Almost circling the pool will be a gravel beach, and around the base will be ranged ornamental cases, in which will be shown the products of the island, consisting of fruits, coral, shells and cameos, the coral worked into beads, eardrops, breastpins, bracelets, etc., the shells into pretty pocket-books. and souvenirs, and cameo portraits and carvings will be sold to memento-cray-

ing visitors. The display will be completed by a large collection of historical relics from the abundance of material excavated on the island; also a lot of fine photographs of every part of the isle. The photographs show street scenes in the old-fashioned towns of Capri and Anacapri, with their picturesque one-story houses of stone and plaster. In the streets may be seen donkeys with loaded panniers, and the other heavyburdened though happy and contented creatures of drudgery, the women, who earry great baskets, bundles of wood, heavy water jugs and even stone buildwill show what remains of the twelve palaces built by Tiberius during his ten years' residence within sight of Vesuvius' sullenly flocks pasture where once the Emperor held his orgies of drinking and feast-

The Argument Used

Y the makers of the second-class baking powders to induce the dealer to push them off on Royal consumers is that they cost less than Royal and afford the dealer much more profit.

But you, madam, are charged the same price for them as for the absolutely pure Royal, which is perfectly combined from the most highly refined and expensive materials. The lower cost of the others is caused by the cheap, impure materials used in them, and the haphazard way in which they are thrown together.

Do you wish to pay the price of the Royal for an inferior baking powder, made from impure goods, of 27 per cent. less strength? If you buy the other powders, insist upon having a corresponding reduction in price.
