I don't know whether I was more ticked off at the change to Daylight Saving Time Sunday morning or the article in the Standard Times about our precinct line changes. It always irritates me to see articles critical of Ozona in the daily, but one so poorly researched and blatantly false is a particularly painful.

If I were one of the leaders of "a delegation of the Mexican American population," named in the article, I would be particularly incensed. The spokesman was either not well-informed or the irresponsibility of the journalist was shocking.

The article stated that five men, possible candidates for commissioner in precinct 1, were all placed in precinct 4 after the redistricting. A simple check of the Crockett County voter rolls reveals that two of the men were placed in precinct 4, two remain in precinct 1 and one lives in precinct two or three.

A check with Judge Williams Monday evening brought a denial that he told the reporter that "there are only about seven white voters in Precinct 4 now," as the article stated. In any event a check of the registered voters in the precinct reveals this statement false.

The lines were redrawn by the number of registered voters, and this conforms to the legal requirement. Voters who live in one precinct and vote in another will lose their vote. It is not legal and anyone who advises citizens to violate the law do not have their best interests at heart.

The clearing of the right-of-way of Interstate 10 scattered voters all over Ozona, and those who wish to protect their precious right to vote should determine their precinct and exercise their voting privilege.

Nobody who has this community's best interests at heart can want a return to racism at this late date.

next year. Here, members of the steering committee, along with the county judge display the symbol. From left to right are C. O. Walker, Judge Troy Williams, Mrs. R. A. Harrell and Mrs. Pleas Childress, Mrs. Joe Clayton, the other committee chairman for the celebration, was out of town when the photo was snapped.

Weather Forces Lions To Cancel Entry In Comanche Relays Sat.

Weather forced the Lions to cancel their entry in the Comanche Relays last Saturday in Fort Stockton. Heavy snow to the west and morning temperature of 23 degrees was the deciding factor. However, the Lions will open their track season in Eden and McCamey this weekend.

The Lions top 18 track stars will be entered in McCamey and another team will go to the Eden Relays.

Coach John Richey said he felt that the advantage of looking at twice as many athletes outweighs attempting to build a strong team so early in the season. He said the coaches would have a bigger and better picture of what the young men can do in competition by entering two track meets.

The Lions gave a good showing last week in a three-way meet in Iraan against Iraan and Rankin.

Times posted by the Lions are as follows:
440 relay - Peter Zapata, Orlando DeHoyos, Romaldo Cervantez, Clifford Crawford, 1st, 47.0.

880 run - Clifford Crawford, first, 2:08.5; Ronald Shaw, fourth, 2:14.8; Brian Gries, sixth, 2:22.2.

120 high hurdles - Richard Sanchez, first, 15.8; Rodney Ruthardt, second, 16.4; Richard Harrison, third, 17.2; Kevin Putman, fourth, 18.1.

100-yd. dash - Martin Martinez, fifth, 11.1; Howard Huereca, sixth, 11.3.

The meeting will be most important to all members, as the club's 1975 activities will be outlined and planned at this time. Anyone unable to attend should leave his name with an attending member, as the number of interested persons will be a big factor in deciding the club's future.

Gas & Oil Production Up In Crockett Co.

H. L. Brown, Jr., Midland, will drill the No. 1 E, B. White, Jr., an 11,600-foot wildcat in Crockett County, 10 miles northeast of Iraan, 1-5/8 miles north of the Pennsylvania opener and lone producer from that pay and two miles north of the Ellenburger opener and lone producer from that pay in the Bouscaren field, and 1-3/4 miles west of the depleted one-well Quantos (Ellenburger) field.

Planned Parenthood Center Is Now Open

Operating on the concept that a planned family is a happier family, the Ozona Planned Parenthood Center is now open to benefit residents of Crockett County and neighboring counties.

The Center is manned entirely by volunteers under the direction of the San Angelo Planned Parenthood Center. Three of the volunteers are registered nurses and Ozona physicians, David Blanton, M.D., and Robert L. Owensby, M.D., are donating their services to the clinic.

The services of the Center are available to all.

It is located in the medical building at 908 First Street adjacent to the Crockett County Hospital. The mailing address is Planned Parenthood Center, General Delivery, Ozona, Texas 76943, and the telephone number is 392-3522.

Interested persons should note and keep for reference clinic hours which are the first and third Thursdays and second and fourth Wednesdays beginning at 12 noon. In order to make an appointment the Center may be contacted Wednesdays all day from 9 a.m. or Thursday mornings from 9 a.m. except on the clinic days above set out.

Those attending the clinic are weighed, blood pressure is checked and a blood sample is taken and is also checked for V. D. Each woman is given a pelvic and breast examination and a Pap test. It should be noted that couples having an infertility problem may also seek advice and help at the Center. All records will be strictly confidential.

BY LAND OR BY SEA this rig will be right at home. The over-size canoe dwarfs the compact wagon, but at least it gives shade all day. The occupants of the car stopped in Ozona overnight on their way from New York to Arizona. It might not be the most comfortable way to go, but it's bound to be quite economical and what an energy-saver.

BRAKES FAILED, OR SO THEY SAID when an out of town car crashed into the ice house at Lewis Drive in one night last week. The crash caused several thousand dollars worth of damage to the self-dispensing ice machine. According to one report, the facility will have to be replaced.

THE RIGHT TO BE INFORMED

Senator William Proxmire (D. Wisc.) is placing a Bill before this Congress to limit the powers of the Federal Communications Commission, particularly in regard to the Fairness Doctrine and the Equal Time rule. He states that his concern is the power of the FCC to deny the renewal of a license to a radio or TV station—or network—if that licensee fails to abide by the Fairness Doctrine or the Equal Time rule. To Senator Proxmire, this power of the FCC amounts to an infringement of the First Amendment right of freedom of the press.

Originally, the FCC had responsibility only in technical areas, such as, allocation of frequencies, power output of stations, and directivity of antennas.

In the late '20s and early '30s the Congress discovered that some licensees were abusing their freedom. They were, for example, allowing some candidates to speak, but denying that right to others. They were also stumping for favorite bills and blocking out counter-arguments from opponents. The Congress corrected these abuses by establishing the Equal Time rule and the Fairness Doctrine. The former insures that all bona fide political parties would have equal opportunity to take their case to the public. The latter protects the public's right to hear all viewpoints on controversial issues of national importance. As the Congress expressed it, they wanted to insure "a market place of ideas."

The Congress knew that our democratic system could not continue to work unless the people, the electorate, were sufficiently well informed of all sides of controversial issues to make sound judgments. The Supreme Court has held that the Fairness Doctrine does not conflict with First Amendment freedoms.

In thinking about the freedom of the press, it is important to understand that the Founding Fathers were concerned with censorship by the government. They wanted to make sure that the press was not controlled by the government, that it would remain free to criticize the government. But the FCC does NOT censor programs in the name of the Equal Time rule or the Fairness Doctrine. It does NOT review programs, after the fact, to see whether a licensee has abused its power. It simply looks into complaints by the public of abuse of power by radio or TV licensees.

The FCC, therefore, is concerned with protecting the public's right to know, to be informed. Its effect is to prevent censorship or biased programming by radio and TV.

It is always potentially unfair to question the motives of an individual. But the fact is that if Senator Proxmire's Bill to repeal the Fairness Doctrine and the Equal Time rule is passed by the Congress, the result could be that radio and TV stations will censor all but one political party and TV networks will carry on full-scale propaganda on behalf of their favorite national policies. The basic right of the public to be informed would be lost—and our democracy would be in jeopardy.

A CHAMBER OF HORRORS

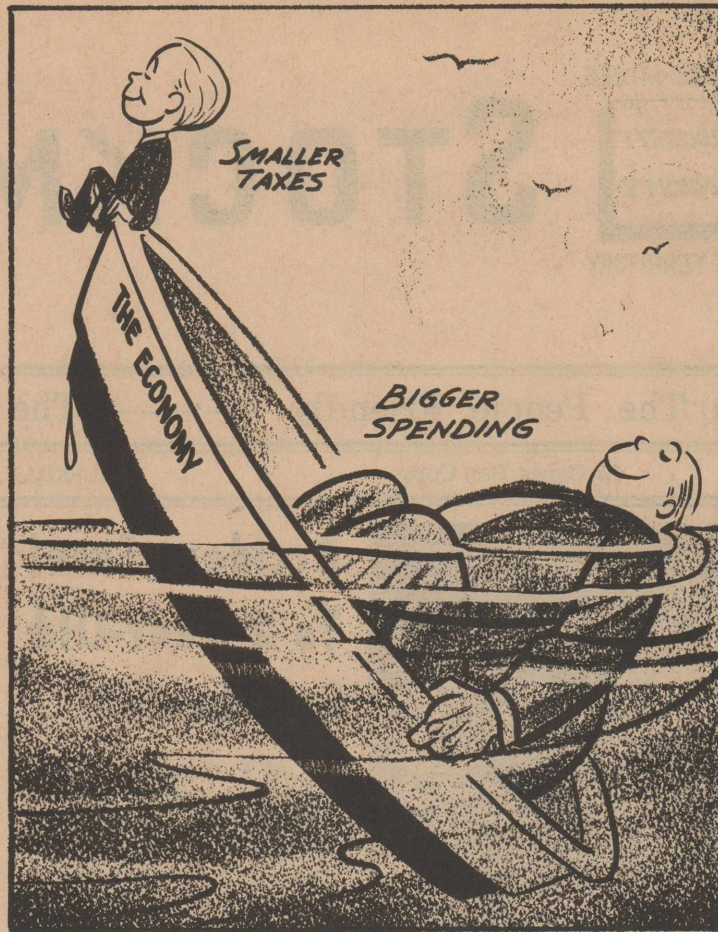

While alcoholism has long been recognized as a serious problem in America, recent findings concerning alcoholism among women comes as a shocker. Experts now estimate that as many as 50% of the nation's alcoholics are the "hidden housewife." The studies indicate that the hidden housewife alcoholic is typically between 35 and 55 years old and from the middle, upper-middle, or upper income groups. And no one knows about it because the family works full time at keeping the word of Mother's drunkenness from being known in the community. Thus the truth is kept from the neighbors, family friends, the children's playmates, and the husband's employer—and many times, even from the doctor or organizations such as A.A., from whom help could be obtained.

If the guesses concerning the numbers of hidden housewife alcoholics is correct, then alcoholism ranks as the number one disease in the United States today, leaving heart disease and cancer in second and third place. Of all the suicides in the United States this year, one-third will be attributed to alcoholism. Some 60,000 people will be killed in automobile accidents this year and over half will be due to drunk driving.

But, most blood-chilling of all are recent studies of babies born to alcoholic mothers. In every instance, barring none, it was found that the infants had suffered damage; some slight, many serious. There were no exceptions. All of the babies were below normal in intelligence, weighed less, were 20% shorter than the average infant and were all permanently retarded in growth. Some of the babies suffered from malformation of the head, face, legs, arms, or heart. Dr. Kenneth Jones at the University of Washington estimates that as many as 20% of alcoholic mothers give birth to deformed children.

Truly, here is a chamber of horrors that demands immediate and intense action on the part of every type of agency, whether public or private.

How Secure Is Social Security?
By ROBERT M. BARTELL

WASHINGTON, D.C. (Liberty Lobby News Service)—Unfortunately, not many people in our country save enough money for their retirement years . . . on the mistaken notion their needs will be taken care of by Social Security checks.

Further, a large majority of Americans are unable to put any money away for their old age. The pressure just to meet the monthly pile of bills often leaves nothing to put aside.

There's a rude awakening when retirement day arrives. That skimpy Social Security check does little more than cover the bare essentials, and too many times not even that.

This was revealed by the flood of news reports telling of senior citizens subsisting on a diet of oatmeal or dog food. Some live in unheated rooms that are actually prison cells because they haven't transportation money.

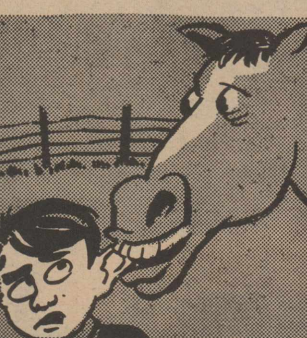

This is what the great Social Security program has come to and the end isn't in sight. According to the Washington, D.C., Star-News, the Social Security Advisory Council is formulating recommendations that would raise payroll taxes and would "reduce some benefits in the future and extend the retirement age to 68."

"Things aren't as bad as they could be, but the winter screwworm situation doesn't look as rosy as it could."

This evaluation comes from Dr. James Novy. He is director of field operations for the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) Screwworm Eradication Program.

In Texas the year's total of nine screwworm cases by February 21 most from Webb County, indicates winter weather hasn't killed all of these parasites of warm blooded animals. "On the other hand, these occasional cases let us know where to concentrate eradication activity," notes Novy.

Program officials ascertain the presence and location of screwworms on the basis of samples livestock owners collect from infested wounds and mail to the laboratory at Mission. Specially trained technicians determine if the worms submitted are screwworms which feed on live flesh, or their look-alike blowfly cousins which feed on dead flesh.

Nibbled by a Horse

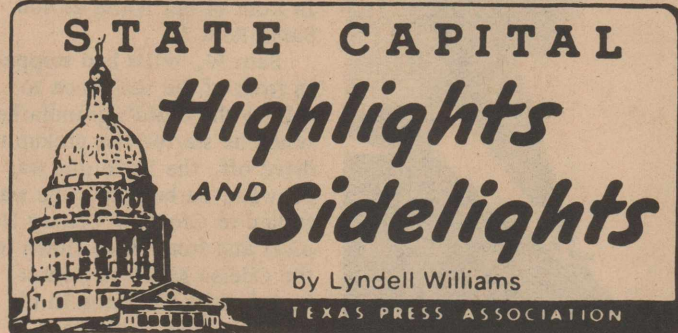

Pupils in a suburban school often walked to a nearby pasture, where they would stand beside the fence and commune with the horses. One day, one of the horses reached over the fence and nipped a little boy on the ear.

In short order, the boy's parents aimed a damage suit at the owner of the pasture.

"Our son was outside the fence, doing nothing wrong," they pointed out in a court hearing. "The defendant should have warned the children that the animal was dangerous."

But they offered no evidence to prove that the horse had ever misbehaved before. Denying their claim, the court said the owner was entitled to assume—until there was reason to think otherwise—that the horse would not hurt anybody.

Horses, because of their traditionally peaceable disposition, generally do get this "benefit of the doubt." But, of course, there are circumstances in which a horse's owner can and should foresee trouble.

AUSTIN—Texans may be selecting their presidential nominating convention delegates in a special primary next year.

A presidential preference primary bill was voted out of the House Elections Committee in spite of heavy opposition from a parade of witnesses.

Significantly, perhaps, the Committee vote came on the same day U.S. Sen. Lloyd Bentsen of Texas announced his candidacy for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Bentsen has acknowledged his interest in seeing a preference primary established in his home state, although he insists he is not making a major campaign for it.

Texans now choose delegates to presidential nominating conventions in state conventions of the major parties.

Under the proposal approved by the Committee, delegates would be elected on the primary election ballot. Presidential candidates would pick their own delegates in each of Texas' 31 senatorial districts.

Opponents assailed the bill advanced by Rep. Tom Schieffer of Fort Worth as a "winner take all" measure. Schieffer insisted that it is not, and claimed Democratic party rules authorize such methods of naming delegates.

Bentsen aides reportedly feel the primary will make it possible for him to get a bigger share of Texas delegates than he would win under the existing convention system, although this is subject to question.

MORE FUNDS DUE
Texas will get $64.2 million in recently-released federal funds to aid cities with building sewage treatment facilities.

The money, impounded by presidential directive, was ordered released last week by the U.S. Supreme Court. It is in addition to $111 million released immediately after the High Court's decision.

Water Quality Board members are working on a list of cities which will receive the $64.2 million.

WQB Executive Director Hugh C. Yantis Jr. said Texas will also be permitted to allocate separate funds to large cities and small cities. In the past, small cities have had to compete with large cities for available funds.

OIL ALLOWABLE SET
Texas Railroad Commission once more set the statewide oil production allowable at 100 per cent for March.

For three years, the Commission has been directing all-out production, and at the same time imported oil is continuing to flow in.

Commission Chairman Ben Ramsey said 4,023,000 barrels were imported the first week of February, a considerable increase over January. Buyers asked for 4,055,124 barrels of Texas oil daily, which represents a 8,946 barrel decrease from February.

SPEED LIMIT DEBATED
House members found extending the 55-mile-per-hour speed limit hard to accept, and sent the legislation to accomplish it back to committee.

Some want to levy a minor $5 fine (not attributable to insurance rates) for speeding offenses between 55 and 70 miles an hour.

When all the fussing is over, the Legislature almost certainly will extend the present limit. To do otherwise would risk loss of $303 million a year in federal highway funds.

COURTS SPEAK

An Austin district judge granted Atty. Gen. John Hill's request for a temporary injunction to stop a $45 million increase in Texas intrastate long distance telephone rates March 1.

Frances "Sissy" Farenthold's year-old campaign finance lawsuit against Gov. Dolph Briscoe and key campaign aides was dismissed at her own request. She had sought a $2.5 million civil recovery—and ended up paying the court costs.

Texas Supreme Court held a doctor can be made responsible for medical bills of a defective child born to a mother who had German measles during pregnancy where the physician failed to give proper warning of dangers.

The High Court sustained a $5,117 jury finding for a woman who was hurt when another driver turned right at a "confusing" experimental red arrow signal in Wichita Falls.

In still another case, the Supreme Court agreed with Attorney General Hill that a Galveston proposal to issue $26 million in bonds to build a grain elevator in a city harbor should have been rejected.

AG OPINIONS

Counties may be granted limited zoning authority over parts of islands and other recreation territories within their boundaries but outside city limits.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded:

- Statistics on juvenile crime may be furnished the Department of Public Safety by local agencies provided information does not identify offenders.

- Revenue in a county road and bridge fund can be transferred to the general fund and used for any lawful purpose.

- No funds are appropriated for research and management for protection of the white-winged dove, although money may be spent for acquiring a dove habitat.

- The Highway Department can spend state funds to match federal money for city street and county road projects.

FOOD FADS CAN FOOL DIETITIANS SAY...
FOOD FADS ALWAYS MAKE BIG PROMISES...
Fantastic health and longer life.
Instant slenderness.
Spiritual awakening or inner peace.
Protest of the Establishment, counterculture living.
Cures for illnesses - cancer, arthritis, mental disorders, and a host of others.
BUT FOOD FADS CAN FOOL DIETITIANS SAY...
Money is wasted on costly "health food" store purchases, organic foods, mega-vitamin concoctions.
Fads often focus on extremes (just cottage cheese and grapefruit, meat and water, fruits only, grains and sprouts).
Important nutrients are often lacking (carbohydrates, calcium, iron, trace minerals, vitamin A, sometimes protein and others).
Health can be endangered (starvation fasting, zen macrobiotic and low-carbohydrate diets).
Fad diets are promoted by zealots for fame and/or money.
FOOD FADS seldom promise lifelong good nutrition and eating habits. Qualified nutritionists and dietitians recommend eating a wide variety of foods - reducing portion sizes, sweets, and fatty foods if overweight. Unusual food practices may not be bad, but those lacking necessary nutrients are dangerous. Don't you be fooled!

Tips For Gardeners

From the Ozona Garden Club by Mrs. Bailey Post

In anticipation of spring, the fleeting days of February call for increased gardening activity. It's about the last chance for dormant pruning of summer-flowering trees, shrubs and evergreens, and for rooting the cuttings.

Finish planting bare-root roses, fruit and nut trees while they are still dormant.

Begin to prune roses by the end of this month or March first until March 15th. Use good shears that will make clean cuts. Prune to regulate the size of the bush and to increase the length of the blooming stems. Remove all dead, dying and weak canes that will produce poor blooms. Leave four to eight healthy canes. On vigorous varieties, cut back to within 12 to 15 inches of the ground. Less vigorous plants should be cut back to between 18 and 20 inches. Do not prune climbing roses in the same manner as bush roses. Since climbers produce roses on the previous year's growth, wait until after blooming to prune them. Only the dead or dying canes should be removed now. Properly treated roses are out-doing azaleas in blooming for our area gardens. Try weekly dusting with sulfur insecticide to gain the most from them.

This is a good time to root geranium cuttings to increase plants for the summer and fall. Soft wood cuttings 2 to 4 inches long, can either be snapped off or cut right at or just below a node. Remove the lower leaves and stick cuttings immediately in clean sand, inserting cuttings only 1 inch deep. Shade the cuttings lightly. They should callus in about 10 days and be rooted in 15 days, especially if bottom heat is provided.

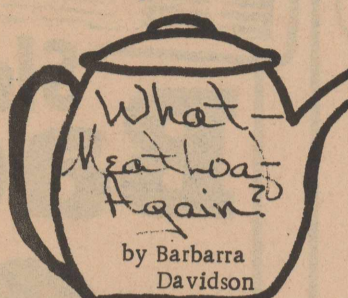

Everyone is asked and encouraged to begin the clean-up of the tall dead weeds that detract from the beauty of our city. Later announcement will be made of the date for pick-up of trash, but start now to have it all ready when the trucks make their rounds. The county can't do it all, but with everyone taking pride in the appearance of our streets, alleys and yards, we will keep Ozona a beautiful place in which to live and enjoy.

Debra Says
by Debra Price HD Agent

When spring arrives, nothing, not even inflation, will keep women from shopping for new clothes. In order that you don't go overboard on spending, make some plans before you buy. You may plan to buy only those clothes that will contribute to your total wardrobe. In other words, don't buy on impulse.

Fashion this spring is big, loose, and soft. It's strictly feminine. It's the year of the dress; however, pants will still be popular. Hemlines will be midknee or below. The pinafore dress is a pretty look for the long, hot summer. Wrapped, gored, or flared skirts will be very popular. Straight-legged pants, with tuck-in shirts and short jackets will also be seen.

Two-and-a-half inch heels in shoes, without a clunky sole, are making a come-back, along with the flat ballet slipper. The two-piece dress, for daytime and evening, is being shown with an old-fashioned peplum-shirted top. Prices will be up this spring, so smart shoppers will hit the stores knowing just exactly what they want. They will avoid fads and extremes.

Home sewing can beat the high cost of living in recent years. Stretching the clothing dollar can be fun when you look your best and know you've saved money doing it. Some advantages to home sewing include:

- Clothes can be made to fit.
- The sewer can usually make exactly what she wants in the fabric she likes.
- Home sewers can save 60 to 70% over the cost of ready made clothing.
- Quality of workmanship is usually better and lasts longer on a hand made garment. --Feelings of pride result from sewing.

REDDY'S REFRIGERATOR SAVINGS TIPS

- Return fresh foods to the refrigerator and frozen foods, such as ice cream, to the freezer as soon as possible. Measure and remove the quantity needed for cooking or for the table, and refrigerate the remainder at once.
- Use cold controls efficiently by selecting the settings that provide about 36° F. in the refrigerator and 0° F. in the freezer.
- Fill the refrigerator with food, but be careful not to overfill. Make sure that food packages don't block air vents in the freezer or refrigerator section.
- Clean the condenser surfaces of the refrigerator; dirt restricts air flow and acts to insulate the condenser, forcing the refrigerator to work harder and longer to maintain proper temperatures.

OPENING DOORS

A jigsaw puzzle of a church was Billy's project for the afternoon. He worked diligently as the church took form. But one section was missing—the door. "A church has to have a door," he said. At last he found it.

As Billy grows older, he may discover that the Church has many doors which can open to him:

Gratitude for his home, his family, his friends
Knowledge of God, his Creator
Sensitivity to spiritual life
Inspiration from Bible accounts of dedicated lives
Experiences in sharing his beliefs with others
Development of his character
Foundations of a sustaining faith

Open these doors to your child so that he may grow spiritually. Take him to church each Sunday.

Sheep & Goat Field Day Set In Sonora

The 26th Annual Sheep and Goat Field Day of the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research Station at Sonora, is March 3.

The day coincides with the 26th annual ram performance test to be completed at the station, and guests will spend the morning inspecting the performance data and the 135 rams in this year's test.

"Preliminary results indicate a number of very good rams in the current test," said Dr. Leo B. Merrill, range scientist of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and superintendent of the Sonora unit.

Merrill also said visiting students and other interested guests could hear, from 11 a. m. until noon, discussions of the history, purposes, procedures and results of the ram performance testing.

The program for the students will be presented by Dr. Maurice Shelton and Dr. George A. Ahlschwede, both of the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center at San Angelo, and technician Donald Spiller of the Sonora station. Shelton is a geneticist for the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, and Ahlschwede, the state sheep and goat specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

After a barbecue lunch, Dutch-treat and catered by the Sutton County 4-H Club, the guests will hear talks on the ram testing and on income comparison and trends by livestock species. Speakers will be Extension Service economist Robert H. Kensing of San Angelo and Edwards County Extension Agent Hayden G. Haby. From 12:30 p. m. until 1 p. m., Dr. Shelton will demonstrate methods for determining pregnancy in sheep, and later, Clyde Thate of Burkett will award Registry of Merit Certificates for the American Rambouillet Sheep Breeders Association.

A film, "Coyote Predation on Sheep," will be presented to climax the field day by Milton Caroline of San Antonio, supervisor of the Predatory Animal and Rodent Control Service.

Toes Hose Latest Look In Socks

Latest look for legs and toes is the "toes hose," Marlene Edle, clothing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, reported this week.

These are 100 per cent acrylic knit knee-high socks with individual multi-colored toes. Stripes and argyle prints are most popular, she said.

"Lovers of this fancy leg-wear don't have to give up the fashion for warmer weather either," the specialist said.

New designs are now available in nylon lightweight heat transfer print in art deco designs.

The colorful knee-highs are popular worn with slacks—especially among the college set and young adults, the specialist noted.

Use Of Fertilizer Important In Home Gardening Efforts

A knowledge and use of good fertilizer practices is important for home gardening, says Billy Reagor, county agent for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The contents of a fertilizer are shown by three numbers on the label. The first gives the percentage of nitrogen; the second, the percentage of phosphorus; and the third, the percentage of potassium. The numbers tell the buyer how

District VIII Garden Club To Meet In Del Rio

The spring meeting of District VIII Garden Clubs will be held March 11 and 12 in Del Rio at the Holiday Inn on Hwy. 90 West.

The agenda calls for an executive meeting from 3:30 until 5 p. m. March 11 with a bus trip to Mexico and dinner to follow.

Coffee and registration will be held March 12 at the Civic Center, also on Hwy. 90 West. The session will get under way at 8 a. m. and a full morning of activities will precede a luncheon at the San Felipe Country Club at 1 o'clock.

Local members may register by sending a fee of $6 by March 5 to Mrs. H. K. Fawcett, 104 Hermann Dr., Del Rio, 78840. Reservations should be made with the Holiday Inn.

many pounds of a particular nutrient are in the fertilizer. A 50-pound bag of 10-10-10 contains five pounds each of the three plant nutrients (50 x .10 = 5).

Nitrogen, a nutrient essential for plant growth, development and green color, is often deficient in soils, points out the Agent. It generally needs to be applied more frequently than the other nutrients because it tends to wash out of the soil. Nitrogen should be used sparingly, though, as excessive amounts will burn plants as well as cause excessive growth.

Lack of nitrogen in the soil causes yellowing of lower leaves, stunted growth and reduced flowering.

Phosphorus, which is necessary for the development of younger plants, does not need to be applied as often as nitrogen. It should be mixed well into the soil when applied as it does not move down more than a few inches.

Plants lacking phosphorus have abnormal bluish-green to reddish-purple lower leaves and tender growth, explains Reagor.

Potassium, a nutrient necessary for growth, maturity and the chemical balance of plants, is usually adequate in Texas soils. However, deficiencies may occur in sandy soils.

Lack of potassium will result in mottling and browning along the edges of older leaves.

Iron and zinc are two minor nutrients which are sometimes deficient in alkaline soils. Plants use only minimal amounts of the nutrients, so they should be applied cautiously to the soil.

According to Reagor, manures make doubly good fertilizers because they condition soil with their high organic content while at the same time contributing to soil fertility. However, manures contain about 10 per cent salt and should be applied properly to prevent salt burn.

The Agent recommends adding manure to soil a few weeks before planting and then following with irrigation.

If using manure as a surface mulch, apply during the fall or winter and keep it from direct contact with stems and roots of plants.

Green Services Held In Leakey

The topic of this year's essay was "What Americanism Means to Me." First place winner was Janice Janes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Janes; second place went to Karen Warren, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Warren; and third place winner was Tracey Knox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jamie Knox. The girls and their mothers were guests at the meeting and read their winning essays. Mrs. Buddy Russell gave a talk on "A Tribute to Today's Youth." Mrs. Ralph Jones was the program leader and presented each member with red, white and blue pot holders which she had made.

Members present were Mmes. C. O. Walker, Bonnie

Use Of Fertilizer Important In Home Gardening Efforts

A knowledge and use of good fertilizer practices is important for home gardening, says Billy Reagor, county agent for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The contents of a fertilizer are shown by three numbers on the label. The first gives the percentage of nitrogen; the second, the percentage of phosphorus; and the third, the percentage of potassium. The numbers tell the buyer how

Mrs. Baker Attends Seminar

Mrs. Hubert Baker, manager of the Credit Bureau of Ozona, has just returned from the Fourth Annual Institute of Texas held in Austin.

This three-day seminar was sponsored by the Associated Credit Bureaus of Texas in conjunction with the University of Texas, Division of Extensions Industrial and Business Training Bureau. The seminar was spent updating bureau operation to better serve the consumer and the seller of goods and services. This management program included sessions on management objectives, interviewing, strategies of decision making, updating records, training and supervision, panel discussions, legal aspects and a meeting with representatives of the Texas legislature.

Mrs. Baker said that over fifty men and women from more than two hundred offices of Texas Credit Bureaus were in attendance. Although the Institute of Texas has been under present sponsorship for the past four years, the Associated Credit Bureaus of Texas has had similar educational seminars, coordinated by the University of Texas since the early fifties. Mrs. Baker has attended every Institute since she has been owner of the Ozona Bureau since 1957.

The chief functions of the state association, which is a part of the National Association, is to have continuing education for their members, that they might serve their communities better.

"CARIBOU CROSSING" could well be the traffic sign at this location on Alaska's Prudhoe Bay oil and gas field, the largest in North America. The continually-migrating animals are crossing part of a road on the field constructed by BP Alaska, Inc., one of the two main developers of the field. Studies of the migration of caribou between the Alaskan North Slope and wintering areas in Canada and in Alaska south of the Brooks Range comprised a large part of research by Arctic Gas Pipeline Company to decide on the best method to take Prudhoe Bay and Canadian Mackenzie River Delta natural gas to markets in both countries. The Arctic Gas Pipeline through Alaska and Canada will not involve the construction of any permanent roads.

$2 Million Slated For Study On Arctic Gas Pipeline

Nearly $2 million will be spent during 1975 to further environmental studies on the proposed Arctic Gas Pipeline Project, R. Alex Hemstock, Arctic Gas Director of Environmental Studies, told the Audubon Society of Houston Thursday (February 27). Arctic Gas has already spent more than $70 million on environmental and engineering studies.

Alaskan Arctic Gas, and its sister firm, Canadian Arctic Gas, propose a 2600-mile pipeline to tap prolific natural gas deposits in northern Alaska and Canada. The 48-inch diameter, refrigerated and buried pipeline would transport 4.5 billion cubic feet of gas per day, without expansion, to all major areas in the United States and Canada.

The Audubon Society, which had its initial emphasis on avifauna, is one of the nation's largest and strongest proponents for the environment and the delicate relationships between man, plants, and wildlife.

Hemstock told Society members Arctic Gas environmental efforts are geared to guaranteeing environmental considerations are an integral part of the design, planning, and construction of the pipeline project.

According to Hemstock, Arctic Gas has produced the most thorough Arctic environmental study ever completed in preparation of a construction project.

He noted this year's studies include further research on migration and population of snow geese, tolerance and alignment with pipeline-area raptor populations and monitoring of area caribou, grizzly and marine mammal populations.

Arctic Gas, with more than five years, $70 million and 60 pounds of environmental and engineering data to its credit in support of the pipeline project, will have pushed the total dollar figure commitment to $100 million by the end of 1975.

"Our research on the environmental impact of pipeline construction and operation has led to a number of innovations," he added, "including refrigerating the gas to prevent melting permafrost and winter construction from snow roads that will melt and disappear the following summer."

Hemstock is a veteran of three decades of work and research in the Arctic on permafrost and muskox terrain in the fields of geology, engineering, land use planning and environmental study.

Celery Adds Much To Many Dishes

Few foods add so much to so many different dishes as celery does, Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, consumer marketing information specialist, said this week.

"It combines especially well in a salad with other vegetables or fruits. Celery sharpens the flavor of vegetable soup—and when prepared with milk, it makes a hearty cream soup," the specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, said.

Two main varieties of celery are commonly found on the market, Pascal varieties are green and may have coarse stalks. These are gaining popularity because of the distinct flavor and almost complete absence of "strings," Mrs. Clyatt explained.

"Yellow, or golden, varieties—sometimes called Golden Heart—are bleached white. Top quality celery has thick, solid stalks that are brittle enough to snap easily. Leaves are fresh and green," she said.

Celery is highly perishable and needs a cool, moist temperature to keep its crispness. One average celery stalk weighs about one-one and a half pounds and can be diced up to make about one quart of celery cubes, according to this specialist.

Easter Seal Rehabilitation Stepped Up

Because of the steady growth in numbers of crippled children and adults in Texas, the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults of Texas has stepped up its rehabilitation services.

Roy H. Thompson, who is the Easter Seal Representative for the County, said 20,152 handicapped Texans received Easter Seal treatments during 1974.

"Despite medical scientific advances," Thompson explained, "the rank of the crippled are growing. This is because of population growth, increased number of accidents and medical treatment which saves victims of crippling diseases who might not have lived in past years."

Quoting the annual report of the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults of Texas, affiliated treatment centers in Texas provide treatment and rehabilitation, speech and hearing and educational programs, and many other services required by the physically disabled to live normal lives.

The largest group served includes those with major deformities of bones and joints, severe speech defects, cerebral palsy, arthritis, muscular dystrophy and multiple sclerosis and stroke. The Easter Seal Campaign, which provides funds for continuation of these services, begins February 24, and continues through March 30, Easter Sunday. --0--

CALLING ALL HOMEMAKERS
Brought to you By Lillian Brown

To have a beautifully decorated home, everything you buy, whether it be a piece of furniture or an accessory, should be interesting in its own right--and yet, should also harmonize with the other pieces.

Sometimes rooms and homes are not as beautiful as they might be because there is a lack of harmony among the furnishings. But, how do you go about getting this harmony?

First, there are two extremes to avoid. One extreme is to have everything in the same proportion, color and texture--that would be monotonous. The other extreme is to have everything completely different. That would be confusing.

Good harmony in decorating is achieved by having neither monotony nor confusion. Furniture and accessories should have variety and yet present a happy blend.

For example, you can use different shapes, but repeat accent colors to get unity. Or, you can get furniture pieces that have contrast in themselves for emphasis, yet still have a pleasing relationship to the other furnishings.

We can give you harmony--and beauty--in your rooms, and your home. Stop in and browse around.
