Cong. Ed Foreman Makes Inspection Of AF Radar Base

Member Armed Services Committee, Investigating Closing

Congressman Ed Foreman, conservative Republican representative of the 16th District in Congress, flew in from Odessa Sunday morning for a personal inspection of the Ozona Air Force radar installation to gain first hand information on behalf of the Congressional committee, of which he is a member, investigating the closing of the local defense facility, along with a number of other similar installations.

The Congressman was in Odessa for a week-end visit and flew by private plane to Ozona and to Pyote Sunday for hurried looks at the now deactivated radar scanning sites.

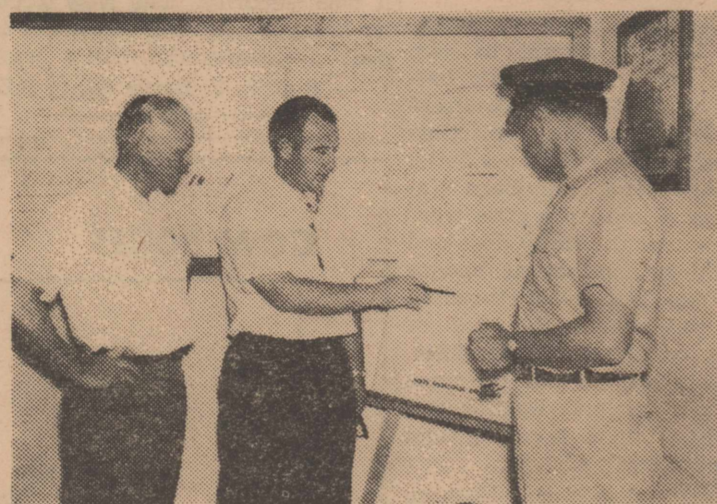

Major William C. Bowman, commander at the Ozona AF Station, and Lt. Barry Sipes conducted the Congressman and his executive assistant, Rudy Juedeman of Odessa, together with a group of local supporters who welcomed the Congressman and his party at the airport, on a tour of the base.

Foreman toured the headquarters, the recreation area, the barracks buildings, bachelor officer's quarters, the mess hall, the operations buildings, the power buildings, etc. and the modern residential area where married officers and men lived on the base.

He also inspected the half finished installation of a new and more modern radar unit, halted when the sudden orders to close the facility came through. A concrete foundation and base had been poured, part of the equipment installed, the first steel girders erected, a concrete conduit tunnel completed, a roadway excavated and ready for paving, sidewalks staked, formed and with reinforcing steel in place. Many tons of steel and other materials were on the ground and the installation work continued for several days after the closing order, before the contractor received his stop order.

The visiting Congressman, a member of the powerful House Armed Services Committee, asked many questions about the station's operations, personnel and the facilities available.

Ozonans Relieved After Severe Weather Threat Fails To Materialize

A severe weather forecast which included most of Crockett county from 3 p. m. to 9 p. m. Tuesday failed to produce any rough weather, much to the relief of many Ozonans.

The forecast, which called for numerous severe thunderstorms, some damaging hail, and one or two tornadoes along a line thirty miles on either side from Ft. Stockton to thirty miles Southwest of San Antonio, did not materialize even though many areas in the hill country did receive some heavy hail a few hours before the forecast went into effect.

Ozona found itself with a heavy cloud cover Tuesday morning with rapidly rising temperatures but after noon, cool air from the front passing through cleared the clouds and no weather developed.

Bailey Takes 12th Win Of 35-Year-Old W.T.U. Employe Golf Tourney

T. J. Bailey, Ozona's West Texas Utilities manager, and scourge of West Texas golf links, again sacked up the West Texas Utilities Co. annual golf tournament in Abilene the past week-end.

It was the 12th time the Ozona veteran had won the employees' annual tournament. This was the 35th year of the company tournament which draws WTU employe golfers from all over the far-flung West Texas properties. Bailey, by the way, was among the half dozen employes who started the annual tourney off 35 years ago. This year there were 120 entries in the popular event.

Tops In Quarter Horses To Appear In Show Saturday

Ozona's Eleventh Annual Quarter Horse Show to Attract Finest

Horsedom's royalty will be gathered in Ozona this week-end to parade before the judges and to go through their performance paces in the eleventh annual Ozona Quarter Horse Show and Performance Contests, sponsored by the Ozona Roping Club.

The show is scheduled to get under way Saturday morning, June 1, with the halter classes showing at 8:30 a. m. Performance classes, including the western riding horse contest, reining contest, barrel race, roping horse contest, team roping and cutting horse contests, starting at 1 p. m. and performance championship classes and junior open reining and children's western classes in the evening session starting at 8 p. m.

Although entries were reported sluggish early in the week, more inquiries were being received at midweek and Carl Appel, show chairman, and Sam Perner, secretary, predicted a full entry list by the time the show opens Saturday morning.

The Ozona show attracted 133 horses last year. That the show might reach Class B status this year, with more than 150 entries, was thought a possibility, from the interest over the state shown following the mailing of entry blanks and information sheets.

Quarter horse owners have an opportunity to make two shows in one, in effect, with the Sonora show set for the previous day, Friday May 31. Horsemen can show in the Sonora show, judged by Weldon Rogers, and come on to the Ozona show the next morning. The Ozona show will be judged by Johnie Rex McClellan of McLean, Texas.

All first place winners in the halter classes will receive trophies with ribbons to be awarded first through sixth places in all classes. Grand champion and reserve champion mares, stallions and geldings will be awarded trophies and rosettes.

A Western parade at 5 p. m. will herald the night performance starting at 8 p. m. The parade will be through downtown streets. The grandentry will be at 8 p. m. with all contestants in the performance and children's classes taking part.

The show will be staged at the new fair grounds park, with a new grandstand just completed.

In July, Mrs. Adams and Mrs. Sherman Taylor will sail for Europe and join Camille and her party for the last two months. Mrs. Adams and Mrs. Taylor expect to return in September, and unless Camille decides to stay in Paris and attend school with Miss Harris, she will return with them.

Oilers Hold On To Unbeaten Lead, But All Teams Sharpen

B&B Grocers Win 2, Coates Slams Out 2 Long Home Runs

By Ernie Boyd

Two towering home runs, the second coming with two on and two out in the last inning, powered the B&B Grocers to a 10 to 8 win over Mason Motors last Thursday night and then the previously downtrodden Grocers came back to post a 7 to 6 win over Moore Oil Monday.

Fleet Coates was the hero for the Grocers last Thursday as he became the first player this season to hit for the distance twice in one game. Both of Coates blows were towering drives that soared far over the new little league park fences.

While B&B was taking out some measure of vengeance on Moore, and Mason, the league leading Ozona Oilers were busy playing short games with their out-manned rivals. The Oilers, who have not lost so far this season, bounced Moore Oil 15 to 4, and then ran over Mason 10 to 0 in another game shortened by the 10 run and four inning rule.

Friday night's games will send B&B into the Lions den against Ozona Oil and pit Mason against Moore in the other contest.

Operators Attempt Completion At Two Ozona Area Tests

Strawn Gasser On Montgomery And Oil Test on Henderson

Delta Drilling Co. and Pauley Petroleum Inc., Odessa, are attempting completion in the Strawn through perforations between 9,620-88 feet at the No. 1 Montgomery, in 18-NG-GC&SF, Crockett County wildcat, 15 miles southwest of Ozona and 3 3/8 miles southwest of production in the Hunt-Baggett (Strawn gas-distillate) field.

The project was flowing to clean on a 16-64-inch choke, after perforations were fractured with 60,000 gallons and 28,000 pounds of sand.

Total depth is 10,150 feet with 5 1/2-inch casing set at 10,010 feet. It is also five miles southeast of the same operators' No. 1 Henderson, recent dual Strawn and Canyon gas discovery.

H. L. Huffman, Ltd., Midland, set 5 1/2-inch casing at 6,725 feet, the total depth, and was preparing to perforate and test at the No. 1-27 F. R. Henderson, Jr., northeast offset to the opener and lone producer in the Ozona, Northwest (Canyon) field of Crockett County, one mile northwest of Ozona.

Shows were recovered on a core cut between 6,530-580 feet.

The discovery, Shell Oil No. 1 Henderson, was finalized April 30, for 574 barrels of 41.7 gravity oil through a 20-64-inch choke and perforations between 6,640-675 feet.

Full Field Of Golfers Expected For Local Tourney

Week-End Play Draws Top Golfers From Area Clubs

By Ernie Boyd

The Ozona Country Club's annual invitation golf tournament will be staged at the Country Club this weekend with a full field of 112 golfers expected.

Highlights of this year's tournament will be partnership play during the qualifying round Saturday, a barbecue for players, club members, and guests, Saturday night, and, of course, the championship play of two nine-hole matches and 9 holes of medal play for the various flight titles Sunday.

Club directors managed to get this year's meet scheduled a good bit earlier in the summer than has been the case in recent years when the meet has fallen late in June or in July.

This year's invitational meet is expected to draw a full field of golfers as has the meet in the past, and Club tournament director Marlon Smith announced at the outset that the field of golfers will be made up of the first 112 entries. Early this week 65 entries had already taken the needed action to become a member (Continued on Last Page)

FALSE ADVERTISING

Remember that other name for Social Security — "Old Age, Survivors' and Disability Insurance"?

Anyone who thinks this insurance has been gravely deceived. And since the institution of insurance is highly regarded by the American people, it seems obvious that the intent was to deceive.

Our contributions to Social Security are not insurance premiums. They are simply taxes. The money an individual (and his employer) pays in during his working years is not set aside for him but goes to pay those now on the OASDI benefit rolls. And, obviously, this system of "robbing Peter to pay Paul" has not worked as planned, since the tax has crept up from the original one percent of the first $3,000 earned to three and 1/2 percent of the first $4,800. This is already more than the 3 percent ceiling originally planned and the tax will keep on going up, with further increases of nearly 50 percent now scheduled during the next five years.

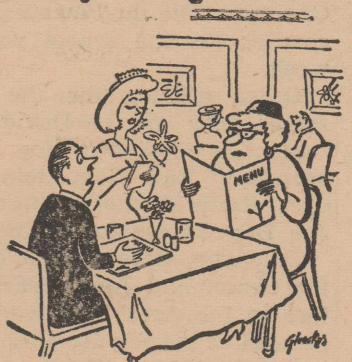

Early beneficiaries, who had paid in very little, had a good thing in Social Security. But, today, the chances of many workers getting back even what they have paid in are growing pretty slim. Thus, the fear is well-founded that in time, it must be a losing venture for all.

But now, this system which has been misrepresented to the people as insurance, which is not self-liquidating and never will be, is to be extended — if the Administration has its way — to include hospitalization and medical care for the aged; This, of course, will mean further tax boosts.

In 1935, when FDR was urging the "Old Age, Survivors' and Disability Insurance" (Social Security) program on Congress, he warned at the same time against "extravagant action" and said that "too ambitious" a program would be disastrous. That their action has been extravagant and far too ambitious is now painfully clear. Social Security obligations to present beneficiaries and those now paying for it are estimated at over $600 billion, while total contributions to be made by those now working and their employers, together with the funds on hand, are estimated at just over $300 billion!

Whatever the Government may feel must be done to provide hospitalization and medical care to those over 65, it should not be hung on the shaky structure of Social Security. We would hope, since most of our oldsters are ready, willing and able to provide for themselves, that "Medicare" legislation will be designed solely for those in need of it — and not masquerade as compulsory insurance for all.

IF YOU WANT IT — HOLLER!

While the taxpayers of the US continue to put up billions for the aid of the so-called "backward" nations, our own Government is about to abolish parcel post because it is too expensive!

Actually, we can't think of anything much more expensive — to the citizenry, especially those living on farms and in the rural areas, to all business and especially some two million small and medium-sized businesses whose survival is seriously threatened — than closing the parcel post windows in the 35,000 post offices throughout America.

In four days of testimony before the House Post Office Committee, top officials of the P. O. Department, representatives of postal employees and of parcel post users found themselves in agreement, reiterating their belief that existing law condemns to death the package delivery service on which the nation has depended for more than half a century.

Present law requires parcel post to be self-supporting and the Postmaster General to certify in advance of each fiscal year that revenue and expense will be in balance. Without such certification, the Treasury is forbidden to give the PMG any money whatever to run the Post Office Department. He now says he can't truthfully give such a certification, since costs will far outrun receipts. Furthermore, he says, a rate increase steep enough to achieve balance, would kill parcel post anyway.

Now only Congress can save parcel post. There must be a law — such as HR 5795, now before the Committee, and the similar Senate bill, S433 — to take parcel post rates and mailability rules from the Postmaster General and the Interstate Commerce Commission and turn them over to Congress. There is no other way out.

If Americans still want parcel post, they had better say so — loud and quick! Every voter should tell the Congressman and both Senators that he doesn't want this nation going backward.

It's no time to pull the tailfeathers of our geese who are laying those golden eggs for the global community!

SOLONS READY FOR PEACE

Mary Ludwig Hays, better known to posterity by her nickname of "Molly Pitcher", probably had a shiny nose when she was carrying water to her husband's artillery battalion at the Battle of Monmouth. And it may have been red as a beet, even peeling, since it was a mighty hot day on June 28, 1778. In fact, the reason she dropped her pitcher and manned her husband's gun during the battle was not because he'd been wounded, but because he'd been overcome by the heat.

Ever since then, American women have bravely sought to help their men win the Nation's battles. During WWII, when Congress passed the emergency wartime 20 percent "luxury" tax on toilet preparations and handbags (among other things) the girls were proud to accept the shiny nose and the beaten-up handbag as badges of patriotism. But, when President Truman proclaimed the end of hostilities on December 31, 1946, they were ready to put on some tax-free powder and lipstick and buy a shiny, new handbag and celebrate Victory too!

So what happened? Nothing happened — until 1954 when a half-way gallant Congress cut these taxes back to ten percent where, as every fuming female knows, they still remain! Thus, so far as the women are concerned, the war is still on. The front has merely been moved from Europe and the Pacific to Washington.

But there are those in Congress who will admit a woman needs a handbag just as a man needs pants pockets; who know that a working woman must be presentable, that all women want to be, and that none should be taxed for it — nearly 18 years after the excuse has ended. There are a dozen bills now pending to correct these abuses and we may be reasonably sure that if and when any of these is reported out by the committees that are sitting on them, no lawmaker will be so unchivalrous (or so reckless) as to vote against it.

QUOTE OF THE WEEK

"This (deficit spending) is a trend that has spelled doom to most democratic governments in history. Demagogues have discovered they can increase their power and perpetuate themselves in office through using the key to the treasury to endear themselves to the voters. The Romans called the key 'bread and circuses'; Harry Hopkins called it tax spend and elect! In Nazi Germany it was 'security.' The New Frontier bases it upon the emotional appeal of 'government with a heart'."

— Rep. E. Y. Berry (R. of S.D.)

Connally Stewart says he understands the New Frontier is going to make the 16th Texas Congressional District a National Park.

Mrs. Ernie Boyd has returned from Dallas where she spent a few days this week visiting relatives.

A Creek In My Back

By Allan R. Bosworth

Author of "New Country" and other historical & fictional works

I mustered my five cats the other day, and called them to attention to hear me read a newspaper story about a dachshund who lives in Baraboo, Wisconsin. They were putting a 35-foot antenna on the roof of the courthouse there, and needed someone small to carry the wire through a narrow space between the false ceiling and the roof. The dachshund did the job admirably.

"Let that be an inspiration and a lesson to you," I said. "Watch for ways in which you, too, can be of service."

Tom Tigger, just back from the wars, gave me a hurt look and exaggerated his latest limp. Pearl, the small tiger-striped mother of the other four ovenfed and overgrown parasites on our modern society, yawned elaborately.

"The whole story is suspect," she pointed out. "In the first place it is extremely doubtful that there is such a town as Baraboo, Wisconsin. In the second place, tell me what a dachshund would be doing up on a roof? Why, they can't even get their bellies off the ground. And dogs don't have whiskers to measure the size of holes, like we cats do."

Blackie did a little fancy footwork and some shadow boxing. "I can lick that dachshund any time, any place!" he growled. "Let me at him!"

"You can do nothing of the sort," I told him. "Let me remind you that just before your brother Tigger went off to fight what he calls the Second Battle of Manassas, I trimmed your claws to keep you from chasing him up that tall poplar tree."

"So that's what happened to him, eh?" Pearl said with grim satisfaction. "Samson et Delilah, as it were."

"I don't know whether Samson et Delilah or not," said Tigger. "But I can tell you this — Blackie et that cardinal whose feathers you saw in the back yard."

"You stay out of this!" Blackie snarled. "I did not. Besides, the bird flew into a window. Birds, you know, have only one life."

"Now, just a minute," I said. "I hadn't heard about a cardinal. But the other day when Gordon Cooper had been launched into orbit only a few minutes before, a little yellow-breasted warbler flew into the living room window and was killed. I want you to think about that. Ask yourself this question: was God too busy watching the bigger bird?"

"It's not my fault if a warbler makes a navigational error," Blackie said quickly, but he drooled. "And let me read you a few lines from John Skelton, circa 1460-1529," I said. "Skelton had the same problem."

Vengeance I ask and cry

By way o fexclamation,
On the whole nation
Of cattles wild and tame:
God send them sorrow and shame!

O eat of churlish kind,
The fiend was in thy mind
When thou my bird untwined!

And robin redbreast,
He shall be the priest
The requim mass to sing,
Softly warbeling.

Now it was Blackie's turn to yawn. He said, "Well, that kind of stuff has been beaten to death. Like 'Who Killed Cock Robin?' and all that jazz. Anybody who believes it is a square. A cube."

Pearl caught a small mole that night, but up to now none of the others has done anything more useful than wash their plates twice a day.

STRANGE COINCIDENCES

West Texas has in recent weeks encountered an unusually large number of political "coincidences." In fact there have been so many of these "coincidences" that many West Texas residents have come to doubt whether they really are coincidences at all.

For example, the Defense Department recently ordered the closing of military installations at Pyote and Ozona. Official reason for this shut-down was given as "economy measures."

Early last week the Federal Aviation Agency announced that it is going to "reconsider" plans for building a new FAA flight station at Winkler County Airport and ordered county officials not to sign a contract for construction of the flight station and airport manager's office at the present time. Only reason given was demands from Congress for "more economy in the operation of the FAA".

It seems rather strange that all this "economy" is suddenly taking place in the 16th Congressional District, which last year elected a conservative Republican to the House of Representatives. If these moves really were made in the interest of economy in government, then certainly that is one thing, but if they are political moves, made in retaliation for election of Congressman Ed Foreman and for his conservative voting record since his election to Congress, then that is an entirely different situation. Economy in government is badly needed in this county if the American Republic is to survive, but political blackmail is to be detested wherever it is found. — The Wink (Texas) Bulletin.

Tom Slick Estate Horse Herd Dispersal In San Antonio June 8

The first auction horse sale ever to be held at Union Stock Yards San Antonio is scheduled for Saturday June 8, 1963, at 10:00 a. m. This will be the estate of Tom Slick's dispersal sale of the Patocha Ranches Appaloosa horses. There will be over 200 head of Appaloosa and Quarter horses offered for sale.

It is, with a great deal of sorrow that this great herd of Appaloosa and Quarter horses is being dispersed for it is evident that a great deal of work went into the accumulation and management of these fine horses. However, man kind will benefit by the dispersal of this herd since all but part of the estate left by Mr. Slick was left to benefit medical and agricultural research and education. The proceeds of this sale will be diverted to these purposes.

One of a series of reports by this newspaper and the Print Advertising Association on the advantages of print media

Don't you read before you buy?

Most people do.

They count on advertising in print to give them the information they want on products that interest them—information on features . . . designs . . . and prices, for example.

People not only read about products and services, they show ads to their family and friends; they clip coupons for information and samples; they tear out ads to take along when they go shopping.

When you add it all up, print advertising—the kind you read in the pages of this newspaper—makes sense.

And because it measures up to the buying habits of most consumers, print makes sales.

Most people read—and then buy. Don't you?

TIPS FOR OUTDOORSMEN

By Vern Sanford

Each year many Texans, and others too, like to visit the Big Bend National Park in West Texas.

An even greater number will go there this year because more facilities now are available and there are new roads.

One road goes into the mysterious Santa Elena Canyon of the Rio Grande. Another Basin road ties the canyon into the little town of Presidio . . . another gateway into Mexico.

Big Bend National Park is a mighty expanse, covering more than 700,000 acres of mountains and deserts. Altitude ranges from 2,000 to nearly 8,000 feet on rugged peaks.

It is touched for more than 100 miles by the Rio Grande River. Just across the river is Mexico . . . the land of manana.

Although there is considerable snow in the Big Bend Park in the winter, it is even more glamorous in the spring. Then the whole desert explodes with beautiful blooming cacti.

May is the month when wild flowers are in greatest profusion. Then too the weather is not too steaming for comfortable travel or for exploration among the wilds of the vast area.

You approach Big Bend National Park across a desert, with rugged mountains in the background.

Nature has n't been too kind to this country. In fact it frequently is referred to as Creation's scrap pile because of the deep arroyos, exposed colored layers of clay and rock and the mountains pushing skyward.

The Rio Grande River makes three tremendous cuts or gorges as it meanders between the two countries. These canyon walls, some of them more than 1,000 feet straight up, represent the erosion of centuries.

Big Bend National Park is reached over U. S. Highway 90, which links San Antonio and El Paso. It is 410 miles from San Antonio, 323 miles from El Paso.

Alpine is the nearest town of any size, and is 81 miles away.

Marathon is the southern entrance to the park, a distance of 89 miles from the highway to the park entrance near Persimmon Gap, and 70 miles from the park headquarters.

There are many trails, foot and horseback, within the park. Most of them start at Panther Junction, park headquarters.

Panther Junction provides a wonderful view of the basin area from an altitude of 5,800 feet. Here also will be found cottages for rent, a store, restaurant and campground.

Also at Panther Junction is a trailer park. However, trailers cannot make the drive into the Basin area, because of the elevation of the roads.

One of the most interesting side trips is the Lost Mile trail along Lost Mine Ridge. This 14-mile round trip affords a magnificent panorama of the vastness of this great country.

There are picnic sites and campsites available in other places in the park, offering facilities for those who want to spend the night out in the open.

Near Boquillas Canyon, 35 miles from the Basin and close to the eastern boundary of the Park, is Rio Grande Village. Here there is an irrigated desert area and campsites, with boats and horses for rent to those who want to explore farther.

Information on the Big Bend National Park may be obtained by writing the Chamber of Commerce at Alpine. If you've never been there, plan a trip this year for your family outing.

Democratic freedom was fine for colonial America but what will we have in 1976?

THE PEOPLE WANT TO KNOW—

self-reliant men choose freedom

Between democratic freedom and communist dictatorship, courageous, and self-reliant men who believe in honor and justice will choose freedom. Those who seek to regiment and rule other men by cunning, by force, and by suppression of freedom find communist dictatorship the ideal system.

On Tuesday, May 21, 1963, the wheat farmers of this great country voted out the grandiose plans of Agriculture Secretary Orville Freeman to control the wheat industry. In light of past remarks by the Secretary and other members of the Kennedy Administration, the question arises:

Will the farmers be punished? I am extremely proud of the referendum vote results and particularly the results from Texas. These farm people voted overwhelmingly for individual freedom and for a free market-controlled economy.

After some 30 years of ineffective and damaging farm programs dreamed up by the self-styled experts in the Agriculture Department, the American wheat farmer emphatically said that he could do the job better by himself. It is for sure he will not do any worse.

Prior to the wheat referendum, Secretary Freeman and other Administration leaders threatened the wheat farmer with a real economic shellacking if they had the gall to vote down this attempt to control the wheat industry. There were even New Frontier intimidating threats to dump surplus grain on the market and drive the price of wheat down to $1 a bushel. It is a tribute to the Texas and American farmer that he did not scare.

The referendum was a plain repudiation of the Kennedy Administration. It could well be the start of a downhill slide which will gain momentum as other groups decide to fight for freedom instead of absorbing the Governmental abuses and intimidations perpetrated by this Administration.

The hastily-passed, extravagant feed grains bill which Secretary Freeman thought would swing the election tide his way, is now law. This bill sets up another 800 million tax dollars that the Secretary had hoped would lure the wheat farmers into the chains of further control. It did not succeed, and it is not the answer to the wheat industry's problems.

The New York Times, in a pro-administration editorial, suggested that if the wheat referendum failed, President Kennedy would be justified in vetoing any farm legislation that the Congress passed. This is very typical of the veiled and unveiled threats that were made public before the wheat referendum by the liberal forces pushing for a controlled farm economy.

I feel sure that Congress will give the President the opportunity by passing a good, sound farm bill. It should be designed to take the first step toward gradual withdrawal of Government regimentation and subsidization of farming.

The demands for foodstuffs and fiber is increasing; farm land is being gobbled up by city expansion, highways and industry at a tremendous rate; and a hungry world is crying for food. Because of these factors and because of the natural laws of supply and demand economy, I feel confident that American agriculture will prosper in an unequalled fashion without the bonds of a governmental control.

HIGHLIGHTS AND SIDELIGHTS
From State Capitol

Austin, Texas — Members of Gov. John Connally's "Committee of 25" — to study education beyond the high school — have only one thing in common — they're all Texans.

Twenty-three, however, have something else in common — they are college graduates: Ten hold master's degrees and five doctorates.

Eight have something else in common — they attended Connally's alma mater, The University of Texas.

Other than that, their backgrounds vary.

Included are lawyers, bankers, contractors, telephone company executives, oil men, engineers, a district judge, a hospital administrator and educators.

Odessa Out — The expected bumper crop of college students in 1965 will have two more state colleges to choose from. Angelo State College in San Angelo and Pan American College in Edinburg join the state-supported system in the fall of 1965.

But Odessa Junior College still will be a junior college, despite strong efforts by Rep. Cook of Odessa and Sen. Frank Owenn III

CAR CARE FACTS

PARENTS OF TEEN-AGE DRIVERS SHOULD REMEMBER THAT THE TEEN-AGER LEAST LIKELY TO MISTREAT A CAR OR DRIVE RECKLESSLY IS THE ONE WHO UNDERSTANDS HOW AN AUTO-MOBILE IS PUT TOGETHER AND WHAT MAKES IT RUN.

IF YOUR SON SHOWS MECHANICAL TALENT AND SINCERE CURIOSITY ABOUT AUTOMOBILES...OR HAS HIS OWN CAR—YOU CAN DO HIM A FAVOR BY INTRODUCING HIM TO THE PROFESSIONAL MECHANIC WHO SERVES YOUR FAMILY CAR. YOUR SON CAN GAIN "KNOW HOW" FROM A REPUTABLE MECHANIC THAT WILL MAKE HIM A MORE CAPABLE DRIVER, AND MAY SOMEDAY EVEN SAVE HIS LIFE.

THE BEST AUTOMOTIVE MECHANICS ARE CRAFTSMEN AND THEY WELCOME THE CHANCE TO PASS ALONG KNOWLEDGE TO INTERESTED YOUNGSTERS, BESIDES THE SECRETS OF ENGINE AND CHASSIS REPAIR. THE YOUNG DRIVER IN YOUR FAMILY CAN LEARN ABOUT THE BEST AVAILABLE AUTOMOTIVE MAINTENANCE PRODUCTS AND CHEMICALS.

of El Paso.

State Studies Projected — When the 58th legislative session ended, lawmakers immediately began to study possible legislation for the 58th Legislature.

Interim committees of legislators will look into guidance training testing in public schools; boating safety; reservoirs planning; Texas bays; care and discovery of tuberculosis cases; poverty and indigency in the state; State and Local Tax Policy; and a thorough survey of the oil and gas industry.

Women Win Small Victory — The army of women's clubs, led by Mrs. Hermine Tabolowsky of Dallas, lost their session-long battle to get the Legislature to approve a proposed constitutional amendment by Sen. Bill Moore of Bryan to provide "equal rights" for women.

Moore's amendment was lodged in a reluctant House Insurance committee at the session's end.

But they did gain something in the way of equal property rights under bills passed by Rep. George Cowden of Waco to:

1. Give married women the right to manage and sell their separate property without their husband's consent.

2. Take away the "examination apart" required of notaries public.

Gold in Them Hills? — People who think a hidden fortune may lie "somewhere north of the Big Bend" may get a chance to test their theory under a new law. It allows prospector permits for 640 acres, at 25 cents an acre annual rental, for a maximum of five years.

Rep. Grainger McIlhany of Wheeler, author of the bill, noted that present law limits a hard-metals prospector to 40 acres.

Watersheds — Speed-up in planning watershed flood protection projects won approval from the Senate-House conference committee on appropriations.

It allocated $100,000 a year to the State Soil Conservation Board to be used to plan small-watershed programs.

U. S. Soil Conservation Service funds for planning are limited. So some watershed districts have raised money and hired the planning done, rather than wait for the U. S.

State program will help in the same fashion.

Salt Water — State agencies are moving deeper into the field of stopping oilfield pollution of fresh water strata.

New Texas Water Pollution Control Board gives oilmen in Gaines County until December 1 to stop using open pits for salt water disposal.

Railroad Commission issued a similar order for Menard and part of Schleicher Counties. Agencies have concurrent powers in this field.

Texas 4-H Roundup At A&M June 4-6

College Station — It's round-up time in Texas, 4-H, that is. The green and white of 4-H will take over the campus of Texas A&M College on June 4 when some 2,000 4-H members, leaders, county extension agents and friends of 4-H assemble for their annual roundup.

The big day will be Wednesday, June 5, when winners will be named in 28 judging and team demonstration contests. Training for the state contests has been underway for many weeks and those participating in the contests have already won county and district honors. To be eligible to participate in the state finals, the team or individual must have ranked first or second in the district eliminations. More than 1,300 individual 4-H Club members will participate in the state finals and many will be shooting for an opportunity to represent their state in national finals later in the year.

Four-H Club members have been coming to the A&M Campus for more than half a century. Their annual visit predates the 4-H emblem and passage of the legislation by the Federal Government in 1914 which established the Cooperative Agricultural Extension Service. Four-H Club work is conducted in the counties under the supervision of the county extension agents with assistance from local voluntary leaders and friends of 4-H.

Recognition for outstanding contributions to 4-H will be extended by the Texas 4-H Youth Development Foundation to individuals and business concerns in the state. The Foundation will also sponsor the ever popular "chuck wagon barbecue" on the evening of June 4. The first general assembly of Roundup will follow the barbecue.

Winners in the 28 different judging and team demonstration contests will be announced during the afternoon of June 5 and will be honored at the final banquet in the evening. The Roundup will be officially over with breakfast on June 6.

Special Lamb Sale And Stocker-Feeder Cattle Sale Set In San Antonio

A big spring event, a double header, will be held at Union Stock Yards San Antonio; a special lamb sale on Tuesday June 11 and a special stocker feeder cattle show and sale on Thursday June 13, 1963. These special sales have created a great deal of interest throughout South Texas.

The June 11th lamb sale will begin at 10:00 a. m. This special sale is held as a result of the great success of the last special lamb sale that attracted more than 4,000 head of sheep and goats. Many buyers representing nation wide buying demand were pleased with this sale and have requested similar sales to meet their demands.

The special stocker-feeder cattle show and sale on Thursday June 13 will feature judging of Hereford, Angus and Brahma cross cattle in lots of 10's, 20's and 40's. Judging will begin at 7:30 a. m. and the auction sale will begin at 9:00. The prize winning cattle will be sold at auction at 11:00 a. m. Competent, practical South Texas cattlemen will be selected as judges.

These special sales are being held in addition to the regular weekly private treaty and auction sales held at Union Stock Yards which during April showed an increase of 12,250 head over a year ago. During April there were more than 44,000 head of livestock sold at Union Stock Yards.

the first class equipment throughout.

"Such a fine facility can not be lightly cast aside to disuse," he said. "I am going to follow through on the Armed Services committee investigation of the closing to determine whether or not such action has left a gap in our defense line across the south. The Defense Department has been called upon to prove to the Committee's satisfaction that their action has not in any way weakened our defense posture and that their move was for economy and not political reasons."

If the Congress finds the closing is justified, Foreman said, he will then seek to channel the Ozona facility into some beneficial use.

Congressman Foreman expressed regret that he was unable to spend more time here to visit with more friends but a tight schedule prevented it. "I would like to have time to visit with my many friends here but I will have to put it off until a later visit when I hope to have more time," the young Congressman (he's the youngest in the Congress) said.

F. F. A. Officers — winner of the Concho District contest a few days ago.

Moe Barbee, in addition to being a delegate, was winner of the Concho District chapter degree award for having the best set of records and FFA programs of activities as a second year student.

The Concho District includes schools at Eldorado, Wall, Lake View, San Angelo Central, Robert Lee, Bronte, Sterling City and Ozona. These records and applications will be submitted to the Area II Convention to be compared with other district winners and an Area II winner will be announced.

Tommy Everett is an applicant for the American Farmer Degree and will submit his five years of records and FFA program of activities for this National Award. FFA boys must have been out of High School for at least a year before they can apply for this award. The award is given by the National Association at the National Convention in Kansas City next October. Only one-tenth of one percent of the boys enrolled in Vocational Agriculture can win this award each year.

of the field.

The tournament is expected to draw golfers from all around the Ozona area, including Odessa, Midland, San Angelo, Ft. Stockton, Del Rio, Sonora, Iraan, Big Lake, McCamey and numerous other spots.

With the home course advantage, several local golfers will have to be rated at least a dark horse role, including, James Scott, Brooks Dozier, Art Kyle, Jr., and Beecher Montgomery, but the field of this year's tournament will include a large number of fine golfers, many of whom are familiar with the local course.

Last year's champion, Johnny South, will not be returning this year, so a new champion for this year is assured.

Among the many reasons for setting this year's tourney earlier than in the past few years is the fine condition of the greens. Recent rains and cool weather have put the greens in the best condition they have been in a long time.

The seven flights will be determined Saturday night following the posting of scores in the qualifying round Saturday. Championship flight scores must have been shot on the local course. However, entries in other flights will be able to post attested scores on their home courses.

Handsome golf equipment, woods, iron, bags, etc., are awaiting naming of winners for prizes.

Leon Drago had as week-end guest his roommate the past two years at Sul Ross, Kenneth Fessler of Hondo. Drago plans to attend summer school at Sam Houston State Teachers College at Huntsville, majoring in music and art. He was secretary of Kappa Kappa Psi, national band fraternity unit at Sul Ross last year.

Meadows Canyon Strike Is Tenth Of Year In Area

Re-Entered Failure On Clayton Ranch Also Testing Canyon

Crockett County's new prolific multipay oil and gas area gained its tenth strike for the year, and a completion attempt was slated at a re-entry operation.

B. W. Wiseman, Jr., and Texas American Oil Corp., Midland. No. 1 C. W. Meadows, Jr., nine miles west of Ozona, six miles west and slightly north of Canyon production in the Ozona, East multipay field and eight miles east of the recently designated Howard's Creek (Canyon gas) field, was finaled from the Canyon for a calculated, absolute open flow of 815,000 cubic feet of gas per day.

Production was through perforations between 7,102-60 feet, which had been fractured with 50,000 gallons and 60,500 pounds of sand.

Operator will not attempt dual completion from the Strawn at the present.

Location is 660 feet south of the northwest corner of 13-T-GC&SF, thense 562.6 feet west to location in M. F. Sy Lopez No. 1003, Block ST, Abst. 4153.

Sinclair Oil & Gas Co. was preparing to run pipe to an unreported depth for tests of the Canyon at the No. 1 Addie Clayton, in 9-1-GC&SF, re-entered Ellenburger failure, 12 miles northeast of Ozona and the same distance northeast of Canyon gas production in the Ozona, East multipay oil and gas-field.

Originally drilled by Socony Mobil Oil Co. (Magnolia Petroleum Co.) it was abandoned Jan. 12 1951, at 9,510 feet. While being drilled, a test in the Pennsylvanian lime between 8,614-645 feet flowed gas rated at 50,000 cubic feet daily and recovered 130 feet of gas-cut mud.
