Kitty's Korner By Kitty Montgomery

This has been a dead week in Ozona as far as news is concerned, and anything else for that matter. Martha Henderson put it aptly when she was in the office yesterday and glanced out the window during a lull in the conversation to comment "Gee, this sure ain't where the action is."

Along with being slow, it's been hot. Of course we were so well conditioned by the record-breaking June heat wave that any temperature under 100 seems downright cool.

I couldn't decide whether to clean out closets or wash windows on the Fourth of July, so I solved the problem by spending the day reading. I completed two books during the day and consoled myself by thinking of that old saying "Any fool can dust."

A fund for the Bill Kern family has been set up by the Ruth Class and Home-maker Class of the First Baptist Church at the bank.

After extensive medical treatment and tests, the couple's four-year-old daughter died at their home in Breaux Bridge, La. last week. Mrs. Kern recently underwent back surgery and Mr. Kern is a heart patient. He suffered his first heart attack before they moved from Ozona about two years ago.

Members of the two Sunday school classes got together and set up the fund in order to help the Kerns with overwhelming medical expenses. Anyone wishing to contribute may deposit a donation at the bank. The money will be sent directly to the family.

While living in Ozona the Kern family was active in church and civic work.

Enjoyed a brief visit with Dr. Curl earlier this week. He said he had to come up from Kerrville to see his banker and lawyer to try to stay out of jail. Of course, I doubted this very much, but wished him luck anyway.

He had put on a few pounds and looked more rested than usual, other than that he was the same old Dr. Curl. His sense of humor is still intact. He said he was checking on everybody's conduct, but wouldn't ask about mine. He didn't have time to hear my confession, but my day was brightened by his little visit.

We are trying to decide when to take our vacation around here. That's the one time each year that we get two papers out in a week, spend the next week recuperating and call it a vacation. It's really more of an endurance contest than a vacation but we have been managing to do it the past few years. Don't ask me how, I never can remember.

Anyway, I need some ideas on feature stories with pictures that might interest our readers. If you can help me out with some suggestions, I would really appreciate it.

I never had noticed that our statue of Davy Crockett in the park depicted the frontier gentleman with two hands bigger than his face until I heard about the furor when the statue was unveiled some thirty odd years ago. It seems that the town was divided into two factions. Those who disliked it (Continued on Last Page)

Little League All-Stars Prep For Sonora Tilt

Ozona Little League All-Stars have been practicing all week for their clash with Sonora next Tuesday night on Sonora's diamond at 8 o'clock. It has been four years since Ozona topped Sonora in the traditional game to open the All Star season and fans and coaches think the scales are tipped in Ozona's favor this year.

Rex Fenton and Richard Field are coaching the stars this year. After scouting the Sonora stars, Fenton said he felt the Ozona team had the edge on the Sonora nine this year. The Ozona boys worked out on the Sonora field Saturday night and made an excellent showing.

Fenton said he expected to start Pete Martinez or Mike Mosley at the pitching slot, with Hector DeHoyos, Eric Fitzhugh and Ronald Shaw in reserve for the game with the winner of the Big Lake-Midkiff tilt should Ozona win in Sonora Tuesday night. Mosley and Martinez will alternate on first base should the stars advance Tuesday night.

Gregg Thompson will be on second base with Fitzhugh or Romaldo Cervantez, on third. Jimmy Tambunga will play shortstop, Fitzhugh Cervantez, or Hector DeHoyos will see action in left field. Richard Harrison, Jesse Castro and Donald Higginbottom will see action in center field. Ronnie Pearl will play in right field. Gene Castro and Howard Huerreca are working out in the catcher's slot, along with Cervantez, who also pitches.

Fenton said he felt that Ozona had a better all-around team this year than in other years. All Star uniforms were issued to the players at practice Tuesday night.

Backing up the team will be four versatile alternates, Ricky Perry, Henry Fay, Ronald Higginbottom and Rod Allec.

Entry Blanks Now Available For 1969 Junior Rodeo

Entry blanks for the Annual Ozona Junior Rodeo may be obtained at the Chamber of Commerce office or at Watson's Department Store. The annual event, sponsored by the Lions Club, will be held August 8-9. Entry fee is $4 for each event.

Trophies will be given winners in each event and all-around trophies given in each of the three age groups for both boys and girls.

The 2-day affair will get underway with a parade through the downtown and village area on opening day.

Rodeo committee members are Bill Watson, general chairman; Bud Cox, Charlie Boy Davidson, Pancho McMullan, Bob Bailey and L. D. Kirby.

Only One Minor Accident Over Holiday Period

Traffic was heavy but most drivers were observing speed limits and others regulations over the July 4 holiday week-end to make for an almost accident-free period in Crockett county and few arrests by Highway Patrolmen.

The only accident of the week was a truck-trailer mishap 25 miles west of Ozona on U. S. 290. Melvin Glasscock of Sonora, driver of the truck, was uninjured when the vehicle veered off the highway and flattened about 100 yards of right-of-way fence before he could bring it to a halt. A broken fuel line was the only damage. The accident happened about 7:30 p. m. Thursday, July 3.

The balance of the holiday period was a breeze for patrol officers, Highway Patrolman John Harris reported.

"There was lots of traffic but there were few tickets issued for violations," he said.

New Doctor To Start Practice Here Next Week

Don L. Carlisle, M. D., was appointed to the staff of Crockett County Hospital at a called meeting of the board of directors Wednesday. He is expected to arrive here next week and will open a general practice in the offices formerly used by the late Dr. Lloyd Sherrill.

Dr. Carlisle is presently closing his offices in Goliad, where he has practiced medicine the past few years. He was also on the staff and was a surgeon at the hospital there.

A native of Cisco, Dr. Carlisle is a graduate of the University of Texas Medical School at Galveston. He interned at Johns Hopkins and did his residency there in general surgery.

Dr. Carlisle was granted a fellowship in the Department of Plastic Surgery in Galveston and a teaching fellowship in the Department of surgery at Johns Hopkins.

Dr. Carlisle and his family were in Ozona last week when they made their decision to move here.

Holiday Showers Failed To Show; More Hot & Dry

Showers which were predicted for this area over the weekend failed to materialize and Crockett County remains hot and dry.

Clouds drifted over the city during the holiday weekend and lightning was seen to the north Sunday night, but the weak cool front only lowered temperatures a degree or two in the area.

The long range forecast for July is more of the same with precipitation about normal and temperatures above normal.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Applewhite spent the weekend with Mrs. Applewhite's sister, Mrs. Kenneth Corder, and her family in Midland.

4-Year-Old Kathy Lynn Kern Dies

Funeral service for Kathy Lynn Kern, 4, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill R. Kern, were held Saturday morning at 10 o'clock from the First Baptist Church in Breaux Bridge, La. Burial was in Henderson, Texas.

The little girl died Thursday, shortly after noon, at her parents home in Breaux Bridge, from complications following an illness.

She was born in Ozona September 29, 1964. She moved with her family to Breaux Bridge about two years ago.

Survivors include her parents, 2 sisters, Carol Kern and Vickie Kern, both of the home; paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Kern of Henderson, and her maternal grandmother, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Wagstaff of Tyler.

Grave Danger Of Grass Fires Due To Dry Weather

Firemen were called out Wednesday to extinguish a grass fire behind the Delbert Stewart rent houses on Ave. I, which was started by burning trash. Before the fire was extinguished, lawns of two houses were burned.

Fire Chief Jim Marks warned of potential danger all over the county from mature grass. He said the danger from grass fires is much greater this year than last because of more mature grass.

Spring rains at the right time have caused some grasses to seed out this year that have been dormant for years. Chief Marks warns that mature grass that looks green will burn just as fast as dry dead grass.

He urged all ranchers to keep spray and fire fighting equipment handy. Continuing dry weather will increase the danger.

Annual Father-Son Golf Tourney This Weekend At C. C.

Entries are being accepted for the Annual Father-Son Golf Tourney to be held at the Ozona country club this weekend. The point system will be used to determine winners with 18 holes of play both Saturday and Sunday. The field will be limited to the first 72 teams.

The defending champions, John and Duane Childress, will be on hand again this year. The highlight of last year's tourney was a hole-in-one by the younger Childress on Number 3.

Trophies will be presented for the first four places in each flight. Entry fee is $10 for the first son and $5 thereafter. Teams will be flighted in six flights after the qualifying round Saturday.

A free barbecue supper will be held for entrants and club members Saturday night.

OZONAN RECOVERS FROM INJURY IN SAN ANTONIO

Mrs. Walter Kyle is recovering from a broken hip in Hillside Manor, 8302 Gault Lane in San Antonio. She fell and broke the hip about a month ago and is well on the way to recovery. She celebrated her 92nd birthday, June 21, in the hospital there.

Mrs. Kyle is a longtime resident of Ozona, but has lived with her daughter in San Antonio for about two years.

Roy Clepper Fatally Injured In Swimming Accident; Funeral Fri.

Funeral services for Roy Donald Clepper, 43, will be held Friday morning, at 11 o'clock from the First Baptist Church. Burial will be in Colorado City at 4:00 p. m.

Rate Increase On Postal Services Effective July 14

Postmaster Floyd Hokit announced this week that effective July 14, rates will be increased on certain special postal services.

Services affected include domestic registered mail, return receipts on insured, certified and registered mail special delivery fees and C. O. D. mail.

"This change doesn't affect regular first class mail, Hokit said, "only special services are involved."

Country Club Annual Tourney Draws Big Crowd

A large crowd was on hand for the annual club golf tournament held July 4, at the Ozona Country Club. Golf play got underway Friday morning with lady golfers and junior high golfers teeing off at 8 o'clock and festivities ended with a hamburger supper that night.

Golfers were divided into four divisions, ladies, junior high, men and high school. The men and high school golfers got off to a shotgun start shortly after noon. Trophies were presented for the first and second place in each division.

Winning the men's championship flight was Bill Clegg with Duane Childress runner-up. Joe Clayton topped the first flight with Pleas Childress second. Second flight winners were Roy Thompson, first, and Sam Mosley, second. Ray Boyd won the third flight and Bob Bailey came in second.

Two flights of high school golfers were on the course. Jim Montgomery won the championship flight and David Williams was runner-up. First flight winner was Mike Williams and Rick Webster was second. Lesley Russell won the junior high flight with Craig Talliaferro coming in second.

In the ladies division, Pat Barbee won low gross to take the club championship trophy. Winner of the championship flight was Katie Jones followed by Mrs. Barbee. Ella Clegg won the first flight with Darr Thompson second. Second flight winner was Sandra Childress with second place going to Dovie Alford. The ladies were flighted with handicap.

SGT. CARSON RETURNS FROM VIETNAM TOUR

Sgt. William James (Billy) Carson, Jr., returned this week from a year's tour of duty in Vietnam.

He was attached to the Fourth Infantry Division and served in the central highlands with the Ninth Artillery. He expects to be assigned to Fort Hood when his leave expires. His wife, Cathy, the former Cathy Miller, will accompany him.

under the direction of James Funeral Home.

Mr. Clepper was fatally injured during a family outing Saturday afternoon at Camp Allison in Sutton County when he dived or jumped into the Llano river and sustained a broken neck.

He was pulled from the water by a friend and taken by automobile to Kimble Hospital in Junction by Mrs. Clepper. He was in poor condition and unconscious upon arrival. He was transferred by ambulance to Shannon Hospital in San Angelo Sunday morning suffering paralysis from the neck down.

Death came as he was being flown by air ambulance to a Houston hospital Wednesday morning. The plane was about twenty miles out of San Angelo when his condition became critical. The aircraft returned to Mathis Field and Clepper was rushed back to the hospital where he was dead on arrival.

Mr. Clepper was born March 26, 1926, in Pyron, Texas. He was an employee of El Paso Natural Gas Co. He moved here with his family from El Paso five years ago and they lived in a company house in the El Paso camp in the northern part of the county.

Survivors include his wife, Mary Frances; a son, Randal Clepper; three daughters, Linda Kay Clepper, Debra Elaine Clepper and Jackie Lynne Clepper, all of the home; two sisters, Mrs. Kenneth Woodall of Cincinnati, Ohio, and Mrs. Doyle Davis of Temple; three brothers, Elby Glenn Clepper of Kaufman, Charles Ray Clepper of Roscoe, Donnie Clepper of Brownwood, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elby Clepper of Sweetwater.

Make It With Wool Contest Launched July 1

Information will soon be available here for those planning to enter the National Make It Yourself With Wool contest, which opened officially July 1.

Travel, scholarships, bonds and many other exciting prizes await girls 14 through 21 who sew and wish to compete in the 1969-70 contest.

The national fashion sewing contest is sponsored annually by the American Wool Council, a division of the American Sheep Producers Council and the Women's Auxiliary to the National Wool Growers Assn. There will be 40 finalists, two representing each of the 20 American Sheep Producers' 20 councils.

Two trips abroad are the grand prizes awarded top winners. Runners-up receive sewing machines, college scholarship grants, government bonds, luggage, wool fabric, cosmetics and numerous other merchandise awards.

Denver will be the scene of the national finals, which will be held January 22, 1970, in conjunction with the annual convention of the National Wool Growers Association. (Continued on Last Page)

LET'S KEEP OUT OF THIS ONE

Massachusetts Sen. Edward Kennedy is making no effort to hide his ambition of winning the Democratic nomination in 1972. Name an issue; he's ready to comment on it. This is as it should be. But we hope the senator is more consistent in the future than he appears to be at this point in time.

We refer to the hornet's nest he recently stirred up by injecting himself into the internal affairs of Northern Ireland. This seems out of character for the senator in light of his constant harangue against US policy in South Vietnam, a policy that escalated during his late brother's term of office.

Northern Ireland has been the scene of some bloody clashes between religious groups. There has been much bloodshed and tempers are at fever pitch. We don't take to foreign criticism of our internal strife. We are tired of foreign government officials who enjoy examining our imperfections. There are more than enough critics of our frailties right here at home.

By the same token, we sympathize with our friends in other nations who are having internal difficulties and appreciate their right to find their own solutions. The telegram sent by Kennedy to the Ulster (Ireland) Civil Rights Association supporting their cause was not in the best interests of international friendship and showed a curious lack of discretion. We wonder how any US senator can be such an expert on the internal affairs of another nation as to get into the fight in the first place. Surely the job of senator calls for full time study of our own national affairs, with little time for interference in foreign squabbles. We hope that, in the future, Senator Kennedy will use more mature judgment.

Carol Ann Chapman will accept appointments at the Cameo Beauty Salon for Fridays and Saturdays. 17-1tp

Judd Montgomery left Sunday for Camp Musquiz near Alpine, where he will attend a two-weeks session.

SEEDS OF SLUMS

NO TEARS FOR RAY

Raymond Johnson is a 22 year old who proclaims that he is a lieutenant in the Black Panthers. After dressing in the uniform of the lunatic black nationalist group, he stepped from the washroom of a jetliner, strode to the cockpit, and ordered the pilot to detour the flight to Havana. During the extended flight he struck the pilot several times in the head with a loaded .38 revolver, spat out tirades against the passengers in the tiresome cliches that are the forte of the neo-reds, took some $400 from occupants of the plane, and christened the craft "The Republic of New Africa."

Now this happy wanderer is disillusioned with the land of Castro. It lacks something. Ray isn't free to do as he pleases. We wonder if 21 days in a Cuban jail following the skyjacking had anything to do with it? Or maybe the restriction on Afro hair styles? Or being discouraged from talking to black Cubans? Was it the imprisonment of Panther members, the labor camp internments, the bans on party organizing, or being banned from Havana? These are things that are allowed in the capitalistic USA. Could it be that someone misrepresented the world of communism to Ray?

"Cooperation is not out of style. 'Love thy neighbor as thy self' is a virtue of life. 'On my honor, to do my best' is also a part of faith. But as an American, Veteran Negro, when I look at my television in these times of so much strife and see an organization such as the 'Black Panthers,' I am ashamed. May God continue to bless the man with the long white whiskers whom we all call 'Uncle Sam.' May those blessings extend to all Americans.

CLEANING THE NEWSSTANDS

Recent public opinion polls bear out a long-time conviction of ours: The majority of the American adults do not favor newsstands sales of obscene literature.

We recognize the difficulty of defining what is, or is not, obscene. It is true that there are people who would classify certain sections of the Bible as objectionable. A nude painting or statue may be found morally offensive by a particular individual. Recent, Virginia Representative Joel Broyhill strongly criticized the District of Columbia's summer program agency for presenting a performance by African dancers for the District's youth. His protest was leveled at the topless native costumes. Some might forgive this show as an art form. It's a matter of personal opinion.

Many objectionable things exist that may provoke us: movies, books, magazines that depict blatant immorality. But we do not say that these should be outlawed on the basis of personal judgment. If an adult wishes to view such movies or read material of that sort, it is his own affair. Our concern lies with the exposure of these exhibits to young, immature minds.

It is possible that the reason for the opposition of so many people to newsstand display of offensive literature is its easy accessibility to the young. Some of the magazines we have seen don't even have to be opened to be offensive, the cover photos are descriptive enough to convey their message. It is up to magazine distributors, publishers and newsstand operators to police themselves. We wouldn't want to see the government move into the picture. Too often government interference leads to too much control and only makes the situation worse. But if the powers in the industry fail to act, the public may demand legislation and the fault will rest with the industry for its inertia.

DUPLICATE BRIDGE

Duplicate bridge play was cancelled Saturday, due to the holiday weekend. Tuesday night winners were Mrs. Joe Pierce and Mrs. Tom Montgomery, first, and a tie for second place between Mrs. Henry Miller and Mrs. Jack Wilkins and Mrs. Jake Short and Mrs. Robert Cox.

The club will meet Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Civic Center.

Why are the fence posts between Longview & Kilgore painted different colors?

If you don't know the answer, you don't really know East Texas. But let's give you another chance. Try this quiz on for size.

1. Where can you take the shortest passenger railroad trip in the country?
2. How did Noonday get its name?
3. More than half of America's field-grown roses come from one 50-mile area. Where can you see them?

Still puzzled? Then take a "discovery trip" soon. Before you start traveling round the world, find out how many fascinating things there are to see right on your own doorstep. Start by sending for the Texas Forest Trail folder. You'll discover a lot of things about Texas you never knew before. Like the answers to these questions.

TODAY IS THAT DAY!

Today is important to three groups of Individuals:

FIRST GROUP: It is important to you who enjoy the privileges of credit being extended to you. If you pay your bills promptly, — by the tenth — you are in a "select group," and you maintain your place in this group by paying your bills promptly on time.

SECOND GROUP: It is important to the merchants who grant you this credit privilege. They learn on whom they can depend to maintain their standard of good business and friendly relationships. They appreciate the opportunity of being able to choose from this "select group" — the "cream" of the customer crop.

THIRD GROUP: It is important to your local Retail Merchants Association — the Credit Bureau — who is able to keep your credit rating in this "select group" only as you yourself maintain it by payment of all bills promptly. We are sorry when we are forced to drop your name from this group because you have defaulted in your "promise to pay promptly."

Mrs. Samuel Lee Wink
... nee Anna Beth Rutherford

Miss Rutherford & Mr. Wink Wed In Saturday Ceremony At Brady

Miss Anna Beth Rutherford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Rutherford of Ozona, became the bride of Samuel Lee Wink, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Anderson of San Angelo, Saturday, July 5, at 6:30 p. m. in a double ring ceremony at the First Presbyterian Church in Brady. Rev. Robert Gram officiated.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal gown of white chrysaline. The scooped neckline was trimmed with alencon lace appliques re-embroidered with seed pearls. The gown featured full length fitted sleeves tapered to points over the hands and a full shaped skirt of unpressed pleats. The chapel length train was attached at the shoulders and was trimmed with the lace and pearl applique. Her short bouffant veil of bridal illusion was attached with a ring covered in lace and seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of shattered mums and English ivy, centered with a large white orchid on a pearl covered Bible.

Maid of honor was Miss Frances Pietzsch of Roscoe and matron of honor was Mrs. Hardy Sides of San Antonio. Bridesmaids were Kay McWilliams of Brady, Jerrie Wiley of San Angelo, Ruth Reidy of Albuquerque, N. M. and Cindy McShan of Brownwood was junior bridesmaid.

The attendants wore identical gowns of pale green chrysaline, styled in empire with a scooped back and a double neckline ruffle. Matching ruffles highlighted the edges of the skirts.

Mrs. C. B. Rust III of Austin and Miss Vickie Oates of Brady were candlelighters. They wore pale yellow street length versions of the attendants dresses.

Best man was Corby Larence of Albany. Groomsmen and ushers were Rodney Rutherford, brother of the bride, of Ozona, Mac Williams of San Angelo, Wayne Nichols of Albany and Danny Bailey of San Angelo.

Mrs. B. L. Miller was the organist and Pat McShan the soloist.

Members of the house-party were Mrs. Travis Gary, Mrs. Pat McShan, Miss Judy Raach, Mrs. Bill Midkiff, Mrs. Buddy Lovnd, Mrs. Tommy Roper and Miss Beverly Rope.

The couple will be at home in Comanche after a wedding trip to Galveston.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Albany High School and Angelo State University. He will coach and teach in the Comanche school system in the fall.

Mrs. Wink is a graduate of Cisco High School and Angelo State with a degree in elementary education.

Dr. R. F. Curl of Kerrville was an Ozona visitor Tuesday.

Work Progresses On Mitchell Home

Construction began in May on the spacious new home of the Tom Mitchell family located in the new Mitchell - Childress addition an 8-acre tract out of the Cleo Thompson ranch. Location is at the top of the hill where Owens St. ends.

Frank Welch of Midland is the architect of the all-electric, 3,900 square feet of concrete and brick construction. Jack Brewer of Ozona is the contractor. He has set the finish date for December.

The foundation was completed this week with all utility lines and plumbing connections located underground. The story and a half home will feature two bedrooms and two baths on the upper level, above 2 more bedrooms with baths on the lower level. A large family room with fireplace will be a step down from the lower floor level. The kitchen will feature a breakfast room and the dining room will be separate.

A Uvalde decorator has been commissioned by Mrs. Mitchell to decorate and furnish the Spanish contemporary dwelling.

As soon as we met, I knew Rosie was special. She has an air that says she knows who she is and where she is going. I like the way she paints, too—she's quiet and businesslike.

Everything about her appeals to me. She dances like a dream, plays tennis well enough to keep me on my toes and loves painting as I do. She's my kind of girl.

In a world that seems mad, her outlook is refreshing. Maybe it's because her church and her God are important to her! And she isn't afraid to say so.

TIPS
For Gardeners

From
The Ozona Garden Club
By Mrs. Bailey Post

July is one of the best months to gather plant material for future use in dried or permanent arrangements. If you are going on a trip, or from your own garden, be on the lookout for the materials you might require.

Of course, you should stop where the material is plentiful and well off the highway. Be on the alert if your husband is driving, for the place will be miles behind before you can convince him you really saw something worthwhile to stop for. Another way to hunt the treasures of the whole outdoors is to have an invitation to a friend's ranch.

It is important to have a special place to hang materials for drying and later to store where mice cannot get in, if grasses or grain are gathered.

There are several methods to use when drying plants. Upside down drying is the easiest. Gather flowers or spray material at the peak of perfection, tie in small bunches and hang upside down in the attic or a dark closet until dry. Some of the larger blooms, such as roses, peonies, marigolds and zinnias, should be hung separately. A coat hanger and clothes pins are handy for this. Cut material during the hottest part of the day, when it has the lowest moisture content. A drought year is an ideal time to dry material.

Some flowers will hardy change color if gathered in the proper stage of development. Celosia, goldenrod, liatris, bachelor's buttons, thistle, strawflowers and black-eyed susan are most satisfactory. The native Artemesia (dusty miller) dries beautifully for spray material if hung upside down and not too compact, as it will break when separated. Other material will give more lasting pleasure if picked before reaching its prime. When seed pods are gathered they should be from half to three-quarters mature. Pampas grass, thistle, cattails and other material that shatters should be cut when less than half mature. When cut later, dip in a thin solution of shellac to keep from shattering. One part shellac to one part alcohol will hold material not too mature.

Fern and canna leaves dry beautifully in different shapes or flat between newspaper and placed under a rug for several weeks. Change the paper after a few days so the moisture will not cause mold.

Glycerine curing, one part of glycerine and two parts water will give a deep gleaming mahogany hue and remains pliable indefinitely. Use freshly cut stem ends and place in solution before they dry out. Magnolia, cherry laurel, elaeagnus, ligustrum, holly, photinia and nandina are especially beautiful. Stand material upright in a jar of well mixed solution which reaches three to five inches up the stem. For a quicker cure, crush stem ends or split and have the water hot when mixed with glycerine. It will take two or more weeks for most materials. You may have lighter and darker shades or mottled effects of part green and part brown if removed at different stages of curing. Watch the solution, since the mixture should not fall below the crushed portion of the stem until all the glycerine has been taken up. Water may be added if necessary until the oily scum disappears.

For several years I used anti-freeze containing glycerine. It proved to be a very good substitute and was cheaper. Last year I failed to find any. If anyone knows where this product may be purchased, please contact me or other club members.

Sheep And Goat
Raisers Workshop
Meeting Feature

A new idea in producer education will be instigated at the 54th annual meeting of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' in Austin July 14-16. A series of workshops will be held at the Terrace Motor Hotel on Monday, July 14. Topics will be Wool, Mohair, Lamb and Administration. Each session will last approximately 30 minutes, and the groups will rotate until the producers have been through the whole "short course." Project leaders will be R. D. Biglin and Byron Taylor of the American Sheep Producers Council in Denver, Colorado; Worth Durham of Sterling City; G. C. Magruder, Jr. of Mertzon; Joe York, Jr. of Brackettville and Ross McSwain of the Mohair Council in San Angelo. These workshops are a must for all producers of sheep and goats, wool, mohair and lamb.

Of special importance to producers will be a meeting of the Texas Sheep Council Wednesday, July 15. Each year the Texas Sheep Council elects delegates to represent them at the delegate meeting of the American Sheep Producers Council. The delegates from Texas will be elected at the meeting in Austin July 16. Each producer in Texas who receives an incentive check is eligible to vote on these delegates. These delegates are Texas' voice on problems affecting the industry nationwide. All sheep and goat producers in the state are urged to attend this important meeting.

Regular committee meetings will begin Tuesday morning, July 15. Guest speakers for the general session will be Dr. S. J. Kennedy of the U. S. Army Laboratories in Natick, Massachusetts; Congressman O. C. Fisher; Edward Clark, former ambassador to Australia, and James L. Powell, president of the National Wool Growers Association.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Kost spent the Fourth of July weekend in El Paso and New Mexico.

Washington News Letter

Congressman O. C. Fisher

THE 1965 Voter Rights Act under which 7 Southern states were singled out for special treatment, expires in August of 1970. A drive is on to extend the law for 5 additional years. The Administration, in a surprise move, recommended the extension but thought if the law was good for the south it was good for the entire nation, and asked that it be made to apply to all 50 states.

The 1965 Act is often referred to as a "reconstruction" measure because of its contents and its limited application — reminiscent of past Civil War days in the South. It outlaws literacy tests for voting in 7 states, but exempts all others — including 13 states which now provide for literacy tests. In addition, it permits the Attorney General, at his discretion, to send henchmen into any of the 7 states at election time, with authority to push local election judges aside, decide who can and cannot vote, and then count the ballots. But not so with the other 43 states, several of which have been notorious for election scandals in the past.

The right to vote, with reasonable qualifications, should, of course, be protected. But who can say such federal protection should not apply throughout the land if it is to apply at all? Northerners are finding it embarrassing to object to living under the same laws they would apply to others.

THE ARMY is reported to be planning a $677,000 permanent gravesite for the late Senator Robert Kennedy in the Arlington Cemetery, of which the government would pay $257,000 of the cost, the Kennedy family the balance.

While we all share deep regrets over the tragic assassination, it has been the custom throughout our history for surviving families to bear the cost of burials and gravesite projects for deceased Senators. There seems no reason to apply an exception in this instance. It would seem the Kennedy family, upon reflection would prefer not to involve the public in this expenditure.

Sensing The News

By Thurman Sensing

Executive V. P. Southern States Industrial Council
A Progressive Policy Towards Rhodesia

The spirit that animated the American colonists 193 years ago this July Fourth is rare in the contemporary world. The colonists on the Atlantic seaboard, when they decided in 1776 to declare their independence of Great Britain and form a republic, wanted to stand on their own feet. The majority of new nations, formed in the post-World War II years, haven't had this desire. On the contrary, they expected other nations to bear their burdens and provide them with the financial means of development.

The most notable exception to this post-war pattern has been Rhodesia, which on June 20 held a constitutional referendum and voted to become a republic.

Three and a half years ago, the Rhodesians declared their independence of Great Britain. They did not break their ties with the British Crown, however. Because the vast majority of educated Rhodesians are of British origin, and many of their leaders — including Prime Minister Ian Smith — fought bravely for Britain in World War II, they sought to retain ties to the motherland.

Repeatedly, the Rhodesian leadership met with Prime Minister Harold Wilson of Britain and other officials in London, trying to agree on constitutional arrangements satisfactory to both peoples and governments. The Rhodesian good will mattered for nothing, however, inasmuch as the socialist government of Great Britain was bent on appeasing the Afro-Asian extremists in the Commonwealth. These extremists would be satisfied with nothing less than the liquidation of independent Rhodesia. Finally, the Rhodesian lost patience and decided their only alternative was to form a republic.

The British government, in its haste to bring down the Rhodesian government, imposed economic sanctions and enlisted other governments, including the Johnson administration, in resorting to means of injuring Rhodesia's economy.

The Rhodesians, like American colonists after July 4, 1776, refused to bend their necks or abandon their fight for independence.

The Americans of almost two centuries ago found a good friend in France. The Rhodesians, in their struggle for economic survival, learned that several European nations were eager to participate in the country's economic growth. Thus Rhodesia has continued to receive foreign investment and has found markets for its goods. Because of Executive Orders issued by President Johnson, American free enterprise has not been permitted to participate in the economy of one of the few African countries with a stable and substantial economic future.

Ironically, the ban on trade with Rhodesia has caused the U. S. to import chrome ore — one of Rhodesia's resources — from Soviet Russia, a major enemy of freedom. In the eyes of Washington officialdom, it is better to deal with communist Russia than with anti-communist Rhodesia.

Many thoughtful British parliamentarians realize the folly of British policy towards Rhodesia. If the Conservative Party were returned to power tomorrow, sensible diplomatic and trade relations with Rhodesia would be established. But Prime Minister Wilson and the Labor Party are the victims of their socialist dogmas which deem it intolerable for educated men to direct the governmental affairs of an African nation with a large, underdeveloped population.

It is time, however, that the United States government stop catering to the prejudices of the British Labor government. The Rhodesians are no different than the millions of Americans who want law and order in their communities. The Rhodesians, who have built up their country and government and financed it since 1923, cannot accept their land's reversion to savagery.

Since they declared their independence in 1965, the Rhodesians have seen the tragic example of mis-rule in Nigeria and the resulting outbreak of black in the Nigerian-Biafran war. Understandably, they will not accept a form of government that could lead to tribal strife in their own happy land.

The Nixon administration, which is alert to the need for a greater degree of order at home, should be sympathetic to the Rhodesians' wish for progress and stability. For the last decade, U. S. policy toward Africa has involved catering to irresponsible new regimes. It is time that U. S. policy in this area be re-oriented, with special attention to those countries that have the quality leadership to raise the living standards of all the people. President Nixon could open a new era of constructive policy towards Africa by granting diplomatic recognition to Rhodesia and by permitting resumption of normal trade.

Government regulations and heavy tax programs are destined to be a part of the American way of doing business for a long time. For that reason, it is more important today that every business keep accurate records of its operations.

Easy To Keep - Complete Record - In 1 Volume

The ranch business is no exception. With the stiff federal taxes, you will want to take advantage of every saving item in your expense account and at the same time have clear and convincing records available for inspection by tax agents to prove up any item on your income tax return.

Start now to keep a complete record covering all operations in your business with the Stockman's RANCH RECORD BOOK. Your cancelled checks or your present records can be transcribed to this handy record book, together with your income and inventory records and you can have your entire record in a simplified form contained in one volume.

Mrs. Teddy Wayne Cotton
... nee Virginia Ruth Blount

Miss Blount Becomes Bride Of Ted Cotton In Paris Ceremony

Miss Virginia Ruth Blount became the bride of Teddy Wayne Cotton in a double-ring ceremony performed by Rev. Paul Campbell in the DeShong Chapel in Paris, Texas Thursday evening, July 3.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. William Eldon Blount of Odessa and Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Cotton of Paris.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a street length dress of white silk crepe accentuated by long bell sleeves of lace. Appliques of re-embroidered lace, sprinkled with seed pearls highlighted the neckline and sleeves. She wore an elbow length veil of silk illusion caught by a beaded lace tiara. She carried a white Bible topped with a bouquet of white carnations.

Miss Carolyn Jean Blount, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore an empire styled dress of yellow Irish linen, accented at the waist with yellow velvet ribbon. She wore a headdress of yellow ribbon and tiny white daisies and carried a bouquet of daisies.

The bridegroom's father served as his best man. Ushers were Eldon Blount, Jr., brother of the bride, and Jim Johanning, the bridegroom's cousin, of Dallas.

Arrangements of assorted spring flowers and standing candelabras decorated the chapel. Mrs. J. T. Davis was the organist and Miss Dottie Marshall the soloist. Selections included "Because" and "The Twelfth of Never."

A reception followed the wedding in the home of the bridegroom's parents. The table was laid with white net over white taffeta and centered with an arrangement of yellow and white chrysanthums.

After a trip to Hot Springs Ark., the couple will be at home in Paris until fall when they will return to Ozona for the fall school opening. Both are teachers in the Ozona school system.

The bride is a graduate of Odessa High School, Odessa Junior College and Sul Ross State College.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Paris High School, Paris Junior College, and East Texas State University, where he will earn his master's degree this summer.

The bridegroom's parents were hosts to the rehearsal dinner at the Holiday Inn Wednesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Eddy Bower of Dallas spent the holiday weekend here visiting Mrs. Bower's mother, Mrs. Vera Baker.

Carol Ann Chapman will accept appointments at the Cameo Beauty Salon for Fridays and Saturdays. 17-1tp

Kitty's Korner --

(Continued from Page One) and those who adored it. It was first suggested that it was all wrong because he was holding a double-barreled shotgun. However, historians vouched for the fact that it was a double-barreled rifle. So, the size of the hands and race became the main point of dissension. However, Davy has prevailed and not one of the hundreds of tourists who stop to snap a picture has ever noticed the unusual fact, if so it has not been mentioned to my knowledge.
