Lions Lose Out To Crane In Battle For Dist. Title

It was a long ride home for Ozona fans Friday night when after leading the Crane Golden Cranes 14-7 at the half, the Lions let the title slip from their grasp and were beaten 20-14 in their first and only district loss for the season.

The Lions have an open date Friday night while the Cranes will be playing a strong Reagan County team. If Crane should lose, they will share the title with the

Annual Gift Bazaar Is November 25

Womans League members are busily preparing for the annual gift bazaar which will be held Tuesday, November 25, at the Civic Center. The event is the club's big money-raising project for the year. All items are hand made by the members themselves.

This year the League will offer many new and beautiful gift items along with the food booth and garden booth.

There will be Christmas ornaments and decorations, pen and ink sketches, Batik items, bread dough art, aprons, toys, baby items and even paper dolls.

Food orders are being taken in advance but will also be sold at the booth. There will be baked goods, jellies, relishes, etc. Anyone wishing to special order may call Mrs. Charles Spieker at 392-2274.

Lions and the Owls, and the representative of the district in the playoffs will be decided by the flip of a coin. Of course, if Crane beats the Owls, they will win the title outright.

During the first half Friday night in the Crane stadium, it looked as if the Lions had the title sewed up. The Lions got on the scoreboard early in the first quarter when senior halfback Ricky Perry capped a drive with a 2-yard plunge for the touchdown. John (Surefoot) Galvan put it between the uprights for the extra point.

Less than three minutes later Perry broke loose on a 42-yard gallop that set the Lions up with a first and 10 at the Crane 11. On the very next play quarterback Vaden Aldridge bounded the 11 yards to score. Again Galvan added the extra point.

Crane got on the scoreboard in the second quarter and added the extra point just before halftime.

The second half belonged to the Crane Golden Cranes, and they made good use of it, scoring two more touchdowns and stopping the Lions every-time they threatened.

The Lions' Perry was the leading ground gainer for the night with 139 yards on 22 carries.

The Cranes led the Lions 23 to 14 in first downs. They had 377 yards rushing while the Lions had 234. Crane passed for 21 yards and the Lions 9. Both teams only completed one pass and both suffered an interception. The Lions recovered one Crane fumble while not losing the ball on a fumble. Crane punted 5 times for an average of 27.6 and the Lions punted 5 times for a 40.8 yard average. The teams were even in penalties, both having 3 for 25 yards.

Display Cases Finished At Fort Lancaster

The display cases in the visitors center at Fort Lancaster were completed last week by Barry Hutchinson and Don Newman of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department in Austin. The two men were here for several days setting up and finishing the displays.

Hutchinson said that along with artifacts from the first archeological dig at the fort a few years ago, the displays depict in as much detail as possible the history of the fort and military life of the 1850's.

In looking through the registry at the fort, Hutchinson said he and his partner were surprised at the number of visitors to the old fort, many more than in other state parks around the state. He said he felt the large number of foreign and out of state visitors possibly had something to do with the fort's close proximity to Highway 290.

County Commissioners Court Meeting Is Routine

The Crockett County Commissioners Court met Monday in regular monthly session and for the most part the agenda was routine. Monthly bills and reports were approved as submitted.

Garland Young reported that attendance at the Civic Center for the month of October totalled 2,089 with 22 bookings.

It was noted that Mr. and Mrs. L. A. McCaleb, fire station attendants, are on vacation and Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Davis will be taking their place at the fire station for ten days.

The court approved the appointment of Dee Kiekers to replace Bill Cooper in caring for County swimming pools.

After discussing badly leaking roofs both at the Clinic building and the new Care Center, the court instructed County Judge Troy Williams to negotiate with a reputable roofing company to replace the roof on the clinic building.

He was further directed to send a letter to J. D. Burk Construction Co., contractor who built the care center, and give official notice of the leaking roof at the new center.

It was also reported that the 5-inch rain had severely damaged the roping arena.

The court was informed that the newly installed lights at the cemetery were shot out over the weekend by vandals.

The court submitted a bid of $1,000 to Reagan County Commissioners Court in an effort to purchase a TD9 dozer for replacement parts.

In response to a petition with some thirty signatures, the Court voted to legally establish an election precinct at Powell Field. The Constitutional revision election returns of November 4, were canvassed and the results certified.

Crockett County voters went along with the rest of the state in turning the eight proposals down. The count was about 8 to 1 against all.

Littleton Is 50-Year Mason

Lowell Littleton was presented his 50-year membership award at the regular meeting of Ozona Masonic Lodge 747. The award was a plaque citing Mr. Littleton for his long and active service in the Lodge.

The ceremony was preceded by a covered dish dinner and an unusually large crowd was on hand.

It was noted that most of Mr. Littleton's Masonic activities have been with the Lodge here in Ozona. He was congratulated by a multitude of friends and fellow lodge members.

The court formally accepted the precinct redistricting as agreed to in the special called meeting of Oct. 30, and the judge was directed to submit the plan to the U. S. Attorney General's office for approval.

Bids were opened for a new vehicle for the County Agent and the low bid, submitted by Rutherford Motor Co. was accepted. Bids for two new cars for the Sheriff's Department were also opened. The low bid from Stuart Motor Co. was accepted.

At the request of members of the Ozona Garden Club, the Court set the first week in December as fall cleanup week. Sheriff Billy Mills and R. B. Babbitt appeared before the court and explained the new high band radio equipment now being adopted by the Department of Public Safety and sheriff department all over the state. The judge was instructed to investigate the possibilities of securing a criminal justice grant to pay part of the cost of the new equipment here.

Hunting Season To Open Here Sat.

The hunting season opens in Crockett County at sunrise Saturday, Nov. 15, as it does in most West Texas counties. The season for deer, quail and turkey, promises to be a good one in the local area, according to forecasts.

The latest Chamber of Commerce hunting list release has 12 leases listed for day hunting and only three season leases remain on the list.

Drought last year caused one of the poorest seasons ever in this area. However, periodic rains this year have helped both deer and quail populations, according to the Texas Parks and Wildlife biologists. Deer numbers are up 25 percent over last year and quail 100 percent.

Of course good range conditions really make the hunter work harder for his harvest. Food and cover are plentiful and the deer will not be traveling as much. Brush will make the deer harder to spot.

The Chamber of Commerce will be available for hunting information in the county and lists will be posted as in past years. Also, containers have been placed in most business places so the hunter can register for the annual hunting prize which will be given after the drawing at the annual banquet in February.

Hubert Baker said the chamber had received numerous inquiries and expects the county will attract as many hunters this year as in any season past.

The Post: Reaping The Whirlwind

The Washington Post for many years has stood against American business and in favor of strong unionism. Thus it was with much irony that the current strike at the newspaper began with the Post's own workers rampaging through its press room, battering the paper's nine presses and briefly shutting it down.

No thinking American can condone the violent action of the goon squad that ripped through the Washington Post during the early hours of October 1. At the same time, however, it is not too much to suggest that the Post itself helped create the climate in which the union riot flourished. In short, the Post is now reaping the whirlwind of its own permissiveness.

The violence at the Post came just hours after the start of a pressmen's strike — a strike precipitated by the termination of a labor contract with the Post. The dispute over the contract is complex: wages and hours are relatively simple elements; featherbedding and liberal overtime provisions are among its more sticky problems.

In essence, management at the Post has decided that current provisions in the pressmen's contract have become too expensive to renew. The dispute appears to center on the belated attempt now by the Post to cut back on some of those provisions — a turnaround from usual labor-management disputes which typically find labor upping the ante.

As the strike continues unabated, with no early solution in sight, some of the Post's readers have added insult to injury by reminding the paper of certain cruel facts of life. Said one: "... your presses are being destroyed by the left wing labor unions that were your proteges over the years..."

Methodist Church To Show 'Time To Run'

TIME TO RUN, a film that is a mixture of problems and solutions, will be shown at Ozona United Methodist Church on Sunday, Nov. 16, 1975. The feature, filmed in Eastmancolor by World Wide Pictures, will be shown once beginning at 7:30 p. m. The public is invited.

Filed on location in the Southern California area, TIME TO RUN stars Ed Nelson, Randall Carver, Barbara Sigel, Joan Winnmill and Gordon Rigsby. Nelson plays Warren Cole, a hard driving success-oriented industrial and scientific engineer who, because of over-involvement with his work, has failed to communicate with his wife Fran, played by Joan Winnmill, or their son Jeff, played by screen newcomer Randall Carver.

TIME TO RUN allows the viewer to become involved on any one or more of the three different levels. Viewed purely as entertainment, it's the suspenseful story of Jeff's attempts at sabotage in the nuclear generating plant conceived, designed and managed by his father. Jeff strongly feels that the plant is a threat to the environment, and he puts his feelings in action.

Viewed on an emotional level, TIME TO RUN is the deeply moving drama of the conflicts that are tearing a family apart — conflicts that develop between husband and wife, and between father and son. In an attempt to find freedom from the ever-growing hostilities, Jeff takes to the road, hoping to discover some meaning in his confused life.

Approached from a religious perspective, TIME TO RUN is also a story of friction between Jeff and his girlfriend, Michelle, played by Barbara Sigel, who is a familiar face to television viewers. Michelle has discovered a spiritual dimension in her life, and this aspect is very confusing to Jeff, who has little time for "a God who would allow war, hatred, and suffering on earth." But his life is shattered by an avalanche of personal problems, and he finds himself at a Jesus people gathering with Michelle, where he glimpses the possibility of a new life-style based on love and understanding.

TIME TO RUN is a film that can help strengthen love relationships between people. It's a film that was made for families to attend -- together.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights
by Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — Most observers agree constitutional revision is a dead issue in Texas after last week's crushing defeat of all eight proposed changes in the state's basic law.

The eight propositions went down by a statewide margin of nearly three-to-one, leaving proponents little ground for optimism of reviving any of them.

They failed by resounding counts in the cities, the middle-sized towns and in the rural areas. Only Duval and Webb counties approved all eight proposals, and El Paso County endorsed seven. Kenedy County accepted the first three and rejected five others.

Lawmakers seemed to agree that, in view of the lopsided turnout, there is no point in trying to call a citizens constitutional convention.

Some said the only chance for revision now is a long, drawn-out process in which a single article or parts of articles are submitted to voters one-at-a-time after careful efforts to iron out differences.

Only the League of Women Voters of Texas remained committed to seeking establishment of a citizens convention to draft a new document.

Some legislators who pushed hard for revision admitted they will be keeping a low profile for awhile—hoping the voters don't hold their activities against them.

Jails Studied

Only half a dozen county jails met all Health Department standards during the last six years, the new Texas Commission on Jail Standards was told last week.

The Commission met here to discuss how it can go about getting public support for upgrading jails.

A Health Department officer said only counties whose jails had a perfect score were Childress, Gillespie, Howard, Lynn, Milam, and Oldham. Eight others had a single violation out of a list of 30 items checked.

The Commission has enforcement power, can order sub-standard jails closed and transfer prisoners to other facilities.

No Tax Bill

The chairman of the Texas House of Representatives tax panel questioned whether a new tax bill will be required in the legislature of 1977.

The state has escaped new taxes for two legislative sessions, but most projections have indicated a record revenue measure will be required at the next session.

"My personal belief is that a tax increase is not going to be required at the next session of the legislature," Rep. Joe Wyatt of Bloomington told a seminar on the state tax structure. Wyatt is chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee.

Patient Load Drops

Patient population at Texas mental hospitals has dropped 18.1 per cent in the last year, to 6,944.

The admission rate, meanwhile, increased to 19,797 from 18,413. Community-based facilities close to patients' homes and improved treatment programs were credited with reducing the number of long-term residents.

Courts Speak

The State Supreme Court held businesses have a right to jury trial when the state sues them for deceptive trade practices.

In another case, the High Court called for a new trial of a Galveston area woman's suit arising from burn injuries when natural gas came out of her kitchen sink water faucet.

By a divided verdict, the Court affirmed a $303,126 ruling against the widow of the owner of a rental and supply firm which rented scaffolding from which workmen fell during construction of a Galveston school a decade ago.

In still another ruling, the High Court held a disbarment suit against the district attorney for the U.S. Trust Territory of the Pacific Islands should be tried in Lubbock. The lawyer moved from Lubbock in 1972.

Federal courts delayed mailing of notices to voters that they must obtain new voting certificates by January 31.

AG Opinions

Atty. Gen. John Hill said ownership interests of Austin and San Antonio in a proposed $1 billion nuclear power plant in Matagorda County are exempt from property taxes.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded: • A claim for reimbursement to a state hospital for support and maintenance of a patient is not barred by the two-year statute of limitations.

• A sheriff should re-arrest an out-of-county man previously released after original arrest only on appropriate judicial order.

Short Snorts

Harry Burleigh resigned as executive director of Texas Water Development Board.

Texas business activity increased 12 per from August to September, according to The University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

The State Insurance Board sees no danger of insurance firm insolvencies due to investment in New York City bonds, according to Chairman Joe Christie.

AFL-CIO leaders are pushing for a corporate income tax next time big money is needed to run state government.

Secretary of State Mark White Jr. reported no instances of voter discrimination, intimidation or coercion in the November 4 constitutional revision election.

A total of $13.7 million in federal Economic Development Administration funds have been approved to help create jobs for 2,500 Texans.

Cigarette tax revenues increased more than $1 million last month over October 1974.

Costly Ban

WASHINGTON—Ill-conceived actions by the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) with regard to chemical insecticides could cost farmers and consumers dearly if they are not soon reversed.

The EPA has begun proceedings to ban the use of the chemical insecticides chlordane and heptachlor. The manner in which EPA is proceeding raises serious questions about the validity of its case and the agency's regard for due process of law.

Chlordane and heptachlor are widely used to prevent insect damage to corn, wheat, flax, peanuts and a host of other crops in the United States. Chlordane is the active ingredient in such commonly used insecticides as Black Flag Ant and Roach Killer and Ortho Ant Killer.

Chlordane is at present the only cost-effective remedy for treatment of various corn pests, seed treatment of wheat, and prevention of termites. More than five million acres of cropland are treated with chlordane. Without the insecticide, losses of the American corn crop could reach 24 million bushels. The loss to the American wheat crop could be as high as seven per cent of the total—more than the amount sold to the Soviet Union this year.

Alternative means of controlling insect pests are astronomically expensive. They range from $5.80 to $12 per acre, as opposed to costs of 11-43 cents per acre for chlordane or heptachlor.

Obviously, farmers and consumers will pay an extremely heavy price in additional costs and reduced crop yields if chlordane and heptachlor are banned.

The price would not be too heavy if there were hard scientific evidence to support EPA's claim that the two chemical compounds do in fact cause cancer in humans. But no convincing evidence has yet been forthcoming, and EPA's actions indicate that the bureaucrats there are aware of how flimsy their case is.

EPA began its campaign against chlordane and heptachlor in late 1974, when it announced its intention to cancel the registration of the two compounds. Hearings were begun to determine if there were sufficient cause to warrant banning chlordane and heptachlor, but the hearings were abruptly and precipitously cancelled by EPA on July 30. EPA announced its intention to suspend the two insecticides, despite the fact that it had not proved their use is harmful. No reason was given for this hasty action, but there are reports that EPA scientists—who would have been called to testify had the hearings continued—have mixed opinions about the potential harmfulness of the two insecticides.

Turkey Good Thanksgiving Dinner Buy

Economy-conscious consumers will buy "bi-purpose" turkeys this season--that's turkey big enough for Thanksgiving dinner, with lots left over for other meals. Frances Reasonover, a foods and nutrition specialist, says.

"Allow three-fourths to one pound per serving if the turkey is 12 pounds or under, or one-half to three-fourths pound per serving for a heavier bird."

Miss Reasonover is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"Protect leftovers from bacterial contamination by refrigerating right after dinner. Since refrigerator space is usually at a premium during the holiday season, remove meat from bones before wrapping for storage. And remember to store stuffing separately. Freeze all the meat that cannot be used within two or three days," Miss Reasonover advised.

Make broth to use in soup and casserole dishes later, she suggested.

Put bones and bits of meat and skin in a large kettle, cover with cold water. Add sliced onion and carrot, a garlic clove, spices and two teaspoons of salt. Cover and bring to a boil. Simmer two hours, then strain the broth. Refrigerate in a covered jar for two days or less.

She suggested some specific uses for the "bi-purpose" turkey.

CELEBRATION TURKEY SOUP
1/4 cup butter or margarine
1 cup chopped, cooked turkey
2 tablespoons finely chopped onion

2 cups diced raw potatoes
2 1/2 cups cream style corn
1 tall can evaporated milk
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon ginger
1 cup diced celery
2 cups turkey broth
1/2 teaspoon paprika
dash pepper

2 tablespoons chopped parsley
Melt butter or margarine. Add turkey and onion. Cook until onion is transparent. Add potatoes, celery and broth. Stir and cook until slightly thickened. Simmer until vegetables are tender. Then add corn, milk and seasonings. Season to taste. Garnish with parsley and serve with crackers, hard rolls or toast. Makes 8 servings.

THANKSGIVING BUFFET CURRIED TURKEY ON RICE
1 tart apple, chopped
1 small onion, finely chopped
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1 or 2 teaspoons curry powder
3/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon powdered ginger
1 cup turkey broth
1 cup milk
3 cups cut-up cooked turkey
1 tablespoon lemon juice
3 cups cooked rice
orange slices as garnish

Cook apple and onion in butter or margarine until onion is transparent. Combine flour, curry powder, salt and ginger. Sprinkle over apple and onion mixture and blend. Stir in broth and milk. Heat slowly and stir to prevent burning. Simmer five minutes. Add turkey and lemon juice. Season. Cover and keep hot five minutes. Serve on hot rice garnished with orange slices. Makes 4 servings.

TURKEY-NOODLE PARTY CASSEROLE
4 ounces noodles (2 cups)
1 10-oz. package frozen broccoli spears
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon prepared mustard
1/2 teaspoon pepper
2 cups milk
1 cup grated processed American cheese
2 cups cooked cut-up turkey
1/3 cups slivered almonds, toasted

Cook noodles in boiling water, drain. Cook broccoli until just tender and drain. Dice broccoli stems, but leave flowerets whole. Melt butter or margarine in saucepan, stir in flour, salt, mustard, pepper and milk. Cook and stir until thick and smooth. Remove from heat and add cheese, stirring until it melts.

In a greased casserole or baking dish, arrange noodles, broccoli stems and turkey; cover with cheese sauce. Arrange broccoli flowerets on top, sprinkle with almonds. Bake uncovered at 350 degrees F. for 15 minutes or until bubbling hot. Serves 4-6. --0--

Tips For Gardeners

From the Ozona Garden Club by Mrs. Bailey Post

These beautiful warm fall days invite gardening even if it does mean preparing for next year's garden or for the first frost or freeze. We have been fortunate to be enjoying late blooms some longer than for the last few years.

Blue bonnets should be coming up thick since the recent rains if in a space where they can reseed. If not, it isn't too late to get them planted.

We have asked Mr. Houston to plant some north of town on Highway 163. There seems to be many beautiful drifts on 290 East.

Perennials of nearly all kinds can still be set out, divided and transplanted this month. Proceed with basic soil improvement work until frost. The surface of ground turned over in the fall should be left rough so that the maximum benefit of winter rains is received.

For the past several years, plant breeders have developed excellent hardy dwarf type plants. They are much more useful in the landscape than the old standard varieties that grow too large. Some that are included are Oriental hollies, nandina, flowering quince, crepe myrtle, pyracantha, fruit trees and several types of the juniper. These plants are all good selections for mass plantings or in small groups. Other useful standard small plants available at the nurseries are fatsia, aucuba, holly fern, Indian hawthorn, mugo pines and Japanese bloe pine. All of these do well in partial shade.

If you want asparagus at its best, there is only one way to get it (authorities say), grow your own. Now through February is the time to get it established. To produce well for 15 or 20 years, the initial planting requires time and care. The secret of success with asparagus is a fertile and porous soil, one that drains properly and is well supplied with organic matter. Pulverize the soil and dig rows or trenches 10 to 21 inches deep and 24 inches wide - wide enough to spread the roots in their natural position. Rows should be 4 to 5 feet apart. Put 2 inches of barnyard manure or compost in the bottom of each trench. On top of this, spread 10 pounds of commercial (8-8-8) for each 100 feet of row. Mix the two thoroughly with the soil. Then cover with an inch or two of top soil and set the asparagus crowns 12 to 24 inches apart. Cover with 2 or 3 inches of top soil. When growth starts in the spring, gradually work in enough soil to make row level. Side-dress on both sides of the row with half the amount of fertilizer used earlier. Do not harvest asparagus the first year. During the second year, cut only for 2 or 3 weeks to allow a strong root system to develop. Then extend cutting 2 weeks each season until 8 to 10 weeks. Let tops grow the rest of the season.

Cake Cutting Craft
Christmas is for kids--from 3 to 83--and so are crafts. A craft is anything that requires skill in planning and making. And a Christmas Craft is twice the fun because you are putting your imagination into creating something to give and share with friends and family. Why not try your hand at making a Santa Face Cake.

Santa Face Cake

SANTA FACE CAKE

Cake:
1 cup butter or margarine
3 eggs
1 1/2 teaspoons grated lemon rind
1/2 teaspoon almond extract
1/2 teaspoon soda
1-1/3 cups sugar
1 - 8 ounce carton lemon flavored yogurt
2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 cup dry oats (quick or old fashioned, uncooked)
In large bowl of mixer beat butter and sugar until light and fluffy. Add eggs, yogurt, grated lemon rind and almond extract; mix until well combined. Sift together flour, salt and soda. Add sifted dry ingredients to creamed mixture; mix until smooth. Stir in oats. Bake in two well-greased 8-inch round cake pans in preheated oven (350 degrees) 35 to 40 minutes. Let cake cool in pans 15 minutes; remove cake from pans and cool completely on wire rack.

To assemble, place one 8-inch round cake on large board or platter. Cut second 8-inch round layer in half; this becomes beard. Slice remaining half into two equal pieces. Use one triangular piece for hat. Cut a circle from other triangle for ball of hat. Fill in spaces with cake scraps. Decorate with the following:
Fluffy White Frosting (enough for cake)
White shredded or flaked coconut
8 red and white round hard peppermint candies
Red Coconut
1 Small Green Gumdrops
1 red jelly candy ring
Black String Licorice
1 Large red Gumdrops red tinted sugar
Frost entire cake with fluffy white frosting, filling in any spaces to form a smooth line. Cover ball on hat with white shredded coconut. Place one red and white peppermint candy in center of ball. Cover remainder of hat with red shredded coconut. Use seven red and white peppermint candies to form 2 rows for trim at bottom of hat.

Cut black string licorice into 2 four-inch pieces. Form into circles and place on face for outline of eyes. Cut a small green gumdrop in half; place inside licorice circles for eyes. Cut a large red gumdrop in half; use one half for nose. Cut a red jelly ring in half; this is the mouth. Cover beard with white shredded coconut. Make rosy red cheeks with red tinted sugar.

Water Can Prevent Frost Damage

The first frost of the fall season need not spell doom for your garden vegetables. A vegetable specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service suggests using water to protect cold-susceptible plants from freezing temperatures.

"When water freezes it gives off heat," says Sam Cotner. "In fact, when a pound of water loses a degree of temperature, it gives off more heat than any other substance. This heat can warm the air around plants and protect them from freezing."

The most effective way to protect plants is with a sprinkler, contends the Texas A&M University System specialist. Apply water continually during the time freezing temperatures exist. This may mean sprinkling the garden all night.

"If a frost is expected, sprinkling in the early morning will probably be sufficient," notes Cotner.

Another method of protecting plants from freezing temperatures is furrow watering. However, this method is not as effective as sprinkling.

Cotner warns against washing plants off with warm water after a frost occurs. "Plant tissues can be badly damaged when they are forced to thaw in such a short time. It's better to let them thaw out gradually."

So don't let the first frost of freeze put an end to your supply of nutritious, home-grown vegetables this fall. If light freezing conditions are expected, crank up the water sprinkler, advises the specialist.

CALLING ALL HOMEMAKERS

Brought to you By Lillian Brown

Here's an idea that can give a wonderful decorating touch to your rooms, and also give you added convenience: Why not consider using an occasional furniture piece, such as perhaps a separate pull up chair. This separate chair can provide you with something distinctive and something that will serve as an "accent" to the rest of your room. Such a chair can make a beautiful difference in your room decoratively, to say nothing of giving you another seating piece that can always come in handy.

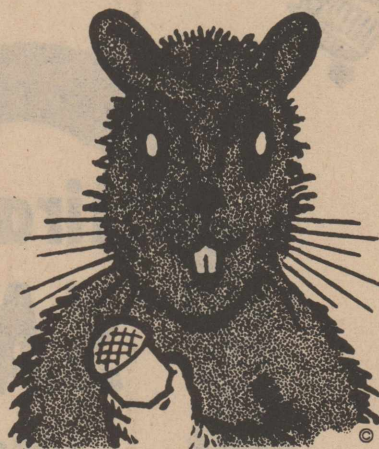

Incidentally, you don't have to restrict yourself to just one occasional chair in your living room. You might consider a pair, perhaps twin chairs, or two entirely different chairs to add even more variety.

And there is other accent furniture that can help you in addition to chairs. You might think about such things as a different chest (instead of a table) placed beside a chair. Or add a console, love seat or chaise or cabinet or any one of a number of special pieces to punctuate your room.

This occasional furniture--although it may be small in the overall picture--can play a big role in picking up a color scheme or in helping make your room more outstanding. We invite you to come in and browse around here.

PUPPET SHOW

Someone else is pulling the strings. Someone else is speaking behind the scenes. Someone else is making the audience laugh, or even cry a little.

By any chance, does that remind you of yourself? Do you sometimes feel that you are a puppet, not a person? That someone else is putting words in your mouth, calling your plays?

Well, the Church won't stand you on your own two feet and cut the strings. But it will help you find the right kind of scissors... to get a new perspective, to reassess life, and yourself... to be your own person.

Texas Mohair Outlook Best In Years

"With fall goat shearing nearing completion throughout the state, the overall mohair industry picture appears brighter than it has in recent years," Agriculture Commissioner John C. White commented today.

Experts are predicting that mohair production for 1975 will hold its own with the 1974 figure of 8,400,000 pounds, comparing favorably to the steady decline that has been the rule in the industry over the past several years.

During an Oct. 2 sealed bid sale at Sonora, one of the major sale points for mohair in the state, adult hair averaged between $1.90 and 2.15 per pound, topping the 1974 average of $1.37 and well above the incentive price of $.82 a pound.

Yearling clip averaged between $2.25 and $2.44 at the sale, while kid clip went for $2.95 per pound.

The kid crop for the 1975 season is also expected to be better throughout the state, according to White.

"Weather, predator control, and other factors affecting kid production have been favorable this year, and ranchers have been able to hold on to more of the animals than in the past three years," White said.

The increased kid crop could also mean the beginning of a slow upswing in mohair production when they reach maturity two years from now.

South Africa has now overtaken the U.S., as number one international supplier of mohair. Texas produces some 97 per cent of the U.S. total in mohair and exports almost 90 per cent of the clip to foreign customers.

The great majority of the luxury fiber, which is most often used as a blend in materials, is sent for processing to a plant in Bradford, England, before being shipped to both foreign and national customers.

Child
Growth

"Monday's child is fair of face... Tuesday's child is full of grace..."

Most people know that the day a person is born has nothing to do with what kind of person he is or will become, or skills he will exhibit. Dorothy Taylor, a family life education specialist, says,

"But this familiar nursery rhyme does remind parents that every child is different--in appearance, temperament abilities and aptitudes."

Miss Taylor is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"All a child's inherited characteristics, plus all his experiences, combine to produce an individual different from every other individual who ever lived or ever will live.

"Children sometimes seem to grow by taking two steps forward and one step backward. A child who enters kindergarten or a day care center matures socially. But at the same time, he may seem to move backwards a step by reverting to wetting his pants or sucking his thumb while he adjusts to being away from his mother more," the specialist said.

Ability grows with each new experience mastered. The first skills a young child learns form a foundation for learning new skills. With some children, repeated practice is needed before they have a base for moving forward. And other children need only to do something once to be able to repeat the action without error.

Miss Taylor asks parents to remember that each person is unique--he started out that way.

Solar Heating And Cooling Will Soon Be Available For Homes

Reports indicate that a practical solar system for heating, cooling and hot water supply in homes will soon be available. Mrs. Pat Seaman, a housing and home furnishings specialist, says,

Three typical residential type buildings were built on the Colorado State University campus for this project, funded by a grant from the National Science Foundation to the Solar Energy Applications Laboratory.

Mrs. Seaman is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

The project's research shows a typical solar heating system can supply about 70 million BTU's during the heating season. Ducting, piping and venting of a conventional system can be used.

A three-ton solar cooling system, using the same solar collector and storage system as the heating, costs around $2,000. It should be capable of removing approximately 250,000 BTU's of heat from a building for seven hours a day at peak capacity.

Cost to consumers will include material and installation of the collectors, storage unit, air conditioner and the association of piping and controls that connect the parts of the solar system.

Currently the cost of a solar collector--normally installed on the south side of the roof--is $6 to $7 per square foot. But this is expected to decline to $4 per square foot as the system is refined and manufacturing increases.

Besides cost of the collector, other necessary components for the heating system cost around $1,000. And considered on an annual basis for both heating and cooling, solar energy is competitive with energy obtained from propane and cheaper than heating and cooling with electricity, according to research studies.

Hwy. Dept. Sets Public Meeting

The State Department of Highways and Public Transportation has scheduled a public meeting at the Irion County Courthouse for 2:00 p.m. on November 20, 1975 in the Commissioner's Courtroom, Mertzon, Texas. The subject of the meeting will be the proposed improvements to a section of U. S. 67 from 13 miles southwest of Mertzon to its intersection with R. M. 915. According to District Engineer D. R. Watson of San Angelo, the proposed project, approximately 10 miles in length, will complete a long-term program by the Department to upgrade U. S. 67 to satisfactory standards across the entire width of District 7.

U. S. 67 is the main east-west artery across the northern portion of District 7. Passing through the counties of Reagon, Irion, Tom Green, and Runnels, U. S. 67 serves this vast rural area, plus the towns of Texon, Big Lake, Barnhart, Mertzon, Sherwood, Tankersley, San Angelo, Harrier, Miles, Rowena, Ballinger, and Benoit. The section under consideration is presently 22 feet wide, with 8 foot caliche shoulders with restricted sight distances in some areas.

The proposed project will widen the right-of-way from 100 feet to 160 feet, move the centerline 30 feet northerly, and provide a new gradeline, greatly increasing convenience and safety for the travelling public. The new driving surface will be 26 feet wide, with 9 foot paved shoulders on either side. The reconstructed facility should meet traffic demands adequately through 1995.

As the proposed project is in a rural area, no homes or businesses will be displaced by the purchase of the additional right-of-way. Access to the highway will remain unchanged, and due to the rural area, utility adjustments will be minor. Currently, the Average Daily Traffic (ADT) is 1300 vehicles per day. The Transportation Planning Division of the SDH&PT, Austin, forecasts an ADT of 2100 vehicles per day by 1995.

District Engineer Watson urges all interested individuals to attend the meeting and express their views concerning the proposed improvements.

Brucellosis Study Requested By TAHC

The Texas Animal Health Commission has issued a policy statement asking that an impartial in-depth study of brucellosis and all possible programs for dealing effectively with the disease be authorized by Congress, according to Billy Reagor, county agent for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Commission members have asked that the study be conducted by a team of scientists approved by the Congressional committees responsible.

Conclusions of this study, to be funded by Congress, should be delivered to the Congressional committees responsible for the funding of the USDA brucellosis program, according to the policy statement.

In order that maximum creditability be accorded to the study, Commission members have recommended that Congress appoint a team composed of nationally recognized authorities in their fields who are not associated with the current brucellosis program. The investigative team would evaluate the risk-benefit ratio, including economic, social, hygienic and other factors associated with the problem and establish a course of action.

Animal Health Commission members further recommended that no punitive changes in the Uniform Methods and Rules be made until the results of the study are presented to Congressional appropriations committees for their consideration.

In the policy statement, Commission members indicated that they favor effective control, and if possible, eventual eradication of brucellosis from Texas breeding cattle. They said they will take steps which they deem reasonable, practical and necessary to achieve these goals.

Members of the Commission also indicated that they favor resisting and opposing any additional restrictive, federal regulations until the proposed study determines guidelines for a future program.

During the interim, the Commission policy will be aimed at:

1. Urging that heifer calves from three to seven months old in Texas be officially vaccinated, voluntarily, with properly refrigerated, high quality, viable Strain 19 brucellosis vaccine to facilitate movement and further reduce the incidence of the disease in Texas breeding cattle.
2. Protection of whatever status a county has already achieved.
3. Protection of the dairy industry to assure marketability of its products.

COOKWARE CARE

Pots and pans come in a variety of materials; as a result, they can cook food differently and they require different care, too. But it really isn't necessary to consult a cookware directory every time you cook. Try these basic rules to keep your pots and pans in good condition:

- * Do not run cold water into a hot pan. Cold water can warp a metal pan and crack glass and earthenware.
- * To remove greasy residue, don't use harsh abrasives and metal scrapers which can scratch some pans. Instead, just squirt on Grease relief™ degreaser, wipe with a damp sponge and rinse. Also, add degreaser to dishwashing water to boost its grease-cutting strength and to make cleaning easier.
- * If a pot must be scoured, use a plastic pad—metal scouring pads can scratch some pots.
- * Do not let gas flames lick up the sides of pots and pans—it could cause heat stains.
- * Do not use metal or enameled cookware to store food as they may be damaged by salt and acids.
- * Remove stuck-on food by pouring cold water into the pan and letting stand until the food is soft.
- * Remove burnt-on food by boiling water in the pan.
- * Dry cast iron cookware immediately after washing to lessen the chance of their rusting.

WELCOME HUNTERS!

Hunters Need Plan For Season Opening

With the approach of fall hunting seasons, Texas sportsmen should begin making preparations for their trips afield.

"This not only means marking hunting dates on a calendar and contacting landowners about hunting leases but getting field gear and 'desk chair physiques' ready for the hunting adventures ahead," says a wildlife specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Firearms which have been stored since the last hunting season should be cleaned and checked. In fact, stored guns should be checked every month or so for signs of rust or dust accumulation, particularly if they are kept where temperature and humidity conditions are variable. Special attention should be given to cleaning the bore and making sure the action works smoothly, emphasizes Dr. Milo Shult, who is located at the Texas A&M Agricultural Research and Extension Center at Uvalde.

He also advocates carefully sighting in rifles and handguns. "Even if the hunter feels sure that a gun has not been bumped or jarred since the last firing, it is a good policy to double check. This will not only prevent disappointment over a missed shot but will also get the shooter used to the 'feel' of his weapon again."

Center-fire rifles should be sighted in using the bullet weights and powder charges which the hunter expects to use in the field. Sighting distances are determined by the type of game to be hunted and the terrain where the hunt takes place. As a rule of thumb, shot groupings from 50, 100 and 200 yards will prepare the hunter for most situations, notes Shult.

"The good hunter does not fire one or two rounds and decide that he and his rifle are ready to go. The expense of firing a box or two of ammunition while sighting a rifle in is easily justified by the confidence the hunter will gain in his weapon and his shooting ability."

Handgun buffs should also spend some time "burning powder" on the range before taking to the field. Generally speaking, handguns should be sighted in for distances up to 60 yards. It takes a dedicated pistol shot to be consistently accurate at greater distances. Remember, range safety is of critical importance with all firearms but especially so with handguns, cautions the specialist.

For shotgun enthusiasts, Shult advises a little trap or skeet shooting and "patterning" the shotgun. This is easily accomplished by firing at large sheets of paper or cardboard at distances of 15, 25 and 50 yards. The grouping of pellet holes on the paper lets the hunter know how his weapon performs at those distances with whatever load he is using.

Another good plan with double barrel, slide-action and semi-automatic shotguns is to fire more than one round to get used to getting off a second or even third shot, Shult points out.

Archers should be getting ready to hunt by carefully checking their equipment, sharpening broadheads and practicing with silhouette field targets. These targets, especially those which are life size, get the archer accustomed to firing at "vital spots" rather than just "at the deer."

"Most hunters carry some type of a cutting tool for dressing game. These knives, hand axes or bone saws should be examined carefully and sharpened. A dull knife in the field is not only frustrating but also is more dangerous than a properly honed one," notes the wildlife specialist.

Checking wearing apparel well in advance of the day it is needed will also add to the comfort of the hunt. Clothing with snags or tears from last season needs repair. Footwear is especially important as a painful blister can ruin an otherwise enjoyable hunting experience. Boot stitching should be checked, and the leather should be oiled or treated for comfort and protection. Break in new boots around the house before starting out on a long day's hunt.

"In addition to checking his gear, the smart hunter prepares himself physically for the field. Many of us work at jobs which don't allow us to stay in shape for our once-a-year hunting trips. Perhaps the best solution is to start early with sensible exercise. This may mean just walking every day or it may include jogging and dieting off a few pounds for the hunter who will pursue game which requires strenuous effort.

"Remember, more hunters die from heart attacks brought on by over-exertion than from firearm mishaps," says Shult.

"The sportsman who begins preparing his gear and his body now will have a much more rewarding experience in the outdoors this hunting season," contends the specialist.

Hunting Can Be A Safe Sport

Considering the thousands of men and women who are roaming the fields and woods with high-powered rifles during hunting season in Texas, it is not too surprising that a few hunters fail to return home alive each year. Others return with a serious gun shot wound that requires extensive medical treatment.

The primary cause of hunting accidents is carelessness. The hunter who blazes away at anything that moves runs a big risk of bagging a fellow hunter. The professional hunter will know what he or she is firing at before pulling the trigger. The hunter must never forget that any weapon capable of killing birds and animals also can kill humans. To avoid being mistaken for wild game, the Texas Medical Association urges every hunter to wear "day-light fluorescent orange" clothing. Extensive scientific research proves that "hunter orange", while it sends a glowing signal to other hunters, does not hamper the sportsman stalking a deer. A hunter's chances of bagging a deer are just as good in fluorescent or blaze orange clothing as any other color, since the skittish white-tail deer is color blind and will only be alarmed when it distinguishes motion, sound, or scent.

When getting your hunting gear together, be sure to include a "hunter orange" jacket or vest. Even a cap in that distinctive color provides some protection. Here are some other suggestions for a safe hunt: Never cross over or through a fence or climb a tree with a loaded gun. It might fall and discharge. Unload first and reload after crossing. Don't shoot at a hard, flat surface. Ricocheting bullets can carry long distances with killing power.

Even a small bore rifle has considerable range. Know where your bullet will stop before pulling the trigger. Keep guns away from children. Never leave a weapon unattended without unloading it. Store guns and ammunition beyond reach of youngsters, preferably under lock and key.

Feed Cattle Prices Continue Decline

Despite lower supplies of fed beef and an increase in beef consumption, fed cattle prices will probably continue to decline during the next few weeks, predicts Dr. Ed Uvacek, livestock marketing specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Some economists feel that increased demand will keep fed beef prices up as high as those of last summer, but Uvacek does not believe demand has changed much in the past few months.

"In July of this year Choice beef retailed for $1.61 per pound. Prices now are about $1.53 per pound, even though the increase in per capita beef consumption was only up a small degree."

The proportion of beef fed this year compared to the total cattle slaughter is at its lowest level in 10 years. The amount of Choice beef consumed, therefore, should also be correspondingly lower, points out the specialist with the Texas A&M University System. Grass-fed beef, however, will be in large supply for the rest of the year.

Uvacek says that unless high fed cattle prices are followed by high retail prices, the price of live cattle must drop.

Preliminary estimates of per capita beef consumption during the July-September period indicated about 30.3

pounds per person while the retail price for Choice beef was $1.57 per pound, notes Uvacek. He predicts that per capita consumption for the last quarter of the year--October through December--will go up to 35 to 36 pounds per person while retail prices will fall to $1.49 to $1.50 per pound.

"It will be hard to keep fed cattle prices up with this large a gain in consumption," says Uvacek. "Remember, we consume all of the beef we produce. The only real question is at what price will we consume it. In general, higher production, in the short run, means higher consumption and consequently lower prices."

"If nonfed cattle slaughter is as high in October and November as it's expected to be, fed cattle prices could go from their current levels down to the low $40's within the next two months."
