CONGRESSIONAL NEWS.

Wolcott's Resolution Directing the Finance Committee to Report a Bill Dissolved.

VOORHEES MAKES A BROAD ASSERTION.

Declaring That the Pending Bill Does Not Demolish the Silver—Says Court Must Be Closed.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—The resolution offered by Mr. Wolcott directing the committee on finance to report a bill embodying the bi-metallic declaration contained in the Voorhees substitute for the Wilson repeal bill was taken up yesterday and Mr. Wolcott addressed the senate in favor of its adoption, but more particularly in criticism of the president's letter to Gov. Northern of Georgia, characterizing it as intrusive and offensive. Mr. Voorhees said that the constant assertion that the pending bill demoralized silver was not a fact. The pending bill did not take from a single dollar of silver money its monetary value. Mr. Voorhees then defended the declaration of the policy of bi-metallicism contained in the senate substitute, saying more had been accomplished by just such declarations than by positive laws, and he cited the Declaration of Independence as an illustration. Mr. Teller said that the pending bill became a law it was a complete and utter extinguishment of silver as standard money all over the world. The resolution went to the calendar and the repeal bill was taken up.

Compromise Compromises.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—Secretary Carlisle made a visit to the senate wing of the capitol Saturday afternoon. Coming at this juncture, when every one of the senators was expecting the unusual to happen, the visit created a sensation. He had just come from a close conference with the president, and it was naturally supposed that he had some important message for individual senators or for the body at large. If such was the case he did not take the pains to furnish the public with the same information. He spent about two hours in conference with various Democratic senators, the marble room and the room of the finance committee, but did not enter the chamber. Among others with whom he conversed were Mr. Voorhees and Mr. Harris. The question which he had been asked over and over again was what a vote would be had on the bill, Senator Butler said compromise, compromise, is the solution to the struggle here. When the senate met yesterday there were six Republicans and one Democrat present. After some delay a quorum was secured.

Cannot Agree.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—The difficulty in the way of securing a compromise on the repeal bill becomes more and more apparent every day, because of the opposition which exists among Democrats. These differences were manifest from the beginning on the question of issuing bonds. Some of the special companions of the administration insist that the bill be confined to the extent of $800,000,000 as proposed, in order to preserve the parity of gold and silver it will be absolutely necessary to procure a greater supply of gold than what is now in the treasury. The majority of the silver Democrats, and many announce their unalterable opposition.

Charles Strip Investigation.

Morgan's Amendment.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—A novel amendment to the bill repealing the purchasing clause of the silver act of 1890 was submitted in the senate yesterday by Mr. Morgan of Alabama. NAVAL COURSE AT CORNELL.

Branch of Education Inaugurated by Initiative of European Powers.

One of our great universities has taken a step in the right direction to foster the maritime growth of the country by opening a school of naval architecture and marine engineering.

One of our great universities has taken a step in the right direction to foster the maritime growth of the country by opening a school of naval architecture and marine engineering. Cornell university has inaugurated a school of naval architecture in the Western hemisphere, this new departure of Cornell merits description. The leading powers of Europe have long had such schools. France has one at Paris called the government school of naval architecture. Italy has one at Genoa.

"How long does it take to complete the course?" inquired a writer for the Washington Star.

"The course occupies two years," was the reply, "but it is arranged as to require three years' preparation in a good technical school before entering upon it. It is intended that students of Cornell, which is the senior year in the course in mechanical engineering may then take up this course for their fourth college year and finish it in one year of preparation in the world, the largest school factory in America, and several other manufacturing and retail establishments of mammoth proportions.

The sixth annual exposition will terminate one of its most successful seasons on Oct. 21, and as this practically includes the carnival, it is important that arrangements be made at once for a visit to St. Louis while in its holiday attire. The railroad companies have made such concessions in rates, and have enlarged the low rate area so materially that the expense attached to attending the carnival has been reduced to something like the rate for a first-class ticket. ST. LOUIS CARNIVAL.

BRILLIANT SUCCESS OF THE AUTUMNAL FESTIVITIES.

Enormous Crowds Enjoying the Hospitality of the Metropolis of the West and Southwest—Concluding Dates and Attractions.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 8.—The Columbian festivities in this city continue to attract visitors from all directions. The territory which looks upon St. Louis as its natural commercial metropolis is represented by tens of thousands of citizens, while from more distant points the attendance has been and continues very large. The foreign commissioners, who came from Chicago to witness the Velled Prophets parade and the other attractions, were a unit in pronouncing the street illuminations the most magnificent ever witnessed, and they were also delighted with the exposition, the fair, and the city generally. During their stay they were able to see the largest brewery in America, largest drug house in the world, the largest shoe factory in America, and several other manufacturing and retail establishments of mammoth proportions.

The sixth annual exposition will terminate one of its most successful seasons on Oct. 21, and as this practically includes the carnival, it is important that arrangements be made at once for a visit to St. Louis while in its holiday attire. The railroad companies have made such concessions in rates, and have enlarged the low rate area so materially that the expense attached to attending the carnival has been reduced to something like the rate for a first-class ticket. The other electric set pieces and panorama, twelve in number, include a lovely floral arch in natural colors, brilliant pyrotechnic effects, an executive arch with portraits of all the presidents of the United States, and a revolving electric star made up of nearly 1000 electric lights in constant motion and with rapid changes in color. Electric Revolving Star.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 10.—The illuminations are so gorgeous that no one can afford to miss seeing them. An illustration is given of the revolving electric star made up of nearly 1000 electric lights in constant motion and with rapid changes in color. The commission case will be heard by the Supreme Court on the 16th inst.

JUDGE NUGENT announces that he will not be a candidate for the Third Party nomination.

The rustics of Horace, were he living and in Texas, might see the fulfillment of his dream at any of our water courses.

The United States Senate should do something or adjourn. The patience of the country is exhausted and the people of the country disgusted.

Those democrats who are filibustering to defeat the repeal of the Sherman law are digging the grave of the party on the tariff and other questions.

SENATOR Stewart's verbosity and voluminousness of speech on the silver question was never equaled by old "Granny" Blair's endless tirade on his education bill.

It is a matter of rather melancholy speculation to think that would have been left of Galveston if that Mobile and New Orleans storm had struck it.

The Third Party are so confident of success next year that they can almost taste the pork in the barrel.

There is many a slip 'twixt the mouth and the sop.

It seems to be a hard matter for the Houston Post to make up its mind as to who it wants for governor next year. Is it your "Uncle Charley" or not?

It is said that Stump Ashby will speak in Crockett in the near future. If so, he will probably affirm or deny the correctness of the News' report of his Bazette speech.

If the factions in Texas are to get together the process of welding must begin at the top and come down. It can never be accomplished by beginning at the bottom and going up.

HOUSTON COUNTY forges to the front in East Texas in increase of values this year. There is not another county that shows an increase of three hundred and fifty thousand dollars.

The District Judge in Nacogdoches county quashed twenty-odd indictments of the Grand Jury because of the omission of the word "the" from the bills in the phrase "in the name and by [the] authority."

THE WILLIS INDEX is a "sassy" sheet. Referring to Congressman Cooper's plan to submit the silver question to a popular vote, it has the audacity to ask Cooper why he doesn't agree to leave the Nacogdoches postmaster's office to a vote of the people. It might have gone farther and included other post-offices.

Of all men in Texas who can write a book of delightful political, personal and historical reminiscences, Hamilton Stewart, who, for so many years and with so much ability, has labored as a member of the News staff, is preeminently fitted for such work. The next meeting of the Press Association should urge him to undertake it.

The Nebraska Democratic State Convention met last week. The session was stormy. The fight was between the administration and anti-administration democrats.

The former won and endorsed Cleveland, his administration and the repeal of the Sherman law. Bryan, the brilliant democratic congressman from that state, announced his withdrawal from the party. We presume he will join the populists.

NOT IN THE RACE OF '94.

JUDGE NUGENT IS NOT IN PRACTICAL POLITICS.

No Desire to Be a Candidate for Governor and If Nominated Could Not Make the Campaign.

FR. WORTH, Tex., Oct. 4.—Judge Nugent, who has been away from the city several days returned last night and was asked this morning if it was true he had authorized an explicit denial of his candidacy for governor of Texas. He was just reading a letter from a Mr. Fonda and taking that as a text he gave this statement:

So far as Mr. Fonda is concerned I have probably met him; I don't know where, it may have been here, or possibly in Dallas, and it is likely if I were to see him I would know him as a man I had met and talked with, but I would not recognize him as Fonda. If I had any interview with him on that subject, or expressed to him any of my own wishes, I do not recollect it, though it is more than likely I may have talked to him on that subject.

About Sept. 14 I received a letter from E. K. Fonda, dated Sept. 13, in which he asks me whether I would accept a nomination for the office of governor, stating in that letter he had heard that I had suggested Col. Jerome Kearby, and that I would, under no circumstances, accept the nomination. To that letter I made no reply whatever.

"You can make this statement: I have felt that this far in advance of the campaign it would be foolish for me to rush into print for the purpose of giving an expression respecting my purpose in the premises."

"My own position is just simply this: I have studiously avoided participation in practical politics since the campaign of last year. I have no desire for any office; do not regard myself as fitted for party leadership at all, and am, in almost every respect, unsuited for the life of a politician or of a public man. I have no desire for the notoriety which comes from newspaper discussion of myself or of my purposes. For that reason I have avoided even interviews with respect to matters of that kind, and have repeatedly requested reporters, whom I have met casually, not to mention what I have said, because I have wanted to avoid any participation in politics, for which I feel entirely unsuited."

"I am not a candidate for the nomination of any office, for governor or for any other office; nor do I expect to be. I have told my people's party friends invariably that I had not the financial means to justify me in making a canvass and that I would not undertake to make a campaign. For that reason I have regarded myself as entirely out of the question. In addition to that, my business suffered last year on account of that campaign. During the past summer I contracted debts on account of the Texas Advance, or in connection with it, which have embarrassed me and which I must pay or see paid, and this, with the necessary support of my family will require that I give my attention solely to business, and have been trying to do that ever since the campaign of last year closed."

"I have repeatedly spoken of Major Kearby as a gentleman in every way worthy to be nominated and elected governor of Texas. I have also spoken of other people's party men whom I would gladly support for that office. Among them may be named W. O. Hutchison of San Marcos, Evan Jones of Erath county, Major Rumph, R. A. High and others. Major Kearby, being a man of distinguished ability, and having occupied a conspicuous place in all independent or third party movements in Texas, naturally attracts more attention than others who have been mentioned in connection with the office of governor. For that reason I have spoken of him in private conversation most favorably in that connection."

"But I had no intention of publicly recommending him to the people's party, as that would have implied a degree of autonomy, and almost insolence, that I am incapable of. I have no inclination to dictate whom the party shall nominate for governor. I can only say that so far as I am concerned I have no desire for the nomination, and if nominated I could not make the canvass. Neither Mr. Fonda, nor any one else, has had any authority from me to make any statement respecting my intentions."

CAPTAIN SWEENEY, U. S. A., San Diego, Cal., says: "Shiloh's Catarrh Remedy is the best medicine I have ever found that would do me any good." Price 50 cts. Sold by J. G. Haring.

THE GULF'S DEATH STORM.

It is Estimated Now that the Loss of Life is 2,041.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 5.—The return of several of the relief parties sent to the storm-stricken districts of the State fully confirms the news of yesterday and adds to the list of those drowned or killed. A corrected list swells the total number of dead to 2,041. This may be increased 250 or 300 more by the news from St. Bernard marshes and from the vessels off the Louisiana coast, of which only meagre reports have been received. It is thought that none of the smaller vessels in the open sea escaped. The additional losses reported are: Rigolets, 16; Biloxi, 1; Chandeliers, 110; near Grand Baures, 16; from vessels, 93.

The loss of life at Cheniere Caminada is now known to be 1,250 instead of 1,040 as at first reported. At Bayou Andre 72 perished instead of 40, and at Granda Isle 24 instead of 10. The only place from which no returns have been received is the St. Bernard or Lake Borgne Marsh. This marsh extends from Lake Borgne to the Gulf. It is a dead level ocean marsh with more water than land, and covers 1,200 square miles. Its only inhabitants were 200 fishermen, who lived in cabins built on piles. Since the storm not one of its inhabitants has come to town or any neighboring settlement. At one place in Chandeliers, where the tornado was most violent, none is said to have escaped. On the West Plaquemine parish the wind probably reached a velocity of 120 miles an hour. The chances that the Lake Borgne fishermen survived the hurricane are considered doubtful. A boat was sent to their settlements to-day to see if any survived.

Loud complaints came from the Bayou Cook, and many of the bodies were found to have been robbed. Most of the fishermen were well to do and all carried their fortunes in cash in their pockets. No money has been found on their remains and sums ranging from $3,000 to $10,000 have disappeared.

The loss of life on the shipping as far as can be learned is: Young America, 15; Urketa, 15; Annie B., 6; Laura B., 6; New Union, 5; Rosella Smith, 3; Lesalie, 4; Hero, 1; Angelique, 6; Annie Eads, 13; Sino, 4; Gen. Vixie, 4; Remus, 1; Centennial, 2; Ravensdale, 1; Bess, 1. Most of the loss occurred off the Chandeliers Island and the Mississippi Sound. The shipping suffered severely in both places, and the loss of life is likely to be very heavy. Nearly all the vessels in Mississippi Sound, at the lumber or fishing ports of Biloxi, Scranton, Bay St. Louis, and others suffered or were sunk. Among the lost are the Austrian bark, Niketa, Austrian bark, Annie E., American schooner Angelique, American schooner, Annie Eads, American schooner, Eliza B., American schooner New Union, Austrian bark, Sino, British brig, Rosalie Smith, American schooner, Centennial. The following vessels were badly injured, losing masts and anchors, and being so disabled that they will have to be repaired: American schooner Two Brothers, American schooner Chieora, American bark Rebecca Giddard, American bark Henty T. Gregg, German bark Margaritina, Norwegian bark Simon. The destruction of the smaller boats, such as sloops, luggers, and fishing vessels, is complete. Out of 100 at Cheniere Caminada, 158 are lost; out of 60 at Bay St. Louis, 54; out of 120 at the other places on Mississippi Sound, 100. Altogether they number between 600 and 700 in the storm-swept region, worth probably $400,000.

THE GOLD RESERVE.

It is Now Close to the Lowest Point Ever Reached.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 6.—Several days ago the Treasury Department mailed interesting checks aggregating in value about $5,000,000 to pay interest on the public debt due October 1. The effect of their payment is already being felt in the reduction of the gold reserve which today stands at $89,926,693, as compared with a reserve of $93,582,172 on the 24th inst. The reserve has reached nearly the lowest point in its history, which occurred about the middle of last June, when it was seven hundred thousand below what it is today.

The present currency balance, however, has turned the other way from that of the gold reserve and shows an increase of $2,647,200 since the second day of the month. The department is accumulating currency at some of the interior points in anticipation of the large pension payment which will have to be made soon. No gold is going out of the country so far as the officials of the department are informed.

Mr. Bryan and Democracy. The great bias, sounded by the Nebraska Democracy in favor of Grover Cleveland and honest money made Mr. Bryan jump, and it was thought that he had bounded straight into the Populist camp, but later reports rather indicate that he has not yet fully determined to pass the Rubicon.

Upon his return to Washington, from the Nebraska convention he said in reply to a question as to his position in the matter—that he would say as he had said at the convention, "whenever I am satisfied that the Democratic party as a party is in favor of the single gold standard I will serve my country under another name."

We regret to see such an eloquent and promising young politician as Mr. Bryan so perturbed upon a difference of opinion between himself and the great majority of his party upon the financial question as to threaten to commit political suicide. He should know, however, that Democracy does not seek to establish gold monometallism, but aims at sound money and will retain silver to the fullest extent that its coinage and use may be consistent with the financial security of the country. Conditions often necessarily turn aside fixed policies. The silver situation in Europe commands us to halt as a measure of self-defense.

Mr. Bryan should return to the fold before it is too late, aid the Democrats and is honored chieftain in the great work of reform and share the honors of triumph.

OFFICE OF S. CHERRY, 21 Drayton St.

SAVANNAH, GA., Dec. 16, 1891.

MESSES. LIPPMAN BROS. SAVANNAH, GA.

DEAR SIRS:—I would like to add my testimony to the almost miraculous effort of P. P. P. in the case of Mary Ingraham, a woman living on my place; she had a constant cough, sore throat, debility, etc., and was enaciated to a degree that she was unable to get out of bed, aided, being given up by physicians; she had taken the ruinous so called Blood Medicines without the least effect, until being put under the P. P. P., she immediately began to improve and is now in as good health as ever in her life. You can refer to me at any time as to the effects of P. P. P. in the foregoing case.

Your truly, SAMUEL CHERRY.

A Marshal Saved Life and Hair.

For the last eight year I have been in bad health, suffering with Malaria, Rheumatism, Dyspepsia, Dropsy. My digestion was bad, and my hair all came out, in fact I was nearly a wreck. I had taken kidney and blood medicines, which did me no good. When I began taking P. P. P., about three months ago, I was as weak as a child. I have only taken four bottles (small size) and to-day I am a well man and my hair has "come again." I cannot recommend P. P. P., too highly.

One bottle completely cured me. I sent one bottle to my sister, who had a severe cough, and she experienced immediate relief. I always recommend this syrup to my friends.
