Poynor's White Store Grand Opening Slated

New, Modern Store Facilities Highlighted

A gala three day grand opening, marked with special prices and free prizes, will herald Poynor's White Stores in Muleshoe, who are celebrating their sparkling new building at the north end of Main Street.

Today's edition of The Muleshoe Journal is loaded with specials being offered by Haney and Paul Poynor to help show off their new and enlarged facilities.

Remodeled for the new store was the former Lane's Furniture Co. and Knowles Auction buildings on North Main Street. The extensive remodeling was underway for several months. Workmen stripped the buildings to the bare walls and started from scratch to build the new and modern Poynor's White Store.

Inner dividing walls were torn out, the floor removed to the concrete and ceiling removed. A new floor, which is one-half tile and one-half carpet was installed, along with new walls, a T-bar suspended acoustical tile ceiling, new lighting fixtures and an entirely new front for the building.

As an added innovation, a glass rear entrance was installed which ties in with a paved parking area immediately across the alley from the store in the rear. The Poynors purchased a one-quarter block corner in order to provide a paved parking lot for their customers.

In excess of $40,000 was spent for the remodeling program and the new building adds some 2,500 square feet of floor space and is allowing ample room for expansion, especially in the furniture and automotive service departments.

Muleshoe's Poynor's White Store carries a full line of automotive products and services. Included in their line of products are tires and batteries, small electrical appliances and major electrical appliances, such as freezers, washers, televisions, stoves and dryers. They also have toys, bicycles, dishes and cooking ware, paint and lawn care products, air conditioners, camping and hunting equipment and other items.

GRAND OPENING THIS WEEKEND--Getting all ready for the grand opening of their new store in the 100 Block of Main Street, Haney and Paul Poynor prepare special bargains and door prizes. The modern, enlarged facilities include an extensive automotive department and an enlarged furniture and appliance department. The first Muleshoe Poynor's White's Store opened in 1961.

Mules-Boys Ranch To Clash Friday

Carl Bamert is receiving treatment in Lubbock Methodist Hospital following an accident at his home Sunday around noon.

A swather turned over with Bamert and fractured his upper arm.

Mrs. Bamert said he is resting comfortably and will be hospitalized in Lubbock for several days.

Four arrests were noted by the local officers during the past weekend. The Bailey County Sheriff's office booked three persons on drunk charges and the Muleshoe City Police Department jailed one person for no valid driver's license.

A 60 year old Burbank, Okla. man, Lloyd C. Perkins, was pronounced dead on arrival at West Plains Memorial Hospital last Friday afternoon around 3 p.m.

He was cutting grain on the Bill Warner farm north of Muleshoe when he had the fatal heart attack. His body was taken to Burbank for services and burial.

The Bailey County Republican executive committee met Sunday, September 27, in the offices of Vic Benedict for a campaign organizational meeting with District 30 State Republican Committee woman Margaret Seuss of Petersburg. The election, candidates and campaign work were discussed, with Clarence E. Mason, Bailey County chairman presiding. Glenn Lust is chairman of Parmer County Republicans.

The Ladies Club Tournament, in progress now at the Muleshoe Country Club, has been extended through October 18 to enable more of the ladies to participate.

The Muleshoe Study Club will have a rummage sale at the Rufus Gilbreath building, across the street from Harvey Bass, Fridays, October 2 and 9 and Saturdays October 3 and 10.

Phil Davis, heart representative will be guest speaker at a meeting of the Bailey County Heart Association on Monday, October 5 at 8 p.m.

The meeting will be held in the First National Bank for the purpose of appointing a nominating committee for the officers and directors of the local association.

Mr. and Mrs. Buck Woods were hosts to his brothers and their wives over the past weekend. They were: Mr. and Mrs. James O. Woods, Chickasha, Oklahoma; Mr. and Mrs. Ted Woods, Salida, Colorado; and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wood, Dell City, Oklahoma. Also two step-brothers, Mr. and Mrs. Rex Barton and Aubrey Barton of Pampa, Texas.

Vaughn V. Williamson, of Uvalde, is visiting for a few days in the home of his daughter and her family, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Poyner.

Although Muleshoe High School Athletic Director Fred Hedgecock says: "We aren't well yet, there is still a long way to go to complete the healing process," the Muleshoe Mules are riding high.

Bouncing back from 15 straight losses, the Mules downed Friona last Friday in what has been considered an "upset" in football circles. Friona came to Muleshoe with two straight wins under their belts in 1970 and went home with their first loss of the year.

Halfback Bobby Hayes, who continues to be the District 1-AAA leading scorer, added an additional 12 points to his side of the ledger during the homecoming game, to spark the Mules to a 21-7 win over the Friona Chieftains. Quarterback Mike Riley scored following a dash by Hayes which set up the final TD of the game. The Mules defense held the Chieftains to only one touchdown in the game, where Friona had scored in their first two games of the year 27-16 and 27-6 against Farwell and Bovina, respectively.

Hayes is presently tied with Phipps of Monahans, District 2-AAA and Jackson of Brownfield, District 3-AAA for leading scorer in this part of the state. Each of the three players are riding on five touchdowns and two extra points for 32 points.

Although Muleshoe is listed in seventh place among the ten teams in AAA district, they are in third place in District 1-AAA. Three of the six teams in the district have yet to win a game during this football season. They are Perryton, two losses; Canyon, three losses and Tullia, three losses.

Food chairmen are R. A. Bradley and A.V. Wood and a charge of bingo will be Curtis Wellborn. Marjorie Precure is publicity chairman and in charge of the queen contest will be Mrs. Herb Griffiths and Mrs. Don Harmon.

A spokesman for the Fine Arts Boosters said the purpose of the carnival will be to entertain the children as much as to make money.

The carnival will begin at 5 p.m. and at 9:30 p.m. the carnival will close to be followed by the Fine Arts Boosters.

Heading the list of speakers for Sunday was Texas Governor Preston Smith. The group also heard Dr. T. Haggal, humorist and philosopher and Dr. James D. McConnell, senior advisor of Westinghouse Learning Corporation.

Some of the workshops attended by the local school officials were: "State and Local Public School Financing," "Schools and the Tort Claims Act," "Proposed State Legislation," "Federal Education Legislation," "Division of Administration-Board Responsibilities" and "Texas Education Program for Crime and Narcotics Education."

Levelland has a 2-1 season; Dumas, 1-1 and Muleshoe, 1-2. Last Friday night, Brownfield bested Levelland, 24-14; Dumas fell to Tascosa, 13-6; Dalhart bombed Tullia, 62-6; Caprock outlasted Canyon, 14-7 and Pampa blanked Perryton, 14-0.

With three games into the record books, Muleshoe has racked up a total of 42 points, while giving up 50 points to their opposing teams.

Levelland, who leads the district, has racked up 54 points and has given up 24 points and second ranked Dumas has scored 31 points and has given up 21 points to their opposition.

Friday night, the Mules will travel to Boys Ranch where they will clash in the Boys Ranch football stadium. Like Muleshoe, Boys Ranch lost their first two games of the year before coming back with a 15-6 win over McLean last Friday.

Don Brecht may be the player to watch Friday as he is said by Boys Ranch Coach Ben Adams to be the leading ground gainer for the school. Henry Perry, who can boot the ball, has a 44-yard field goal against McLean to his credit. Boys Ranch relies heavily upon passing, and in the Boys Ranch-McLean game, four of eight passes were completed for 90 yards. Quarterback Brad Berg completed 12 of 21 in the Vega game for 227 yards and Walter Reese, a sophomore, is considered Boys Ranch top pass receiver.

Muleshoe Superintendent Neal Dillman said no tickets were sent to Muleshoe for advance sales, but will be sold at the entrance gate to Boys Ranch for $1.50 for adults and 50 cents for students. Boys Ranch has approximately 1,200 seats, and Muleshoe school officials, coaches, football players and

The Back the Mules football contest will continue through the football season and anyone 12 years of age or older, except employees of The Journals, or their families, are eligible to enter the contest.

Second Cotton Bale Reported September 28

C.E. Grant of Beck Gin at West Camp reported what is thought to be the second bale of cotton ginned for 1970 in Bailey County.

The cotton was produced by James Robertson of West Camp. It is Riccot which was planted on May 15 and was pre-watered. The 2,060 pounds of seed cotton was handpulled and produced a 505 bale of cotton and 800 pounds of cotton seed.

Grant said the cotton was ginned Monday, September 28. Bailey County's first cotton for 1970 was ginned last Wednesday at the Enochs Gin Co., Inc. It was produced by Dean Gilliam northwest of Enochs on dryland.

The 1,800 pounds of seed cotton turned out a 475 pound bale and 810 pounds of seed.

Rural Housing Loans Building Rural America

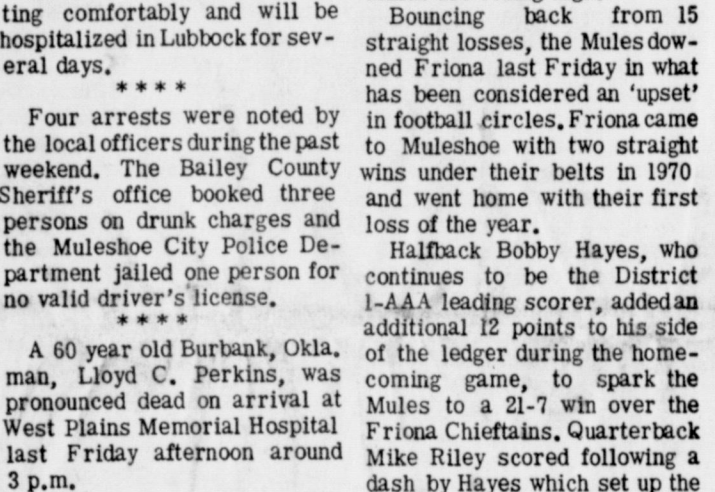

Based on preliminary census information Muleshoe residents, can still qualify for housing loans from Farmers Home Administration, according to John C. Kennedy, County Supervisor.

"These loans are made in rural areas and in towns with less than 5,500 population," Kennedy stated.

"We are attempting to keep housing credit flowing into our small towns despite the tight money situation and the national general housing construction slump," FHA County Supervisor Kennedy said. "At the same time, we are encouraging builders and developers to step up their efforts to invest in rural America by increasing the volume of rural home completions."

Kennedy noted that local banks and lending institutions participate in providing loan funds which are insured by his agency. He added that nationally more than 98 percent of individual family rural housing loan funds were provided by private investors.

Lions Celebrate 30th Anniversary

In winding up a humorous program Tuesday evening, Lions Club District Governor Lynn Kahlich reminded a group of Muleshoe Lions, their wives and special guests, "Recruitment is important. So in order to recruit, take at least five others with you."

Kahlich followed R.A. Lipscomb, past international director of the Lions Club who was guest speaker for the evening. Lipscomb, who is a well-known after-dinner speaker, kept his talk light, but each of the humorous stories he told tied in with some phase of Lions Club work.

In a serious vein, Lipscomb told the group "Muleshoe is a much better town tonight than it would have been if you hadn't had a Lions Club."

"You are working and doing things for this community that you couldn't do as an individual, but can by working together."

The former executive in Lions Clubs also admonished the Muleshoe Lions, "If you would see the monument of the Muleshoe Lions Club, look about you. Leave a Lion memorial engraved in the hearts and minds of the young people."

He concluded his talk with an Irish blessing.

Preceding the talk, Muleshoe Lion Boss Don Harmon introduced special guests at the dinner. They included Hereford Lions Club President and Mrs. Milton Adams; Hereford Lion and Mrs. Major Schroeter; Mr. and Mrs. Zed Robinson; Lion District Governor and Mrs. Roy Spraying operations in the High Plains Diapause Boll Weevil Control Program this year have gone "exceptionally well" and weevil populations in the control zone have been greatly reduced, according to Ed Dean, Field Service Director of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., the organization responsible for the program.

Four applications of ultra low volume Malathion, a chemical with almost non-existent toxicity to anything but insects, have now been completed. The first three went on at seven day intervals and were followed by another application 12 days later, Dean Reports. Spraying will continue on the 12 day schedule until frost where necessary.

Spraying began September 1 this year and spray planes covered 108,000 acres of weevil infested cotton in less than five days. Weevil migration from outside the control zone into previously weevil free cotton brought the spray area for the second and third applications up to 136,000 and 145,000 acres, respectively. Total acreage sprayed in the fourth application has not been calculated, but the estimate runs to 175,000 or 180,000 acres.

The fourth dose of insecticide took in around 20,000 to 30,000 additional acres in Bristoe, Motley and Hall Counties on the North end of the control zone where earlier weevil populations had been too low to justify spraying. Also included in the most recent spraying were 14,000 to 15,000 acres where weevils have been found in Southwest Dawson, Northwest Martin, South Gaines and South Andrews Counties.

"We have had better weather for spraying this year than any year since the program began in 1964, Dean stated, "and performance on the part of spray contractors has never been better."

The first three rapid-fire shots at the weevil are designed to break his reproductive cycle. Later applications are to kill remaining weevils before they can go into hibernations for the winter.

Dean notes that 175,000 or 180,000 acres in all probability will be the peak size of this year's control zone. Acreage to be sprayed in the fifth and sixth applications will begin to decline as cotton in some fields will be reaching the stage at which it no longer provides a food supply for the pests. The overall objective of the program is to keep weevils from going into hibernation and coming out the following spring to attack crops. And weevils cannot achieve the fat, dormant "diapause" condition necessary to overwintering without an adequate food supply.

The hardest work of some people is to appear important.

As of this writing the farm bill that has been kicked around in Washington for the past 18 months or so is still lodged, if not stuck, in a Senate-House Conference Committee.

Circumstances surrounding efforts of Conferees to reach a compromise acceptable to the body of the House, the body of the Senate and the Administration are more than a little complicated. And there is no evidence that a quick or easy solution to the complications will be found soon.

Conferees from the two Houses of Congress, left alone and without having to consider Administration views, could probably reach agreement with little delay. But, when the Conference report goes to the floor of the House and Senate for approval, the Administration will be swinging a big stick. So their views of necessity are an integral part of Conference deliberations.

The big reason for the difficulty in meeting Administration standards in Conference can be summed up in a single word -- money. In effect USDA and Republican leadership, particularly in the House, have said they would oppose anything which promises to cost more than the House version. And indications are that opposition from that quarter would send the farm bill from the floor of the House back to Conference Committee. Not only would such an eventuality cloud the possibility of passing a farm bill this year, it would greatly enhance the possibility of a $20,000 per person limitation of payments going through on the Agricultural Appropriations Bill.

Observers now think it possible, but not too probable, that the Conference Committee can finish its work by Friday, October 2.

Prussic Acid Threat Under Some Grazing

COLLEGE STATION -- Hybrid sorghum-sudan pastures, fast growing and excellent forage, can also be deadly, especially during the late summer and fall.

The breakdown of the sorghum's plant material by its own enzymes results in prussic acid poisoning for the animals which eat the plant material. Dr. John C. Reagor, toxicologist for the Texas Veterinary Medical Diagnostic Laboratory, says, The actual agent causing death is hydrogen cyanide, the same chemical used in state gas chambers for executions, he adds.

"There are two times during which poisoning occurs," Dr. Reagor explained, "After frost, where there is damage to the plants, high levels of hydrogen cyanide are very common in the plants.

"The second case is when plants perk up and begin fast growth after a very dry period during which the plants have been burned up."

The hydrogen cyanide is very volatile and therefore stays in the plants for only a very short time, but while it is present, animals must be kept off the pasture, he said.

"Usually, if a severe outbreak occurs, cows exhibiting symptoms when the veterinarian is called, will be dead before he can arrive," Dr. Reagor said. "He will probably be able to save only those which are still breathing after he arrives."

Hay that is improperly cured can also present prussic acid poisoning problems for a short time, Dr. Reagor noted adding that the blood of poisoned animals will be cherry red.

Dr. Reagor also urged farmers to be on the lookout for nitrate poisoning that may occur during the late fall on winter pastures when there is a lot of cloudy weather.

"The plants, instead of growing and changing nitrates into protein, just accumulate the nitrates," Dr. Reagor said.

1971. Buick introduces a new set of values.

Value, not gimmicks or ornamentation, sells cars. More people have been coming to Buick each year for just that reason. Buick concentrates on value. And this year, Buick introduces a new set of values. Features that will help make your new Buick perform better, last longer and get you more of a return on your investment at trade-in time. Only a Buick dealer can offer you our new set of values. So, test your values against our new ones. Then ask yourself this simple question. Wouldn't you really rather have a Buick?

Something to believe in.

1971 Buick Riviera. A totally new design concept. And that's not all. Riviera offers MaxTrac, an exclusive power control system you can order with its own on-board computer. It helps you get securely over slick surfaces by reducing rear-wheel slipping. The new body features side-guard beams for protection, a bigger trunk, and a driver cockpit with a control center designed around the driver for new ease and convenience.

1971 Buick Electra 225. A new interpretation of quiet elegance. We've improved our Electra everywhere you look. There's more room in every direction, interiors that can be appreciated as much for their durability as for their beauty and comfort, even a new balanced braking system. A unique valve proportions braking force front to rear to help give you quick, smooth straight-line stops.

1971 Buick Centurion. This is our newest Buick, a city car with sleekness and grace as well as muscle. It features more nimble variable-ratio power steering, power front disc brakes, Full-Flo ventilation, and a vinyl roof on the Centurion Formal Coupe as standard equipment.

1971 Buick Skylark Custom. This is the car that has set the pace for value in its price class. Rocker panels that wash and dry themselves, big-Buick room and comfort inside, a cooling system that should never overheat, inner fenders that protect the outer fenders, and a modest price have put our Buick Skylark traditionally among the resale leaders in its class.

1971 Buick LeSabre. An incredible new offering of Buick value. The LeSabre, like the Riviera, Electra and Centurion, features AccuDrive, a new version of the directional stability system we pioneered. It will help give you smooth handling.

An Important Improvement. Every new Buick engine is now designed to run smoothly and efficiently, and with lower exhaust emissions, on no-lead and low-lead gasolines. And every Buick V-8 engine will have exclusive nickel-plated exhaust valves for smoother operation and longer valve life, and a new time-modulated choke to help give quicker warm-up and a more consistent fuel mixture.

Warm, Fresh Air

... direct from the manufacturer

Natural gas is the healthiest, most economical way to heat your house this winter. Gas is economical because it's the direct way to produce heat - you don't pay to convert heat to another energy source and then back to heat. And with gas you can afford to bring clean outside air into your home this winter instead of having to re-heat the same old stale air time after time.

So, if you're building or remodeling, be sure to specify gas heating. Gas is the "natural" fuel. It's like buying direct from the manufacturer. Call your heating contractor, plumber, or Pioneer Natural Gas.

John Tower United States Senate COMMITTEE ON ARMED SERVICES

This will be the last in my series of weekly reports for this year. With the 91st Congress drawing towards a close and the general elections approaching, I feel that it is appropriate for me to suspend my regular reports until next year. The 91st Congress has not compiled a particularly remarkable record. The last two years have been marked by struggles between the Legislative and Executive Branches and by struggles within the Congress itself, particularly in the Senate.

The past two years HAS seen an awakening on the part of most legislators to the need for effective pollution control measures. Many of us have also realized that we must take care in our legislative process to provide reasonable measures which do not cause economic decline as they work to reclaim and protect the environment. A possible solution to some of our pollution problems might be to bind alternative sources of power. I offered three pieces of legislation in the 91st Congress designed to encourage the search for alternative power sources. The resolutions I offered would have granted specific authority to the Interior

Department to conduct studies into the possible utilization of tidal energy, solar energy, and a third study of the possibilities of placing nuclear plants offshore in order to prevent thermal pollution of our rivers and estuaries. The Congress, particularly the Senate, spent much of its time over the past two years debating the role of the military. Some Senators felt that large sums could be diverted from national defense requirements to domestic needs. Others felt that too much reduction in our level of military preparedness would result in erosion of this nation's position of world leadership, and that in turn a resulting second-class power would be unable to protect itself and its economic interests. These senators felt that the ultimate result might be a reduction in the overall standard of living for all Americans, including those who would have benefitted the most from the domestic programs over the first few years. I argued for a strong position of military preparedness which would serve to maintain world peace and which would provide the continuing protection our nation requires in order to continue our national economic growth in an atmosphere of national security. But we should not risk our security in order to enjoy increased comfort which might prove to be only temporary. The Senate of the 91st Congress finally did confirm two nominations to the Supreme Court. It took a lot of time in doing so and it rejected two nominees in the process. I still feel that those two nominees who were rejected might have been confirmed had they not been from the South or had they possessed a history indicating a less conservative background. Maybe the Senate balanced itself somewhat when it later acknowledged that prejudice is equally prevalent and equally distasteful in the North as it is in the South.

During this Congress, I proposed several pieces of legislation which I felt were of significance. Among these was a resolution to establish a national commission with the authority to review all our national labor laws and which would report to the Congress its recommendations for comprehensive reform. Our basic labor laws are decades old and I believe the labor negotiation difficulties which have led to work stoppages of critical proportions is clear evidence of the need for labor law reform. Too often, one side or the other in a labor-management negotiation feels that if he holds out long enough the government will settle the matter in his favor. We need national labor laws which will allow the collective bargaining process to function and which will encourage the de-regulation of natural gas pricing at the well-head. I am convinced that this practice by the federal government is at least partially responsible for the critical energy shortage this nation is suffering. Admittedly, the Congress has not had much time in which to act on this measure, but I am hopeful that my colleagues will study it and will support it when I introduced it after the new Congress convenes next year. As I said earlier, the 91st Congress did not compile a particularly remarkable record. I am hopeful that the new Congress will be able to deal more effectively with the problems which confront us.

Texas County Book Given New Statistics

AUSTIN--Texas Agriculture Commissioner John C. White has announced the publication of "Texas County Statistics", a booklet published for the second time which includes a comprehensive agricultural survey of each of the state's 254 counties. It devotes a single page to each county. In addition to livestock reports (including beef, dairy, hogs, sheep and lambs), the compilations list vegetables, fruits, pecans, small grains, field crops, cotton, poultry, government payments and cash receipts received from marketing during the last two years. The last session of the Texas Legislature made this project possible by authorizing funds for the Texas Department of Agriculture to conduct its annual county-data operation. Gathering of the information is a joint effort of the Texas Department of Agriculture and the Statistical Reporting Service of the United States Department of Agriculture. Commissioner White, in the book's foreword, expressed special thanks to the more than 60,000 farmer and ranchers who helped supply reporters with the details that make up "Texas County Statistics". The county agent in each county in the state has been supplied 10 copies of each county's statistics and copies may be obtained from him.

U.S. official sees increased utility rates. Winners in the district contests will compete in a council contest on October 22nd in the Agricultural-Engineering Auditorium at Texas Tech University. Dr. P. Merrill Larson is chairman of the council.

VOLUNTEERS GATHER -- Lloyd Bentsen, Democratic nominee for the U.S. Senate, stands surrounded by more than 300 county volunteer workers who attended a recent coordinator's meeting and workshop in Austin, traveling from points all over the state. The candidate boasts the most extensive volunteer organization ever assembled for a candidate for election in Texas, with campaign coordinators in every county. Local coordinator for Bentsen's candidacy is Jack Young.

Scout Contest; Competitions To Begin Soon

Eagle Scouts and outstanding Explorers in the South Plains Council will be able to compete for scholarships, trophies and other recognitions in public speaking contests in the next few weeks. Dr. J. Davis Armistead, Chairman of the council's Activities Committee said that each district in the council will conduct contests between October 1st and 15th. The contestants in these events will be the representatives selected by the Boy Scout Troops and Explorer Posts within the districts.

Winners in the district contests will compete in a council contest on October 22nd in the Agricultural-Engineering Auditorium at Texas Tech University. Dr. P. Merrill Larson is chairman of the council.

Scout councils in West Texas and New Mexico in a Range contest to be held at the Texas Tech University Law School. This contest will be conducted by Reed Quilliam, assisted by personnel from the Texas Tech Law School. All interested Eagle Scouts or Explorers are urged to get full details from their Scoutmasters, their Explorer Advisors or from the South Plains Council Service Center.

Federal Firearms Laws Are Listed

Dallas, Texas -- Hunters from the Southwest have been contacting Internal Revenue's alcohol tobacco and firearms division in trying to find out how the Federal Gun Control Act of 1968 affects them.

"Apparently many hunters are under the impression the Gun Control Act seriously restricts their right to hunt," said Bill L. Gaunt, ATF assistant regional commissioner. "The primary purpose of the law is to disarm criminals, not regulate sportsmen," he said.

Gaunt said ATF investigators are being asked a great many questions about the law, especially during the current hunting season.

"Here," he said, "are some of the questions we have been asked, and the answers we give."

Q) My neighbor has asked me to go quail hunting with him this fall. This means that I must buy a shotgun. Under the 1968 Gun Law, how do I go about buying this gun?

A) Go in person to an authorized gun dealer, identify yourself and sign a form stating you are not prohibited by the federal gun control act from receiving guns or ammunition in interstate commerce. Federal law states that guns and ammunition cannot be sold to individuals who are under indictment for or convicted of a felony, or fugitives from justice, or unlawful users of drugs, or persons who have been adjudged mentally defective. Also included are those who have been dishonorably discharged from the armed forces, aliens who have illegally entered the United States, and persons who have renounced their American citizenship. Of course, if you are under 18 years of age you cannot buy guns or ammunition at all. If you are between 18 and 21 you can buy shotguns, rifles, and ammunition for them; but not handguns or handgun ammunition.

Q) I'm from North Texas and plan to hunt deer in Colorado. Can I buy ammunition there or should I take what I need with me?

A) You can buy ammunition in another state as easily as you can in your own. Just go to a dealer and identify yourself. You are not required to sign anything. This assumes, however that you are not prohibited by federal law from receiving guns or ammunition in interstate commerce.

Q) Several of us will be flying on a commercial jet to the Dakotas to hunt pheasant. Can we take our shotguns with us?

A) Yes. If you plan to personally carry your guns aboard the aircraft, notify the airline of this fact before boarding and turn your guns and ammunition over to the crew. However, if you plan to ship your guns and ammunition as baggage, you must notify the airline in writing and state exactly what each package contains. You do not have to mark the package as containing firearms or ammunition.

Q) I own a small ranch in Oklahoma and have always carried a carbine on the gun rack in my pickup truck. Two weeks from now, I plan to deliver some breeding stock to a buyer in Kansas, and would like to do some hunting while there. Can I take my gun across the state line?

A) As far as the federal gun control act is concerned, you need not notify nor obtain permission from anyone to transport the carbine in your pickup. Keep in mind, however, that some states have laws governing the transporting of firearms.

Q) I live in Albuquerque and have taken my daughter hunting each year since she was a little girl. Recently she married and moved with her husband to El Paso. We'll visit them in El Paso during Thanksgiving and I'd like to give her the .410 shotgun she used. Can I legally give it to her without breaking the federal gun law?

A) Although you cannot transfer the gun yourself, there is a legal way to accomplish what you want done. Go with your daughter to a licensed gun dealer. Transfer the gun to the dealer who, in turn, will transfer it to your daughter. The gun dealer will record the transaction and, from a legal standpoint, it will be same as if your daughter were buying the gun direct from the dealer.

As a concluding statement, Gaunt said it is important that hunters and sportsmen check on local and state laws, such as game laws and state firearms control laws, which may also affect their hunting activities.

Frankie Fine underwent major surgery in Methodist Hospital in Lubbock last Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. H.W. Garvin returned Tuesday after a ten day vacation in Colorado and Arizona. In Colorado they visited his sister, nephews and nieces, in Cortez and Dove Creek. In Arizona they went to the Grand Canyon and on to Phoenix where they visited their daughter and family, the John Flinnas.

Square Thru News

By Donna Shaw

The Muleshoe Square Thrus hosted a "Back to School" Special Dance September 22 at the Catholic Recreation Center. Guest caller was Wayne Baldwin of Kermit. His wife, Bobbie, accompanied him to Muleshoe. Wayne kept the dancers on their toes and called a very good night of dancing. The Square Thrus plan to have him return real soon.

Square dancers attended from the Portales Starlight Swingers, Cannon AFB Swinging Wings, and the Littlefield Circle Eight Clubs.

Door prizes were won by Charles King and Elaine Gurnels of the Muleshoe Square Thrus and Wylene Williams and Rodney Rogers of the Portales Club.

Square Thrus collected a few banners for our Special Dance, despite club members harvesting their grain and corn crops, illness and school activities. Travelling to Portales September 15 to promote our dance were Donna and Eugene Shaw, Delia and Darin.

A group attended the Clovis Y-Squares graduation dance September 18, and brought their banners home with them. Going from Muleshoe were Laura Jean and Jimmy Presley, Sherman and Melinda; Mary and Curby Brantley, Stephanie and Curby; Marilyn Black and Johnny McDonald.

Attending the dance at Cannon AFB September 19 were

Mary J. and Curby Brantley, Stephanie and Curby; Gary Wrinkle, Joey Carpenter, Laura Jean and Jimmy Presley, Sherman and Melinda. They brought back a shirt. These banners and shirts can be retrieved by a club bringing a square of dancers to our special dances or regular club dances.

Muleshoe Square Thrus met at the Corral Restaurant for a business meeting September 23, and elected a new slate of officers: Robert Hunt, president; Hilbert Wisian, vice-president; Jan King, secretary; Sherry Wisian, treasurer; Alisa Dollar, reporter; Nelda Hunt, historian; Laverne James, social chairman; Board of Directors included Jimmy Presley, Arnold Prater, Curby Brantley and Charles King.

These officers will take office the first square dance in October. Square Thrus are looking forward to the next six months under the leadership of these newly elected officers.

Square Thrus are going to start lessons in the near future. Anyone who wishes to take lessons please contact one of our members. Square dancing is good clean fun and anyone who wishes to come to our dances is welcome. This is entertainment for the whole family. Come on out, you will enjoy it and might even want to take lessons.

See you at one of our dances.

Bentsen Speaks Out On Crime Control

U.S. Senate candidate Lloyd Bentsen believes it is time for the nation to "Get Tough" in its fight against crime and drug abuse, with reform of the Federal Court system getting a high priority.

The Democratic nominee has proposed a constitutional amendment requiring that every Federal Judge be reconfirmed by the Senate after every 10 years of service. It would take a two-thirds vote of the Senate to remove a Judge from office but Bentsen noted that Federal Judges now receive lifetime appointments and are not answerable to anyone.

"We are going to reduce the crime rate only when more people demonstrate a greater respect for the law, when we correct the injustices in society which breed crime and when we are willing to make the reforms necessary to do a better job in fighting crime," Bentsen declared.

"We have an emergency problem now in a lot of our courts," He said. "We have let many of them become so clogged with litigation that it sometimes takes years for a final decision to be reached in a case.

"And yet we know that there is no better deterrent to wrongdoing than the sureness of swift justice," He said. "The war against crime can never succeed if we do not improve the administration of justice.

"I propose that the Congress create 100 special district courts, on a temporary basis, to get these dockets cleaned up so that it will not take several years to get a final decision in a criminal case," Bentsen said.

Bentsen said he feels that the performance of Federal Judges should be evaluated every 10 years because the American people deserve a working judiciary.

"And I think the evidence shows that in too many cases they're not getting what they deserve," He said. "A Judge can be highly competent, or incompetent. He can be a hard worker and keep his docket in order, or he can be lazy. Whatever he is, he is answerable to no one under the present system.

Bentsen also is urging compulsory treatment for narcotics addicts and stringent measures against suppliers in other countries.

"There is no point in waiting any longer to wage a full-scale offensive against drug abuse," He declared. "It must include research and education, treatment and rehabilitation, a severe crackdown on the drug traffic itself, and international agreements which are worth more than the paper they're written on.

"We know that 90 per cent of the illicit drug traffic in this country starts with foreign countries," He said. "It is clearly time to get tough with the international trade in narcotics and other drugs. It's time to dry up the supply by imposing economic sanctions against any country which is slack in fighting the narcotics traffic.

"I think the Federal Law should require every hard narcotics addict to undergo treatment, supervision and control as a Civil action under the U. S. public health service. If the addict is also subject to criiminal prosecution, the civil action would not replace prosecution but add to it.

"I think this would go a long way," said Bentsen. "Toward freeing law enforcement officials to concentrate on the real villains: The dope pushers. It would take addicts off the streets and place them under compulsory medical supervision.

"We are facing a crisis on drug abuse and we must give this problem more attention," He said.

Despite obstacles, mor G.I.'s wed vietnamese.

TEC Lists Law On Unemployment

The Texas Employment Commission announces that the new federal unemployment compensation law will result in the largest single increase in the coverage of workers since the beginning of the federal-state unemployment insurance program.

In Texas an estimated 400,000 more workers will be covered and 100,000 more employers will be liable for unemployment insurance tax, beginning January 1, 1972.

The federal law provides for the payment of extended unemployment insurance up to a maximum of 13 weeks in times of high unemployment. The federal government will pay half the extended benefits. Extended benefits will be paid once regular benefits are exhausted.

The bill also makes more jobholders eligible for benefits, makes more employers subject to unemployment insurance tax, and increases the federal unemployment insurance tax paid by employers who are already covered by the law.

In Texas, about 100,000 jobs in non-profit organizations are added to coverage. These are organizations employing four or more persons in 20 weeks of the current or preceding calendar year, which have the option of either paying taxes or reimbursing the state for benefits paid. Employees of a church, association of churches, or school other than institutions of higher education are not covered.

More than 183,000 Texas jobs in small business are covered by defining an employer as one who employs one or more workers in 20 separate weeks in a year, or an employer who has a payroll of $1,500 in a calendar quarter.

Jobs in state hospitals and state institutions of higher education in Texas totaling about 88,000 come under coverage; but faculty, research and administrative employees of institutions of higher education are not eligible for benefits during the summer vacation if they have a contract to resume work after the vacation.

An estimated 10,000 agent drivers and outside salesmen in Texas, formerly excluded from coverage as being self-employed, will be brought under coverage by changing the definition of "employee."

As many as 9,000 Texas workers in agricultural processing will be eligible for benefits.

State law must permit states to extend coverage to each of their political subdivisions, covering employees in county and municipal hospitals and institutions of higher education.

The bill does not cover farm workers, clients in sheltered workshops, certain students or their spouses, or minors engaged in workstudy programs.

About 8,000 jobs held by United States citizens, residents of Texas, employed by American employers outside the United States will be covered, except for service performed in Canada and the Virgin Islands.

To finance the extended coverage, the law rises from $3,000 to $4,200 the wage base for the unemployment tax, beginning in 1972 and hikes the net federal tax of .4 per cent of covered payroll by 1/10 of 1.0 per cent to .5 per cent, retroactive to January 1, 1970.

Changes required in state laws to bring them into federal conformity prohibit the so-called "double dip" (payment of benefits in a new benefit year without some work since beginning of the previous benefit year); provide that no one will be denied benefits when taking approved training; prohibit denial or reduction of compensation because of filing a claim in another state or Canada; prevent total disqualification of a claimant except for misconduct in connection with work, fraud in connection with a claim, or receipt of disqualifying income.

The new law provides for an unemployment compensation research program to give priority research on farm coverage; for federal grants to train unemployment compensation personnel; and for a federal advisory council on unemployment compensation to review and suggest improvements in the federal-state unemployment insurance program.

ON FARM SUBSIDY
The Senate has approved a three-year $3.5 billion agriculture authorization bill, but rejected an attempt to impose a $20,000 limit on subsidies paid farmers for not farming. The action practically assures adoption of a $50,000 per crop limit on cotton, feed grain and wheat subsidies.

Late Hay Cutting Important This Year

COLLEGE STATION--There is still time for one more cutting of hay this fall, Neal Pratt, Extension agronomist, Texas A&M University says. Dry weather in many parts of Texas this summer has reduced hay yields and pasture grazing, and many cattlemen are approaching winter months with limited forage supplies, Dr. Pratt said. Early fall rains can help improve hay supplies and maintain cattle in satisfactory condition through the winter, he added.

"Hay fields should be fertilized for high quality and high production," the agronomist said. "Nitrogen is especially important, but soils may need other nutrients, and should be tested before starting next year's production."

One of the greatest benefits from fertilizer is forage quality improvements, he said, adding that fertilizer usually improves palatability and other quality factors.

"A forage test can help determine the value of hay, and forage analyses can be obtained from the Forage Testing Laboratory at Texas A&M University and from other laboratories throughout the State," Dr. Pratt said.

Contact your county agricultural agent for information on forms to use when submitting forage samples for testing, and while visiting with the agent ask him for information about the date and location of the hay show in your county this year, the Extension agronomist said.

"Hay shows emphasize the advantages of high-quality forage, and many Texas counties will be holding a hay show this fall," Dr. Pratt said. "Livestock producers will have opportunities to see high-quality hay and observe management practices which influence forage quality."

In many counties, samples are entered two weeks prior to the show so that forage analyses can be made, and hay samples are scored on a physical and chemical basis to more accurately estimate their quality.

"Plan to enter your hay sample and see how your forage compares with other forage in your area," Dr. Pratt urged.

Another part of the hay show sees county agricultural agents discussing how the award-winning entries were produced and how other livestock producers can benefit from that experience. Also, Extension specialists discuss ways to improve forage quality and increase profits through better forage production.

So consult your county agricultural agent for the date and location of the hay show in your county and enter your hay sample. You just might have the winning entry.

Chavez & Lettuce

Cesar Chavez recently succeeded in forcing California grape growers to accept his authority as head of a grape-picking union. His boycott of grapes was accepted by many in fear of intimidation tactics and finally, even though grape growers opposed him and a majority of workers didn't want to join his union, he had his way.

Now he is calling for a boycott of lettuce growers from California to Texas, designed to force growers and workers to accept his union. The same tactics are being followed in this effort as were used in the grape-picking effort.

Boycotts by any group are poor tactics and in the case of perishable products they amount to threats against the livelihood of growers and workers.

There are two sides to every question. However, there is much about the Chavez effort which is repulsive to those who believe in personal freedom of choice and democratic procedure.

How Much Will It Hurt?

TRIAL BALLOONS are being raised by taxpayers and school officials alike to determine the best manner in which to increase revenue for hard-pressed school districts in the 62nd Legislature.

Property taxes presently are the only local source of revenue for school districts, and most observers agree that these taxes have about reached their political limit, if not their legal limit allowed by law.

No district, for example, taxes property at 100 per cent of current real value and very few approach maximum rate allowed by law. The reason is simple: School trustees who attempted to levy taxes at the maximum rate and ratio could easily find themselves facing lynch mobs.

So the question boils down to a political one: "What is the most painless way to separate the taxpayer from his money?"

STATE SEN. Wayne Connally of Floresville said his committee on agricultural land assessment has run into strong sentiment for an income tax in 10 public hearings held around the state.

Rural property owners, caught between inflated land values and stable or declining incomes from land, apparently prefer to take their chances with an income tax.

On the other hand, sentiment favoring a 1 per cent sales tax for school districts has been expressed by officials of the Texas Association of School Boards.

The sales tax, officials estimate, would provide an estimated $104 million estimated revenue, or $45 per pupil for local districts.

A 1 per cent school sales tax would increase the total sales tax, including state and city levies, in most sections of the state, to 5.25 per cent, which in itself is nearing a political and practical limit.

Just 10 years ago, Texas had no general sales tax. Another 1 per cent hike would make the total sales tax bill one of the highest in the nation.

INFLATION and demands for new or expanded services are forcing all levels of government to take a hard look at their revenue sources. School districts, with only the property tax as a local revenue source and supplemental payments from the state, are particularly hard-pressed.

Key to the solution of the problem ultimately rests with the taxpayer: What priority does he place on education; what is he willing to pay to attain these priorities, and how will he pay what is necessary?

No matter what method is devised to increase necessary revenue, the individual taxpayer will pay the bill. Question is: How much will it hurt?

Marijuana as Escape Aid Is Seen as Danger

A contribution to the cons of the raging pros and cons of marijuana smoking was made the other day by a man who certainly could not be expected to do otherwise, the U.S. surgeon general, Dr. Jesse L. Steinfeld's observations, however, went beyond merely saying marijuana was physically harmful--a medical evaluation, he said, that is "clouded because it has been an outlawed form of behavior."

Marijuana smoking is harmful, Dr. Steinfeld said, because it promotes an escape from reality, and anything that promotes such an escape is harmful. And marijuana, he pointed out, is used mostly by young people to escape from reality at the very time they are reaching out for independence. He meant, of course, marijuana thus becomes a crutch to ease a person over whatever he has given up trying to seek independence.

Seeking independence is a mental as well as physical process, and the realities of the process can be painful indeed. But to escape the pain of the realities is also to escape an accurate assessment of situations on which practical moves to independence or to anything else must be based.

This is what shatters a favorite argument of the marijuana cult. It claims that one-third of all college students use marijuana regularly. With so many marijuana users among the nation's future leaders, the argument continues, it would be impossible to put all of them in jail; therefore, smoking marijuana should be made lawful.

It is extremely doubtful that society will ever accept intoxication, whether from alcohol or marijuana, as normal behavior, any more than it will ever accept an alcoholic or pot-head as a President of the United States. Society may do its best to wean users away from marijuana but failing, it will build more jails.

WASHINGTON NOTES

FOREIGN-AID SYSTEM President Nixon has called for a top-to-bottom overhaul of the U.S. foreign-aid system, including the creation of a new security-assistance program to help reduce the American military presence abroad.

F-111'S IN EUROPE Pentagon officials have confirmed the United States Air Force will begin using F-111 swing-wing fighter-bombers to bolster and modernize Atlantic alliance forces in Europe. Twenty-four planes would go to a NATO base in England, but declined to disclose other bases to receive the planes.

POLLUTION AND 1975 The Senate Public Works Committee has approved a $1.17-billion air pollution bill setting automobile exhaust standards for 1975. The auto industry reports it cannot meet the exhaust standards set by the committee by 1980.

ON VOLUNTEER ARMY Recently published figures show that young men continue to enlist voluntarily. Large numbers of men below the lottery age of 19 are enlisting as soon as they are of age rather than take their chances in the lottery which gives the all-volunteer Army a boost.

President Nixon appeared generally optimistic about the future of the United States during a two and one half hour breakfast meeting I had the pleasure of attending shortly before he left on his European trip.

Mr. Nixon, his foreign affairs adviser Henry Kissinger, and Herbert Stein of the Council of Economic Advisors, gave members of the 90th Club a briefing on a wide range of topics.

I discussed my recent talks with the North Vietnamese in Paris with the President and Kissinger. They both urged me to follow-up on my efforts to get permission from the Communists to visit American POW's being held in North Vietnam.

In the foreign policy area, the President expressed confidence in the success of the Vietnamization program and noted that the South Vietnamese are gaining more confidence in their ability to defend themselves. Nixon also predicted that he would be able to continue the planned withdrawal of American troops from Vietnam.

With regard to the highly volatile Middle East situation, the fact is that Japan and the European countries receive approximately 85 percent of their fuel supplies from the Middle East. This means that Russia would be in an excellent position to blackmail much of the free world if these oil producing countries come under its domination. Thus, it is in the interest of the United States to prevent such a Russian takeover.

Kissinger explained that President Nixon is taking the current trip to Europe mainly to rebuild U.S. relationships with the people of that continent. He and the President both stated that the trip was necessitated by the fact that many nations have lost faith in the United States because this country had no definite foreign policy during the 1960's. The Nixon foreign policy for the 1970's will not be aimed at playing policeman to the world but at providing material rather than American men to countries who request our assistance. We will no longer have a commitment and withdrawal policy.

On the subject of the economy, Stein noted that the rise in the cost of living during August was the lowest since September, 1967. He also noted that

Eggers Asks Stiff Crime Laws Passed

The following is a statement by Paul Eggers, Republican candidate for Governor, made Thursday at the opening of the Tarrant County Eggers Campaign Headquarters in Fort Worth.

"I am deeply concerned about the sharp upturn in Texas' crime rate this year.

"The latest report from the Department of Public Safety warns that during the first six months of 1970 a major crime was committed every 60 seconds. When I discussed this issue in 1968, the D.P.S. report showed that a major crime was committed every 90 seconds.

"This upsurge is an unfortunate fact of today's life, but we can do something about it. Crime, however, is not fought with sugar-coated pills and inaction by the government.

"I am convinced that one

Desiderata

Go placidly amid the noise and haste, and remember what peace there may be in silence. As far as possible without surrender be on good terms with all persons. Speak your truth quietly and clearly; listen to others, even the dull and ignorant; they too have their story.

Avoid loud and aggressive persons, they are vexations to the spirit. If you compare yourself with others, you may become vain and bitter; for always there will be greater and lesser persons than yourself. Enjoy your achievements as well as your plans.

Keep interested in your own career, however humble; it is a real possession in the changing fortunes of time. Exercise caution in your business affairs; for the world is full of trickery. But let this not blind you to what virtue there is; many persons strive for high ideals; and everywhere life is full of heroism. Be yourself. Especially, do not feign affection. Neither be cynical about love; for in the face of all aridity and disenchantment it is perennial as the grass.

Take kindly the counsel of the years, gracefully surrendering the things of youth. Nurture strength of spirit to shield you in sudden misfortune. But do not distress yourself with imaginings. Many fears are born of fatigue and loneliness. Beyond a wholesome discipline, be gentle with yourself.

You are a child of the universe, no less than the trees and the stars; you have a right to be here, And whether or not it is clear to you, no doubt the universe is unfolding as it should.

Therefore be at peace with God, whatever you conceive him to be, and whatever your labors and aspirations, in the noisy confusion of life keep peace with your soul.

With all its sham, drudgery and broken dreams, it is still a beautiful world. Be careful. Strive to be happy.

BREWING UP A STEW

housing starts are the highest since 1954, which is another good economic indicator.

The economist pointed out that the overheating of the economy caused by the $68 billion deficit in the last decade, $25 billion of which was in the last Johnson budget, has made it extremely difficult to "wind-down" the overheated economy.

The present Nixon budget calls for 41 percent spending on domestic problems and 37 percent on defense spending. This is the first time in many years that domestic spending has been greater than defense spending.

The President has been able to reduce defense spending without reducing our military capabilities. This reordering of priorities has resulted in the transition of approximately one million people from the defense industry to non-defense employment. However, 96 per cent of all people normally employed in this country still have jobs.

Sincerely, Bob Price

The Sandhills Philosopher

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm is on his own this week as far as we're concerned. Dear editor:

Somebody who didn't sign his name has sent me a clipping from a newspaper -- I don't care whether his name is signed or not but it looks like it'd been just as easy to send me the whole paper -- with a note asking me what I thought about it.

The clipping reported that the Women's Liberation Movement is complaining because the Weather Bureau gives female names to hurricanes. In fact, they were doing more than complaining, they were raising Ole Ned about it.

"Would like to see what you have to say about this," the anonymous note said.

He, or maybe she, has come to the right source if a fair and impartial answer is wanted, as hurricanes and women are two things I'm no authority on. However, there are certain characteristics about both a person is bound to detect.

For example, the Weather Bureau will report Hurricane Felice say is headed for a certain point on the coast, reporters and TV people rush there, and an hour later Felice has changed her mind and gone in another direction. You never know where she's going or when she's going to arrive. In the entire history of hurricanes, nobody has ever been able to predict one with any dependability. In the entire history of women.... And why do they refer to it as a tropical disturbance before it becomes a full-fledged woman, I mean hurricane?

I don't want to get tangled up with the Women's Liberation Movement, but would it seem right reading that Tropical Disturbance Albert is headed toward the mainland? Or to take protection against Hurricane Teddy?

No, Celia...Felice... such feminine names just sound more accurate and ominous than Thomas and Donald.

However, on the other hand, there are some male characteristics about hurricanes. For example, you have to clean up after them.

Yours faithfully, J.A.

NEWS REPORT FROM WASHINGTON

Demos And 1972-Scramble In Progress-The Money Factor-1976-

Washington, D.C. -- A scramble is developing among Democratic ranks for the party's presidential nomination in 1972 -- and the hope of some prospective candidates is to use 1972, if they don't win, to build an image helpful in 1976.

That may be a way to head off Senator Edward Kennedy at the political pass. And, of course, if the Democratic candidate should win in 1972, Kennedy would automatically be stopped because the parties in ariably nominate Presidents for reelection.

Among names in heavy speculation these days is 1968 nominee Hubert Humphrey. He must win big in his Senate race in Minnesota. Senator Ed Muskie of Maine, the second place nominee in 1968, is running hard and has supporters in every section of the country as a result of extensive traveling and speech-making in the last two years.

Some in the New York area have been boosting Mayor John Lindsay of New York as a possible Democratic candidate, but this is as yet far-fetched theory. Lindsay is still a Republican, though admittedly too liberal for the majority of his party. He has given no hint he would change party ties but has exhibited national ambitions in the past.

Two former members of the old John Kennedy team, Sargeant Shriver and Larry O'Brien, are possible candidates.

O'Brien is chairman of the party but some think he has aspirations beyond that. Shriver is seeking to build himself into a candidate with his travels and money raising for party candidates.

On the younger side, there is Adlai Stevenson III, with a great name in Democratic Party history, who would have to win and win big in his Senate race in Illinois to become a contender, probably for the second spot on the ticket in 1972, but that might give him enough of a national test to make him a formidable 1976 figure. Of course, he has quite a race on his hands, reportedly, in Illinois.

The candidate who wins the nomination will find himself hard-pressed for funds. O'Brien has reduced the party debt slightly but it is still staggering. It is almost certain that the millions yet to be paid will not have been rounded up by 1972. Thus it might take a presidential campaign, and contributions that year, to get the party out of debt and on the road to a better position in 1976. That's the year Ted Kennedy is expected to make his bid.

Congressman George Bush

Congressman George Bush has criticized the use of American prisoners of war in North Vietnam as a "negotiation pawn" and the "total disregard" of the Geneva Convention on treatment of prisoners. He said he is "personally at a loss" to explain why other countries have not protested the treatment of the prisoners.

Rep. Bush, the Republican candidate for U.S. Senator, submitted his remarks to a joint session of Congress last week devoted to the treatment of American prisoners of war. The Geneva Convention, which was signed by North Vietnam and 125 other nations, requires that each prisoner be permitted contact with his family as soon after detention as possible. The convention also provides other rules for fair treatment and protection of prisoners.

Rep. Bush said the treatment of U.S. prisoners by the North Vietnamese is "an unforgivable breach of the elementary rules of conduct between civilized peoples."

"When an American soldier is captured in North Vietnam," he said, "he is secluded in prison, deprived of all contact with the outside world, and not permitted to receive mail or packages. Nor is his family informed as to whether he is well or even alive."

For the first time in modern history, Bush said, the Red Cross has been denied all contact with the prisoners.

"I doubt that there is an American family in this country today that has not in one form or another protested this kind of torture," Bush said. "We have all been quite vocal. Yet the situation remains unchanged."

The Houston Congressman said that the lack of response "only proves the callousness of the North Vietnamese and their contempt for international agreements and conduct."

"In view of this total disregard for these prisoners and the protests of the American people," Bush said, "I personally am at a loss to explain why we have not heard similar protests from the other countries who were parties to the 1949 Geneva Convention."

"When similar situations have occurred in the past--particularly when the Red Cross or a similar agency has been denied access--there has been an outcry of world opinion. Thus I was pleased when President Nixon took the initiative and asked Frank Borman to visit some of the major capitals of the world to further explain our concern for these prisoners of war."

"I hope that in the near future we will see world opinion respectfully marshalled against this kind of torture so that such brutality will not be attempted again."

GOVERNOR PRESTON SMITH

FROM GOVERNOR SMITH'S HEADQUARTERS

Governor Smith's experience and belief that governmental decisions should be made at the local level whenever possible have contributed significantly to his leadership of the State.

Many responsibilities of administration and decision making, formerly handled at the federal level, are now being made at the State and Local levels. This shift is of considerable magnitude and coming about very rapidly. Preston Smith foresaw this transition and even before taking office began to prepare the Governor's office to handle the increased responsibilities. Because of his foresight and leadership, Texas State Government is today considered to be a more aggressive and responsive state in meeting the needs of its citizens.

The Governor's philosophy is found in the design of new and original programs as well as some of an out going nature. He views the stance of Texas State Government as one to help people, at the local level, solve their problems and maximize their opportunities. He believes in the people having a voice in decision making and the application of programs. He believes a part of leadership is to listen, find out what citizens desire, and then lead them in accomplishing their goals.

Governor Smith has a vision

NEWS NOTES

NO GUNS ON PATROL Boston -- The Navy reports that Armed forces policemen in a 25-mile radius of Boston have been ordered to perform routine patrols without firearms. They will, however, carry nightsticks and handcuffs. This is believed the first disarming of the military police in the nation.

OUR BALL PLEASE! Santa Clara, Cal. -- Five little boys told Louie Flores they were sorry they broke his window playing baseball and asked if they could do odd jobs for him to pay for the window. When Flores told the boys to come back in a week, they asked him to give them their ball, which he did.

OPENS 25TH SESSION United Nations, N.Y. -- The U.N. General Assembly has begun its 25th session with continued demands that big powers collaborate more closely on the Middle East and other problems. Norwegian Ambassador Edvard Hambro was elected president.

WALLET FOUND St. Joseph, Mo. -- Mike Tietling, an employee of the Quaker Oats Company plant, received his lost wallet from the general foreman of the plant at Shiresmanstown, Pa., a month later. All contents were intact with a note from W.C. Painter.

Harmon Highlights

Ohio State Holds Top College Spot

We've often thought what a fantastic turn of events it would be (and imagine the double-takes) if, after a football Saturday, the top five teams in the country would read: #1, Wake Forest - #2, Brown - #3, The Citadel - #4 Northern Illinois - #5, Baylor. How about that! I don't suppose it'll ever happen as long as the football "foundries" continue to grind out power house teams year after year. However, Demon Deacons, don't give up!

In a revenge match, The Indians should succeed this time... they're favored by fifteen. Sixth-ranked Mississippi meets Alabama, #13, in a Southeast Conference feature, and Auburn, rated eighth, runs into tough Kentucky. The Rebels will nudge the Tide by just 2 points, and Auburn will claw the Wildcats just a bit... 13 points worth.

Three Way Hits Garden City In Big 42-0 Win

The Three Way Eagles logged a big win last Friday night when they blanked out the Garden City team, 42-0. During the first quarter, Allen Joyce ran seven yards and Larry Neutzler added two points to make it 8-0. Garden City fumbled and the Three Way team took advantage to add six more points.

Joyce scored from the five in the second and also ran extra points to make a 22-0 score for the Eagles. Joyce was the big man of the evening, he added another six points from the nine for a 28-0 score.

Johny Ferguson passed to James Farlow who scampered 25 yards into the end zone and then Ferguson came back with another pass to Paul Nino for another score after a 10 yard dash.

In the third, a Ferguson to Partlow pass and 26 yard run helped Johnny Waltrip score to end the scoring at 42-0. A desperate Garden City held the Eagles on the ground in the fourth and the game ended without further scoring.

Stainless Steel School

A new secondary school in All-schwil, Switzerland, has its entire facade, including the window frames, fabricated of nickel stainless steel. This material, which is finding increasing architectural applications, offers resistance to atmospheric corrosion and damage. In addition, it requires little maintenance to retain its good appearance.

LAZBUDDIE SCHOOLS' LONGHORN STAMPEDE

By Mike Casey

The Bovina Mustangs got a taste of Lazbuddie's "Longhorn Power" last Friday night in a football game staged on Lazbuddie's home field. The Mustangs made their way onto the field without a worry and two and a half hours later they made their exit from that same field wondering what went wrong. With last year's 32-2 setback still lingering in the minds of many players, the Horns thoroughly trounced the Mustangs 54-0.

Football Quiz

The most important activity in the lives of many Americans these days—or practically so—is seeing good football games. That being the case, how many readers know the hand signals of football referees? Test yourself by answering the following questions.

A hand behind the back signifies what? What does both hands on head mean? What's the message if hands are held above the head, together?

The answers, dear reader, are: Hand behind the back means an illegal forward pass. Hands on head means ineligible receiver downfield. Hands above head, together, means a safety (two points).

Unofficial signs: Referee with hands and knees on ground: run over by player. Referee flat on back: run over harder. Player on stretcher: really good knocking game. Players fighting: each gallantly insisting other is right. Fan flat on face: long, hard workday before game! Etc.

scoreless battle but in the second stanza Arthur Graves punted to Bovina's Jim Harris. Harris fielded the punt just in front of the goal line and then took a half a step backward and kneeled down into the end zone for what he thought was a touchback but since he caught the ball in front of the goal line and then stepped back into the end zone it automatically became a safety and Lazbuddie had two points as a result of the safety. Bovina was forced to kick off to Lazbuddie. Charles Lee snagged the kick-off and zoomed 42 yards for a touchdown. Mark Barnes ran for the two-point conversion and the scoreboard read 10-0 at the end of the first half.

The third quarter rolled around and Lazbuddie pierced the Mustang defense for six points. This time Arthur Graves ran 6 yards for the TD. Arthur Graves scored again for the Horns only this time from 3 yards out as the third quarter drew to a close.

In the last period of play, Lazbuddie struck hard at the Bovina defense as they rolled up 32 points. Charles Lee scored from 2 yards away and Mark Barnes later crossed over from 1 yard away. Mike Casey added the two-point conversion. Charles Lee galloped 26 yards for the next Lazbuddie touchdown. Mike Casey accounted for another Longhorn tally on a 6 yard run. The Longhorns final touchdown of the night came on a 15 yard jaunt.

Statistic-wise Lazbuddie had 20 first downs as compared to 8 for Bovina. Lazbuddie rang up 389 yards total offense with all of that coming on the ground. Bovina accounted for 32 yards passing and 50 yards on the ground. Mark Barnes rushed for 143 yards and Arthur Graves 128.

Lazbuddie record now reads 3-0. The Horn's second triumph of the season came the week before the Bovina game when the Coyotes of Tatum, N.M. traveled to Lazbuddie and were trounced 64-6. In that game Lazbuddie ran for 281 yards and gained 263 yards in the air. The Coyotes gained 87 yards rushing and 14 yards passing. In the Tatum game Arthur Graves scored 3 times; twice on runs of 8 yards and 4 yards and once on a pass reception from Charles Lee that went for 94 yards. Loy Dale Clark scored twice. Both of his touchdowns came on pass from Charles Lee. One went for 21 yards and another from 24 yards out. Mike Casey accounted for two of the Longhorn touchdowns one came as a result of a 16 yard run. The other came on a 70 yard punt return. Charles Lee was credited for another Lazbuddie touchdown when he snared a 70 yard pass from Ricky Seaton.

The Horn's have an open date this Friday, but October 9 they will play the Texico Wolverines for the 1970 Lazbuddie Homecoming. Game time will be 8:00 p.m.

That bright new face in fifth place, the Colorado Buffaloes, will clip Kansas State by 18 points. The Big Four in the Midwest, other than Ohio State, are Michigan, rated 12th... Notre Dame, #3... Nebraska, ranked ninth... and the Air Force is seventh. Upsets could be in the making for possibly two this week as Nebraska is only seven points tougher than the Gophers of Minnesota, and Michigan is rated 15 points over Texas A & M. Notre Dame will chop up Michigan State by 38 points, and the Air Force should blast Colorado State by about 40 points. In the West, it's still fourth ranked Southern Cal and 10th-ranked Stanford. The Trojans battle Oregon State in league play... they'll win by 17. And Stanford will be the second team in two weeks to battle Purdue

THE FAMILY LAWYER

No Questions Asked

Many a conscientious husband seeks peace of mind by buying life insurance to protect his family in case he dies.

But he may also have a nagging worry: will the insurance company really pay off when the time comes, or will it find some flaw making the policy null and void?

To cut this worry to a minimum, most policies now contain what is known as an "incontestable clause." Under this clause, after a stated period (usually two years), the insurance company can no longer raise technical ob-

A Plugged Nickel?

Although an ordinary "nickel" is worth only five cents, there are five "nickel" coins valued at $50,000 apiece. This came about because five unauthorized Liberty Head "nickels" were minted in 1913, the year the Buffalo design took over. The "nickel" is actually 25 per cent nickel and 75 per cent copper.

jections about the validity of the policy. It must generally pay off "with no questions asked."

Suppose, for example, that a man applying for insurance fails to mention the fact that he has a drinking problem. And suppose, after his death, the insurance company finds out about it. Under the incontestable clause, the company could not raise this point to escape paying the insurance to the widow.

In fact, the incontestable clause applies in most states even if the applicant told a deliberate lie. Take this case:

A man filling out an insurance application was asked if he was in good health. He said he was—even though he knew he had serious heart trouble.

After his death, the insurance company tried to cancel the policy on grounds of fraud. But a court ruled that, despite the fraud, the company would still have to pay off—because more than two years had gone by. As one judge explained:

"Even though dishonest people are given advantages under incontestable clauses, still the sense of security given to the great majority of honest policyholders makes it worth the cost."

But not even an incontestable clause will help if the fraud involves the very existence of the policy. Thus:

A man suffering from tuberculosis managed to get life insurance by sending a healthy friend to take the medical examination for him. After the man died, the insurance company found out about the trick and denied liability.

The widow tried to rely on the incontestable clause, but a court ruled that there had never been an insurance contract in the first place. The court said that on one basic fact, the identity of the insured person, there was never a "meeting of the minds."

New Caledonia in the South Pacific was the largest source of nickel from 1875 to 1905, when Canada took the lead with increasing production from the Sudbury District of Ontario. In 1960, Canada produced 373 million of the slightly more than 600 million pounds consumed in the free world, and in 1969, 447 million pounds of a free world total of 820 million pounds consumption.

 TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, Tex. -- A fight is brewing over the proposed constitutional amendment to set the maximum limits on tax assessments of farm, ranch and timber land.

An amendment (#3) on the November 3 ballot would authorize the Legislature to provide a uniform method of assessment for lands, based on their capability to support livestock raising or farm and forest crop production.

A 15-member special committee headed by State Sen. Wayne Connally of Floresville has completed the last of 11 hearings over the state on this measure. Its tentative report summarizing testimony favoring the amendment will be presented before November 3. Committee's recommendations to the Legislature will be delayed until next year.

"Agriculturists are saying they can no longer operate if taxes continue to increase as they have in recent years," Connally told newsmen. "When land on one side of a barbed wire fence is assessed at $1,000 an acre, and the same land on the other side of the fence is $150 an acre, somebody is going to cry."

An earlier amendment (1966) which had the same general purpose is "unworkable," say proponents of Amendment #3. Present provisions apply only to individual land owners, exclude timberlands and owners who earn less than half their income from their farm property.

Texas State Teachers Association is opposing the new amendment on grounds that it "could virtually destroy the tax base of many school districts" and open the door to favors for other groups.

Connally maintains the proposal would not result in major revenue loss statewide and that the Legislature would have to appropriate supplemental funds to districts suffering income declines.

REFUNDS ORDERED

Texas Insurance Board has directed insurance firms to refund premiums collected from local governments for unnecessary property damage coverage.

Legislature last year made official agencies liable for death or injuries caused by employees in negligent use of vehicles and other motor-driven equipment. Thereafter, they began buying insurance policies to protect them.

Board order referred to statements by Sen. Oscar Mauzy of Dallas that 86 school districts and 16 counties had to pay nearly $60,000 in premiums for property damage insurance they did not need in order to get needed liability policies. Requirement by companies, Board said, is a violation of insurance rating laws. Governmental units must make a specific request for refunds.

CITY SALES TAXES UP

Local option sales taxes in 420 cities brought municipal governments more than $35 million for the second quarter of this year.

That is an increase from $30.9 million the first quarter.

Tax is calculated and refunded to cities by Comptroller Robert S. Calvert on a quarterly basis.

Biggest yield was to Houston, which received $7.2 million for the second quarter. Dallas received $5.6 million, San Antonio $2.2 million, Fort Worth $1.9 million, Austin $1 million, El Paso $1.1 million, Corpus Christi $787,565, Lubbock $663,752, Amarillo $558,284 and Beaumont $555,288.

MEXICANS BUY TEXAS STOCK

Mexico groups have purchased about $112,000 worth of cattle and 1,200 head of sheep and goats from Texas ranchers for developing better breeding stock.

John C. White, Texas Agriculture Commissioner, said two other groups from across the border will soon complete negotiations for buying 480 hogs and 80 Holstein cows, valued at about $70,000. Agriculture Department publishes a state livestock directory in English and Spanish to aid in locating types of stock sought by buyers.

ATTORNEY GENERAL RULES

Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin has held that a profit or non-profit corporation may perform solid waste disposal services --garbage collection--for local governments.

In other recent opinions Martin held that:

*House and Senate may pay the State Building Commission, under contract, for building repair and remodeling services at the state capitol, where a multi-million-dollar project is underway.

*Lee Memorial Hospital in Giddings qualifies for exemption from ad valorem taxes as "purely public charity."

MOPAC KILLS EAGLE

Railroad Commission approved an application of the Missouri Pacific Lines to cancel the Texas Eagle, one of three remaining trans-Texas passenger trains.

Eagle connected Laredo, on the border, with St. Louis -- via San Antonio, Austin, Palestine and Texarkana. Trains were promptly ordered discontinued, although opponents of the cancelled service can appeal to courts. Commission said it had no choice but to allow cut-off of a train found unprofitable. MoPac said it was losing more than $500,000 a year on the service.

National Association of Railroad Passengers charged MoPac deliberately shrank passenger revenue "by neglect and disdain." MoPac operated once-daily trains northbound and southbound.

TEACHERS MAP PROGRAM

Texas State Teachers Association, which won a long-term pay raise from the legislature last year, has a seven-point legislative program for 1971 which will require no major new state spending.

At the same time, teachers are looking over a proposed new code of ethics and standard practices which includes a flat pledge not to engage in strikes or organized work stoppages.

Code will be submitted in a February referendum by the Professional Practices Commission. Commission can make further changes based on the referendum and will adopt a final code on June 1, to be effective September 1.

JUDICIAL REFORM REVIEW SET

Ten major proposals for Texas judicial reform are being reviewed and voted on at a meeting of the State Bar judicial section in Galveston on Thursday and Friday, (Oct. 1-2).

Proposals include statewide court redistricting by the commission, a merit system of selecting appellate judges, non-partisan election of district judges, conferring criminal jurisdiction on courts of civil appeals, free transfer of cases in metropolitan counties from court to court, concurrent jurisdiction for county courts-at-law with district courts where matters in controversy range from $500 to $10,000, giving district courts jurisdiction with county courts in probate cases, concurrent jurisdiction for district courts in property condemnation cases, and expanded writ powers for court of criminal appeals.

TRADE ZONE APPROVED

Gov. Preston Smith endorsed a federally-funded free trade zone application for McAllen. Smith said the project would expand the economy of the area, provide more industry and jobs and improve relations with Mexico.

SHORT SNORTS

Banking Department received application for new Port Neches Mid-County Bank.

Rep. Grant Jones of Abilene heads new Speaker's committee to study insurance company problems. Rep. Jack Ogg of Houston is chairman of a panel studying nursing homes.

Texas' four largest metropolitan statistical areas accounted for 98 per cent of state's growth during the last decade, according to preliminary census data.

Promoters of liquor-by-the-drink amendment are bearing down on campaign theme that over-bar sales don't increase per capita consumption, while opponents argue exactly opposite in a warming battle of the ballots.

Texas Industrial Commission is sponsoring a trade seminar in Mexico City on November 2-10.

Residential building permits dropped 12 per cent in August, but the index of total urban construction rose two per cent.
