Finishing the quarterly tax reports always puts us in a mood to revolt. Spending a whole day filling out forms and writing checks for taxes collected from my employees, the public, plus my own contribution, completely without remuneration is not my idea of freedom of choice.

We do sort of have a choice. We can either act as the government's tax collector - bookkeeper without pay, or we can refuse and be penalized and jailed. Some choice.

The power, control and authority exerted by the government over private individuals and small businesses today, make the powers held by King George 200 years ago pale into insignificance.

And what happens to the money? Billions are being spent by the bureaucracy in Washington without the consent, approval or even the knowledge of the people.

Most Congressmen will admit that they cannot begin to keep track of even a portion of the Federal budget. Yet it is they who have voted into being the countless bureaus, commissions, agencies and authorities with hundreds of thousands of highly paid employees.

Maybe we need another revolution in 1976, our 200th year. A taxpayers' revolution or revolt. It's too much to hope for relief from taxes at the ballot box. Even if we kicked out every elected official in office, from the President on down, we would still be faced with the giant, faceless bureaucracy. Where does it end?

Ardena Kunkel came by Sunday evening with an interesting package she found in the street while out bicycling. She thought it was marijuana. It was in a sandwich size baggie. Weighed on my WW scales, it weighed nothing, but there was quite a lot of the stuff in the bag.

All the pot I had ever seen was green with little seeds in it. This had some green and little seeds, but it was mostly colorless. However, we lit some on a paper towel and the smell was unmistakable. At least an hour later we could still smell it. Ardena 'lowed as how once your nose was saturated with the scent, maybe it never left. Horrible thought!

As she and Herb ambled toward home with their find, Tom cautioned them not to drop any seeds in the yard.

So, if you lost your pot in the street by the football field, it's either been flushed into the sewer or made into brownies.

Seriously, adults need to be more knowledgeable about street drugs, especially parents. Periodic briefings by police officers would be beneficial.

18th Annual Junior Rodeo To Start Friday With Parade

Ozona's 18th Annual Junior Rodeo gets under way tomorrow, Friday. The two-day event begins with a parade at 5 o'clock. Shows begin each night at 7:30.

The junior rodeo is sponsored annually by the Ozona Lions Club, and club members do most of the work. They are assisted in the arena by members of the Ozona Roping Club and other volunteers.

The parade will be under the direction of Weldon Maness. Everybody is invited to participate, individuals as well as organizations or clubs. The parade will make up as in past years, on the vacant lot between the Sherman Taylor home and South Texas Lumber Co. All participants should be on hand by 4:30 in order to form up.

The parade will be led traditionally by the flag bearers, followed by the reigning rodeo queen, Deklyn Cain. Next will be the contestants for rodeo queen. The six contestants for rodeo queen. The six contestants this year are Karen Kirby, Lucy Perner, Janice Janes, Dawn Burns, Helen Bunger and Marsha Kirkden.

Lions Club sweetheart Lynn Maness will appear, representing the Lions Club, and will be riding in the grand entry each night of the rodeo. Most contestants and others will follow on horseback. The Lion band has been asked to be in the parade, but as of press time their appearance was uncertain.

The parade will travel up Ave. E, circle the park, turn west at Hwy. 290 and continue to the shopping center where it will disperse. When the books closed Monday at midnight, there were as many entries or more than in previous years, so this year's show should prove entertaining for rodeo spectators.

Rodeo fans will see barrel racing, flag racing, pole bending, bull riding, calf roping, ribbon roping and rescue riding. There will be three age groups in the one and one-half go roundshow. Trophies, awards and presentation of the queen will highlight the show Saturday night. The $500 C. E. Davidson Memorial Scholarship will be presented to the best

The rain gave the month of July the distinction of the heaviest rainfall month for the year.

County Second In State In Numbers Of Sheep & Lambs

With a total of 192,000 head reported, Crockett County placed second in the state in the number of sheep and lambs on hand, Agriculture Commission John C. White has announced.

The total number of sheep and lambs in Crockett County as of January 1 represents 7.1 per cent of the state figure of 2,688,000 and helped to make Texas the number one producer of sheep and lambs in the country.

The January 1 statewide figure was some 402,000 fewer than that reported for the same date in 1973 and more than 1 million less than in 1970, according to statistics compiled by the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service.

Production of sheep and lambs in 1974 totaled 111,205,000 pounds, compared to 148,295,000 in 1973. The average 1974 price received statewide for sheep was $14.20 while lambs brought an average of $35.70.

Gross income for the sheep and lamb industry in Texas is estimated at $46,236,000 for 1974, more than $5 million less than a year earlier.

With a total value of more than $15 million, wool production in the state in 1974 reached 23,900,000 pounds, down almost 2 1/2 million pounds from the previous year.

Crockett County's 1974 wool production reached 1,700,000 while mohair production in the county totaled 396,000 pounds.

Re-opening Of County Field Is Attempted

Texas Oil & Gas Corp., Midland, will attempt to re-open the Clayton Ranch (Ellenburger gas) field of Crockett County with the staking of its No. 1 Clayton Ranch, a 9,500 foot project, 3/8 mile east-northeast of the depleted four-well field and 10 miles east of Ozona.

Location is 990 feet from north and 1,320 feet from west lines of 12-GH-GC&SF.

The opener, Mobil Oil Corp. (formerly Magnolia Oil Co.) No. 1 Clayton Ranch, was finalized in 1950 as a shut in gas discovery for 120 barrels of 57 gravity distillate, plus an unreported amount of gas, through a 23-64-inch choke and perforations at 8,680-730 feet.

VANDALS STRIKE AGAIN -- Cedar Hill Cemetery was the scene of malicious mischief again sometime late Thursday night. However, the damage was not nearly as extensive as that earlier in the year when stones were knocked over and trees slashed. This time the perpetrator broke through the gate and drove around leaving deep ruts in the grass. The auto left white paint on the gates. Officers are looking for a vehicle with black paint marks and tires with tread matching that of the ruts at the cemetery.

MacMillan's Textbooks for 1984

The MacMillan Publishing Company, one of the nation's largest, apparently has decided to get a headstart on its textbooks for 1984 — the year in which, according to novelist George Orwell, reality and truth will finally have been totally subverted by Big Brotherism.

As if the current crop of textbooks being offered our children isn't sorry enough, MacMillan has just issued guidelines for its textbook writers which it says, in a preface, are part of "our search and struggle for a more egalitarian society." Interpreted, that means a gray, faceless society in which everyone is equal by fiat — as though MacMillan can succeed where God failed.

"Except in the social studies field, we are more interested in emphasizing what can be, rather than the negatives that still exist," explain the guidelines. "The fact that black persons do not yet hold a proportionate share of executive positions should not prevent us from depicting a sizeable number of blacks as executives."

The ludicrousness of the guidelines, however, reaches its apex as MacMillan prescribes how to rid the world of stereotypes, regardless of their indisputable accuracy. Do not, for example, portray "Mother bringing sandwiches to Dad as he fixes the roof." Instead, show "Mother fixing the roof." When was the last time you saw the little woman slaving away on a rooftop while the old man was in the kitchen preparing lunch?

MacMillan's guidelines are so patently absurd that even traditional liberal apologists are throwing up their hands in disbelief. Radical columnist Nicholas von Hoffman, for example, says what MacMillan is selling is "a depraved egalitarianism in which children are turned into atomized pumpkin people who may serve the manpower needs of government and corporation but certainly not truth or beauty."

Parents who don't want their children's minds fed such trash should make their views plainly known to local school and other public officials. Letters to the MacMillan Co. in New York City also might not hurt.

Half of U.S. on Welfare by 2000?

The departing Secretary of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare has issued a dire warning that, if the current trend continues, one out of every two Americans will be on welfare by the year 2000.

"If social programs continue growing for the next two decades at the same pace they have in the last two," that will be the result, said Secretary Caspar W. Weinberger in his last major speech as head of HEW. "Half of the American people will be working to support the other half." His speech was before San Francisco's Commonwealth Club.

Weinberger noted that when he joined the federal government in 1970 the federal budget was $196.6 billion. Today it is $358.9 billion — an increase of 83 percent. HEW itself, with a budget of $110 billion, accounts for nearly a third of that amount.

The Secretary disputes those who argue that the nation's gross national product also has increased considerably, so the federal budget increase is not so serious. The federal spending trend, noted Mr. Weinberger, has shifted away from traditional areas such as defense, in favor of programs that "reduce the remaining freedom of individuals and lessen the power of other levels of government. This shift... has transformed the task of aiding life's victims from a private concern to a public obligation."

Continuing, the Secretary said, "We are creating a massive welfare state that has intruded into the lives and personal affairs of our citizens," adding that the uncoordinated federal response to the needs of the poor, the sick, and the uneducated "is quite literally threatening to bring us to national insolvency."

We subscribe totally to Weinberger's thesis that "it is not more social programs that will solve our nation's ills, but more economic growth. Growth alone provides the jobs that reduce social ills."

Although HEW has become a symbol for the nation's massive welfare spending, it remains true that the Department's role is only to administer programs that have been passed by Congress. If we are to halt the ruinous spiral that is impelling us toward a national welfare state, we must let the Members of Congress know in no uncertain terms that the road to reelection does not wind through further welfare programs.

Soviet SALT Performance

As negotiations proceed toward the conclusion of a second Strategic Arms Limitation Agreement, the evidence is now conclusive that the Soviets have utilized every possible ambiguity and loophole in the 1972 SALT treaty to seek further military advantage over the United States.

For example, the Soviets are substituting the much larger SS-19 ICBM, which is MIRVed and carries six warheads, for the single warhead SS-11. This is contrary to the unilateral U.S. interpretation of the agreement, which was that "light" ICBMs would not be replaced by "heavy" ones. In addition, the Soviets have been placing covers over their mobile missile launchers to conceal them from U.S. reconnaissance satellite photography. They are interfering with U.S. measurements by telemetry of their MIRV testing, thus denying us vital intelligence information on their progress. Some 150 new missile silos may have been added to the Soviet total of ICBMs under the false claim that they are "command and control" capsules. And we know that the Soviets have been testing their radar and surface-to-air missiles in what the treaty calls an "ABM mode," i.e., upgrading their air defense system into an ABM system, which is prohibited by the treaty.

The Ford administration will not admit the facts of life because it fears that detente will be exposed as a hollow fraud. We hope the U.S. people and their elected representatives in the Congress will be more alert to what is really happening.

AUSTIN — Inflation closed in on Texans from two more fronts within the last week.

A court order lifting a 90-day medical malpractice insurance rate freeze (see story below) may boost medical bills $50 million to $200 million a year, according to Texas Hospital Association.

One medical official estimated hospital costs will increase $2 to $8 a day due to the increasing insurance charges for doctors and hospitals which are passed on to patients.

Meanwhile, Texas Department of Highways and Public Transportation launched a 90-day study to determine how it can trim payrolls and services in the face of rising costs.

The Department already has announced its scheduled August letting of contracts for road repair and reconstruction would not be held. It also has practiced a reduced hiring policy in an effort to hold down numbers of employees.

Engineer-Director Luther DeBerry of the Department of Highways and Public Transportation said there is no way of knowing how many jobs will be knocked out due to the study.

He indicated the reduction may be as much as 20 per cent over a two-year period, however.

"Watchdog" Job Mapped "Common Cause," the citizens' lobby, and a coalition of other consumer-oriented groups will monitor work of the new Public Utilities Commission.

The group warned that utility monopolies will try to "capture" the regulatory group. A non-profit, tax-exempt organization will be formed to protect consumer interests in rate and service disputes.

At about the same time, the Texas Coalition for Utility Regulation urged Governor Dolph Briscoe to make public names of persons he is considering for appointment to the Commission. Briscoe's appointments assistant, George Lowrance, said the governor has no intention of doing so.

CIA Funded Research

The Central Intelligence Agency funded $436,702 worth of research in six projects at the Texas Research Institute for Mental Sciences at Houston.

Projects were criticized by Rep. Lane Denton of Waco who claimed studies were "only remotely related" to the state institution's job of research in treatment of mental illness.

Most of the funds apparently went to efforts to improve the polygraph or lie detector. The scientist in charge of the project said polygraphs are used widely in evaluation of mental illness.

Courts Speak

An Austin district judge blocked State Board of Insurance plans to freeze medical malpractice insurance rates at the June 3 level, leaving them unregulated until September.

Fourth Court of Civil Appeals declined to reinstate ousted Duval County Judge Archer Parr. Parr is appealing to the Supreme Court.

The State Supreme Court agreed to reconsider lower court decisions that rules requiring unmarried undergraduate women students at Texas Woman's University to reside in dormitories are unconstitutional.

Former all-American football player John Kimbrough succeeded in getting a Supreme Court order to try his $1 million lawsuit growing out of use of his picture in a Coca-Cola ad.

The Supreme Court agreed to review lower court findings that uncorroborated testimony of an accomplice is sufficient to judge an Ector County youth a delinquent.

Right of a state agency to stop savings and loan associations from giving premiums to attract deposits was upheld by the Supreme Court. The finding backed up trial and intermediate courts.

AG Opinions

A school board is not required to reveal identity of employees discussed and evaluated in a properly conducted meeting, Attorney General John Hill held.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded: Persons committing crimes while under 17 years of age are within exclusive jurisdiction of juvenile court.

Individual teacher retirement records are not subject to disclosure under the open meetings law.

Insurance Boost Asked

A 13.8 per cent average hike in homeowners insurance coverage will be the subject of a State Insurance Board hearing August 4.

The industry is also seeking an increase of 4.7 per cent in fire coverage for dwellings.

Texas Insurance Advisory Association is further seeking elimination of 10 per cent discounts on three-year fire and extended coverage policies.

Short Snorts

Governor Briscoe approved 77 action grants and 25 planning grants totaling $5.9 million to reduce crime and improve the criminal justice system.

Senator Tati Santiesteban of El Paso served as acting governor of the state part of last week, due to absence of both Governor Briscoe and Lieutenant Governor Bill Hobby.

Comptroller Bob Bullock continued shutting down businesses in Fort Worth, Hurst, Irving, Dallas, Mineral wells and Killeen for failure to pay back state and city sales taxes.

State spending soared to an all time high of $962.1 million during May.

Sex Discrimination

WASHINGTON—New Regulations promulgated by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW) could mean the end of intercollegiate sports programs as we now know them.

HEW issued regulations last month to enforce the mandate of Title IX of the Education Act Amendments of 1972, which forbids discrimination by sex in our nation's schools, colleges and universities.

The sweeping regulations seek to insure that spending by schools for academic and athletic facilities for students and financial aid to students will be divided fairly between boys and girls, men and women.

Most of the regulations are long overdue. I was a co-sponsor of the bill that made them possible. I feel very strongly that women should be granted equal opportunity and access in academic facilities, including sports activities.

But HEW, in its laudable zeal to guarantee equal athletic opportunities for women, is defeating its own purpose by proposing a rule which will damage the financial base of intercollegiate athletics. This will work to the disadvantage of both men and women students, and to alumni and fans who enjoy watching intercollegiate sports. I have introduced a bill which would exempt revenue producing sports such as football and basketball from the new federal regulations.

At most colleges and universities today intercollegiate athletics are funded in whole or in part by moneys raised through the sale of tickets or through general fundraising campaigns.

Grave concern has been expressed that the HEW regulations will undercut revenue producing sports programs by its insistence that every dollar that is spent for a sports program for men, such as the football team, be matched by a dollar for a comparable sports program for women.

My bill would exempt from the HEW mandate funds for sports such as football and basketball raised by ticket sales or donations from private individuals. Sports which are subsidized by the school would have to comply with the rules.

Passage of my bill would benefit both intercollegiate athletics and equal opportunity for women in sports.

The impairment of the financial base of the revenue-producing activity threatens not only the continued viability of that activity, but the viability of the entire athletic program. The prospect of such impairment becomes especially significant at the present time when there is such a substantial and justified demand for upgrading athletic opportunities for women.

We should continue to move to expand opportunities for women, but our commitment to equality of opportunity should not encompass massive disruptions of the educational institutions and the financial burdens these institutions will be forced to shoulder unless my bill becomes law.

Bob Krueger Reports

U. S. Representative
21st District

As I write this, we in the House are engaged in one of the most heated debates of this session. The debate centers on the comprehensive energy bill on which I have been working for the past five months. The outcome is not yet certain, but several observations can be made.

First, it is extremely difficult to win agreement in Congress on a national energy policy for these reasons: (1) the oil and gas industry is disliked by a number of congressmen who allow their bias against industry to prevent rational national policy; (2) issues often are decided on regional rather than national bases--New England voted against encouraging new domestic production because they lack such production, for example; (3) the awareness of energy as a national problem is so new to so many members that they have little expertise in the area; and (4) many members vote for what is popular with constituents before the next election rather than recognizing the need for sometimes painful decisions now that will serve the entire nation in the long run.

Secondly, a strong dependency still exists to try to divide positions as being either Democratic or Republican, or conservative or liberal. Frequently, however, national policy cannot be decided according to these oversimplified labels. In my judgement, an intelligent energy policy has to have the following characteristics: protection for the consumers against sudden overwhelming price increases; encouragement for domestic oil and gas production to reduce our dependence on Arab imported oil; a policy that will help to develop a market system in which consumers and producers can make their own choices instead of being tied up in expensive and cumbersome governmental regulations.

'It's The Law' In Texas

Does Sec. 46.02 of the Texas Penal Code assess penalties for those who violate its provisions?

Yes, a person who violates this statute commits a misdemeanor and may be punished by a fine not to exceed $2,000 or by confinement in jail for a term not to exceed one year; or by both such fine and imprisonment. If the offense is committed while on any premises licensed or issued a permit by the state for the sale or service of alcoholic beverages, it is a felony punishable by imprisonment for 2 to 10 years. In addition, a fine not to exceed $5,000 may also be assessed.

Are there any other particular places where weapons may not be taken?

Yes, Article 46.04 of the Texas Penal Code says that if a person, with a firearm of any type, intentionally, knowingly or recklessly goes on the premises of a school or educational institution, whether public or private, without written authorization or on the premises of a polling place on a day of election, he commits a misdemeanor punishable by fine not to exceed $2,000 or by jail confinement not to exceed one year or by both fine and imprisonment. (Continued next week.)

Tips For Gardeners

From the Ozona Garden Club by Mrs. Bailey Post

Now that we finally had good rains over our area, the landscape is greening up fast and presents an entirely new and fresh appearance. Most of the spring vegetables have been harvested and out of the ground so it's time to plan and start your fall garden. These can be planted in between rows of vegetables that are still bearing. Some that can be sown now and next month are broccoli, bush bean, corn, spinach, cabbage, turnips and several varieties of greens. Check the date to plant and you may need to plant more seed than in the spring.

For the fall flower display, start new petunia plants and they will be ready to set out in late August. Petunias will grow vigorously until frost to give brilliant coloring to your gardens. Other annuals that don't like summer heat, but thrive best in cool autumn nights are calendulas and cosmos.

Too, this is the time to plant Oriental poppies if you have a good place or room for them. They will thrive in most any good garden soil with sufficient drainage. Once established in your garden, they need little but clean cultivation. No strong fertilizer is required, their favorite food being leaf mold. Since they are deep rooted, they rarely suffer from lack of water after the first year. Clumps increase in size with age and may be left in the same place for years. Mulch new plants under the leaves the first winter.

If iron deficiency is showing up in your azaleas, gardenias or other ornamentals, treat now with chelated iron or iron sulfate. You'll notice that leaves turn yellow between green veins and that newer growth turns yellow first if iron is not available.

Cut hollyhocks off at ground level, fertilize and water. Keep old verbenas blooms clipped to promote more blooms. If you are growing amaryllis, they should have a side dressing of well-rotted manure this or next month to help the bulbs grow large and plump. The growth the

The trouble with many things we buy these days is that they soon go out of style, and we are either left with something we don't like any more, or we feel the need to replace it.

But, if you're a smart furniture buyer, you'll find that furniture is one of the few things that doesn't have to go out of style.

How can you be a smart furniture buyer? How can you get furniture that won't go out of style?

The secret is to buy furniture that is well-designed. Furniture of good design never goes out of style. And let us quickly add that you can get good design in any period. It's not the period that counts, but how the furniture is conceived. And, good design is not necessarily expensive. It's not the price as much as the conception.

What is good design in furniture? First, it's furniture that accomplishes what it's supposed to do. It performs its function well--and is beautiful to look at, at the same time. It has good lines, shape, color and texture.

Design is perhaps the most important element in furniture. As one expert once said, "Design is the difference between beauty and non-beauty in any piece of furniture."

To see furniture of good design and to get help in selecting furniture you can enjoy for years to come, stop in here.

bulbs make in the summer determines the quality and number of flowers for the next year. Then too, a well-grown bulb will produce more off-sets, so keep watered in dry months.

All garden club members especially should be planting, transplanting or rooting cuttings for the fall plant sale. Anyone else that may want to join us for the project will be welcome to do so. There are many dried seed pods, grasses and weathered wood to be found on fishing or camping trips that will sell for dried arrangements.

Microwave Ovens Save Energy "If"

Microwave ovens can add energy conservation to their "plus" lists--but only if they cook for five people or fewer, one authority says.

"The microwave oven cooks most foods in about one-fourth the time of conventional ovens--and that means a significant cut in total energy consumption," Mrs. Lillian Chenoweth, family resource management specialist reported this week.

Translating that into numbers, this makes an average energy savings of 60-65 per cent for a family of four, the specialist added.

Mrs. Chenoweth, a Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, specialist, also said that microwave cooking most food quantities for a four-member family actually saves from 50-70 per cent energy.

"Smaller portion sizes (cooking for one or two persons) makes the microwave oven an even greater energy saver.

"By contrast, for larger portions, the savings are less.

"In fact, for portions of six or more, the microwave oven offers little energy consumption advantage," she admitted.

Lemon Fresh Beauty Easy To Obtain

The ordinary lemon can be a quick, easy, inexpensive beauty treatment, Marlene Odle, a clothing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, suggested this week.

"A few drops of lemon in a favorite shampoo leaves hair shiny and squeaky.

"A fresh lemon squeezed into warm water is a great rinse for soap-dulled hair. Rinse thoroughly with clear water," the specialist with the Texas A&M University System, said.

The lemon is a natural face astringent. Squeeze a fresh lemon into the rinse water for a fresh tingling splash. Rinse with clear water.

Keep a lemon half near the sink to rub over hands after washing to help remove stains and food odors.

"Stick rough elbows in two halves of cut lemons to help whiten and get rid of dry, scaly skin. If lemons are at room temperature, they'll be juicier and more comfortable."

A wedge of fresh lemon rubbed on the skin will give a refreshing relief to tired feet. It helps soften and whiten while it soothes, she said.

This specialist suggested for a fresh clean smell and tingle all over, drop fresh lemon slices into a warm water bath.

Every visitor from the colonies loves the breakfasts of Great Britain and most especially, of the Continent. Their breakfast is something special.

English muffins and coffee star at the Continental breakfast, a perfect beginning for a day of sightseeing and shopping. On the Continent, too, the first meal of the day means rolls or muffins and coffee. Sometimes marmalade is used as a muffin topper.

A breakfast spread for toasted English muffins makes a special treat for breakfast. The honey-orange flavored drizzle and the cream cheese spread is surprisingly nutritious and starts any day off just right. More than just rolls and coffee, the breakfast then becomes a bright, well-balanced one.

Breakfast spread for English muffins can be prepared the day before it is to be served. English muffins can be cut in half with a fork rather than cutting with a knife. The peaks and valleys will catch the melted butter as it seeps in. BREAKFAST SPREAD FOR ENGLISH MUFFINS (Continental Breakfast at Home)

- 6 English Muffins
  - 1/2 c. honey or maple syrup
  - 1/2 t. nutmeg
  - 1 t. grated orange rind
  - 1 pkg. (3 oz.) cream cheese
  - 2 T. milk
  - 1/2 c. chopped pecans
- Split English muffins in half with a fork and toast until lightly browned. In a small bowl, mix honey, nutmeg and orange rind. In another bowl, mash cream cheese until soft and creamy. Beat in milk. Stir in nuts. Spread cream cheese mixture on muffin halves and then drizzle with honey mixture. (Spread and honey mixture can be prepared ahead of time and refrigerated until needed.)

DESTINY: THE MINOR LEAGUES?

Headed for the "Majors" -- that's his dream. But don't count on it, even if he stays in baseball!

For in thousands of cities and towns across America we know that baseball isn't just the major leagues. We know boys on their way up... and men on their way down... and fellows who have gone about as far as they can go. A real ball player is one who gives his club his best--in any league.

How close this comes to a fundamental conviction of the Church!

Christianity gives a man solid footing for his faith in God and in himself. To achieve the full potential of our God-given talents is primary; to fulfill every dream is secondary.

The Church promises no man earthly success. But it helps to appraise the gifts God gave us... to use them honestly and unselfishly. And, startlingly, it points the way to new goals, far beyond our dreams.

County In Top Ten In State Goat Production

Crockett County placed in the top ten in the state in the number of Angora goats, with a total of 37,000 head reported on hand January 1, Agriculture Commissioner John C. White has announced.

Recently released statistics show that the number of Crockett County Angora goats on hand at the first of the year represents 3.2 per cent of the state's total of 990,000 head for that date.

The statewide total for the Angora breed is 190,000 fewer than that for January 1, 1974, and almost one and one half million less than in 1970.

Total number of goats on Texas farms as of the first of the year, including Angora and other breeds, is estimated at 1,150,000 with a total statewide value of more than $15 million.

The average price received by Texas farmers for all goats on January 1 was $13.20 per head compared to $14.50 at the first of 1974.

Crockett County farmers also produced a total of 396,000 pounds of mohair in 1974. Texas as a whole is the source of all the nation's mohair and produced 8,400,000 pounds last year, 1,530,000 less than in 1973.

Complete county statistics concerning goat and mohair production have been included in the 1974 Livestock Statistics book recently published by the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service.

Safety Tips For Power Mowers

Even if you're an old pro at power-mowing your lawn, you may have forgotten some of the basics of lawn mowing safety. Studies show that safety is no accident and 95 percent of all accidents are caused by carelessness.

1. Read the owner's manual carefully, often, and become familiar with your mower before using it.

2. Start the mower engine with feet and hands well away from the blades and other rotating parts.

3. Know your controls. Learn how to stop machine fast in an emergency.

4. Stop the engine and disconnect spark plug before checking the discharge chute and working on the blade, or any other part.

Remember, outdoor power equipment is not a toy and should not be treated as such. By observing these and all other safety rules, you can help assure that grass is all your power mower blades cut this summer.

To The People Of Ozona

I WISH TO THANK THE PEOPLE OF OZONA AND CROCKETT COUNTY FOR TRADING WITH ME ALL THESE YEARS. IT HAS BEEN SAID, AND I WILL SAY IT AGAIN, THE NICEST PEOPLE IN THE WORLD LIVE HERE.

FOR REASONS OF HEALTH, I AM HAVING TO GET OUT, BUT I AM LEAVING MY SHOP IN GOOD HANDS. JOE AND LULA ANGIANO HAVE WORKED FOR ME MANY YEARS AND KNOW THE CLEANING BUSINESS COMPLETELY. I ASK YOU TO GIVE THEM A CHANCE TO SERVE YOU. I KNOW YOU WILL BE SATISFIED.

THANK YOU AGAIN, ARTHUR KYLE
