PANT SUITS OKAYED Contracts Approved By School Board

Considering re-employment of administrators, principals, music, speech and special services teachers in the Muleshoe Independent School System was a major item on the agenda at the February meeting Monday night.

Also, Tom Hinks, director of special programs; Elizabeth Watson, curriculum director; Ben Gramling, counselor and Elizabeth Wilson, counselor.

Also, Neal B. Dhillman, superintendent of schools.

The entire coaching staff of the Muleshoe School System was rehired. They are Fred Hedgecock, athletic director; Raymond Schroeder, James Morgan; Curtis Diddyway, Charles Stout; Sam Payton; Ronnie Clifton; Mike Pollard and Sharyn Wiltner.

He said she had not come to work since February 5. Her contract was terminated by the board who then approved Karen St. Clair as an aide to replace her.

After adopting a code of dress policy for teachers, the board approved a trial period for female teachers to wear pantsuits for the duration of the year.

According to the policy as adopted: Woman teachers may wear matching slacks suits with a tunic length jacket or vest, with blouse, below hips; and professional example and discretion, along with personal taste, should be considered by all professional personnel.

Not approved for wear by the teachers were slacks with a sweater; slacks with a jersey knit blouse; western type slacks or western blouse and levi type slacks.

A lengthy discussion was held on the upcoming Houston Fat Stock Show. Because of the large number of local youngsters who will attend the show, guidelines and disciplinary measures were discussed, as well as transportation facilities and responsibilities, both of the school

Recently, within the last two weeks, we have been contacted to advise two larger towns. One town was highly complimentary of the Muleshoe Area United Fund, stating that it was the most successful of any in our area. The Executive Committee of the United Fund was called and the out-of-town guests were pleased with the information they received.

Another area town inquired about our ladies division of the Chamber of Commerce. We were, of course, happy to supply them with the desired information.

We are still receiving inquiries and congratulations on our Postmark from different parts of the U. S., as well as from a couple of foreign countries.

Muleshoe is already known as a town "on the ball", but this is only the beginning--there are better things yet to come!

Lazbuddie News

Mrs. Richard Engeling

At the Sixteenth annual Earth Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture Banquet held Friday night in the Springlake-Earth School Cafeteria, Dud Winders received the outstanding Farmer of Lazbuddie Area Award. A capacity crowd saw Fred Wilbanks make the presentation of a nice plaque to a deserving Dud, who, besides his varied farming interests, has time for church, school and community responsibilities. Our congratulations to Dud and wife, Evelyn, and three sons, Mike, Kent and Kerry. Others in attendance at the banquet from here were Mr. and Mrs. Demp Foster, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wilbanks, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Smith, who was last year's recipient of the same award.

Rev. and Mrs. Roy Havens, former pastor of the United Methodist Church, now of Turkey, were recent visitors in several friends homes in the area. That was a good picture of Rev. Havens on the front page of last week's issue of The Texas Methodist. He had that usual broad grin on his face and maybe it was a little wider than usual since the camera caught him with a nice big plate of food.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Engelking returned last week from a three weeks stay at Lake Falcon. The fishing was fair as was that nice 90 degree warm weather. They enjoyed visiting with former residents, the George Haskins, now of Leveland.

Our sympathy is extended to Mrs. Ted Treider in the loss of her mother, Mrs. Lulu Altum of Abilene. Those from here attending the services, Sunday, were John and Louise Agee, J. T. and Mary Ann Mayfield, Wesley and Lucille Barnes, Wayne and Nealy Moore, Gene and Betty Smith, Max and Shirley Steinbock and Scotty and Sue Windham.

Rev. Dale Cain, local Baptist pastor entered High Plains Baptist Hospital, Amarillo, on Monday and underwent surgery Tuesday morning.

Alfred Scott is a heart patient in Clovis Memorial Hospital after suffering a coronary, Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Demp Foster and Mark were visitors in his brother's home, the W. R. (Tom) Fosters, of Fort Worth, last weekend.

Dr. and Mrs. Jerry Gleason and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Engelking attended the Tech-TCU basketball game in Lubbock's Coliseum Saturday night.

Our basketball boys were defeated by a sharp-shootin' Anton team in a district play-off Friday night in Olton. Senior boys who played their last game for Lazbuddie High were, Mike Casey, Johnny Jones, Charlie Lee, Scott Brown and George Wilson.

South Plains Association of Governments, Lubbock, was funded $17,745 for additional funding to establish specialized short courses and provide the region with a full-time training assistant. In-kind match of $26,000 is the officers' salaries who are attending these classes.

Co-op Held Telephone Meeting

Representatives of the Five Area Telephone were among 1,500 delegates attending the 17th Annual Meeting of the National Telephone Cooperative Association in Houston recently.

Attending from the Five Area Telephone Co-op were J. W. Coppedge, manager; and Joe Sinnacher, D. T. Tucker, Willard Henry and Bill Boyles, members of the Board of Directors.

Top speakers included U.S. Senator Earnest F. Hollings (D-SC) Rep. Mark Andrews (R-ND) and the Honorable David A. Hamil, administrator, Rural Electrification Administration.

Coppedge said NTCA represents the nation's cooperative and small independent rural telephone companies. These systems, said Coppedge, serve nearly 600,000 subscribers in 32 states and most are borrowers from the Rural Electrification Administration.

Theme of the meeting was "EXPLO-71" and the program concentrated on four areas of exploding challenge to the rural telephone industry; obtaining adequate capital financing, updating with technology, facing competition and meeting subscriber growth.

Highlights of the meeting, which took place during the Apollo 14 moon shot, included a tour of the Manned Space Center in Houston.

Congressman Andrews gave the meeting's keynote address. He is a member of the House Appropriations subcommittee which considers REA funding. Senator Hollings spoke on rural area problems and improving the quality of life in rural America.

Rea Administrator Hamil gave a report of REA's activities during 1970 and discussed how REA is planning to meet the capital needs of rural telephone companies in future years.

NTCA delegates also heard a report from Association President Eldon M. Snowden of Colchester, Ill.

at a house in northwest Muleshoe.

The dispatcher told Texas Highway Patrolmen Joe Young and Gene Sisemore, who were in their office at the law center. They went immediately to the house where they found the body of Williams. Officer Williams reached the house immediately behind the highway patrolmen.

The highway patrolmen said they found Williams' body in a crouched position just behind the front door of the home. When they stretched him out on the floor to check him, he apparently was not breathing.

Sheriff Dee Clements and Justice of the Peace Morris Nowlin, who had been called as soon as the report of a shooting was confirmed, went to the house where Nowlin officially pronounced Williams dead and the sheriff began his preliminary investigation.

A number of persons who had gathered in the home and in the front yard were questioned by Sheriff Clements.

Following preliminary investigation at the home by Sheriff Clements, Williams' body was removed to Singleton-Elis Funeral Home.

Confiscated on the premises were a .16 gauge and a .40 gauge shotgun and a .22 nine-shot revolver.

The persons interviewed reported an altercation between the deceased and the mother of the youth earlier in the evening. They said that some 10-15 minutes before the fatal shooting occurred, someone had fired a shotgun in the back window of the cafe where the initial disturbance had been reported to Officer Williams.

It was also reported that at the time Williams was shot, the mother of the youth was at the cafe.

When Sheriff Clements left the house where the shooting occurred, he took with him the 17 year old high school freshman, who reportedly gave a statement to Sheriff Clements at the Bailey County Law En-system and the youths who will attend the show.

A meeting will be conducted to explain the guidelines when they are completed.

Also discussed during the evening were the current financial report; the lunchroom and the new, freer policy as required by federal regulations; tax collections; the athletic department receipts; current legislation affecting schools; the upcoming hospital district election for board members; school enrollment; teacher retirement policy; library book distribution figures; the textbook survey committee; and the school calendar for the 1971-72 school year.

Another item of general interest discussed during the more than five hour meeting was the possibility of changing Mary DeShazo Elementary into a school for first, second and kindergarten. A special education class would be included in each of the two schools.

Transportation was expected to be the main problem in the changeover, if and when it is approved, according to Superintendent Dillman. A number of students would have to be bused to each school.

Furniture, textbooks and library books would have to be exchanged in order to complete the switch in the schools.

The superintendent said that if the changeover took place, the school can eliminate three teachers.

was a general, statesman and president.

An avid agriculturist, he exchanged letters with agricultural experimenters at home and abroad. Washington imported plants, shrubs and trees from all over the world. His Mount Vernon showplace home has 57 trees which were set out by him during his lifetime.

He was known as a farmer, trader and land investor. A tireless businessman and accountant, Washington wrote some 18,000 letters during the time when all letters were written by hand.

History has recorded his feats as a statesman and he remains a legend today.

After leaving school at the age of 13, George Washington educated himself, and spent the rest of his life in practicing living. He spent much time in reading, learning and cultivating new ideas.

Each year, the Muleshoe area commemorates this statesman,

Congressman Would Revise Anti-Trust Law

Congressman Robert Price (R-Tex) has introduced legislation creating a National Commission on the Revision of Federal Antitrust Laws.

Price declared, "In the more than 75 years since the passage of the Sherman Antitrust Act the commercial system of this nation has undergone great changes. New forms of business activities require new regulatory laws. Not only must the public be protected against the greed of unscrupulous businessmen, honest businessmen need a clear legal framework within which to engage in trade and commerce."

According to Price's proposal, the Antitrust Commission would be composed of 24 individuals, 12 from public life and 12 from the private sector. The President, the President of the Senate, and the Speaker of the House of Representatives each would select eight members, four from public and four from private life, with the proviso that not more than half of the members so chosen could belong to either of the two major political parties.

The Commission would be charged with conducting a comprehensive investigation and review of federal antitrust laws as they affect foreign and domestic commerce. Not later than one year after its first meeting, it would be required to submit a final report of its findings and recommendations to the President and the Congress.

The Texas legislator urged his colleagues not to wait until the Commission's impaneling before beginning to examine federal antitrust laws. He said Congress has the responsibility to modernize these outdated statutes. He also made known his plans to pursue remedial antitrust legislation and invited comments and recommendations from business leaders, private citizens, and Congressional colleagues.

Price noted in the absence of Congressional action, bureaucrats such as the head of the Justice Department's Antitrust Division have launched a series of ill-fated law suits against various corporate giants. Recently, a federal judge in Connecticut ruled against the Government in an antitrust case it had filed against ITT, because Justice Department lawyers failed to prove charges that a proposed ITT merger could have the effect of substantially lessening competition.

The Republican lawmaker also observed crusader Ralph Nader attempts to pillory big business by calling numerous press conferences and issuing charges and condemnations against corporate activities. Price said Nader's activities, "sometimes appear to serve the interests of publicity more than the interests of truth."

Price declared, "I for one do not think large corporations should be hoisted on the petard of political evangelicism. Neither should they be crucified for the sake of some theology of Consumerism."

He said, "The interests of the American people and the interests of the free enterprise system would be better served by a comprehensive modernization of federal antitrust laws than by the attacks of zealous bureaucrats and private citizens."

Haire Named Betty Crocker Homemaker Of Tomorrow

Miss Barbara G. Haire has been named 1971 Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow for Muleshoe High School. She was chosen on the basis of her score in a Dec. 1 written knowledge and attitude examination for which 650,000 senior girls throughout the country were enrolled. From General Mills, sponsor of the annual education program, she will receive a specially designed award. Additionally, her selection makes her eligible for state and national honors, including one of 102 college scholarships totaling $110,000.

The 1971 Betty Crocker All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow -- the national winner -- will be awarded a $5,000 educational grant. She will be selected this spring from 51 senior girls representing each state and the District of Columbia during an expense-paid educational tour by these State Homemakers of Tomorrow -- each accompanied by a school adviser -- of Washington, D.C., and Colonial Williamsburg, Va. Second-, third- and fourth-place winners nationally will receive $4,000, $3,000 and $2,000 scholarships. The other state winners will be awarded $1,500 grants.

State judging centers on the performance of school winners in the Dec. 1 test, with personal observation and interviews during the tour added factors in national selections. In addition to the awards for school, state and national Homemakers of Tomorrow, second-ranking girls in each state receive $500 scholarships, and schools of State Homemakers of Tomorrow are awarded complete sets of Encyclopaedia Britannica, Inc.

All judging and selection of winners is done by Science Research Associates, Chicago, which also constructed and grades the written examination.

The only national scholarship program exclusively for high school senior girls, the Betty Crocker Search for the American Homemaker of Tomorrow was instituted by General Mills in the 1954-55 school year to emphasize the importance of homemaking as a career. Since its inception, almost seven and three-quarters million girls have been enrolled, and with this year's grants, scholarship awards will total in excess of $1 3/4 million.

BOOKS for CHILDREN

An Englishman once complained that Americans speak the common tongue in reverse: "I was at my hotel window when someone shouted 'Look out below.' I quickly looked out the window and a paint brush dropped on my head."

The English are also amused that we say "soccer" for the game they know as football. When you consider that the European game is primarily a kicking game and that American football relies more on carrying and passing, the point is valid.

One point about our football that is valid is the willingness of young Americans to read books about the game. Remedial reading workers often induce their charges to read sports books, and when the football season begins to make news, books on football heroes are useful. If you house an athlete more willing to scrimmage than read, make your own end run to the library and bring home football books. Place them in strategic locations, and just maybe he will (excuse, please) tackle one or two. Here's a selection:

Joe Namath, a Football Legend by David Lipman. Broadway Joe is not the clean cut All American boy, but he is an outstanding personality. The author emphasizes Namath's impoverished boyhood, his friendships, and his football triumphs at the University of Alabama. This is a book about a football great for young football fans; it was written just as Namath entered professional football and before he garnered other headlines.

The Glory Runners, by Al Hirschberg. Profiles of twenty-two of the all-time great college backs, some of whom went on to greater glory in professional football. Old timers Red Grange, Jim Thorpe, and the Four Horsemen are here, as well as Whizzer White (later a Supreme Court Justice), and several names still showing up in the sports pages.

The Johnny Unitas Story by Lee Greene. The life story of the durable quarterback of the Baltimore Colts.

The Greatest Packers of Them All by Chuck Johnson. An admirable account of the men who made the Packers one of the most successful teams in pro football. Accurate, interesting, salient profiles of the Packers, from coach Lombardi to stars such as Bart Starr and Jerry Kramer.

Jim Brown, The Running Back by Larry Klein. Coupled with Brown's biography the author gives a very direct assessment of players, coaches and football strategy. By personal interviews and use of anecdotes Klein brings out Brown as an intelligent athlete who brought a businessman's attitude to a commercial sport.

The Pro Quarterbacks by John Devaney. Here, as the title suggests, the author writes about the professional careers of the great backs. Interspersed with good action scenes, Devaney points out that the outstanding player usually has to expect to pay some price for his greatness.

Pro Football's Unforgettable Games by George Sullivan. Twelve of the most exciting games, from the 1929 Giants-Cardinals game, played before half-empty stands, to the classic scrap between the New York Jets and the Buffalo Bills.

Muleshoe Study Club Has Valentine Banquet

The Muleshoe Study Club had its Valentine Banquet at the Corral Restaurant at 7:30 p.m., Thursday, February 11, 1971, with Mrs. Rufus Gilbreath in charge. The club members' husbands were guests.

After the dinner, Mrs. Gilbreath introduced Mrs. H.L. Blackburn who brought some amusing and entertaining excerpts from Phyllis Diller's book, "The Complete Mother".

Mrs. Diller not only picks where Dr. Spock leaves off - she picks up what he wouldn't dare touch! Nothing has been overlooked - not even a word of advice on how to save baby sitting money: "take your kids to an orphanage and tell them to mingle." This book will convince any mother-to-be or mother-has-been the truth of the old Diller family philosophy: "Motherhood is the Easter Bonnet on the Luxurious Curis of Fulfilled Femininity!"

Bridge and dominoes were played by the following guests and members: Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bartholf, Mr. and Mrs. John Agee, Mr. and Mrs. J.G. Arnn, Mrs. H.L. Blackburn, Mrs. Les Bruns, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Costen, Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Gilbreath, Mr. and Mrs. G.L. Splawn, Mrs. Mildred Neeley, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Turner, Mr. and Mrs. Mervin Wilterding, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Witherspoon and Mr. and Mrs. R.F. Wright.

Historians Endorse Driskill Renovation

AUSTIN -- Austin's historic Driskill Hotel, associated with governors and elegant accommodations for 85 years, has been granted a permanent stay of execution, thanks to the efforts of history buffs and civic leaders.

On February 14 the Texas State Historical Survey Committee publicly announced its support of the Driskill Hotel Corporation, a group of prominent Austin attorneys and architects who have undertaken to turn the old hostelry into a complex of small specialty shops, offices, ballrooms and banquet halls, with possibly a private club.

Lester Prokop, president of the Survey Committee, specifically commended the corporation's intention to preserve the historical integrity of the Driskill while adapting it for modern use. He pointed out that both the state and federal governments have recognized the historical value of the structure, which was threatened with demolition in 1970.

In 1966 the Survey Committee placed an official state marker on the building and named it a Recorded Texas Historic Landmark. In 1969 the Driskill was entered on the National Register of Historic Places.

In its resolution of support, the Survey Committee noted that the Driskill has played host to generations of distinguished Texans since its opening on Christmas Day, 1886. For over eight decades it has been the rendezvous of governors, legislators, a United States president, business and professional leaders, and the socially elite of Texas.

The Driskill was built by cattle King Colonel Jesse Lincoln

Driskill and busts of him and his sons crown the hotel's three grand entrances.

The hotel's elaborate Romanesque architecture, handsomely appointed interior, and lofty rotunda qualified it as the finest inn south or west of St. Louis at the time of its opening. The sumptuous Maximilian Room and opulent Crystal Ballroom became synonymous with lavish entertainment during their more than half century of use.

HEART'S DELIGHT . . . Mrs. Sam Hopper was the winner of the Valentine candy and $20 that was given away by the Muleshoe Jaycee-Ettes for a 50 cent donation last Saturday morning, February 13. The drawing was held at Radio Station KMUL. Mrs. Marlin Mills, right, is shown presenting the Heart's Delight to Mrs. Hopper. The candy was donated by Gibson's and co-chairmen of the project were Mrs. Marlin Mills and Mrs. John Gentry. Mrs. Clarence Christian sold the ticket to Mrs. Hopper. The Jaycee-Ettes reported a $120.00 profit on the project.

If we had no faults, we should not take so much pleasure in noting those of others.

It Does Politeness is like an air cushion--there may be nothing in it--but it eases the jolts.

Legislators Clear Finance Hurdles

By Vern Sanford
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN, Tex. -- Legislators have cleared major emergency finance hurdles and are moving to other fronts to hold down the size of the tax bill.

A $34.9 million appropriation bill to avert reduction in aid to needy families with dependent children passed both houses and went to Comptroller Robert S. Calvert for certification.

Before he would accept the bill, Calvert advised passage of another which would re-align priorities in the state's massive omnibus tax clearance fund. In effect, this would permit turning over to welfare some $35 million that normally would go to the teacher retirement fund between April and August.

Teachers association and retirement fund leaders had no formal objection to the latter, although it would cost the retirement fund as estimated $100,000 to $600,000 in short-term interest. However, the fund will be repaid in full when the ultimate new tax bill goes into effect on September 1.

While these measures were moving methodically through the House and Senate, the House passed a bill to establish a $185 million bond plan to finance construction on eight new college campuses. Bonds would be repaid from tuitions, and would cost taxpayers little.

Final approval of the plan in the Senate would relieve the tax bill of a heavy load in order to build new institutions already authorized by the 1969 Legislature.

Still another potentially important money bill won quick Senate approval. It would require all cities and counties, population 10,000 and above, to report to the state all welfare spending for the medically needy. If federal officials will agree, Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes proposes subsequent legislation to require all these local funds be routed through the state treasury, where hopefully they would attract an extra $100 million in two-to-one matching federal aid.

APPOINTMENTS--Gov. Preston Smith nominated Lester Clark of Breckenridge to succeed David E. Clemens of Mineral Wells on the Texas Water Quality Board.

Dr. Charles Max Cole of Dallas was named to succeed the late Dr. Noble Price of Lamesa on the State Board of Health.

Smith also sent these additional appointments to the Senate for confirmation:

* Stephen Willis Simmons of El Paso to succeed Jamie C. Boyd as 34th district attorney.

* Elo J. Urbanovsky of Lubbock and Gene Ray Hendryx of Alpine to the Texas Conservation Foundation.

* Dr. Denver Fred Wendorf of Dallas, Dr. William Curry Holden of Lubbock and Dr. William W. Newcomb Jr. of Austin to Texas Antiquities Commission.

* J. Wonne Hand of Dallas, James M. Ray of Austin and Dr. Bobby Gene Smith of Arlington to the Crime and Narcotics Advisory Commission.

* Edwin A. Fieller of Floresville to the San Antonio River Authority board of directors.

* Warren Woodward of Dallas and Truett Smith of Wylie were selected Texas Industrial Commission vice chairman and secretary-treasurer.

"PEOPLE'S LOBBY" FORMS--A new liberal group--including representatives of labor, ethnic and environmental interests--has organized an "issues-oriented" people's lobby.

About 300 attended the organizational meeting. Former U. S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough and former U. S. Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark were the main speakers.

Congressman Bob Eckhardt of Houston was named temporary chairman and State Sens. Barbara Jordan of Houston and Joe Bernal of San Antonio, temporary vice-chairmen. Twelve steering committee members were chosen to work with them.

By a divided vote, the group decided to steer clear of candidate endorsements (although there was plenty of speculation at the meeting that Yarborough may run for governor in 1972) and concentrate on specific legislative goals.

COURTS SPEAK--Houston's Kirkwood Civic Club, which insures enforcement of deed restrictions and sponsors lawn-beautification contests, is not exempt from the state franchise tax, says the State Supreme Court.

A letter terming a woman an "undesirable" renter (filed with an apartment association) was a privileged communication and not libelous, High Court ruled in another Harris County case.

Supreme Court dismissed for want of jurisdiction a San Antonio-Bexar County dispute over a cancelled incorporation election for "Hills and Dales Community" along Interstate 10.

Brownsville lawyer ordered disbarred by a district judge lost his appeal to the Supreme Court. In a Cherokee County deed-interpretation case, High Court concluded that iron ore which can be produced only by surface - destroying strip-mining is not a mineral.

Third Court of Civil Appeals held that Humble Oil and Refining Company is entitled to get back $92,000 in taxes paid the state, plus interest, on oil and gas leases at Corpus Christi Naval Air Station.

Third Court agreed that Mertzon Independent School District had the right to annex Barnhart ISD.

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded that:

* Exchange of real estate between Dalhart and the Dalhart school district requires publication of a notice and a public hearing.

Closed meetings now can be held legally to discuss personnel, real estate or security matters.

Bill by Rep. Dave Allred of Wichita Falls would not ban these meetings, but would require notice in advance that they are to be held. Within three days under the bill, minutes sketching the action which took place in the closed meeting would have to be made public. Bill went to subcommittee for study.

Meanwhile, Sen. Mike McKool of Dallas introduced a bill (SB 314) to require publishers, broadcasters and billboard concerns to charge their "lowest" rate for political advertising. Bill proposes $100 fine and recovery action for "excess charge."

FIRST BILL SIGNED--First bill of the legislative session--reopening voter registration through February--was signed into law by Governor Smith.

'71 License Plates Are Now Available

It doesn't take "Pull" to obtain 1971 license plates.

In fact, if you pull apart the three-part motor vehicle registration form mailed to you early this year by the Texas Highway Department it will make the process slower and unnecessarily complicated.

Even though the handy three-part form carries the warning "Do Not Separate or Detach Any Parts of This Notice" in large letters on the reverse side, many motorists are doing

Texas Schools Fill Cafeterias With Students

AUSTIN--Texas children in 1970-71 will fill their school cafeteria plates 227,500,000 times from September to June as the lines get longer and federal food allotments grow larger than ever before.

This year, the federal funds appropriated for expansion and operation of food service programs in Texas public schools will total $42,596,096--an increase of about 123 percent over last year's $24,283,859 tally.

The sudden bulge in figures of the mathematical variety is caused by more than an increase in appetites, however. Most of the increased funds will provide free or reduced cost lunches to the greater number of children who became eligible under new federal regulations on September 4, 1970.

A complete rundown of old and new claorie laden totals was presented to the State Board of Education Saturday (February 6) by the Texas Education Agency.

During the 1969-70 school year, Texas public schools provided 173,227,002 lunches, including 24,853,421 served to children free or at a reduced rate. This year the lunch total will round out at more than 220,000,000. More than 58,000,000 will be served free or at reduced cost to the child.

The breakfast program, which is free or available at reduced cost to eligible children provided 3,277,035 morning meals on 252 public school campuses during 1969-70. This year, 544 schools will boost the breakfast total to 7,500,000.

Children participating in the free lunch program are selected under national guidelines based on family income and number of children in school. The breakfast program is governed by local regulations.

A Great Loss At Junior High

By Jan Harlin

It was a sad day when Muleshoe Junior High realized that the Bob Kimbrough family was departing from Muleshoe.

Departing with the Kimbroughs is Buttons their purrsian cat and Ralph their beagle. They will be leaving for Grover, Texas in about two weeks where Mr. Kimbrough will farm.

When we asked Mrs. Kimbrough what the funniest thing has been since she has been secretary at M.J.H.S. she said that cheerleading for the victorious Muleshoe Junior High coaches basketball team was a ball. We also asked her what advice she would give her successor. She replied, "Be understanding, kind and friendly. Lend a helping hand when needed."

Optimism On Cotton Industry Is Given

There is at least reason for "cautious optimism" in the cotton industry today, according to Donald Johnson, Executive Vice President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock.

Citing recent stories in textile publications of all-cotton resurgence in a number of end uses, statements of textile mill officials, and the appearance of more all-cotton items in apparel markets and department stores, Johnson says "We have definitely made a start along the road to increased cotton consumption."

Two recent headlines in The Daily News Record, a New York publication devoted to news of the textile industry, triggered Johnson's remarks. One reads "ALL-COTTON ACTION DOMINATES MARKET," and the other "BRUSHED COTTONS STAR ON FALL SLACKS SCENE." And there have been others in the same vein.

"The popularity of prints for the dress trade and jeans is one big reason for the action in cottons," says the first story. "Print cloths and broadcloths are particularly strong because of the print surge, and some mills expect this to continue for the Fall 1971 and Spring 1972 seasons," the story continued.

Heavier weight cottons are enjoying great demand as mills strive to meet the growing market for jeans. And at least one weaver sees brushed satens as being bigger next Spring than they are now, with the revival of interest in brushed or "sanded" cottons reflecting a new emphasis on the "soft touch" in dress up jeans.

Also, the move in shirting fabrics from plain shade blends to stripes is boosting cotton consumption. According to James Kelly, President of the Apparel Fabrics Division of Springs Mills, "There is no doubt that the ability of cottons to take color so well has helped them." Don Reed, President of Alice Mills is reported as saying he thinks blended goods will experience improvement in the June-July period, but adds that he "sees a strong call for cottons at least through the Fall 1972 season."

Ben Tipton of Dan River Mills told PCG officials at an informal meeting during the National Cotton Council Convention recently "We have had a crew working for six weeks changing looms over from blends to all cottons, and we have just put another crew to work doing the same thing."

Frankly Speaking Passenger (who hasn't enjoyed rough weather): "The ship seems to tip a good deal, steward."

Steward: "Yes, ma'am! However I assume it's merely trying to set a good example for the passengers."

Steward: "Yes, ma'am! However I assume it's merely trying to set a good example for the passengers."

Steward: "Yes, ma'am! However I assume it's merely trying to set a good example for the passengers."

The other side of the coin, according to the Daily News Record, is that mills running on blends have been "in severe curtailment," with looms on four days a week and even three in a few reported instances. And prices for blends are now well below cost for even the most efficient weavers, DNR states.

Along with jeans and dressier slacks in the move toward more all-cotton fabrics in sports wear, corduroys and striped shirts, largely for the youth market. Young people, it seems, are more interested in the natural look, color and comfort than in durable press qualities. As one merchandiser put it "they're not against durable press, they're just indifferent to it."

Closer to home, a quick survey of a few department stores in Lubbock shows that the "all-cotton action" at the mill level is beginning to trickle down to the consumer level. One department store manager in Lubbock said "We have considerably more all-cottons in young ladies apparel for Spring, including cotton knit pants, terry-cloth shorts, blouses and shirts -- more than we've seen in years, not because we sought cotton goods any harder than before, but simply because there were more cottons available to us when we went to market."

The buyer for another junior department, this one the Lubbock branch of a major chain, said "We are not only being offered more cotton fabrics, but what we are being offered in most instances is greatly improved over the cottons of a few years ago."

The Daily News Record says "It is ironic that blended goods, the subject of so much hoopla not long ago, should be going through difficult times while the old style all-cotton print cloths and broadcloths have been in demand."

But Johnson thinks it even more ironic, and more heartening to cotton people, that it is the younger generation, not the old, that is demanding "old style" cotton fabrics.
