EDITOR COURIER:—Please publish and oblige:

Away from home in a far off land;
Away from a father and mother that's dear;
But guided by an omnipotent hand,
There is naught anywhere for me to fear.

There are those behind that I long to see:
They are friends that are tried and true,
I know that they often think of me,
And I know that for me, they are praying, too.

I can not but think of the pleasant days,
That I spent on old Georgia's soil,
And often think of the various ways
That has fallen my lot to toil.

I was sad indeed when I said good-bye,
To parents, brothers, sisters and friends,
I hardly think there was one dry eye,
In the crowd of several tens.

But I must no longer think of the past,
Of the days that are gone forever;
I must look toward the future as long
As I last.

And the past from the future I must sever.

I can not undo anything that I've done,
I can not recall any word that I've said,
They are only a part of the race I've run
I must let them forever remain with the dead.

If I would succeed in this new land,
And live in peace and happiness,
On Christ the solid rock, must stand,
And rely on him my efforts to bless.

I must also be just toward every one,
Willing to meet them on the square;
Ready at all times to say, well-done!
When by fellow-men, I've been treated fair.

I must do my best to make all, my friends.

I must bid every one God-speed;
If I do a wrong I must make amends,
I must help every one that I find in need.

All these things and many more,
I must do with all my might,
If I do these things, as I've said before
I will surely come out right.

And now kind friends will you welcome me,
With all these pledges on my part,
Until I've failed, and you can see
That the promisee came not from the heart?

Yes, I believe you'll extend to me
A welcome hand indeed,
And I believe you'll always be Ready to warn, if I'll take heed.

May we all be true friends from the start,
May we stand together as brothers should,
May each prayer that we utter come
From the heart.

May we aim at all times to do each other good.

Sincerely Yours,

R. L. PERKINS.

Foley's Kidney Cure

SLAUGHTERED BY FILIPINOS.

Forty-eight Members of Company C, Ninth Infantry, Met Death at Hands of Insurgents.

Manila, September 29.—A disastrous fight between United States troops and insurgents occurred yesterday in the island of Samar, near Balaniga. A large body of insurgents attacked company C, Ninth infantry, only twenty-four members escaping.

All the others are reported to have been killed.

The company was at breakfast when attacked and made a determined resistance, but the overwhelming numbers of the insurgents compelled them to retreat.

Of the survivors, who have arrived at Bassy, eleven are wounded. According to the latest returns the strength of the company was seventy-two. The survivors include Captain Thomas W. Connell, First Lieutenant Edward A. Bumpus and Dr. R. S. Griswold, surgeon.

Captain Edwin Bookmiller, of the Ninth Infantry, reports that General Hughes is assembling a force to attack the insurgents. The insurgents captured all the stores and ammunition of the company, and all the rifles except twenty-six.

Washington, September 29.—News of the disastrous fight between troops of the Ninth infantry and the insurgents in the island of Samar yesterday was sent promptly by General Hughes, commanding in that island, to General Chaffee at Manila and by him transmitted to the war department. It reached the department during the early hours today, and Adjutant General Corbin at once made it public after sending a copy to the White House. General Chaffee's dispatch, which agrees with the Associated Press dispatch, is as follows:

Manila, September 29.—Adjutant General Washington: Hughes reports from Bassy, Southern Samar: "Twenty-four men Ninth Regiment, United States Infantry, wounded. Have just arrived from Balaniga; remainder company killed. Insurgents secured all company supplies and all rifles except twelve. Company was attacked during breakfast, morning of September 28; company seventy-two strong. Officers Thomas A. Connell (captain), Edward A. Bumpus (first lieutenant), Dr. R. S. Griswold (major surgeon), escaped.—Chaffee.

A Fiendish Attack.

An attack was lately made on C. F. Collier of Cherokee, Iowa, that nearly proved fatal. It came through his kidneys. His back got so lame he could not stoop without great pain, nor sit in a chair except propped by cushions. No remedy helped him until he tried Electric Bitters which effected such a wonderful change that he writes he feels like a new man. This marvelous medicine cures backache and kidney trouble, purifies the blood and builds up your health. Only 50c at Haring's Drug Store.

Backache should never be neglected. It means kidney disorder which if allowed to run too long, may result in Bright's disease, diabetes or other serious and often fatal complaints. Foley's Kidney Cure makes the kidneys well. J. G. Haring.

It is alright for one to do one's own thinking, but one should not deny others the same privilege.

S. A. Ingalls, Crown Point, N. Y., writes: My wife suffered from kidney trouble for years. She was induced to try Foley's Kidney Cure and in less than a week after she began using it, she was

In Everybody's Way.

New Yorkers are patient, Victor Smith insists, because they are sheep. Two types made a wager the other day with two other types that they could stand talking together in the middle of the sidewalk in front of the Equitable building for an indefinite period without being molested by the passing throng, and the test was made between two and three o'clock, when the crowd was thickest, moving in both directions. The men stood face to face, opposing their sides to the whirlpool rapids of New York humanity, and could not have occupied less than four feet of lateral space. This position placed them in everybody's way, but both the north bound and south bound currents amiably deflected and passed on without so much as a ripple of interest in the obstruction. The bet was easily won.

Stoddard's Rapid Decline.

Lorimer Stoddard, the dramatist is said to be rapidly declining with consumption at a sanitarium in Liberty, N. Y., where he went some months ago. He is the only son of Richard Henry Stoddard and Elizabeth Barrow Stoddard, the poets, and his achievements have been the pride of their old age. He became an actor, and for some years has been writing plays, among which "Napoleon Bonaparte," written for Richard Mansfield, met high praise, but his chief success was in his admirable dramatization of "Tess of the D'Urbervilles," for Mrs. Fisk, while the arrangement of "In the Palace of the King," in which Viola Allen appeared, was also successful.

A Female Drummer at 17.

Myrtle Bruce, a 17-year-old girl of Omaha, is making a success as a commercial traveler. Last month her earnings in salary and commissions amounted to $90. She has been on the road three months and already has a line of trade that it takes many men years to control. She declares her intention of sticking to her business until she can command a salary as large as any in her line west of the Missouri river.

A Woman as Health Inspector.

The Orange, N. J., board of health has appointed Mrs. Elizabeth Devine health inspector, but has not thereby pleased the women's clubs who asked for the appointment of a woman, but not that woman. They presented two names, both of doctors, and offered to pay the salary, because of which the board fixed Mrs. Devine's salary at $1; but as they did not select her, the clubs may refuse to pay her salary.

Andree's Time Is Up.

"Now, that so much interest is being shown in Polar exploration," says the Boston Herald, "it may be interesting to remember that Andree, the unfortunate explorer, who attempted to reach the pole by means of a balloon, set a limit, which has just elapsed, beyond which his return might not be expected. He said: 'If you have no news of me by the end of July, 1901, you may give me up for dead.'"

Building His Own Home.

Professor J. Scott Clark, of Chicago university, who has been constructing a large dwelling with his own hands opposite the campus in Evanston, has given up the job and retired from the carpenter's trade. He got along all right until he came to the roof and then he had to call in two regular workmen.

The Best Parliamentarian.

Hubbard B. McDonald, the journal clerk of the United States Senate, is credited with being the ablest parliamentarian connected with that body. He is, moreover, the third of his family to hold the position, as his father and grandfather were Make Lemonade.

"Did you ever know that ants will make lemonade?" asked the Philadelphia Record's talkative grocer "Yes, it's a fact. I happened to cut a lemon the other day, and I left it on the counter. A couple of minutes later I noticed a bunch of ants making a great do around the lemon. The antics of the little insects were so methodical that I took a few minutes off to investigate. A little sugar had been spilled on the counter near the spot where the lemon lay, and the ants were busy making trips between the sugar and the fruit. You may not believe it, sir, but every time one of the little creatures made the trip he carried back a grain of sugar, which was dropped into the lemon juice and then eagerly devoured. It struck me that maybe the manufacture of the lemonade was only an accidental process due to the close proximity of the sugar and the lemon, so I carefully swept the sugar away. It seems incredible, but as true as I'm standing here those ants hunted around until they found the sugar barrel until the whole bunch trooped back laden with sugar, which they dipped in the juice and swallowed. Wonderful is no name for it!"

Neither Turkish nor Egyptian.

What are called Egyptian or Turkish cigarettes aren't made at all of either Egyptian or Turkish tobacco, it is said. The tobacco that is grown in those countries—what there is of it—isn't fit to smoke and only the very poor use it. The cigarettes we get with the name of those lands on the box are with the made of a blend of two tobaccos. The Egyptian and Turkish weeds are very coarse. Consequently the people of those countries import a lark, strong tobacco from the shores of the Black sea and a mild, light grade from the fields about the rivers that empty into the Aegean. These two are mixed and smoked in both Egypt and Turkey. It is imported ready mixed into this country, and only insofar it is the mixture that is smoked in Turkey and Egypt is it at all Turkish or Egyptian.

Schmidt Champion Rifle Shot.

Private Schmidt, of Company D, Fourteenth United States infantry, now camped at the rifle range near Mount Clemens, Mich., made a score at shooting at 600 yards that broke the record of the whole army. The target was a dummy man. Nineteen out of twenty of his shots took effect, any of which would have caused instant death in a living man, while the twentieth shot would have inflicted a serious or fatal wound. Schmidt's achievement is said to be not only unparalleled in United States army rifle shooting records, but also without precedent in similar practice anywhere in the world.

Toronto's Victoria Statue.

The statue of Queen Victoria which is to be placed in front of the Ontario parliament buildings in Toronto is a replica of the one erected in Hong Kong, the work of Signor Reggi. The pedestal will be of Canadian granite. There will be bronze panels on two sides representing scenes in the late queen's life. One will represent her first council selected, but will probably be the golden jubilee ceremony in Westminster Abbey.

Nissen Their Good Fairy.

Nissen is the good fairy of superstitious Norwegian farmers. He looks after the cattle particularly, and if he is well treated they are healthy, and the cows give lots of milk. To propitiate him it is necessary to put a dish of porridge on the threshold of the cow stable on Christmas morning. Whenever the family moves this invisible being goes along with them and Socialists and Anarchists.

From the Chicago Chronicle.

A thought which has found utterance in many places of late is thus expressed by the Kansas City Journal:

The socialist journals are taking occasion to point out the wide difference between socialism and anarchy. Anarchy opposes all government, while socialism believes in the government owning and controlling everything. They are two extremes between which civilized people find the practical and happy mean.

In a purely theoretical sense this is true, but as a matter of practice and of fact it is only a half truth, and a half truth is likely to serve the purpose of an untruth.

To begin with, all anarchists are socialists. Every anarchist of note has been at one time or another a socialist. What it is that leads so many socialists into various forms of anarchism it is not necessary now to discuss, but of the fact there can hardly be any question.

It is noticeable also that various groups of so-called socialists entertain the same opinions as are held by many so-called anarchists. To prove this assertion we have only to recall the public utterances of Prof. Herran, an avowed socialist, with those of Emma Goldman, an avowed anarchist. On many questions they are in entire harmony. Both rail at authority wherever it asserts itself. The state, the church, society, the rule of the majority, the marriage relation, the home, the family, the law, are alike hateful to them both. Both, the one a socialist and the other an anarchist, set up self as omnipotent—an idea clearly enough as much at war with theoretical socialism as it is with the doctrine of democratic individuality in an organized society.

There is a half-baked socialism in American political life which has done much to corrupt the people in their representatives and which manifests itself continually in various forms of public self for private interests, but within the narrower lines of what may be called consistent or persistent socialism and difference between theoretical socialism and theoretical anarchy is so faint that the professors of either creed would have much difficulty in making it out.

All socialists and most anarchists deny sympathy with violence. The assassins who strike in anarchy's name are always repudiated by anarchists, and, as a matter of course, by socialists.

Whether this is due in some cases to a natural caution it would be difficult to say. Certain it is that violence is the fruit borne by the tree and by its fruits every growth is known at last.

If we are to believe the anarchists, the men who kill presidents and sovereigns in their name act without authority and wholly on their own motion. They must admit, however, that they get their inspiration from the teachers of anarchy, and that, whether their bloody deeds are in furtherance of actual excitement to murder or not, they appear to follow logically upon the instruction which the theorists have inculcated.

This being true, the relation between anarchy and assassination is quite as obvious as is the relation between socialism and anarchy. The one leads directly to the other. By what malevolent influence the thing is brought about it is for socialists and anarchists who do not approve of violence to explain. The facts are before them and it is for them to elucidate them if they can.

Does It Pay to Buy Cheap?

A cheap remedy for coughs and colds is all right, but you want something that will relieve and cure the most severe and dangerous results of throat and lung troubles. What shall you do? Go to a warmer and more regular climate? Yes, if possible, if not possible for you, then in either case take the only remedy that has been introduced in all civilized countries with success in severe throat and lung troubles, "Boecher's German Syrup." It not only heals and stimulates the tissues to destroy the germ disease, but allays inflammation, causes easy expectoration, gives a good night's rest, and cures the patient. Try ONE bottle. Recommended many years by all druggists in the world. Get Green's Prize Almanac. For sale by Smith & French Drug Co.

The International Fair.

Only a few days more until the opening of the great International Fair at San Antonio, Texas, Oct. 19th. Each and every day during the Fair will be one of interest and special attraction. Among the special attractions or special days at the Fair this year will be the following:—Saturday, Oct. 19th, Children's Day and Press Day; Sunday, Oct. 20th, Band Concerts; Monday, Oct. 21st, Address by Hon. Jos. W. Bailey, Cattle Roping Contests, Southern Pacific Day; Tuesday, Oct. 22nd, Cattle Roping Contests, "Sap" Day; Wednesday, Oct. 23rd, Confederate Day, Terry Texas Rangers Day, Governor's Day, I. & G. N. Day; Thursday, Oct. 24th, San Antonio Day; Friday, Oct. 25th, "Katy" Day; Saturday, Oct. 26th, A. & M. College Day, Traveling Men's Day, Gulf Shore Day; Sunday, Oct. 27th, Herman Son's Day, Band Concerts; Monday, Oct. 28th, Parade of all live stock on the grounds; Tuesday, Oct. 29th, Woodmen of the World Day; Wednesday, Oct. 30th, Military Day.

Every foot of available space in the buildings and on the grounds has been taken and the displays in the various departments will be greater than ever before. It has become necessary to build several new stables to accommodate the large number of live stock of various kinds to be shown on the grounds.

Conterno's celebrated band of seventy-five pieces and the grand spectacular play "Battles of our Nation" will be free to all visitors each day and night on the grounds. The Management has seen to it that each and every day at the Fair will be one of interest and enjoyment to visitors.

Little is thought and less is known by the average man concerning the lives and aims of the 400,000 men and boys who delve under the surface of the earth in places of darkness and danger, where hardly a day goes by without recording the death by falls of rock, coal or slate of more than one unfortunate miner. An article on this subject at once impartial and vitally interesting is contributed to The Cosmopolitan for October by John Mitchell, President of the United Mine Workers of America, whom every one recalls as the man who organized the miners and carried through to a successful termination the great anthracite strike of 1900.

When suffering from racking cough, take a dose of Foley's Honey and Tar. The soreness will be relieved and a warm, grateful feeling and healing of the parts affected will be experienced. J. G. Haring.

Electricity as a Bait.

Two Yale students have discovered that electric light is the best bait for fishing. As a result of this discovery the fishing industry promises to be revolutionized. It has been found that the rays of an electric light under the water hypnotize the denizens of the deep. When they see the rays they flock to them like a moth to a flame, and nothing can drive them away as long as the bait shines. If it is turned off, they scamper away in all directions. A company has been formed which proposes to enter into the capture of fish by electric light upon an extensive scale. Several boats will be fitted up with great nets, the centerpiece of which will be an electric light. This will attract the fish, and as soon as the nets are filled they will be dragged aboard the boats.

World Resurrect the Whigs.

One Alabama man is crying aloud for an enforced resurrection of the Whig party. As for the past he is of the opinion that, had the country taken the advice of Clay and Webster fifty years ago, the war between the states would have been prevented and some plan would have been discovered by which a large part of the people of African descent could have been returned to Africa. And for the future he would nominate in 1904 ex-Speaker Thomas B. Reed, of New York, president, and General Joseph Wheeler, of Alabama, for vice president.

Queer Old Deed.

A singular deed has been filed in Northumberland county, Pa. It is dated October 9, 1793. In a series of whereas it traces the ownership of the land conveyed from the Creator of the earth, who, "by parole and livery of seizin did enfeof the parents of mankind, to-wit, Adam and Eve, of all that certain tract of land called and known in the planetary system as the earth."

want it the Year Through.

At Lynn, Mass., the employees of the shoe factories are discussing the advisability of asking the employers to continue the usual summer Saturday noon closing throughout the year. One of the largest employers of the town is said to believe that good to all concerned would result from the year round Saturday half holiday.

That Was Easy.

When Governor Odell, of New York, was running for a local office some years ago he was canvassing a small town, and endeavored to enlist the aid of a barber. He failed to do so, and as he got out of the chair he remarked: "Well, if you won't vote for me you have at least improved my appearance." The Democrat replied: "It don't take much to do that, does it?"

SENTENCE PASSED

ON LEON F. CZOLGOSZ, THE ASSASSIN OF PRESIDENT WILLIAM M'KINLEY.

HE IS TO BE ELECTROCUTED

At the Prison in Auburn, N. Y., in the Week Beginning October 28, 1901.

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 26.—Leon F. Czolgosz, the assassin of President McKinley, was this afternoon sentenced to be electrocuted in Auburn State Prison during the week beginning October 28, 1901. Before sentence was passed the assassin evinced a desire to speak, but he could not get his voice above a whisper, and his words were repeated to the court by his counsel.

"There was no one else but me," the prisoner said in a whisper. "No one else told me to do it, and no one paid me to do it. I was not told anything about the crime, and I never thought anything about it until a couple of days before I committed the crime."

Czolgosz sat down. He was quite calm, but it is evident that his mind was flooded with thoughts of his own distress. His eyes were dilated, making them appear very bright. His cheeks were a trifle pale, and his outstretched hand trembled. The guards put the handcuffs on his wrists. He looked at one of the officers. There was an expression of the profoundest fear and helplessness in his eyes. He glanced at the people who crowded the room in efforts to get a look at him. The prisoner's eyelids rose and fell tremulously, and then he fixed his gaze on the floor in front of him.

At this point Judge Titus came over to the prisoner and bade him goodby. Czolgosz replied very faintly, letting his eye rest upon the man who has been his counsel.

"Goodby," he said weakly. Czolgosz was then hurried down stairs and through the "tunnel of sobs" to the jail, where he will remain until removed to Auburn to pay the penalty for his crime.

Although the time announced for the convening of court was 2 o'clock, every seat and every foot of standing room was occupied before 1:30, and scores were clamoring outside for admittance. The doors were locked and no more were admitted to the room.

The prisoner was brought into the room at five minutes to 2 o'clock. As soon as Justice White assumed the bench District Attorney Penny said:

"If Your Honor please, I move sentence in the case of the people vs. Leon F. Czolgosz. Stand up, Czolgosz."

Clerk Fisher swore the prisoner, and his record was taken by the District Attorney, as follows:

"Age, 28 years; nativity, Detroit; residence, Broadway, Nowak's, Buffalo; occupation, laborer; married or single, single; degree of education, common school and parochial; religious instruction, Catholic; parents, father living, mother dead. Temperate or intemperate, temperate; former conviction of crime, none."

The Clerk of the Court then asked: "Have you any legal cause to show why the sentence of the court should not be pronounced against you?"

"I can not hear that," said the prisoner.

Clerk Fisher repeated the question and Czolgosz replied:

"I'd rather have this gentleman here speak," looking toward District Attorney Penny. "I can hear him better."

At this point Justice White told the people in the court that they must be quiet or they would be excluded from the room.

Mr. Penny then said to the prisoner:

"Czolgosz, the court wants to know if you have any reason to give why sentence should not be pronounced against you. Have you anything to say to the Judge? Say yes or no."

The prisoner did not reply, and Judge White addressing the prisoner said:

"In that behalf what you have a right to say relates explicitly to the subject in hand here at this time, and which the law provides, why sentence should not be now pronounced against you, and as defined by the statute."

"The first is that you may claim that you are insane."

"The next is that you have good cause to offer, either in the arrest of the judgment about to be pronounced against you or for a new trial. These are the grounds specified by the statute in which you have a right to speak to this time, and you are at perfect liberty to do so if you wish."

The prisoner replied: "I have nothing to say about that."

The Court said: "Are you ready?"

Mr. Penny replied: "Yes."

"Have you anything to say?" asked Justice White.

"Yes," replied the prisoner.

"I think he should be permitted to make a statement in exculpation of this act if the Court please," said Judge Titus.

The court replied: "That will depend upon what his statement is. Have you (speaking to Judge Titus) anything to say in behalf of the prisoner at this time?"

"I have nothing to say within the definition of what your honor said," replied the attorney, "but it seems to me, in order that the innocent should not suffer by this defendant's crime, the Court should permit him to exculpate at least his father, brothers and sisters."

From the Court: "Certainly, if that is the subject of any statement he wishes to make, proceed."

The prisoner then said: "There was no one else but me. No one else told me to do it, and no one paid me to do it."

Judge Titus repeated it as follows, owing to the prisoner's feeble voice:

"He says no one had anything to do with the commission of the crime but himself; that his father and mother and no one else had anything to do with it, and knew nothing about it."

The prisoner continued: "I was not told anything about the crime, and I have never thought about murder until a couple of days before the crime."

Judge Titus again repeated as follows: "He never told any one about the crime and never intended to commit it until a couple of days before its commission."

Then Justice White passed sentence as follows:

"In taking the life of our beloved president, you committed a crime which shocked and outraged the moral sense of a civilized world. You have confessed that guilt, and after learning all that at this time can be learned from the facts and circumstances of the case 12 good jurors have pronounced you guilty and have found you guilty of murder in the first degree."

"You have said, according to the testimony of a creditable witness and yourself, that no other person aided or abetted you in the commission of this terrible act. God grant it be so. The penalty for the crime for which you stand convicted is fixed by the statute, and it now becomes my duty to pronounce this judgement against you."

"The sentence of the Court is that in the week beginning October 28, 1901, the place and manner of means prescribed by law, you suffer the punishment of death."

"Remove the prisoner."

The crowd slowly filed out of the room and the Court adjourned at 2.26.

Chas. R. Wessmar, Evanston, Ill., writes: "My boy 24 years old had a severe cold which refused to yield to any treatment until we tried Foley's Honey and Tar. He was completely cured before using one bottle." Take none but Foley's. J. G. Haring.

Mexican Mustang Liniment
for horse ailments, for cattle ailments, for sheep ailments.

The most sensible thing to do when suffering from Bruises or Cuts is to treat the wound with because it is noted for its ability to drive out soreness and inflammation, after which it heals the damaged flesh in a remarkably short space of time.

Mexican Mustang Liniment,

For open wounds soak a cloth with the liniment and bind on the same as you would a poultice. For other hurts apply freely and rub it well in.

Collision in Europe.

Bucharest, Sept. 30.—The collision yesterday at Palota between the Vienna express and the petroleum train, appears, in the light of the latest developments, to have been a most terrible affair. In a few hours the whole area of the collision became a huge lake of burning petroleum. Trees and everything inflammable in an area of a quarter of a square mile were destroyed. There were some ghastly scenes. A girl was burned to death in sight of her parents, who escaped. M. Dinu, a Roumanian millionaire, got his foot jammed in the wreckage and begged one of the train guards to sever the foot with an axe, promising him a large reward if he would do so. Before the guard could help him he sank back into the flames and was burned to death. Schwartz, the conductor, who was similarly jammed, clung so desperately to the man who tried to extricate him that his would-be rescuer sustained flesh wounds in the neck and had to be dragged away just as Schwartz perished in the flames. Most of the 32 killed were burned to death.

Sandals May Become Popular.
The fashion of sandal-wearing is said to be growing popular in England. The chief objection urged against the fashion is that it enlarges the feet—permits them to spread—but this, it is claimed, is an error; the wearing of sandals merely allows the feet their proper development. It will invariably be found that the person with neat, well-shaped hands has feet to correspond. If allowing the feet to have the free play that nature intended them to have is apt to make them large and ungainly, then sailors, who spend most of their time and do most of their work on bare feet, and who hitherto have always been famous for their neat and well-shaped ones, will have to abandon their claim to this coveted possession. Everyone will allow that sandals are the coolest foot covering for summer, but doubtless most people will be surprised to hear that it is claimed that they are the warmest wear in winter. If persons suffering from cold feet or chilblains would wear sandals over good thick woolen socks, it is said they would soon find themselves cured of these afflictions.

The Coal Carnival Queen.
The miners of the town of Pas de Calais have elected Mlle. Lea Bourdon as their queen of the coal carnival. This young woman is in the coal trade in the capacity of a sifter, and although her work is so grimy, she has a beautiful complexion, which, no doubt, added to her good character, gave her the necessary number of votes, although the competition was keen, her fellow candidates being drawn from the cleaner walks of life. The car which carried the queen and her maids of honor was decorated with flowers, picks, lanterns, etc. Mlle. Bourdon is only 17, and the coronation in the center of the town made a very beautiful tableau. To be coal queen entitles her to a small annuity from the treasury of the town, and with her French thrift she will save this for

An English newspaper says that mountain motoring does not seem to be a promising form of locomotion, but the restless mountaineer has impressed into his service the new vehicle. ARMED ANARCHISTS.

They Are Guarding the Office of an Anarchist Publication.

Spring Valley, Ill., September 22.—Twenty anarchists, armed with double barrel shotguns and 1000 rounds of ammunition, are standing guard over the office of L'Aurore, the notorious anarchist publication, which expressed joy at the murder of President McKinley and satisfaction over the announcement of the assertion of Czolgosz that he was an anarchist. Meanwhile, fully 2000 citizens of adjoining towns have sent word to the authorities here that they are ready and extremely anxious to start at a moment's notice for this city and assist in exterminating the reds. The temper of the people here is at the boiling point, the defiant attitude of the anarchist colony serving to increase the general anger. John Cabilli, the editor of L'Aurore, has been in hiding ever since a recent mass meeting gave evidence of a desire to demolish his publication and adorn him with a coat of tar and feathers. Tomorrow a committee will wait upon General Manager Dalzell of the Spring Valley Coal company, who resides in Chicago, and insist that he discharge every known anarchist in his employ.

The anarchists and their sympathizers number fully 500 and if this step is taken it will mean that one or two of the mines will have to close down until other men can be brought in. The anarchists threaten to hold a mass meeting tomorrow evening. If they persist in this plan a riot is almost certain to ensue and there can be but one ending, for the patriotic citizens here will be heavily reinforced by outsiders, who will come prepared for business.

Scrofula THE OFFSPRING OF HEREDITARY BLOOD TAIN.

Scrofula is but a modified form of Blood Poison and Consumption. The parent who is tainted by either will see in the child the same disease manifesting itself in the form of swollen glands of the neck and throat, catarrh, weak eyes, offensive sores and abscesses and oftentimes white swelling—sure signs of Scrofula. There may be no external signs for a long time, for the disease develops slowly in some cases, but the poison is in the blood and will break out at the first favorable opportunity. S. S. S. cures this wasting, destructive disease by first purifying and building up the blood and stimulating and invigorating the whole system.

J. M. Seals, 115 Public Square, Nashville, Tenn., says: "Ten years ago my daughter fell and cut her forehead. From this wound the glands on the side of her face became swollen and burst. Some of the best doctors here and elsewhere attended her without any benefit. We decided to try S. S. S., and a few bottles cured her entirely."

SSS makes new and pure blood to nourish and strengthen the body, and is a positive and safe cure for Scrofula. It overcomes all forms of blood poison, whether inherited or acquired, and no remedy so thoroughly and effectively cleanses the blood. If you have any blood trouble, or your child has inherited some blood taint, take S. S. S. and get the blood in good condition and prevent the disease doing further damage. It is alright for one to think that he has as much right to his opinion as has the other fellow, but in the meantime he should not forget the other fellow's rights.

A Typical South African Store.
O. R. Larson of Bay Villa, Sundays River, Cape Colony, conducts a store typical of South Africa, at which can be purchased anything from the proverbial "needle to an anchor." This store is situated in a valley nine miles from the nearest railway station and about twenty-five miles from the nearest town. Mr. Larson says: "I am favored with the custom of farmers within a radius of thirty miles to many of whom I have supplied Chamberlain's remedies. All testify to their value in a household where a doctor's advice is almost out of the question. Within one mile of my store the population is perhaps sixty. Of these, within the past twelve months, no less than fourteen have been absolutely cured by Chamberlain's Cough

The Blue Front Store.
Mr. Asher spent most of this summer in the market watching snaps, buying up bargains, bankrupt stocks, sheriff's sales, sample goods and all for the spot cash. We now have a heavy stock of clothing, shoes and gent's furnishing goods and we offer it to the trade for at least 25 per cent. less than you have to pay for regular goods. Come around, price our goods and convince yourself.

TEXAS HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES Officially Recognizes the Shirt Waist.

The one thing that is sure to stir up The American Public is any radical departure from custom—anything that is not in style and lacks Dame Fashion's approval, no matter how sensible and full of service the new idea is—vide the shirt-waist man, for instance. In time, however, the merits of any worthy innovation impress themselves, and the distrusted theory becomes fact—as in the case of the shirt-waist adopted at Austin, August 6th, by official vote, as the proper thing. "THE DENVER ROAD" was the first to break away from the electro-slug method of display advertising, giving the people something to read, with frequent changes, and it worked well. This year in the interest of our "constant readers" we have put in a little time courting the Muse, also the Amuse, and—has it worked? Well, the shirt-waist man realized that he had been flayed and backed into a blind siding when he heard the talk. The "TALK" was what we were after—we thought the people a trifle slow in coming to a full understanding of what we were offering them for their money. Within the last three years "THE DENVER ROAD" has made several quite radical departures in the matter of regular, daily equipment and service, viz.: Fullmans with comfortable large dressing-rooms for ladies, Cafe Cars, meals a la carte, Day Coaches—of the most modern variety—a handsome, box-vestibled train, run thru without change. These trains, as well as our individual advertising—both strictly "Poetry and Motion"—have attracted considerable attention, and we are doing a good business, which is a compliment to the intelligence of the people who are our guests.
W. F. STERLEY, A. G. P. A. A. A. GLISSON, G. A. P. D. CHAS. L. HULL, T. P. A. FORT WORTH, TEXAS.
P. S.—Unless you go via "THE DENVER ROAD," you'll not get quite all you should for your money. Two things to remember: "Only One Road!" and "No Apology Necessary!"

She was buried in the Crockett cemetery Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, a large concourse of friends and sorrowing relatives following the remains to their last resting place.

The brick work on the new Methodist church is nearing completion. The building, when completed, will have at the back of the pulpit a pastor's study and in the front a Sunday school room with gallery above. In case of a large audience, both apartments can be opened up into the main room and used. The building will be commodious, seating more people than any other building in town. This church was not built any too soon and its early completion is anxiously awaited.

Will the East Texas railroad be permitted to stop at Coltharp?

It is truthfully said that there is more hope of a fool than there is of a man wise in his own conceit.

Now is the time to see what can be done to secure the immediate construction of the railroad from Coltharp to Crockett.

Huntsville, Nacogdoches and Lufkin all have waterworks and Nacogdoches is talking of putting in a system of street cars. What is Crockett going to do?

Why not make some effort to have the road built on to Crockett as soon as it reaches Coltharp and thus hold the trade of the east end of the county? It is worth the effort.

A race conflict was brought about at Somerville last week by the Santa Fe railroad employing negro brakemen on its freight trains on the branch that crosses the I. & G. N. at Conroe. Two men were killed and three wounded.

The development in the east end of the county can be made worth a great deal to Crockett. As that section builds up it will make business for some place and if Crockett goes after it with a railroad it can get it. If it does not the business is going to go the other way.

The Houston, East and West Texas railroad is doing good work for the country through which it passes. It now has a plan on foot to locate a Japanese colony near Lufkin, the colony to be brought from California where it is now located. A representative of the company has been completely captivated by the section east of us after taking a trip through it. This Japanese representative, who is at the head of his colony, will attend the State University at Austin and it is said that he already has a good English education.

The Hon. A. A. Aldrich came in Saturday from Austin. On the earnest solicitation of friends he has decided to make the race for congress from this district next year. Judge Aldrich is a loyal democrat and has faithfully represented the district in the legislature, guarding well the interests of the people. He is an able lawyer and is well and favorably known in the northern end of the district. His friends believe that he will draw strong support from Anderson county and the several counties south of us. The judge is in hearty accord with the demands of the democratic party and has always abided the result of the majority, whatever may have been his opinions before.

We don't know what the Dallas fair management were up to, but we guess they wanted to establish a hall of fame and wanted the pictures of Texas editors to adorn the interior. The said fair management sent to the editors of the State complimentary (?) tickets with the request that the recipient place a miniature photograph of himself on the ticket before presenting same for admission. He was expected to pay for his ticket in advertising and then come in on his face. The average editor is not generally the best looking fellow in the world and he would be a brave one indeed to carry his photograph around with him to the fair. A four-bit fair.

The railroad will reach Coltharp shortly and then the people of that section will have an outlet by rail east. They will get their mail by way of Lufkin and when they visit other points in the state they will leave and return by way of Lufkin. They can take the train at Coltharp and in an hour's time land at Lufkin and return as quickly. They will not spend six or seven hours driving to Crockett to do their trading when they can find other markets of such easy access. Then Crockett will have to "look a little out" for her interests in the east end of the county. Her trade should not be allowed to go the other way. But to keep it, the railroad will have to be built on to Crockett on its reaching Coltharp.

Two hundred car loads of silver ore left Galveston recently over the Houston and Texas Central and Fort Worth and Denver railroads for the smelters at Pueblo, Col. This ore was loaded on ships along the central coast of South America on the Pacific ocean and went south around Cape Horn and then north to Galveston by water, the voyage consuming about two months. Another cargo equally as large is en route. While in Colorado during the summer the writer had the pleasure of going through the Philadelphia smelter at Pueblo, said to be the largest in the world.

Crockett should not let her neighbor on the east outstrip her. Lufkin is making some rapid strides in building up and with her pluck will some day be a city. There must be a very enterprising set over there, however. The town is just a little over half the size of Crockett and has water works, something Crockett is not able to possess.

The Groveton Herald nominates Judge A. A. Aldrich, of Houston county, as a suitable man to represent the Galveston district in congress. Judge Aldrich is an able jurist and a man of sterling integrity and would reflect credit on his district in the National House of Representatives. — Georgetown Commercial.

Comptroller's Department.

Austin, September 28, 1901.
TO COUNTY JUDGES:

I beg to advise that on account of a delay in the passage of the general appropriation bill, the issue of pension warrants due for the quarter beginning the first day of October, 1901, will be unavoidably delayed for a period of probably thirty (30) days.

Under the circumstances I shall thank you to give this information to your local press, or to use such other means, as you may deem best, to give the matter the widest publicity.

McLEAN'S MILLINERY OPENING.

Indescribably Beautiful are the Fall Styles on Display at This Millinery Emporium.

The local editor of the COURIER had the pleasure Thursday of visiting the millinery department at Dan McLean's. It was opening day and special arrangement had been made to show all of fashion's fancies in ladies' headwear for the season. The young lady in charge, Miss Kemp, had the interior of the department handsomely decorated so that whichever way you glanced a pleasing sight awaited you. She has been untiring in her efforts to have everything that has any claim to newness to show you. The most extravagant ideas of Parisian, New York and St. Louis styles are displayed, making it possible for the most fastidious to be suited. She has large velvet hats, tucked and richly ornamented; stunning shapes in cloth and fur-belt hats, with beautiful plumes and draperies; hats with great rolls of rich feathers elegantly arranged, showing Miss Kemp to be quite an artist in her line. The store should be proud of the display made by this department Thursday.

The department was crowded with ladies admiring the beautiful fall styles, many of whom were buying and having hats put away for them. It seemed to the writer that a selection would be hard to make where there were so many beautiful creations to select from. Hats on every hand in bewildering numbers. But a number of purchasers left the matter with Miss Kemp and were becomingly fitted and well suited.

A charming arrangement of palms were to be seen, and with the elegant ladies in attendance and the richness of display in styles, the scene presented was indeed one of beauty.

President Angell's College Course.

President James B. Angell, of the University of Michigan, says that the entire expense of his four years' course at Brown college (now university) was but $600. Nowadays a student who can keep his expenses down to $1,000 for the course is thought to be very economical. President Angell is going to write an article for one of his college papers explaining why a college education costs more than formerly.
