GIVE US A FAIR WHACK. OR CUT LOOSE FROM EASTERN MEN AND MEASURES, IS THE LOGIC OF THE SITUATION. The Fight the People Are Making and Intend to Force is Against the Grasping Money Power.

Waco, Tex., May 29.—The following is a copy of a letter which explains itself. Kos Barry, Esq., Walnut, Tex.—Dear sir: I have yours of May 26, asking a public expression of my views, and reply briefly.

1. The masses of the people believe that there is inequality of government in this country, and I agree with them. They believe that money has too much power; that under the constant inspiration of government, it is gradually concentrating all wealth in the hands of a few, and this wealth in turn is dominating the government and making it an aristocracy.

2. They believe that the money power has already "cornered" the money market and thus evolved a serious financial stringency, which is paralyzing trade, especially in the south and west, destroying values everywhere and threatening to bring ruin and desolation to all classes but the money class.

3. The farmers believe that they have not had "a fair whack" since the formation of the government. In this they are eminently correct. They know that under the guise of tariff they have been perpetually robbed for the benefit of manufacturers and they are tired of it.

4. They believe that the money power has already "cornered" the money market and thus evolved a serious financial stringency, which is paralyzing trade, especially in the south and west, destroying values everywhere and threatening to bring ruin and desolation to all classes but the money class.

national banks, but I am with them somewhat like I am with the christian religion—before you take them away you must offer us something better. The stereotyped declarations of the party against these banks grow more monotonous in the absence of suggestion as to their proper substitution.

These are my views hastily and imperfectly expressed, given as a democrat to a democrat. These are critical times for the old party. The prevailing discontent is likely to take from us many good party men hitherto.

There was about a dozen moonshiners in the County Jail at Greenville, S. C., and I was permitted to sit down with one of them and draw him out, writes M. Quad in the New York World.

"I hadn't order be yere—really hadn't order!" whispered the man as I asked for his story. "Are you innocent?" "Oh, I made whisky suah'nuff."

"Florry, dear," faltered the Washington youth, "I—I couldn't summon courage to tell you what was in my heart, and I wrote it. You got my letter, didn't you?"

I have never liked the idea of an enlargement of the facilities for organization and security for private loans and a distribution of such currency as the government may issue.

an enlargement of the facilities for organization and security for private loans and a distribution of such currency as the government may issue ratably between the banks and states according to population.

With conditions more nearly equalized and the final adoption of free trade, complaints against the government will cease. The country is not ready yet for this, but it will come.

Another storm wave will be due to leave the Pacific coast about May 27, cross the Rocky-Alleghany valley from 28th to 30th, and reach the Atlantic coast about the 31st.

This satellite has more influence on the weather than any other body except the sun, but the masses have been led into an error by supposing that the changes of the moon cause changes in the weather.

"Well, I hadn't order be yere, Dan'l, order bin ready to pop, and popped with both barrels."

Baron Hirsch's Immense Fortune. Baron Hirsch's fortune is variously estimated from $20,000,000 to $30,000,000. His father was a Bavarian banker.

FOSTER'S FORECASTS. COMING STORMS THAT CAST THEIR SHADOWS BEFORE THEM. Heavy Rains Will Accompany the Next Storm—Warm Weather to Precede and Cool Weather to Follow. Moon's Influence.

St. Joseph Mo., May 22.—My last letter gave forecasts of the storm wave due to cross the continent from 21st to 25th, and the one following it will be due to leave the Pacific coast about May 27.

The moon is 225,719 miles from the earth at perigee, and 351,947 at apogee, making a change of 26,228 miles about every fourteen days.

The latest report of the treasury department that the Gazette has at hand gives the following items as constituting the money of the country actually in circulation:

Gold coin $275,947,715 Standard silver do. 57,554,100 Subsidiary silver do. 52,931,352 Gold certificates 116,675,349 Silver certificates 276,619,717 United States notes 325,510,758 National bank notes 199,779,101

Everybody knows what "foolscap" paper is but everybody does not know how it came to bear that name. In order to increase his revenues Charles I. granted certain privileges, amounting to monopolies, and among these was the manufacture of paper.

The meanest man on record is said to live in Center County, Penn. He sold his son-in-law one-half a cow, and then refused to divide the milk, maintaining that he sold only the front half.

ing the storms north or south. The changes of the moon occur a little more than six days apart and the regular storm waves pass over this latitude in a little less than six days apart.

The fourth regular meeting of the Thompson Street Cotton Blossom Club was convened at Watermelon Hall, in that thoroughfare, at 7.30 o'clock last evening.

A second communication, signed by the Secretary of the Universal Woman's Rights Association of America, inquired if females were eligible to membership.

At this juncture word was sent in the hall that Prof. Cantelero Tottenham, of Pittsburg, had arrived at the door and was very desirous of delivering his celebrated address, entitled "De Why de Wharior, or, Whar Be We an' Why Ar We Heah?"

"I know dat ween," replied Brother Gardner as he received the card, "an' we hasn't got no time to fule away on him, I has heard his address. It's all about Noah's Ark, string-beans, George Washington, saffars, Dan'in de lion's den, 'later-bugs, de Red Sea an' root tonic to cure de ager at 25 cents a bottle."

These Brothers Are It is sure the "me too" glass-eyed smiling of the Greenville Argus, who is being nursed by Granny Harriet of the Progress, has exhausted his own intellect, and in addition to his present medicine has used an inn or two of the Progress and calls it editorial.

THE COTTON BLOSSOMS. Brother Gardner Has Already Got His Coat Off—He Now Means Business and Watermelon Hall is a Spot of National Interest—Regular Meeting of the Blossoms—No Women Need Apply—A Good Man Discouraged.

Under this head the Secretary announced communication from the office of the Secretary of State of Indiana asking if the Club favored the idea of sending all the colored people in the United States to Liberia.

The following applications were received and referred to the proper committee: Rainbow Smith, Uncle Lucius Johnson, Elder Watson, Jones Brackberry Manson, Goodnow Taylor, Universal Green, State Line White, Col. Kyrant Scott, Cottonball Baxter and Lord Buckingham Skinner, all residents of New York and vicinity.

A GOOD MAN DISCOURAGED. At this juncture word was sent in the hall that Prof. Cantelero Tottenham, of Pittsburg, had arrived at the door and was very desirous of delivering his celebrated address, entitled "De Why de Wharior, or, Whar Be We an' Why Ar We Heah?"

At that time all English paper bore the royal arms in water marks. The parliament under Cromwell made sport of this law in every possible manner, and among other indignities to the memory of Charles it was ordered that the royal arms be removed from the paper, and that the fool's cap and bells should be used as a substitute.

When the rump parliament was prorogued, these were also removed; but paper of the size of the parliamentary journals, which is usually about seventeen by fourteen inches, still bears the name of "foolscap."

The following additional notices were ordered to be printed on cloth and hung up on the walls of watermelon Hall.

FRIDAY, JUNE 5 1891.

West Texas has been having a three days rain.

POLITICAL antipodes: Governor Hogg's popularity one year ago and to-day.

The people should be studying the constitutional amendments and getting ready to vote them.

MILLS has a joint discussion in Bell county very soon with Mr. Polk, president of the national alliance.

WHEN Mills takes the stamp next summer against the sub-treasury question; there is going to be music.

GOVERNOR Hogg has appointed S. H. Dixon penitentiary inspector. This is another good appointment. We give him credit again.

THE man who embraces the sub-treasury scheme in the belief that money will plow into his pockets without work is the monumental fool of the age.

THAT man is a phenomenal fool who fancies that the sub-treasury proposition, or any other for that matter, is going to put money in his pockets without work.

THE man who buys bacon at fifteen cents and corn at one dollar and a quarter per bushel, can pay for it but he will have to do it with something else than with cotton at six cents a pound.

CONGRESSMAN Mills is preparing a tariff manual or campaign book. It will be issued in time for the next campaign and be written in such style as to make dry statistical matter interesting to the mass of readers.

TEXAS cotton at six cents and Kansas corn at one dollar and a quarter ought to convince the farmer that there is not only something wrong with the country's finances, but with the system of farming also.

ERRORS Imboden of the Cherokee Herald and Malone of the Ft. Worth Gazette aspire to be to Governor Hogg and his administration what Amos Kendall and Frank Blair were to Andrew Jackson and his administration; but "aspire" is all, only that and nothing more.

MILLS is pre-eminently identified with the tariff and revenue reform movement and it is pre-eminently proper that he should be elected speaker by congress. If Mills is elected, it will mean that the fight for tariff reduction must go on; if he is defeated, it means a black eye for reform in that direction.

CHILTON is brainy, honest, courageous, patriotic and all that. But the people don't admire the way in which he stepped into the office. The Governor knew what he was doing when he insisted on a commission with appointive powers, and when he flattered Jno. H. Reagan into accepting a position on the commission.

As long as the federal customs officers is allowed under the forms of law to put his hand in the pocket of every citizen in the country and take therefrom annually one half of all he makes to pay pensions, to enrich tariff barons etc, there will be a tightness in money matters that a sub-treasury in every precinct of the United States could not remedy.

One year ago nearly every paper in the State, and the Courier was one of them, was indulging in the drawing monotone of "Fig-o-ey," "Fig-o-ey," "Che-Hoo-g," "Che-Hoo-g" with rising accentuation on the final letters. To-day the most of them, and the Courier among them, are singing with equal emphasis on the first letters, "So-o-y," "So-o-y."

Is sterling honesty, distinguished ability, sturdy, robust, uncompromising battling for the rights of free, pure, economical government against the money grabbers, tariff aristocracy and others who believe that government is organized to fleece instead of protect the people, weigh anything in the contest for the national speakership and the United States Senatorship, then Mills will win easily. Watch and see if he don't.

A MAN may make cotton and sell it at six cents a pound and live but he will have to do his "living" at home.

Geo. Clark will represent North-bod-holders before the investigating committee. Someone had better lookout.

In his Bonham speech, Culberson declared that Gibbs' banking bill was worse than the sub-treasury proposition.

A CONVENTION of members of the Alliance opposed to the sub-treasury has been called to meet in Ft. Worth in July.

The farmer must bear in mind the price of cotton in prospect for him and cut down his merchandise account accordingly.

WHAT we need worse than a sub-treasury is such a crop of corn and bacon as will swell the cribs and smoke-houses of the county to bursting.

THOSE who are born to fortune and position are almost without exception failures. It is the rugged, stormy school of adversity that makes men and women.

CONGRESSMAN Culberson and Harry Tracy had a joint discussion at Bonham Saturday last, Tracy defending and Culberson attacking the sub-treasury scheme.

WHAT Financial Agent Imboden don't know about how the State government should be run would make alibary as voluminous as that of the University of Oxford.

THE farmer who makes cotton at six cents and buys corn and bacon at one dollar and a quarter per bushel and fifteen cents per pound will never make a fortune, not even a living.

HARRY Tracy declares that he and Gibbs are very close together on the financial question. Will Barney Gibbs be the candidate of the sub-treasury followers for United States Senate?

WHEN the Mills' bill was before the United States Senate, Senator Reagan opposed the free wool schedule of the bill. It is to be hoped his successor will be in line with the party on this question.

ON the outside of this week's Courier will be found a letter from Geo. Clark on the political situation. Like everything he writes, it is strong and to the point. We commend it to our readers as the ablest production on the financial question yet offered by those who have been writing on this subject in Texas.

"M. QUAD," who for years has delighted the readers of the Detroit Free Press with his writings on the Lime Kiln Club, has accepted a position on the New York World. The "Cotton Blossom" is the new name of the club for his World pieces. The characters are the same, and fresh charm seems to have been infused into his style by the change.

THE Austin Capitolian is criticizing Governor Hogg very severely for his expressed intention of retiring all who are "embarrassed with confederate records" and appointing only those who are free from such taint. The Capitolian refers no doubt to a conversation the Governor had with a New reporter when announcing the appointment of Chilton.

EDITOR Imboden holds by the grace of the present administration a job from which he draws the snug little sum of over twelve hundred dollars per annum. On condition of the contract is that Editor Imboden agrees to do all the "spanking" that his excellency should want done. The position of "Spanking" to his excellency at Austin is filled by the editor of the Cherokee Herald with a dignity and grace that anyone else would despair of achieving.

GOVERNOR Hogg says "he is tired of this confederate racket business" in appointing persons to places. This consideration didn't weigh much with him when he courted, and encoined Senator Reagan, a confederate post master general into an acceptance of a place on the railroad commission. But then Reagan had to be gotten out of the way for the consummation of the program to elevate Horace Chilton to a United States Senatorship.

JEFFERSON from present indications the campaign of next year will be one of remarkable and extraordinary excitement. The canvass may be said to have opened already and in quite a number of counties in the State the voice of the stump speaker may be heard in the land. The great dividing issue will be the sub-treasury question and already Tracy, Ashby, Terrel and others are addressing the people in its behalf while Culberson and Mills are showing up its absurdities.

Neither the New Birmingham Times nor the Cherokee Herald reached us last week.

It is the rankest and most egregious folly for the advocates of the sub-treasury question to think that their plan will give the country relief as long as our tariff laws remain as they are. And the surprising thing is that the supporters of this measure should ignore altogether the tariff question. A sub-treasury in every precinct in every county in the United States would count for nothing just so long as the government and its protected tariff barons could extract under the semblance of protection sixty per cent of what every man in the country produces.

EDITOR Page, of the Crockett Courier complains that East Texas has been fed on too much administration pie. Yet, it would be quite as easy matter to prove that Editor Page was more than anxious to have a large slice of the pie go to a worthy friend and neighbor who lives in the heart of East Texas. etc.—Cherokee Herald.

CORRECT! Go up, Yes, we endorsed a few friends for position and among them was the editor of the Cherokee Herald for secretary of the railroad commission and we will be grievously disappointed, if he fails to get it. Oh, no we are not complaining of the governor's partiality for East Texas in the distribution of patronage. From our standpoint that's the least objectionable part of his administration.

THE Cherokee County Alliance, the governor's native county, adopted a resolution condemning the commission with appointive powers and declared in favor of electing them.—Crockett Courier.

AND if this is consoling to you, we trust to be able to console you further by stating that the Cherokee Alliance did even worse than adopt an elective commission resolution. The sub-treasury scheme was heartily endorsed. Objectionable as an elective commission really is, it is ten thousand times more preferable than the sub-treasury heresy. But the Democracy of Cherokee will pronounce against both the sub-treasury and an elective commission.—Cherokee Herald.

THE demands of the Alliance, except the sub-treasury scheme, are in the main identical with the teachings and principles of the Democratic party. We do not agree with them touching the sub-treasury matter, but on the question of electing railroad commissioners we are with them, believe them to be right and hope to see the principle triumph. No truth is more self-evident than that if the people can elect a governor, they can also elect railroad-commissioners, and, if they are prone to make a mistake in electing railroad commissioners, they are equally prone to do so in choosing a chief magistrate. The Alliance does not embrace all who are in favor of the election of railroad-commissioners. The man stultifies himself who maintains that the people are incapable of choosing by ballot those who are to govern them. The very organization and frame work of our government are based on this theory and a denial of it is a declaration in favor of an aristocratic, oligarchical form of government.

FOSTER, the Missouri Meteorologist has been beating Uncle Sam's weather bureau out of sight. Foster's predictions of late have been coming to pass with marvellous accuracy. Foster discards the generally accepted theory of forecasting meteorological phenomena and proceeds on an entirely new method. He teaches that electricity is the all-pervading, all-powerful agency, the vis viva of the universe and the great moving, life-creating power of animal and vegetable life. According to his teachings the planets and moon exert a disturbing and controlling influence over the weather events of the earth through the agency of the mysterious and subtle electrical fluid. The exploiters of new ideas, especially great ones, have been treated as cranks the world over. Who can affirm or demonstrate that Foster's notions about electricity and its universal application as a power giving, life-creating means is not true? Contemplating the marvelous achievements made in the field of electrical science in the last twenty years, who can picture even a tithe of the wonderful things that will be revealed to the world in this field within the next fifty or twenty-five years? As yet we have been vouchsafed as it were only a glimpse behind the curtain, and the things seen thus "darkly" are passing strange and dazzling. When the electrical glories of the next hundred years and the next hundred and so on shall have been revealed then will men begin to realize the limitless wealth of resource, power and adaptability in this greatest of nature's agencies. While Foster can not probably establish with logical and scientific certainty his novel ideas, no one can disprove them, and none but the fippanst, self-sufficient scientist will deny the possibility of their being true.

Editor Imboden will please note that the Houston County Grange clasps hands with the Cherokee County Alliance in adopting a resolution in favor of electing railroad commissioners.

What will the esteemed brother do about that? Denounce them as he did the Cherokee County Alliance as not being democrats?

AN ANSWER The Sub-treasury supporters demand of those who oppose it to propose some other method of getting money in circulation. We will answer them partially, if not fully. One way is to go to work and make something that will command money, induce money to come into the country. The second way is to abandon the practice of sending money out of the country for those things that can be produced here. The third way is to wipe out the iniquities of the tariff and quit taking by taxation money out of the hands of the people after it once gets there. The fourth is to coin without limit all the gold and silver that are annually yielded by the mines of the country. The fifth is the idea advanced in Geo. Clark's letter: Do away with National Banks as banks of issue and substitute therefor banks of exchange and discount with the power to borrow from the United States government any amount of treasury notes on any class of good securities.

THE Texas statutes relating to slander and libel are as follows: "If any person shall, orally or otherwise, falsely and maliciously, or falsely and wantonly, impute to any female in this state, married or unmarried, a want of chastity, he shall be deemed guilty of slander, and upon conviction, shall be fined not less than one hundred nor more than one thousand dollars, and the jury may, in addition thereto, find a verdict for the imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding one year."

"He is guilty of 'libel' who, with intent to injure, makes, writes, prints, publishes, sells or circulates any malicious statement affecting the reputation of another in respect to any matter or thing pointed out in this chapter." Among other things enumerated are:

1. "That the person to whom it refers has been guilty of some penal offense."

2. "That he has been guilty of some act or omission, which though not a penal offense, is disgraceful to him as a member of society and the natural consequence of which is to bring him into contempt among honorable persons. If any person be guilty of libel, he shall be punished by fine of not less than one hundred nor more than two thousand dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding two years."

J. W. Goodwin's house on his old residence with everything in it burnt up a few days ago.

Some are not done chopping cotton. Corn is being laid by and it is not much to brag on. Some of it must be making corn on its roots as there is none in sight on the stalk. Rev. Russian of Coltharp preached at this place a few days since.

Fishing is still on the boom. One of our young men has a great deal of business at Crockett; twelve yards of calico will draw a long way.

Singing convention next in order at Creek.

Our friends at the mill seem to have got excited, weather too hot, keep cool, while we are still in the moral vineyard is the advice of O'LEARY.

ANTI-SUB-TREASURY MOVEMENT.

Call For a Convention by Alliance Men Opposed to Secret Political Parties.

Buffalo, Leon Co., June 1.—Cedar Creek alliance No. 648 passed a resolution taking to task the Sunday Mercury for refusing to publish anything against the sub-treasury; disapproving of the management of the exchange; arraignment the steering committee; opposing all secret political parties; favoring "only constitutional money based on silver and gold;" opposing bossism. The fourth resolution reads as follows:

"That we call on all alliance men who oppose the sub-treasury, secret political parties, etc., to meet, or select someone to represent them at a convention to be convened at Corsicana or some place near the center of the state."

The full text of preamble and resolutions unanimously adopted are signed by J. W. Cates as secretary.

GRAPELAND, We have had plenty of rain this week. This puts all in a good humor again. Corn is assured and cotton looks well.

Miss Eva Bagley of McKinney Texas and Miss Emma Mosely of Marshall Texas, pupils of the Sam Houston Normal school, stopped off here on their way home to spend a few days with their friend Miss Cora Martin.

Mr. J. M. Selkirk's daughter, Miss Lucy returned home a few days ago from Galveston where she has been attending school. She was accompanied by Misses Laura and Rachel Selkirk, daughters of Mr. Wm. Selkirk of Galveston, who will spend some time visiting their relatives here.

Mrs. Zack Davd and daughter Cora of Palestine are visiting the family of Mr. Fletcher Saddle this week. Miss Birdie Murchison, of Crockett is in town on a visit to friends.

Messrs. B. F. Campbell and Wallace Totty have been on a visit to an oculist at Austin to have their eyes treated. Mr. Wallace Totty returned yesterday much improved. Mr. Campbell will remain several days yet.

Miss Minnie Caverhill of Crockett is on a visit to Mr. Emmet Dunning's family. Several young ladies and gentlemen spent last Saturday on Tyler's lake boat riding and fishing. They had a nice time with the exception of a nice ducking.

Miss Beulah Sheridan will return home next Friday from Kilgore where she has been attending Alexander Institute. Elder Otis Rial of the Christian Church will begin a protracted meeting here on the first Monday night in July next.

Rev. Wm F Chase preached a very interesting sermon here yesterday. He had a large and crowded house and his audiences are constantly increasing. Enon Alliance meets at Enon next Saturday at 2 o'clock p.m. and the members are earnestly requested to be present as business of great importance will come up for attention.

Mr. Will McQueen's horse fell with him a few days ago breaking his collar bone. Dr. Woodard was called in and attended to him, he is now doing well. Mr. N. B. Marsh who has been dangerously sick for some time is now thought to be a little better. Mr. Joe Teagarden, assistant cashier of 1st National Bank of Greenville, is here on a visit to relatives and rusticing generally.

Mrs. Julia Martin and Mrs. Mollie Tubb of Leon Co. are in town on a visit to friends and relations. KEY STONE.

Mary Allen Seminary. The writer attended, the last day, the commencement exercises of Mary Allen Seminary. The exercises consisted of essays and instrumental music by the graduating class, six in the number and the first class to leave the institution with diplomas. The program was an interesting one and carried out with great credit to those who were members of the class. We must confess to great surprise at witnessing such satisfactory evidences of hard, faithful and assiduous labor on the part of the students and the gratifying success achieved by them in their studies. This institution is doing a great work for the colored people and they are showing their appreciation of it by an extraordinarily liberal patronage. There were in attendance for the session just closed 277 students from Texas, Louisiana and Arkansas. Over two hundred were refused matriculation for want of room. The total expenses of food, lodging, fuel, light and tuition for the entire session is only forty-five dollars to the scholar. Of the 277 students in attendance, one hundred didn't pay anything at all. This certainly is the cheapest institution of its kind in the Union and our colored people should be proud of and support it. The result of the exercises was highly complimentary not only to the faithful work and intelligence of the students, but to the competency and efficiency of the teachers and the exceedingly good management of the institution's able president, Rev. J. B. Smith. It is needless to say that the school was established by and is under the control and supervision of the Board of Missions of the Northern Presbyterian church which provides almost munificently for its support.

The future of Crockett, and in a measure of the county, depends on the success of Crockett's schools. Those who injure them injure the town's growth.

They tell it on DeaturHaile that he planted some of the ninety day corn. It commenced tasseling in about ten inches of the ground and "CATE" pulled the shoots off thinking them suckers.

The Masonic lodge at Crockett last Saturday night elected the following officers for the ensuing year: Master, E. A. Pace; Sr. Warden, G. W. Woodson; Jr. Warden, Jno. McConnell Jr.; Secretary, J. L. Williams; Treasurer, C. O. Webb; Tyler, J. C. Zimmerman.

Notice! A note of hand, dated May 26th, 1891, for $600, bearing ten per cent interest, signed by F. F. Fifer and payable to W. B. Page or bearer was lost the past week. The public are warned not to trade for same as I have not parted with my right to it.

The undersigned is now operating the sawmill (known as the Dunnam mill) at Creek and is prepared to supply promptly all demands for lumber of any style and dimension at Crockett, Lovelady or elsewhere. Try me.

The growth and prosperity of Crockett are inseparably associated with her educational advantages. To promote the former, we must cherish and nourish the latter; to injure the latter, either directly or indirectly, immediately or remotely, is to cast a shadow over the former.

J. B. Ellis brings the COURIER a squash, "what is a squash." It was only a week old when pulled and looks like one of Jno. F. Rains' watermelons. The seed were from the patent office. Any one who is impatient to dissect a watermelon can come round and take a slice of the aforesaid "eyelin."

It will cure your pains and bring you right.—For sale by French & Chamberlain.

Roping and running down razor-backs is now a common pastime in Crockett. As we understand the city marshal pays twenty-five cents for each one caught, the boys have lots of fun as well as make a few dimes. The marshal will do well to examine and see if some of them are not driven in from outside the corporation for the purpose of getting the fee for catching them.

OBITUARY. Mrs. Martha Susan Glenn, nee Wallace, was born Sept. 1 1849 in Upshaw county, Ga. came to Cherokee Co. Texas in 1858. Her father died very soon after coming to Texas and her mother followed a few years later. She was left with her sister to battle with the gold chafities of the world. She was married to Wm. Wallace in 1870 and three months thereafter was left a widow. In 1874 she was again married to W. B. F. Holmes with whom she lived happily for seven years when she was left a widow with one daughter eight years old. Together they struggled laboring to maintain themselves through what trials none can know but those who have lived the life of the widow and orphan. Sister Glenn joined the Baptist church at the age of sixteen and lived consistently a member of it until her marriage with Mr. Glenn when she joined the Methodist church. She died Jan. 3, 1891. Hers was a life of sore affliction and yet she bore it with fortitude, seeking to forget their trouble in helping others. She is not dead but sleeps. She has outstripped us in the race and reached the glory land. Let us not weep, for we can go to her. The Lord sanctify her death to the good of those of her loved ones that are left behind. J. B. WOMACK, Augusta, Tex.
