Five From Houston Die When Car Crashes Into Hiway Bridge Abutment

Kitty's Korner
By Kitty Montgomery

We've enjoyed having some out-of-town visitors come in and visit with us the past few days. I think the most colorful one was a Mr. Bob Wade, who lives in Monahans now. A sprightly young man of 86 years of age, he came in to ask if this was the "Ozona Kicker" (a name the Ozona paper had well over 50 years ago). He lived here before the county was organized, and had some interesting stories to tell. He remembered very well the drilling of the first water well and said it took three years to complete.

Deeny Holden, our correspondent in Viet Nam, writes that he has been pretty busy over there, but expects to be back in Ozona the last part of July. We are looking forward to hearing some of the tales we know he will have to tell when he gets here.

Congratulations to Eileen Mahon for winning her flight in the recent San Angelo Women's Golf Tournament.

I don't know what Dovey Alford and Dottie Mason will think of next, but they are going to have to go some to beat their recent Indian get-ups. I think the heat has more effect on them than cold snowy days.

Surely someone will find a place for them in the parade. I can't imagine why they aren't in the pageant since they are the most versatile two actresses in town.

GIRL SCOUTS TO SERVE LUNCH FRIDAY

Troop 13 Girl Scouts will serve chili and beans Friday at noon at the permanent campsite by the Jubilee Headquarters. The food will be cooked by the girls at the campsite.

All proceeds from the meals will go to send the girls to a cabana at a Girl Scout Retreat in Mexico.

The wide expanse of highway with its treacherous narrow bridges that is Hwy 290 west of Ozona took its toll in human lives and damage the past week. Three were killed outright and two died later as a result of a car-bridge accident around noon Sunday when a 1962 Pontiac driven at high speed ran off the highway about 200 feet west of Ozona and smashed dead center into the abutment.

The impact was so terrific that it drove the motor into the front seat of the automobile, literally wrapping the car around the abutment and throwing all but two of the five occupants out of the vehicle. After hitting the bridge, the car flipped end over end and landed upright in the ditch, totally demolished.

All negroes from Houston, two women, Edwina Gilmore, 50, and Minnie Simpson, 23, were killed outright along with Mrs. Gilmore's four-year-old granddaughter, Karen Gilmore. Wayne Leblanc, ten-year-old grandson of Mrs. Gilmore, died of his injuries Sunday afternoon after being taken to Crockett County Hospital. The other occupant, Elbert Simpson, 20, died Tuesday morning at 1:30 o'clock in Shannon Hospital in San Angelo, where he was taken by ambulance Sunday afternoon.

Last Thursday morning another smash-up on a bridge 8 miles in the same direction critically injured Dorothy Kirkland Lowry of Kerrville and completely demolished the 1966 Ford Mustang she was driving. The accident occurred when she attempted to pass a trailer house being pulled by a truck driven by Dan Christman of Deming, N. M. Officers said it appeared she was trying to pass the trailer when she saw the bridge, tried to pull back and hit the trailer house, throwing the car full force into the bridge abutment.

She suffered two broken arms and other injuries. Taken to San Angelo by ambulance, she is presently off the critical list.

Two Are Held In Connection With Local Burglaries

County officers are holding two suspects in connection with the recent burglaries of Hotel Ozona, Glynn's Shell Station the Conoco Service Station and Ranch Feed and Supply Co.

The first theft occurred Thursday night when the desk clerk at Hotel Ozona, went up to show a room in the hotel. When he came back down around 11:30 o'clock he discovered that someone had opened the cash register and taken around $50 in bills. Break-ins were discovered Friday morning at the Ozona Conoco Station and at Glynn's Shell Station.

Nothing was taken at the Shell station where they gained entry by breaking a window. The safe was banged up but they were unable to open it. At the Conoco station the robbers took around $20 out of the cash register.

Ranch Feed & Supply was broken into on Friday night. Intruders used the company's tools to try to cut into the safe but were unsuccessful.

The arrests were brought about when Warren Tallaferro's automobile was stolen Saturday night and returned later minus the license plates.

San Angelo police arrested two youths, Larry Wayne Lofton and Jim Ralph Burns, both 18 years of age, driving a stolen car with the missing Ozona license plates on it. They were charged with car theft in San Angelo and returned to Ozona where they have been charged with car theft and the robbery of Ranch Feed & Supply Co. The pair have admitted the other burglaries, according to officers, but charges have not yet been filed.

Boy Scout Court Of Honor Slated

The annual Boy Scout Court of Honor will be held next Tuesday night at the Civic Center at 7:30. Badges will be awarded and promotions given.

All parents of Scouts are urged to attend and the public is cordially invited.

MEMORIAL GIFT

Contributions to the Ozona Community Center this week include Mr. and Mrs. Keith Mitchell and family, in memory of Shauna Montgomery.

Ozona is buzzing with Jubilee activities this week and people from all over are arriving in town daily, former residents and others who want to get in on the events. Thousands are expected before the jubilee ends next Saturday night.

A tremendous crowd attended the "Queen's Ball" last Saturday night which officially opened the activities.

Senior Citizens Get Recognition

Senior Citizens, residents and former residents of Crockett county, now 80 years old or older, are issued a special invitation to sit in a reserved seat section near the reviewing stand in the park Saturday afternoon before and during the parade.

The senior citizens will be seated at a vantage point where they can see the parade. They are asked to report at the reviewing stand immediately after the barbecue where they will be seated and given special recognition.

Dedicate Three Ozona Historical Markers Sat.

At the height of Ozona's 75th anniversary celebration will be the dedication on Saturday of three historical markers in buildings of historical interest in the town.

A new Medallion and interpretive plate marker will be placed on the Crockett county jail building and will be dedicated by Senator Dorsey B. Hardeman. Two interpretive plaques will be added to the Medallion already on the Courthouse and the Ozona National Bank building, these to be dedicated by Representatives Gene Hendryx of Alpine and Jim Nugent of Kerrville.

The three buildings have been named as Recorded Texas Historical Landmarks, significant to the history of this community and state and worthy of preservation.

The Dedication ceremonies will follow immediately the program of the Permian Basin Historical Society to be presented at 4:30 p. m. in the Civic Center. John Ben (Continued on Last Page)

Miss Esther Williams was crowned Diamond Jubilee queen and will reign for 25 years.

Union church services were held Sunday night with all churches participating at the football field. An unusually large crowd was on hand for the services.

Jubilee headquarters was as busy as a beehive Monday as the Girl Scouts set up a permanent campsite between the headquarters and the Water Dept. A large number of participants were out on the streets in full pioneer dress, in spite of the sweltering heat.

Forty newspapers in the area have carried stories about the Jubilee and most have given complete schedules. Both the San Angelo Standard and the Odessa American have sent reporters to take pictures and give coverage to the Jubilee. Area Television stations have been most generous in giving coverage to the jubilee in the form of personal interviews. Television coverage started two weeks ago with a group participating on the High Noon show on KOSA in Odessa. There have been two interviews on KCTV in San Angelo and one on KMD at Midland. Spot announcements were sent to all radio stations in the area and ten billboards tell the story of the Ozona celebration.

Tuesday and Wednesday "Youth Days" boys and girls from everywhere competed in softball, little league, bowling and swimming. Ribbons were given for first and second place in all events.

Wednesday night the historical spectacular, "From This Rugged Land" had its premier performance at the football field. The cast consists of 250 local people depicting the history of Crockett County on a three-dimensional stage with special lighting. The pageant will be staged nightly, with the final performance on Saturday night. Rehearsals have been held nightly under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Mel Eckerstrom of the Rogers Co.

Also on Wednesday the winners of the prizes for selling the most tickets to the pageant were announced. They were Charles Childress, Pon Seahorn, Gary Sutton, Buddy Couch, Jack Applewhite, Ginger Glynn, Larry (Continued on Last Page)

All but sliced in half down the middle was this 1962 Pontiac which struck dead center a concrete bridge abutment 13 miles west of Ozona, Sunday, taking the lives of all five occupants of the car. Imprint of the concrete abutment can be seen in the left photo with the bumper, fenders, front wheels and hood all but wrapped around it. Right photo is a peek inside the car, showing the havoc wrought by flying bodies, baggage and car parts.

WHOSE BABY? This little lady with the pretty smile (she still has it) is a native of Ozona, members of a large pioneer family and is married to an Ozona rancher. If we told you any more it wouldn't be a guess.

The fellow in the long, flowing baby dress last week was Judge Montgomery of Fort Stockton. His sister, Anna (Mrs. Chas. Schauer of Del Rio) and brother, Fred, were standing beside him.

Gift From Massie Foundation To Augment Funds To Provide Public Service In New Hi School Library

L. B. T. Sikes, superintendent of Schools, announced today that the new high school library is completed, awaiting only formal acceptance by the school board to begin installation of new shelving and furniture.

When school opens in September, the Ozona Schools will offer public library service to the adults of the community, in addition to the high school and junior high school groups already being served. A separate reading room for adults, with an entrance from the central stair hall, will assure privacy, away from the bustle of student activities.

The library will be open from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. on school days. Additional hours at night will be added when the demand for such service exists. As soon as the move to the new quarters is completed, a committee will begin the screening and acquisition of new books for this room, so that some books will be available when the library opens in September.

Funds for the purchase of books for the adults will be derived jointly from local sources (other than school funds) and from a generous contribution from the Massie Memorial Foundation. This foundation, established in 1932, provides money set aside in the will of Mrs. Robert Massie, who died Oct. 17, 1931 and Mr. Massie, who died June 10, 1931, who bequeathed a large part of their estate for the "use, uplift, education, culture or training of young people." During the 33 years since the deaths of Mr. and Mrs. Massie, this money has been used to help 1,771 students with scholarships to San Angelo College, as well as many other philanthropies. Chief among these has been the Massie educational building adjunct to the First Methodist Church of San Angelo, and the purchase of a large portion of the children's books in the Tom Green County Library.

I'm missing from this picture. I belong right between the . . . For the old gentleman on the right is my father . . . and the young gentleman on the left is my son. But someone had to snap the picture.

It was taken on a Sunday afternoon. Earlier the three of us had walked to church. And Grandpa — (you know how you come to call your own father "grandpa" after you have a son) — well, Grandpa put his hand on Jimmy's shoulder.

"You know, Jimmy," he said, "I've been walking to church down this street ever since it was a cowpath. And I used to think real proud-like, when I walked your father to church, that the Lord never gave me a bigger job to do than raise my son a Christian. But I feel just as proud walkin' by you — like all my important work isn't done yet!"

Understand why I wanted this picture? And why I call it "Unfinished Business?"

THE CHURCH FOR ALL
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Ozona Tiger Hurler Whiffed 15 Batters, But Lost Ball Game

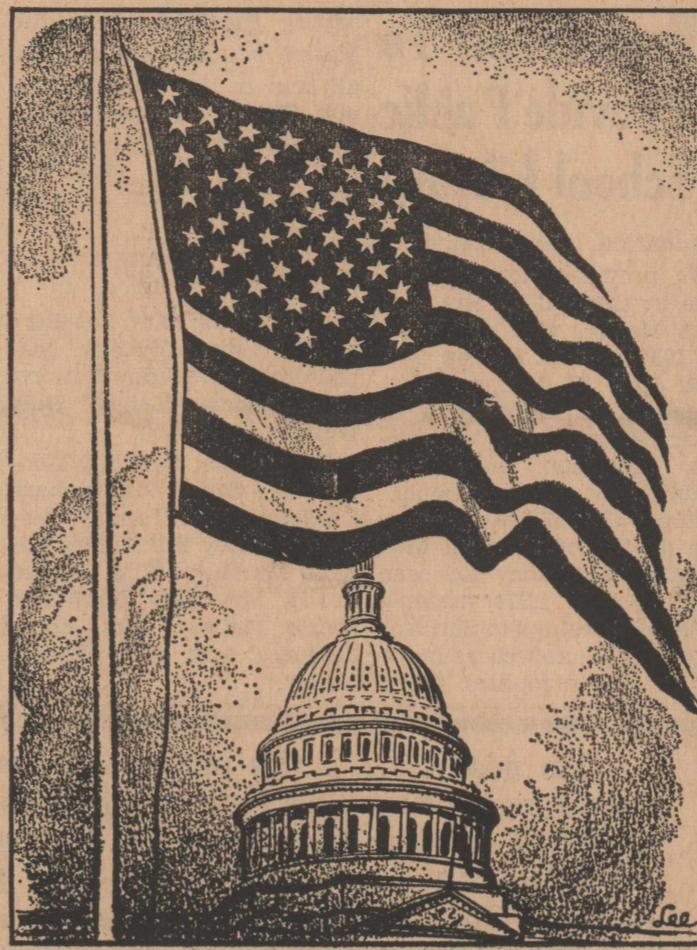

After striking out 15 opposing batters, ace Ozona Tiger hurler Tony Garza nevertheless lost a ball game.

The reason — the pitcher for the opposition struck out 17 Tiger batters, allowing only three hits in the ball game. Tony gave up five and four runs to none for the Tiger.

It all happened last Sunday in Ballinger, with the Ballinger Indians. The Indians ace chunker was Norman Weatherford who whiffed 17 Indians batters.

The Ballinger Indians come to Ozona next Sunday afternoon for a return match. Game time is 2:30 p. m. The Tigers have added Pete Garza to the roster since last Sunday and hope to be able to even the count with the Indians.

Fort Lancaster Land Donors To Be Honored Here

Austin — Fort Lancaster near Ozona will be saved from ruin, thanks to the land gift of three Texans, who for their action will receive a Texas Award for Historical Preservation from the Texas State Historical Survey Committee.

TSHSC President John Ben Shepperd of Odessa announced today that award presentation ceremonies will be Saturday afternoon in Ozona for Claude W. Meadows Jr., of San Angelo, Henry E. Meadows of Midland, and Mrs. Charles Benckenstein of Beaumont.

The three donated to Crockett County the 40 acres of land on which Fort Lancaster, an historical site of national significance, is situated. It is at Lancaster Pass 33 miles west of Ozona.

Plans call for restoration of the fort as a park with a museum for public enjoyment. In recent years the fort, composed of 25 buildings, had fallen into ruin from disuse and vandalism.

Recognition of the land gift marks the second presentation of the newly established Historical Preservation awards, which cite individuals and organizations for making significant gifts and contributions to historical preservation projects.

The first award was given in May to Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Abell of Midland for donating the Aeroplane Museum to the city of Midland.

John Ben Shepperd will present the award to the Meadows and Mrs. Benckenstein in Ozona in conjunction with the city's Diamond Jubilee.

Fort Lancaster was established by the U. S. Army in 1855. Some historians say it was to protect travelers from Indians and outlaws on Overland routes to California during the gold rush years; others contend it was built as part of the Spanish Land Grant Agreement to protect Mexico from Texas Indians. The fort was abandoned in 1861 when Texas seceded, and was used by Confederate troops during early years of the Civil War.

Archeological excavation of the fort is in process now, and for the first time in years the fort is open to visitors.

Touring Angus Cattlemen Spend Night In Ozona

Some 500 cattlemen from at least 20 states will converge on West Texas June 16, 17 and 18 for the 1966 Challenge of the Future Angus Tour. Eighteen herds of commercial Angus cattle will be visited in the three days within a rough triangle formed by San Angelo, Brady and Del Rio.

Sponsoring the event is the American Angus Association in cooperation with the Texas Angus Association and the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association. The purpose of the tour is to show breeders of registered Angus cattle, first and, the kind of bulls they should produce to meet the demands of Southwestern ranchers.

The group will stay at Sonora and Ozona Friday night and the first stop on Saturday will be the Mac Cauthorne Ranch 16 miles south and one-fourth mile west of Sonora.

Miss Diane Phillips, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Phillips, is here for a week between terms at Colorado State College in Greeley, Colo., where she is attending graduate school.

She will receive her Master's degree in August. She has been awarded a teaching fellowship in psychology guidance and counseling for the 1966-67 term. She will teach part time in the college and enter the doctoral program.

W Ranchers Win First Half Title In Little League

Ozona Little Leaguers wound up the first half of the current season last week with Flying W Ranchers taking the championship with a 5 win-3 loss record. B&B Grocers and Ozona Oilers tied for second place followed by Moore Oil Co.

Tuesday night opened the second half of Little League play. Flying W Ranchers downed Moore Oilers by a lopsided score of 19-4. Mike Jenkins was the winning pitcher and Dean Shaw the loser.

In the second game Ozona Oil edged B & B in a real thriller by 12-11. The two teams were tied at the end of the sixth inning. B & B went scoreless in the top of the seventh, the Oilers scored in the bottom and that was the ball game. Ruben Tambunga was the winning pitcher and Robert Daniels the loser.

Between games, Miss Stacy Dockery, sponsored by Moore Oilers, was crowned Little League Sweetheart of 1966. Miss Dockery was escorted by Terry Blosser. Runners-up were Miss Judy Mosley of Ozona Oil, escorted by Ricky Webster; Miss Lou Cox of B&B, escorted by Gary Mitchell, and Miss Sherry Prater of Flying W Ranchers, escorted by Jeffery Stuart.

The first half of Minor League ended with the Yankees taking the championship followed by the Giants, Dodgers and Astros in that order.

Many shooters make the mistake of taking their study rifles to gunsmiths and asking them to "sight 'em in." Then they head afiel without further ado and wonder why they miss easy shots at deer.

This idea of having a gunsmith doing the job for you is okay. But you should test the rifle yourself, to see if you and the gunsmith both see alike.

On the surface that statement might seem ridiculous. But actually, different people do see in a different way. They hold the rifles different, therefore they get different sight patterns.

Very seldom can one man zero in a rifle to hit in the center of the bull's-eye at 100 yards and another duplicate the feat with the same rifle.

For this reason, it pays to "sight in" your own rifle. This isn't as difficult as you would first imagine. In fact, if done correctly, it can be quite simple.

Most common mistake is for someone to set up a piece of cardboard, get back 100 or 200 yards and start blazing away. At this distance, any error in sight and adjustment will be magnified, and with a new sight you'll be lucky to hit the cardboard, even if it is of extremely large size. This kind of hapchance sighting only makes the ammunition manufacturers happy.

There is much easier way. Suppose you've just installed a new scope sight on your rifle. You want to sight it in, so here's how to do it, the quick and easy way.

First, to make sure you're steady and solid, get set up where you have a good rest for shooting. Then, if possible, remove the bolt from your rifle, steady it on a rest and bore sight the rifle at a chunk of cardboard 25 yards away.

When you get the bore lined up, raise your sight and look in the scope. Adjust it until the crosshairs are on the target. This way you'll be reasonably sure of putting your first shot on the paper and you can work from there.

But even if you're shooting something like a lever-action gun where bore sighting isn't possible, at a range of 25 yards you're more than likely to hit the cardboard anyway. Once you've established your first shot you're in business.

Scope sights have adjustments for elevation and windage. The first is to move the bullet placement either up or down, and the other either left or right.

These adjustments are graduated in minutes of angle, or fractions thereof. Some have "click" adjustments while some do not.

A minute of angle has a value of one-half inch at 50 yards, one-fourth inch at 25 yards.

Suppose your rifle is shooting an inch high and an inch to the right. Four clicks on both adjustments should move your aim right to the bull's-eye.

Just remember, if your adjustment moves one minute of angle with each click, you must adjust the dial four clicks to move the bullet placement one inch.

If each click is only one-half minute of angle, then it would require eight clicks to move it an inch. And so fourth.

Once you've established your aim at 25 yards, or directly in the black or bull's eye of the target, you're ready to determine where the bullet will strike at longer ranges.

What you must remember is that a bullet travels in a trajectory. Thus it will bisect a straight line out from the muzzle twice, once as it starts up on its trajectory and again when it comes down. If this first intersection is at 25 yards, the bullet will be in the bull's-eye again somewhere out where it curves down and bisects the line again.

With an ordinary .22 rim-fire rifle, for instance, the bullet with cross at 25 yards and again at 60 yards. In firing fast-shooting center-fire rifles, with flatter trajectory, the second point of intersection will be much farther out.

A .243 will bisect the line again about 250 yards out, which means it won't be more than an inch high at 100 yards. So anything between the ranges of 100 yards and 250 yards will be vulnerable to your .243 bullet, since there is no more margin than an inch error anywhere in between.

This can be determined quickly with other rifles once you've established your point of aim at 25 yards.

Put the target at 100 yards, fire and see where the bullet hits. Now try it at 150 yards, and finally at 200 yards. This way you can clearly determine the performance of your particular caliber all the way from 25 yards to 200 yards.

Quick and simple. A straight-forward way to straight shooting.

FLOATS FOR PARADE

Please go by Jubilee Headquarters and register your float if you plan to have one in the parade. There is no charge to register, but officials need to know the number of floats in order to organize the parade properly.

The parade will line up at 1:00 p. m. Saturday at the Little League Park and start promptly at 2:00 p. m.

The parade route will begin at Kirby Humble Wholesale and go north to the signal light where it will turn right and go around the park in the center of town. Back at the light it will turn right and go west on 290 across the bridge, straight in front of the Village Shopping Center, turning left at King's Hair Fashions, crossing the highway at the Dairy King and between Ozona Oil Co. and Spencer Welding Co. it will disperse.

There will be a reviewing stand in front of the statue of Davy Crockett or in front of the courthouse, still undecided at midweek, from which all the visiting dignitaries will review the Parade.

HIGHLIGHTS AND SIDELIGHTS

From Your State Capitol

Austin, Texas — Comments by legislators and water leaders generally were favorable on the $3,700,000 preliminary "Water for Texas" plan of the Texas water development board.

This massive plan calls for a "rescue operation" for the Lower Rio Grande Valley irrigated region, where a recent court decision knocked out water rights of more than 100,000 acres.

Project, to be designed by the Bureau of Reclamation, would use two big reservoirs on the San Antonio River (Cibola in Wilson County and Goliad in Goliad County), two on the Guadalupe River (Confluence in Victoria County and Cuero in DeWitt County) and one on the Lavaca-Navidad Rivers (Palmetto Bend) to link to a 190-mile canal to the Lower Valley.

Water from the three watersheds could be used for a number of years. As needs in those valleys develop, a canal would be linked to the northern end of the pipeline and canal system which would start at Texarkana Reservoir, go west to Dallas and Fort Worth to meet their future needs, then down the Trinity, Brazos and Colorado Rivers to link with the southern portion of the canal. Then it could be said that water from Lake Texarkana was being used in the Lower Valley — after repeated use and re-use along the 980 miles of the State Water Project system. Irrigation in the Sinton and Baffin Bay regions also would be supplied from the canal.

In addition to the 14 reservoirs connected with the State Water Project, the big plan proposed 46 other reservoirs or enlargements. These would supply in-basin needs in all parts of the state except Far West Texas, where there simply is not enough stream flow to justify reservoirs.

For that region, a massive research and development plan is proposed First, a special West Texas office of the Water Development Board would seek ways to spread present supplies as far as possible. This would include recharge of the Ogallala formation from the 36,000 playa lakes in the High Plains, deepening of those rainwater lakes to cut down evaporation.

Plan also calls for West Texas to be designated by Congress as part of a study by the Bureau of Reclamation for finding new supplies for the Southwest, in the hope of bringing water from the Columbia River in Oregon by 1985, when Plains ground water supplies are expected to become severely depleted.

Versatile Dust Developed by Scientists

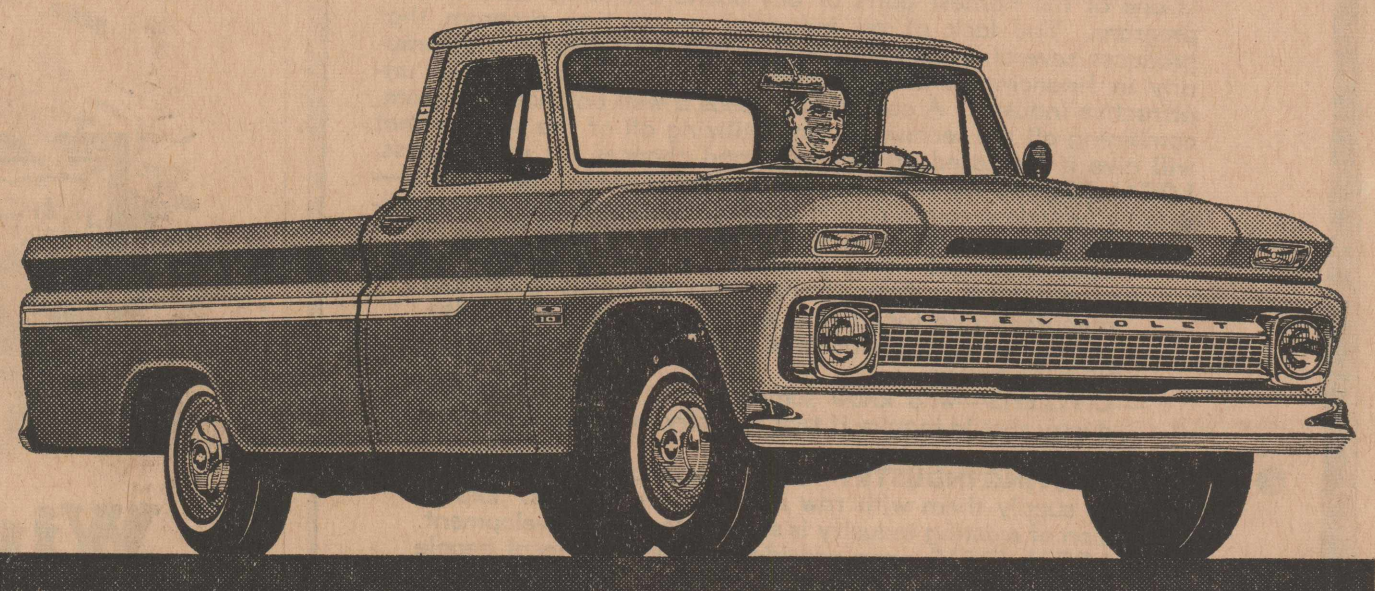

Researchers have discovered a new method of protecting houses and apartments against roaches and a hundred other insects for the lifetime of the occupants.

Professors of entomology said that a new dust called "Amorphous Silica Gel" has been developed that is harmless to humans and animals, but lethal to termites, cockroaches, silverfish and a hundred other insects. The dust literally dries the insects to death by removing a protective wax on their bodies and causing death through evaporation of body moisture.

Once applied, it can last indefinitely without losing its ability to kill pests.

Shepperd, State Chairman of the Texas State Historical Survey Committee, will preside at this meeting and the program will feature a talk by Grover Cleveland Ramsey, Austin, on Camp Melvin. He will also show slides of the site located in northwest Crockett County. Representative Gene Hendryx, Alpine, who is chairman of the State Legislative Committee, will speak on the Restoration of Forts and Missions in Texas.

Historical Markers are part of the Statewide RAMPS program sponsored by the Texas State Historical Survey Committee. The letters RAMPS stand for Recording, Appreciating, Marking, Preserving, and Surveying local history so that future generations may have a visible picture and record of the growth and development of our state. Ozona shares its responsibility for this program through the efforts of many local people interested in their community.

The public is cordially invited to be present for these historical events. The Crockett County Historical Survey Committee and the Crockett County Historical Society will serve as hosts at the Center where refreshments will be served preceding the program.

The aluminum markers with Swedish steel effect are not only durable but beautiful, and require practically no maintenance. More than 2,500 historical markers and Medallions with plates have been awarded throughout Texas.

The official inscription on the three plates to be dedicated here Saturday will be of interest to Ozonans, particularly the history buffs.

The plaques to be installed with the marker at the Crockett county jail contains the following wording:

"Crockett County Jail. Built 1892, about a year after the county's organization; Contractor was Z. D. Gafford of San Angelo. Building stone was quarried to north of structure, on Meyer property. Tower may have been designed for hangings, but no gallows were ever installed. Though never filled to capacity, inmates have included the 1954 robbers of Ozona National Bank.

"In Sheriff's quarters, Ozona children about 1915 took piano lessons from the Sheriff's wife."

The plaque to be installed at the bank building, reads: "Ozona National Bank. Constructed 1905 for county's first financial institution. Organized by cattle and sheep ranchers and the town's doctor.

"During construction of native stone building, banking was done next door in store of L. B. Cox, vice president. J. W. Henderson was president. Directors were Dr. A. W. Clayton, S. E. Couch, Wm. P. Hoover, Robert Massey and J. B. Moore. J. B. Reilly was cashier.

"The second floor is owned by the Masonic Lodge."

The courthouse plaque "Crockett County Courthouse, built 1902. Second courthouse for county. American Gothic architecture, planned by Oscar Ruffine, San Angelo. Material is fine stone quarried nearby on Meyer and Couch properties. Cost $30,000.

"Early day community social center. Used for cowboy dances, box suppers, Christmas trees, roundup celebrations.

"In 1902, arc light was added to steeple, to signal sheriff and guide travelers to town."

WTU NOTEBOOK—PATTERNS FOR PROGRESS

INDUSTRIAL PROSPECTS ... a must in Economic Development

Obtaining leads on industries that might locate in a community is one of the hardest parts of any sound economic development program. The lack of an industrial prospecting program that produces several leads may cause serious mistakes by a community in financing or other endeavors to attract unsound or unattractive industry. A community needs a well balanced program, combining all the techniques and utilizing all of the sources that will give it increased effectiveness and chances for real success. LOCAL PEOPLE AS A SOURCE OF INDUSTRIAL PROSPECTS — usually provide a sound reason or give the community a competitive advantage in attracting the industry.

—BUSINESSMEN—should ask the company representatives they buy from if the company needs additional manufacturing facilities to serve this market area, also, service stations, restaurants and motel people can ask their customers.

—CITIZENS—who know someone that works for an industry should inquire if that industry might be interested in locating a plant.

—EXISTING INDUSTRY—may need a companion industry to supply them with raw materials or services. Expansion of existing industry is sound economic development.

—LOCAL IDEAS—can provide leads for the local people to establish an industry of their own or attract a certain type industry.

—EX-CITIZENS—should be contacted, advising them and asking their help to obtain leads on any industry that could logically locate in the town.

—CHAMBER OF COMMERCE ACTIVITY— should utilize such programs as direct mail, asking local citizens to call on industries when they are on a trip — watching all news media for possible leads or indications that a company might expand.

—COOPERATION WITH OTHER AGENCIES— such as utilities, banks, railroads, regional and state development organizations can provide leads for new industry. Keep all of these organizations fully advised of the local programs, advantages, activities and community interest for attracting new industry for improved economy in your community.

—ANY and ALL industrial leads should be handled through and by the local group that has been delegated this responsibility, usually the Chamber of Commerce.

—Ask your WTU local manager for additional information and services available.
