pary antiquities. It rises suddenly from the plain and is built of huge adobes, or large unburned bricks. Although mutilated and overgrown with trees, the massive base and four stories of the gigantic structure are yet almost entire. Humboldt describes it as a work of such magnitude and vastness as, next to the pyramids of Egypt, has never before been seen in the world. Its height is 172 feet, and the sides of it base 1,355 feet, being 275 feet lower than the great Pyramid of Cheops, and 627 feet longer. The brick material is interspersed with layers of stone and mortar, and the four stories are connected with each other by broad terraces. These are ascended from bench to bench by a regular and oblique flight of steps which lead to a little chapel at the top, which has been dedicated to the Virgin of Remedies. In straightening out the road which leads from the City of Mexico to Pueblo, it became necessary to traverse a portion of the base of this rior chamber built of stone and roofed with beams of cypress, was laid bare. In it were found skeletons, idols of clay, stone an dbror and a number of pottery vessels, ed tanning before he retired to rest curiously varnished and painted. WHY WILL YOU cough when pense of a modest young newspaper man, which is going the rounds simply credited to an exchange. It is to the effect that the man went out to report a party the other evening where the home had recently been blessed with a new baby. Accompanied by his best girl, he met the hostess at the door, and after the usual salutations asked after the baby's health. The lady, who was quite deaf and suffering from the grippe, thought he was sking about her cold, and told him that she usually had one every winter but this was the worst one she had ever had; it kept her awake at hights a good deal at first, and confined her to her bed. Then nuticing that the scribe was getting pale and nervous she said she could tell by his looks that he was going to have one just like hers, and asked him to go and lie down. The paper came out as usual the next week, but the local editor has quit enquiring about babies.

Away among the Allghanies there il a spring so small that an ox, in a numer's day could drain it dry. It steals its unobtrusive way among the hills till it spreads out in the b a stiful Ohio. Thence it stretches a ay a thousand miles, leaving on it banks more than a hundred villages and cities, and many thousand cultivated farms, and bearing on its bosom more than a half th usand steambosts. Then joining the Mississippi, it stretches away some twelve hundred miles more till it falls into the great emblem of eternity. It is one of the great tributaries of the ocean, which, obedient to Him, shall roar till the angel, with one fort on the sea and the other on the land shall lift up his hand to heaven, and swear that time shall be no larger. So with moral influence. It is a rill-a rivulet-a riveran ccean boundless and fathomless as eternity.-Hillsboro Reflector.
