Lubbock Men Arrested For Shoplifting

Two Negro men, Curtis Joe Slay and Don Henry Carroll, both from Lubbock are being held in the Bailey County jail under charges of shoplifting.

The two men were caught Tuesday afternoon as they were stealing a pair of men's slacks in Cobb's Department Store. Roger Albertson and Tommy Black of Cobb's chased the two men out of the store, but lost them when they hid in a car near Gordon Wilson Appliance.

Officers from the State Highway Patrol and the Sheriff's office apprehended the two men about 15 minutes later near Jones' Farm Store.

The two were also charged with stealing another pair of slacks from the Fair Store. Two other men with the two apprehended were later released, but the matter is still under investigation according to Bailey County Sheriff Dee Clements.

Also being held in Bailey County Jail at the present time is a man that was picked up for writing hot checks and for owing motel bills in town. He had run up three hotel bills in Muleshoe and one in Clovis without paying any of them. He is also wanted for writing hot checks in Parmer County. He was on probation in Clovis. He was apprehended by the Bailey County Sheriff's Office.

Drug Laws Concerning American Youth Abroad

The presence of nearly 1,000 American youth in foreign jails on drug charges has prompted a public service advertising campaign to warn Americans traveling abroad to avoid drug-law violations while visiting other countries.

A new phase of that public service campaign begins today. Included will be TV and radio spots; print ads for college newspapers, commercial dailies and magazines; and posters for American Express offices, here and abroad, and for airline terminals. Being printed is a pamphlet containing foreign drug-law extracts for seat pockets of aircraft carrying Americans overseas.

All of the material warns travelers that drug laws in other countries are generally strict and rigidly enforced. Pointed out also are some differences in the jurisprudence system. For example, some countries permit no appeals from lower courts. Some have no bail system. Pre-trial detention in some countries is lengthy.

The public service campaign is sponsored by the National Clearinghouse for Drug Abuse Information in behalf of the White House Special Action Office for Drug Abuse Prevention and other concerned Federal agencies in cooperation with the advertising agency Vansant, Dugdale, Inc., Baltimore, and The Advertising Council.

Print material relies on a straight summation of drug laws in 20 selected countries in which most Americans travel. Included for each country are the address and telephone number of the U.S. Embassy. The material points out, however, that embassy officials can do little once an American is charged with drug law violations in another country.

Gerald N. Kurtz, Associated Administrator for Communications and Public Affairs, Health Services and Mental Health Administration, and coordinator of the project, said the campaign is being undertaken partly because there seems to be wide misunderstanding among American youth about foreign drug laws and their enforcement. Kurtz, who helped direct production of film spots to be distributed to all commercial and college stations in this country, warned that apparent lax enforcement is an illusion.

He said this misconception is encouraged sometimes by what seems to be widespread use of drugs overseas and the easy availability of mind-altering substances in many foreign countries. And he added that many drug dealers play a double game by tipping off police as to Americans to whom they have made drug sales. In this way, they get money from the user and the police, American narcotics agents, Kurtz said, have told him this is a common practice in North Africa.

Preparatory to production of the public service material, Mr. Kurtz and representatives of the Vansant, Dugdale Agency visited jailed Americans in Spain, Italy, Greece, and Iran. They also talked to numerous young American visitors to these countries, some of whom appear in the finished TV announcements.

The U.S. Department of State was instrumental in the negotiations that led to permission for the production crew to interview actual prisoners or persons charged with drug law violations.

ON DEBT LIMIT

The Nixon Administration has asked Congress to raise the national debt limit by $15-billion. The House Ways and Means Committee said this would give the Government borrowing authority of $465-billion.

Present Beef Prices Explored

FORT WORTH, Tex.,--Doubling the public consumption of beef in the last 20 years and yet keeping the prices of fat cattle at the same level speaks well for the production and marketing chain for the beef business, William C. Donnell, president of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association, told a gathering of newspaper food editors representing the daily press of the Southeastern states.

Donnell, speaking at the 1972 Beef Festival in Atlanta, Ga., June 1 and 2, and representing the producers on a panel presentation, remarked that "Charges that livestock producers have been gouging the public are utterly false. Records of federal land banks and production credit associations over the country show a 500 per cent increase in agricultural debt in the last 20 years--certainly not a sign of excessive profits."

Asked to comment on the recent Life Magazine picture feature concerning beef prices in which a family's grocery buying budget was explored, Donnell replied: "This family earning $14,000 a year and paying on a three-bedroom home, a backyard swimming pool, two station wagons, color TV and stereo equipment is blaming their grocery bill for their unhappiness. I suggest these people change their priorities. A few pages later in the magazine, a 1939 issue of Life was shown. It sold for 10 cents a copy then, compared to 50 cents now."

"Have food prices risen 500 per cent since 1939? Actually they've fallen steadily compared to income. Now it takes only 15 1/2 per cent of the average family's disposable income to feed them. That's the cheapest grocery bill in all our history and the lowest in the world."

"Why shouldn't the bread winner eat what he likes, particularly when it's getting cheaper all the time, relative to his income? I think the public has its priorities well adjusted. It was consuming 56 pounds of beef per person in 1951 and it jumped to 114 pounds last year. The consumer knows a good value when it tastes it."

Millions of beef consumers of the Southeast read the copy of the 30 food editors entertained by the Beef Festival in Atlanta, sponsored by the Texas Cattle Feeders Association and the National Beef Industry Council. Cooperating organizations included the Alabama Cattleman's Association, Florida Beef Council, Georgia Cattleman's Association, Kentucky Cattleman's Association, Louisiana Cattlemen's Association, Virginia Beef Cattle Association, Mississippi Cattleman's Association, North Carolina Cattleman's Association, South Carolina Cattleman's Association, Tennessee Livestock Association and Maryland Red Meat Council.

Others with Donnell on the "Range to Range" panel of speakers included: Moderator David Stroud, president of the National Live Stock and Meat Board, Chicago; Lamar Blanton, vice president of Publix Supermarket, Inc., Lakeland, Fla.; Verne Swanson, chief executive officer of the Texas Meat Packers, Inc., Dallas; Tom Herrick, president, and Glen Deen, vice president of the Texas Cattle Feeders Association, Amarillo.

Vegetables Can Help Build Appetites

Have you lost your pep and energy, your "get up and go"? Or do you have a faded appetite?

"Vegetables, packed with vitamin and minerals, can help build appetites that you'll need for upcoming summer activities," Mrs. Robin Taylor, Extension county home demonstration agent, said.

"Vegetables are the best food source for Vitamin A," Mrs. Taylor explained. "Dark green and deep orange vegetable items make best choices for this important vitamin."

The home demonstration agent added that tomatoes, green peppers and members of the cabbage family--when served raw or cooked correctly--can substitute for the Vitamin C citrus family.

"Vegetables can supply iron, calcium and other minerals needed in small amounts," she said. "Because of their bulk and roughage, the products aid in digestion, and they are life savers for the weight watcher. Most are low in calories but high in flavor, bulk and texture."

Mrs. Taylor pointed out that sauces, butter or gravy compare the calorie pitfalls of vegetable dishes.

"Buying vegetables isn't governed by any set rules," the agent noted. "Vegetable items all have individual characteristics and values. Experience in personal selection is the best teacher."

But she added that following guidelines can help the consumer in selecting top quality.

"Personally select perishables, and keep use in mind when buying. If it's necessary to handle the vegetable items to learn quality or condition, don't bruise them. Injuries cause spoilage, so handle carefully."

Mrs. Taylor advised considering size. Large sizes aren't always of the best quality or the most economical. Again, buy with use in mind.

Also check quality. She said that if waste and low quality offset reduction in price, purchase may prove a bargain.

"Nutrition-wise, there is a considerable loss of Vitamin C when vegetables are wilted and limp," she pointed out. "But other vitamins and minerals are retained."

According to the agent, low prices aren't a guide. If prices are low due to an overabundance, it's possible that quality at these prices does constitute a bargain, but only when quality justifies.

"Consider seasonal production," she said. "Especially when freshness and economy are wanted for canning and/or freezing."

loss of food value. Use a small amount of water, keep utensils covered and don't throw away brightest color and minimum cooking liquid.

were initiated. This board sponsored an "annual cleanup campaign," meaning that the work was not to be concentrated in one week but was to continue throughout the entire year. Voluntary efforts were led by the chamber of commerce and the chamber's ladies auxiliary which sponsored a "Yard of the Month" project from June through September.

Also in 1971, the City Council of Muleshoe passed two ordinances aimed at preventing litter and pollution. The first set a fine for littering, and the second was aimed at preventing the discharge of industrial wastes into the city sewer system. The city purchased an additional 150 garbage containers for the mechanical pickup system in Muleshoe. These containers have been a very effective source of eliminating trash problems. Citywide installation is about 90% complete, and will be completed in 1972. The city also began work on a sewage treatment plant in 1971.

In other areas of civic improvement, the Muleshoe Area Industrial Foundation was organized to provide information to industry and to encourage new plants to come to the area. Many of the projects in the community are coordinated through the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce, and committees of the chamber serve in different capacities for civic improvement. Civic organizations often are contacted by the chamber and asked to be responsible for specific projects.

R.A. Bradley, president of the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce, says, "Muleshoe has continued to grow, and the cooperation between peoples, businesses, and organizations is the important factor in our growth. When something needs to be done, there is someone to do it."

TVMA Recommends VEE Revaccination

The Texas Veterinary Medical Association (TVMA) and the Texas Animal Health Commission (TAHC) issued a joint statement today recommending the revaccination of all horses immunized during the Venezuelan Equine Encephalomyelitis outbreak of a year ago. Dr. Wallace R. Larson of San Antonio, President of TVMA, and Dr. H.Q. Sibley, Executive Director of the TAHC in Austin, said Texas is a high-risk area for a V.E.E. outbreak and while it is hoped no impending threat is eminent, revaccination is further insurance for the public against this deadly form of sleeping sickness in horses.

TDPS Begins "Operation Motorcade"

The Texas Department of Public Safety estimates that 58 lives will be lost in traffic accidents during this year's 4th of July Holiday. "Operation Motorcade" will begin at 6:00 p.m., Friday, June 30, and will run until midnight, Tuesday, July 4.

Major C.W. Bell, Regional Commander of the Lubbock Region of the Department of Public Safety states, "All available personnel will be used in an effort to keep the highway deaths at a minimal. We will be on the lookout for violations of the traffic laws; especially we will be alert for the speeding driver and the drinking driver." Speed and DWI are the two largest contributors of traffic fatalities. Major Bell reminds all motorists that "each driver is responsible for keeping control of his vehicle in order to avoid colliding with another vehicle, a pedestrian or any fixed object. No one wants to be responsible for the death of another. Let's make our streets and highways as safe as possible. We all could drive twice as safe as we usually drive, so let's make an all-out effort and make this 4th of July a safe, happy holiday. Not a holiday that turns into a mourning." Do Your part. Precautions Against Hog Cholera Taken on to urge revaccination of all horses vaccinated in 1971, they said. Horse owners are urged to specifically identify vaccinated animals so there can be no doubt about the animals' protection. Dr. Larson said, "We as veterinarians have a responsibility to tell our clients what we feel is best for the welfare of the animals and the owner. I personally do not feel we should allow the possibility that there could be a reenactment of the summer of '71 where complete chaos existed for a number of days. We are approaching that anniversary date."

LUBBOCK... With the confirmed cases of hog cholera in Dawson and Terry counties, swine producers are urged to use all precautions to curb the disease.

"This costly disease is easily transmitted and if producers notice any sign of sickness among hogs, they should suspect hog cholera first," says Dr. Gene Cope, area veterinarian and Dr. Gilbert Hollis, area swine specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service. The animals should be checked immediately by a local veterinarian or state or federal animal health official. Farrowing problems, abortions, stillborn pigs and weak of "shaker" pigs may be due to cholera. If a swine owner has the disease confirmed in his herd, federal and state law require that the entire herd be destroyed and buried under governmental supervision, the specialists report. Indemnities can be collected on any hog that dies or is destroyed after the herd has been inspected.

To protect pigs from cholera, the specialists list the following precautions:

1. Buy pigs from reputable sources--bargain pigs may not be bargains after all.
2. Isolate newly purchased pigs for 30 days.
3. Don't mix pigs with those of your neighbor.
4. Keep visitors out of the hog lots. Cholera can be spread by either direct contact from animal to animal; or indirectly on boots, shoes, clothing, vehicles or contaminated feed, water or handling equipment.
5. Haul hogs only in trucks and trailers that have previously been cleaned and disinfected.
6. Do not feed garbage or table scraps to swine unless it is properly cooked (30 minutes at 212 degrees F.). To be absolutely safe, avoid feeding garbage altogether.

7. Turn in any hog cholera vaccine that you may still have on your farm to a local, state or federal animal health official.

8. Eradicate all rodents on the farm to prevent the spread of any of the cholera virus that might be present.

Cope and Hollis remind producers that there are no specific symptoms of hog cholera. At first the pigs are dull, listless, show a decrease in feed consumption, usually a diarrhea, weakness and temperature of 106 degrees F. to 107 degrees F.

The disease usually spreads slowly through a herd; often requiring one to two weeks to affect all animals. Hog cholera does not affect any other domestic animal or man.

Candlelight Ceremony Unites Pair In Canyon

A candlelight ceremony in the Joseph Hill Memorial Chapel in Canyon united in marriage Miss Patricia Cathryn Camp of Muleshoe and Raydall Franklin Cornelison Jr. of Borger. The double ring vows were read by Rev. D.C. DuBose, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Muleshoe, on Saturday evening, June 24, at 8 p.m.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Bernis Camp of Muleshoe and Mr. and Mrs. R.F. Cornelison Sr. of Borger.

The recessed altar of the chapel was decorated with twin cathedral candelabra holding alternating rose and pink tapered candles. The candelabra were entwined with greenery.

Traditional wedding marches were presented by Connie Richardson of Wheeler, organist, and Judy Davis of Canyon, pianist. Jan Autry of Pampa, soloist, sang "Til" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Attending the bride as matron of honor was her sister, Susan Camp Kizer, of Canyon. Bridesmatron was Mrs. Woody Keith of Odessa, sister of the bride.

Candlelighters were Gayetta Gable of Muleshoe, and Joyce Camp of Muleshoe, sister of the bride.

The attendants were attired in formal length A-line gowns of rose pink crepe with empire bodices, scooped necklines and modified wrist length bell sleeves. The dresses were trimmed with pastel pink braid. And Pearl necklaces completed the costumes. The matron of honor and bridesmatron each carried a single long stemmed sweetheart rose.

David Denny of Canyon served as best man, Groomsman was Randy Helton of Canyon. Ushers were Lynn Taylor of Andrews and Larry Mazingo of Borger, cousin of the groom.

The bride, escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length gown of eyelet embroidered organza featuring an empire bodice, A-line skirt and Juliet sleeves with wide cuffs. Alencon lace edging accented the scooped neckline and hemline. Her Mantilla of silk illusion, appliqued with tiny roses and edged with teardrop lace edging, fell into a chapel train. The bridal bouquet was a cascade of sweetheart roses, rosebuds and baby's breath atop a white Bible. The bride wore the traditional blue garter, a penny minted in the year of the bride's birth for luck, and she borrowed a lace handkerchief from her sister.

A reception followed the ceremony in the Episcopal Center in Canyon. The serving table was covered with a white lace cloth and centered with the three tiered wedding cake decorated with wedding bells and pink roses and placed on a mirrored base. The bridal bouquet completed the table decor. Cake, punch and tiny rosebud mints were served from crystal and silver appointments. Gayetta Gable, DeAnn Schad, Mrs. Bob Bomer, Seleta Abbott and Kathy Morris presided at the serving table.

Guests were registered by Mrs. John Hunt, sister of the groom.

Rice bags were passed out by Joyce Camp, sister of the bride.

Following a wedding trip to Red River, N.M., the couple will be at home in Canyon.

For travel the bride chose a blue and white textured knit suit featuring butterfly sleeves, blue accessories and a corsage of sweetheart roses lifted from her bridal bouquet completed her ensemble.

The bride graduated from Muleshoe High School in 1970 where she was most beautiful, princess of friendship, twirler, and FFA sweetheart. She presently attends West Texas State University where she is a member of Zeta Tau Alpha sorority, House of Delegates and was named runner up Miss WTSU in 1971.

The groom, a graduate of Borger High School and all district and All South Plains football player, attended New Mexico Military Institute, where he was all conference in football and received the Golden Helmet award. He is now a student at West Texas State University and a member of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity.

Out of town guests attended the wedding from Muleshoe, Borger, Snyder, Gruver, Olton, Amarillo, Plainview, Sudan, Amherst, Hereford, and Clovis, N.M.

A rehearsal dinner was given by the groom's parents at the Chef Louis Restaurant in Amarillo.

Fruit Adds Nutrition To Daily Menus

Most nutritionists agree that four or more servings of fruits and/or vegetables are needed daily and these are some of the appetizing ways to include fruit in the daily menu. Fruit sherbet is a welcome coldness when eating hot entrees. It's made with fruit juices and milk and so adds not only the tart taste of fruit but also the nutrients in the milk. Baked bananas (baked in or out of their skins) when sprinkled with zippy lemon juice also go well with most any entree; banana fritters are fine with ham or sausage. Baked or fried apple slices or quarters, seasoned with spices and lemon juice, can be served with all entrees. Apples baked with mincemeat are a surprise with sauerkraut are good pork companions! Most any kind of fruit can be paired hand-in-hand with almost any meat entree--nutritious and eye-catching, too!

The focal point of the table was the three tiered white cake accented with a stairway and green candles on the stairway. Cake and lime sherbet punch were served.

The hostess gift was a set of cookware.

"Farmers on the High Plains have proven over and over and are proving again this year that they have the desire, the ability and the facilities to produce their share and more of the cotton needed to meet domestic and export market demands."

This was the response of Donald Johnson, Executive Vice President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., to an editorial which appeared recently in a nationally circulated cotton magazine. The writer, referring to 1972, said "Texas and Oklahoma, wedded to the short supply-high price theory, increased acreage only slightly." He went on to praise other parts of the Cotton Belt, especially the Central Belt along the Mississippi River, where he said 1972 plantings were "more than 20 percent over 1971 in some areas."

The cotton industry has been concerned since early 1971 that inadequate supplies would hinder cotton's ever-present battle with synthetics for textile markets. The cotton carryover on August 1 each year has steadily declined from almost 17 million bales in 1966 to 4.5 million in 1971. Carryover on August 1 this year is expected to be only about 3.3 million bales, and there is general agreement that are greater supplies are needed. But the need for increased cotton production did not start in 1972, Johnson points out. "The need was there in 1971 as well," he said, "and the measure of an area's 'supply theory' is not how much cotton acreage was increased in 1972, but how much cotton farmers have planted above paying base allotments since the supply shortage became obvious in 1971."

Base allotments on which Plains farmers were eligible to receive price support payments, and consequently the acreage on which they had an assurance at all of showing a profit, totaled just over 1.6 million acres. Farmers on the Plains, however, actually planted almost 2.5 million acres to cotton in 1971.

A similar situation exists in 1972. Base allotments in the 25 PCG counties again total about 1.6 million acres, and it is now estimated that farmers have planted from 2.5 to 2.7 million acres.

These figures show that the High Plains overplanted allotments by 55 percent in 1971 and by from 55 to 68 percent again this year, which Johnson says is "hardly the actions of producers dominated by a 'short supply-high price' philosophy."

Cotton production on the High Plains, as elsewhere in the Cotton Belt, was greatly reduced by poor growing conditions in 1971. Final ginnings on the Plain, which under normal conditions would have been over 2 million bales, turned out to be less than 1.3 million. And, also as a result of adverse weather, some 300,000 bales of this production was of a quality now being shunned by textile mills.

"So the short supply situation is a direct result of unfavorable weather," Johnson concludes, "and not the result of any callous disregard for market demands on the part of producers on the Plains or anywhere else."

Crops on the Plains and in most other cotton producing areas are off to an excellent start this year. Beltwide plantings are expected to reach close to 14 million acres, and with

Texas Number One Again... Beef Cattle Still Not At Full Parity... Milk Production Remains Steady... Egg-Type Chick Hatch Down, Broiler and Turkey Hatches Increase... Hogs Sold Through Auctions Are Up... DDT Ban Analyzed.

TEXAS is number one again in cattle feeding. The Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service notes that 2,045,000 head of cattle were on feed in Texas as of June 1. This is 22 per cent above a year ago and 11 per cent above the 1,848,000 on feed a month ago.

Texas replaces Iowa as the number one cattle feeding state in the nation. For the six-state cattle on feed-Texas, Arizona, California, Colorado, Iowa, and Nebraska-cattle on feed total 7,925,000 head.

BEEF cattle prices, although at new highs, are still not on an equal financing rating with the rest of the economy. Beef prices are now at 93 per cent of parity; calf prices are at 96 per cent of parity. In reality, cattle prices are only slightly higher than levels of 20 years ago, yet cattle production costs have more than doubled during that time.

Throughout the six-state cattle on feed report, numbers of cattle on feed increased. The 7,925,000 head as of June 1 is 12 per cent more than a year ago.

MILK production in Texas during May totaled 293,000,000 pounds. This is the same as in May, 1971, but one per cent below the previous month's production.

Milk production per cow kept for milk averaged 825 pounds per cow for the month of May. This is the same as a year earlier but five pounds below the previous month. Preliminary price for all wholesale milk for May was estimated at $6.65 per hundredweight.

Nationwide, milk production is estimated during May at one per cent above a year earlier.

HATCH of egg-type chickens in Texas totaled 2,009,000, down 10 per cent from a year ago. The May hatch of broiler chicks increased five per cent from a year ago. The total of 18,163,000 was four per cent above the preceding month. The total turkey poult hatch for May at 1,436,000 increased nine per cent from a year ago.

Egg production totaled 240 million colored with 225 million a year ago. The 12.3 million layers averaged 62.8 eggs daily per 100 hens. Layers on hand were up four per cent from a year ago, two per cent below April.

Nationwide, egg production declined two per cent from a year ago. The daily egg production per 100 layers was slightly higher than for Texas at 63.7.

SALES for cattle and calves, sheep and goats were below year-ago levels while hog sales showed an increase. Cattle and calves marketed through auctions during May numbered 567,000 head, 13 per cent below a year ago. Sheep sales at livestock auctions totaled 167,000 head, 24 per cent below a year ago.

Hogs sold during May totaled 54,000 head, four per cent above a year ago.

NO SERIOUS problems for Texas are in prospect with the banning of most uses of DDT at the end of this year, Texas Agriculture Commissioner John C. White said. The use of DDT in agriculture has declined drastically in recent years throughout the state.

COTTON season is underway with the first bale of cotton of the 1972 crop having been ginned recently at San Juan in the Lower Rio Grande Valley. Indications are the Valley crop is a good one.

Health Planning Unit Awarded Grant

The Health Resources Planning Unit of the Texas Hospital Association has been awarded a grant totaling $301,215 over the next two years. The announcement was made recently by Senator John Tower.

Funds from the grant will be used to operationalize the HRP's health services simulator for health planning for sizeable communities.

This project is supported by Grant Number 01078 from the National Center for Health Services Research and Development.

The health services simulator is a computer-based model which predicts the demand for medical care of a city with a population of one-half million and then simulates the characteristics of care, that is the level of care, duration, costs and other factors.

The output of the simulator is in the form of predictions of workload and resource utilization, comparisons of alternate plans, and the effect of changing conditions such as funding and insurance.

Since the needed data is readily available in most communities, planners will be able to forecast demand, list alternate plans, estimate cost of programs and predict the effect of economic changes with sufficient time to make decisions and take the appropriate action.

An earlier HRP project, "Planning Community Health Resources for Disasters," produced a highly successful Disaster Environmental Simulator or used to evaluate and optimize disaster plans at a community level.

The Health Resources Planning Unit is located at Trinity University, San Antonio.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Bill Boykin
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, Tex.--Legislators are moving along methodically toward completing work on a $3.8 billion 1973 state budget and trying to stay within revenue available.

Presiding officers set a "before-July 4" adjournment target date, but whether they could make it or not remained to be seen.

Governor Preston Smith stuck by his pledge to submit no additional business to the special session until the appropriations act is agreed on.

A representative's effort via resolution to persuade Smith to "open call" was rejected, when the House failed to suspend rules (on a 62-55 vote) and permit consideration. Proponents of the resolution argued the session is costing taxpayers $34,000 a day, but nothing could be accomplished while committees continued to process the appropriations act.

Progress was possible toward better legislative rules as both houses marked time before the budget landed on members' desks.

The senate adopted a new set of procedures, providing for fewer and smaller committees and permitting, for the first time, open floor debate on appointments matters.

The house also took a look at further rules amendments designed to reform the committee structure and improve legislative machinery.

Meanwhile, the Senate waded through confirmations of hundreds of interim appointments by the governor, occasionally finding one to reject.

COURTS SPEAK--Sentences of 250 years given three Dallas men in shootings during robberies were upheld by the Court of Criminal Appeals.

The court also upheld the 10-year sentence of a Houston man in the fatal shooting of a pregnant woman.

A federal court suit charging discrimination against minorities at the University of Texas at El Paso has been moved to El Paso for trial.

DRAFT CALL SET--About 500 young Texans will be inducted to Texas cattle at El Paso, Laredo, and Brownsville, with re-routing of valuable state export market shipments through Miami, Fla.

Mexican officials insist on "adequate quarantine corrals." Such facilities are under construction at Del Rio and Eagle Pass. White said Texas has not had time and money to build the corrals elsewhere. He said the export halt would have a "serious impact" on a multi-million-dollar program.

AG OPINIONS--The University of Houston may not collect a voluntary fee from students to finance the Texas Public Interest Research Group, Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin held. In other recent opinions, Martin concluded:

Savings Bonds Sales Amount To $16,568

May sales of Series E and H United States Savings Bonds amounted to $2,693 in Bailey County were reported today by County Bond Chairman Mrs. Dean Sprayberry. Sales for the five-month period totaled $16,568 for 28% of the 1972 goal of $60,000.

Sales for the state of Texas during May were $17,314,314--a 5% increase over May 1971 when sales were $16,476,145. January-May sales totaled $91,572,743 with 45% of the $202.3 Million 1972 goal achieved.

Nationally, sales of E and H Savings Bonds amounting to $573 Million were reported during May--24% above 1971 sales of $462 Million. Total sales for the five-month period amounted to $2,715 Million--18% above a year earlier. Exchanges of Series E for Series H Bonds totalling $142 Million were reported for the first five months of 1972--36% above the $105 Million exchanged in 1971.

The Sandhills Philosopher

Dear editor:

Although the country is said to be facing an energy crisis--this doesn't worry me, I've faced lots of them and the cure is to lie down till they pass, if you aren't alert enough to lie down before they get there--people keep figuring out more and more uses for electricity.

For example, one outfit says it can break the cigarette habit with electricity. It hooks you up with a wire that sends a shock to your wrist every time you reach for a cigarette. If an electric prod works on cattle, why won't it work on people? You don't see cattle smoking, do you?

Another outfit has rigged up an electric fork for people who over-eat. When you pass a certain number of forks an electric shock pulls you to a stop, although I guess you could beat this by picking up a slab of pie in your hand.

I don't know how serious the energy crisis is, but if it won't throw the whole country into darkness there ought to be one more use of this electric shock treatment.

It's a natural. Hook Congress up with an electrical gadget that sends a shock wave down every member's arm when he votes a tax increase, even if it means

Cost of Living Council Report

WACO--Texas Farm Bureau President J.T. Woodson said today that farmers and ranchers are "greatly concerned that the Cost of Living Council may impose price controls on raw agricultural products."

In a telegram to President Nixon, the Texas farm leader said that "such action would cause irreparable harm to agriculture--the one industry that is least to blame for the current inflation."

"The current parity index shows that, on the average, agriculture is receiving less than three-fourths of what is termed a fair price for its products," Woodson said. "Supply and demand largely determine prices of agricultural products."

"Any attempt to impose an across-the-board 'freeze' on raw agricultural products will result in less, not more, food on America's dinner tables. This would cause black-marketeering on a scale that would damage your efforts to control inflation."

"In addition, such a price 'freeze' would create havoc in some commodities--such as poultry--where prices are now at or below the cost of production."

"Beef prices have come in for more criticism than other commodities. We remind you that cattle prices are now up to the same level they were some 20 years ago. The difference in price at the meat counter today is clearly the result of inflation over the past 20 years."

"In summary, we respectfully urge you to use your influence to prevent imposition of price controls on raw farm products. This will help assure the American consumers of a continued bountiful supply of food at reasonable prices."

Congressman Bob Price

Congressman Bob Price announced Thursday that USDA concluded purchase negotiations with Indonesia for the sale of 25,000 bales of short staple low microaire cotton for an amount in excess of $3,750,000. This amount represents roughly 10% of the estimated supply of this cotton unsold from the 1971 crop, and the sale is a significant reduction in the West Texas surplus which resulted from bad weather during that growing season.

Congressman Price previously requested favorable consideration of this purchase agreement to reduce our surplus, and was pleased that it was favorably negotiated, under PL-480, Indonesia will pay the United States on a long-term basis.

Congressman Bob Price announced Friday that wheat producers will receive $1.28 per bushel in preliminary payment on their 1972 crop. The preliminary payment will be made as soon as possible after July 1 and amounts to 75% of the face value of domestic wheat certificates. Final certificate payments will be made after December 1. Participants in the 1972 feed grain program are guaranteed a national average of $1.35 per bushel for corn or 70% or parity on October 1, 1972, whichever is larger. Total payments due producers for voluntary additional feed grain and wheat set-aside acreage will also be made as soon after July 1 as practicable.

Cotton producers will receive payment on a quantity of upland cotton determined by multiplying the acreage planted within the farm base acreage allotment by the payment yield established for the farm. The payment rate will equal to the difference between 35% per pound or 65% or parity, whichever is larger, and the average spot market price for the first five months of the marketing year, August-December, 1972. Preliminary payments will be made as soon as possible after July 1. If final payments are due to cotton producers, they will be made after January 1, 1973.

Revenue, Taxation Committee Formed

AUSTIN--Texas House Speaker Rayford Price today appointed 21 representatives to serve as members of the House Standing Committee on Revenue and Taxation.

Rep. Don Cavness, Speaker Pro Tem of the House, was named chairman of the committee, and Rep. Joe Wyatt of Victoria will be vice chairman.

Members of the committee assuming seats on the basis of seniority under provisions of new House rules are Reps. Ben Atwell of Dallas, Bill Clayton of Springlake, W. S. (Bill) Healy of Paducah, Rufus Kilpatrick of Beaumont, James Nugent of Kerrville, W. C. (Bud) Sherman of Fort Worth, Leroy Wieting of Portland and Billy Williamson of Tyler.

Other members appointed by the Speaker are Reps. Boyle of Irving, Frank Calhoun of Abilene, Tom Traddick of Midland, Buy Floyd of San Antonio, Joe Golman of Dallas, Lynn Nabers of Brownwood, Jon Newton of Beeville, Joe Hanna of Breckenridge, Chris Semos of Dallas, Wayland Simmons of San Antonio, and Charles Tupper, Jr. of El Paso.

"While I do not anticipate that this committee will hold official meetings during the present session, I feel it imperative that efforts should begin as soon as possible to determine the state's needs and formulate meaningful recommendations to the 63rd Legislature meeting in January, 1973," Price said.

"I have accordingly asked the committee to begin studies immediately of appropriate tax reform measures and to investigate all revenue-raising possibilities. To aid their work, I have authorized employment of necessary professional staff assistance," Price said.

"I am confident that this group under leadership of Reps. Cavness and Wyatt, will come up with the best answers possible."

Run Down

Dr. C. L. Goodpasture
D.C.

We often unconsciously compare our own body mechanisms to that of a watch. You'll hear people say: "I'm run down." Why not carry the analogy one step further? When run down and doesn't work right we have it adjusted. We can do the same for the body through chiropractic adjustment.

The result in both cases is the same. The watch and the body are both made up of hundreds of tiny parts, all of which must be meshed together in perfect coordination and balance, and with nothing to impede the flow of vital energy. The mainspring of the watch is its "brain." With human beings the brain is the mainspring of all our actions conscious and unconscious. Our system of interlocking gears, to transmit vital impulses from the brain is our spinal cord.

Shock, fatigue, a fall, any one of a hundred causes can throw the spine off balance, interference with proper channelling of nerve impulses from the brain to the other organs of the body. When we're "run down," its a symptom that, like our watches, we need "adjusting." The chiropractor corrects the distortion that has altered or obstructed the proper channelling of nervous impulses restores the body to the desired equilibrium.

WASHINGTON REPORT BY Lloyd Bentsen,

United States Senator

Washington, D.C.--An amendment introduced in the Senate today would provide Texas with an additional $26.5 million in revenue sharing funds, during the coming fiscal year.

Senator Lloyd Bentsen, co-sponsor of the amendment, said "without this provision, Texas and other states that do not have state income taxes, would be penalized. There is no certainty that any revenue sharing measure will be approved this year. But if one is, I will work to make sure it gives Texas equitable treatment."

The Revenue Sharing Measure, co-signed by 42 Senators, was introduced in the Senate on May 30. It is awaiting committee action. Under terms of the bill, 50% of the share going to state governments is based on revenue derived from state income taxes.

States, such as Texas, that do not have state income taxes, would receive a minimum allowance of 1% of federal income liabilities. Under the existing bill, Texas state government would receive only $16.5 million of the $900 million allocated to state governments on the basis of individual taxable income.

"The amendment I am co-sponsoring," Senator Bentsen explained, "would discard the state income tax formula and replace it with a formula based solely on federal income tax liabilities within each state."

"Under this amendment, Texas state government's share of the $900 million would increase by $26.5 million, from $16.5 million to approximately $43 million," Senator Bentsen said.

The existing bill provides state and local governments in Texas with $248.2 million in a total $5.3 billion revenue sharing appropriation for fiscal 1973.

John Tower
United States Senate COMMITTEE ON ARMED SERVICES

I have become concerned the costs of home construction are working against this nation's ability to meet its housing needs. This is why I am so encouraged that the Senate Housing Subcommittee, this week, held four days of hearings on a pair of bills which I believe would do much to lower housing costs. One of the bills was offered by myself earlier this year and would remove certain types of federally-assisted housing construction from the prevailing wage requirements of the Davis-Bacon Act. The other was offered by my colleague, Senator Brock, and would provide civil remedy for any person, who, in any federally-assisted housing program, is adversely affected by codes or work agreements if such code or practice is unrelated to health or safety and restricts the use of new techniques or materials in housing construction or rehabilitation. I have co-sponsored the Brock bill.

As Congress leads the Federal Government into ever expanded housing programs, and as federal subsidies for construction of these facilities progressively deepen, I feel it incumbent that every possible effort be directed towards reducing the unnecessary costs which burden the programs and ultimately the taxpayer.

The Brock and Tower bills share an identical purpose; the reduction of residential construction costs in order that those of low and moderate incomes might benefit from the increased housing stock resulting from decreased federal expenditures per unit. More available houses at lower costs of construction would dictate a more reasonable purchase price. The Brock bill is aimed at the utilization of modern-day techniques. Mine is aimed at eliminating a time-worn, anachronistic provision from the federal housing statutes.

When enacted during the depression days of 1931, the Davis-Bacon Act could boast merit in expressing the public policy that local wages should not be depressed by the expenditure of federal funds on federal projects. But now, it can be argued quite convincingly that public policy demands that local wages should not be inflated by the expenditure of federal funds on federally-assisted projects.

One of the most common complaints against the Davis-Bacon Act today centers on the lengthy period of time which has been required to secure final wage determinations from the Labor Department. Months pass, during which time the builder is forestalled from initiating construction and costs mount; land options sometimes must be renewed the cost of materials increases, attorney's and architect's fees rise, to name only a few.

A second complaint notes that wage scale determined in larger, municipal areas have been applied to rural counties, thus inflating the local wage which prevailed previously. Obviously, this was not the intent of the original Act, but it has been the result.

Another perversion of the Davis-Bacon Act is reflected in the instances where a union scale or the product of a collective bargaining agreement have been adopted as the prevailing wage in the entire area, despite the fact that but a small percentage of the labor force within the jurisdiction is organized.

All of these are serious problems. They are factors which cause housing costs to rise more than is necessary.

And, these are only a few of the problems of the Davis-Bacon Act as reported in a definitive study by the General Accounting Office submitted to The Congress in July of last year.

Prevailing wage determinations by the Labor Department under the Davis-Bacon Act for FHA -insured housing and public housing have too often resulted in required wage rates which are higher than for those actually prevailing in the area. Inappropriately high wage determinations have proven particularly harmful in the case of rental housing subsidized under the National Housing Act. Higher wages have forced higher construction costs, and in turn market rents for subsidized projects, which are higher than for the rents for comparable units in conventionally financed projects. Families who are able to pay rents at or near market levels have been dissuaded from living in assisted projects and the goal of achieving a greater income mix in those projects has been undermined.

I am not seeking a change in the applications of the Davis-Bacon Act because I am opposed to working men receiving a fair wage for their labors, I am not, I am opposed, however, to federal regulations which provide wage rates over and above the real prevailing wages when those wage rates result in housing costs which are unnecessarily high. High housing costs, for both the home buyer and the renter, affect the working man along with everyone else. The goal of federally-assisted housing should be to meet the housing needs of our people. This goal is being undermined by the applications of the Davis-Bacon Act and The Congress should not allow this situation to continue.

Girls' Basketball Clinic Scheduled

South Plains College will hold a one-week Basketball Clinic for girls on July 31 through August 4. Any girl who will be in the fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh or eighth grades at the beginning of school in the Fall of 1972 is eligible to participate. Girls will be divided into groups according to their grade level in the public schools. Each girl will receive one hour's instruction each day for five days.

Fourth grade girls will meet from 8:30-9:30 a.m.; fifth grade from 9:30-10:30 a.m.; sixth grade from 10:30-11:30 a.m.; seventh and eighth grades from 11:30 a.m.-12:30 p.m. All sessions will be held in the Women's Gym on the campus of South Plains College. Mr. C.W. Dukes will be the instructor and supervisor of the clinic. As each group will be limited to twelve girls, registration can be received on a "first come, first serve" basis. Registration can be completed at any time between now and July 31 at the Central Office of the Technical Arts Building.

Total cost of the clinic is $10. Girls will need to furnish their own tennis shoes and gym clothes. The clinic will emphasize the basic fundamentals of basketball; included will be the instruction of techniques in dribbling, passing, seeing, shooting, defense, offense and rebounding.

For further information, contact the Office of Continuing Education at South Plains College, Phone 894-4921.
