

Famed Announcer To Work Ozona Jr. Rodeo July 25 - 26

Buck Jackson To Describe Action; Parade To Open Events

Buck Jackson, one of the best known rodeo announcers in the nation, has been secured as announcer for the first annual Ozona Junior Rodeo, to be held off at Ozona fair park Friday and Saturday of next week under auspices of the Ozona Lions Club.

Jackson, whose home is in Pecos, is a livestock dealer, rancher and at home before a microphone as announcer for some of the biggest shows in the country. As a colorful addition to the local show, promoters are enthusiastic over their success in bringing the famous announcer to describe action in the rodeo arena during the two-day show of young cowboy talent.

A number of early entries have already been received by the rodeo committee and a flood of entries is expected as the show date draws near.

The show will open with a downtown parade at 5 o'clock Friday afternoon, with Lions Club members and rodeo contestants making up the parade personnel.

Two performances will be presented, at 8 o'clock each night, Friday and Saturday, July 25 and 26. Contest events will be open to both senior and junior girls and boys. Events include bareback riding, calf roping, hair pulling, ribbon roping, steer riding and barrel racing, the latter event for junior and senior girls.

Handsome trophy belt buckles and cash prizes will be awarded winners in the various events. The show is approved by the American Junior Rodeo Association.

Pioneer Plant To Process Gas From Clayton Wells

Plant To Remove Sour Gases To Be Located In Schleicher Co.

Pioneer Gathering System, Inc., Amarillo, today announced plans to construct a carbon dioxide removal plant near Sonora, Texas. The announcement was made by Burton P. Smith, President of Pioneer Gathering.

To be built on a tract 20 miles northwest of Sonora, the plant will remove carbon dioxide and hydrogen sulfide gases from natural gas sold to Permian Basin Pipeline Company. Located on Pioneer Gathering's main transmission line, the plant will process natural gas from the Clayton Ranch, Addie and Vinegarone gas fields.

The plant will have the capacity to process approximately 12,000,000 cubic feet of sour gas per day, and will be built on a 20-acre plot in Section 4, Blk. "D", G. C. & S. F. Survey in Schleicher County, Texas.

In connection with the plant, a dehydration plant will also be built at this location. The removal plant and the dehydration plant will both be designed for automatic operation. For power drives, natural gas engines will be used throughout the plant.

Design and construction contracts have been let to Baird & Company of Tulsa, Oklahoma, and work on the plant will begin around August 15. The plant is expected to be in operation on or about December 1.

Blakley Backers See Victory In Effective Campaign Over State

William A. Blakley, Dallas rancher-lawyer-businessman who had never sought public office and was virtually unheard of in Texas politics a year ago, is now being credited with having conducted one of the most effective campaigns in Texas history in the race for U. S. Senator. So states James Blundell, Blakley's campaign manager.

Since announcing for Senator three months ago, an office in which he served with marked distinction in an interim appointment for four months in 1957, Blakley has traveled more than 12,000 miles and visited upwards of 200 towns and cities throughout the state. He has waged a campaign of personal visiting and handshaking with tens of thousands of voters on courthouse squares, on the streets and in the stores.

A plain man, characterized "as Texan as a cowboy's saddle," Blakley has never outgrown the cow country background from which he launched his remarkable career. Born while his family was on the way to Oklahoma territory in a covered wagon, he was earning a cowhand's wages at 14.

He got hold of the books, taught himself accounting and became an accountant. He taught himself law and became a lawyer. Long years of hard work and sacrifice made him a successful businessman, rancher and lawyer, but he has never turned his back on his humble beginnings.

"The right to work and the right to educate your children, without restraint, regulation or interference from government, or private associations and organizations, must be reestablished, protected and maintained if this nation is to continue to be the land of the free," Blakley declared.

Ozona Oilers Top Little League For Season's Crown

Beat Out Surprising Moore Oil Team In Second Half

By Ernie Boyd

The Ozona Oilers, after playing catchup for three innings with the Moore Oil team, chased across six runs in the fourth and then behind the fine pitching of Leroy Cooper went ahead to smash the Moore team 18 to 8. The win in second half playoff gave the Ozona Oil team the title outright.

Moore got away to a quick lead when Doug Moore of the Ozona Oil team had trouble finding the plate. Ozona Oil went ahead in the bottom of the first only to see Moore go ahead again in the second, but in the end it was power and good pitching in the late innings that paved the way to victory.

Catcher Bobby Amthor hit two home runs and Mykle Stahl one for the victors who pounded the Moore team pitchings and made the most of every mistake the Moore team made.

Despite going down in defeat the mere appearance of Moore Oil in the play off was a surprise, since the team is still very young and was the winner of only one game in the first half. Moore went on a real winning streak to make its way to the play off in the second half.

Ozona Oil once again proved its self to be the league's best as it crushed South Texas and then Moore to win both playoffs and cop both halves of the season's play.

Teachers To Honor Rep. Joe Burkett

State Rep. Joe Burkett, Jr., of the 78th District has been notified that the directors of the Vocational Agricultural Teachers Association of Texas have voted unanimously to give him the Distinguished Service Award.

John Holcomb of Austin, executive secretary of the association, said the award was to honor the "conscientious efforts" by Burkett on behalf of vocational agriculture. The presentation will be made at the annual awards breakfast August 6 in the ballroom of the Adolphus Hotel in Dallas.

Burkett, a livestock farmer in addition to being a practicing attorney, has been one of the outstanding champions of the ranching industry since he was first elected to office in 1951.

Appeals Court Judge, Serving As Appointee, Seeks Elective Term

Justice Holvey Williams, of El Paso, appointed in June, 1957, to succeed the late Justice Joseph McGill in the Eighth Court of Civil Appeals, has the distinction of having all cases in which he has ruled, and which have been reviewed by the Supreme Court, affirmed during his tenure of office.

Williams, who served 15 years as Assistant U. S. Attorney in charge of the El Paso, Pecos and Del Rio offices, resigned to accept the appointment to succeed McGill. Under Texas law it is required that he run for election at this time, even though McGill's term had not yet expired.

"The people will get a chance to confirm my appointment July 26. I hope they do," Williams said. Williams attended Southern Methodist University and Baylor University before receiving his law degree from the University of Texas in 1925. At Texas he was a member of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity.

He was district attorney of McLennan County (Waco) from 1937 to 1941. In that year he was appointed Assistant U. S. Attorney and held the position until his present appointment.

Mrs. L. B. Cox, Jr., is in Temple this week where she will undergo minor surgery.

New Johnson Bridge Is Opened To Traffic Last Saturday Night

Still shy of its steel railing, which was delayed in shipment, the new bridge over Johnson draw on U. S. Highway 290 in Ozona was opened to traffic Saturday night.

The bridge was about three months in building. Its design conforms to needs of the channel improvement plan of the Soil Conservation Service, the final stage in the Johnson draw watershed flood control plan. The bridge is wider than the old structure, thus eliminating a bottleneck and traffic hazard on the busy highway, and longer, with less cumbersome under structures to allow a freer flow of flood waters. All of this and the new bridge presents a pleasing improvement in appearance.

The steel railings will be installed by the contractor when the material is delivered.

Kotmann Would Take Politics Out of Post Of Ag. Commissioner

Glenn H. Kotmann, candidate for agriculture commissioner, believes that politics should play no part in operation of the agriculture commissioner's office. Accordingly, he has made this his campaign theme:

"Take politics out of the agriculture commissioner's office."

Kotmann, a 30-year-old livestock man and legislator from San Antonio, feels his wide background and experience in the livestock field and agriculture together with service on all the major agriculture committees of the Legislature qualify him for the post he seeks.

He has pledged himself to "serve all areas of the agriculture and livestock business in Texas, from the producer to the consumer." He says also:

"I believe the office of agriculture commissioner ought to be operated for the benefit of all the people of Texas. To do this, people must be put ahead of partisan political considerations."

A native of San Antonio, Kotmann was educated in the San Antonio public schools. He graduated from Texas A&M in 1950 with a degree in agriculture.

He is in the livestock business with his family who have been a well known hill country livestock and ranch family for more than 100 years. The Kotmanns have operated from offices in the San Antonio union stockyards since 1893.

Kotmann belongs to the Cattle Raisers Assn., the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Assn., National Guard Assn., Texas A&M Former Students Assn., the San Antonio Junior Chamber of Commerce, the Chamber of Commerce, the American Legion and the Texas Farm Bureau.

A Senior CAP member of the Ozona Squadron will fly the cadets to Goodfellow AFB in San Angelo, where they will join other Group 3 cadets and will board a U. S. Air Force transport plane which will take them to Sheppard AFB.

Ozona Park To Be Site Of Area LL Playoff Games

Ozona-Sonora Stars To Open 3-Night Series Monday Night

By Ernie Boyd

The Ozona Little League All-Stars will face the Sonora All-Stars on the Ozona diamond Monday night in the first round of the area playoff.

Tuesday night, the winner of the Monday night game in Ozona will face the winner of the Del Rio vs Bracketville game, which will also be played Monday, and then on Thursday the winner of this contest will face the winner of the San Angelo playoff in the Ozona park.

In securing the play-offs for Ozona this year, the local Little League officials were able to claim the playoff for the second time in the last three seasons. All of the games are scheduled to begin at 8 p. m.

Dick Webster of the Champion Ozona Oil and J. D. Melton of South Texas Lumber will manage the fourteen-man Ozona squad which is made up of six players from Ozona Oil, two from Moore Oil, four from South Texas, and two from Mason Motors.

The major problem facing this year's manager will be pitching, since it is possible that the local team could engage in three games during the four days of the play-off.

The Ozona team promises to be a hitting club, however, and could possibly off-set some pitching strength with some solid hitting, but as always in baseball, pitching is the key, not hitting.

Available for use Monday night will be Leroy Cooper the league's leading hurler, and Doug Moore who has shown well this year, both of Ozona Oil and in addition, Jesus Fierro of Mason Motors and Ventura Sanchez of South Texas, both of whom have shown well during the season play.

Among the hitters will be Mykle Stahl, Bobby Amthor, Robert Flores, Ronney Stewart, Scott Mahon, and Sammy Cervantez not to mention Cooper, who was the league's leading batsman as well as pitcher.

Others named to the squad and all of whom were selected for fine play during the year are: Julian Melton, Carey Pitts, Bryan Montgomery, and James Riff and the pitchers.

Sonora's strength is unknown but in the last two seasons they have fielded fine teams with last year's entry leading the local team until the fading innings when a key throwing error opened the gates for a smashing Ozona rally and win.

The Del Rio vs Bracketville winner will doubtless be very strong and the winner of the San Angelo playoff is powerful every year.

CAP Squadron Views Air Force Films at Meet

The Ozona Squadron, Civil Air Patrol held a regular meeting Tuesday night at the Airport.

There was a short business meeting, during which it was decided to hold the next meeting on Tuesday night, August 12, at the Airport at 8:00 p. m.

Following the business meeting, two Air Force films, on loan from the Air Force film library, St. Louis, Mo. were shown. The first, "Air Force Scrapbook" was a pictorial history of the Air Force from the Wright Brothers flight at Kittyhawk to the present. The second was "Career for Tomorrow". This film showed a typical Cadet summer encampment, and was of special interest to the Cadets who had been invited to attend the meeting, as four members of the Ozona Cadet Squadron will be attending the summer encampment at Sheppard Air Force Base, Wichita Falls, Texas, starting August 8.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Bailey have returned from a vacation trip to Mexico.

CUBAN COURSE IS CLEAR

The news conference at Weisbaden, Germany, at which the nine US fliers shot down by the Russians over the border of Soviet Armenia told the story of the outrageous action of Russian MIG pilots in opening fire and setting their plane ablaze, and the further abuse by Red peasants of the five who were able to parachute from the blazing C-118, has brought more incensed Americans flocking to the standard of Lyle H. Munson, the man who would be a latter day privateer!

Mr. Munson, who served in both the Office of Strategic Services and in the Central Intelligence Agency — and who presently operates a concern called The Book-mailer — formally applied to Congress some days ago for a "letter of marque and reprisal." Such letters, granted long ago to merchant skippers as authority to fight pirates, have not been issued since the Civil War, but the authority of Congress in the matter stands — in Paragraph 11 of Section 8, Article I of the Constitution — and is as easy to read as ever.

"Fellow Americans," says the Munson petition, "are being held captive and hostage by pirate and/or rebel groups as governments in Communist Russia, Communist East Germany, Communist China, Cuba and Indonesia." He notes further that "the Office of the Executive is impotent to rectify the above abuses by reason of preoccupation with other pressing matters" and that this is especially unfortunate because "what is now happening may be construed as an open invitation to pirate countries to imprison Americans with impunity."

Mr. Munson formally declares that he is "prepared to demonstrate financial and moral responsibility to lease, equip and staff a seaworthy man-of-war to liberate these pirate-held American citizens at personal and private expense and risk." His "man-of-war," he thinks, might be a PT boat, a plane or helicopter, and by now the Munson volunteers could man a fleet of any of these.

It is not likely, however, that in these decadent times Congress will give them or Commodore Munson (our title) the opportunity. But the problem, relieved slightly by release of the nine prisoners from the USSR, and aggravated by the arrogant dalliance of Fidel Castro with his US prisoners in Cuba, remains.

Short of the free-wheeling adventure for which Mr. Munson prays authority, we would not say how the US should go about rescuing the Americans in Russia's slave camps, the fliers in East Germany, the 450 Korean GI's in Red Chinese prisons. But for a starter, the Cuban procedure seems not only simple but obvious. Cuba's independence from Spain was won by American fighting men in 1896. Cuba remained a protectorate of the US until 1934. And, whether we like it or not, Kremlin stooge Castor cut this country in on the deal when he kidnapped our nationals. Our duty in assisting President Batista to restore law and order is abundantly clear.

And if Congress won't let Munson go, there are still the Marines.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Boyd had as guests last week two of Mrs. Boyd's sister and their children. Here were Mrs. Billy Temple and daughter, Donna of Dallas, and Mrs. Hugh J. McClendon and sons, Mark and Jay, from Sulphur Springs.

HIGHLIGHTS AND SIDELIGHTS From State Capitol

By Vern Sanford
Texas Press Association

Austin, Texas — In 1876 a wagon with a team of oxen was good transportation in Texas. But on today's city streets and super-highways, the ox wagon would be just a traffic bottleneck.

Some Texans now are saying Texas' 82-year-old, ox wagon-era Constitution is a bottleneck on the road to development of dynamic 20th-century government.

Constitutional revision is not one of the currently sizzling campaign issues. But, quietly and patiently, numerous people in government, in the bar, in professional and civic groups, the press and in private and public educational institutions are plugging away in a make-haste-slowly campaign. Principal objective now is to get Texans thinking about what they want and need in a state constitution today.

Their campaign gained official blessing last year when the Legislature passed a resolution instructing the Legislative Council to do research on the subject and report back in 1959. An 18-member citizens advisory committee was appointed to counsel with the legislative study group. Dean Robert G. Storey of the SMU Law School is chairman; C. Y. Mills of Mission and Mrs. Horton Wayne Smith of Austin vice chairmen; and Dan Moody Jr. of Austin, secretary.

Next meeting of the advisory group is to be held in September. Right now, one member admits that progress toward revision is itself moving at an ox wagon pace. Reason is that those concerned feel strongly that any action should be preceded by an exhaustive, professional research job. This takes money.

Legislative Council, with a staff of seven, and 11 studies under way, can't go all-out on this one thing, but is doing some fact gathering during the summer. Both Council and committee hope to get money for the work, perhaps by next year, from the Legislature and/or some private foundation.

Advocates of Constitutional revision advance these points, among others, as reasons for concern:

1. It's a stragglers document, 47,000 words long, patched up with 133 amendments. If nine more proposed amendments are approved next November it'll be 54,000 words. Much of it is regarded by lawyers as properly belonging in the statutes rather than in a basic document like the Constitution. Much is cited as totally useless, such as provisions for repelling Indian raids.

2. Like Topsy, Texas' huge conglomeration of agencies, departments, commissions and divisions, "just grew." It's all so loosely put together, say critics, that folks don't know who to blame when things don't suit them. Same indictment is applied to the fiscal set-up. It's a billion-dollar-a-year business, but control is mince-meat among many. State has more than 100 special funds, representing about 85 per cent of state revenue. These can't be touched by the Legislature, even if they are not needed for the purpose for which they're earmarked and are desperately needed elsewhere.

3. Another argument made is that increasing concentration of government in Washington can be halted only if state governments are sufficiently vigorous and adaptable to meet people's changing and growing needs. Some suggest that Texas' present Constitution may be a "strait jacket" on state government.

High Cost of Driving — Texas drivers will have to "pay the piper" next year in higher auto insurance.

State Insurance Board has announced that effective Aug. 1, auto insurance rates will be substantially higher in most parts of Texas. Average hike will be 32 per cent on comprehensive coverage, 19 per cent on liability and 17 per cent on collision. In Dallas County, for example, a policy which now costs $108 will jump to $142.

Premiums paid on the old rate schedule have not nearly met accident claims, said Penn Jackson, chairman of the Insurance Board.

IT'S TIME FOR A CHANGE!

Elect Jerry Shurley

OF SUTTON COUNTY

State Representative, 78th District

EDUCATION is important for the quality of our citizenship and to our national security. Jerry Shurley intends to do what he can for the schools and teachers of Texas. His opponent has consistently voted against teacher and school legislation and has even proposed House Bill 13 to repeal the Gilmer-Aikin laws, which have greatly improved our school system.

LOBBYISTS do not and will not have an attachment on Jerry Shurley. His opponent is being actively campaigned for by some of the most powerful "career" lobbyists in Texas.

FARM-TO-MARKET ROADS are of extreme importance to the farmers and ranchers of this district and to the towns where they trade. Jerry Shurley opposes the proposed legislation that would cut down Farm-to-Market road funds, thus severely curtailing Farm-to-Market construction. His opponent? What is his view?

WATER CONSERVATION is important to Jerry Shurley as an active rancher of this district. His opponent notes with pride his own achievements in this field in spite of the fact that the Texas Legislature was never "prodded" hard enough to pass water legislation until several months after the 7-year drought ended.

SHURLEY A MAN OF EXPERIENCE

JERRY SHURLEY is happy to say that he can not be obligated to Austin politicians by many years of "legislative experience." Instead, Jerry Shurley points with pride to his own experience which includes the following:
Being an active rancher of this district for 8 years, a graduate of the University of Texas, having begun his law practice, and having become acquainted with the people of this district and their problems, Shurley is anxious to work for new and better solutions to these problems as your Representative.

As Mentioned In the Report last week, Alaska is, for all intents and purposes, the 49th State of our Union.

I did not support Alaskan Statehood either in Committee or on the Floor, for a variety of reasons. But in the flush of victory, the Alaskan Statehood proponents are being kind and forgiving as I received an invitation asking me, as a "friend" of Alaska, to celebrate Statehood with the Alaskan Society here in the Capital. Since the Territory is now virtually the 49th State, we extend to our new brothers the hand of friendship and wish them well as they join us. May they grow strong and be an asset to the United States of America.

One Thing Strikes me as odd about the publicity surrounding Alaskan Statehood. The present Governor (appointive), Mike Stepovich, has been singled out for praise as a man who did much for Alaska's fight to become a state. Stepovich has accepted the acclaim, and now speaks enthusiastically of Statehood for Alaska, but the record shows it was not always so.

In 1951, Stepovich was in the Territorial Legislature of Alaska, where he was chairman of a committee that had jurisdiction of a resolution calling for Alaskan Statehood, but he bottled it up and became the first chairman not to report the resolution in many years.

At the time Stepovich was appointed Governor by President Eisenhower, his opposition to Statehood was well known and the Administration was opposed to Alaskan Statehood unless it was tied in with Statehood for Hawaii. Interior Secretary Fred Seaton prevailed upon Mr. Eisenhower to change his view, which he did. The President's new position was then accepted by Governor Stepovich, who had to do an abrupt about-face to adopt his new position.

Now, the press gives Stepovich and the "Senators" and "Representatives" elected under the Tennessee plan for Statehood the full credit for accomplishing the mission. But actually the three men who did the most for Alaskan Statehood are Leo O'Brien, Democratic Congressman from New York, who authored the Statehood bill, E. L. (Bob) Bartlett, an able Delegate to the Congress from Alaska, and Seaton, the Republican Interior Secretary, who is an able man. But they have been largely ignored, while a man who long opposed Statehood for Alaska has stepped front and center to take the bows.

When I was in West Texas over the July 4th weekend many people asked me what I thought of the now infamous Adams-Godfine case.

I am not a member of the Committee holding the hearings and since my two committees meet at the same time the "Goldfine" investigators do plus my heavy office work and floor activity. I hear of the Adams-Godfine case for the most part through the newspaper, TV and radio like everyone else. Certainly I would not attempt to prejudge the case from these sources of information, not having heard first-hand testimony and evidence.

I am disturbed that the basic questions and issues of the Adams-Godfine case have disappeared in the hi-jinks surrounding the investigation in recent days. The key-hole peepings, eaves-droppings, statements by hired publicity hucksters, unauthorized snooping by the Committee investigator, and other unsavory conduct, has done no credit to the Congress. This sideshow tends to blacken the name of many serious, hard-working investigating committees. Certainly the central issues of whether Goldfine gave Adams the gifts as payment for undue influence, whether such influence was brought to bear, whether Goldfine took tax deductions for the gifts, and other points, should be cleared up promptly without the circus-like atmosphere now prevailing. The actual hearings have not been nearly so all-consuming here as you might gather from reports. The matter is, after all, only a small part of the overall National picture. And for that we may offer thanks.

New Senate Hand Aided Democrats

When William A. Blakley was appointed to the U. S. Senate in 1957, he was a political unknown in Texas. But Washington awaited his arrival with great interest. So close was the party balance in the Senate that Blakley's vote was the difference between Democratic and Republican control. True to his Democratic tradition, Bill Blakley voted with his fellow Democrats. They have been in control ever since. Now Bill Blakley seeks his first elective term in the U. S. Senate. A vote for Blakley is a vote for sound, Democratic government.

It is estimated that between 6 and 7,000 bales of cotton will be made in Fannin, Lamar and Red River Counties in addition to wheat, corn, and oats, 900 head of Beef steers will be raised for market, besides a great quantity of bees-wax and thousands of bushels of Pecans, Bois'd Arc seed, & c.

These facts must surely be convincing proof to any reasonable man, that there is no more fruitful country on the broad face of the Globe than Texas, and there is land enough to give everybody a farm.

Gen'l Houston's protectorate plan seems to have awakened the London bond holders, who approve the measure, but claim that even with or without the "Protectorate," the revenues of Mexico are pledged for the English debt.

Gen'l Houston will no doubt feel honored by the notice taken of his plan. But no man better understands how to settle down the liabilities of a broken government.

We publish Mr. Kinney's letter for the benefit of the traveling public. — We heard several persons vow that they would never travel upon the line again because of the character of the wagons upon the road:

Editor of the Southern Intelligencer:

Permit me, through the columns of your paper, to call the attention of the traveling public, to the manner in which passengers are treated by some of the officials of the Stage line, between Houston and this place. On Saturday night last, I took the stage at Bastrop, for Austin. When the stage stopped for me at the Nicholson House, (which by the way, is one of the best houses in the State,) there was, on the drivers seat with him, one of the officials of the line, as

I was afterwards informed, and the driver very quietly remained in his seat while I unbuckled the boot, re-arranged the baggage, so as to make convenient room for mine, put mine in, and buckled up the boot again. Perhaps I ought to consider myself under great obligations to that driver, in return for his kindness in waiting for me to do that which he is, or ought to be paid for doing, and for waiting even for me to wash my hands after the work was done, without a word of impatience on his part but really, I did not appreciate such kindness very highly.

A gentleman just from Bauknapp, gives the editor very encouraging accounts of the crops in Parker, Palo Pinto, and Young counties. Wheat is selling there for 65 cents per bushel.

The Waco Southern Democrat brings us the confessions of the Navarro county robbers who have implicated a large number of horse thieves whose names are published. It is probable that the people of Navarro have disposed of the robbers whose confessions are given.

It may be interesting to some of our readers at this season to know our experience as to the best route to New York.

Taking it that New Orleans is the starting point, and the only monopolies and impositions are between here and there, Austin, we advise all Texans arriving at New Orleans, at this season, to take the new mail route directly to Washington and New York.

The time is only 4 days and 17 hours. You leave New Orleans with a through ticket to New York, which only costs $48.00.

Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative. Is, no doubt, the most wonderful discovery of the age of progress, for it will restore, permanently, gray hair to its original color, cover the head of the bald with a most luxuriant growth, remove at once all dandruff and itching, cure all scrofula, and other cutaneous eruptions, such as scald head, etc. It will cure, as if by magic, nervous or periodical headache; make the hair soft, glossy, and wavy, and preserve the color perfectly, and the hair from falling, to extreme old age.

Honey, What a bargain I drove today!

The gasoline I buy gives me "more for my money." For only pennies I spend a busy day in my car taking good care of my husband, children and home.

Higher taxes now add 8.8¢ cents to the price of every gallon of gasoline. The price of gasoline itself has gone up only 17% in the last decade. Yet today's regular gasoline is the same as premium was 5 years ago. Today's premium is as powerful as aviation gasoline of the last war.

Cattle and Calves Weaken, Runs Expand

Fort Worth — Cattle and calves opened about steady at Fort Worth Monday but weakness developed on cows shortly after the opening and sales were around 50 cents lower by the time a clearance was completed. Liberal waterfills offset some of the apparently lower offers in most cases. Fed steers and yearlings sold on a steady to weaker basis, spots 25 cents or more lower. Most of the fed cattle were of the shortfed, or warmed-up grasser variety and attracted about equal bids in many cases from packers and feeder buyers.

Slaughter calves were steady to weaker, compared with the high close of last week, as national packers exerted pressure from the start on that class. Stocker and feeder cattle and calves were firm throughout. Bulls were steady to stronger, some toppy bulls up to $22.50 or fifty cents above most recent sales.

Good and choice slaughter steers and yearlings cashed at $24 to $27 and common and medium offerings cleared at $17 to $24. Fat cows cashed at $17.50 to $20.50, and canners and cutters drew $11 to $17.50. Bulls earned $18 to $22.50.

Good and choice slaughter calves sold from $24 to $28, and common and medium sorts brought $17 to $24. Culls sold at $14 to $17. Medium to good stocker steer calves cleared at $25 to $32, a few to $33. Heifer calves ranged from $29 downward. Stocker steer yearlings of medium to good grades sold from $22 to $27, with some choice lighter weights to $27.50 and $28. Stocker heifers sold around $24 to $25 and downward.

Lambs and Yearlings Open Lower, Feeders Firm

Slaughter lambs were weak to 50 cents or more lower and the top was $1 under the highest price last week. Strictly choice lambs were very scarce. Yearling wethers were weak to 50 cents lower. Older sheep and goats were steady. Good and choice slaughter lambs cashed at $20 to $22 and cull to medium lambs sold from $12 to $19. Stocker and feeder lambs ranged from $17 to $20, and shorn feeders sold from $18 down. Good and choice yearlings ranged from $17 to $18, some 118-pound yearlings at $17. Cull to medium yearlings sold from $12 to $15. Slaughter ewes cashed at $7 to $7.50. Slaughter goats sold around $7. Two-year-old wethers ranged from $14 downward. Old bucks brought $5 to $6. Broken mouthed ewes sold at $11 and low mouthed ewes sold at $14.

Sure-footed Man Serves Texas

The colorful language of the ranch and trail seems to fit Bill Blakley, who made his start in life as a working cowhand. He still rides and ropes with the hands on his ranch at roundup time.

Speaking of Blakley's service as U. S. Senator in 1957, the Dallas News said: "... If he was as unassuming as an old boot, it was nevertheless a well polished boot that never wobbled or wandered from its purposeful path. For this man Blakley is a sure-footed man who knows exactly where he stands and what he believes."

Texans will vote to return William A. Blakley to the Senate on July 26 because he truly represents the spirit, traditions and views of all Texas.
