Arctic explorers never tire of telling how beautifully yellow the waters of the northern sea appear. To those who live on the sea-shore in temperate and tropical countries, Price 5c. a copy. By mail $2 a year. the stories of travellers concerning the yellow waters of Greenland and Iceland are taken with the proverb ial "grain of salt;" but scientists have declared that the Artic Seas are yellow, and that it was Scoresby who first explored the case of its peculiar color.

Perceiving that the waters were of an unusual color, he had some drawn up and examined it with his microscope. To his surprise he found that the color was due to the presence of minute animalcules, each so inconceivably small that a single drop of the water contained upwards of 20,000 of the little creatures!
