YOUR COUGH

It is not yielded to the various remedies you have been taking. It troubles you day and night, breaks your rest and reduces your strength. Now try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and the bronchial tubes become enlarged or the delicate tissues of the lungs sustain fatal injury.
As an anodyne and expectorant, this preparation has no equal. It soothes the irritated membrane, promotes expectoration, and induces repose.
The worst cough

Can Be Cured

By the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Dr.
J. C. Gordon, Carroll Co., Va., writes: "I use Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in my practice, and pronounce it to be unequalled as a remedy for colds and coughs."
"I was suffering with a hacking, dry cough, with an incessant tickling in the throat, keeping me awake nights, and disturbing my rest. I tried various remedies, but they gave me only temporary relief. At last I concluded to take Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and before I had used it a few days I was free from my ailment. I continued to use it until I was completely cured."
—A. A. Sherman, Co. 2nd Regt. N. Y.

By Using

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, many have been cured from fatal illness.
E. D. Estabrook, Canterbury, N. Y., says:
"In the winter of 1887 I was a sufferer from a severe cold, which developed into a pulmonary complaint. I tried various remedies, but they failed to cure me, and it was thought I was going into a decline.
On the advice of a friend, I began to use Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and less than half a bottle completely cured me."

HIS BAGGAGE SEARCHED.

Failed to Recognize No. 1 Dow and Fell Into the Trap.
A well known Lewiston Maine, business man has been in Montreal recently, and coming home he rode in a car near Neal Dow's Point.
On approaching the gates the car was boarded, as usual, by the custom house officer, and as the official went through the Lewiston man's baggage, the latter whispered to the officer,
"I know it's mean to tell on a man, but I hate to see anybody cheating the government or any one else.
That old gentleman," pointing to General Dow, "has a real full of Canadian liquor. Look for it."
The official looked at the Lewiston man for an instant, said "Thank you," and turned his attention to General Dow, whom he did not know.
Then followed quite a circus. He pulled Mr. Dow's baggage out and gave it a very thorough overhauling.
Then he asked him if that was all the baggage he had. Then he looked it over again.

Of course he didn't find any liquor, and he looked his surprise as he turned back to the Lewiston man, who was having one of the best times of his life. "I have a real full of Canadian liquor in my satchel for you," he said.

"Don't you know that old gentleman," said the Lewiston man, as he held on to his sides with laughter.
"No, sir."
"No, sir," he said, "I don't know."
"No, sir, I do not," said the government official. "Who is he?"

"That," said the Lewiston man, with a burst of laughter; "that (why, it's too good) that, sir, is Neal Dow of Maine."

A FAMOUS AUSTRIAN CAVE.

It is Very Fantastic and Offers Sometimes Room for a Man.
Mr. Vernon S. Tranter, a wealthy young Englishman who finds his recreation in traveling, was in St. Louis last week and said: "I am going to visit Mammoth Cave, and if it surpasses in interest the Adelsberg Cave, which I explored a few years ago, I shall be repaid for my trouble. The Adelsberg Cave, I find, is a little less than the known in America, the nation of travelers is in a cave about thirty miles east of Trieste, and has been explored for a distance of nearly 3,000 yards, as far as a subterranean lake.

The cavern comprises several grotes from 60 to 100 feet high. A river runs through it, forming on its way many cascades, which echo through the recesses of the cavern.
The entrance to the cave is illuminated by hundreds of electric lights, a transparent curtain, composed of large sheets of crystallized limestone, hangs from the roof. The largest of the grotoles is about 500 feet in diameter and 100 feet high.

"On what Monday of every year this is brilliantly lighted, and a great bill is held in the cave. The grotole is adorned with stalactites of every kind of the most fantastic shapes, and great cathedral-like columns, formed by the union of stalactites and stalagmites give the place the appearance of grandeur as well as magnificence."

SHE BROKE UP THE GAME.

A Determined Wife Makes Her Husband Swear Off From Gambling.
An Elk Grove, Cal, wife has hit upon a most effective plan for curing her husband of the staying-out-at-night-and-coming-in-at-night habit. It beats the Kestley business out of sight.
Her husband had a craving for gambling, and preferred sitting up all night in a saloon playing cards to keeping his wife company at home.
The worst of it was he couldn't win anything, and all the money that should have gone to his family went to his gambling friends.
His wife, finding all her entreaties unavailing, took a sixpound can of powder and a pistol and surprised her "hubby" in the back room of a saloon at 4 o'clock in the morning. She set the powder down near the table where he and a half dozen others were playing cards, and covering the group with her pistol to prevent interference, she held the crowd while she made a speech, she made her recent husband take a solemn oath that he would never again gamble, and then she made him repeat it under The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors

A VISIT FROM THE CZAR.

It Causes an Endless Amount of Trouble and Vexation.
Many troubles and vexations were caused by a visit which was paid the other day by the czar to the military camp at Izora. The latter place is a village on the Neva, about ten miles from St. Petersburg, and accessible by water or rail. On the occasion of the visit soldiers were placed on the most orderly and respectful manner, and not far from the city are a number of mills, the workmen at which, going home daily for their meals, These workmen got to their work on Saturday morning, but were not allowed to cross the line again the whole day, being obliged to go without their food or buy it in a public house. No traffic was allowed. Even people who had their own amusements on the sides of the railway were for-bidden to walk across. The trains from Moscow were stopped, and were sent off at within a quarter of an hour of each other in the evening. The river traffic was also entirely suspended.

THE REASON

Why Western Railroads Give Freshers
a Half Rate.
"We are only too glad to give the preachers a half rate," remarked an Eastern road don't do it, but every road in the West does. No consideration of sentiment prompts us to it, either, I can assure you. It is strictly in the line of business. We have found out that where there are the most preachers there are also the most people of industry and productive thrift.

THE LADY OR THE TIGER.

Burmese Women Think the Paste no
Paste at All.
The Karens are a tribe in upper Burma who have been partially converted to christianity. They were never idol worshippers, for they had a strange tradition that a white man should come in a white boat, with a white book, which should teach them about the great spirit whom they worshipped.

MAGNETIZED WATCHES.

How to Tell When They Are Under the Influence.
"There is of late years more or less talk about the effect of electricity upon watches," said a well known jeweler, "and it is quite true that occasionally a watch will be thrown out of its regular time by becoming magnetized. It is the simplest matter in the world, however, to ascertain whether a watch is thus affected."
"Watchmakers and electricians all know that if a common pocket compass is placed above a live electric wire, the needle will deflect in one direction; if placed beneath the wire it will deflect in the opposite direction, while if placed under cross wires the needle will vibrate."
"The spring of a watch is made of the finest steel, and is therefore sensitive to an extreme degree. If you want to ascertain whether your watch has become affected by electricity, take a little toy compass and place it above the spring. If the needle moves the watch is affected and should have expert attention; if it does not move there is no magnetism in it."

MILLIONS OF SQUIREL TAILS.

Dyed Rabbit Skins Are Still Largely Used in the Fur Trade.
A good deal of uncertainty seems to prevail as to the likely supply of squal-lins, but a recent feature in the fur trade is the liberal resort to the use of tails of animals which at one time were regarded as being of second rate importance. The most urgent demand for tails would appear to be in the instance of ermine. But the point only, being jet black, is inserted, after the well known method of their introduction, at intervals—in reality, the ermine trimmings of the sovereign and royal family not actually consisting of the tail of the ermine, but of the paws of the black Asturkian lamb or other suitable black fur.

SLAVERY IN OLD ENGLAND.

The System Not Entirely Abolished in the Seventeenth Century.
Slavery in England was of very ancient standing. Caesar states that it existed as an institution among the Celts, and in Roman England the conquered natives were held in a state of serfdom. In Saxon and early Norman times the children of the old English poorly and captives taken in war were sold like cattle in Bristol market and many were exported to Scotland and Ireland. "Domesday book" states that the slaves numbered 25,000. Slaves of the conquest the distinct slave class ceased to exist and the slaves were merged with the lower class of peasants under the general designation of villeins. The villeins in early times were annexed to the land and were divisible as goods and chat-tel, but in process of time the higher class of villeins gained a title to the land on which they worked, and after the reign of Richard II. we find little reference to villeinage. Although the church had early succeeded in putting an end to the English slave trade by the canon of the council of 1193, slavery was never abolished by any national enactment; and it was not till 1650 that the latest remnants of the feudal system were finally swept away. Slavery was abolished, but slavery did not cease, for until the time of George III. colliers were bought and sold, and if they left the estate to which they belonged were brought back by force. It was not till the year 1775 that an act was passed by which they were declared free and were put on the same footing as other servants.

QUEER PLACE FOR A PARADISE

Away Up in the Lofoden Islands is a Norwegian Resort of Beauty.
Would it surprise you to hear that the Lofoden Islands, off Norway, are,
on their south side, a terrestrial paradise? The Gulf stream warms them all the year round, and the consumption of the world can get them by taking their cod-liver oil. The cod-liver oil boss is Peter Muller, who, I was told, employs 70,000 people in fisheries, factories, bottling, packing and salting. His daughters were the greatest catches in the Scandinavian marriage market. They married according to taste, and happily. One of them chose from her many suitors a captain of the Norwegian navy, who later on she met and became a distinguished marine painter.

QUEER WAYS

That the Japanese Have at Generals and

"The Japanese are the quaintest people on earth," said M. Hutton of San Francisco. "They are as versatile

Japan of American ideas and thrift they have been striving hard to adopt our way of living and acting in all particulars, but they are so thoroughly rooted in their old customs and manners—which, you know, is a system of almost complete reversal of everything Caucasian—that, with all their brightness and ambition, several are endeavoring to keep the old ways before the revolution now in progress in the country will be complete."
"It sounds ridiculous to you that any one should be so stupid as to imitate to poignant grief by loud and rollicking laughter. But that's just what the Japanese do. I have seen a whole room full of mourners in Yokohama and other cities of the empire in the ecstasy of joy instead of convulsions of grief, as with us. Their peals of laughter were a little hysterical, but all the same they laughed. And when a child is born to a Japanese household, the important event is heralded to the community by the loud cries and wails of the father and by a bountiful supply of erpe on the front door. However, the more advanced few among them are discarding these strange ancient customs, and are adopting our ways, even in this particular."

the canon of the council of 1193, slavery was never abolished by any national enactment; and it was not till 1650 that the latest remnants of the feudal system were finally swept away. Slavery was abolished, but slavery did not cease, for until the time of George III. colliers were bought and sold, and if they left the
estate to which they belonged were brought back by force. It was not till the year 1775 that an act was passed by which they were declared
free and were put on the same footing
as other servants.

QUEER PLACE FOR A PARADISE

Away Up in the Lofoden Islands is a Norwegian Resort of Beauty.
Would it surprise you to hear that
the Lofoden Islands, off Norway, are,
on their south side, a terrestrial
paradise? The Gulf stream warms them all the year round, and the consumption of the world can get them by taking their cod-liver oil. The cod-liver oil boss is Peter Muller, who, I was told, employs 70,000 people in fisheries, factories, bottling, packing
and salting. His daughters were the greatest catches in the Scandinavian marriage market. They married according to taste, and happily. One of them chose from her many suitors
a captain of the Norwegian navy, who later on she met and became a distinguished marine painter.

QUEER WAYS

That the Japanese Have at Generals and Bishops.
"The Japanese are the quaintest people on earth," said M. Hutton of San Francisco. "They are as versatile as the French and as capricious as the negroes. Since the introduction into Japan of American ideas and thrift
they have been striving hard to adopt
our way of living and acting in all particulars, but they are so thoroughly rooted in their old customs and manners—which, you know, is a system of almost complete reversal of everything Caucasian—that, with all their brightness and ambition, several are endeavoring to keep the old
ways before the revolution now in progress in the country will be complete."
"It sounds ridiculous to you that any one should be so stupid as to imitate
to poignant grief by loud and rollicking laughter. But that's just what the Japanese do. I have seen a whole
room full of mourners in Yokohama
and other cities of the empire in the ecstasy of joy instead of convulsions
of grief, as with us. Their peals of
laughter were a little hysterical, but all the same they laughed. And when a child is born to a Japanese household, the important event is heralded to the community by the loud cries and
wails of the father and by a bountiful
supply of erpe on the front door. However, the more advanced few among them are discarding these strange
ancient customs, and are adopting our ways, even in this particular."

By Using

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, many have been cured from fatal illness.
E. D. Estabrook, Canterbury, N. Y., says:
"In the winter of 1887 I was a sufferer
from a severe cold, which developed into a pulmonary complaint. I tried various remedies, but they failed to cure me, and it was thought I was going into a decline.
On the advice of a friend, I began to use
Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and less than half
a bottle completely cured me."

Why Western Railroads Give Freshers
a Half Rate.
"We are only too glad to give the preachers a half rate," remarked an Eastern road don't do it, but every
road in the West does. No consideration of sentiment prompts us to it, either, I can assure you. It is strictly
in the line of business. We have found out that where there are the
people of industry and productive thrift.

THE LADY OR THE TIGER.

Burmese Women Think the Paste no
Paste at All.
The Karens are a tribe in upper Burma who have been partially converted to christianity. They were never idol worshippers, for they had a strange tradition that a white man should come in a white boat, with a white book, which should teach them about the great spirit whom they worshipped.

MAGNETIZED WATCHES.

How to Tell When They Are Under the Influence.
"There is of late years more or less
talk about the effect of electricity
upon watches," said a well known jeweler, "and it is quite true that occasionally a watch will be thrown out of its regular time by becoming magnetized. It is the simplest matter
in the world, however, to ascertain whether a watch is thus affected."
"Watchmakers and electricians all know that if a common pocket compass is placed above a live electric
wire, the needle will deflect in one direction; if placed beneath the wire
it will deflect in the opposite direction, while if placed under cross wires
the needle will vibrate."
"The spring of a watch is made of the finest steel, and is therefore sensitive to an extreme degree. If you want to ascertain whether your watch
has become affected by electricity,
take a little toy compass and place it
above the spring. If the needle moves
the watch is affected and should have
expert attention; if it does not move
there is no magnetism in it."

MILLIONS OF SQUIREL TAILS.

Dyed Rabbit Skins Are Still Largely Used
in the Fur Trade.
A good deal of uncertainty seems to prevail as to the likely supply of squal-
lins, but a recent feature in the fur
trade is the liberal resort to the use
of tails of animals which at one time
were regarded as being of second rate importance. The most urgent demand for tails would appear to be in the instance of ermine. But the point only,
being jet black, is inserted, after the
well known method of their introduc-<

HENRY WATTERSON SAYS "the democrats swept the country from Alpha to Omega, from h— to break-fast."

The proper thing for the Hogg men to do in their hour of triumph is to preach and practice tolerance and moderation.

Houston county leads all the counties in East Texas in votes polled. We polled the heaviest vote on record and but for bad weather would have polled at least a hundred more.

The returns from 123 counties give Hogg a plurality over Clark of 43,000. The remaining counties will run this plurality to 65,000 or 70,000. Nugent is running about 24,000 behind Clark.

The negroes who voted for Weaver and against Harrison no doubt feel like inviting their friends who wear number 12 shoes to go out behind the crib and apply the cool leather to them vigorously.

The third party leaders in this county are picking their flints with the view of coming again two years from now. At that time we hope to have a united party without factions and we will be able with our colored allies to give them a worse licking than we did this year.

We trust the Clark men of Houston county will not endorse the program of Clark and Matlock which is to perpetuate division and strife in the party. Let them drop George Clark and Matlock and resume their places in the regular organization where they belong.

MANY of our friends in the county are in the habit of "cussing" Crockett and those who live in Crockett, but when it comes to working for the ticket and electing those who have received the nomination, Crockett puts her shoulders to the wheel and shoves the machine out of the bog.

The colored people who voted the third party ticket will be very apt to associate such voting with the defeat of Harrison. They can now recall what we said to them some time ago, that the election of Cleveland depended in a large measure on the colored voters supporting the third party ticket.

Our third party friends insisted that the triumph of their party would cause cotton to advance. The third party was defeated and cotton, since the defeat, has gone up more than a cent. Will the third party now admit that the success of the democratic ticket had anything to do with the advance?

WHATVER may be claimed by the supporters of George Clark, it can not be successfully controverted by any of them that the regular democratic executive committee is the one of which Waller S. Baker is chairman. This being so, Mr. Matlock has no authority to speak for the party organization and his proposed plan to perpetuate a division in the party should be repudiated.

The quickest way out of the commission snarl is for the legislature which convenes in January to enact another law and modify in a measure some of the provisions of the fifth section of the present act. It is better to do this than to be fighting for the present law in the courts for two years and then, not improbably, have it declared unconstitutional and leave the people of the State just where they started two years ago. It is hoped that Governor Hogg and the next legislature will take the same view of it.

We never saw a triumph which furnished as much ground for rejoicing to as many diverse elements as the one on the 8th inst. Our third party friends can rejoice over the defeat of Harrison by Cleveland; our Clark friends can rejoice over the election of Cleveland and the county ticket; the supporters of Governor Hogg can rejoice with unpeakable joy over the glorious victory from president down, while there is no little pleasure in the result to many of our republican friends. The man who can't find some cause for rejoicing in the outcome of the election is in a truly deplorable condition. He needs to be "sat" up with.

A SPIRIT OF TOLERANCE.

We sincerely hope that none of the supporters of Gov. Hogg will be so carried away by the magnitude of the victory won as to be proscriptive towards those who followed the fortunes of Judge Clark in the recent contest. There is no question that Governor Hogg in his nomination stood for the regular democratic party in its organized capacity and the executive committee appointed by the convention which nominated Governor Hogg is the regular executive committee of the party. Clark could not claim to be the nominee of more than a faction, a very small fraction of the party and his candidacy as amounting to nothing more than a revolt against party machinery. Just what course the rank and file of George Clark's supporters will pursue it is yet too early to determine. If George Clark and his chief of the executive committee, Ex-Senator Matlock, can perpetuate the division in the democratic party in this State, they will certainly do so and in fact have so announced. They claim that the split is permanent, that their organization will be maintained and that two years hence the fight will again be fought over. It is to be hoped the conservative element in that following which values party unity and party success higher than the gratification of the fleeting ambition of self-constituted leaders will be able to over-rule the extreme element as reflected by the sentiments of Clark and Matlock. Clark and Matlock can not establish their claim to speak for the organized democracy of the State. Their executive committee will not contend that they are the true representatives of the party. The National Committee does not regard Mr. Matlock as the regular chairman. The National Committee does regard Mr. Baker as the regular chairman. Then any expressions or manifestoes coming from Mr. Matlock assuming to speak for the organized democracy of the State are the expressions of one without authority. Will the following of Judge Clark then be further led astray by the flippant pretensions to consecrated leadership of Mr. Matlock? We can not believe that the great mass of those democrats who voted for George Clark will still further follow him in his proposal to keep up strife and division in the democratic party. If he persists in doing so we trust and believe that they will drop him, refuse to follow his misguided leadership further and return to their old places in the only proper democratic organization of the State.

The situation is a critical one, pregnant with great danger to democratic unity and party success not only in county nominations but in congressional and State. The supporters of George Clark, democrats in the main as they have been, can not afford to quit the organization of which they have for years been members and go straggling off after the chimerical schemes of Clark and Matlock. Let them repudiate the proposed program of Clark and Matlock and resume full fellowship in the ranks of those with whom they have always affiliated. It will not be denied that some of Governor Hogg's supporters will be inclined to be proscriptive, to want to keep them out. These we hope and believe are few. It is absurd to talk about maintaining two democratic organizations with two sets of nominees in every county in the State. It would only result in the triumph of the enemies of democracy every time. With the exercise of tolerance on the part of Governor Hogg's followers and reason and conservatism on the part of Judge Clark's path will be smoothed for a re-integration of the divided factions of the democratic party.

THE exigencies of the political situation in Houston county imperatively demand that the two factions in this county should come together. To this end the supporters of Governor Hogg should not be proscriptive but tolerant and the supporters of George Clark should discountenance the scheme of George Clark and Senator Matlock in seeking to perpetuate the split. The exercise of a broad spirit of tolerance on the one hand and the firm refusal to follow the leadership of Mr. Matlock on the other would soon effectively heal the discordant elements in the party.

Let the Hogg and Clark supporters drop all talk of Hogg and Clark and get together. We can't afford to have two democratic parties in Houston county, or Texas for that matter. We have a formidable enemy in the third party and its colored allies and democrats can't afford to perpetuate division and strife with a united enemy in front.

We Get Everything!

All Branches of the Government Will Be Anti-Republican.

OHIO GOES FOR CLEVELAND.

Both the Buckeye State and Wisconsin Join the Crowd.

CALIFORNIA ALSO COMES OVER TO THE DEMOCRATIC SIDE.

AN ELECTORAL MAJORITY OF ONE HUNDRED AND SIXTY.

The Largest Known Since Grant Beat Greeley in 1872.

EVEN THEN GRANT'S ELECTORAL VOTE WAS 17 LESS THAN CLEVELAND'S.

THE ELECTORAL COLLEGE.

Table showing electoral college results by state, including columns for States, Cleveland, Harrison, and Weaver.

Total number of votes 444. Necessary for a choice 223. Cleveland's Majority 160.

The latest returns received give Mr. Cleveland 302 electoral votes, a loss of one in Michigan reducing yesterday's total of 303.

Late returns from Nebraska indicate that Harrison has carried Nebraska by a very small majority—less than 1,500—and the eight votes of Nebraska have been transferred from the Weaver to the Harrison column.

California and Ohio still remain in the Democratic column by narrow pluralities. There is a strong probability that Weaver has carried North Dakota.

Kansas appears to have elected a Legislature which will be controlled by the Republicans.

The returns from the far Western States are yet incomplete and changes may yet have to be made in the above table, but there seems to be no probability of a material reduction in the anti-Republican majority given above.

The latest returns give the Democrats 218 members of the House of Representatives, the Republicans 127 and the Third party or Fusionists 11.

The Democrats have a majority of 80. Alabama has evidently elected a solid Democratic delegation, including James E. Cobb, of the Fifth District, against whom Tom Watson especially directed his "jag" attack.

Table showing the next Senate results by state, including columns for Dem, Rep, and P.P.

Table showing electoral college results by state, including columns for Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, North Carolina, North Dakota, Ohio, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Carolina, South Dakota, Tennessee, Texas, Vermont, Virginia, Washington, West Virginia, Wisconsin, Wyoming.

Total 43 39 6. Anti-Republican majority, 10.

These figures are based upon the latest returns from North Dakota and Montana, which seem to have chosen Fusion Legislatures.

New Hampshire returns two Republicans, ex-United States Senator H. W. Blair being elected in the First District. The Maryland delegation is Democratic.

By the latest figures the Democrats also gain two each in Pennsylvania and West Virginia and one each in Wisconsin and California. Other changes give the Republicans one more in each of the States of Illinois, Ohio and Minnesota.

Benjamin Harrison and Whiteley Reid are worse beaten in the Electoral College than any men who have run for President and Vice President since Horace Greeley's campaign in 1872.

They will receive barely more votes than Greeley would have had had he lived until the college met. Cleveland and Stevenson will receive more votes in the Electoral College than any candidates have ever before had.

The exact figures according to latest returns was: Cleveland, 303; Harrison, 109; Weaver, 32.

The latest reports indicate that the next United States Senate will be divided as follows: Democrats, 42; Republicans, 40; Peoples, 6; Anti-Republican majority, 8.

Democratic Legislatures have been elected in New York, Wisconsin and California to choose the successors of Republican Senators Hiseock, Sawyer and Felton.

Fusion Legislatures have been elected to choose Senators in place of these Republicans: Paddock, of Nebraska; Perkins, of Kansas; Warren, of Wyoming, and Stewart, of Nevada.

The Legislatures of Minnesota, North Dakota, Michigan and Montana are probably Republican. If so, there will be no change in these States.

Senator Stewart, of Nevada, will undoubtedly be chosen to succeed himself, but he will go back as a silver man and not as a Republican.

According to the latest returns, the new House of Representatives will stand 218 Fusion or Third party men. Several of the Fusionists are Democrats and will vote with that party.

The defeat of George Fred Williams and John P. Andrew in Massachusetts and the return of James G. Cannon from the Fifth Illinois District, are causes for regret. The following table gives the complexion of the delegations elected by each State:

Pennsylvania, 34. Rhode Island, 35. South Carolina, 36. South Dakota, 37. Tennessee, 38. Texas, 39. Vermont, 40. Virginia, 41. Washington, 42. West Virginia, 43. Wisconsin, 44. Wyoming.

Totals 213 129 14. Minnesota has apparently gone for Harrison, though the Democrats still hope for the election of the four Weaver electors endorsed by them.

Later returns from Kansas are not so encouraging to the Fusionists as were the first, but it has apparently voted for the Weaver electors. The returns are such, however, as to inspire the Republicans to claim the State.

California, at first put down for Harrison is now practically conceded to Cleveland. In Colorado the third party, with the aid of fusion, has made a clean sweep.

A claim is made to Nebraska by the Republicans on the strength of the Republican gains in the First District, but the State has undoubtedly chosen the Weaver electors.

The Democrats of Oregon are still claiming the election of one Weaver electoral candidate. The Republicans now concede the State of Wisconsin to Cleveland and Peck.

The late returns from Illinois indicate that the overthrow of the Republicans there is complete, and that the Democrats have a plurality of about 10,000.

Indiana gives Cleveland a majority of from 6,000 to 10,000. Refuses to Follow. The Fort Worth Gazette which has been an ardent supporter of George Clark all through the campaign refuses to endorse his program of keeping up a division in the democratic party. It says:

The meeting of the counselors of Judge Clark at Waco on Saturday will probably determine whether the politico civil warfare begun at Houston is to be continued indefinitely. If moderation rules the proceedings, the outcome will be a step in the direction of a harmonizing democratic party in this State.

It must be apparent now to all who dissent from the action of the regular convention at Houston that disaster waits upon all efforts outside the scope of regular party organization. Fusion movements are rarely successful, and even when they appear to be so, the results are satisfactory to no one.

The present conditions admit of an easy compromise. The fight was waged mainly upon national issues. It is absurd that such differences should divide the party at home. The idea that there is an irreconcilable conflict of principles between the two masses of Democrats is the chimera of an excited brain. There is no solid foundation for it.

Further division merely means further agitation. That is all. It is easy to see, from a study of the returns, that it cannot, by any possibility, bear fruit.

No Texas Democrat need be afraid to go into the primaries with the masses of his party. They are honest and well-meaning, and they will not stand sponsor for political heresies or for any injury to the general welfare of the people of the state.

TOM WATSON of Georgia was buried out of sight by the recent election. The third party didn't get a congressman from that state. Jerry Simpson of Kansas was re-elected.

GRAPELAND.

Nov. 14th, 1892.

Crockett COURIER: The great battle is over. Victory for democracy has been won. The smoke of battle has cleared up and the dead and wounded are being cared for. Grover Cleveland is elected Jim Hogg gets there with all four feet, and democracy is on top all along the line. "Rejoice oh, ye people for you have gained a victory to be proud of."

Grapeland is the banner democratic box of the county and proudly does she wear the honor. B. F. C., where are you? W. H. C., "Sugar Bounty Bill," where do you root now? N. F. S., "YE PURE DEMOCRAT," don't you want to wait till next time? Let us be generous. Those who are victorious can afford to be generous. If they will vote the straight ticket one time we will receive them back into the democratic fold. Oh, ye Voters. If they want to do this there is but one place for them. They will have to organize a new party and call it the 5th party. The democrats won't have them, the republicans say they have no use for them, the 4th party don't want them, the third party will reject them, so they will be compelled to get up a fifth party. "Turn Texas Loose" shall be its platform and nominations shall be made by a minority—see.

Business here is booming up since the election. Cotton continues to go up in spite of Hogg and Cleveland's election and the calamity h-wers are "not in it."

CREEK.

We are having so much rain that cotton picking has stopped.

Health is good on the Creek. The pollen fever is over. This box polled 75 votes. About 35 negroes voted and they voted the third party ticket solid. There were 17 democratic votes cast for Cleveland.

It seems like the people's party has swallowed the republican party at this place, there was not a vote cast for Harrison here. One consolation is that it will learn the democrats a lesson, and that is to wake up. A divided house can not stand; a solid South for Cleveland. O. LEARY.

Walter Stubblefield was thrown from a wagon Monday with almost fatal results.

One of the Smith's younger sons came very near being killed this week by the kick of a horse.

If you want bargains in dry goods, groceries, clothing, notions, etc., call and see Will Denny.

WANTED—300 doz. chickens and a half car of eggs. Highest prices paid for all kinds of country produce. Our goods are cheap for cash. JONES & SATTERWHITE.

Go to I. W. Murchison for fine Teas. He has several varieties from the cheapest to the best. Also Arbuckle's Roasted Coffee best on the market.

The third party majority in the Lovelady justice beat was a stunner. Every voting box in that beat, Freeman, Holly, Lovelady, Weldon, Creek and Shiloh, show fearful odds for the third party. The democrats fought a noble fight but were overwhelmed.

JACOB NELSON, F. L. S. MARTIN.

CASH! CASH! CASH!!!

I am "in it." Clothing just opened to fit big, fat, slim or tall. Youths and boys suits. Pants of all colors and styles. Ladies dress goods to catch the eye of the most fastidious, black, green, blue, wine, purple and brown casimeres, with all shades of braid and cord to match. A lovely line of gents furnishing goods. TACKS! TACKS!!! An all zinc covered trunk with barrel top and fancy tray $2.50. Shoel! More and better shoes, ladies' button, lace or Child's school shoe, each $1. Three kinds tobacco, flat, navy or smoking, 25 cts. per lb. Flour, bacon and lard. 5 lbs. rice coffee and 18 lbs. fancy Y. C. sugar, each $1. R. M. ATKINSON.

Bill McConnell Says:

Our fashionable line of dress goods is bringing people not only from every nook and corner in our own county but from adjoining counties, consisting in part of Drap D. Alma, Armenian Serge, Cassamarenes, Moratta, Novoletta, Henrietta, Flanneletta, Fantasia, Olla Podrida, Simplex Munditia, Sui Generis, Coup De Grace, Nomen et Omen, Highupagebuffin, Jacquard Rolio, Regium donum, Pro re nata, Ala Francaise and lots of other kinds that we have not room to tell you about with trimmings to match. A dazzling line of notions, an unequalled line of boots and shoes, a select line of boys and mens clothing, an elegant line of ladies and misses hats, a complete line of heavy dry goods, and a full line of groceries consisting in part of new oat flakes, dried grapes, buck wheat flour, dried apples, peaches, onions, potatoes and many other fancy groceries, and all the heavy groceries. SPECIAL:—Our store is always clean and nice, and full of goods at the lowest price.

Mrs. Corry and Miss Mary Nunn entertained their friends and patrons on Friday and Saturday evenings last with musical entertainments by their scholars.

Fine Velonette for dress trimmings at Bill McConnell's.

Silk and tinsel braid for dress trimming. New styles from 5 cts. to 25 cts. per yard at Bill McConnell's.

There are thirteen grades in Thompson's glove fitting corsets from 75 cts to $5 each. Bill McConnell has them from 75 cts. to $1.75 marked in plain figures and as low as can be sold.

Angusta carried off the banner for a straight shot against the third party. There were only six third party votes at that box. The vote, however, shows that more than fifty democratic voters staid at home on day of election.

Go to I. W. Murchison for your dry goods. We have a very large stock and they must be sold as we do not want to carry winter goods over until spring. We have a large stock of men's underwear very cheap. Examine our over shirts, we have a good line and are selling them cheap. We have a large line of shawls very cheap, also a splendid lot of trunks and valises.

A morning or two after the election the writer was very much gratified to receive "from the successful candidates with their compliments" a splendid lot of oysters in testimony of their appreciation of the writer's labors for the county ticket. We return thanks for the same. Others, equally or more deserving, were also reminded in the same way of the estimate which the nominees placed on their efforts.

We understand the Clark crowd at Grapeland acting under the delusion that Clark had been elected appointed a committee to come down and tender to the editor of the COURIER their sympathies. Fortunately, they discovered their mistake before leaving and concluded not to come. The writer now takes occasion to return the compliment and to assure them of the editor's most distinguished and cordial condolence under a seventy thousand majority. "Peace be with you."

For the last three weeks we have been so rushed with business we did not have one moment to speak to our many friends through the paper. Although time is precious we feel it our duty to tell our patrons who live here and abroad that our fine dress goods have gone very fast, we have another supply, however, en rout from Chicago and New York which will be here in a few days. They are really wonders of the world in beauty and prices. Thanking the many ladies who have brightened our store with their smiling faces we ask them to call again and often. We are Truly yours, J. C. WOOTTERS.

A majority of the colored voters in the county voted the third party ticket straight from president down. The rest stood manfully aloof from that party and helped the democrats save the county ticket. But for the aid which several hundred colored voters rendered the democracy the ticket would have been slaughtered! The democrats recognize this, appreciate it and will remember them for it. A few colored voters deserve especial mention for the active work they did against the third party and in behalf of the democratic ticket. These were Tom Wheeler, Payne Warfield, Tom Tarver, Lee Johnson, Charley Hall and Green Wynne. Frank Hill, our efficient postmaster, is entitled to the special and lasting gratitude of the democrats for the noble services he rendered.

Grand Rally.

We should like to see a grand rally of those who owe the COURIER for subscriptions, etc. Those who owe this paper will confer a special favor by calling and settling for same. We can't get along on wind and nothing else. If you think so, come and try it. If you don't think so, come round and pay up. Don't think that others can get along on what you can't yourselves.

Cotton Booming.

Cotton has advanced fully a cent since the election and nearly a half cent this week. Middling cotton in Crockett commands $1 this week. A good many of the third party workers before the election told the colored voters that the success of the third party ticket would advance the price of cotton, but it seems, that if the election had anything to do with it, just the reverse is the truth.

At The Saddle Shop.

Those going to buy a saddle should come as soon as possible in order to have the largest stock to select from. They are going very fast now. We are prepared to exactly suit the ladies in side saddles. We have the largest and most elegant line ever brought to Crockett for them to select from and cheaper than ever.

Our line of suspenders is a surprise. A great variety of elegant handkerchiefs 5 cts. each. Two spools thread 5 cts. Two papers large brass pins 5 cts. Silk ribbon 5 cts. per yard.

We have these goods and thousands of other things and are selling them at these prices. Don't forget the place. Look for the sign. SADDLE SHOP.

Hustling.

Since the election of Cleveland there is a fearful hustling going on all over the State for positions of Federal Marshals, revenue agents, post masters, etc. The fever has struck Houston county and there seems to be some half dozen at Lovelady, who want to be post master of that bustling little town. There are some in Crockett who are making an effort to get the appointment here. The democrats of Crockett by a large majority are in favor of the present post master, F. H. Hill, holding on till the expiration of his office. He has made a most excellent official and will hardly be disturbed till his time is out.
