democracy, but who are not in harmony with it upon the subject of National banks, the tariff or THEY MUST "ABANDON" THEIR other points, organize themselves with the view of promoting the ascendency and success of undemocratic principles and measures, upon such subjects either by open fight or a secret clandestine one, such organization would be the enemy and antagonist of democracy, and it would become the duty of the democratic organization to exclude such persons from the councils and primaries of the party; notwithstanding such individuals might agree with the party ou other points. It is not solely the fact that one believes in the subtreasury bill" that should exclude him from the councils and primary actions of the party, but it is the fact that an organization or combination has been formed upon this undemocratic measure, whose success he desires, and its plan is to enter the democratic primaries and control democratic expression and action, and thereby he is placed in opposition to the democracy, and has no business in its friendly councils or primary meetings, and should be excluded therefrom.

Now, then, shall the democracy be protected from its "sub-treasury" enemies? The party creates executive committees to manage and direct the affairs of the organization, and generally control its business, during the interims between the sovereign assemblages to conventions of the party. The party at large in the State creates a State executive committee to preside over and give shape and direction to party matters in all things affecting the party as a State organization. Should a member of this State committee become disloyal to the party and join himself to a combination or organizasuch a member and filling his the loyal members of the committhird-party tendencies and affiliaocratic supporters of the subtreasall the recent encroachments by and what has been said as to the duty of the State committee applies

The law has its objectionable features of course. The qustions sent out by the Sup't. had their objectionable features. An examination, of a person, touching his fitness to teach the branches required by law should be confined to the text books. Several questions were sent out, chiefly in history, which are not answered in any text-books. This is unjust. The ordinary teacher is not prepared to stand the test books to which he has had access. An objectionable feature of the law was placing the examination in per day. October. It should have been conducted in August, so that such as desired to do so could have opened HALL WILSON, M. D.

Considering the law as a whole, however it is for the best intersts of the people at large. Examining boards have been too lenient in their work. A great many have been granted certificates to which they were not justly entitled. These certificates have been renewed year after year, and so the results of improper work were carried on for years. Of course, I do not know and made a sham throw, expecting and will insure a great saving to just how it has been in Houston county, as I am a new comer. We need live, active teachers who will, at the close of school, leave the pupils for in advance of where he found them. Those who accomplished this in the pupils are themselves much more preficient with each passing grades again. Compare the result with the result of last year.

Another step in the right direction would be to rigidly enforce the law requiring good moral character in a teacher. The are a number of teachers in the state who are persons of very corrupt morals.

Fassett's statement in his speech 1891. at Ithaca last week, that a Southern For terms, write or call upon Rebel had been chosen to deliver the oration at the dedication of the Crockett Texas. Tammany monument at Gettysburg was particularly unhappy. This has brought out a reply from Gen. Daniel E. Sickles, who left a leg at Little Round Top, in which he smites the Republican candidate hip and thigh. Gen. Sickles was really the orator of the occasion, and Col. Fellows made a speech afterwards, which the General says was as loval as his own. A Wellknown Tammany brave, now in Washington, said to the writer today that Flower would go to Harlem bridge with 85,000 majority, and that Fassett could not bring down more than 60,000 majority to offset it.

The best posted New York politicians are willing to concede that Flower's majority will not fall under 20,000. Calico Charlie Foster EAS leaves for Ohio to-night, and will open a ten round campaign at Findlay Thursday night.

A gang of New York pickpockets AND WARTS accompanied Gov. Hill's party to Richmond and are doubless plying their business to-day among the unsuspecting Georgia crackers at the Atlanta Exposition. He said that there were but two parties in Texas to-day the democratic party and the subtreasury party. Well, as Horace is a resident of the same town as the chief boss of the democratic party of Texas, he no doubt received instruction from the chief to the effect that he approved of the dicision of the executive com mittee of Dallas county in asking a sub-treasury man to resign his place as one of that committee. Horace Chilton should remember that there are persons advocating sub-treasury plan that have voted the democratic ticket all their llves and many of them voted it long before he was born. He must also remember that the republican party casts about 80000 votes in the little state of Texas. What are you going to do with them Horace? Has the chief ordered a fuse with the republicans to defeat the alliance, as they have done in several other states?-East Texas Farmer.
