Kitty's Korner

by Kitty Montgomery

We've learned a valuable lesson this week. It pays to lock the doors when you leave your house, even in Ozona.

When I walked in my house a week ago Wednesday and discovered the mess left by some little thugs, I could hardly believe my eyes. I could plainly see that the television set in the bedroom was gone, but even then it didn't dawn on me that we had been the victims of burglars. It's just impossible to express the feeling of completely helpless rage with which I was overcome.

I finally had the presence of mind to pick up the telephone. I called the office where I found Tom and in a shaky voice urged him to come right home. I remember saying, as I have said so many times to my children, "because I said so, that's why," and hung up. Well, he was there in seconds. And, believe me when he saw the havoc he was just as shaken as I.

We finally called Sheriff Billy Mills' number, and really got some fast action. The perpetrators of the foul deed were caught in about the length of time it has taken me to get this far along in this column. I found out in a hurry that officials of the Sheriff's Department did lots more than ride up and down the street and drink coffee, and they do it in a hurry. By the time I ran to the office and got the papers unloaded, the suspects were in custody. I barely had time to jump in the back seat of the car before we were off to Sheffield to try to identify our stolen goods. After we got to Sheffield and the roadblock and found all my prescription medicine and our television in a car stopped there, we were off to Iran where the suspects were being held. By this time I was worried about my rings which had been in a jewelry box that had been dumped up-side-down on the dresser.

I managed to have a few words with the suspects, who seemed very honest, really. They apologized for messing up my house, assured me that the television set in their car was indeed mine, told us where to find the missing pistol, and thoroughly convinced me that they didn't take our diamond jewelry. Even when I got home and we had sifted through the whole mess a dozen times and couldn't find them, I was more or less convinced that they were telling the truth.

However, the next day when Deputy Rex Fenton was transferring them from Fort ROADBLOCK CHECK-POINT TURNS UP MANY OFFENDERS -- This roadblock on Highway 290 on the outskirts of Sheffield last Wednesday was the key element in the recovery of stolen goods taken in the burglary of an Ozona residence that morning (see story). It was also responsible for the detention of at least 26 youthful drug offenders. Located just beyond a curve, many a motorist was surprised when they drove upon it. Here Crockett County and Pecos County Sheriffs' officials search a suspicious automobile.

Three Youths Charged In Residential Theft

Three young men were arrested last Wednesday and charged with theft in the daring daylight burglary of the Tom Montgomery home shortly before noon Wednesday. They were picked up at a roadblock in Sheffield after officers here gave their descriptions to officers at the road block. An attempted break-in at the Perry Hubbard home alerted officers and the trio was stopped only a few minutes after the Montgomery burglary was reported.

Deputy Sheriff Rex Fenton investigated the theft and was accompanied to Sheffield by the Montgomerys where they found some of their stolen goods. The three boys were lodged overnight in the Iran jail along with over 20 other youthful drug offenders. They were charged with possession of marijuana in Fort Stockton, paid their fines and were picked up Thursday by Deputy Fenton and returned to Ozona where their charges were filed.

A television set, a pistol and several bottles of prescription medicine from the Montgomery home was found in the car in which the three were traveling. A search of the house disclosed several hundred dollars worth of diamond jewelry missing. Most of the jewelry was recovered Thursday when the offenders told Deputy Fenton where they had thrown the missing items on the return trip to Ozona.

Most of the jewelry was recovered at the roadside where the road block had been set up the day before. More was found where it had been thrown from the car when the trio attempted to elude the road block and turned around, heading back toward Ozona. Sheriff Billy Mills arrived at the scene with a metal detector, and by sundown all the missing jewelry had been found with the exception of two diamond wedding bands.

Several rifles and a shotgun were found in the automobile along with pawn tickets for television sets and radios from other cities.

The thieves entered the Montgomery home through an unlocked back door between 10:30 and noon. Three bedrooms in the house were completely wrecked. Drawers were emptied, mattresses thrown from beds and contents of closets thrown helter skelter into the rooms. The complete disarray alerted the occupants immediately of the burglary. The Hubbard home was locked, windows and doors. A screen was cut and a window broken. Officers suspect that the housebreakers were frightened away by a neighbor before they could gain entry.

Dr. Johnson Resigns From County Posts

County Judge Troy Williams received a letter of resignation from Dr. Wm. R. Johnson, chief of staff at Crockett County Hospital and county health officer, late last week. The letter was written April 24, and resignation was tendered as of May 1, 1974.

Dr. Johnson informed the commissioners court, through his letter to the judge, that he plans to remain in Lubbock and

Dan Crowder To Be Honored At Award Banquet

Dan Crowder's 1st place award, Junior-Senior Division, in the Crockett Soil and Water Conservation Districts Essay contest will be honored as second place at Region-II awards program May 9. Region-II Conservation awards program will be held on this date at the Houston Harte University Center, Angelo State University, at 7:00 p.m. Regional banquets will be held throughout the state honoring regional winners in all categories of Conservation awards program.

Region-II consists of some 50 counties in 37 Soil and Water Conservation Districts in Texas. This region is from El Paso on the west to Llano and Blanco on the east and from Andrews and Taylor on the north to the border on the south.

The local contest sponsored by Crockett S. W. C. D. and Ft. Worth Chamber of Commerce is part of a state wide contest. This year 154 of the 192 Soil and Water Conservation Districts in the state sent in more than 643 entries in all categories.

Cathy Williams Class Reunion To Receive B.A. From Texas Tech

Cathy Ann Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Byron Williams of Ozona, will receive her BA degree from Texas Tech during spring commencement exercises which will be held in Jones Stadium at 9:30 a.m. May 11.

In the event of inclement weather, the exercises will be conducted in the Lubbock Municipal Coliseum.

Miss Williams is one of more than 2,000 candidates from the six colleges and the Graduate School to receive degrees. Of the total there are eighty-eight graduates of the Law School, 1,651 candidates for bachelors degrees, 303 for masters degrees and 74 for doctorates.

Miss Williams will receive her degree in secondary education.

Ozona Gets Over One Inch of Rain

Ozona and the surrounding county received over an inch of rain in a thunderstorm late Monday night. The moisture was the first appreciable amount of rainfall in the area since October of last year.

The official gauge at the water district office recorded a total of 1.2 of rainfall. Rainfall was slightly heavier in the eastern part of the county with up to 2 inches reported on the Davidson county. South of Ozona, up to 1.2 inches fell on parched rangelands and up to 1.4 inches was reported at the John Childress ranch north of the city. To the west, the Joe Couch ranch reported slightly over an inch of rainfall.

April Fire Dept. Report

The Ozona Fire Department answered a total of 10 alarms during the month of April. Five of the calls were grass fires. Four of these were in the county and one in town. The department also responded to two motor vehicle fires during the month.

West Texas Utilities called the department to standby a downed power line on Howard Draw. Firemen were out for approximately three and a half hours extinguishing small spot fires on the utility poles.

Trash around a small building in the 100 block of 16th street caught fire. The fire department was notified promptly and extinguished the fire. There was one run which turned out to be a false alarm.

People are urged to report fires promptly. Delayed alarms often result in serious damage to the property involved.

Voter Interest Increases As Democratic Primary Nears

Interest in Saturday's Democratic Primary seemed to be increasing this week as absentee balloting picked up at the courthouse, and over 60 residents had cast absentee ballots as of noon Tuesday. Absentee deadline was 5 p.m., Tuesday. Most votes cast were in Precincts 4 and 2 where there are contested races for commissioner. In Precinct 4 incumbent Commissioner Glenn Sutton is being challenged by Jesus (Chuy) Castro, and in Precinct 2 the incumbent Commissioner Bill Black is opposed by Bert Sorrells.

The results of Saturday's primary will give the winner in the local elections, as neither post will be opposed by another party's candidate in the general elections in November.

Polls will open at 8 a.m., Saturday and close at 7 p.m. Crockett County results will be announced from a speaker system at the courthouse as boxes are counted. Also, for the first time, the results will be given over local television on channel 3.

Interest in the U. S. Congressional post being vacated by O. C. Fisher and the race for State Representative, the post now held by Hilary Doran, has also increased in Ozona and Crockett County as the various candidates have campaigned here. There are six candidates for Congress in the Democratic Primary and five for State Representative.

Precinct 1 voters will cast ballots at the courthouse where Kaleta Shepperson will be the election judge. Tommy Harris is the election judge in Precinct 2 where voters will go to the polls at the intermediate school building. In Precinct 3 residents will vote at the Civic Center and election judge will be Steve Kenley. Joe Couch is election judge in Precinct 4 where ballots will be cast at the primary school. Mrs. Dorothy Richardson is judge at box number 5 in Powell Field, and J. A. Carroll will be in charge of box number 6 at the WTU Power Plant. Bud Hoover is judge of absentee box number 7.

Star Chapter Farmer Gary Mitchell Is FFA Local Election

Gary Mitchell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Mitchell was presented the Star Chapter Farmer award at the annual Parent and Son Banquet, which was an informal fish fry held at the Mitchell home last Thursday evening. The Star Chapter Farmer award is presented annually to the outstanding FFA member who has excelled in his FFA feeding project and leadership qualities.

The Star Greenhand Award which is presented annually to the outstanding V. A. I member, went to Vaden Aldridge, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Aldridge.

The DeKalb Award was presented to Dan Davidson. Other awards presented were as follows: Livestock Production, Gary Warren; Beef Production, Bill Bissett; Swine Production, Charlie Ramos; Sheep Production, Tommy Hoover; Ag, Mechanics, Jimmy Gillitt.

Certificates of Merit were presented to Vaden Aldridge, Gary Warren, Eugene Hood, Rod Allee, Joey Pierce, Tony Conner, Bill Bissett, James Hokin, Dan Davidson and John Henderson for their participation on judging teams during the year.

L. B. T. Sikes and Tom Mitchell were presented honorary memberships in the Ozona FFA Chapter for their support and assistance over the years.

Anne Tillman, Ozona FFA Sweetheart, was presented a trophy by Chapter President Gary Mitchell, for her assistance at the FFA Livestock Show and participation in the District FFA Sweetheart Contest.

The affair was attended by 35 FFA members and approximately 70 parents and guests.

Local Election Results To Be Aired On T-V

Live television coverage of the election results in Crockett County may be heard Saturday night on channel 3. The telecast will originate in Ozona and will mark the first time a program has been heard on local television. The results will be telecast courtesy of the Ozona Television System.

For Ozonans who prefer going to the courthouse to wait for the results, the speaker system will be used as in the past.

Lions Club Broom Sale Is Saturday

The Ozona Lions Club and the Southside Lions Club will hold their annual broom sale Saturday.

The truck from the Light-house of the Blind will set up in the shopping center and all brooms, mops and household cleaning items will be offered for sale. All items offered at these annual sales are made by the blind.

Girl Scouts will canvass the residential section of town with a selection of the items for sale.

NEW LITTLE LEAGUE PARK -- This beautiful new facility will be the home of Ozona Little Leaguers this season and for many seasons to come. Stands for fans are not complete, but the infield has been prepared and ready for the first ball across the plate.

THE AMERICAN LEGION SPEAKS OUT

The perennial issue of the U.S. defense budget is heating up in Washington. One voice that we think should be heard from on the issue is that of the American Legion, a group that has represented American servicemen from World War I through the War in Vietnam.

In an interview with Philip C. Clarke of the American Security Council, broadcast recently on the Mutual Radio Network, the Legion's director of National Security and Foreign Relations, James Wilson, came down strongly on the side of a stronger U.S. defense effort.

"We saw what the price of unpreparedness was," said Wilson. "It was paid for by the blood, sweat, and tears in World War I and later. We saw this same lesson repeated after World War I, after World War II, after Korea, and now we're seeing it happen again after Vietnam. Now, why the people that advocate unilateral disarmament gain such an upper hand, I have no way of knowing."

Wilson continued: "We must maintain a viable negotiating position, militarily, from which we can seek the grounds for a continuing and lasting peace with the Soviet Union, which is the principal protagonist in the international community. We know, and we hope the general public knows, that the Soviet Union, despite SALT I, has continued to develop new weapons systems in practically every area, both strategic and the conventional systems.

"The United States must at least keep within reasonable distance. We, as an organization, would urge military superiority."

We find the American Legion's position persuasive. History teaches sorry lessons about the awful price of being militarily unprepared. The United States will indeed be treading on dangerous soil if we don't, in Wilson's words, keep within "reasonable distance" of the Soviet Union.

TRUTH IN ARMAMENTS

Senator Edward Kennedy, during his recent visit to Moscow, asked a very legitimate question: what are Russia's true intentions in the nuclear arms race?

As the Senator put it, "Today, without announcement, the Soviet government is building new missiles and testing still others. Secrecy on intentions and doctrine in nuclear arms can only cause difficulties — and dangers — for everyone. Let us therefore have a full and open debate on these matters."

Kennedy's statement reflects, perhaps, the dilemma of a liberal and a potential presidential candidate. It is virtually an article of faith among liberals that the arms race is an action-reaction cycle in which the Soviets are essentially responding to U.S. moves and vice versa. Therefore, they generally oppose on principle any increase in U.S. defense spending on the grounds that this will only further stimulate the Soviets to respond in kind.

Unfortunately for this thesis, Russia has been violating the spirit, if not the letter, of the 1972 Strategic Arms Limitation Treaty by the development of at least four entirely new types of ICBMs armed with multiple warheads, and with a whole spectrum of other new armaments. These actions raise the gravest doubts in many people's minds about the Soviet willingness to settle for anything short of decisive military superiority over the United States.

Senator Kennedy is unlikely to get an answer to his question. Secrecy is much too ingrained in the Soviet character. What counts anyway is not words but facts. When a great power rival and ideological foe continues to arm to the teeth, one must assume the possibility of sinister intentions and plan accordingly.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights
by Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, Tex — Pressure on Gov. Dolph Briscoe to call a special legislative session increased with an appeal by inflation-hit state employees for a $62 million a year emergency pay raise.

Forty-five thousand state employees signed a petition addressed to Briscoe requesting a special session on these pay matters:

A 10.2 per cent (three step) increase for classified and hourly workers immediately.

An additional 6.8 per cent (two step) boost for 1974-75 benefiting all employees.

An increase in the per diem travel allowance from $18 to $25 a day.

An increase in the mileage rate paid for use of personal cars on state business from 12 cents to 20 cents a mile.

Texas Public Employees Association represents more than 70,000 state employees.

TEPA President Walter H. Looney said the raises are needed to help keep up with the inflation spiral and catch up with last year's zooming living cost.

If inflation continues at present rate until September, said Looney, soaring prices will have nullified 98 per cent of the wage raises given state classified employees in the last seven years.

Governor Briscoe said he is "concerned" about the employees' problem and will consider it "along with the other priority matters in state government."

The Governor is weighing demands for a special session to provide $200 million in emergency school finance aid to help hold down local property tax increases.

COURTS SPEAK — The Texas Court of Criminal Appeals held both criminal and civil penalties can be exacted for water pollution.

A divided State Supreme Court concluded an Abilene fireman, who was fired for declining to take a lie detector test concerning a stolen truck, must be reinstated.

A new trial was ordered by the Court of Criminal Appeals for a 23-year-old man sentenced to 101 years imprisonment for stabbing a drinking companion to death near Brownwood in 1970.

MANUFACTURING FIRMS WIN — Five manufacturing firms won the annual governor's Industrial Expansion Awards for 1973.

Winners were Hi Pro Feeds Inc. of Friona, Datapoint Corporation of San Antonio, Superior Continental Corporation of Brownwood, Owens-Corning Fiberglass Corporation of Waxahatchie and the Beaumont Shipyards of Bethlehem Steel Corporation.

Local Chambers of Commerce nominated the winners. Selections were made by the Texas Industrial Commission for civic and economic contributions to communities.

FEDERALS HELP — A $195,000 federal Economic Development Administration grant has been awarded to Laredo and Mineral Wells for industrial site development to offset shutdown of U.S. military installations.

Of the total, $89,000 will go to Laredo to help offset loss of jobs through closing of Laredo Air Force Base. The funds will be concentrated on development of industrial sites and transportation and to improve tourism.

Another $90,000 EDA money to ease closure of Fort Wolters at Mineral Wells will be used to conduct a water development study and develop industrial sites in Mineral Wells and Weatherford.

Word of the allocation of the grant came from Al Rodriguez, head of the Technical Assistance Center for the Texas Industrial Commission.

The Industrial Commission also reports that 37 industrial start-up training programs now operating in 29 Texas communities are expected to provide 5,320 new jobs in the state.

APPOINTMENTS — Governor Briscoe has named 12 citizens to a special interim committee to study reorganization and modernization of agencies which administer public education.

They are: Dr. Charles E. Bounds, Austin; Dr. Oliver H. Brown, Austin; Will Davis, Austin; Mrs. Clarence L. Ervin Sr., Lubbock; Dr. L. Harlan Ford, Austin; Dr. Lawrence D. Haskew, Austin; Dr. Irvin A. Kraft, Houston; Mrs. Elza McKnight Jr., Dallas; Rev. Al Moser, Austin; Mrs. Luci Johnson Nugent, Austin; Miss Teresa Pena, El Paso and Dr. Alberto C. Serrano, San Antonio.

NEW PUBLICATION — After seven years of research the Texas Water Development Board has published a book discussing application of computer-age technology to the planning of water supplies.

Copies of the report, "Report 183, Analytical Techniques for Planning Complex Water Resource Systems, A Summary Report," are available without charge from the Texas Water Development Board, P.O. Box 13087, Austin, Texas 78711.

SHORT SNORTS

Texas Highway Patrolmen are having their gasoline problems too, but sufficient state funds are available to buy enough of the high priced fuel to get through this and next year.

Wesley L. Hjernevik, former director of administration at the Manned Spacecraft Center in Houston, has joined the State Welfare Department as deputy commissioner for management.

Lloyd G. Wood of Edinburg has been named new president of The Lumbermen's Association of Texas.

Conditions of a road-improper drainage, obstruction, etc.—may be considered a health nuisance if the conditions defined in the statute exist with reference to or because of the road or its maintenance, Atty. Gen. John Hill has ruled.

Bill's Scribbblings
By — Bill Morrison, Minister
Ozona Church of Christ

I want to tell our young people why their parents are so concerned about them. I want to tell you why they say "Don't" so much and why you hear from them the annoying repetition "Be careful." I want to tell you why they want to know where you are going, with whom you are going, what you are going to do, and when you will be home, etc.

It is not because they do not have confidence in you. It is not because they think you are lacking in judgment. The reason that they are so persistent in trying to keep up with you is because they love you! They do not think the younger generation is "hell-bent for destruction." They think you are the greatest young people in the world and they want to do everything that they can to help you become fine, useful Christian citizens.

They are concerned about you because they know from experience the temptations which surround you and they are more sensitive to these temptations than you are. I know it is hard for you to understand this now, but there is an old Chinese proverb which says, "A journey of a thousand miles begins with one step." It also begins in some direction. Will you ever be an alcoholic or will you ever be placed in prison or will you ever be addicted to drugs or will you ever be a prostitute or will you ever experience the tragedy of divorce? No one ever set out to be or do these things! No one got in these situations overnight! They happen because a step was taken in the wrong direction.

So, young lady, when your mother says "Be good," she is not saying "I do not trust you," she is saying "I love you and I want your life to be pure and good." Young man, when your father says, "Be careful," he is not saying, "You do not have enough sense to take care of yourself," but saying, "I love you and I do not want anything to happen to you."

"Hear, my son, your father's instruction and do not forsake your mother's teaching; indeed they are a graceful wreath to your head and ornaments about your neck." (Proverbs 1:8)

Tegedly stole the Pentagon papers and gave the classified information to newspapers and others, is a good example. Even though his guilt was well established by credible evidence, a judge on the west coast last year stopped a trial of Ellsberg and ordered the jury to return a verdict of not guilty. Since then he's been spreading his radicalism while on lecture tours.

A small AP story recently buried on inside pages reported a startling statement made by Ellsberg. Here's what the article said:

"The tape-recorded voice of Daniel Ellsberg told a hushed courtroom Wednesday that President Nixon and Secretary Kissinger should be tried for war crimes before the government prosecuted anti-war bomber Karielton Armstrong."

"The 30-minute recording by Ellsberg was played at the pre-sentence hearing of Armstrong, who had pleaded guilty to arson and 2nd-degree murder in the 1970 bombing of the Army Mathematics Research Center on the University of Wisconsin campus."

TO THE VOTERS OF CROCKETT COUNTY

GUIDE regrets error— An Editorial

Two years ago the GUIDE published a glowing editorial in support of Stanley Hausman's candidacy for a School Board post. Hausman won his election but the GUIDE never received a simple "thank you" for our support.

But that doesn't matter; no hee! After a few board meetings Hausman turned against his running mate and another board member who also had supported him. Then Hausman, figuratively speaking, gave this newspaper a severe kick in the fanny with his frequent derogatory remarks against this publication.

Again, that doesn't matter; no hee, tambien! But something else does matter. We think Hausman's treacherous switcheroo to the cause of special interest politics did great harm to the school system and the taxpayers of Maverick County and continued to do considerable harm as long as he controls the action of the majority of the board.

The GUIDE strongly regrets its editorial support of Hausman two years ago. We made a mistake along with 1,129 voters.

Right now Hausman is in the race for State Representative and is seeking your vote on May 4.

The GUIDE's vote and support goes to one of the Del Rio candidates. For better representation, we strongly urge our readers to vote for either one of these candidates.

MEMBER FEDERAL RESERVE SYSTEM

Bob Krueger Independent Democrat.

Bob Krueger is running for U.S. Congress because having traveled this district more than any other candidate, he knows government must get back on the side of the American people. Bob Krueger is experienced, not as a professional politician, but as a rancher, businessman, and as a man who believes that government must eliminate all wage-price controls, cut out governmental red tape, and restore a government worthy of public trust. Bob Krueger is an independent man. He is an honest man. And most of all, Bob Krueger is a man who will represent ALL the people of the 21st district.

VOTE SAT. MAY 4th.

Along with spring comes the time to think of easy to fix meals. A large supply of cabbage will be available this year.

You may want to try the following coleslaw recipe that serves six:

- 3 c. coarsely shredded cabbage
- 1 1/2 tsp. salt
- 1/2 tsp. dry mustard
- White pepper, as desired
- 1/4 c. sugar
- 2 tbsp. lemon juice
- 1 tbsp. tarragon vinegar
- 1/4 c. table cream
- 1/4 c. finely chopped green pepper

1. Thoroughly mix all ingredients except vegetables. Then combine the vegetables and mix well. Finally, gently stir in dressing and chill the slaw before serving.

As an interesting variation of this recipe, additional field-fresh summer vegetables can be added as they come on the market.

Spring and summer fashion fabrics will feature a wide variety of patterns, dots, stripes, florals, geometrics and motifs. Designs range from objects found in nature to the abstract creations of a designer's imagination.

Patterned garments add excitement to a wardrobe--and often express the wearer's personality and temperament. They make versatile wardrobe additions. Patterns also show less soil and fewer wrinkles than plainer fabrics. When selecting a fabric or garment, consider overall effect created by a particular pattern.

Pattern type and size influence a person's apparent size. Extreme color contrasts--and very lightly or brightly colored patterns--tend to make a person appear larger. Large, widely spaced patterns also do this. To diminish apparent size, choose patterns with compact spacing and close color relationships. Also, darker or subtle colors and blurred or overall designs. Most people find medium-size designs--in similar colors--becoming. Patterns also express moods. For example, some patterns are dainty and demure. Others may be bold and exotic--or dignified and conservative. A wide variety of printed fabrics will be available for you to select from.

CARD OF THANKS

The children, grandchildren and great grandchildren of Mrs. W. H. Flanagan express their appreciation for all the kind and thoughtful words, food and floral arrangements. Thanks to Rev. Lanham and Rev. Caine for their words of comfort. Our sincere thanks to all and may God bless you.

FOR SALE: Modern furnished two bedroom, two bath home. Completely carpeted throughout, including kitchen. Central air and heat, beautiful location on one acre lot. Nice trees and shrubs. Possession at once. 201 Cedar. Call 392-3062 or 512-775-5178. 8-3tc Trim crust from 1 loaf unsliced sandwich bread; cut lengthwise into 4 slices. Spread 3 slices with softened butter. Place 1 slice on serving plate; spread with Ham Spread. Top with second slice; spread with Chicken-Nut Spread. Top with third slice; spread with Golden Cheese Spread. Top with un-buttered bread slice. Frost with cream cheese frosting. Just before serving, garnish with carrot flowers.

HAM SPREAD: Mix one 2 1/2-ounce can deviled ham, 1/4 cup dairy sour cream, 2 tablespoons sweet pickle relish, drained, 2 teaspoons grated onion, and dash of hot pepper sauce. Yield: about 1 cup.

CHICKEN-NUT SPREAD: Mix 1 1/2 cups finely chopped chicken, 1/4 cup finely chopped celery, 3 tablespoons chopped pecans, 1/4 teaspoon salt and 1/2 cup mayonnaise. Yield: about 2 cups.

GOLDEN CHEESE SPREAD: Mix 2 cups shredded cheddar cheese (about 8 ounces), one 3-ounce package softened cream cheese, 2 tablespoons mayonnaise, 1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce and 1/8 teaspoon each onion salt, garlic salt and celery salt. Yield: about 1 1/2 cups.

FROSTING: Mix 2 packages (8 ounces each) cream cheese, softened, and 1/2 cup light cream; tint with few drops yellow food color. Frost loaf; chill until set about 30 minutes. Wrap with damp cloth; chill at least 2 1/2 hours. Yield: 12-14 servings.

GARNISH: Scrape one large carrot and slice four circles from widest part. Cut triangles from circles to form petals. Place on loaf with radish slice for center of flower. Use green onion stems for flower stems and curly endive for grass.

Tips For Gardeners

From the Ozona Garden Club by Mrs. Bailey Post

Usually May brings warmer weather in our area, so take advantage of the cool days to complete spring planting of summer annuals, bulbs, and vegetables. After setting out plants, it's best to shade them for a few days while they become established. Especially, they need this cover if very windy or hot. Uncover at night. Spend some time now in your rose garden for big dividends later in the year and in following years. Roses, being heavy feeders, require regular application of a balanced fertilizer throughout their growing season. One good example of this is the display of roses the year around at the Redwood Motel. Mr. Phillips won several blue ribbons on roses at the flower show. One-fourth cup of 8-8-8 per rose bush should be sufficient. Be sure the soil is moist at the time. Spread the fertilizer over the surface, work into the top inch of soil and water thoroughly. Repeat every six to eight weeks until late summer. Frequency of watering depends upon type of soil, climate condition and growth stage of plants. Use a soaker or other method of watering to keep water off the leaves. Soak the soil to a depth of 8 to 10 inches. A good mulch will protect the roots from extreme heat. Remove all spent flowers.

For abundant summer bloom, feed crepe myrtle this month with fertilizer, same as for roses, 8-8-8. For a large shrub, use as much as one cup per plant.

If soil temperature has now reached at least 70 degrees, plant caladium tubers in shaded areas. Popular varieties include the candidum (white with green-netted veins), Lord Derby (rose), Crimson Wave and Spangled Banner (red with pink spots).

Scented geraniums make a valuable contribution to any garden, hanging basket, or arrangement of indoor plants. Most of them grow upright. They need a location where there is good ventilation, but no prolonged exposure to direct sun. Scented geraniums are more sensitive to strong sunlight than ordinary varieties. The benefits of growing these pleasantly scented plants are many. First they add a fragrance to their immediate location. You need only pinch a leaf to smell this fragrance of lemon, lime, apple, ginger, rose, camphor or others. They also have interesting patterns and textures of their leaves. The leaves are also useful as herbs for culinary purposes. Try some.

a whole new world

"Hey! Come bicycling with us tomorrow!"
The latest bicycling craze may be sweeping the land, but some aren't so enthusiastic:
"Haven't been on a bike for years!"
"I get all the exercise I want working in the garden!"
"Bikes are for kids!"
These skeptics should try cruising down a country road where the smell of haystacks, hyacinths or magnolias sweetens the air, or experience the warmth of open playgrounds, the coolness of tree-shaded streets, the un-blurred faces of neighbors. It's a whole new world.
There's another new world inside the doors of your neighborhood church. But some hesitate here too:
"Haven't been to church in years!"
"I get all the religion I want just communing with nature!"
"Church? That's for women and kids!"
What do you say? Are you ready for a new world, a new life? Then come to church Sunday--and step in.

John Poerner... the man for ALL reasons

The 21st Congressional District is a huge area... 32 counties, 51,000 square miles, one-half million rural and urban people. It takes a "man of the land" to know these people. And John Poerner is that man... by a wide margin!
For John Poerner is a native son of this land... a member of a Pioneer Texas family that settled in the midst of this diverse area over 125 years ago. He is a true "man of the land", active in farming, ranching and land development. He is also a businessman... director of a bank and president of his own land surveying company.
In addition, John Poerner has served with distinction in the Texas Legislature longer than any candidate running in the 21st District race.
A firm advocate of Federal assistance for soil and water conservation, John Poerner believes in underground water storage. He is also committed to a strong predator control program.
He champions better government, not bigger government; demands a dollar's worth of service for every tax dollar; favors a strong military posture.
John Poerner, the man for all reasons.

- JOHN POERNER'S MANY HONORS INCLUDE:
- The "Outstanding Representative Award" in 1973 by the Texas Sheriffs Association.
 - The "Distinguished Legislator Award" in 1973 by the Vocational Agriculture Teachers Association.
 - The "Conservation Award" in 1973 by the Woodmen of the World.
 - The "Agricultural Hall of Fame Award" in 1972 by Southwest Texas State University.

'Looking Back'

by Evert White

If you've had to battle with a computer, and who hasn't at one time or another, you can appreciate the nostalgia that besets many who remember the days of the crank telephone and the "common battery" exchange, with their accommodating operators.

Nowadays you pick up a telephone and call a local number. It answers with "This is a recording--" and follows instructions on what to do in case you just have to get in touch with the callee.

My first reaction to that impudent piece of machinery is to talk back, ask it a question or finally just plain frustration at being given an order by an unreachable talking machine. No matter how many times you call the number you get the same smart talk. Admittedly, it is a convenience, for most times it gives you all the essential information you require, albeit in a cold, cold bit of put-off.

Not like those "good ole days" in Ozona's history when the telephone system was "young." Though it would seem primitive by today's highly automated systems, it was in many ways superior. Instead of twisting a dial you just lifted the receiver and heard the pleasant voice of Claudia Butler call "Number, please." You didn't really have to have a number, you just had to tell Claudia who you wanted and she did the rest. If your callee was out of town, in the pool hall, at the ranch, drinking coffee at the cafe, you got the information in short order--or maybe you got him on the phone if one was near him. If you called somebody who did not have a telephone, Claudia knew who lived nearest who did have a phone, and she would depend on the good neighbor and ask him or her to page the person you wanted.

When the town's doctor had to be away from his office or home he didn't have to worry about an emergency. He picked up his telephone and told the operator where he would be and when a patient called the doctor's number, Claudia just transferred the call to wherever the doctor happened to be.

Though we welcomed progress, there were many regrets among Ozonans at the coming of the direct dial system and the silencing of that nice voice everybody recognized as "Claudie."

Not only were we privileged to enjoy the pleasant telephone days of Claudia Butler, but our attachment for Ozona's telephone system dates even beyond. As a cub reporter for the San Angelo Standard (it was a different newspaper then), it was our job to check up on the rainfall in the area, when it did rain. We gabbed with telephone operators in all towns in the circulation area, including Ozona. We got to be right chummy with an Ozona operator and inquired about an Ozona girl we knew. "Do you want to talk to her?" the operator asked, I said yes, not knowing whether I was talking on newspaper or telephone company time. Afterwards, every time I called for weather information, the Ozona operator would give me the information and then ask, "Do you want to talk to Ruth?" I did, of course, and I give a lot of credit to Ozona telephone company for a blessed romance that still lasts.

In 32 years, Congressman O.C. Fisher has endorsed only one man. Nelson Wolff.

"Nelson Wolff knows how to get things done."

Congressman Fisher knows Nelson Wolff. He knows that he is an experienced and effective legislator. A man of action. Nelson Wolff has four years experience in Austin. Working for his constituents. Learning how to write a bill, get it through committee and passed. And his record of legislative accomplishments is impressive. Strengthening law enforcement and improving the judiciary. The first "No-New-Taxes" budget in 25 years. Action on the energy crisis. Congressman Fisher has endorsed Nelson Wolff because Nelson Wolff is not a talker. He is a doer.

"Nelson Wolff has an urban-rural outlook."

As a rancher, Nelson Wolff knows the needs of the agricultural industry. As the owner and co-founder, along with his father and two brothers, of a lumber business, he knows the needs of the city, too. More than any other candidate Nelson Wolff is ideally suited to serve the diverse 21st Congressional District.

"Nelson Wolff stands for high political ethics."

Nelson Wolff is a conservative minded man who believes in honesty and fair play in government. He was elected to the State Legislature on a pledge of ethics and integrity in government. He kept his promise. With support for the strongest ethics bill in the nation. And legislation requiring full financial disclosure. In his own campaign Nelson Wolff has adopted guidelines more stringent than those required by Federal Law. Nelson Wolff is running for Congress, now. But on the same pledge. To restore integrity and ethics to government. He'll keep this promise, also.

Nelson Wolff for Congress
Know-how/where we need it most, when we need it most.

Sterility A Must In Screwworm Control

The screwworm eradication program is acutely conscious of the need to insure that no fertile or even partially fertile flies are released in its control efforts. To this end, a number of detailed and intricate tests and experiments are constantly conducted to insure that all screwworm flies released, without exception, are sterile. Experiments are conducted on every canister load of insects which pass through the radioactive irradiation process. Detailed cross-matings of irradiated males and females with known fertile flies are conducted in the laboratory routinely to determine that the process is operating properly. Male and female flies require different doses of irradiation to effect complete sterilization--females are sterilized at lower doses than males. Our practice has been to add 30 percent more irradiation than is necessary to sterilize 99,982 percent of all male flies to be released. To further test the sterilization system, the program conducts tests on several islands in the Caribbean in which the field sterility is monitored by checking the local domestic animals. These islands have been eradicated for up to 2 1/2 years and have subsequently received millions of sterile flies. Constant surveillance has detected no screwworm infestations during this time. Possible escape of non-sterile flies from the production plant was recognized at the onset of the program. For this reason, the plant was built as a building within a building. All cracks and crevices are sealed and an elaborate system was devised for passage of people and materials in and out of the facility. Security review of all operations, procedures and buildings is a responsibility assigned the professional staff on a weekly rotational basis. If still in doubt, visit the Mission plant. Dr. Meadows welcomes all concerned persons.

SENATOR JOHN TOWER, R-TEXAS

SENATOR JOHN TOWER'S WEEKLY REPORT TO TEXANS

The Senate has begun debate on a proposed federal no-fault automobile insurance bill. As approved by Committee and brought to the Senate floor, the bill proposes to establish a nationwide vehicle accident reparation program and to require no-fault motor vehicle insurance as a condition for a motorist to operate an automobile on public roadways.

I will oppose the federally administered no-fault insurance program for a number of very basic reasons. My major objection is that the bill assumes for the federal government a role that should be left to the states. In the case of our own state, the Texas Legislature has enacted a no-fault bill that is tailored to the needs of our citizens and perfectly adequate to attain the objectives of the federal bill. Nevertheless, the federal bill would preempt our state statute.

I have been a strong advocate of the theory that the nation fares best if state governments, which are closest to the people, are left to respond to the needs of its citizens. I am convinced that in this case, the State Legislature knows a lot more about what the citizens of our state need than a body composed of legislators from Texas and forty-nine other states.

In addition to usurping a field that should be left to the states, other objections to the federal no-fault plan include claims by some that it would mean higher insurance rates... that the bill itself is unconstitutional... and that the federal program could jeopardize a citizen's right of recovery for personal injuries.

Regarding the constitutionality of the no-fault bill, it has been argued that if it passes, a state that decides it does not want the federal no-fault insurance program would have the plan imposed on it by the federal law. While the Supreme Court might uphold the constitutionality of such a scheme, I believe the Congress has got to make dead sure that the bill is absolutely necessary, that the people want it, and that the states can't handle it before it passes such a law. That has not been done.

The program would violate the basic tenets of federalism as manifested in the McCarran-Ferguson Act. Our country has been nurtured on the idea that the government closest to the people is more capable of responding to the needs of its citizens. The federal no-fault insurance plan is another attempt to encroach on the power of the states.

In addition, testimony during public hearings on the no-fault bill indicated that such a program would hurt small insurance companies. The president of a small firm in North Dakota said the year of enactment of this plan would be the last year of his company's existence. Most of the very large insurance companies favor the plan because they know that what the bill really is to them is a federal grant of monopoly.

The cost of automobile insurance is of major concern to most car owners. Probably the most crucial issue involving the federal no-fault bill now pending in the Senate is the argument that it will increase--not decrease--premium rates in virtually every state. Certainly this would be true in Texas.

The early promise of no-fault insurance was that it would pay all losses of all victims, and produce big savings in insurance premiums. However, during the last Congress, the Committee on Commerce received conflicting cost information, and the only actuary to conduct a state-by-state survey of projected premium costs at that time found that 42 of the states would experience a total increased premium costs ranging from 37 to 65 percent. Texas rates have already increased to some extent under the Texas no-fault plan, but the experience would be considerably worse under the federal plan.

That result would just be plain crazy when insurance under the present system pays out 61 cents on the premium dollar and the best that could be hoped for under the no-fault plan is about 55 cents on the premium dollar.

After reviewing the evidence presented at the Committee hearings, I have reached the conclusion that if the concept of no-fault insurance is timely and of proven worth, and I have not yet so decided, the implementation of this concept would be best left to the states. The McCarran-Ferguson Act of 1945 assigned to the states the primary responsibility for the supervision of insurance. This concept has worked well in Texas, and it is my contention that insurance regulation in our state should be left to the State Insurance Board.

Girl Scout Troop 189 Presents Style Show

Ozona Girl Scout Troop 189 presented a style show and served a luncheon to around 50 guests Saturday afternoon at the fellowship hall of the Ozona United Methodist Church.

Spring fashions from Watson's Department Store were modeled by Scouts and guest models. Mrs. Charles Spieker did the commentary with background music furnished by Mrs. Roy Fleet Coates at the piano.

Mrs. Gene Kiser presided at the guest book with Mrs. John Coates, Mrs. Carmen Robbins and Mrs. Charles Womack in charge of refreshments. Miniature sandwiches, chips, cake and frosted punch and coffee were served.

Models included Tammy Sessom, Salina and Kala Sessom, Tracey Knox, Mrs. Jamie Knox and Peggy Sue, Cheryl and Julie Kiser, D'Anna and Carla Koerth, Kathy Adams, Mrs. Jack Adams and Tammy and David, Nancy Womack and Bryan King, Janice Janes, Mrs. Hugh Coates and John L., Mrs. Lawrence Janes, Doreen Watson, Lisa Mitchell, Mrs. Ray Boykin and Kendy and Shelly.

Theme for the show was "Spring Teens." The stage and hall were decorated with white trees and brightly colored paper flowers and birds. Walls and windows were beautifully decorated with brightly colored butterflies and plastic flowers.

A drawing for door prizes was held at the end of the show.

Stockton to Ozona, they decided to tell all and before dark the lost was found, or almost all was.

When we tried to thank Rex for spending the afternoon on his hands and knees recovering our rings and things, and Billy Mills for rushing to the scene with a metal detector, they just shrugged it off as part of their job. I can't help but think how fortunate we are to live in a small West Texas town and have law enforcement officers who really get busy when called upon. We are also extremely fortunate to have the DPS Communications Center here. Their radio contact and transmission is an invaluable help to our law enforcement personnel.

However, back to the Sheriff and his deputies, how many of you have ever stopped to realize that these men, four of them, have to handle all the crime and complaints in Ozona and the county, which is the third largest in Texas. I know I had never given it much thought. I don't know how they do the job they do. I do know, however, that we are going to help them out in the future. We are going to lock our doors and take the keys out of our cars. We can't report every suspicious character we see going through town, there's not enough time in the day. Every kook and freak in the world seems to be on his way to California, and they all come through Ozona on Hwy. 290
