Kitty's Korner By Kitty Montgomery

Wow, the things people wear on vacation they wouldn't be caught dead in at home. You'll just have to forgive me for making this observation, but when I think, I look out the window and when I look out the window I can't help but notice the tourists, which of course interferes with my thinking. Therefore, I don't get much thinking done, but I've become an authority on tourists.

When I see an enormously fat man with wild print shorts on, I know that he is so far away from home that he is sure there is no danger that anyone he knows will see him. I watch as he goes from the park to his car and I am always 100% right. They are always from out of state, mostly California or New York. I never cease to be surprised at how many fat men have skinny legs. Oh well.

Then there are the women. Most of the ones with nice figures wear slacks. The ones with real skinny legs wear shorts, same as the ones with fat legs.

Curses, foiled again. It was our time to beat the Sonora all-stars. For the first time in four years, the stars were just right for the Ozona team. Can't imagine what happened. It's enough to make one lose faith in astrology.

Earlier in the week, we were asked to find out when and where Ozonans might be able to see Apollo 11. After much research on the subject, and inquiries to everyone who might know, we are still at a loss for an answer. About the only thing we can say is "Go around looking up." I feel sure if anyone sees a fast moving star that will be it.

I am sick and tired of hearing the word "hippy" applied to any boy with hair a little longer than usual. I don't really approve of long hair on boys, but it seems to be the "in thing" now days. Guess I'm just a little old-fashioned, since crew-cuts were the thing in my day. However, I do not judge a boy by the hair on his head and I think it's stupid for anyone else to.

Hippy is a philosophy, a particular system of principles for the conduct of life. To be a hippy you must have no morals, be ready on a moment's notice to protest anything at all, be anti-work, anti-social and anti-everything. You must hate your country, laugh at religion and never go on a trip unless you go by way of speed or LSD, to really be a hippy. The prime requirement is to be completely irresponsible.

I know a lot of boys with long hair and to my knowledge none of them qualify as hippy. However, I know lots of boys past forty with short hair, close shaves and neat attire who meet most of the requirements for a full-fledged hippy.

The moral of this story is "You can't really tell a hippy by his looks." So much for that.

Ozona is getting its share of the record-breaking heat Texas is being cursed with, but none of the rain showers which have fallen in other parts of the state. It's the driest July in many a moon so far.

Tinder Dry Grass Is Fire Threat

Fire Chief Jim Marks issued another warning about grass fires this week after the department spent many hours fire fighting over the past week. He said the entire county is tinder dry and with the abundant cover of grass the possibility of fire becomes more likely each day. A month of dry weather has created the dangerous situation and Marks said every day without rain increases the danger.

Fire Thursday night and again Friday at the Max Schneemann ranch 9 miles southeast of Big Lake in Crockett County burned around 80 acres of grassland. Ozona firemen along with the Big Lake fire department spent three hours fighting the blazing grass Thursday night and thought the fire was out. However, it broke out again Friday in the same location. Officials thought the fire started from a bottle discarded in the pasture to act as a burning glass under the intense sun rays.

Chief Marks urged all land owners to take advantage of the highway department equipment for dragging fire lanes. Ranchers must request the work done through the office of Scottie Houston. (Continued on Last Page)

Lone Accident Of Week Is Minor

Only one automobile accident was reported in the county the past week and it was minor. Patrolman John Harris, DPS, was the investigating officer.

The mishap occurred at Waterworks Drive and Ave D Tuesday morning. Mrs. John Aiguier backed her car out of a private drive and hit the right rear fender of a 1966 GMC pickup traveling down Waterworks Drive and driven by Ezequiel Flores. There were no injuries. Damage to the car was minor and approximately $150 worth of damage was reported on the pickup.

LL All-Stars Bow To Sonora By 2-1 Margin

For the fifth time in as many years the Ozona All-Stars fell to the Sonora nine. Tuesday night at Sonora in a close game. The score was 2-1 in Sonora's favor.

Pete Martinez went all the way on the mound for Ozona. A little nervous in the first inning, he walked one and then allowed a home run to give Sonora their only two scores of the game.

Fine fielding on the part of the Sonora boys and poor hitting by Ozona rendered the Ozona team helpless and they were able to score only one run in the last inning.

Ozona got seven hits, but Richard Harrison was the only player to score for Ozona. Martinez allowed only three hits.

63 Teams Enter Father-Son Golf Tourney Here

Ozona's annual father-son golf tournament was held last weekend at the country club with 63 teams in the running for six flights. Golfers were flighted after a qualifying round Saturday of 18 holes under the point system. A hamburger supper was held Saturday night for the entrants and their families.

Defending champions, John and Duane Childress, repeated their last year's performance and topped the championship flight with 135 points. Second place went to Lawrence and Steve Taylor of San Angelo with 129 points. Aubrey and Dan Edwards copped third place after a play-off with Allie and Jack Lock, both teams with 120 points for the tournament. (Continued on Last Page)

Funeral Tuesday For Tom Nolen, Pioneer Ozonan

Graveside services for Thomas Pinkney Nolen, 89, were held here Tuesday morning at 10:30 in Cedar Hill Cemetery under the direction of Johnson's Funeral Home of San Angelo.

Mr. Nolen died Saturday at 7:45 p. m. in Park Plaza Nursing Home in San Angelo. He had been in failing health the past few weeks.

Mr. Nolen was born January 23, 1880, in Stephens county. He moved to Crockett county with his father and uncle as a boy in the summer of 1891. They settled among the hills of Buckhorn Draw between here and Barnhart. Later they sold the place and bought a ranch from Claude Hudspeth located 10 miles north of Ozona. They also purchased a ranch 12 miles east of town where they lived later.

As a young man, Mr. Nolen was editor of the Ozona Kicker, now The Ozona Stockman. Claude Hudspeth was the publisher and owner and when he sold the paper in 1902, Mr. Nolen went to work in a dry goods store and later was appointed deputy county and district clerk. He was elected to the post in 1906 and served in that capacity until 1926.

He married Miss Ollie Gurley December 5, 1900, in Ozona.

Following his 20 years as county clerk, he started the first abstract company in the county. He became active in the purchase of oil leases in 1927 and moved to San Angelo. He later lived in Midland, but had been a resident of San Angelo since 1957.

He was a 32nd degree Mason and received his 50-year Masonic pin from the Ozona lodge in 1964.

Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Walter Young and Mrs. J. Raymond Jones, both of San Angelo, and a niece, Mrs. Edward G. Ahern of San Angelo; two grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Lower Rates, Higher Values Produce More County, School Taxes

Crockett county property taxpayers will pay 1969 county, school and state taxes at lower tax rates than last year but they'll pay more taxes than last year.

The county Commissioners Court set the 1969 tax rates Monday, lowering the county and school rates a net of 23½ cents on the $100 valuation.

But previous action of the

RC Life Saving Course Offered, Starts Monday

Will Collett, who recently completed his Red Cross Water Safety Instructor course in Ardmore, Okla., will instruct a free Red Cross life saving course here in Ozona. Lessons will be given at North Pool. Registration will be held Monday afternoon at the pool. Marla Barbee will assist.

Junior Life Saving will be taught to youngsters 12-15 years of age and students from the seventh through the tenth grade. Senior Life Saving will be available to those 16 years of age and over or classified as a junior in high school or above.

All those interested in either life saving course are asked to register Monday, July 21, at 1:00 p. m. at the North Pool. Lessons will begin that night at 6:30. There will be no charge for the courses, but students will need to buy the Red Cross Life Saving book which costs 75 cents. There will be two weeks of classes daily Monday through Friday. At the close of the lessons there will be a written test as well as a practical test in the water.

On Monday and Friday lessons will be held from 6:30 until 7:30 and Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights lessons will begin at 6:30 and last until 8:30.

Collett qualified to instruct the Red Cross life saving courses when he successfully completed the Red Cross Water Safety Instructor Course in Ardmore, given by Mid-Western Area Red Cross Staff members.

court, raising the ratio of assessment from 25 to 30 percent of actual value as the basis for the tax levy will mean a higher tax bill for county taxpayers. This action raised the total taxable values from approximately 40½ million dollars last year to an estimated 46 millions this year. On the basis of the increased valuations, the rates could be lowered and still produce more revenue for county and school purposes.

The new rate for county tax will be $1.18½ cents against $1.25 last year. The total school rate was set at $1.45 this year, which includes $1.37 for local maintenance and 8 cents for the building bond sinking fund. Last year's school rate was $1.50 for local maintenance and 12 cents for bond retirement, for a total of $1.62 on the $100 valuation.

The state rate this year will be 42 cents against 47 last year, a cut of 5 cents, bringing the 1969 total county, state and school rate to $3.05½ on the 100 valuation against $3.34 last year.

The $46 million estimate is nothing more than that, but based on information furnished by the county's auditing firm of Pritchard & Abbott, and is thought very near the final value. The final valuation figure will be available sometime in August and the Commissioners Court will have completed its budget by mid-August.

The new tax rates and valuations, based on the $46 million figure, will produce approximately $41,000 more in county revenue over the rate and values of last year. In the case of the schools, the new rate will produce approximately $37,000 more for local maintenance purposes and some $10,000 less for the bond sinking fund. The bond issue, to be retired in 1975, requires less funding each year as more bonds are paid off.

As an example of what the new rate and values will mean to the individual taxpayer, a section of ranch land will carry a tax burden of approximately $5 more a year from $53.44 under the old rate to $58.65 under the 1969 rate.

AN ANGRY PARENT'S REPLY

Mr. George W. Cripps is auditor for the State of Delaware, and more importantly he and Mrs. Cripps are Gold Star parents. Recently the Dover Delaware State News featured an editorial written by Mr. Cripps that was a fine example of the feeling of a parent toward military deserters hiding in foreign countries.

Mr. Cripps' sense of outrage was the result of a letter he received from a band of deserters lodged in Sweden. He quoted the first paragraph of their appeal for help:

"We, the American Desert in Sweden, having been compelled by conscience to forsake temporarily our homeland in protest against the senseless war conducted by our country against a small Asian nation, appeal to you, the American people, to take action to force our government to cease and desist in the bloody war in Vietnam and aggression against the Vietnamese people."

Here is an excerpt from Mr. Cripps' answer to the deserters: "The lip service given to those who seek the destruction of our way of life has gone far enough. The responsibility of riding ourselves of the leeches who reap the rewards of a free society but who think the responsibilities of preserving the system they feed upon is self-evident.

"The liberty and freedom offered by our United States does not guarantee individual freedom without sacrifice — nor does it guarantee that liberty will sustain itself without the participation of its people.

"In this context, and for these reasons, I ask the General Assembly to rise to the challenge and strike a blow for patriotism; pass a resolution denying residency and/or the use of any State facilities, in any manner, to the deserters who have forsaken their country."

Our sympathy is completely with Mr. Cripps, but there is one big problem: how to get the idea past the bleeding hearts? Imagine how quickly they'll jump to the defense of these "poor mixed-up youths who are only doing what they believe is right?" Our reply to such outbursts would be that Mr. Cripp's proposal denies the deserters nothing that they did not willingly surrender themselves.

Washington News Letter

Congressman O. C. Fisher

Inflation, the nation's number one domestic problem, received more attention last week when a House Senate roll-back in total spending during the current fiscal year was voted. This was preceded in the House a few days earlier by approval of extension of the present 10% surtax for the rest of this year, with the rate to drop to 5% on January 1, and end next July 1. This is another of the Administration's inflation-control measures.

For whatever purpose it is used, government spending seems to be the primary cause of inflation. If trimming plans are realized it is anticipated the budget will be balanced this fiscal year, with perhaps a $5-billion surplus.

Inflation is recognized as the cruelest tax of all. Certainly whatever steps and sacrifices that will help arrest the pressures should be undertaken. Unless abated, experts believe inflation will inevitably bring on a recession, which would probably be quite disastrous.

Adding to the inflationary pressures is the fact that wages are moving upward faster than the production rate. The wage earner wants more to off-set increased cost of living — and so a spiral develops.

Another and unnoticed contributor to inflation is the rapid increase in crime and lawlessness. Many businesses which were burned out in big fires during the riots have indicated little desire to rebuild. Others about to expand, and increase production, are reported to have changed or reduced these plans because of fear of riots and other criminal activities. Many of them choose to put their money out on interest instead.

The Nixon Administration has given control of inflation top domestic priority. To win this battle all weapons available to reduce the pressures must be employed.

Two Ozona 4-H Members Attend District Council

Two Crockett County 4-H Club members, Cyndie Whitehead and Alton Everett, will represent the county as delegates to the District-6 4-H Council meeting near Alpine next week. The district council meeting will be held at Camp Musquiz on Monday and Tuesday, July 21 and 22.

Purpose of the meeting is to give leadership training to 4-H members through workshops held each day. Also on the daily schedule will be flag raising ceremonials, planned recreation to include games and folk dances, swimming and election of district officers on the final day. Theme of the two-day meeting is "Don't Just Stand There, Do Something!"

Mrs. Ruben Whitehead, 4-H adult leader, will accompany the two 4-H members to the meeting.

Face Fly Poses Threat To West Texas Cattlemen

A new fly, the face fly, may be a menace to cattle herds in the Trans-Pecos area of Texas in the near future.

That word comes from Charles Neeb, area entomologist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. According to Neeb, the new pest has been found in Mississippi and several other southeastern states and most recently in Oklahoma.

"The face fly possibly could be making its appearance in Texas shortly," says the entomologist, "and cattlemen need to be on the lookout for it. The pest is a bit larger and darker than the housefly and 'hangs out' around the eyes and on the muzzle of the animal."

Face flies irritate cattle around the eyes when they feed and cause excessive eye secretions. They have sponging mouthparts so they do not bite the animal. Heavy fly numbers will cause cattle to stop feeding and bunch up in the pasture with their heads together.

The flies may reduce milk production as well as weight gains and may spread pink eye. They may be found on both beef and dairy animals as well as on hogs and horses. The pests complete their life cycle in 8 to 12 days.

"There is no satisfactory control of face flies at present," adds Neeb. "However, reports show that dust bags and back rubbers have reduced fly populations in some instances. For beef cattle, the materials that can be applied in this manner include Ciordrin, Methoxychlor, coumaphos (Coral) or malathion dust."

The entomologist cautions cattlemen to inspect their herds regularly and to take particular notice of any flies on the faces of animals. These may be face flies and should be reported to the local county Extension office.

Substantial slashes have finally been made in the U.S. foreign give-away programs. Obviously, after throwing away over 150 billions of dollars on these half baked schemes, it would have been better if Congress had completely knocked out every cent, but comfort can be taken that a substantial start has been made.

Congressman H. R. Gross of Iowa, however, seems concerned that word may get around to the State Department that there are some nations that have not received one cent of these gifts, and may want to give them some immediately so that a charge of discrimination cannot be leveled.

The Congressman says there are currently in existence 134 independent nations and that he has finally discovered the number of nations to which foreign aid has not been given.

He lists the following: Andorra, Barbados, Bhutan, Bulgaria, Lichtenstein, Maldive Island, Mauritius, Monaco, Muscat, Oman, Nauru, Romania, San Marino, Southern Yemen, Switzerland and Vatican City.

He further comments that the reason these nations have not been given aid is that they are not members of the National Federation of Independent Business.

ridden on the gravy train is hard to fathom. He feels that perhaps they did not ask to be included, or perhaps the give-away artists in the State Department have been so busy handing out money to the rest of the world that they have not discovered their oversight.

But he cautions, "In any event let us keep this list a close secret lest the State Department spendthrifts learn of these new opportunities for spewing away the wealth of this nation."

Congressman Richard Roubush of Indiana is another legislator who apparently believes that Federal spending could be cut with a little effort.

He comments that late in the summer, despite inflation, a $25 billion deficit, and other sad factors, the administration approved $49,000 to study African pre-history in the Upper Benue Basin, $20,600 to study analysis of date on change in Rwanda society, and $27,400 to study southern Phillipin archeology. Obviously, the people's tax money is spent wisely, as everybody, but just everybody, is intensely interested in Rwanda society. On second thought, where is Rwanda, anyway?

Recipe of the Week From Kitty's Kitchen

Basic Ice Cream

6 eggs; 3 cups milk; 1 1/2 cups sugar; 1 tea. salt; 2 tbs. vanilla; 6 cups cream

Beat eggs until light and fluffy with electric mixer, add sugar and salt and beat well again. Add other ingredients and mix well. Pour into one gallon freezer and add milk to three inches below the top of the can. Ice cream will expand while freezing and will be fluffier

if the can is not too full. Strawberry or Peach Ice Cream

Follow instructions above, adding 2 cups crushed sweetened strawberries or peaches before pouring into freezer can.

Chocolate Ice Cream

Melt 2 squares chocolate with a little milk. Let cool and pour into ice cream freezer.

Banana Nut Ice Cream

Follow basic recipe. Add 2 cups mashed banana and a cup of grapenuts to mixture before pouring into freezer. Hot weather is a great time for making home made ice cream and the above basic recipe is the best I have ever used.

HIGHLIGHTS AND SIDELIGHTS

From Your State Capital

Austin, Texas — Stiff resistance is forming to a proposed 11.4 per cent average private auto insurance rate hike.

Gov. Preston Smith promised a "full scale" investigation of soaring rates after State Insurance Board rate experts recommended the new increase.

Smith said the proposal "borders on catastrophe" and the car insurance situation "has become intolerable for many of our citizens." Governor announced an early meeting with insurance company executives and he is considering appointment of a select panel of citizens outside the industry to make a thorough study and recommendations.

Board rate - authorities blamed the increase on the number and cost of auto accidents. Labor cost for repairs, in particular, was emphasized.

TREASURE Hunt Causes Ruckus — A story which began in 1553 still is one of the state's headline items.

Lawsuits, sharp exchanges between state officials and threatened impeachment proceedings raged over what should be done with the treasure recovered from a Spanish galleon which sank in a storm off Padre Island more than 400 years ago.

Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler incurred the ire of a legislative committee earlier when he declined to cooperate with members probing his agreement with the Gary, Ind., firm of Platoro, Inc.

TIPS
For Gardeners

From
The Ozona Garden Club
By Mrs. Bailey Post

Growing herbs has been one of the most rewarding of gardening for me. All plants that are not evergreen are classed as herbs, but are generally known as plants valuable for their oils, which are used for cooking, fragrance, medicine, dyes and other purposes.

In the garden their foliage is as attractive as their bloom and in the kitchen they are as aromatics and beautiful as they are edible.

Should you plan to have a small formal space for herbs, plant annuals and perennials separately. By doing this, the perennials need not be disturbed each spring when preparing the annual bed for planting seed.

Herbs fit into most any garden landscape and are used in most every stage of growth from seed to harvest. My special interest has been in the culinary herbs for both foods and seed pods to dry for arrangements. I plant them in among other flower beds usually, or for border plants.

A few herbs grown in your own backyard will amply supply your family and give spice to your meals. To grow them, very little extra work is required. They grow in poor or medium rich soil and need to be well drained and in partial shade for the herbs used for the leaves.

Herb leaves may be used green during the summer or dried for winter. Pick the leaves and tender tips as they are starting to bloom, dry them quickly in the shade. When quite dry, rub them into fine particles and store in jars with tight lids and label.

Seeds should be harvested when ripe and stored in jars. You may want to hang bunches of herbs in your kitchen for the fragrance. These seasonings give a lift to the most unglamorous stews, soups or salads.

Many of the annuals reseed each year and the perennials may be grown from cuttings, roots or bought from herb nurseries.

Herbs I have grown successfully

Annuals or semi-perennials:

Anise, grows tall for a background plant and bears a most attractive seed pod in a pleasing star shape, tastes like licorice. The seed is used in breads, cookies, candy, pancakes and cakes.

Dill germinates quickly, reseeds and is easy to grow. It has beautiful seed pods. Use leaves in tossed salads and seeds in pickles.

Basil is very fragrant and germinates easily. May be used as small border shrubs when leaves are pinched back. There are five varieties and all are used in cooking, salads, eggs and tomatoe dishes and cottage cheese. Makes a beautiful plant.

Borage self-sows freely and is good for the top of rock gardens. Leaves are used for iced drinks, salads and pickles.

Savory germinates easily and is used in seasoning meat, sausage, eggs, green beans and peas. You use the leaf and flower in salads and seeds in mustard pickles.

Peppers are very colorful in the fall and may be used fresh or dried.

Perennials:
Lavender is a very fragrant border plant. The small purple flowers are used in sachets.

Majoram is sweet and very fragrant. It is decorative for gardens and may be used as a garnish, in salads etc.

Mint in all varieties is fragrant and widely used for tea, jelly and sauces.

Sage is a good border plant with purple flowers. Dry leaves and store. May be used in poultry dressing and sausage, but use less than you would use if purchased in a store.

Tarragon is grown for the leaves and likes partial shade. It is used in vinegar, over chops and steaks and in salad and sauces.

Thyme is fragrant and good for rock garden planting. It is used in tossed salads, cooked with vegetables and in vinegar, sauces and egg dishes.

Rosemary, both the upright and the dwarf, has a pungent pleasant odor and taste. It is used in iced drinks, chopped in biscuits, over lamb and beef roasts, also over fried potatoes. Let a sprig stay in chicken salad for an hour or so for flavor. Add a few leaves to Italian spaghetti.

Scented geraniums need to be taken indoors for winter. Use leaves for sachets, cakes, jellies and perfume.

Allium family (onion)
Garlic has many uses for cooking and the dried seed pods are often used in dried arrangements.

Chives with lavender blooms make a good border plant and are used for flavor in a variety of foods.

Leeks need more moisture and richer soil to do well. Use as onion and for the attractive seed heads. Shallots, milder and smaller than onions, may be used to form clusters in dried arrangements.

Three Onions produce a cluster of little bulbs or sets on top of a seed stalk instead of a flower cluster. A perennial that may last for 15 or more years, they grow in graceful curves and are used extensively by flower arrangers. Those I have were given to me by Mrs. Will Baggett. The Baggett family brought them from Mississippi when they moved to Texas.

Biennials:
Alliums, the hybridized

variety, produce spectacular large seed heads.

Fennel has a bright green feathery foliage not unlike dill, it is used for garnish in salads, sauces and cakes.

Parsley germinates slowly and must be kept moist. It is used for garnish, in salads, sauces and for flavor over buttered potatoes.

Chain Reaction

With great ceremony, the boy gave the lead domino a gentle poke. A rapid series of sharp clicks proceeded down the line, paused briefly at a gap too large, then continued onward. Then, abruptly, everything was still.

He was tickled speechless. He clapped his pudgy hands together and gave me a big, proud smile.

Giving our faith to God is like pushing over that first domino. It starts a chain reaction—one that results in a richer life, greater happiness and a deeper confidence in ourselves and in the future.

Why not come to church this Sunday?

Let God start a chain reaction in your life.

DUMP GROUND SOUTH OF OZONA ABANDONED

The sanitary fill dump ground, opened on land just south of the city acquired by the county a few years ago, has been abandoned as a dump ground and the old dump ground east of Ozona again in use to receive all refuse.

Considerable improvements have been made recently at the disposal area east of town by county crews. Fences have been repaired, fire lanes built and the dump area generally cleaned and shaped up for use.

CARD OF THANKS

I want to express my sincere gratitude to the people of Ozona, and particularly members of the Ozona Volunteer Fire Department, for their help in putting out the grass fires at my ranch last week. They made two trips and did a fine job of controlling a potentially disastrous fire.

Fisher Receives Earwood Memorial Award From TS&G

Congressman O. C. Fisher, 21st district of Texas, received the Fred Earwood Memorial Award at the 54th annual convention of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Association during their annual membership banquet Tuesday night at the Terrace Motor Hotel in Austin.

This first presentation of the special award to memorialize the late Fred Earwood of Sonora was given for Fisher's dedication and efforts in behalf of the sheep and goat industry.

Congressman Fisher was born on a ranch in Kinble County and still maintains a ranch there. He was elected to Congress in 1942 and is now serving his 14th consecutive term.

The Fred Earwood Memorial Award, established early this year, is to be presented annually to an outstanding ranchman or to recognize some deserving person for service to the sheep and goat industry. It is the first such special memorial fund established by the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association.

Fred T. Earwood was born in Kinble County and ranched in that county and the adjoining counties of Edwards and Sutton during his lifetime. He died in November 1968. A leader in the sheep and goat industry from Texas to international levels Earwood spent his entire lifetime working toward improved wool and mohair, improved breeding practices, greater market demand, soil and range conservation, producer graded products, wider youth education and participation and public education on the livestock industry. He was president of the Sonora Wool and Mohair Company at the time of his death.

Also visiting the Harrells here this week are Dr. David Seymour, who is director of the Baptist Mid-Mission Medical Center at Koumra, Chad, Mrs. Seymour and their three sons, John, Mark and Bruce. Dr. Seymour was the obstetrician who delivered little Miss Elizabeth Harrell in the African medical center last January.

Dr. Seymour is on a year's leave of absence from his missionary duties in Africa and he and his family are enjoying a vacation tour before reporting to headquarters in Binghampton, N. Y.

Mrs. Roy Harrell, Jr., whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Purcell, live in El Paso, will visit here until August 4 and then go to El Paso for a visit with her parents. Her husband remained in Africa on duty.

'That Sutton Kid' And His Battle To Measure up Among Baylor Bear Bigs Is Told In Magazine Article

Gary Sutton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Sutton and Ozona's contribution to college football this year, received an impressive write-up in the 1969 Texas Football magazine. Gary will be a sophomore at Baylor this fall.

All - State in track and football in Ozona High School, Gary made all-Southwest Conference on the Baylor freshman football team in spite of the fact that they never won a game.

The article begins by describing wrestling matches between Sutton and Walter Groth (6-6, 240 and starting left tackle for the Bears) Sutton, still a freshman, became Goth's most - frequent challenger in the title match each day. The article goes on:

"Sutton, just 6-1 and 215 would rank somewhere around the middle of a Baylor graph on physical dimensions, and he was a raw neophyte as far as wrestling technique. 'What I knew about wrestling,' he said, 'could be put in a short paragraph: keep out of the other man's way.' His success — one draw, two decisions over Groth — he explains just as tersely. 'Fear,' he says, 'you're out there on the mat with somebody 6-6 and 240 and you're scared. First time I saw Gator (Groth) I thought he was the biggest, ugliest guy I'd ever seen, and he's ungodly strong. It had to be fear, and I wanted so badly to prove myself.'"

Describing the sibling rivalries in the Sutton family, the article tells about the difficulties Gary had measuring up to his two older brothers from junior high on through high school. One brother, Bobby, was a high school All-America in football and the eldest brother, Roy Glenn, also made all-state in high school football. He set about to prove himself and did.

According to the article, "He accepted the sternest challenge he could find. 'See, Bobby came to Baylor and never played. He was behind Ronnie Bull and Ronnie Goodwin. People told me if I came to Baylor I'd never play — after Bobby there aren't many Baylor fans in Ozona — so I decided to sign with Baylor and show them I could play.'"

"This he is doing. Says defensive line coach Bill Hicks: 'He's stronger than any kid I have. Gary has a lot of potential. He just hasn't been under fire yet, but he has good speed, he's very aggressive and intent. All he needs is experience.'"

Sophomore Sutton is playing behind Tommy Reaux, 6-1, 220, senior from Houston, at right tackle on defense. Chances are he will see action at that spot this fall and will have a firm hold on the position by next year.
