

Ozona Radar Aircraft Controllers Part of Sector Credited With Saving 36 Million Dollars Worth Of Aircraft and 44 Lives in 1960 Operations

The aircraft controller emerged as 1960's unsung hero in the Oklahoma City Air Defense Sector. Reason: Between them, aircraft controllers at 17 Aircraft Control and Warning Squadrons in the sector saved 36 million dollars worth of military aircraft during the past twelve months. This information was revealed in a report made public this week by S-Sgt. Paul R. Hall, information officer at the Ozona Air Force Station.

The report put a big smile on the face of Colonel Alfred V. Walton, OCADS Commander. The cost of the aircraft saved paid 90 percent of the cost of running the sector during the past year, the report pointed out.

Altogether, the aircraft controllers, who sit at radar scopes located throughout Oklahoma, Texas, Louisiana, Arkansas and New Mexico, saved 28 aircraft in emergencies.

What was perhaps the most important save took place on the evening of May 11, when a SAC "Hustler" lost the use of all navigational equipment 45 miles east of Dallas. The pilot contacted the aircraft controller at the 745th ACW Squadron, Duncanville AFS, by squawking "Mayday." The controller on duty, Captain Murray J. Goldberg, pinpointed the aircraft, which by then was wobbling and smoking from unknown causes and directed the plane to Carswell AFB, where it landed safely.

Another important save took place on May 3, when a SAG B-52 got lost between San Angelo and San Antonio, Texas. 2nd Lt. Robert H. McBride, aircraft controller at the 741st ACW SQ Lackland AFB located the airplane, which was headed for the Gulf of Mexico in rain showers and fog. The aircraft controller made radio contact with the B-52 and proceeded to guide him to a safe landing at Kelly AFB.

During the year the Sector's Aircraft Control and Warning Squadrons averaged about 350 assists to aircraft each month. These included civilian airlines seeking a way around storms. Although not classed as emergencies, these problems might become dangerous if not solved with the help of the men at the scopes on the ground.

There was a bonus thrown into the "budget" report too: 44 people flying in the crippled aircraft came safely through the emergencies without an injury.

It cost some 40 million dollars during 1960 to operate the system 24 hours a day, seven days a week, 366 days of the year. Four operations crews work around the clock at each radar station, and at sector headquarters on Oklahoma City Air Force Station.

Classed as "saved" aircraft are those whose pilots ask for help by "Squawking Mayday" on their radios. "Mayday" is Air Force jargon for an aircraft emergency.

The 732nd Aircraft Control and Warning Squadron of Ozona Air Force Station is proud to be a member of the Oklahoma Air Defense Sector, Sgt. Hall concluded.

Sonora Caves Called Important Asset To Both Ozona & Sonora

Buzzy Stokes, manager of the Sonora Chamber of Commerce spoke to the Ozona Lions Club last week on the growing importance of highway trade to Ozona and the prominent role the production of the Sonora Caves could assume in highway traffic and trade.

Mr. Stokes discussed the importance of highway traffic to the community and the encouraging development of the cave trade on highway 290.

Well over 18,000 tourists went through the Sonora Caves last summer after their opening in mid-summer and their reactions were very favorable, an important factor in future development. Early success at the cave has prompted promoters to extend the part of the cave how open more than 1700 more feet into what is now considered one of the most beautiful of all caves.

Reports from cave explorers reveal great possibilities not yet explored but also state that the formations of this cave are unmatched in the world today.

Even though the caves are being promoted as Sonora caves Ozona in its close proximity stands to do as well as Sonora from the increased trade which would result from extensive development of the cave now seemingly well on its way, Stokes declared.

The News Reel

A re-run of "The Ozona Story" as gleaned from the files of The Ozona Stockman

From The Stockman, Jan. 21, 1932

Funeral services were held Friday afternoon for Mrs. Matilda Jane Casbeer, mother of County Treasurer Tom Casbeer, who died at the home of her son here early Friday morning.

Charges of possessing equipment for the manufacture of liquor have been filed against Frank Jacobs and G. C. Allen as a result of a raid conducted by Sheriff W. S. Willis on a ranch of the W. A. Woods estate in extreme western Crockett county. A 300-gallon still, 1000 gallons of mash and other equipment were seized.

Charges resulting from Sunday's raid by three officers on a game rooster fight on the Boyd Holmes ranch near Sheffield, are to be filed this week by Hart Johnson, Pecos county attorney. Two hundred persons were at the scene, many well-known business and professional people, who scattered from their vantage points around the cock pits when the officers arrived. In addition to four dead roosters, two more going at with gaffs in the ring, and seven gallons of whiskey were seized by the officers.

A second hat was officially flung into the race for tax assessor this week when Rusty Smith, a veteran of the 1930 campaign for the same office, again placed himself in the running.

Because of the frequent calls for assistance being received lately, officers of the Ozona Associated Charities have asked Ozona people to list with them any permanent or temporary jobs they may have in which these needy people can be employed.

Two double deck cars of lambs from the Jones Miller ranch in Crockett County brought 5 cents a pound on the Fort Worth market Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Schwartz of Boerne are here for a visit with Mrs. Schwartz's father, R. J. Cooke.

Early award of another contract for construction of a segment of the Old Spanish Trail in Crockett county is believed contemplated by the State Highway Department. Federal and state engineers are expected here next week to begin final surveys on the first fifteen miles of highway west of Ozona.

Ozona Parent-Teachers Assn., meeting Monday afternoon pledged assistance in the raising of money to buy another piano for the old school auditorium to replace the one the Ozona Woman's Club is refinishing in readiness for placing it in the new high school auditorium. The Music Club and the Woman's Club are assisting in raising

BARBARA BARBEE IS BETTY CROCKER WINNER

The 1961 Betty Crocker Home-maker of Tomorrow for Ozona high school is Miss Barbara Barbee.

Having received the highest score in a written examination on homemaking knowledge and attitudes taken by graduating seniors in her school, she becomes a candidate for the state Homemaker of Tomorrow award which will be announced in March.

Each school's Homemaker of Tomorrow will receive an award pin representing the slogan, "Home is Where the Heart Is." The examination papers of school Homemakers of Tomorrow will be entered in competition to name the state's Homemaker of Tomorrow.

The $110,000 homemaking education program sponsored by General Mills offers a $1,500 scholarship to the first ranking girl in each state and $500 scholarship to the state's second ranking participant.

State Homemakers of Tomorrow and their faculty advisors receive an expense-paid educational tour to New York City, Colonial Williamsburg, Va., and Washington, D. C., April 8-13, the trip culminating in the announcement of the All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow whose scholarship is increased to $5,000. Second, third and fourth ranking Homemakers of Tomorrow in the nation will have their scholarships raised to $4,000, $3,000 and $2,000, respectively.

HELP!

"Whether or not 1961 turns out to be a very happy and prosperous new year for the American people," writes Editor Edward I. Maher of the NAM NEWS. "It depends on whether or not the nation attempts to deal with the real causes of its economic difficulties instead of just treating the symptoms. If we face up to our problems realistically, this year can see the beginning of the highest and most sustained level of prosperity on record."

Mr. Maher cites as the three dominant threats to that happy new year: 1, the continuing drift toward centralism and reliance on the Federal Government for solution of all problems; 2, an income tax system that discourages both individuals and businesses; and 3, the expanding monopoly power of labor unions.

To provide solutions rather than mere palliatives, says this writer, will be a formidable job for the new Administration and the Congress. "Industry," he concludes, "join in wishing President-elect Kennedy, his cabinet, the Congress, and all those who will be directing the destinies of the American people, the best of all possible years and trusts, with Divine Guidance, they will make the decisions which will insure a peaceful and prosperous year for the nation and the American people."

We can only add that it could be a very considerable help in this direction for the voters to keep in mind those three obstacles to a happy 1961, and note carefully as the days go by what proposals are offered in those vital areas. Then, as these measures come to light, it will be highly constructive to give our people in Congress the benefit of our opinions — favorable or otherwise.

It is conceivable that, by public demand, the costly and demoralizing trend toward statism could be reversed, gradual tax reduction of the Herlong-Baker type be achieved and anti-trust restraints applied to unions.

Without public pressure these reforms, and a happy new year, are inconceivable.

PRACTICE BEGINS FOR 1961 VOLLEYBALL SEASON

Ozona High School Volleyball practice began Monday January 16. The first game will be January 26 in Big Spring.

The volleyball team won district championship last year and placed 2nd in state.

Miss Geneva Knox, girls' volleyball coach, lost two lettermen from last year's team.

Thirteen girls reported to practice Monday evening. Among them the following:

TOURNAMENT HOLDS THRILLS FOR FANS 6-60

People enjoy basketball tournaments for various reasons. The smaller kids 6 years and younger go to the tournaments to watch their parents or in some cases it provides a place where their parents can conveniently get rid of them.

The middle aged smaller kids (age 6-12) have a more re-bid interest in getting into trouble by popping cups, scattering pop corn, bothering everybody in general and the Seniors who are working in the concession stand in particular. At this age, they also begin to get the slightest notion of what a basketball looks like and when they can't find any grown ups to wait or coke cups to pop they watch basketball.

When they reach the age of 12-15, the girls begin to flirt with boys and the boys begin to show their affection for the girls by pulling their hair and drinking the little girls' cokes. The boys also begin to show a small interest in basketball.

The age group of 15-18, or the high school students, begin a new trend. They spend more time "mooning" over a member of the opposite sex or taking bets on which team will win or who will be the high point man on each basketball team or in some cases speculating on how many girl or boy friends the cute little visiting boy or girl has.

Some of the teenagers actually go to the games because they enjoy basketball.

The next group (age 10 to well, I guess 24 will do) go to basketball tournaments because they hope to see some friends of theirs from out of town or in some cases who like basketball, but love money more, go because they can see 3 or 4 games for the price of one.

The next group age 24 to 50 go to enjoy basketball. This group often speculate on the outcome of the games and go to cheer their investment on. The ladies get out for their annual gossip sessions.

The next group, 50-?, is a group that you'll only find at the gym during tournaments and you'll only find them if they have a great love of basketball or grandchildren.

LIONS PROWL

Saturday night a banquet was given for the All-District 8-A football team in the school cafeteria. It was given by the Lion's Club as the official end of the football season.

Entertainment was provided for the P. T. A. Monday night by a concert presented by the high school band. Among the numbers played were the pieces they will play at spring contest.

A good crowd went to Eldorado last Friday to back the Lion's teams in their first district games. The boys started off right with a win, but the girls had some hard luck.

Last week was one that everyone was glad to see pass. Exams were given last week, and this week was the beginning of the second semester. Some students are in the middle of changing courses. Some are dropping ones they did not want and others are making up ones that were not passed last year.

Most of the kids in school are getting very excited about this coming week-end. Not only do we have a holiday Friday, but the town will be jumping with the excitement of a basketball tournament. Some of the girls are beginning to doubt the advantage of going steady when they think of all the boys that will be running around.

Everyone is wondering what the American History students are mumbling as they walk down the halls. Well, it seems that they are not really cracking up after all. It is just that they must recite the Gettysburg Address at the end of this week.

Peggy Harvick and Charlotte Johnigan went to Denton this last week-end for the state contest in "Make - It - With - Wool." Even though the judges did not choose (Continued on Page Five)

Accurate and Complete
RANCH RECORD
Are More Important
Today Than Ever

Government regulations and heavy tax programs are destined to be a part of the American way of doing business for a long time. For that reason, it is more important today that every business keep accurate records of its operations.

The ranch business is no exception. With the stiff federal taxes, you will want to take advantage of every saving item in your expense account and at the same time have clear and convincing records available for inspection by tax agents to prove up any item on your income tax return.

Start now to keep a complete record covering all operations in your business with the Stockman's RANCH RECORD BOOK. Your cancelled checks or your present records can be transcribed to this handy record book, together with your income and inventory records and you can have your entire record in a simplified form contained in one volume.

COOKS TAKE HOLIDAY; SENIORS FEED FANS

This week Ozona will hold its 30th Annual Basketball Tournament and, as usual the senior class will serve refreshments for all fans attending the tournament.

There will be two concession stands open during the games. They will be located at the southwest and northwest ends of the gym. The seniors will have on sale the following refreshments: Hot dogs, chili dogs, Barbecue Burgers Coffee, sandwiches. They will also have cold drinks, candy, gum, cake, and pie.

In the past years some of the best cooks in Ozona have contributed some of their best pies and cakes to the senior class even though they did not have sons or daughters in the class. These cakes and pies have always been greatly appreciated by the senior class.

LIONS TAKE WIN; THEN DEFEAT

By Mike Stiles

For the second time in the sports of 60-61, Ozona High has defeated the hard fighting Eldorado Eagles this time in basketball. Eldorado had a slight height advantage but could not stay up with the Lions. The Lions made many mistakes, but the Eagles could not take advantage of these. The Lions pulled a few tricks which left Eldorado standing still. The Lions led in score all the way, but it was narrowed several times by some quick action by Eldorado.

"Hook" Long led the scoring with his "Goose Tatum" shooting of 18 points. "Splinter" Miller had a close 2nd with 16 points.

Ball control was not at its best, with the Lions making many errors, but it was not enough to keep the Lions from winning their first district game.

One of the Lions thought the Eagles needed some help and cheered for the wrong goal, but our captains talked him into coming back.

Although the Lions won Friday night, Saturday morning, at 9:00 the gym was filled with moaning and groaning after the early morning practice session.

Miss Molly Sue Richardson, John Butterfield Wed In Methodist Church Ceremony Saturday

In a wedding ceremony read at 4 p. m. Saturday in the Ozona Methodist Church, Miss Molly Sue Richardson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Richardson of Ozona, became the bride of John Edward Butterfield, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Butterfield of Kermit, Texas.

The Rev. Morris H. Bratton, pastor, read the double-ring ceremony before a background of white gladioluses and white candles in candelabra.

Mrs. Ken Cody played soft organ music throughout the ceremony and accompanied Mrs. Joe Williams as she sang "I Love Thee".

Entering on the arm of her father, the bride wore a wedding dress of white lace and chiffon. The molded bodice was lace over chiffon with three-quarter-length sleeves. The skirt was street length chiffon over taffeta. The wedding veil was topped with an iridescent sequin hat. The veil was fingertip length. A bouquet of white carnations was carried atop a white prayer book.

Miss Dorothy Ann Schleimert of Denver City, Texas, was maid of honor. She is a cousin to the bride. She wore a baby blue dress made of jersey with accents of taffeta at the waist. She carried one long-stemmed white carnation.

Kent Chapman of New York City, formerly of Ozona, was best man. Ushers were Darrell Rasberry and Art Kyle of Ozona.

Miss Joleen Butterfield, sister of bridegroom, lighted the candles.

A reception was held in the fellowship hall of the church following the wedding. The couple and their parents greeted guests and friends during the reception. Focal point of the table was a three-tiered wedding cake capped by miniature bride and bridegroom. White gladioluses served as a centerpiece.

Mrs. C. L. Rasberry and Mrs. Bobby Halydier presided at the refreshment table.

When Mr. and Mrs. Butterfield left for a wedding trip, the bride was wearing a fitted royal blue and black wool suit with royal blue accessories.

Mrs. Butterfield is a graduate of Ozona High School. Her husband, also a graduate of Ozona High School, attended San Angelo Junior College and Sul Ross at Alpine, before he entered the Navy.

They will now make their home at Alpine, where Mr. Butterfield will finish college.

Out of town guests came from Kermit, Denver City, Brownfield and Levelland, Texas, and from Hobbs, New Mexico.
