Value Of One Vote:

VALUE OF ONE VOTE:

As an American citizen, you are casting your vote to continue every one of those freedoms for which so many people you never knew have given their blood, sweat, tears and their lives to preserve for you.

How important is one vote?
Well-in 1645, one vote gave Oliver Cromwell control over England.

In 1649, one vote caused Charles I of England to be executed.
In 1776, one vote gave America the English language instead of German.

In 1839, one vote elected Marcus Morton Governor of Massachusetts.

In 1845, one vote brought Texas into the Union.

In 1868, one vote saved President Andrew Johnson from impeachment.

In 1876, one vote changed France from a Monarchy to a Republic.

In 1876, one vote gave Rutherford B. Hayes the Presidency of the United States.

In 1923, one vote gave Adolph Hitler leadership of the Nazi Party.

And in 1941, one vote saved Selective Service - just 12 weeks before Pearl Harbor!

A wise man once said, "Liberty means responsibility - this is why men dread it."

Do you dread it? Or do you consider Liberty your responsibility - to be preserved where it counts most; in the ballot box?

Is one vote all that important? You bet your free life it is!

Absentee Voting Breaks Records

Muleshoe and Bailey County citizens seem to be very interested in the election to be held April 1 as a record number of absentee ballots were cast last week. Three hundred and twenty-two votes were cast in the Bailey County Hospital District Board election and 291 absentee votes were cast in the Muleshoe Independent School District Board of Trustees election. According to Hazel Gilbreath, County Clerk, this exceeds past year's totals by quite a few votes. She reported that in the past: never more than 100 have voted absentee in any election.

Of course one reason for the huge number is that this year the elections fall on Easter weekend, but this has also happened several times in the past without such a large turnout.

In the City Councilman absentee voting, record was also broken with 62 votes being cast in that election. According to Albert Field, City Manager this is a record for city elections and indicates an interest in the upcoming election.

Three elections of community importance will be held Saturday, April 1, in Muleshoe and Bailey County. In the City Council election, Max King is running for Place Three on the Council and Clarence Christian is running for Councilman in Place Four.

This election will be held at the Muleshoe City Hall between the hours of 8 a.m. and 7 p.m. All qualified registered voters that reside inside the city limits of Muleshoe are eligible to vote in this election. Seven candidates have filed for the Muleshoe Independent School District Board of Trustees election that will be held at the Muleshoe Junior High School on the same date. The polls will be open from 8 a.m. until 7 p.m.

Those running for the places on the board are Aubrey Heathington, David Stovall, Ernest Ramm, Lewis Wayne Shafer, Cleve Bland, Mrs. Herbert Griffiths and Mrs. Don Bryant. Election judges at Muleshoe Junior High School for the Board election will be Ernest Kerr and Jesse Leal.

Any registered voter, residing in the Muleshoe Independent School District is eligible to vote in the board election. In the Bailey County Hospital District Board election, ten candidates will be running for election. "I feel that Muleshoe has a fine school system and I will work with all my interest to keep it that way."

Aubrey Heathington is a candidate in the upcoming Muleshoe Independent School District Board of Trustees election. He is running for re-election to the board. In his statement to the Journal, Heathington said that he is interested in the children of Bailey County getting the best education possible.

Ernest Ramm is a candidate in the upcoming Muleshoe Independent School District Board of Trustees election and has issued the following statement: "I realize that the reason we

"I also know that there will be problems but I believe that most problems can be solved if responsible people sit down and look at both sides of an issue and try to do what is best for everyone involved. Serving as a board member is a big responsibility but I feel that I am qualified and would be proud to serve my school if elected."

The following is a statement by A.J. Lenderson who is a candidate in the upcoming Bailey County Hospital District Board election: "In considering my effort for a place on the Bailey County Hospital Board, my reasons are first, I am against the buying and closing of the present hospital facilities; second, I think the amount proposed for a hospital is excessive and would become a burden to the taxpayer; third, I am for the very best hospital that we can afford and operate without government control; and fourth, I will the tax payers to be glad that their property is in Bailey County and enjoy living here."

Lewis Wayne Shafer is announcing his candidacy for a place on the School Board. Lewis Wayne Shafer made the following statement to the Journal: "I feel that Muleshoe has a fine school system and I will work with all my interest to keep it that way."

April 5 Last Day To Register For Primary

Wednesday, April 5, will be the last day to register to be a qualified voter in the May 6 primary. New voter registration laws that went into effect this year require a voter to be registered at least 30 days prior to the election he wishes to vote in. This applies only to persons who have not previously registered this year. This new system also provides that if a voter registers and votes in at least one election every three years, he will not have to register again.

Those county offices up for election this year include those of the Bailey County Sheriff, Tax Assessor and Collector, County Attorney, District Attorney, County Commissioner, Precinct One and County Commissioner Precinct Three, and Constable.

The only office that has any opponents is the race for County Commissioner Precinct Three. Four men have filed for the office including C.A. Petree, R.P. (Bob) Sanders, James Warren and the incumbent, W.H. (Bill) Eubanks. The other incumbents running for re-election are Dee Clements, sheriff; Mrs. Karl Lovelady, tax assessor-collector; Jack Young, District Attorney; Gordan H. (Corky) Green, County Attorney; and W.M. (Matt) Dudley, County Commissioner Precinct One. Also, running for Constable of Precinct One is W.H. Young and running for Constable Precinct Two is Bill Russell.

Arthritis Drive Nets Over $1000

Mrs. Sam Damron, Bailey County Arthritis Foundation Chairman reports that $1,055.84 has been collected from the Arthritis Drive to date and that contributions are still coming in. This figure, broken down by areas, is as follows: Maple, $91.00; Bula, $27.00; Needmore, $57.00; Progress, $88.50; Friona Highway, $85.00; and the city of Muleshoe, $707.34.

Mrs. Damron expressed her thanks to the team captains and the many "marchers" who got out and canvassed their respective blocks.

Mrs. Damron also reported that the "marchers" collected names of 140 arthritics requesting free literature from the Arthritis Foundation. Mrs. Damron felt that this was the most important and is hopeful that these people can be helped, at least in a small way, through their efforts. The drive helped to educate people to the disease and has spurred much interest in the Arthritis Foundation that did not previously exist in this area. Hopefully, the funds collected will help in finding a discovery for the cure of arthritis sometime in the near future.

Anyone, missed on the drive, who would like to contribute, can send it to Mrs. Damron, Cont. on Page 2, col. 5

Congressman Bob Price

In remarks prepared for the House of Representatives today, Congressman Bob Price called for the defeat of legislation to increase the public debt limit.

Price pointed out that since 1954, the Congress has raised the debt limit twenty-one times from a total of $275 billion to the current figure of $430 billion. "In just the past 10 years alone," Price said, "our federal government will have spent $250 billion that it has had to borrow, and this increase will cost us nearly $8 billion annually in additional interest payments."

Congressman Price emphasized that continuous government deficit spending amounts to little more than a hidden tax on all Americans due to an erosion of the purchasing power of the dollar. "When our federal government continually spends more than it collects in revenue, these deficits inescapably generate inflation. We are only kidding ourselves if we think we can get away without paying the price for deficit financing--inflation has been termed the cruelest form of taxation because it falls hardest on those least able to pay, and there is no escape for them."

Blaming government deficit financing, Congressman Price stated that consumer prices have risen an average of 5% annually over the past four years, which has had the same effect as a hidden 5% national sales tax.

Price warned that unchecked government deficits erode the confidence of our people in their elected leaders, and that the Nation "cannot continue ad infinitum on this irresponsible tax."

Local Jaycees Hear Candidates Speak

The Muleshoe Jaycees met Monday at noon in the XIT Steak House.

It was announced at the meeting that the Jaycees would go as a group to the Holy Week Services on Thursday (today).

At the close of the meeting, Charles Lewis, Doug Bales and Creston Faver answered questions concerning their candidacy in the Bailey County Hospital Board election and also answered questions about facilities.

Candidates...

"For the benefit of those who may not know me, I farm and live in the northwest part of Bailey County. I am 41 years old and have lived my entire life time in the Muleshoe Independent School District, graduating from Muleshoe High School in 1947. At the present time, I have four children attending the Muleshoe schools. I attend St. John Lutheran Church at Lariat, Texas and teach high school Bible Class. I am also an Elder of the Church.

I consented to be a candidate for the Muleshoe School Board of Trustees because I am concerned about the kind of education our children receive. I am not committed to any certain group of people and am not a candidate because I have a gripe or a bone to pick with anyone. Therefore, it is my intent if elected to the board of trustees to serve the people of the Muleshoe School District with an open mind and am free to consider all issues to the best interest of our children's education.

I like to be known as a conservative, as this is the way I manage my own business, and will try to see that the school business is run in the same manner."

The Sandhills Philosopher

Editor's note: The Sandhill Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm takes a comprehensive look at high prices this week.

Dear editor:

As I understand it, a big eastern grocery chain has been advertising against the price of meat, telling its customers beef is too high and they ought to buy something else.

On the other hand, incidentally, cattlemen point out that beef on the hoof is now selling for what it was 20 years ago.

But the point that interests me is the grocery chain's thinking. I'm not sure those folks have thought this thing through.

That is, if they want you to stop buying meat because it's high, what does this do to other items? If you're going to stop buying anything that's gone up in the last few years, you can write your grocery list on one finger nail.

Furthermore, better stop buying cars, clothes, electricity, tractors, telephones, college education, public schools, etc.

Whatever you do, don't get sick or hurt. Hospital costs have doubled and tripled in the last 20 years.

Don't vote for anybody for Congress. Congressmen's salaries have gone up 100 per cent in the last 20 years. An aged Congressman now costs twice as much as aged beef did 20 years ago.

Don't smash a fender or blow a gasket. Garage charges have gone up tremendously in the last few years and the only way to fight this is to stop having things fixed.

In fact, the only way to bring high prices down is to stop everything. Have meat-less meals, car-less months, hospital-less lives, etc. Come to think of it, under this attack, you couldn't even buy a copy of The Journal. I said meat-less meals, but actually it'd have to be food-less meals, and go light on the water. Water bills have gone up too.

The more I think about this grocery chain's notion of fighting high prices, the more I'm convinced it must be tired of the grocery business. If you go into a store determined not to buy anything that hasn't gone up, the only thing I can think of you can come out with is a package of chewing gum.

What's that? It's gone up too? Then there's nothing left to do but to stay out of grocery stores and grow your own food. You don't mean it, the price of seed has gone up too? And fertilizer? And garden tools?

This calls for a halt to everything.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.
THE SANDHILL PHILOSOPHER
JOINS, IN A MANNER OF SPEAKING, FIGHT ON ALL THOSE HIGH MEAT PRICES.

By Michael O. Wester

Hereford, Tex. (UPI)--A major problem facing one of the fastest growing West Texas industries is medical help for cattle feedlots. According to the men who manage those day-to-day operations.

"There are too damn many of those poodle fellows and not enough vets who are willing to come to the lots," said James McCarty, manager of the Big Tex Cattle and Grain Operation at Hereford.

"We keep a veterinarian on our payroll as a consultant. But at times he is short handed and we need additional help. When we do we have trouble finding someone willing to come out and give us a hand."

McCarty said Texas was "very definitely" in need of additional veterinarians, especially those trained to work on large animals instead of household pets.

The 1971 official directory of licensed veterinarians by the Texas Board of Veterinary Medical Examiners lists 2,093 for the lone star state. Some 614 are in military service, retired, inactive or reside out of state, leaving only 1,479 practicing in the entire state.

Of those, there are only 75 veterinarians listed as "Large Animal Only" veterinarians. "The field of feedlots in this area is still wide open--we are nowhere near the saturation point. But if the industry is to continue to grow, we must have some medical help. We already feel the shortage, and if our industry continues to grow it will become even worse."

McCarty said it would be extremely helpful if there were a veterinarian school located somewhere near the industry so it would be constantly aware of the need during the training stage.

Such a school has been proposed in the school of veterinary and zoological medicine to be developed within the Texas Tech University School of Medicine.

The main school would be located in Lubbock, with a branch on the West Texas State University campus in Canyon. Plans for the school were announced last year, with enrollment hopefully to begin in the fall of 1973.

A major portion of clinical training will be centered around the prevention, diagnosis and treatment of diseases of animals in feedlots and proper management of food producing animals such as cattle and swine.

"I hear plenty of talk about the proposed school when the feedlot managers get together," McCarty said. "We all favor it and hope it gets started soon."

An earlier novel of a well-known Author is now reissued, VITTORIA COTTAGE... by D.E. Stevenson was published in 1949. Its a typical Stevenson novel of wartime London and the English Highlands.

SARAH...by Diane Pearson is a novel of astonishing breadth, set amidst the General Strike of 1926, the rise of Fascism, and the emergence of home rule for India, spanning two decades and two continents. It is the continuing story of the Whitman family which the Author began in...MARGOLD FIELD.

A GEORGIAN LOVE STORY... by Ernest Raymond is a well-written, old-fashioned novel. Another pleasant and old-fashioned novel is Ellen Bromfield Gold's...A TIMELESS PLACE... This novel concerns a family which owns and loves a magnificent Ohio farm and the developers who want to put in more roads, more buildings and make a great deal of money. She also wrote the...GARLIC TREE.

If you are a non-fiction reader you'll enjoy...NEVER SLEEP THREE IN A BED...by Max Braithwaite, a rollicking, bittersweet account of the Author's boyhood in a prairie town in Canada during the first quarter of the twentieth century. A PLACE IN THE WOODS... by Helen Hoover told of the wilderness she has made her home and of the wild animals she made her friends without destroying the integrity of their wild lives. But she was not always so at ease with nature, and in this book she tells how she and her husband bridged the infinite distance in life style from Chicago to a cabin home in northern Minnesota. Their first year was punctuated with near-disasters, but they managed, despite their trials, to rebuild their primitive cabin and to build for themselves a rewarding life among their wild neighbors.

Delta Kappa Gamma Explores "New Avenues Of Accountability"

The Epsilon Delta Chapter of the Delta Kappa Gamma Society met Saturday, March 25 in the Homemaking Department of the Muleshoe High School for a 10:30 a.m. Brunch.

"New Avenues of Accountability" was the program topic discussed by Mrs. Jimmy Jenkins, Olton; Mrs. Willis Hedges, Amherst; Mrs. R.H. Campbell, Olton; Mrs. Ed Johnson, Muleshoe; and Mrs. Lenton Smith, Littlefield. Mrs. Johnson quoted from Dr. John W. Gardner's article "Seven Words to Live By" and showed how these words hold special meaning for Delta Kappa Gamma members as they serve as agents of change in today's world. "Live, love, learn, think, give, laugh and try" are words that truly open new avenues of accountability. Mrs. Campbell used Thornton Wilder's play "Our Town" as an avenue of accountability in accessing "our own lives."

When Emily Gibbs, the young woman who dies, finds she has the opportunity to live one day of her life once again, she chose her twelfth birthday. Her first reaction was "I can't look at everything hard enough" but after speaking to her mother in desperation she cried, "O, Earth you're too wonderful for anybody to realize you. Do any human beings ever realize life while they live it?"

Mrs. Joe Costen, president, presided and plans were completed for the Alpha State Convention at Ft. Worth, June 22-25 and the International Convention which will be July 31-August 3 in Houston.

Planning Meals For Easter

COLLEGE STATION--"Easter Sunday is one of the busiest and most joyous days of the year," noted Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "It's a time shared with friends as well as family."

"After the children's early morning Easter egg hunt, Mother must take over. It's her job to make festive meals that run smoothly and are enjoyable."

The Houston consumer marketing specialist suggested that instead of the traditional Easter dinner, you might prefer to surprise the family with a "sunrise brunch." A menu of fresh strawberries, scrambled eggs over asparagus, baked ham, blueberry muffins, coffee and milk should please the oldest family member to the youngest.

"If you prefer a traditional Easter dinner, consider roast leg of lamb," the specialist said. "When roasted to perfection and gaily garnished, you have a roast fit for royalty."

It's a simple matter to roast the leg of lamb. Just place it with the skin side down on a rack in an open roasting pan. Then insert a roast meat thermometer into the center of the thickest part. Be certain that the bulb of the thermometer doesn't rest in fat or bone.

There's no guess work to know when the roast is done. The thermometer will register 175 degrees Fahrenheit for medium done; 180 for well-done lamb.

For that golden-brown appearance always use a low temperature in roasting lamb. Set the oven regulator at 300 degrees Fahrenheit. Allow from 30 to 35 minutes per pound roasting time.

"When the roast comes from the oven allow it to 'set' in a warm place for 20 to 30 minutes," Mrs. Clyatt advised. "This makes it easier to carve."

by Anne Camp

Plans have been finalized this week for the Dedication service, and open-house set for April 23. This will be a joyous occasion for all who have worked for Library development in the past; and now may see the fruits of their efforts. We will have many out-of-town visitors, and former residents who will come to share our pride in the new library; and I know all Muleshoe will be on hand to welcome our visitors, and help them enjoy their visit. Appreciation goes to goes to all who have worked; and are still working on the various committees for open-house-we know it will be a success!

Holly Millsap attended a library workshop held in Lubbock on Mar. 21st. This was on Reference Material, and the Texas Library Network. Mrs. Millsap is taking a course thru the network, on Reference material, which covers a full range of reference questions and where to find the answers. Upon completion, she will receive a certificate.

At this session the Muleshoe Library received one book, "The Complete Book of Bicycling," which should be popular plus 50 pamphlets to give our young patrons on bicycle safety, rules and upkeep. Can't see to read a regular book? The library is continuing to receive LARGE PRINT books- 35 new titles will be added to our collection in the next few days. We have also received as part of our "books in Spanish" collection from the Texas State Library 28 new titles plus a complete new set of Book of Knowledge, an excellent reference, El Nuevo Tesoro De La Juventud.

THIS IS NOT AN ENDORSEMENT OF ANY ONE CANDIDATE OR SLATE OF CANDIDATES BUT AN APPEAL FOR ELECTION OF HOSPITAL DISTRICT BOARD MEMBERS WHO WILL STRIVE TO ACCOMPLISH THIS AREA GOAL.

Editorial

Adequate hospital facilities that comply with Federal medicare and medicade requirements are a must for any area that expects to have up-to-date medical facilities and doctors.

In view of the present trend of legislation involving the Federal and state governments in hospitalization, the burden of additional county expenses for out-of-town patients could drastically increase unless approved facilities are available locally.

Any additional increase in county tax evaluation to enable county payment of an anticipated increase indigent and pauper hospitalization would increase school taxes. The hospital district method appears to be the most effective way of avoiding an increase in school taxes and everyone sharing the responsibility for adequate hospitalization.

NEWS REPORT FROM WASHINGTON

Washington, D. C. -- The China trip, as all the polls show, boosted President Nixon's stock with the American people. His trip to Moscow in May may boost it further.

The political question of the moment is whether these gains can be held during the presidential campaign afterward. Certainly the trips are a plus, and Mr. Nixon's dramatic moves in the foreign policy field have undoubtedly enhanced his reelection chances.

But offsetting the new presidential election optimism in some Republican quarters is the grim realization--from the G.O.P. viewpoint--that the Senate is likely to remain Democratic after this year's elections, and the prospect is, in fact, that the Democrats will gain one or two Senate seats.

Shrewd analysis indicates Mr. Nixon likewise has little chance of working with a Republican-controlled Senate from 1974 to 1976, if re-elected this year. Thus he would be the first eight-year President in this century to serve two terms without ever enjoying a majority in the Senate.

Although G.O.P. hopes in the Senate have improved in recent months in some farm states, the present outlook is that a net of two G.O.P. seats are very likely to go to the Democrats. Republican seats now held by the retiring John Cooper of Kentucky and that being vacated by Karl Mundt of South Dakota may well go to Democrats. In Rhode Island Secretary of the Navy John Chafee leads Democratic Senator Claiborne Pell and may unseat him.

There are many more Republican seats endangered this year; the crucial statistic is that nineteen G.O.P. seats are up for election and only fourteen Democratic, nine of which are in Dixie or border states. Of the nineteen, Senators Jack Miller of Iowa, Robert Griffin of Michigan and Mark Hatfield of Oregon have good fights on their hands, though they are said to have improved their prospects in recent months. G.O.P. Senator John Tower of Texas likewise is favored in what could be a close race in Texas.

In five states a hot fight is in prospect--Idaho, where Republican Senator Len Jordan is retiring; Kansas, where Gov. Robert Docking might run against Republican Senator James Pearson; Maine, where Senator Margaret Smith faces stiff primary and election competition; Montana, where former Gov. Tom Babcock might run against Democratic Senator Lee Metcalf; and New Mexico, where Democratic Senator Clinton Anderson's retirement leaves the race wide open.

A good guess might be that the Democrats might gain a net of two seats in this year's election and if that occurs, the new Senate will be split 57-43 in favor of the Democrats rather than the present 55-45.

John Tower United States Senate COMMITTEE ON ARMED SERVICES

As a ranking member of the Science and Astronautics Committee, and the senior minority member on the Space Science Applications Subcommittee, I am happy to report the results of our review of the NASA Space budget for this coming fiscal year.

I was particularly encouraged by our action, because we re-directed much of NASA's work to research in agriculture and natural resources. At the same time, my committee reduced the total NASA budget almost $5 million below the figure for last year.

These new space programs will have direct application in determining the best time to plant and harvest crops for maximum yields, detecting damage to crops, helping improve land use and spotting disease before it spreads, and giving warning of possible drought, soil erosion and floods.

NASA's work will also be directed toward finding new fresh water supplies and mineral deposits, including oil and gas, 1972 FARM PROGRAM SIGNUP RESULTS.

U.S. Department of Agriculture announced recently the results of the February 3 through March 10 signup period for the cotton, wheat and feed grain programs for 1972.

Some 267,351 farms were signed up in the upland cotton program. The signed farms have 9,275,793 acres in cotton allotments, or 84 per cent of the national allotment that is eligible to participate in the 1972 program. This compares with 295,625 farms enrolled and having 92 per cent of the total national allotment during the comparable signup period last year.

Set-aside acreage on enrolled farms for 1972 totals 1,854,149 acres.

In Texas alone, 79,763 farms signed up with a total of 817,355 acres. Of 4,721,031 acres eligible to participate in the 1972 cotton program in Texas, 4,088,146 acres were signed up. Farms enrolled in the 1972 346 compared to 1,036,117 signed up at this date in last year's program.

Wheat acreage set-aside on enrolled farms shown on this report totals 20,154,379 acres. This includes the required 83 percent set-aside of 15,171,907 acres and 4,982,472 acres of voluntary additional set-aside.

Texas accounts for 45,861 of the farms signed up with 1,369,776 of the 1,477,524 eligible acres included in the sign-up. Additional set-aside of 521,551 acres brings the Texas total to 1,658,356 acres for the 1972 program.

A new record number of farms have signed up to participate in the 1972 feed grain program, and they have a new record base acreage included.

The number of farms enrolled totals 1,764,551 as compared to the previous record final report of 1,759,315 signed up for 1971. The record feed grain base represented on signed farms totals 107.4 million acres, 14 percent larger than the previous record of 94 million acres set in 1969.

With this base acreage on participating farms, feed grain crop production potential in 1972 should remain within bounds and reduction in carry-over may be achieved, according to USDA officials. All voluntary additional set-aside acreage offered by producers under two options will be accepted, USDA announced.

The set aside acreage offered for the 1972 program totals 37 million acres, the largest ever except for the record 39.5 million acres of diversion signed up for the 1970 program.

West Texas Hog Industry Growing

Richmond, Va.--The hog industry in West Texas is growing fast, but it's growing not on corn but on sorghum grain. With the growth, an increased interest is developing in special diets for early-weaned pigs. Dr. A. Max Lennon of Texas Tech University's Department of Animal Science, reported to the Southern Agricultural Workers Conference that, in choosing additives for a grain sorghum-soybean meal diet for early-weaned pigs, price should probably dictate choice.

In Lennon's research at Texas Tech, 290 piglets, weaned at three to four weeks instead of the more standard six weeks, were involved in four trials of 42 days each.

Evaluated were dietary additions of spray dried brewers yeast, delactosed whey, a protein concentrate from alfalfa, and commercially produced lysine.

Any one of the additives improved the rate of gain over the control diet of grain sorghum and soybean meal alone, Lennon said.

With any one of the additives, gain was improved about one-tenth of a pound per day over the gain with the control diet, and lysine, said Lennon, tended to mask the effect of the other additives.

The addition of lysine gave no additional boost in gain over the other additives, his report showed, and the addition of lysine alone produced gains equal to those produced by any one of the other additives.

Lennon pointed out that approximately 70 per cent of the nation's hogs are dependent on a corn diet. In the Southwest and some Corn Belt fringe areas, however, sorghum grain is the primary feed in swine diets.

Little research has been conducted using sorghum grain as a primary energy source for early weaned pigs, Lennon said.

People only get old; life is continually new and full of change.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor: As a resident and tax payer of Bailey County, I know there is a dire need for adequate hospital facilities.

I suffered a heart attack three years ago that caused such damage that I had to retire from farming. This is my life. I don't have a dollar sign on it. It means more than money to me, it is the only one I have!

In as much as I am eligible for medicare I hope that a Hospital facility will be available in Bailey County that will accept medicare patients.

I pay taxes on over a section of irrigated land and various personal properties. We taxpayers of Bailey County will pay for a hospital whether it be in Bailey County or Lubbock or elsewhere. It is our money that is used in any Hill-Burton or other tax supported hospital facility.

I don't ask whether we need a school for our children, when the need arises and bonds are needed I fully support decent school facilities--

When we need bonds for better roads, I don't question whether a road needs to be constructed. Taxes are with us every day. Then why can't we exist with bonds for adequate hospital facilities. Other counties are progressing, why can't we?

My wife, children, and grandchildren are the most important I have. I want them to have the best life has to offer, and this includes adequate hospital facilities in Bailey County!

Computers in 1970 told Walter Fedor, writer for the American Chemical Society, that synthetic fibers would take 75 percent of the total increase in textile product consumption for the following decade. Cotton consumption according to Mr. Fedor's computer, was to increase only 10 percent by 1980!

But Ray Joe Riley, President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., says this just "Ain't necessarily so," and that the projection should be followed by a question mark, not an exclamation point.

U.S. consumers, numbering 235 million by 1980, are expected to spend about $225 billion for textile apparel, home furnishings and industrial products, compared to $130 billion spent on those products in 1970. And Riley believes there is reason to expect that cotton can and will capture a sizable part of this 70 percent increase, noting there are potent factors affecting fiber consumption which do not lend themselves to computerized projections.

In 1971 there was a big increase in demand for cotton denims, corduroys and cords, and cotton consumption in the U.S. increased some 600,000 bales. Also there is a definite trend toward higher cotton content in blended fabrics, "And these trends were just beginning in early 1970 when all the dire predictions were being made about cotton being 'on its way out,'" Riley notes.

A comparison of advertisements in textile publications readily shows that the trend toward more cotton and less synthetics in blended fabrics is not just wishful thinking. A number of companies which two or three years ago were promoting fabrics with four parts polyester to one part cotton are now boosting three parts cotton, one part polyester. Others, while still manufacturing high synthetic content blends or even 100 percent synthetics, are stressing in their ads the similarity of the fabric to cotton cloth--the natural look, and comfort.

"There are those who think this trend is just another passing 'fad' that will pass in the night," Riley says, "but I think they are overlooking the fact that the move back to nature and away from the world of artificial values is being made by the younger generation, and that one-half of the U.S. population will soon be in the under 30 age group."

Apparel, home furnishings and industrial uses account for 86 percent of the textile fiber consumed. With automobiles the largest industrial consumer, almost all fiber consumption is subject to the influence of fashion and consumer preference. Therefore, according to Riley, a purely mathematical projection of raw figures is highly subject to error in predicting the future of either natural or synthetic fibers.

Pursuing his argument for faith in the future of natural fibers in general and cotton in particular, Riley quotes from a paper done by Dr. Robert Johnson, professor of Textile Engineering at Texas Tech and Director of Tech's Chemical Processing Laboratory. Earlier this year Dr. Johnson wrote:

"Indications are becoming clearer that the labor saving and appearance retention attributes of durable press textiles no longer command the same respect they did in 1965. Certainly, people have become accustomed to these attributes so they no longer create excitement. Furthermore, the influence of the New Generation with its affinity for nature and the natural, for pure, joyous things, in its return to the fields and earthy things cannot be ignored. There is a dislike for synthetic, plastic, artificial, unnatural things, and the impeccable facade look. Thus some of the very conditions which caused the astounding growth of synthetic fibers."

Quarantine Possibly To Be Expanded

AMARILLO...The cattle scabies quarantine on 34 Texas Panhandle counties may possibly be expanded to nine more counties with stricter dipping requirements, according to Dr. Bill Clymer, Extension area entomologist at Amarillo.

He has received word from the Texas Animal Health Commission that as of June 1, the quarantine may be extended to cover another tier of counties south and east of the current control area. Those that may be added to the list include Cochran, Hockley, Lubbock, Crosby, Dickens, King, Knox, Baylor and Wilbarger counties.

Clymer reports that official dipping will not be required of all cattle that:

1. are moving directly to slaughter;
2. are moving to slaughter through a livestock market;
3. are moving to a livestock market for sale and dipping prior to release;
4. are released from a livestock market to a dip point with an official permit;
5. are moving to an official dip point;
6. have been dipped within the past seven days;
7. are from a non-control area moving through the control area with no stopovers;
8. are being moved by the same owner from one place to another within the quarantined area;
9. have been dipped within seven days from scabies-infested states with permit or with a permit to be dipped upon arrival;
10. are from a non-control area being moved into the control area for grazing.

"These new restrictions are being implemented in an effort to eradicate the scabies mite and prevent its spread to other areas," the entomologist concludes.

HOSPITAL FACTS

QUESTION: Why do we need a Hospital District?

ANSWER: Regardless of the means of financing either by taxation, loans, subscriptions, or revenue bonds, the Hospital District serves as the necessary vehicle for governing and controlling the hospital services.

QUESTION: How much will taxes be?

ANSWER: The maximum tax authorized is $.75 per $100.00 valuation. However, until the method of financing is determined to build the hospital facility the tax rate can not be determined.

QUESTION: Is the Hospital District responsible for the debts of the existing hospital?

ANSWER: No

QUESTION: What is the future of the old hospital when the new hospital is constructed?

ANSWER: The facility would continue to operate as a Nursing Home and could be given to the District, County, City, or other non-profit organization.

QUESTION: What is the difference between the Hospital Board and the Hospital District Board?

ANSWER: The Hospital Board is the governing body of the non-profit corporation which was created to provide hospital services in interim period until the construction of the new hospital. The Hospital District Board is the governing body of the Bailey County Hospital District which was created by the voters of Bailey County in May, 1970. The Boards operate independently of each other.

QUESTION: To what extent will the Government control the hospital?

ANSWER: All hospitals must comply with Federal regulations and guidelines to participate in Medicare and Medicaid. As to construction, hospitals that receive Federal grants, loans, or insured loans must comply with certain minimum standards in the construction of the facility. Other than this, control of the hospital is left in the hands of the local Board.

QUESTION: What is the purpose of the feasibility study?

ANSWER: To determine what type and size of hospital facility will be feasible for Bailey County. (This study is very essential.)
