Congressman Mahon Visits In Muleshoe

Speaks To Jaycees At Monday Meeting

Rep. Bill Clayton attended the Bailey County Hospital District regular meeting Tuesday night and informed the board members that in accordance to wishes of the majority of the board members he had appeared before the Texas Legislative Council in order to draft legislation for the re-election for or against the hospital district. Clayton explained that the possibility of a dual election to abolish the hospital district and elect new directors simultaneously does not appear possible at this time because no one knows when the governor will call a special session of the legislature.

When asked by board president Charles Lewis if the problem of the hospital district could be decided in another manner, Clayton pointed out that a non-binding referendum enabling the people to vote for or against the Hospital District would be included in the ballot for the district board member election to be held the first Saturday in April 1972.

Clayton inquired of the hospital board as to what provisions had been made to satisfy debts incurred by the hospital district. He further explained that the enabling legislation for an election to abolish the Bailey County Hospital District would have to contain provisions for the payment of district debts.

Mrs. J.G. Arnn inquired if Clayton knew ways to avoid the hospital district setting up a tax collection procedure. Clayton said the county or city could pay the taxes, but whatever procedure used must be set out in the enabling bill. After some discussion, it was decided it would be cheaper for the county to pay the hospital district debts and some board members indicated they would speak to their respective county commissioners.

The next meeting was set for January 11 at 7:30 at West Plains Memorial Hospital.

Congressman George H. Mahon was in Muleshoe to speak to the Jaycees at noon and to visit with the citizens of Muleshoe.

Mahon will be representing the 19th Congressional District which includes Muleshoe this year. He has been in the House of Representatives for the past 34 years and is now the chairman of the Appropriation Committee, which is one of the strongest committees in the legislature.

Mahon drove to Muleshoe from Lubbock Monday with Jim Ferguson of Lubbock, who worked in Mahon's Washington office this past summer.

In speaking to the Jaycees he congratulated them for giving spirit and their time to the community and for looking forward to the future of the community.

Mahon was representative of this district five years ago before redistricting and beginning next year will again represent the 475,000 people in the district running from the Odessa-Midland area to Deaf Smith County.

Mahon stated that he recognizes that this district depends mainly on agriculture and is supporting agriculture programs in the house that help the farmers of this area. Although industry is also a main factor of the area's economy, he explained that industry depends on agriculture.

Mahon also discussed inter-

"The school is developing a medical teaching program that will cover all of the professional needs for the practice of medicine in the rural and urban areas. The school plans to use the West Texas area as a training area, sending students out into areas such as Muleshoe if facilities are available in hope that they will become interested in practicing in a rural area," Dr. Fryer explained.

The primary teaching area will be in Lubbock and within a 60-80 mile radius around the medical center.

The medical school is being built on the Texas Tech University Campus. The medical health area covered is 106 counties of west Texas and several eastern New Mexico counties including approximately two million people.

The Lubbock County District Hospital will be attached to the medical school on the Tech campus and is expected to be completed by 1975.

Salvation Army Has Service Unit In City

In past weeks, the Journal has spotlighted various projects of the Muleshoe United Fund which will kick off their campaign Monday.

This article pertains to the Salvation Army which is a branch of the United Fund.

A week rarely goes by without some family, temporarily in need of help, receiving groceries, rent, medicine, or some other form of aid from the Salvation Army Service Unit in Muleshoe. The Salvation Army is represented in Muleshoe by volunteer Service Unit committee members who carry out the organization's program in the absence of full-time officers. There are 328 such committees in Texas. The Muleshoe Chairman is Jeff Peeler. These committees are in liaison with the Army's state headquarters in the event of natural disaster. They send 800 boys to summer camp each year and place young unwed mothers at the Army's Home and Hospital in San Antonio. They help needy families in emergencies, stranded travelers, paroled prisoners, alcoholics and others with problems as varied as the kinds of misfortune that befall all people.

Other service of the Army is Camp Hobbittzelle located in the hill country south of Dallas. It is a resort styled summer camp designed for people who can't afford it. It is one of the most beneficial, but least known services for the underprivileged sponsored by the Salvation Army. It is enjoyed from May till Labor Day by more than 3,500 people of all ages, color and sizes. Those who attend are either poor, or people dedicated to work for and serve those less fortunate than themselves. Last summer, two boys from Muleshoe attended the camp.

When schools close across the state, over 800 boys from the Rio Grande Valley to the Panhandle travel to the 370 acre camp for a full week of romping on the hillsides and

Market Report

The turkey, a native American bird, has always been a favorite delicacy in Texas. Even the Indians considered it fine eating, and the early day cowboys welcomed turkey meat as a change from their standard beef diet.

Folklorist J. Frank Dobie, in his book, "A Vaquero of the Brush Country" (Little Brown and Co.), describes a cow camp recipe: "Sometimes Sam would roast a turkey in its feathers. To do this, he would dig a pit, build a fire in it, and heat the ground thoroughly; then he would take out the coals. Having removed the entrails from the turkey and salted and peppered it, he would put it in the hole--a 'fireless cooker'--in such a way that no dirt could touch the flesh.

"Next he would cover it with hot earth, then build a fire over the covering. When ten or twenty hours later he lifted the turkey out by its feet, the skin and feathers would scale off by their own weight, and we had a juicy savory meat so tender that it almost melted at a touch."

Today's domestic turkey is far different from the old wild variety. Dr. D.B. Mellor, poultry marketing specialist at Texas A and M University, says the domestic bird may lack the wild one's gamey flavor, but it is far superior in meatiness.

The traditional whole roast turkey, he said, must now make room for a variety of new products better suited for the small convenience-minded family. Turkey parts, such as the breast, frozen boneless roast and frozen sliced meat in a boil pouch are only a few.

For cooking ease, the newer self-basting turkey may be the answer. These birds have been injected with butter or vegetable oil deep in the muscle tissue. As the turkey roasts, the fats melt and baste the meat.

Land disputes curtail India's rice output.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Bill Boykin

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, Texas--Hearings of major interest to insure policy holders are scheduled here December 8.

The State Board of Insurance slated for that date public airing of new regulations to prevent insurance companies from arbitrarily cancelling coverage and a proposal to lower auto policy rates through "shock-absorbing" bumpers.

Allstate Insurance Company of Illinois recommends a 10 per cent premium discount for new cars equipped with the tough bumpers beginning next year. Rates would be reduced to 15 per cent if cars can be demonstrated to take a five-miles-per-hour front-end crash and a two-and-a-half-miles-per-hour rear end wallop. Rates would drop 20 per cent if the bumpers can absorb a five-miles-per-hour blow fore and aft.

New federal regulations call for the shock-absorb bumpers with five mph (front) and two-and-a-half mph (rear) capacity by 1973 models.

Proposed regulations would prohibit cancellation of hazard and liability insurance which has been in effect 60 days or more unless holders fail to pay premiums or lose a driver's license (auto coverage).

Under the rules to be examined at the early December hearing, companies would have to give at least 30 days' written notice if they do not intend to renew a policy at the end of a year. Unless the notice is given, renewal would be required for another year. Firms which violate the rules could lose their licenses to operate in Texas.

The latter regulations resulted from special legislation passed this year following repeated complaints of motorists who claimed policies were cancelled without advance notice.

A hearing was scheduled earlier for December 7 to consider all aspects of problems in operating the new castastrophe property insurance pool in 14 coastal counties.

The new Texas Vending Commission decided to air its problems in a series of seminars over the state after being hit with criticism over the regulations it must enforce.

Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin suggested a Commission-led seminar discussion of the coin operated amusements machine industry and pertinent laws.

Meanwhile, State Sen. Chet Brooks of Pasadena called on Gov. Preston Smith to remove Raymond B. Williams of Dallas, a vending machine tycoon, as chairman of the Commission. Smith noted the law provides for three industry representatives to serve on the Commission, and said it is too late to remove Williams. Williams said he has no intention of resigning.

The House General Investigating Committee is gathering material concerning the vending industry controversy and Chairman Rep. Menton Murray of Harlingen has indicated a probe may be directed at a later meeting.

or to assess all property for tax purposes, but can contract for appraisal or assessment recommendations that do not abrogate the county tax assessor-collector's constitutional duties.

*School districts may purchase liability insurance for employees who are exposed to individual liability in their duties, but may not buy policies protecting others against tort claims for bodily injury and property damage.

*No certificate of authority can be issued to an automobile club whose services constitute an insurance business.

APPOINTMENTS--Hugo H. Lowenstern Sr. of Amarillo, John McKee of Dallas and Hulen Marshall of Houston were appointed by Governor Smith to the Committee on State and Local Tax Policy.

Smith named William M. Streckert of Brownwood and Morris E. Bailey of Amarillo to the Texas State Technical Institute Board of Regents.

He appointed Robert J. Long of Austin to the Lower Colorado River Authority.

First Court of Civil Appeals Associate Justice Phil Penden of Houston and Austin attorney Robert C. McGinnis were named to the State Judicial Qualifications Commission, and District Judge R.C. Vaughan of Sherman was reappointed.

Governor Smith made official his 18 appointments to a Commission on Intergovernmental Relations.

Dr. James H. Granberry of Lubbock and Mrs. Holt Atherton of San Antonio are co-chairmen of the Texas delegation to the Southern Republican Conference.

Earl Luna of Dallas is new State Democratic Executive Committee counsel.

COURT SPEAK--A state law declaring desecration of the flag a felony was upheld by the Court of Criminal Appeals in a Dallas case where a 20-year-old flag burner got a four year prison sentence.

The Court's opinion called

Required immunizations effective next January 1 include for grade school pupils diphtheria, tetanus, poliomyelitis, rubella and measles (if the child hasn't had measles). The U.S. Public Health Service recently held compulsory smallpox immunization is no longer necessary in the U.S. since risk of the disease is so small here. Last known cases were in 1949 in the Rio Grande Valley.

PAY RAISES ORDERED--The state proposed to begin the last half of this month granting state employees and school teachers pay raises approved by the Legislature unless stopped by the Federal Pay Board.

Governor Smith said an application has been sent to the Pay Board requesting permission to make retroactive raise payments to September 1 when the new state budget took effect.

The Pay Board set 5.5 per cent salary increase guidepost on expiration of the wage-price freeze. The Legislature approved a 6.8 per cent pay raise for state employees. Texas was the only state government in the country blocked by the freeze from employee pay raises this year. Hikes in other states took effect before the president's order.

AG OPINIONS--"Surge brakes for small trailers (such as those used in hauling boats) will meet the new requirement of central braking systems for trailers, Attorney General Martin held.

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded:

*Counties are responsible for damages inflicted by reserve deputy sheriffs or constables to persons or property, but they are not liable for injuries to the reserve officers.

*A local option election to legalize liquor sale cannot be conducted in a new Randall County precinct because it has not been in existence 18 months.

*The State Comptroller must transfer to the Texas Vending Commission all records and memoranda needed in enforcing coin-machines license fee requirements.

*Counties are not authorized to contract with cities for the municipal tax assessor-collect-such acts "an invitation to violence" and said they are not protected by constitutional guarantees of free speech.

The State Supreme Court said it had no jurisdiction in a damage case involving a contractor's suit for damages over failure of metal rods used to raise the "top house" of the famous Tower of the Americas in San Antonio to its lofty place.

VACCINATION OUT--Compulsory vaccination for smallpox has been lifted by the State Board of Health as a requirement for entering school.

Sub-Irrigation Studies

LUBBOCK...The problem of nitrate leaching and water conservation came under the scrutiny of Texas A & M University researchers at Lubbock this past summer when they installed an automated sub-irrigation system.

The system was part of a study financed by the Environmental Protection Agency to see if sub-irrigation could be used to prevent leaching of nitrates and other soluble materials into underground water supplies. It was a prototype of a larger system that will be installed in Knox County on the Rolling Plains later this year.

The work at Lubbock was conducted by Dr. O.C. Wilke, an engineer, Dr. A. B. Onken, a soil chemist, and Dr. C.W. Wendt, a soil physicist at the A & M Agricultural Research and Extension Center.

The system was installed in April and operated manually until it was automated in early July. There were two different plots in the test, which were planted to sweet corn on May 5.

When the system was first installed, water could be applied to the plots at the rate of 10 gallons per minute. This was later changed to two and one-half gallons per minute, or 1.03 inches of water to each plot each day.

Under the automated system tensiometers were used to allow the soil to draw water when the moisture dropped to a certain point. On one plot, the system was geared to have low water tension. In other words, the soil moisture was high. The other plot had a high tension factor, the soil moisture was low.

The plot with the low water tension drew almost seven times the water used in the high tension plot that had very little soil moisture.

The corn was harvested on July 29, and the difference in tension factors (soil moisture) was easy to see. The water soil produced more than 17,000 ears of corn per acre, while the soil with less moisture produced only about 8,500. The plot with the high soil moisture also produced ears with much higher sugar content.

One interesting fact is that the soil in both plots was never too wet to walk on the surface at any time during the test, including when the water was being applied.

Wilke says the success of the study was due largely to the use of newly developed orifices in the one-half inch polyethylene pipe that was laid 12 inches underground.

"With previous sub-irrigation systems at the Center, there have been considerable problems with the systems stopping up due to sand grains plugging the holes that were punched in the pipe," Wilke explained. He added that he hoped the insert orifices used in the tests this summer will ease the problem.

"But these systems will have to operate successfully for several years before we can be sure the clogging problems are solved," he concluded.

The researchers say that technology is now available to have completely-automated irrigation systems; thus eliminating most labor. Currently, above ground drip irrigation systems are used to irrigate about 40,000 acres of orchards and vineyards throughout the world. This low figure is because the costs are high, from $300-1,000 per acre.

The major problem now is needed improvements in construction materials to make the practice economical. The scientists at Lubbock believe that this will extend the water supplies of the High Plains and help insure a longer irrigated agricultural economy.

US Army Announces Major Pay Raise

A major pay raise for members on the United States Army became effective 15 October 1971 according to Sergeant Maddocks, Army Recruiter for Clovis and the surrounding area. The pay raise, which was enacted into law on September 28, had been withheld temporarily as part of President Nixon's freeze on prices and wages. Under the terms of the military pay bill, newly enlisted soldiers will receive $268.50 per month. This compares with $134.40 under the previous law. The pay raise will not only include substantial increases in basic pay, but will also raise quarters and ration allowances.

The new pay scales are a giant step towards making military pay for lower ranking enlisted men comparable with that offered by business and industry. According to U.S. government statistics, the average hourly wage in the manufacturing industry in 1970 was $3.36. Army pay for a sergeant, E-5 by comparison will now amount to $3.11 per hour if the sergeant is authorized and receiving quarters and ration allowances. Army officials state the average service time required to reach the rank of sergeant, E-5 is in the neighborhood of 22 months in active service.

For further information on the new pay scales and additional information on enlistment opportunities, see Sergeant Maddocks at his office located in the Post Office Building in Clovis or call him at 763-7209.

DOUBLE TROUBLE... What's worse than a bad break? Two bad breaks. Rachel Summar, young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W.G. Summar, broke both of her wrists Saturday night when she fell off a clothesline pole at her home. Both arms were put into casts Monday morning by Dr. Lucien Armand at West Plains Memorial Hospital. With both arms confined to casts for approximately six weeks, her climbing will be curtailed slightly.

Smith Disappointed Over License Bill

AUSTIN--Gov. Preston Smith this week expressed disappointment that the legislature failed to pass a drivers license bill which would have strongly tightened court treatment of drunk drivers and chronic violators, and indicated he may submit the measure to the lawmakers during the coming special session.

Speaking here during the Third Annual Public Support Conference on Traffic Safety, the Governor said, "We simply cannot tolerate continued slaughter on Texas streets and highways."

Gov. Smith said a delegation of citizens from San Antonio had asked him to submit the measure to the special session which he will call, probably next year. "We assured them that we would continue to give serious consideration to this situation," he said. "We have recommended legislative action on this in the past and will seek to obtain it in the future."

Subjects considered by the legislature during a special session are limited to those brought before it by the Governor. The measure he had reference to would change provisions of the law which "allow continual lenient probation in driver license suspension."

Leaders from throughout the state gathered here for the conference on traffic safety to hear remarks from Dr. Charles H. Hartman Jr., deputy administrator of the National Highway Safety Administration, as well as Gov. Smith and A. Ross Rommel, Texas traffic safety administrator, and Col. Wilson E. Speir, director of the Department of Public Safety.

Gov. Smith called attention to the success of the "Drive Friendly" campaign of the Texas Traffic Safety Administration and revealed the possibility of a new project to promote safe driving in Texas.

"It would be a half-hour television program called the 'Texas TV Drivers' Test' and would be modeled after the National Drivers' Test of a few years ago," he said.

"If we decide to proceed with the project, the program would be made available to all television stations and later to schools and civic, business and community organizations."

The Governor called on those attending the conference to lead a "traffic safety offensive" in their communities. "The time has come, while highway travel is still a workable system of transportation, to make a firm stand against highway violence," he said.

Dr. Hartman congratulated Gov. Smith and Rommel for "the initiative shown in developing Texas' efforts toward controlling the number one killer on our highways, the problem drinker who drives." Hartman, pointing to figures that show that one-half the nation's highway fatalities involve alcohol, said, "Texas seized the initiative and was the first state to develop comprehensive localized programs to check the menace of those who drive while intoxicated."

Rommel, expressing disappointment at the number of highway fatalities this year, predicted a toll by the end of the year of 3,650, nearly 100 deaths above last year's total.

He said highway deaths so far this year are four percent above the same period last year. "The disappointing traffic figures should be reason enough to motivate all of us," Rommel said.

He said his traffic safety office has made four major thrusts: (1) efforts to motivate safe driving among drivers, (2) training local officials and citizens in various aspects of traffic safety, (3) trying to get significant traffic safety legislation enacted, and (4) all-out efforts to curb the drunk driver.

He said Texas drunk driver programs "provide our state with more activity on drunk control than any other state in the nation."

He also said statewide public awareness survey revealed "we have been remarkably effective in building recognition for the 'Drive Friendly' theme. Fully 80 percent of people interviewed recognized 'Drive Friendly,'" he said.

"Since each 'Drive Friendly' ad or spot was accompanied by a safe driving message, we feel we have been successful in reminding the public of the importance of highway safety," the traffic safety leader said.

New Mail Regulation Protection Proposed

COLLEGE STATION, November 11--A trade regulation to protect consumers from delayed delivery of mail order purchases has been proposed by the Federal Trade Commission, says Bonnie Fowler, Extension home management specialist.

Under the proposed regulation, a mail order seller will be required to ship merchandise within twenty-one days after receiving payment for an order, or else promptly refund the money, she explains.

In addition, all mail order catalogs or leaflets will have to have the following statement clearly disclosed, "Federal regulation requires that merchandise must be shipped within twenty-one days or all money must be refunded."

However, under the proposed rule, the seller has two alternatives, Mrs. Fowler reports. If he discloses the estimated shipping time in his catalogs and mail order leaflets or obtains the buyer's written consent to a specified delay, he does not have to either ship or refund money within 21 days. In these cases, the seller still must ship within the mutually agreed time, instead of the twenty-one day limit, or refund the consumer's money.

The FTC plans to hold hearings on the proposed rule on January 24 and 25, 1972, considering circumstances which lead to a failure to ship merchandise or refunding money within the specified period. "This is an opportunity for consumers to be heard," the specialist reminds. Consumers who have had experiences related to the proposal may submit written comments to the Assistant Director for Rules and Guides, Bureau of Consumer Protection, Federal Trade Commission, Washington, D.C. 20580.

Chamber of Commerce

Jerry Hutton
C of C
Manager

We would like to thank all those who came to the Idea Session last Tuesday night. We had 23 in attendance and came up with some good ideas on new Chamber projects. We appreciate the good job that Derrell Oliver did as moderator and also Dave Sudduth who did much of the work in getting ready for the session.

One thing that did come up in the meeting was a letter from an anonymous person who was displeased at Muleshoe having a BAC and a Chamber of Commerce that works against each other. First I'd like to say that as long as I have been in Muleshoe, the Chamber and BAC have worked together and have complimented each other in their work and have not had a disagreement of any sort. The BAC raises approximately $5,000 annually on retail promotions, and they use the money for the promotion of Muleshoe, just as the Chamber of Commerce does. We appreciate the work of those who work for both the Chamber of Commerce and BAC, and we think we will have a better Muleshoe in the future because of the work of these two organizations.

The BAC is the Business Activity Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, and although they are separate in a sense, they are the same in their goals, their purpose, and their attitude about the good future that lies ahead for Muleshoe.

We say, "Let's all keep working together as we have in the past because there is always room for any organization whose goal is to BUILD A BETTER MULESHOE."

Regents authorized the spending of a total of 50 million dollars in the first phase. The Texas Legislature authorized a bond issue for 35 million dollars and they have applied to HEW for matching funds up to 33.3 million dollars to assist in the project. The hospital is asking for matching funds of 11 million dollars.

Classes will be conducted on a 12 month term instead of the usual nine months so a student could graduate in three years instead of four.

There will also be a post graduate course where area doctors can keep up with the new procedures in medicine. Dr. Frye explained that this is the only medical school in the state of Texas that is on the campus of a major university and where classes are coordinated to make use of the other facilities and professors on campus.

and Perryton.

Discussed was the price-wage freeze that went off November 13. The original pay scale for 1971-72 went into effect November 14. Retroactive pay possibilities are still being considered. Also discussed was several facets of the School Law Conference that was attended recently by three board members and the superintendent.

The next regular meeting will be December 20 at 7:30 p.m.

community will have resident officers or volunteers on duty. They will know the available personnel in the area, buildings suitable for emergency use, housing accommodations, feeding facilities and a list of other organizations which provide disaster services.

The Salvation Army also provides services for alcoholics, military personnel, rehabilitation of paroled prisoners and operates a portable water purifier, 16 mobile canteens, 42 disaster centers, has 117 trained disaster officers and has 2800 service unit volunteers.

These services are made possible through donations in communities with United Fund Campaigns. This year their theme is "If You Don't Do It, It Won't Get Done."

Thanksgiving Day Games Scheduled

Number One battles Number Two on Thanksgiving Day, and Number Three thrashes it out with Number Six on Saturday. As we said last week, copy will about this week on Nebraska-Oklahoma. In the Harmon book, the Cornhusker power quotient is just two points stronger than the Sooners, but whatever happens, you may be sure that a lot of mouth-watering turkey dinners all over the nation will suffer from acute footballitis.

Saturday's clash between the two Alabama unbeaten, Auburn and Alabama, won't run into any conflict with Thanksgiving dinners-possibly only cold turkey for the losers. The Southeast Conference championship is squarely on the line in this 36th renewal of the Battle of Alabama. Georgia's inability to stop Auburn two weeks ago surprised us...the Crimson Tide might have the same problem, but we don't think so. Alabama will "hold that Tiger" just a bit better...Auburn is the underdog by six points.

Army meets Navy in The Big Tradition in Philadelphia. The Cadets have shown a few more flashes of brilliance than the Middies, but as usual it can be anybody's ball game. On paper, it's West Point over Annapolis by two points.

In all the years we've been rating the college division teams (small colleges?), we've never had such a powerful Number One team as Delaware is this year. Nor have we had one that has been so far out in front of the rest of the pack as are the Blue Hens. Temple, now classed as a major school, was the only team to beat Delaware. Eight points back, in second place, is Tampa, with unbeaten Tennessee State and McNeese State third and fourth respectively. On Thanksgiving Day, Texas will nail down the coffin containing the rest of the teams in the Southwest Conference. The Longhorns, #11, will win the league crown and earn the host's spot in the Cotton Bowl with an 18-point victory over Texas A and M. 7th ranked Georgia will whip the Yellow Jackets of Georgia Tech by 14 points.

In the Southwest and Far West, two of the nation's powerhouses will close out their 1971 season. 10th-ranked Arizona State, beaten only by Oregon State, will beat archrival Arizona by 28 points, and Houston, #12, will scalp Utah, also by 28 points.

In one of the climaxes to the 1971 college football season on December 4th, 5th-ranked Penn State will beat Tennessee, #18, by 13 points.

Students Thankful For Various Things

These are some of the things that Junior High students are thankful for:
I am thankful for the free country we live in. One of the things that I am Thankful for is the great country we live in.
I am Thankful for a chance to be a Christian.

Six Weeks Test Week

Last week was the second six weeks of this semester. It was a much dreaded week as usual. There were much note taking and studying to be done, and I'm sure that the students had something better to do, but let's not get side tracked.
Thursday and Friday were test days. Periods 1-3-5-7 had their test on Thursday. Periods 2-4-6 had their test on Friday.
The teachers did end up with most of the work though. Grading papers and averaging daily work. They were also responsible for getting the report cards out on Wednesday, yesterday.

English Class Writes Stories

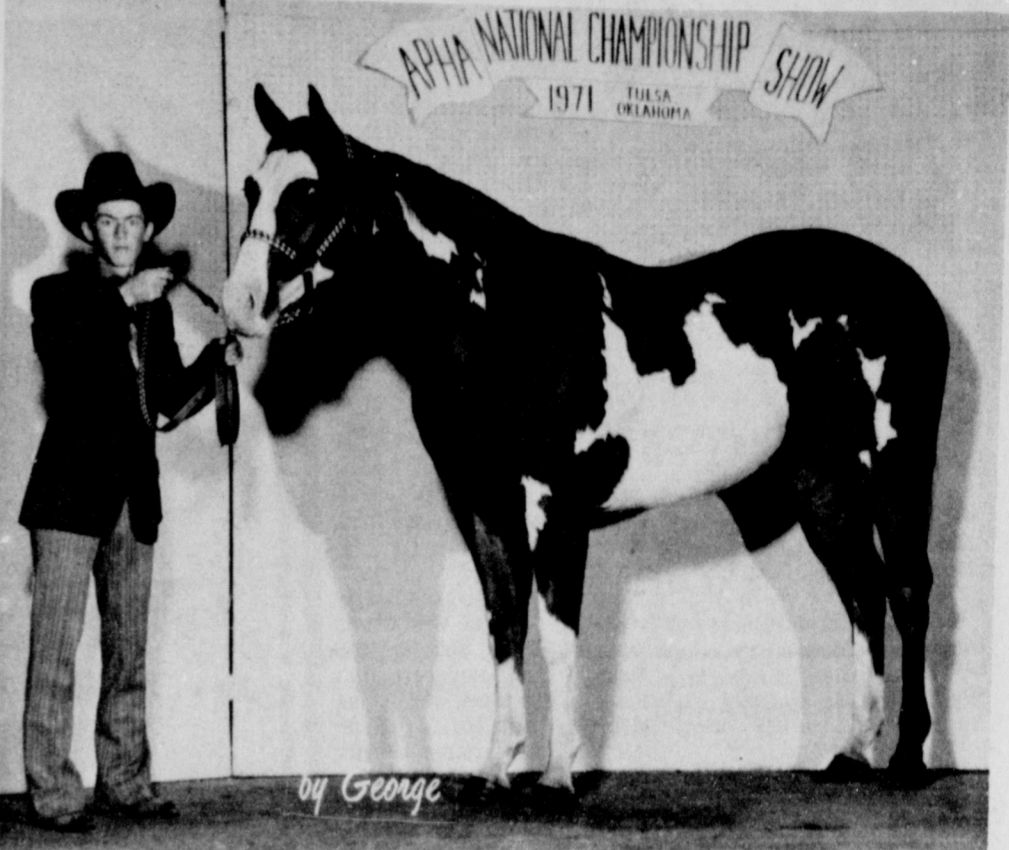

Mrs. Brun's English class had to write a story about the process of doing or making something. Most of the students wrote recipe. This is one of the most "exhaustive" recipes written, entitled:
"The Pena and Been Deluxe"

One day I was by myself in the kitchen, it was about noon and I was hungry. So I decided to fix the "Pena and Beene Deluxe." First you take 1 large can of Austex Chile and one can of refried beans and mix it together and heat it up. While this is cooking you fry a half of a pound of hamburger. When the hamburger is fried you mix it with the refried beans and Austex Chile. While this is cooking, get 1 can of Jalapena Peppers and dice them up and put it in the Chile. While this is cooking get out a fairly large bowl and put two scoops of strawberry ice cream in the bowl. Open a large coke and pour it into a glass of ice. Now sit down and enjoy. Patty and Laura said that they eat this tasty dish about every other week.

Industrious Students At Junior High

There are many Junior High students in Muleshoe that work after school. They work at various jobs, such as paper delivery, Dan Ellis, Larry Puckett, Kip Garth, and David Smith deliver papers. Paul Torres cleans up at a beauty shop. Alma Leal, Rosario Orozco, Noelia Anzaldua, and Naomi Anzaldua work in restaurants after school. Emilio Hinojara has a shoe-shine service at a barber shop, here in town. Kip Garth is a radio announcer on KMUL. Jerry and Walter Copley do farm work in or near Bailey County.
These are just a few of the industrious students at MJHS so not everyone lays around at home after school in Muleshoe.

Band Marches In Contest At Texas Tech

Tuesday, September 16, the Junior High Band went to contest at the Texas Tech Stadium in Lubbock, Texas. After the band marched they received a rating of three. This year, the band had a new addition to the show, they wore High School's old uniforms. We are proud of the band, and wish them luck next year.
