers.

How much do we need these new volunteers? As the above figures demonstrate, they are greatly and urgently needed. Likely bureaucrats do not understand but this class is another example of local community leaders serving, recognizing the need, stepping up to the plate and 'taking care of itself', doing what we can. It's the real America.

We also still need drivers. Please call Scott Bland (254-725-7535 and leave a message) or David Holmes (254-725-7141) for membership forms.

OBITUARIES

Rev. Doctor Roy House Zuefeldt

The Reverend Doctor Roy House Zuefeldt passed away after a lengthy illness on July 14, 2009. He was preceded in death by his wife Katy of 63 years in January of this year.

He was born September 26, 1925 in Dallas to Arthur and Maude Ellen Zuefeldt. He is a graduate of Sunset High School in Dallas. During World War II he was an officer in the Navy where he served on a mine sweeper in the Pacific. Upon graduation from high school he was one of the youngest persons to enter Texas A&M. He graduated from the University of Texas with a degree in chemical engineering where he then went to work for Texaco as one of their youngest engineers.

After doing that for a few years, he felt God's calling for him to be a minister. He then attended McCormick Theological Seminary in Chicago and won a scholarship to obtain his Doctorate from the University of Edinburgh, Scotland.

While studying in Scotland he and Katy adopted a daughter from Germany. Upon his return to Texas he served as minister for a Presbyterian Church in Cross Plains. He then was a pastor for Polytechnic Presbyterian Church of Fort Worth. Then he became pastor for Northminister Presbyterian Church in Dallas, where they adopted a daughter and then a son from the Salvation Army home in Fort Worth.

He became pastor of First Central Presbyterian Church in Abilene. While serving the Lord, he served on many boards and committees within the church as well as being on the Board of the Presbyterian Children's Home in Waxahachie, The Salvation Army and YMCA to name a few. He was also a short term missionary in Thailand. He served as visiting minister to churches in Scotland and England.

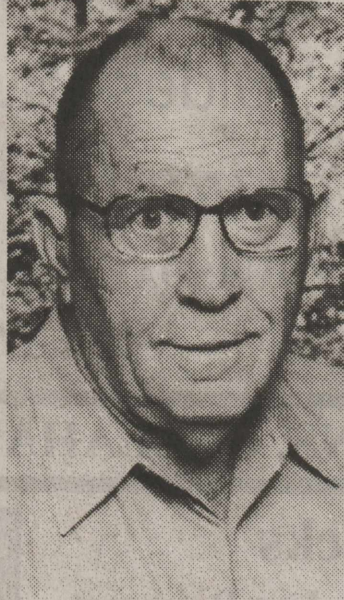

He has published several books on the Saints of the Church and the meaning of the stained glass windows in First Central Presbyterian Church of Abilene.

He will be remembered as one who never forgot a face or name. He had a quick wit about him and could turn almost any situation to one where laughter was abundant. He had a brilliant mind and played a mean game of chess with anyone who dared.

He dedicated his life to serving the will of God and that was very apparent in the people he helped. He will be missed by so many. A dedication of his life will be held Wednesday, July 22, at 2:00 p.m. at First Central Presbyterian Church in Abilene.

Survivors include his daughters, Ellen Arnold of Round Rock and Mary Katherine of Dallas; his son, David Zuefeldt and his wife Julie of Austin; three grandsons, Sean Rawson and Taylor and Cameron Marks of Austin.

Donations may be made to the Salvation, Presbyterian Medical Missions or the YMCA.

N.L. LONG, JR.

N.L. Long, Jr.

N. L. Long, Jr., age 80, of Brownwood, died peacefully on July 14, 2009, at his home, surrounded by his family and faithful pets J. R. and Tiger. A Celebration of N.L.'s life was held on Saturday, July 18, 2009 at the Davis-Morris Funeral Home Chapel.

N.L. was born in Dressy, Texas to Norrell and Zeldia Barr Long February 17, 1929. He attended Dressy Grade School and graduated from Cross Plains High School with the great and famous class of 1946. Later he attended Texas A&M and Tarleton University where he carried a 4.0 grade average in Campusology. About that time "Uncle Sam" pointed his finger at N.L. and said "I need you," so for the next two years he served in an Engineer's Battalion ending up in Greenland.

On July 17, 1953, he took Ann Holland as his bride, with Rev. Walter Chapman performing the double ring ceremony. The couple celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary in 2003 by spending several months in lovely Ruidoso enjoying the mountains, and the weather.

N.L. worked for Amerada-Hess Oil Co and then in 1959 N.L. moved to Brownwood and served as a deputy sheriff for Brown County under Ray Masters and Joe Townsend. He later moved back to Callahan County and served as a deputy for Homer Price. N.L. later went to work for 3M Company where he worked until his retirement. He also farmed and ranched in Callahan and Brown Counties. He was a 32 degree Mason with membership in Brownwood Lodge #279, the Heart of Texas Shrine Club and was the best left-handed tambourine player in the Shrine Band.

The family would like to give special thanks to all of N.L.'s Red Wagon buddies who gave him more enjoyment than a person has a right to expect at 5:00 AM in the morning, Billy, Roland, Dudley, Pete, Walter B., Danny, Sam and Shirley, and Danny and all the other early risers. Special thanks also to all the gang that played dominoes with N. L. and let him win once in a while, Bill, L.G., Wayland, Jack, Howard, and others.

Thanks just isn't enough to say for all the Texas Bank Coffee Room Gang that listened daily to N.L. talking Republican/Democrat politics.

N. L. is survived by his wife of 55 years, Ann Long of Brownwood, a son Donald Long of Cross Plains, a nephew Tracy Long and wife Tina of Katy, uncle C. A. Barr of Coleman, five cousins, Dorothy Arnwine of Merkel, Emma Copping of Miles, Charlsye Morriss of Lake Brownwood, Linda Lair of Belton, and Bill Harris of Baird.

N.L. was preceded in death by his parents, a brother Sammy Long of McCamey, and grandparents, Sam and Hattie Long and Charlie and Essie Barr, all of Cross Plains.

The family suggests that memorials be made to the Suez Temple Patient Transportation Fund, 2915 Loop 306, San Angelo, TX 76904.

Condolences, memories, and tributes can be left for the family at www.mem.com.

HOPE FOR TOMORROW

Tiredly, I walked out onto the Patio to shake the small area rugs. Thinking all the while of the other mundane things that needed to be done, I noticed the crocuses were just peeking through the cold, dark earth and the hyacinths were up ready to bloom. I sat down on the step to get a better look and felt the warm sun. It was cool, really too cool to sit outside without a jacket but I hardly noticed because the fresh, clean smell of yesterday's rain along with the morning sun put new energy into my soul.

For a few moments my heart sang; yes, right then every thing did seem right with the world. For a few minutes I was able to put aside the trials that beset me when I had stepped out into the fresh air. Evidence of renewal was everywhere. The further I looked the more evidence I saw. After the long winter and the weight of snow and rain the fragile little plants were anxiously pushing their way through the warming earth to once again brighten the lives of all who would take a moment to look at them.

I thought of the times that I had always felt I was too busy to just sit and drink in the beauties around me - seeing them from the car window was enough. But then on our wedding anniversary thirteen years before, my husband and I sat in the doctor's office as he announced a diagnosis of breast cancer.

The nearest treatment center was three hours away. The proposed regimen was I would take treatments five days a week and could go home for the week-ends. Treatments were marked off on the calendar but I could not understand why my body would not cooperate with me. Finally my doctor informed me that I was suffering the ill effects of radiation, called pneumonitis. Such was my new interruption. It manifested itself as a severe case of pneumonia. I struggled with extreme tiredness, severe coughing, chills and high fever. Unlike other respiratory diseases, it does not respond to antibiotics. Days dragged into weeks and I often thought bitterly, "When will this end?"

Gardening and flowers had been my passion. Every day, I looked out the windows to see if I could see any of my flowers peeking through the earth as the snow melted. I told myself, "they will never make and neither will I."

This was a new way of living for me - discouragement had never been a part of my life but now. Early one morning my phone rang and a very busy religious leader asked me how I was feeling. As he continued to talk to me I began to hear answers I had been struggling with and praying about. For one of the Lord's busiest servants to take time for me was so gratifying and very humbling. Our conversation brought the relief I so desperately needed. Even though physically, there remained a mountain to climb, I had now received inspiration to help me understand some of the injustices of life.

The next morning dawned a beautiful spring day. I was determined that I would walk around the lawn and stop at each flowerbed. As I stopped to rest at the edge of the first bed, I could hardly believe my eyes. There were little green shoots everywhere, each reaching upward to the light and straining for the warmth of the sun.

Just like the perennials, I too had come through the long hard winter.

Thirteen years later on our 50th wedding anniversary, the doctor confirmed that I did indeed have a battle ahead of me, this time the treatment would be chemotherapy.

I had once again come through a long, hard winter, battling cancer again. This time the battle was lymphoma and once again I had reached for the warmth and strained for the light. Light that only God could give. As He gently guided and I often resisted, His love continued. Everywhere I look this morning I see what is truly a gift from God. I will never again take life for granted. God is in His Heaven and that can make all right with the world.

Yes, each day brings its own priceless miracle - the renewal of life and a promise of tomorrow.

By Dorothy Casper

Renewal

I have always had hope for tomorrow. However, living twenty two years with an incurable illness has dampened my enthusiasm for tomorrow. Not as many things speak to me. Like the story above, looking at the lilies in my flower bed came to my attention. They were a pure white with a freshness man can not create and had a beauty only nature can hold and contain life unexplainable.

Tomorrow holds promise only the Creator can bring forth, and no one knows the possibilities it holds, regardless of the problems it may contain. We do not set the limits for tomorrow. We do not order the fullness tomorrow can contain and the Creator ordains the working thereof.

I have decided to embrace the possibilities of tomorrow. Since they are from the Creator the hope is unlimited and the joys may be beyond imagination. Who knows? Here is to tomorrow!

"I Don't Love Her Anymore"

A forty year old man suffering through the classic "mid-life crisis", sat down to talk to a preacher about his problem. He explained how his marriage of twenty years was no longer satisfying or fulfilling. Finally, he reached the "bottom line". "I just don't love her anymore," he said, "What can I do?"

After a brief moment of reflection, the preacher said decisively, "As I see it, you have only one option." The man perked up with anticipation. Was the preacher going to suggest a divorce? Would he be free to pursue the thrilling life-style of the younger generation? What was the preacher's advice? "Seems to me that the only thing left for you to do is repent and start loving her again!"

What does a person do when they realize such a situation exists? The Bible says, "Husband love your wives." (Ephesians 5:25) and "Wives love your husbands." (Titus 2:4).

To fail to love your mate is to commit sin. And sin always requires repentance if there is to be forgiveness. Be careful. Do not confuse commanded love with those things of an infatuated teenager. It is more than that. It is sacrificial love that seeks the interest of the one loved more than self. It is the kind of love Jesus has shown us (Ephesians 5:25).

I encourage you to join with us for worship and Bible Study this Sunday at the Cross Plains Church of Christ.

Local students attend Farm Bureau Youth Leadership Conference

San Angelo - Attending the Texas Farm Bureau's 46th annual Youth Leadership Conference held at Angelo State University, June 22-26, were (left to right): Shawna Lewis of Cross Plains, Amanda Short of Abilene and Savana Wyatt of Cross Plains. The students were sponsored by the Callahan-Shackelford County Farm Bureau. They joined more than 330 high school juniors and seniors from over 150 counties across the state.

The purpose of the conference is to provide the students with a better understanding of their American heritage, the capitalistic free enterprise system, and to inspire leadership development, according to Sam Snyder, president of the Callahan-Shackelford County Farm Bureau.

During the weeklong event, students discuss topics such as the free enterprise system, constitutional government, Americanism, leadership and goal setting. Students are encouraged to meet with school and civic groups upon their return home to share what they've learned.

A representative of Angelo State University welcomed students to campus at Monday's opening session. Afterward, Chad Hymas of Utah, a motivational speaker, spoke about "Setting and Achieving your Goals." Students were captivated on Tuesday morning as Hymas shared his personal message of "Overcoming Adversity."

ATTENDING TEXAS FARM BUREAU'S 46TH ANNUAL YOUTH LEADERSHIP CONFERENCE held at Angelo State University, June 22-26, were (left to right): Shawna Lewis of Cross Plains, Amanda Short of Abilene and Savana Wyatt of Cross Plains.

Charles Benton, TFB Field Representative, and Drew Alders, 2008 Free Enterprise Speech Contest winner, presented "Farm Bureau Scholarship Opportunities."

Dr. Jim Sartwelle, Texas A&M University, presented sessions on "Basics of Free Enterprise," Ronald Trowbridge, former assistant dean at Hillsdale College in Michigan, presented two-part sessions on "The Constitution," and Gary Evans, a registered investment advisor, offered advice on "Managing Money." In addition, the students participated in a program called "Congressional Insight," which allowed them to simulate a Congressional office and election.

Damon Whaley, former TFB Talent Find Contest winner, provided entertainment on Tuesday. Damon is an accomplished musician, comedian and impressionist.

At Thursday's evening banquet "Farm Bureau - Your Host" was presented by Kenneth Dierschke, president of Texas Farm Bureau and Miss Kelsey Craig, 2008 Miss Texas Farm Bureau, addressed the group. Special guest and motivational speaker, Clebe McClary, challenged the students to "Press on Regardless" with courage, determination and dedication to oneself and their country.

Students who complete the Youth Leadership Conference and have given a speech on free enterprise to at least five groups will have taken the first step toward qualifying for the Free Enterprise Speech contest, which awards more than $19,000 in scholarships.

EMS and Firefighters Featured at Summer Reading Program

The children attending the Cross Plains Public Library Summer Reading Program last Wednesday afternoon were treated to a tour of the Cross Plains Volunteer Fire Department.

The team of Gerald Brown, Mark Ring, John Swift and David Holmes made the outing very exciting by letting the children have real hands-on experiences with the ambulance and fire trucks.

The functions and use of a variety of emergency equipment was shown and explained to the enthusiastic kids, who always enjoy the special visit to the fire station.

Miss Sue's Little Readers had fun learning all about turtles and getting to make a little one to take home.

This week's program featured a K-9 Unit and their instructors.

Next week's guest, on Wednesday, July 29th, is undecided as we have had a cancellation and are looking for a replacement. Come and see whom we find to do the last Summer Reading Program for 2009.

Remember Miss Sue's Little Readers start at 1 p.m. and the special programming starts at 2 p.m.

Sales Tax Holiday August 21st - 23rd School supplies added to tax-free items

Texas shoppers get a break from state and local sales taxes on August 21st, 22nd and 23rd - the state's annual tax holiday. Lay-away plans can be used again this year to take advantage of the sales tax holiday.

As in previous years, the law exempts most clothing and footwear priced under $100 from sales and use taxes, which could save shoppers about $8 on every $100 they spend. Backpacks under $100 and used by elementary and secondary students are also exempt. A backpack is a pack with straps one wears on the back. The exemption during the sales tax holiday includes backpacks with wheels, provided they can also be worn on the back like a traditional backpack, and messenger bags. The exemption does not include items that are reasonably defined as luggage, briefcases, athletic/duffel/gym bags, computer bags, purses or framed backpacks. Ten or fewer backpacks can be purchased tax-free at one time without providing an exemption certificate to the seller.

School Supplies - New in 2009!

The 81st Texas Legislature recently passed HB 1801 (2009) expanding the list of items qualifying for exemption from Texas state and local sales and use taxes during the annual sales tax holiday in August. Effective this year, in addition to clothes, footwear and some backpacks, Texas families also get a sales tax break on most school supplies priced at less than $100 purchased for use by a student in an elementary or secondary school.

The following is an all-inclusive list of qualifying school supplies (if priced less than $100):

Binders, Book bags, Calculators, Cellophane tape,

Blackboard chalk, Compasses, Composition books, Crayons, Erasers, Folders; expandable, pocket, plastic, and manila, Glue, paste and paste sticks, Highlighters, Index cards, Index card boxes, Legal pads, Lunch boxes, Markers, Notebooks, Paper; loose leaf ruled notebook paper, copy paper, graph paper, tracing paper, manila paper, colored paper, poster board, and construction paper, Pencil boxes and other school supply boxes, Pencil sharpeners, Pencils, Pens, Protractors, Rulers, Scissors, Writing tablets

No exemption certificate is required - with one exception. If the purchaser is buying the supplies under a business account, the retailer must obtain an exemption certificate from the purchaser certifying that the items are purchased for use by an elementary or secondary school student. "Under a business account" means the purchaser is using a business credit card or business check rather than a personal credit card or personal check; being billed under a business account maintained at the retailer; or is using a business membership at a retailer that is membership based.

List of Clothing, Footwear and Backpacks, and Their Exemption Status

TAX-FREE

Baby clothes, Backpacks for use by elementary and secondary students, Belts with attached buckles, Boots - cowboy, hiking, Caps/hats - baseball, fishing, golf, knitted, Coats and wraps, Diapers - adult and baby, Dresses, Gloves (generally), Gym suits and uniforms, Hooded shirts and hooded sweatshirts, Hosiery, Jackets, Jeans, Jerseys - baseball and football, Jogging apparel, Neckwear

A word of caution: If you sell items that do not qualify for the exemption, you may not advertise or promise that you will pay your customers' sales tax. Additionally, you are prohibited from advertising that you will not collect sales tax on items that do not qualify. You may advertise that tax is included in the sales price of the taxable items that you sell, however.

For information on how to report tax on these sales, please visit Reporting Sales Tax on Tax-Free Items or call us toll free at (800) 252-5555.

"Elvis" Imitator to Appear in Baird on Sept. 5th

Las Vegas style entertainment is coming to Baird September 5th, featuring Kriag Parker with a two-hour Elvis Presley tribute that has been stunning audiences around the world.

Parker, with the Royal Tribute Band and Orchestra, has been hailed as the premier Elvis imitator from Las Vegas to London. He has been joined on stage and endorsed by Elvis' original singers including the Jordanares, The Stamps Quartet and the Sweet Inspirations. He is managed by Charles Stone Management. Stone was the tour producer for Elvis from 1972 until 1977.

Baird Chamber of Commerce and sponsors are hosting the show at the Baird High School Auditorium. Chamber President Rick McElmurray said, "We are extremely fortunate to have entertainment of this caliber."

Concert goers are amazed at Parker's uncanny likeness to Presley's look, vocal style and charisma. A Chamber spokesperson said the best evidence of Parker's popularity is seen in the number of people from around the area who have seen one of his performances and are buying tickets for the Baird concert.

Tickets are $20.00 per person for the 7:00 p.m. performance. For tickets or information call the Chamber office at 325-854-2003 or Nancy at 325-854-1212. Tickets are also available from board members Rick McElmurray, Pat Parker, Donna Bell, Nancy Turnbow, Barbara Corn, Melba Defosses, Walt Tollett, Trudy Burks, Jason Martin and Felix Manion.

PUBLIC NOTICE

NOTICE OF APPLICATION AND PRELIMINARY DECISION FOR WATER MUNICIPAL WASTEWATER AMENDMENT PERMIT NO. WQ0010434001

APPLICATION AND PRELIMINARY DECISION. City of Cross Plains, P.O. Box 129, Cross Plains, Texas 76443, has applied to the Texas Commission on Environmental Quality (TCEQ) for a major amendment to TCEQ Permit No. WQ0010434001, to authorize a change in the method of effluent disposal from discharge to a receiving body of water to surface irrigation of 79 acres of non-public access agricultural land at the currently permitted daily average flow not to exceed 87,500 gallons per day. This permit will not authorize a discharge of pollutants into waters in the State. TCEQ received this application on January 22, 2009.

The wastewater treatment facility and disposal site are located approximately 2,500 feet west of State Highway 279 and 4,000 feet south of State Highway 36 in Callahan County, Texas. The wastewater treatment facility and disposal site are located in the drainage basin of Pecan Bayou Above Lake Brownwood in Segment No. 1420 of the Colorado River Basin.

The TCEQ Executive Director has completed the technical review of the application and prepared a draft permit. The draft permit, if approved, would establish the conditions under which the facility must operate. The Executive Director has made a preliminary decision that this permit, if issued, meets all statutory and regulatory requirements. The permit application, Executive Director's preliminary decision, and draft permit are available for viewing and copying at Cross Plains City Hall, 201 S. Main Street, Cross Plains, Texas.

PUBLIC COMMENT/PUBLIC MEETING. You may submit public comments or request a public meeting about this application. The purpose of a public meeting is to provide the opportunity to submit comments or to ask question about the application. TCEQ will hold a public meeting if the Executive Director determines that there is a significant degree of public interest in the application or is requested by a local legislator. A public meeting is not a contested case hearing. OPPORTUNITY FOR A CONTESTED CASE HEARING. After the deadline the submitting public comments, the Executive Director will consider all timely comments and prepare a response to all relevant and material, or significant public comments. Unless the application is directly referred for a contested case hearing, the response to comments will be mailed to everyone who submitted public comments and to those persons who are on the mailing list for this application. If comments are received, the mailing will also provide instructions for requesting a contested case hearing or reconsideration of the Executive Director's decision. A contested case hearing is a legal proceeding similar to a civil trial in state district court.

TO REQUEST A CONTESTED CASE HEARING, YOU MUST INCLUDE THE FOLLOWING ITEMS IN YOUR REQUEST: your name, address, phone number; applicant's name and permit number; the location and distance of your property/activities relative to the facility; a specific description of how you would be adversely affected by the facility in a way not common to the general public; and, the statement "[I/We] request a contested case hearing." If the request for the contested case hearing is filed on behalf of a group or association, the request must designate the group's representative for receiving future correspondence; identify an individual member of the group who would be adversely affected by the proposed facility or activity; provide the information discussed above regarding the affected member's location and distance from the facility or activity; explains how and why the member would be affected; and explain how the interests the group seeks to protect are germane to the group's purpose.

Following the close of all applicable comment and request periods, the Executive Director will forward the application and any requests for reconsideration or for a contested case hearing to the TCEQ Commissioners for their consideration at a scheduled Commission meeting.

The Commission will only grant a contested case hearing on disputed issues of fact that are relevant and material to the Commission's decision on the application. Further, the Commission will only grant a hearing on issues that were raised in timely filed comments that were not subsequently withdrawn.

EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR ACTION. The Executive Director may issue final approval of the application unless a timely contested case hearing request or request for reconsideration is filed. If a timely hearing request or request for reconsideration is filed, the Executive Director will not issue final approval of the permit and will forward the application and request to the TCEQ Commissioners for their consideration at a scheduled Commission meeting.

MAILING LIST. If you submit public comments, a request for a contested case hearing or a reconsideration of the Executive Director's decision, you will be added to the mailing list for this specific application to receive future public notices mailed by the Office of the Chief Clerk. In addition, you may request to be placed on: (1) the permanent mailing list for a specific applicant name and permit number; and/or (2) the mailing list for a specific county. If you wish to be placed on the permanent and/or the county mailing list, clearly specify which list(s) and send your request to TCEQ Office of the Chief Clerk at the address below.

All Qualified Unemployment Claimants will Receive Benefits

Funds are available, benefits safe
AUSTIN -The Texas Workforce Commission (TWC) is advising all currently qualified unemployment claimants that their benefits will be paid. Currently, more than 350,000 out-of-work Texans are receiving up to 59 weeks of unemployment benefits.
 Benefits are paid through the Texas Unemployment Compensation Trust Fund, and during periods of high unemployment claim volume, interest-free loans are available to states from the federal government. Similar loans were utilized by TWC in 2003 resulting in uninterrupted payment of benefits.
TWC Adds Staff at Workforce Centers to Help Texans Find Jobs

Texas jobseekers now have more assistance available as 348 new staff members have been added to workforce centers across the state, bringing the number of TWC Employment Services staff to nearly 1,000. TWC has hired the temporary employment services workers through funding provided by the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009.

Employment Services staff provide jobseekers help with services including job referrals, career counseling, training and support, and other employment services. In addition, the staff works with employers to post job openings and train their existing workforce.
TWC Advises Long-Term Unemployment Claimants Status in State Extended Benefits

Approximately 15,000 long-term unemployment claimants who have received benefits for more than a year are being advised that there will be a delay in receiving the newly-enacted 13 weeks of state extended benefits. At the end of May, the Texas legislature approved the changes which allow for state extended benefits which have not been available since the early 1980s. This 13-week state extension is completely federally funded and is available to claimants that have exhausted 59 weeks of unemployment benefits.

Those who qualify for the extension will receive payments retroactive to the date their current benefits end. The delay in the 13-week state benefit extension stems from complex federal requirements that must be programmed into TWC's computer system. The requirements for federally funded state extended benefits are significantly more stringent than the requirements for the previous federal extended benefit programs. All possible effort has been directed at addressing the necessary transition of the system to accommodate the stringent federal requirements. TWC is committed to implementing the newly enacted state extended benefits as soon as possible.

County, city, school property values up in 2009

Despite a drop in oil and gas values, property tax values in Callahan County, as well as those in the cities of Clyde, Baird and Putnam increased over 2008 property tax values, according to Callahan County Chief Appraiser Bun Barry.

The county chief appraiser released the 2009 property tax values for Callahan County, as well as those for the cities of Baird, Clyde and Putnam on Monday, July 20th. The property tax values are used by the Callahan County Commissioners and the city councils in Baird, Clyde and Putnam to establish the tax rate for the 2009-2010 tax year.

Barry reported Callahan County's combined property tax values for 2009 at $490,588,484, an increase of $7.7 million over last year's property tax values. Barry said the county's increased tax values are attributed to higher residential tax values, an increase in the oil and natural gas pipelines throughout the county and the new business personal property values.

He said Callahan County had $19 million in new improvements throughout the county's tax base.

Despite the higher property values, Barry said there was a "significant" reduction in mineral values reported in the county. Barry said the Texas Comptroller required all counties in Texas to base the 2009 values on oil and natural gas using a "market condition factor." Barry said because of the "market condition factor" placed on oil and gas values in the county, the mineral values dropped by almost 60 percent this year. He said the price of a barrel of oil was based on $36 this year. "It should have been $95 a barrel," Barry said. He also said natural gas values in the county declined because of the "market condition factor" placed on the MCF (million cubic feet) natural gas. Barry said natural gas production in the county was based on $4 per MCF. He said actually, the price of natural gas was as much as $3 per MCF in 2008. "What's good for the goose, is not good for the gander, when it comes to oil and gas," Barry said. Barry said the oil and natural gas lobby in Austin is big.

Barry also said the Texas Legislature passed a bill that 100 percent of the veterans & veterans' disability tax values are being dropped this year. He said the county lost $2 million in reduced VA and disability values. He also said those people who have had their taxes frozen because of age or disability this year amounted to $7 million in property values.

Barry said he expects Callahan County's tax rate to be similar to last year's.

Barry reported the City of Clyde had $105,172,140 in property tax values in 2009, an increase of $2,522,440 from last year. Barry said the City of Clyde had an increase in home values this year, as well as picking up business personal property values.

Barry said the City of Baird had 2009 property tax values of $41,358,503, an increase of $1,341,458 from the 2008 property tax values. The chief appraiser said the City of Baird's increase is attributable to higher residential values and the business personal property values.

As for the City of Putnam, Barry said the City had total property values of $3,087,050 in 2009, an increase of $1,169,030 from 2008 property values. Barry said the biggest increase in property values in Putnam was because of a new electrical facility installed by AEP last year within the city. He said AEP's electrical facility this year alone was valued at $1,028,470.

As for the Baird Independent School District, Barry reported total property values in Callahan County amounted to $106,851,550, an increase of $5,136,470 over 2008 property values. Barry said the Baird ISD increase in values is attributable to oil and natural gas pipeline values. Barry said because of the "market condition factor" placed on oil and natural gas, Baird ISD saw a decline of $2.7 million in mineral values. The chief appraiser said the pipeline values in Baird ISD were up $6.4 million from last year.

Barry said because the Clyde Consolidated Independent School District boundaries include portions of Taylor, Jones and Shackelford counties, he only values Clyde CISD property located inside Callahan County. The chief appraiser said Clyde CISD had $195,870,340 in total property values in 2009, an increase of $22,388,470. Barry said the big increase in Clyde CISD property values was the completion of the Post Oak Wind Farm and values placed on those wind turbines. He said the Post Oak Wind Farm in Callahan County is valued at $42.5 million. "That's the elephant (Post Oak Wind Farm) in the room for Clyde," Barry said of Clyde CISD's property values.

However, the Post Oak Wind Farm property values through Clyde CISD are only taxed on the Interest and Sinking (debt portion of the school district's tax rate.

Barry said Clyde CISD lost $2.3 million in reduced mineral values this year because of the "market condition factor." Barry said Clyde CISD did have gains in residential values as well as the business personal property values.

Barry reported the Cross Plains ISD had property values of $60,461,727 this year, an increase of $3 million over last year. Barry also said portions of Cross Plains' school district are located in Eastland and Brown county. Barry said the increase in Cross Plains ISD property values is due to higher pipeline values and residential and business personal property.

As for the City of Cross Plains, Cross Plains is the only city in Callahan County which does not impose a personal property tax.

Barry said the Callahan County taxing jurisdictions would have had a good year if not for the reduction in mineral values countywide.

As for what's selling in Callahan County, Barry said that tracts of land are not selling in the county. "The land market is dead in the county," Barry said.

As for residential home sales, Barry said the level this year is just 40% of what it was one year ago. He said home owners with good credit and a large down payment are able to sell and buy homes in the county, but not much of anything else is selling.

As for the residential values, Barry said Callahan County residential values are much like "reading the tea leaves." Barry said residential values in the county are still being adjusted higher based upon what's being bought and sold in the county. "As long as we stay in the ballpark, values will continue to increase," Barry said of residential home values.

Barry said the property values for the taxing jurisdictions have now been certified and these taxing jurisdictions will now begin the process of looking at their effective tax rates to determine how much money those taxing jurisdictions want to bring into the coffers. Barry said taxpayers should be seeing public notices soon on what their effective tax rates will be for 2009.

The chief appraiser said property tax rates for all the taxing jurisdictions should be made available by the end of August and no later than the first week of September. Barry said that after his office receives the property tax rates, tax notices will begin going out in the mail on or before October 1st.

Hotter Than Blazes! Is it a heat stroke? Part 2

Last week, we discussed a serious health event called heat exhaustion. This week, we move on to the seriously bad brother of heat exhaustion, known as heat stroke. The major difference between heat exhaustion and heat stroke lies in the seriousness of the condition. While heat exhaustion is not a walk in the park, a heat stroke is a true 911 medical emergency.

A heat stroke occurs when the human body is placed in an environment of extreme heat, high humidity, or is involved in a high level of physical exertion in either of the preceding environments. If performing a high level of physical activity in an environment of high level temperatures when a high humidity is added - potential disaster lies in wait!

When a heat stroke occurs, the body can no longer eliminate the abnormal heat being produced within it. Whether dehydrated, or lack of ability to perspire occurs, the body's temperature is allowed to start rising to levels that are abnormally high. Temperatures exceeding 106° have been observed to result.

Infants, athletes, outdoor workers performing heavy exertion work, and the elderly are most at risk. Quite often certain medication's can put one at a higher risk of developing a heat stroke.

The symptoms of heat stroke begin logically with a person's body temperature exceeding a safe range. Practically always, the person will no longer be sweating, and the resultant dry skin may even appear reddened. A check of the person's pulse will reveal a rapid pulse rate, exceeding 100 beats per minute.

Weakness, nausea and quite often vomiting are common symptoms that often accompany a developing heat stroke. Not far behind will often follow muscle cramps and aches, headaches, and dizziness.

As the heat stroke remains untreated, one will see the person beginning to experience certain symptoms of strange behavior, confusion and even experience agitation and hallucinations.

Finally, the development of seizures and coma occur before the final symptom - DEATH!

How does a heat stroke victim need treated? Fortunately, Common sense is the key. Dial 911 then do much of the following as you can while awaiting their arrival.

Treatment #1, and the most important thing to do - get the body temperature down! Cool! Cool! Cool!

The victim must be moved to an area that is cool and out of the sun. All possible clothing should be removed. This will obviously vary based on the locale, and who is assisting the patient.

Now you want to cool the skin by applying cool water and if possible, utilize a fan blowing on the patient as you wet him down. While it may not seem like such a great experience for the patient, ice packs on the head, under the arm pits and even in the groin helps to lower the body core temperature, which is the ultimate goal of treatment.

While the person is being treated as we have mentioned, continuously check the body's temperature with a thermometer.

Once the ambulance arrives, the patient can then reach the emergency room where more advanced medical treatment can be received.

Prevention of heat strokes is simply common sense.

Most important of all preventive measures is to avoid dehydration. Closely following is to avoid vigorous physical activities in hot and humid weather.

For those whose work or other activities do not allow them to stay out of hot and/or humid environments, be sure and drink plenty of fluids. For most of us, sports drinks are an excellent choice to consume.

Caffeine containing drinks may actually cause dehydration.

A major culprit for contributing to dehydration is any drink with alcohol in it.

Dress for the hot sunny world in which your activities will take place.

Use common sense on taking activity breaks. Overworking is a heat stroke's close ally during hot weather.

Since we likely still have many hot days ahead, understanding how bad a heat stroke can be may prove useful. Also, the information may save a life, possibly even yours.

Until next time, may health, happiness and peace be yours.

"We have forty million reasons for failure, but not a single excuse."

ROBERT E. HOWARD WESTERN STORY SERIAL

By this time the crowd was crazy, and I threw O'Tool and begun to stomp him, when somebody let bang at me from the crowd and the bullet cut my silk belt and my pants started to fall down.

I grabbed 'em with both hands, and O'Tool riz and rushed at me, bloody and belling, and I didn't dare let go my pants to defend myself. So I whirled and bent over and lashed out backwards with my right heel like a mule, and I caught him under the chin. He done a cartwheel in the air, his head hit the turf, and he bounced on over and landed on his back with his knees hooked over the lower rope. There wasn't no question about him being out. The only question was, was he dead?

A great roar of "Foul" went up from the Gunstock men, and guns bristled all around the ring.

The Tomahawk men was cheering and yelling that I had won fair and square, and the Gunstock men was cussing and threatening me, when somebody hollered: "Leave it to the referee!"

"Sure," said Kirby. "He knows our man won fair, and if he don't say so, I'll blow his head off!"

"That's a lie!"

bellered a man from Gunstock. "He knows it was a foul, and if he says it wasn't, I'll carve his liver with this here bowie knife!"

At these words Yucca keeled over in a dead faint, and then a clatter of hoofs sounded above the din, and out of the timber that hid the trail from the east, a gang of horsemen rode at a run. Everybody whirled and yelled: "Look out, here comes them Perdition illegitimates!"

Instantly a hundred guns covered them, and McVey demanded: "Come ye in peace or in war?"

"We come to unmask a fraud!" roared a big man with a red bandanner around his neck. "McGoorty, come forth!"

A familiar figger, now dressed in cowboy togs, pushed forward on my mule. "There he is!" this figger yelled, pointing at me. "That's the desperado which robbed me! Them's my tights he's got on!"

"What's this?" roared the crowd. "A dern fake!" bellered the man with the red bandanner. "This here is Bruiser McGoorty!"

"Then who's he?" somebody bawled, pointing at me.

"My name's Breckinridge Elkins and I can lick any man here!" I roared, getting mad. I brandished my fists in defiance, but my britches started sliding down again, so I had to shut up and grab 'em.

"Aha!" the man with the red bandanner howled like a hyener. "He admits it! I dunno what the idee is, but these Tomahawk polecats has double-crossed somebody! I trusts that you jackasses from Gunstock realizes the blackness and hellishness of their hearts! This man McGoorty rode into Perdition a few hours ago in his unmentionables, astraddle of that there mule, and told us how he'd been held up and robbed and put on the wrong road. You skunks was too proud to stage this fight in Perdition, but we ain't the men to see justice scorned with impunity!"

2009 Property Tax Rates in CALLAHAN COUNTY

This notice concerns 2009 property tax rates for CALLAHAN COUNTY. It presents information about three tax rates. Last year's tax rate is the actual rate the taxing unit used to determine property taxes last year. This year's effective tax rate would impose the same total taxes as last year if you compare properties taxed in both years. This year's rollback tax rate is the highest tax rate the taxing unit can set before taxpayers can start tax rollback procedures. In each case these rates are found by dividing the total amount of taxes by the tax base (the total value of taxable property) with adjustments as required by state law. The rates are given per $100 of property value.

	General Fund	Special Road/ Bridge Fund
Last year's tax rate:

Total effective tax rate (Maximum rate unless unit publishes notices and holds hearings.)	0.44365/$100
This year's rollback tax rate:

Connect to Energy Savings

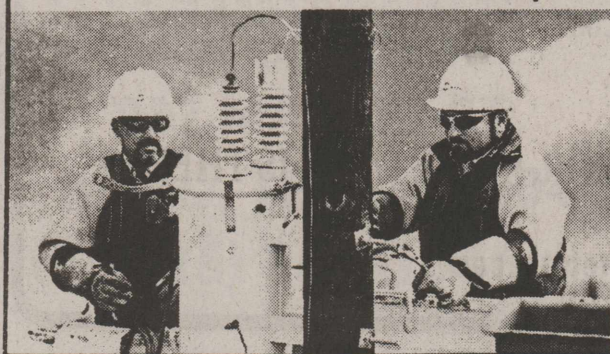

AS THE ELECTRIC DELIVERY COMPANY that has been serving south and west Texas for more than 90 years, AEP Texas knows a thing or two about energy conservation. That's why we would like to share some low or no-cost tips with you on how to keep cool during these hot summer months.

Since AEP Texas and its 1,700 employees are directly connected to the many communities we live in and serve, we'd like to share some low or no cost tips with you on how to keep cooler while saving energy and money.

- Set air-conditioning thermostats to the highest possible comfortable setting and dress accordingly.
- Turn off every appliance you are not using including lights, televisions and radios. Use the "sleep" feature on your computer equipment.
- Only cool rooms that you use. Close vents and doors in unused rooms. Be sure to close closet doors.
- Check your air-conditioning filter every month and replace as needed.
- Keep windows that let the sun in covered when the sun is shining on them.
- Weather strip and caulk around windows and doors to prevent drafts.
- Close your fireplace damper when the fireplace is not being used.
- Use fans to help circulate the air in your house.
- Air-dry dishes in the dishwasher.
- Lower the temperature on your hot water heater to warm during the summer, take short showers and wash only full loads of clothes in the laundry.

It's important to remember that if you're having trouble paying your electric bill, call your retail energy provider (REP) at the number listed on your current electric bill to avoid disconnection.

Grand Ole Oplin fish fry dinner set for Saturday, July 25th

Everyone is invited out to the Oplin Community Center on Saturday, July 25th for a fish fry dinner with all the trimmings and a Saturday night dance benefiting the Oplin Community Center. Our community center was originally built in 1938 as the Oplin High School. Time has taken its toll and our building requires much needed repairs and maintenance, not just for now but for the future too. The Oplin Community Center hosts the Grand Ole Oplin each Friday night and is also available for reunions, meetings, elections, private parties; whatever the need may be. Our volunteers work hard to maintain our community center but we need your assistance and support to keep our building in good shape for future use.

Our fish fry dinner with all the trimmings will begin at 5:00 p.m. at a cost of $7.50 per plate (dessert and home-made ice cream will be available for an extra $1.00). Our dance, beginning at 7:30 p.m. and ending at 10:30 p.m., will feature Muddy Creek playing all your favorite dancing tunes with admission being $5.00 per person. We will also feature a bake sale during the dinner and dance. For further information or to make donations please call Judy Woodard at 529-3129.

So mark your calendar for Saturday, July 25th and gather the family and all your friends and come on out to the Oplin Community Center for an evening of good food, good music and a real good time. We appreciate your support.
