All's well that ends well. But last Wednesday there was nobody in this office who thought anything would end well, ever.

I'm referring to the "happening" which caused you to get the paper a day late.

As we look back on it, it has its humorous side, but believe me, it was anything but funny at the time.

We thought we got rid of "the gremlins" when we switched from letterpress to offset, but they cropped up last week in all their glory.

We had the paper printed and back in the office here by noon as usual on Wednesday. Actually, we were a little ahead of schedule and were going at a relaxed pace.

Everybody was doing their usual Wednesday chore, in the mailing and wrapping of the paper. Yours truly was busy getting tear sheets for the grocery stores. I looked down, and to my utter horror and amazement, I saw "Page 3, Devils River News, Sonora Texas. I thought it was just one paper, but when we looked through the bulk, alas! They were all the same. The gremlins had put Sonora's page 3 in the Ozona Stockman, no doubt about it.

Panic prevailed. I had a hot flash. Belde began his nervous laughing (a habit he has when all is gloom and doom) it keeps him from crying; Tom cursed and Jeanie was speechless.

Page 3 of the Ozona Stockman was nowhere to be found.

After the initial shock, a call to the printer's some 120 miles away got results. It seems they had to re-shoot our page 3 and when they did, they picked up Sonora's page 3 by mistake. Yes, they had the plate for our page 3, and yes, they would reprint our run of papers. They would get them on the bus or deliver them personally. They were so down-right nice about it, I could hardly be contrary.

About 2 o'clock the press-room boss called to reassure us. Shortly after that, the boss's boss called. He explained again what happened and how the mix-up occurred. They were so concerned, I didn't have the heart to tell them about "the gremlins," although I knew in my heart they were the real culprits.

After we threw a ton of papers away, we wait. Sure enough, by 8 p.m. we have a new, letter perfect, batch of papers. We pitched in and went through the mailing, tying bit again, and sure enough, we were finished before the clock struck midnight. We were a day late, but not a dollar short, and it did seem like two days rolled into one. But, like I said all's well that ends well.

It was some experience, but we don't care to do it again anytime soon.

ALMOST READY FOR OCCUPANCY -- The new wing to the Crockett County Hospital, which will be known as the Crockett County Care Center, is completed on the outside, down to landscaping. Furniture must be arranged inside the building and several minor adjustments made before residents will be able to move in. The entrance patio has been furnished with tables and chairs. At right is the wing with private rooms. Most drapes have been hung and floors finished. Mopping up operations are in progress now. A meeting of the Hospital Auxiliary has been scheduled in the building for next Tuesday.

Early Detection Essential In Webworm Control For Trees

County agent Billy Reagor cautioned Ozonans about fall webworms this week and made suggestions about how the unsightly worms could be controlled. Early detection is essential in keeping trees free of the parasite. Locally the pecan tree has been most susceptible.

Fall webworm moths are now laying eggs on leaves of poplar, cottonwood, mulberry, willow, pecans and other deciduous trees in the Trans-Pecos area. The fall webworm moth is snow-white in color with yellow and black spots on its body. These moths are normally observed flying around trees and shrubs, in the home landscape, in the early evening hours. The female moths lay eggs in masses of 25 to over 100 on the back side of leaves. The egg mass is partly covered with fine white hairs. When the eggs hatch, the small worms start feeding on the leaf immediately. As the small worms start feeding, they build a web around the leaves on a small twig. Eventually the young worms will build a web around an entire branch.

For effective control of fall webworms, early detection of the small webs is important. The small webs may be removed from trees or shrubs by pruning off the infested twigs with the webs. The fall webworm feeds within the web so if you prune off the entire web, all the worms in the web can be destroyed. In large trees where small webs cannot be pruned from the tree, foliar insecticide sprays should be applied. Foliar sprays of Carbaryl (Sevin), Diazinon or Bacillus Thuringiensis (an insect biocide) will give good Ranchers Here Receive Wool Incentive Pmts.

Wool producers in Crockett and Sutton Counties received incentive payments on 1974 sales of approximately 2,100,000 lbs. of wool and 7,300,000 lbs. of unshorn lambs.

The National average for all wool sold in 1974 was 59.1 cents per pound. 1974 incentive payment of 21.8 cents per pound of shorn wool and 48 cents per cwt. on unshorn lambs.

Wool growers are reminded to file their 1975 sales of shorn wool and unshorn lambs at their ASCS Office when sales are made - as usual be sure and report all purchases of unshorn lambs.

control of fall webworms. Sprays should be mixed and applied according to instructions on the LABEL of the insecticide containers. Sprays should be applied as soon as new webs are detected on trees. Sprays should be applied to the point of spray runoff on foliage above and below the new webs. Where light numbers of new webs are present, spot spraying of trees only where the webs are present will provide adequate control of fall webworms.

Confirmer For Crockett Co. Is Assured

Second Strawn producer and a northwest extension to that pay was assured in the Bouscaren (Strawn and Ellenburger) field of Crockett County, with the flowing of 19 barrels of oil, no water, in three hours at Gulf Oil Corp., No. 2 Parker Ranch Co., Ltd-State, in 52-HH-GC&SF, eight miles north of Iraan.

Flow was through a 14-64-inch choke and perforations at 7,759-786 feet. Testing continued.

A test of the Hueco at 6,440-540 feet returned 2,800 feet of drilling fluid, three feet of oil and 2,000 feet of gas; a test of the Ellenburger at 8,170-315 feet returned 90 feet of sulfur water.

The Strawn opener, Gulf's No. 1 Parker Ranch Co., Ltd-State, was finished Jan. 16 for 691.6 barrels of 43.9 gravity oil, plus 29 barrels of water, through a 15-64-inch choke and perforations at 7,678-684 feet.

Hospital Aux. To Meet

The second meeting of the Crockett County Hospital and Care Center Auxiliary will be held in the new care center Tuesday, June 10, at 7:30 p.m.

The meeting will be open to all residents who wish to join the recently formed auxiliary and will be another opportunity for those who wish to be members to pay dues and fill out applications.

Also, the first of the orientation sessions which are required of all volunteers will be conducted at the meeting.

Services Here Monday For Mrs. Black

Graveside services for Mrs. Kay (Cotton) Black, 58, of Quamado, were held in Cedar Hill Cemetery Monday at 2:30 p.m.

Mrs. Black died Friday at her residence in Quamado from a self-inflicted gun wound. She had been in ill health.

Mrs. Black was born September 6, 1916 in Buffalo Springs. She was married to Kay Black August 4, 1935 in San Angelo. They lived in Ozona for many years before moving to Quamado some years ago.

Survivors include her husband; a son, Charles Black of Rotan; a sister, Mrs. Claude Russell of Ozona and her mother, Mrs. Nellie Olsen of Sonora.

Funeral Service Wednesday For A. L. Guerra

Funeral services for Antonio L. Guerra, 68, were held at 5 p.m. Wednesday, May 28, in Our Lady of Perpetual Help Catholic Church with burial in Lima Cemetery under the direction of Janes Funeral Home.

Mr. Guerra died Tuesday in Crockett County Hospital after an illness.

He was born May 6, 1907 in Texas and had been a resident of Ozona for 28 years. He was a retired ranch laborer.

Survivors include his wife, Amalia; two sons, Jesus Guerra and Antonio Guerra Jr., both of Ozona; four daughters, Mrs. Diamantina Robledo, Mrs. Elvira Martinez, Mrs. Amalia Lumberras, and Mrs. Yolanda Martinez, all of Ozona; 18 grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

Debbie Valadez Makes ASU Dean's List

Debbie Valadez, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Valadez, was named to the Dean's Honor List at Angelo State University for the spring semester.

Debbie is a senior special education major. Her average for the semester was 3.25 on a 4.0 scale.

Moore Oil Wins First Half LL Championship, Undefeated 6-0

The first half of Little League play ended Thursday night with Moore Oil taking the championship with an undefeated record for the first half. The Oilers had a 6-0 record. Crockett Automotive was in second place with a 3-3 record, followed by Ozona National Bank with a 2-4 and Ozona Oil with 1-5.

In the final games of the first half, Crockett Automotive beat Ozona National 14-1. The game was called after the fourth inning on the 10-run rule. Winning pitcher was Harvey Huereca and losing pitcher was Kelly Buckner. Rudy Enriquez headed up the hitting for Crockett Automotive with a home run. Robert Tambunga got the only hit for Ozona National. Moore Oil tallied its sixth win with a 9-3 decision over Ozona Oil. Winning pitcher was Varlyn Aldridge and the loser was Delbert Brown. Aldridge also led the Oilers hitting attack with a home run and two singles. Delbert Brown had a home run for Ozona Oil and a single.

Monday night's games started off the second half of play with Ozona Oil downing Ozona National 12-2. Winning pitcher was Delbert Brown and loser was Kelly Buckner. Mark Wilson had a home run and a single and Delbert Brown had a home run for the Oilers. Robert Tambunga got a single for Ozona National. In the second game Moore Oil tasted defeat, as they went down 18-8 at the hands of Crockett Automotive. Winning pitcher was Rudy Enriquez and loser was Varlyn Aldridge. Enriquez also led the hot hitting for the winners with a home run and three singles. Harvey Huereca had a homer and a single for the winners. Roy DeHoyos had a home run for the Oilers.

There will be no Little League games next week, due to annual Boy Scout camp which many of the players attend.

Cub Pack 163 Plans Trip To Big Bend

Parents and leaders of Pack #163 of the Cub Scouts met at the Community Center Friday, May 30 to discuss the upcoming trip to Big Bend National Park. The group will leave Friday, June 13 and return Sunday, June 15.

Those attending the meeting were: Cubmaster Coy Tambunga; Committee Chairman E. V. Fierro; Den leaders Edna Tambunga, Mela Flores and Alice Martinez. Parents attending were: Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Sanchez, Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Sanchez, Mr. and Mrs. Santiago Ybarra, Mrs. E. V. Fierro, Mrs. Nino Tambunga, Mrs. Albert Borrego, Mrs. Americo Tambunga, Mrs. Elpidio Martinez, Mrs. Johnny Rodriguez and Community Center representative Stella Valadez.

May Ends With Heaviest Total Rainfall

Thundershowers four nights in a row last week upped the rainfall total for May to 3.87, the biggest total rainfall in a month for the year and more than the total rainfall for the first four months in the year.

Rains fell generally on dry ranch lands in the county last week except for the extreme southwest section. Pastures are beginning to turn green and if rains continue, one of the worst droughts in years will be averted.

January rainfall was .60 of an inch with February showing a promising 1.22 inches. Not even a trace of rainfall was recorded for the month of March and April showers only amounted to 1.17 inches.

TS&GRA Makes Plea For Compound 1080

There is ample evidence available to prove that sodium monofluoroacetate, or Compound 1080, should be registered for predator control, so testified Dr. Percy R. Turner, first vice president of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association, in his testimony before the U.S. House of Representatives' Committee on Agriculture concerning legislation to extend the Federal Insecticide, Fungicide and Rodenticide Act. Appearing in behalf of the National Wool Growers Association as well as the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association, Dr. Turner advised the committee that it was certainly not the FIFRA Act itself which caused the problems to the sheep producer but the Environmental Protection Agency. The Agency acted without due authority when they removed the registration of certain chemical toxicants for predator control. Dr. Turner went on to point out that the sheep and goat industry may have suffered as much as a 50 million dollar loss to predators here in the United States. Much of this loss is blamed on the inability of the livestock producers to use chemicals for coyote control.

Dr. Turner pointed out that there is data that shows the negative relationship of coyote density and that of sheep and goats, and also there is data showing a positive relationship of coyote density and producer estimates of losses due to predators. Dr. Turner's information came from work conducted by Dr. Maurice Shelton and Dr. John Klindt on the interrelationship of coyote density and certain livestock and game species in Texas. One of the main points that Dr. Turner emphasized was that the suspension of the registration order states that there are known alternatives to the use of toxicants. These known alternatives, such as traps, snares, denning and aerial hunting, are being used but are inadequate to do the job and are very expensive in terms of cost per coyote. He further explained that one of the closing statements in the order to suspend registration notes that the order would not affect the supply of staple foods. Dr. Turner stated that lamb may not be a staple foodstuff, but it is a food enjoyed by many persons, and the supply is being profoundly affected by this order. We have already had one lamb slaughter facility closed in the Midwest this year because of lack of lamb. The primary cause of the decrease in sheep and goat numbers is due to predators. He continued that the questions raised by EPA in regard to at least one toxicant has been answered in a manner favorable to registration of the toxicant. It is now time that registration of sodium monofluoroacetate, or Compound 1080, be reconsidered, Turner stated.

Chinese Worries

The retreat of U.S. power is accelerating at such a pace that even the Chinese Communists seem genuinely alarmed. A recent issue of the Peking People's Daily newspaper noted that the United States is becoming "increasingly vulnerable and strategically passive." On the other hand, it charged the Soviet Union with stepping up efforts "to embark on Hitler's beaten track of world domination."

This Chinese appraisal of U.S. weakness is especially significant because Red China apparently takes no joy in it. China, no less than Russia, has no love for the U.S. Peking regards itself as the real center of revolutionary purity, and its basic antipathy to the U.S. is perhaps even stronger than Moscow's. But the Chinese are frank to admit that they need and want a strong U.S. and a strong NATO to keep Russia in check until their nuclear deterrent is large enough to provide an independent protection against a Soviet attack on China. Everything indicates that they regard war with Russia as a real possibility. They are fearful that Soviet power will move into the vacuum left by the retreating Americans and thus further surround and menace China.

The point we wish to make is simply this: virtually everywhere in the world the U.S. is now perceived to be in a precipitous decline after our southeast Asia disaster. The Chinese, who have reason to know the Soviets better than anyone, fear that this will lead to further Soviet adventurism on the Hitler model. If enough countries come to share this Chinese view, and there is evidence that many already do, then it could become a self-fulfilling prophecy, and events in the world could take on an irresistible momentum of their own.

This is why we think that the U.S. made a very serious mistake in withdrawing support from South Vietnam and Cambodia in their hour of agony. We have opened up a crisis of confidence in our leadership and our will to act which no amount of reassuring words from the White House or Secretary of State is going to assuage.

This is a critical moment in history and our friends and enemies both will be far more interested from now on in what we do than in what we say.

And Now Laos

It hardly seems possible, but fourteen years ago the "Laos Crisis" was in the forefront of this country's foreign policy problems. The departing President Eisenhower warned the incoming John Kennedy that the U.S. might have to intervene with troops if the Communist Pathet Lao, backed up by the North Vietnamese, persisted in their efforts to take over the country militarily. Kennedy declined this course, opting instead for a patchwork coalition government that left half the country in the hands of the North Vietnamese. They in turn used it as a corridor to feed troops and supplies into South Vietnam. The battle that was avoided in Laos was joined, and finally lost, in Vietnam.

Last week the wheel of tragedy turned full circle. The bamboo curtain rang down on Laos and the last of the Indo-China dominoes toppled.

It hardly drew a headline. As the non-Communist elements in the coalition government resigned and fled and the Royal Laotian Army disintegrated without a fight, the veteran neutralist premier, Souvanna Phouma, could only tell his people that it was necessary to look at the facts and prepare "to reach an accord with history." Who would dare to oppose the Communists now, with the momentum of their victories in Cambodia and Vietnam sweeping all before it in Southeast Asia? Certainly not Laos. And certainly not Thailand, with its whole eastern frontier from China to the Gulf of Siam now open to attack or infiltration. And how long can Malaysia, Singapore, and Burma hold out?

The "unmitigated disaster" which Singapore's Prime Minister Lee Kuan Yew labeled U.S. Southeast Asia policy at a White House dinner cannot be denied and should not be underestimated. Czechoslovakia seemed like a "far away country about which we know nothing" to some Britons in 1938. Laos may appear that way now to some Americans. But in this interconnected world, when history tells for one people, it sounds a warning for all others as well. Americans take heed, lest one day we have to reach our own "accord with history."

STATE CAPITAL
Highlights
AND Sidelights
by Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—The 64th regular session of the Legislature wound down with a few bangs and several whimpers this week.

In five months of activity, it considered legislation touching almost every segment of the state's economic and social life.

Despite criticism, the session did turn out legislation of far-reaching importance. Even before final last-minute decisions on a $12 billion record budget, school finance reform and utilities regulation, the session chalked up these accomplishments:

—Article-by-article constitutional revision, set for a statewide election November 4.

—Approval of Health Maintenance Organizations, a new form of fixed-fee health care coverage, and two medical malpractice insurance bills.

—Provision for issuing certificates of need for hospital facilities and reorganization of the State Board of Health.

—Adoption of a permanent voter registration bill and a measure to authorize primary election finance.

—Passage of a nine-counties House of Representatives bill which will assure single-member districts for the counties.

—Establishment of a 1976 presidential preference primary.

—Agreement on a "rape victims' bill" to aid in prosecution of sex crimes.

Bonds Approved

A proposed constitutional amendment to raise the ceiling on state water development bonds from $400 million to $800 million will be voted on in November, 1976.

The resolution contains a prohibition on use of money to import Mississippi River water. A $35 million limit is also ordered for individual projects which are not part of a statewide water plan.

A bill to authorize issuing all or part of the new bonds will be put off until the 1977 Legislature convenes.

Redistricting Passed

A bill providing single-member House of Representatives districts for nine Texas counties survived a Senate filibuster and was sent to the governor.

It applies to Travis, Jefferson, McLennan, Tarrant, Lubbock, Nueces, Galveston, El Paso and Hidalgo counties.

All the counties except Galveston and Hidalgo were covered by a 1974 court order (later delayed) decreasing single-member districts.

Revenue Rising

Comptroller Bob Bullock, who raised his state revenue estimate more than $200 million, said he may boost it still another $200 million due to President Ford's oil program.

Bullock urged the legislature to adopt a one-year budget and give him a chance to draw a sharper sight on tax income.

He said Ford's $1 a barrel oil import tariff proposal and recommendations to remove price ceilings on "old oil" (domestic crude oil produced at 1972 levels) would certainly bring further hikes in state taxes unless rejected by congress. Oil is taxed at market value by the state.

Court Speaks

The State Supreme Court declined to order dismissal of a lawsuit which resulted in removal of Archer Parr as Duval County judge.

In other action, the High Court declined to reconsider its earlier ruling that the Texas Railroad Commission could not set aside natural gas contracts. Two months ago, the Court held the agency was not required to report gas in Lo-Vaca Gathering Company's lines to help Austin and San Antonio meet a shortage.

The Supreme Court refused to cancel an order of an Austin district judge banning publication of names of jurors in a murder trial until the case goes to the jury. An appeal to the U. S. Supreme Court is promised.

A lower court award of $11,422 damages to an injured Houston Oilers ex-defensive lineman was upheld by the Supreme Court.

A.G. Opinions

Atty. Gen. John Hill, in an opinion requested by Gov. Dolph Briscoe, held Richmond Mayor Hilmir Moore is not barred by law from serving as both mayor and a State Board of Public Welfare member.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded: A person held after arrest on a governor's warrant is not entitled to bail.

Dallas agencies can furnish information on juveniles to a private data bank if the youngsters are not identified.

A school teacher cannot also hold the office of justice of the peace.

A bill which would allow students and military personnel to select their place of residence for purposes of eligibility to vote is constitutional.

Awards Received

Six Texas businesses received the Governor's 1974 Industrial Expansion Award.

Recipients of the award were Mooney Aircraft Corp., Kerrville; Amoco Chemical Corp., Alvin; Timex Corp., Abilene; G&H Casting Corp., Slaton; Inca Metal Products Corp., Lewisville and Mr. Fine, Athens.

Governor Briscoe credited the firms with "fighting the recession in the best way possible—with aggressive expansion and civic responsibility." Texas Industrial Commission selected winners based on nominations by chambers of commerce and industrial foundations.

Short Snorts

A new voter registration law will require all Texas voters to re-register between November 5 and March 1, 1976.

The governor has signed into law that bill banning smoking in many public places. It takes effect in September.

Decline in advance contracting for cotton crops reflects slumping demand, Agriculture Commissioner John White warned.

Recent spring storms caused an estimated $15 million in insured damage, according to Insurance Commissioner Joe Christie.

First City National Bank of Houston was successful bidder on the recent $15 million Water Development Board "clean water" bond issue.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

This is a first for me to write to an Editor but I wanted you to know that I, for one, am in agreement with you and support your right to Freedom of the Press. It is a thankless job reporting news to people as you certainly cannot please us all.

Our country has so many problems but flagrant disrespect for our law officers is one of the major ones I believe. We either elect or hire them and then complain when they are doing their duty.

You are to be congratulated for having the stamina to write the facts in your article of a situation that needed expression to us the public.

All of us Crockett County residents could do so very much for our community if we would pull together constructively and not destructively.

Very truly yours,

blondes. A lighter hair shade is more complimentary to your complexion, which tends to become somewhat sallow with age.

As for your eyes, again choose the softer colors. Eye shadow should be in subdued shades to do the most for you. If your lashes are pale, definitely use mascara; otherwise your eyes will seem to recede when they should be a handsome highlight. If you have eye wrinkles and perhaps less firm eyelids, what to do? You might try—maybe for the first time, if you've been hesitant till now—extra lashes. But not dramatic ones that cause a breeze every time you blink. If the lashes are properly proportioned in a color suitable to your complexion and hair color, they can beautify discreetly.

Some women have taken care of their skin with moisturizers all their adult lives. If you're gaining in years and have just got around to it, let me say it's most important to keep at it—or get to it.

There are special creams and lotions just to moisturize the delicate skin around the eyes and neck, so helpful to the two areas that become dry as the years go on. Hand creams, too, are essential beauty aids, for pretty hands are admired all your life.

Never go to bed without removing all your make-up, and don't do this with a rough soap-and-water-and-wash-cloth scrubbing. Rather, choose a liquid or cream cleanser, literally a moisture-rich facial bath, and gently remove with a soft wash cloth if you prefer it to tissue. Then a quick rinse with a freshener. The beneficial effects of a really good night cream can continue working while you sleep.

The mature woman must assess her appearance and be ready to make changes in her hair-styling, make-up and dress that will enhance her features. Do keep up with the latest styles, but ones that are meant for you. Don't imitate the youth market. You are you—best as yourself at whatever age.

I'd say the most important beauty aid is your attitude. Aging is inevitable, and you simply cannot spend all your time scampering around seeking softly lit rooms so your latest wrinkles won't show. Convey the confidence, poise and warmth that should grow better and better with experience.

Dear Mrs. Robinson:
I'm on my feet all day long. What treatment would you suggest for tired feet?

Dear S.A.:
Submerge your feet in a pan filled with warm water, with a tablespoon of baking soda added, and let them soak. Towel your feet briskly to enliven circulation, and then prop them up while you read or watch TV. Afterwards apply a foot moisturizing cream to soften up toughened skin.

Tips For Gardeners
From the Ozona Garden Club by Mrs. Bailey Post

Usually summertime is here when June arrives and brings a wide range of many kinds and varieties of flowers. Also, June brings lengthened days and with the time change, extends the time for garden activities. Early morning and late evening hours are the most pleasant to do mowing, edging, weeding, and tending flower beds. During these hours the wind is generally calm, so it's a good time to spray or dust for insects. Too, it's a great time for relaxing in your garden, and to enjoy the beauty you have created with planning plus many hours of hard work.

Everyone was grateful last week for the series of late May showers which gave us a few days respite from the constant chore of watering. As a result, the trees, shrubs, plants and grass seemed to be thankful, and put on a fresh lush green again.

If the leaves of your spring flowering bulbs have browned, separate and transplant them if needed. Many bulbs, especially daffodils become crowded and produce small flowers of poor quality if the bulbs are not separated every two or three years. Place the small side bulbs in a back corner of the garden until they become large enough for effective use. Be sure you plant the bulbs in a well-drained area, for they will not do well in a wet, soggy spot.

Gardening has its frustrations, among which is impatience over slow-sprouting seed. Knowing how long it will take your seed to germinate will help. Also the temperature of the soil should be considered, and it helps to be able to distinguish the flower from weed seedlings. Here are some flowers that should germinate within five days: ageratum, amaranthus, candytuft, cosmos, dahlia, four-o'clock, stock, zinnia, marigold and annual pinks. Ten days: aster, balsam, calendula, pansylobelia, poppy, portulaca, scabiosa, snapdragon, carnation and California poppy. Fifteen to twenty days: begonia, datura, impatiens, larkspur, primula, salvia and sweet pea. Marigolds and zinnias share with petunias the tri-popularity prize among annuals. While zinnias and marigolds have large seed and germinate quickly, petunias are an exception. Their seed are very small and can take up to 12 days to germinate. They are seldom sown directly in the garden.

Have you noticed the attractive and colorful planting around the Courthouse Annex which was done by the Sorority? For the bicentennial year, they chose white snapdragon, red petunias and blue ageratum. Thanks for helping beautify our city.

Planting days for June: Above-ground Crops - 11, 12, 17-20. Root Crops - 1-3, 6, 7, 24, 25, 28, 30.

Acute Depression Is Serious Mental Illness

Everyone feels sad and gloomy at some time or another--but depression that is extended or acute is a serious mental illness, Dorothy Taylor, family life education specialist, pointed out this week.

The National Association for Mental Health defines depression as an emotional state of dejection and sadness, ranging from mild discouragement and downheartedness to feelings of utter hopelessness and despair, the specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the Texas A&M University System, said.

"Depression is the most common form of mental disorder, according to the American Psychiatric Association," Miss Taylor reported. Frustration, disappointment and personal loss or boredom can lead to a depressed state. Because depression is usually a temporary state of being, most people maintain productive lives, she said.

"Another interesting aspect of depression is that it has no age barrier. Infants to older adults can be depressed. Depression seems to peak in adolescence, drops off between ages 20-35, then slowly rises thereafter.

"Mild bouts of the blues, such as those related to loneliness, a social or business setback, or loss of perspective due to extreme fatigue or stress, usually disappear as events take a happier turn. Most moderate depressions respond to short-term treatment."

Miss Taylor said that depression is better understood today. Since most patients respond positively to mood-elevating medication, the outlook for this state of mental health is quite hopeful.

"Individuals who are mildly depressed can help themselves by facing the reality of being depressed. Listening to music, laughing, cooking, improving appearance or hard physical exercise help many overcome mild cases of 'the blues'."

Because our emotional machinery is so adaptable and resilient, time and regaining self-esteem usually help us bounce back from depression to good mental health, this specialist pointed out.

Jennifer Nicholas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Nicholas, will attend Camp Capers, the Episcopal Church camp near Comfort, from June 10 to the 17. This will be her seventh consecutive year of attendance. She serves as Lay-reader and Server at St. John's Episcopal Church in Sonora.

DIET IMPORTANT FOR PREGNANT WOMEN

Careful selection of foods is especially important during pregnancy because a mother's nutrition directly affects her baby's health.

Nutrients are necessary for total development of the fetus. If the mother doesn't eat correctly while carrying the baby, the baby may be malnourished, resulting in low birth weight. This may keep brain growth from developing normally.

This child may grow slower, have more illnesses and have limitations in brain development and behavior as compared to the "normal" child at birth. A weight gain of about 20-24 pounds is generally recommended during pregnancy. This is not the time to diet or restrict calories and needed nutrients.

Need for most nutrients rises about 30 per cent above normal during the second three months of pregnancy. But calorie needs do not increase this much--only about 200 calories during the last three months.

Those nutrients needing particular attention during pregnancy are energy (calories), protein, folic acid, iron and calcium. Many physicians recommend routine vitamin and mineral supplements. Sodium intake for healthy pregnant women should not be routinely discouraged. The normal changes during pregnancy increase the requirement for this mineral.

A food plan can be adapted to fit cultural, economic and personal needs and tastes of the pregnant woman. Additional calories should be obtained from foods in this plan--it's best to avoid foods containing calories with few other nutrients.

Milk Group--three or more cups of fortified skim, low-fat or whole milk or cheese equivalent.

Meat Group--two or more servings (two-three ounce cooked) of lean meat, fish or poultry or meat alternate including dried beans and eggs.

Fruit-Vegetable Group--four or more servings (one-half cup) including one dark green leafy or deep yellow and one citrus or other food rich in Vitamin C.

MIDNIGHT OIL

If she has kept up with the course all term, she'll not flunk because of this nap. BUT--if she is counting on the midnight oil to pull her through the exam... Too bad!

You've heard of people being converted to Christianity on their deathbed. True! As Christ promised salvation to a penitent thief on the cross, so God's love reaches out even in the final hour to those who call on Him in faith.

But don't live your life on the dangerous principle that last-minute cramming will satisfy all your religious needs.

There will be millions of adults and children in church next Sunday. They are seeking spiritual truth, gaining Christian convictions... not because they need some religion to die with--because they need Faith to live by.

ABC's Of Cycle Safety Told

Economic and health benefits from bicycling have increased the number of riders lately.

So it's more important than ever to remember that Always Be Careful is the ABC of bicycle safety, reminded Dorothy Taylor, family life education specialist.

"Bicycling shouldn't be a game of chance, nor should the ride end in the hospital emergency room if bicycle safety rules are observed," the specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service,
The Texas A&M University System, said.

More than 15 per cent of bike accidents are caused by mechanical and structural problems. This makes it important for the rider to observe safety rules--but it's also his responsibility to ride a safe bike, she said.

Bicycles come in different sizes, just like people.
--Sidewalk bikes are for beginners (children) and may have training wheels to steady the child's balance.
--A middle-weight bicycle has one or two speeds, balloon tires and coaster brakes. It offers stability and strength for everyday riding.

--High-rise bicycles
usually have high-rise handle bars, banana seats and are small in size. High-rise bikes are fun and easy to handle, but are hard to pedal long distances.

--Lightweight bikes have more gears, complex parts and hand brakes. They're easy to ride over hills and long distances.

--Adult-size tricycles are three-wheeled bikes with balloon tires, coaster brakes and no gears.
"Riders should select a bicycle that fits them in size, transportation needs and riding skills," Miss Taylor said.

Safety features to check are reflectors on back and front and on wheels; lights for night riding; pedals with treads; no protruding or sharp points that snag clothing.
Also, hand and foot brakes that hold; wheels that do not wobble; and bike parts such as spokes, chain, handlebar grips, brake pads and cables that are in good, not worn, condition.

Special care should be taken to avoid long coats, loose-legged pants or blinding caps when riding. Stumpling on bicycles or falling to observe traffic rules are poor riding habits, she said.

Mrs. Nicholas Attends Cancer Meeting

Mrs. M. E. Nicholas was in Austin May 28-29 for the Area II meeting of the American Cancer Society. Meeting in sessions were members of the Medical and Scientific Committee (for the dental and medical profession only). Also meeting were committees on Public Education, Public Information, Service and Rehabilitation and Crusade.

Due to the fact that the District 4 Crusade Chairman moved out of the District and Area Mrs. Nicholas will finish the present year in that capacity. She served as District Crusade and Area II Crusade chairman last year and has been appointed as chairman for the district for the year commencing Sept. 1, 1975.

Jennifer accompanied her mother to Austin and was able to visit briefly with Miss Phyllis Clark, former Ozona resident.

Keith Peters, Crockett County Hospital Administrator, is recuperating from emergency surgery at his parents home in Alpine.

New Prints Making Fashion News

Watch for "engineered" prints, they're making fashion news, Mrs. Becky Culp, area clothing specialist, advised.

This is one of the newest fashionable fabric designs. The term "engineered" refers to a large bordered design, usually scenic, that moves around the total body, the specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, explained.

"Predominately popular in T shirts, shirts and tops, sleeves are also engineered into the total design.

"Currently sold primarily in ready-to-wear markets, homesewers can create engineered designs with careful planning from border print fabrics," she said.

Environmental Conditions Cause Tomato Bloom Drop

Certain environmental conditions will cause tomato blooms to shed, resulting in a poor fruit set. Partial failure of flowers to develop into fruit will result in abnormal fruits which may be misshapen or catfaced, points out Billy Reagor, county agent for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Blossom drop is most common in tomatoes which bloom late. The usual cause for poor fruit set is high temperatures--either at night or day. Nighttime temperatures above 72 degrees F. along with daytime temperatures above 90 degrees F. often result in heavy blossom drop. On the other hand, unseasonably cool weather may also cause blossoms to drop in addition to causing abnormalities in fruits.

Other factors causing lack of fruit set or abnormal fruit include unbalanced nutrition, extended periods of warm, windy weather with low humidity, extended periods of showery, cool, overcast weather in the early spring, and insects and diseases.

Therefore, providing a balanced fertilizer and controlling insects and diseases will help in controlling blossom drop. Of course, little can be done about weather conditions.

Poor fruit set is most common in the large slicing types of tomatoes, notes the agent. However, such varieties as Early Giant, Spring Giant, Spring Set and Improved Summertime have the ability to set fruit during somewhat higher temperatures.

Smaller sized tomatoes that normally do not have the fruit set problem include such varieties as Small Fry, Red Cherry, Roma and the new Texas Agricultural Experiment Station variety, Saladette.

In areas where blossom drop seems to be a common problem year after year, Reagor suggests planting some of the smaller type tomatoes or those varieties that tend to be more tolerant to higher temperatures.

How great a matter a little fire kindleth!

MISS KUYKENDALL & MR. ARNETT --plan August Wedding

Miss Kuykendall Is Engaged To Mr. Arnett

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Kuykendall of Cherokee announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Ann, to Steve Arnett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Arnett of Sheffield, formerly of Ozona.

Miss Kuykendall attended San Saba High School and Abilene Christian College.

Steve, a graduate of Iraan High School, attended Abilene Christian College and is presently employed with a gas plant south of Sheffield.

The wedding will take place August 22 in the Wallace and Second Street Church of Christ in San Saba.

Genealogy and Family History Workshop Slated In Odessa

Family history has become America's number one hobby. As the momentum of the American Bicentennial celebration increases, some 35 million Americans will go visiting and seeking out the original homesites of ancestors to recapture the flavor of experiences witnessed by these people. They will explore their past through preserved diaries, photographs and scrapbooks, and they will enter archives and libraries to dig through records which still remain to tell the true story.

Dr. Margaret Mead, a member of the American Bicentennial Administration, pinpointed this turn toward family history in an April, 1975, Redbook article entitled "Celebrating the Bicentennial Family Style". Dr. Mead described how commissions and committees at all levels of society are providing the framework and the background of events and people and places. "For all this to become more than a splendid pageant", she states, "our children will want to know more intimately about the lives of people who are real and very close to them--how they lived and what they looked like and what they made of the world around them".

A special series of family history workshops will be held at the First Christian Church, 601 North Lee Street, Odessa, Texas on June 6-7. The Friday evening session runs from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m., with Saturday sessions from 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. How to Use Foreign Sources in America is the topic for Friday evening. A special feature will show how to analyze evidence of immigrant origins in old photographs.

Saturday sessions include How American Census Schedules Can Extend Your Pedigree and How to Find Birth, Marriage and Death Dates Prior to 1900. A special bonus session entitled, "Nuts and Bolts Workshop" will be presented Friday afternoon from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. at no additional cost to registrants. Each workshop session will be preceded by an hour of free pedigree consultation on individual genealogical problems. Participants will also have the opportunity to browse among informative displays on family and local history and to see the newest in research aids and publications. Materials have been planned to provide interest for all levels of genealogical expertise - beginner, advanced, amateur and professional.

Instruction for the workshops will be provided by two members of a nationally known educational organization, The Genealogical Institute, which has presented several seminars in the Los Angeles area in the past two or three years.

Heading the lecture team is Mrs. Arlene Eakle, who is co-author of Family History for Fun and Profit. She is completing her Ph.D. in British History and is an expert in tracing American, Canadian and British pedigrees. Joining Mrs. Eakle is Miss Nancy Poolman, Miss Poolman spent the summer microfilming French parish and civil records in local and provincial archives. She is a graduate of U.C.L.A. and former European analyst for the Brigham Young University, Genealogical Research Center. Miss Poolman, who reads 9 languages, is completing her M.A. in French history.

For reservations and further information, contact Registration Chairman, Mrs. Shirley Linder Rad, 3604 Shell, Midland, Texas 79701 (915) 694-3796 (after 5 p.m.)

If the purchase price for an item offered by a door-to-door salesman is $25 or more, consumers have three days to reconsider--even after signing a contract. Be sure the salesman offers the form to cancel, Mrs. Doris Myers, family resource management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, says.

ENERGY SAVING TIPS
A light left on at night in a vacant house can provide you with a measure of convenience and security. But lights left on during daylight hours waste electricity. By using a timer you can make sure that your home won't be completely dark when you're away, yet save electricity during hours when lights aren't really needed.

REDDY'S HELPFUL FREEZER TIPS

Lock in flavor. Use moisture and vapor-proof materials especially designed for freezers to wrap your foods. Tightly sealed, these lock in flavor and moisture and prevent "freezer burn" (surface drying) on foods. Don't use wax paper, bread paper or regular cellophane for freezer foods.

Label packages. Date and identify freezer packages so (1) you don't accumulate a lot of mysterious shapes and (2) you'll be able to pick out foods that have been in the freezer longest.

Take advantage of sales. Avoid overstocking with commercially frozen food that's always available; use your freezer as your own bargain counter and store foods you can buy on sale. But do allow space for short-time baked goods, leftovers and special party foods.

STATE REPRESENTATIVE SUSAN McBEE AND SENATOR PETE SNELSON look on as Gov. Dolph Briscoe signs into law a bill introduced in the House by Mrs. McBee and sponsored in the Senate by Senator Snelson. The law provides that in sparsely populated counties the Commissioners Courts may establish voting precincts of less than 100 voters. The law becomes effective 90 days after being signed by the Governor.

Krueger Is Co-Sponsor For Estate Tax Bill

Twenty-first District Congressman Bob Krueger announced today, he is co-sponsoring with Representative Omar Burleson (D-Tex), legislation designed to reform federal estate taxes.

H.R. 1793, strongly supported by the Texas Farm Bureau, provides three basic changes in the present Federal Estate Tax structure, which will benefit all taxpayers. The bill raises the present $60,000 tax exemption, adopted in 1942, to $200,000, applicable to all estates. The bill also raises the marital deduction from 50% of the adjusted gross estate to $100,000, plus 50% of the total value of the adjusted gross estate.

The legislation further establishes a procedure by which farm and ranch estates could elect to be assessed at their value for agricultural purposes, rather than values for higher uses, provided these estates have been devoted to farming or ranching for at least five years.

"I am pleased," Krueger said, "to co-sponsor the Federal Estate Tax Reform Bill with my colleague, Omar Burleson. I feel this adjustment of exemptions for tax purposes is necessary because inflationary pressures have placed a heavy burden on all estate taxpayers." Krueger added, "I am particularly concerned that this country's farmers and ranchers keep their land in production, and this proposed legislation will help to do that by diminishing significantly the possibility of loss of farms and ranches because of inflated estate taxes."

Cooperation Essential For Brucellosis Eradication

If brucellosis is to be eradicated from Texas and the United States, full cooperation from cattle producers and all agencies involved in the program is essential, emphasizes Billy Reagor, county agent for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The state-federal eradication program began on a voluntary basis in 1934. In 1954 a system was begun that involved testing cattle to find infected herds then slaughtering the infected animals.

The current program is under the direction of the Texas Animal Health Commission (TAHC), with Dr. H. Q. Sibley as executive director. It calls for the identification of market animals for tracing, investigation of infected herds, and vaccination of replacement calves in high-risk areas.

Although the TAHC has the authority to quarantine entire herds as well as adjacent areas when the situation warrants it, the general policy is to quarantine only the group of cattle where the infected animal was located, explains the agent.

The eradication program is hampered severely when industry segments fail to cooperate in locating herds where reactors have been found, emphasizes the agent. The seriousness of the disease warrants that producer and related interests work together for the benefit of the livestock industry.

Working with the TAHC in a cooperative educational program on brucellosis eradication are the U. S. Department

Honey No More Nutritious Than Sugar

Honey is often touted as "much better for you" than other sugars. But is it really? Sally Springer, foods and nutrition specialist, said that honey is actually no more practical than sugar as a source for adequate daily intake of necessary nutrients. "A tablespoon of honey provides more calories and carbohydrates than the same amount of granulated, powdered or brown sugar. "It has less calcium, phosphorus and iron than brown sugar. Honey contains minimal amounts of thiamin, riboflavin and ascorbic acid," the specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, said.

She explained that there are only small differences in the amounts of vitamins and minerals in honey and other sugars.

Honey is invert sugar formed by an enzyme from nectar gathered by bees. It's composed of different kinds of sugars, including dextrose, sucrose, levulose and maltose, she said.

"Honey varies in composition and flavor, depending upon the source of the nectar--clover, orange blossom, sage--and is sweeter than common table sugar."

of Agriculture, Texas Department of Agriculture, Texas Farm Bureau and Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

A recent publication on brucellosis eradication is available at the county Extension office, adds Reagor.

Store Excess Vegetable Seeds For Future Use

If you bought more seeds than needed to plant your spring vegetable garden, store them properly and they will remain viable for a number of years.

Properly stored seeds can be used for fall gardens as well as for plantings next spring, points out Billy Reagor, county agent for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Saving seeds is especially important since some varieties are often difficult to find. Furthermore, seeds are becoming more expensive so they should not be wasted.

Most vegetable seeds can simply be stored in the home refrigerator for periods of two to five years. Seeds should be packaged in an air-tight container such as a glass jar with a tight-fitting lid. Before storing seeds, make sure they are free of moisture.

If seeds are to be placed in packets or envelopes other than the ones they came in, be sure to note the variety and source of seeds on the packet as well as the date seeds were stored.

CALLING ALL HOMEMAKERS

Brought to you By Lillian Brown

This week, we bring you some general decorating tips we thought you might enjoy reading about and thinking about.

Bright contrasting throw cushions are nothing new on a living room sofa--but how about a few of them placed against the bolster on your bed, in well selected colors? This can brighten up your bedroom.

If you have an empty space at the end of your living room, you might consider a special cocktail-conversation-coffee grouping by using a love seat faced by several small chairs, and a small round table in the center of the group.

To put new life into your living room, try a new lamp shade in a new bright color.

A room is often improved by replacing a huge, space-talding cocktail table with a pair of smart, smaller tables.

We know that every home maker is always interested in decorating tips and furniture ideas, and for that reason we extend a cordial invitation to you to visit us. You're free to browse around to your heart's content, with no obligation, and we think you'll enjoy seeing all the new furniture and ideas we have. Come on in!
