Tom Jinks, director of special programs at Muleshoe High School, announces that due to several conflicting activities of school personnel, classes will be dismissed Friday, November 12, at 2:30 p.m. instead of the regular 3:45 p.m. This applies to all schools in Muleshoe.

Canyon is currently leading the district by half a game as they came from behind to tie Perryton last Friday.

In a close second place are Muleshoe and Dumas, both with 2-1 records. Perryton is next with a 1-1-1 record, followed by Levelland, with their district championship hopes smashed by the Mules last week, having a record of 1-2. Residing in the cellar of the district is Tulia with a 0-3 record. Tulia had early hopes of doing well in district play, but has not won a district game and hasn't scored a point in district competition.

The Mules have done well this season, as they are leading the district in season records having a 6-2 winning streak. They are also tied in

Local United Fund Benefits Community

Red Cross and USO are two of the Muleshoe Area United Fund's largest projects in helping people of the community. Red Cross assists in disaster relief with fast mobilization in emergencies helping with shelters, food, clothing and medical care. It provides GI's with help in family problems and personal emergencies.

Many mostly volunteer workers help with clinics, day nurseries and blood programs. Red Cross provides instructors in home nursing, first aid, and life saving courses. It also provides local youth the opportunity to serve their community by using them as youth volunteers in many programs.

Out of last year's Muleshoe budget, 30 per cent was used for services for local servicemen; three per cent went to Pakistan victims after the massive tidal wave; and the balance was sent to the National Red Cross Fund which is used for services rendered to finance disaster relief, blood services, assistance to servicemen and veterans, and Red Cross services in military hospitals and clinics and community hospitals and clinics.

The monies sent to the National Fund are considered as insurance in case of a disaster in our community and to assist local servicemen and veterans.

The USO service is primarily to operate USO Centers in the United States and overseas. In the US there are 124 centers and overseas there are 62 USO centers providing a place for soldiers to get away from it all.

During the last year, USO shows presented 8,100 performances to 8.7 million military personnel involving 1,066 performers. These shows were presented free to military personnel and the USO centers are operated in the same manner.

Jeannie C. Riley Show Draws Crowd

A pert and pretty "country girl" from Anson, Texas who made it big in Nashville, sung her way into the hearts of a crowd of Muleshoe and area citizens Monday night to show that a famous, nationally known star can come to Muleshoe.

Around 1400 persons at both performances Monday night at the Muleshoe High School Auditorium were held spellbound by the lovely, talented singer and her band.

Traveling with Miss Riley was her new back-up band, The Homesteaders, who entertained the spectators during the first half of the show. Gordon Cash of the group proved his vocal talents by singing his newly released single, "Julie Ann's Baby" and joining the others in the band, vocalized on several popular tunes to the delight of the crowd.

Jeannie C. Riley came on stage singing her latest hit record, "If I'm Good Enough", following it up with her after hit including her two latest releases, "Houston Blues", recorded with MGM, with whom she has just signed a new contract, and "Roses and Thorns", her latest release on her old label, Plantation Records. Another popular song, both for her and her listening audience, was "Oh Singer" which recently hit the top of the charts in both the country and western field and pop field. She concluded her 45 minute program of songs with the one that first rocketed her to success in the music world, "Harper Valley P-T-A".

Bob Stovall, chairman of the BAC money raising project, reported that the show was real successful with the entertainment termed as excellent. He also stated that the entertainment and the area publicity

Well after a busy Homecoming week, students are now preparing for Halloween Carnival attractions. Everything from Mothers baking goodies, kids hauling off trash for community people, selling batteries, well anything to make an honest penny for their class Queen and King. Saturday will be a busy day, making g booths ready for operation that night after the coronation ceremonies in the auditorium.

Oh yes! Back to the Homecoming, (betcha thought I would just have to mention that again). Well naturally, I thought it was especially nice but very special credit goes to Mrs. Lanelle Scaggs and her student Council who were in charge of all extra added attractions and did a bang up job with the special seating area, flowers, crown, plaques, ribbons and all accessories that made it an especially nice occasion for this old misty-eyed Mom.

Well, how about this weather? Us poor farmers can't seem to get in more than two or three days of maize cutting a week then another front moves in. The maize harvest was later than usual getting started, anyhow, due the August rains, making better than ever yields, on the average, being reported. But the weather surely is slowing things considerably, (whew! sure glad Colorado deer hunting season was two weeks later than usual) and I'm just waging a guess that combining of maize and corn is not much more than mid-way point.

Goodwin Attends Convention

Ross Goodwin, of Muleshoe, recently returned from Dallas after attending the 40th annual convention of the National Water Resources Association. Goodwin is the Vice-President of the Board of Directors of the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1. Mrs. Goodwin, Cap, also attended the convention.

The National Water Resources Association was formally the National Reclamation Association and is primarily composed of representatives of 17 western states in the United States Bureau of Reclamation. Goodwin reported that nearly 40 speakers expressed their impressions and thoughts about the growing concern for the "environment", in accordance with the theme of this year's convention, "The Thinking Man's Environment". Goodwin noted that several speakers expressed ominous warnings that the public's charges against surface water lakes made by the new breed of environmentalists will lead to the cessation of construction of all large surface water impoundments, and to critical water shortages in the future. Noting that surface water projects normally take several decades to plan, finance, and construct, even without the delays now being caused by the suits being filed by the naturalists group seeking to halt such projects, Goodwin emphasized the need for the conservation of our present groundwater return systems. He noted that the groundwater conservation programs now being pursued by the High Plains District are intended to prolong the economic life of the groundwater beneath the High Plains; and that the conservation of this water, "our only supply", is not only a moral obligation of this generation to those generations to inherit the economy we have built, but such conservation is imperative to our own economic wellbeing. Goodwin noted that the rate of depletion of our groundwater supplies, and the many tens of years that will be required to import surface water to this area, requires everyone's cooperation and effort to conserve our present water supplies.

Tractor Pull To Be Held In Ft. Worth

Another first for the Southwest was set recently when the Southwest Farm Show was selected for the site of a National Tractor Pull in 1972. The announcement was made by R. B. Allen, Executive Director, Southwest Hardware and Implement Association.

The Southwest Farm Show and Tractor Pull will be held in the Fort Worth convention center, March 3-4-5, 1972. The three day event will be sponsored by more than 1,200 farm equipment and hardware dealers in Texas, New Mexico and western Oklahoma.

"Although tractor pulling is a new sport to this area, more than 1,500 tractor pulls will be held this year with over 45,000 farmers competing, primarily across the Midwest," Mr. Allen pointed out.

A tractor pull is a contest among tractor drivers with the machines pulling against a sled which is equipped with a weight transfer device. As the sled is pulled forward, the weight is moved from a set of wheels to the sled, increasing the burden on the sled until the tractor stalls or its wheels begin to spin. The distance the tractor and driver can move the sled is used to determine the winner.

More than $12,000 in cash prizes is being offered for the tractor pullers and entries from the Southwest are encouraged. Mr. Allen added,

John Tower United States Senate COMMITTEE ON ARMED SERVICES

I was extremely disappointed this past week that the majority of the members of the United Nations voted to expel from its membership the government of Taiwan.

Those who had supported the seating of Red China as a member of the United Nations had argued that the Communist regime of Mao Tse-tung is in face the government of nearly 800 million people and should be seated regardless of whether that government is lawfully constituted.

Unfortunately the majority of U.N. members were unwilling to apply the same standard for the lawfully-constituted government of the nearly 14 million people of Taiwan. This seems incongruous since 95 of the 131 nations represented in the U.N. had even smaller populations and some of these have been members since the world body was founded in 1945.

Indeed, one of the original members, the Byelorussian Soviet Socialist Republic, is not only smaller than Taiwan; it is like its sister member the Ukrainian Soviet Socialist Republic, less of an autonomous government than are our state governments. These two U.N. members can be considered more states of the U.S.S.R., than sovereign nations. I would make more sense to seat each of our 50 state governments.

I believe that our delegation at the United Nations should explore methods for ousting these two soviet socialist republics from membership. I believe also that we should seriously consider the real value of the United Nations. There is no question but that this world body makes a positive contribution in terms of scientific technology and humanitarian service to underdeveloped countries. And in some cases of conflict between smaller powers, it has contributed to peace keeping efforts. But the United Nations has proved to be ineffective as an instrument for the preservation of world peace where the major powers are concerned, and particularly when faced with major Communist threats.

I would like to see the Administration undertake a thorough review of the advantages and disadvantages of our membership in the United Nations. I do not think it would be proper for us to abruptly withdraw our membership in the United Nations. I do not think it would be for us to abruptly withdraw our membership because we lost one major issue in the voting of the General Assembly. But at the same time, I see no future in maintaining membership if the disadvantages appear to outweigh the advantages after a thorough review.

The United States makes a sizeable contribution to the United Nations annually. This contribution represents a significant portion of the funds which support that world body. I believe the Congress should review our financial support for the U.N. with an eye to reducing that burden -- perhaps drastically.

A good word is in order, I believe, for the Texan who heads the U.S. delegation to the U.N., Ambassador George Bush. He worked diligently to dissuade the majority of delegates from its action. No one could have worked harder. He cannot be held personally responsible for dishonored private commitments made by other delegations. Texans can be proud of his magnificent efforts in a most difficult and demanding post.

CONGRESSMAN

Bob Price

U.S. House of Representatives
18th Congressional District

In view of the action of the action of the United Nations in expelling Nationalist China and seating Red China last week, I am introducing a bill to terminate the United States membership in that organization.

Our Government, which pays more than one-third of the bills to keep the U.N. in business has been slapped in the face one too many times.

I will press for action on this bill, or at the very least, for consideration of my bill to reduce the U.S. monetary contribution to the U.N. In addition, we must reassess our foreign aid contribution to those countries who joined in the disgraceful action of expelling Nationalist China.

Over the years we have heard much talk by U.N. supporters about its contributions to world peace-- but I ask where was the U.N. when the United States moved to stop Communist aggression in Vietnam? The fact is that the power of the United States and not the United Nations, has preserved global peace since the end of World War II.

Now that the U.N. has expelled the law-abiding government of Communist China which is constantly promoting world revolution, the time has certainly come for the United States to set an independent course for the good of our own national security.

WELFARE--Earlier this year the House narrowly passed a welfare reform bill which provides for a guaranteed annual income of $2,400 a year to welfare recipients, I voted against this bill and previous welfare bills. Since that time, I have been predicting that liberals in Congress will not be satisfied with that amount. Last week 18 Senators introduced an amendment which would set the guarantee at $3,000, and four others proposed legislation that would set a floor of $5,000.

Before the Congress acts on these outrageous proposals I hope reconsideration will be given to my bill. It would dismantle the giant Federal welfare bureaucracy and turn administration of welfare over to the states.

My bill also provides for incentives to individuals who work rather than merely providing a guaranteed annual income. I don't believe most people oppose assistance for the aged, the blind, and the disabled. They do oppose, as I do, handing out tax dollars to individuals who are able to work.

ECONOMY LOOKING UP --Statistics now available for the first eight months of 1971 indicate positive trends in the area of economic growth, inflation, and unemployment.

* The gross national product (GNP), which is the total of all goods and services sold in the U.S., rose by $54.7 billion in the first half of 1971, THE LARGEST HALF YEAR GAIN IN HISTORY.

* Personal income increased by $47.1 billion.

* Automobile sales are up 25 percent over last year.

* Housing construction is up 48 percent over last year.

* Inflation has been slowed to a rate of 4 percent, compared to 6 percent in 1969.

* Total EMPLOYMENT rose to an all-time high in August.

* All these facts and figures demonstrate that the United States is on its way to the goal of prosperity, without inflation and without war.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Editor
Muleshoe Journal
Muleshoe, Texas

Dear Sir:

The work of the Legislative Redistricting Board recently completed has resulted in a plan whereby I will no longer be able to serve the people of Bailey County as Senator after January 1, 1973.

I regret this very much. In the past six years I have made many friends in Bailey County. The people have been very nice to me, and it has been a pleasure to try to serve them in the Texas Senate.

During the Special Session of the Legislature to be held sometime in 1972, the districts will remain as they are presently constituted. I will be representing the people of Bailey County during this time and hope they will let me know when I can be of service.

If I am privileged to serve after the next elections, my office will always be open to my friends of Bailey County.

Yours very truly,
Jack Hightower
