Turbulent Weather Romps Over Area

Membership Drive Gains Momentum

Announcement was made at the Friends of the Library meeting Monday afternoon that the Texas State Library has approved Muleshoe Area Public Library's construction project application, part I, for a new, modern local library building.

Under the Library Services and Construction Act, Title II Program, the local library has now qualified, in the first phase, for a federal grant of $50,000 from the Texas State Library. This grant will match local funding for an enlarged proposed building plan on the site across the street from Bailey County Courthouse. Officials feel the new library's location in the downtown, more central, area will be a definite improvement in serving both city and rural patrons.

Grant funding, however, is contingent on approval by the State Library of subsequent application parts II and III. Lee B. Brawner, assistant State Librarian, said in his June 5 letter to library officials here, FOL executive board members meeting in City Council Chambers also heard another "good news" report from FOL Membership Chairman Jay Sam Manning, son of Rev. and Mrs. Edwin L. Manning, has been selected as one of five young men to appear before the Rhodes Committee for a possible scholarship this October. Sam is a senior with an 'A' average at the College of the Ozarks, in Clarksville, Ark.

Dan Lee Smallwood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Smallwood of Muleshoe has returned from a tour of service in Vietnam. He is now a civilian and will go into accounting in Fort Harbin. He reported that more than $1,200 has been received from more than 400 individuals, families, organizations and businesses in the recent but incomplete FOL membership drive.

Harbin said that the drive, which is endeavoring to secure the support of as many area library patrons as possible this year, is "not nearly complete but is going real well."

All library supporters are being asked for a minimum contribution-membership of $1 per person, $5 per family and up to $100 for life memberships in FOL. Those not contacted by FOL volunteer canvassers are asked to bring or mail

JAYCEE SMITH PRESENTS CHECK--Jaycee Jeff Smith, left, presented a check in the amount of $1,323 to Ernest Kerr, chairman of the Stegall-Muleshoe Opportunity Plan at the noon meeting of the Jaycees Monday. These are the proceeds of the beef drawing which was held last week. Also pictured are Harold

King, who contributed the beef and Vance Wagoner who processed the beef halves for the two winners. This has been considered a major project for the Muleshoe Jaycees and Jaycee Smith expressed his and the organizations appreciation to the many people who made it a successful undertaking.

Jaycees Completed Major Beef Project

With the presentation of a check in the amount of $1,323 to Ernest Kerr, chairman of the Stegall-Muleshoe Division of Opportunity Plan, Inc., Jaycee Chairman Jeff Smith concluded a major project for the Jaycees.

Jaycee Smith, along with other members of the Muleshoe Jaycees and Jaycee-ettes, instituted the project to give financial aid to the Stegall-Muleshoe Opportunity Plan, which helps students attend college when they would not have the financing through other means.

A beef was contributed by Harold King of King Feed Lot and Vance Wagoner, owner of the Muleshoe Locker Co, processed the beef halves at no charge to the Jaycees or the two winners.

Little Miss Muleshoe, Mitzi Altman, of the Three Way Community, drew the names of Bill Clymer from Lubbock and Mrs. J.C. Shanks of Muleshoe as the winners. The drawing was held near the Bailey County Law Enforcement Center on Tuesday, June 2 at 2 p.m.

King, Kerr and Wagoner were special guests at the noon meeting of the Jaycees on Monday, June 8, along with Gil Lamb of Radio Station KMUL and Cleta Williams of The Journal. Smith extended a thank you from the Jaycees to these persons, and to the Jaycee organization for the successful project. He said the $1,323 received exceeded his expectations, and he said he was grateful to all the people who assisted in the project.

Chairman Ernest Kerr said, "I do know one thing, America would be in bad shape without the Jaycees."

He added, "I would like to thank Harold King for contributing the beef and Vance Wagoner for processing the beef."

Kerr also spoke briefly on the upcoming Miss Texas Pageant and urged all Jaycees possible to attend the pageant. He said with the Jaycees acquiring the Miss Texas Franchise that it is a tremendous undertaking for the local Jaycees, but commented that it is worth the effort.

Jaycee Clarence Christian presented the budget for the first Miss Texas Pageant which will be held in Fort Worth July 12-18. Following discussion of some items in the budget, it was approved. Christian also reported that the Miss Muleshoe Pageant will be held later this year, but as yet, the date is open.

Hail Cuts Swath Through Lazbuddie

Weather wary and weary area citizens scanned the skies during the first part of this week when booming thunderstorms romped and roamed throughout the area.

With most farmers, especially dryland farmers, needing moisture to plant cotton and grain, or replant blown out acres, rain would have been most welcome. But, along with the rain, came the wind and hail, and spotted crop damage from the violent storms.

Hardest hit was the Lazbuddie community Sunday night. In a storm which moved across the Muleshoe area then hung in the Lazbuddie area for slightly more than two hours, from five to seven inches of hail was dumped. The hailstones ranged from small pea-sized to golf ball size, and in some places the hail piles were more than a foot deep and melting slowly at mid-morning Monday.

Beginning at a point some three to three and a half miles west of Lazbuddie near the Frank Hinson and Lee Kimbrough farms, the hail ravaged a path estimated to six miles wide. Larry Davis, who lives just west of Lazbuddie in a trailer house, said the hail began at approximately 8 p.m.

Shortly after 8, the Lubbock weather bureau issued a severe weather forecast and a former Bailey County Deputy Sheriff reported that he was watching three separate and distinct tornadoes in the area. None of

County Attorney Served Hospital Election Contest

Last Monday, County Attorney Roger Gorrell was served a notice to contest the Bailey County Hospital District and Bond Election which was held on May 16, 1970. The notice was served by the law firm of Kirby, Ratliff and Samson of Littlefield on behalf of a number of individuals.

Generally, the Notice to Contest protested the election procedure, the fact that the hospital district as an entity could call an election, the legality of votes by people who had not rendered property for taxes prior to the election and the hours the polls were open.

The Bailey County Hospital District Board will have 10 days to file a written answer to the Notice to Contest.

County, Area Crops Receive Some Damage

County Agent J.K. Adams has completed a survey of Bailey County crops which were damaged in a windstorm on the last day of May. He has also been checking cotton, grain sorghum and wheat which has received spotted hail damage during recent thunderstorms in the county.

He said that Dale Newsom at the Needmore Co-op Gin said that between 40 and 50 percent of the cotton was lost in the Needmore-Baileyboro-Circleback area due to the sand and wind in the May 31 storm. However, added the county agent, as much as 1.6 inches of rain followed the rain and sand leaving moisture conditions that enable many dryland farmers to plant cotton and grain sorghum.

He commented that some crusting conditions are causing many farmers to have to scratch up their fields, using various methods of breaking the crusts.

The County Agent stated that the most unfortunate area in Bailey County is the Enochs to Bula area where at least 20 percent of the cotton is still unplanted waiting for rain. Many of the crops now up are in jeopardy in that area, he said, needing rain badly on the dryland farms.

Adams continued, that ap-

COMMITTEE ON ARMED SERVICES

ANTI-CRIME OUTLOOK IMPROVES
The Senate has finally confirmed a Supreme Court nominee after a full year of having only eight Justices on the highest court. The new Associate Justice is Harry A. Blackmun of Minnesota. I am confident that he will provide needed balance for the Court, just as I was confident that the President's two previous nominees, Judge Clement F. Haynsworth Jr. and Judge G. Harrold Carswell, would have had they been confirmed. I was disappointed that neither of these two fine judges were confirmed and I cannot believe that an attitude of sectionalism and politics did not play some part in their defeat. But the important factors are that the Court can now move forward on some of the vital decisions for which it had been awaiting a new member and that the new member can be expected to follow a judicial philosophy of strict construction of the Constitution. I believe that Justice Blackmun will prove to be an excellent Justice.

One of the areas in which action by the Court will be most significant is that of fair and effective law enforcement. I am encouraged that Congress is continuing to give its attention to this vital matter and is seeking to provide more effective tools to combat crime in our nation. Under consideration are amendments to the Omnibus Safe Streets and Crime Control Act passed by Congress two years ago. The year after that act was passed, the rise in our nation's crime rate showed its lowest rate of increase in four years, but much remains to be done. We must refine our legislative crime-fighting tools, and that is why I am a co-sponsor of the amendments which have been offered and which are in line with recommendations of the Executive Branch.

I have been encouraged by letters I have received from Texas mayors which indicate recognition of the vital role which must be played by local law enforcement agencies. Because crime must be fought essentially on the local level, with assistance from state and federal governments, I have determined to work to insure that a significant portion of federal law enforcement assistance continues to go to our local governments.

Texas can also expect Congress to provide it with additional federal judgeships this year. I am working to provide six new judgeships, although the House has approved legislation to add only four. Regardless, we can be assured that at least some relief in caseload per federal judge in Texas will be forthcoming and this will improve our judicial capability.

Earlier this year the Senate also approved a bill which will strengthen our capability for dealing with the burgeoning problem of drug abuse. I am hopeful that the House of Representatives will complete action on the bill. Drug abuse control is a combined health and crime problem, but there is abundant evidence that a reduction in illegal drug trafficking and sales will assist in combating crime. If we can end illegal drug sales and cure our drug addicts, we will eliminate robberies and other crimes committed by addicts in order to obtain money with which to buy illegal drugs. THE ROAD TO SOUTHEAST ASIAN PEACE peace in Southeast Asia, I share that concern. As a member of the Senate Armed Services Committee, I have studied this problem in depth. I am absolutely convinced that the process of Vietnamization will achieve peace in the quickest possible time, short of surrender and unilateral withdrawal. I am completely opposed to the latter course as I believe such action would undermine the leadership role of the United States in the Free World. But our Vietnamization program will enable the Army of the Republic of Vietnam to carry on future ground combat roles which may be necessary, and enable us to save the valuable lives of our young men.
I know that many Americans are vitally concerned over the most effective means to achieve

A major threat to the success of Vietnamization has been the unrestricted use of Cambodian territory by the enemy as a sanctuary. In Cambodia territory, some of it only the distance from Saigon as the distance between Fort Worth and Dallas, the Communists had built elaborate military support facilities including vast warehouses bulging with food and ammunition. In these staging areas the enemy was poised to spring onto our defensive positions in South Vietnam and looked forward to safe retreat after inflicting major damage. Our actions in Cambodia are literal search and destroy missions which will be effective in insuring success for our Vietnamization program and, in the final analysis, save American lives. Our operations will be completed by the end of June and our troops will return to their bases in South Vietnam.

Our action in Cambodia is a controversial one here at home and the Senate as a result, is engaging in a full discussion of the Constitutional Powers of the Commander-in-Chief, and is probing into the area of legislative restrictions on the President's ability to conduct Southeast Asian activities. I am strongly opposed to any action which would inhibit the President's ability to follow prudent courses of action which events and intelligence indicate will achieve an honorable peace in the safest and most rapid manner possible. I believe our nation's history and the practical realities associated with national defense makes it clear and incumbent that the President has and should have the Constitutional Power necessary for protection of Americans overseas.

We have dissent within our nation over what the actions of the President and the Congress should be. This is consistent with our heritage as a free and democratic nation. Protection of the right of dissent is one of the many basic reasons we are opposing Communism throughout the World. Dissent is a valuable commodity for it forces us all to think, to consider new ideas and to reconsider old ideas. But I break with dissenters which use violence or intentionally provoke violence to further their own aims. Such action is not consistent with the tenants of our society and we must continually act to prevent violence and to condemn its occurrence.

Miss Horton, Embry Vows Read OES Has Installation

The First Baptist Church, Wellington, was the scene of a double ring ceremony Saturday, June 6, at seven o'clock which united Miss Tanya Kay Horton of Wellington and Johnny Euell Embry of Muleshoe. Officiating was Royce Clay, minister of Muleshoe Church of Christ.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Horton, Sr. of Wellington and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Embry of Muleshoe. The couple stood before an altar centered with arched candelabra and a white, satin-covered predeiu. On either side stood a seven-branched candelabra with cathedral tapers and pedestal baskets of white gladiola.

Miss Beth Smith, organist, of Wellington, furnished traditional wedding selections and accompanied Ray Horton of Denver, Colorado, brother of the bride, as he sang "Because" and "The Wedding Prayer".

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a formal gown. The white taffeta bodice was covered with white lace and accented by sequins. It was designed with a scooped neckline and long sleeves of lace. Her full skirt featured a front panel made of net tiers bordered with lace. She wore a fingertip veil of nylon lace attached to a tierra of seed pearls and lace roses. The bridal bouquet was green orchids and white lillies of the valley with white ribbon love knots atop a white bible.

Miss Cherry Lewis of Wellington was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Susan Coffee, Wellington, and Mrs. John A. Horton, Arlington, cousin of the bride. They wore identical mint green floor length dresses of lace over taffeta with empire waist and short, puff sleeves. Their head pieces were mint green bows accented with horse hair braid and lillies of the valley. They carried bouquets of green carnations. Lisa Hartman, Wellington, was flower girl. She wore a white dress and a headpiece matching the bridesmaids. Ring Bearer was Michael Breedlove, Wellington.

Mack Hodges, Hale Center, served as best man. Ricky Bradley, Muleshoe, and Wendall Ishell, Paducah, were groomsmen. Jim Swindle, Hart, and Derrel Embry, Muleshoe, served as ushers.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Fellowship Hall of the First Baptist Church. The Brides' table was covered with white net over white satin. The center peice was made of candles surrounded by gladiolas tied with mint green ribbons. Miss Rhonda Little, Amarillo, and Miss Coszette Seitz, Wellington, cousin of the bride, served the four tiered extended cake, which was decorated with swans and flowers, topped with a floral arrangement. Green punch was served from crystal appointments.

For a wedding trip to Dallas, Fort Worth, Arlington and Six Flags, the bride wore a two piece green knit suit with white accessories. Her corsage was a green orchid lifted from her bridal bouquet.

COTTON TALKS

FROM PLAIN'S COTTON DEGREE, INC.

June 10 is the target date selected by House Agriculture Committee Chairman Bob Poage (D-Tex.) for getting a farm bill on the floor of the House. But many on the scene think June 15 or 16 is more likely.

Most provisions of the three-year bill were fairly well set as of Friday, May 29, with Poage's committee expected to make it official on June 2. But still to be determined is what the Committee will do about a limitation of payments to cotton, feed grains and wheat producers.

The cotton section of the bill to come from the Committee now seems certain to contain a loan at 18.7 cents per pound (basis 3.5 to 4.9 micronaire), a national base allotment of 11.5 million acres, a maximum set aside requirement of 33-1/3 percent of allotments, and an advance payment rate of 15 cents per pound to be supplemented later if necessary to bring the national average market price plus the payment up to 35 cents a pound.

The Administration earlier proposed a graduated scale of payment limitations that would make $10,000 the maximum any producer could receive on each of the three crops. But the strong proponents of limiting payments, such as Congressmen Findley of Illinois and Conte of Massachusetts, have tagged that proposal as "ridiculously high". They are also known to have approached Secretary of Agriculture Hardin in an attempt to get support for a much lower ceiling. So how firm the Administration will stand behind its original offering is not known.

Committee members, including Chairman Poage, are of the opinion that some form of limitation is mandatory if the bill is to have a chance for passage. But instead of including a payment limitation as a part of the bill it reports, the Committee may well wait until the bill reaches the floor, then offer an amendment that would set the ceiling at the most favorable point they think can be passed.

Current talk is that the 15 cent payment would be made to producers on the projected yield from base allotments as soon as practicable after July 1. Any supplementary payment that was needed to make total producer income equal 35 cents per pound would be made after January 1 when the national average market price for the first five months of the cotton marketing year could be figured. For example if the market price average from August 1 through December 31 came to only 18 cents, producers would be due another payment of 2 cents per pound.

How the bill will fare on the floor of the House is difficult to say. It is not entirely satisfactory to anyone and certainly not to the Administration. Therefore the "push" that will be necessary to get it through the House in recognizable form may or may not develop.

Obviously if a farm bill can be gotten through the House in June it will be one giant step in the direction of a new program for agriculture. But farm people will have no firm indication of what the future holds until the Senate acts and a House-Senate conference committee iron out the differences that are sure to exist between the two bodies. So it will be a while yet before it's time to "count your chickens."
