The State of Texas—To the Sheriff or any Constable of Houston county, Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to summon the unknown heirs of Roman De La Garza, the unknown heirs of Joseph N. Craddock and the unknown heirs of J. M. Hall by making publication of this Citation once in each week for eight successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your county, if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in any newspaper published in the 3rd judicial district; but if there be no newspaper published in said judicial district, then in a newspaper published in the nearest district to said 3rd judicial district, to appear at the next regular term of the district court of Houston county, to be holden at the court house thereof, in Crockett, on the 2nd Monday in October, 1906, the same being the 8th day of October, 1906, then and there to answer a petition filed in said court on the 11th day of August, 1906, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said court No. 5023, wherein W. E. Bond, Mark T. Cox and Thomas R. White, Jr., are plaintiffs, and the unknown heirs of Roman De La Garza, the unknown heirs of Joseph N. Craddock and the unknown heirs of J. M. Hall, deceased, are defendants, and said petition alleging that plaintiffs are the owners in fee simple of the following described tract of land, to-wit: 200 acres out of the eastern half of the Roman De La Garza II league grant situated in Houston county, Texas, and said 200 acres being the eastern portion of section No. 36 according to the plat of said grant, by the following chain of title, to-wit: Grant by the state of Coahuila and Texas to Roman De La Garza; deed from J. J. Hall to W. V. Hall; deed from W. V. Hall to Joseph N. Craddock; deed from J. L. Hall by attorney to J. M. Hall; deed from Virginia A. Hall to J. M. Hall; deed from M. A. Hall to M. L. Hall; deed from M. L. Hall to I. & G. N. Railroad Co.; deed from I. & G. N. Railroad Co. to E. F. Hatfield, Jr.; deed from E. F. Hatfield, Jr., to Texas Land Company; deed from Texas Land Company to New York & Texas Land Co. and deed from New York & Texas Land Co. to plaintiffs.

Plaintiffs further allege that Defendant Roman De La Garza executed a deed to all of said grant to J. J. Hall and that said deed has been lost or destroyed and secondary evidence of the existence of said deed will be offered upon the trial of said cause. And plaintiffs say the claim or claims of defendants cast a cloud on their title.

Wherefore, plaintiffs sue, pray judgment for said land quieting their title to same and removing all clouds therefrom.

Herein fail not, but have you before said court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ, with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Summer Diarrhoea in Children.

During the hot weather of the summer months the first unnatural looseness of a child's bowels should have immediate attention, so as to check the disease before it becomes serious. All that is necessary is a few doses of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy followed by a dose of castor oil to cleanse the system. Rev. M. O. Stockland, pastor of the first M. E. Church, Little Falls, Minn., writes: "We have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for several years and find it a very valuable remedy, especially for summer disorders in children." Sold by Murchison & Beasley.

Men Past Sixty in Danger.

More than half of mankind over sixty years of age suffer from kidney and bladder disorders, usually enlargement of prostate gland. This is both painful and dangerous, and Foley's Kidney Cure should be taken at the sign of danger, as it corrects irregularities and has cured many old men of this disease. Mr. Rodney Burnett, Rockport, Mo., writes: "I suffered with enlarged prostate gland and kidney trouble for years and taking two bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure I feel better than I have for twenty years although I am now 91 years old." Smith & French Drug Co.

Stop that Cough.

When a cough, a tickling or an irritation in the throat makes you feel uncomfortable take Ballard's Horehound Syrup. Don't wait until the disease has gone beyond control. Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Anderson, 354 West 5th St., Salt Lake City, Utah, write: "We think Ballard's Horehound Syrup the best medicine for coughs and colds. We have used it for several years; it always gives immediate relief, is very pleasant and gives perfect satisfaction." 25c, 50c, $1.00. Sold by Murchison & Beasley.

Rheumatism.

When pains or irritation exist on any part of the body, the application of Ballard's Snow Liniment gives prompt relief. E. W. Sullivan, proprietor Sullivan House, El Reno, O. T., writes, June 6, 1902: "I take pleasure in recommending Ballard's Snow Liniment to all who are afflicted with rheumatism. It is the only remedy I have found that gives immediate relief. 25c, 50c and $1.00. Sold by Murchison & Beasley."

CAMPBELL NOMINATED

During Second Ballot—An Interesting and Memorable Convention.

The COURIER presented last week a synopsis of the convention proceedings up to Tuesday night.

Temporary Chairman Cockrell called the convention to order at 9:30 Wednesday morning. The committee on permanent organization made its report, which was adopted and Howard Templeton of Sulphur Springs seated as permanent chairman; Benton McMillan was permanent secretary with his two assistants; Capt. W. J. McDonald of the ranger force, sergeant at arms with six assistants. Order of business provided, in order named, reports of committee on credentials and committee on platform and resolutions; nominations for senator, governor, lieutenant governor, attorney general, controller, land commissioner, treasurer, superintendent instruction, railroad commissioner, chief justice supreme court and judge court of criminal appeals; election of chairman of executive committee and members of said committee. The committee named 16 vice-presidents.

Chairman Templeton acknowledged his election in a brief address. Gov. Lanham followed in an address in defense of his administration, who was in turn followed by Senator Culberson.

The credentials committee recommended proxies for the counties of Roberts, Reagan, Moore, Irion, Zavalla, Refugio, Bandera, Pecos and Cottle, on which the rolled was called and the recommendation adopted.

The report of committee on platforms was adopted and the platform demanded briefly as follows: Abolishment of lobbying, abolishment of free passes; law prohibiting contributions to campaign corruption funds; law prohibiting insolvent corporations doing business in the state; law protecting insurance stockholders; a law eliminating nepotism; uniform text book laws; improving irrigation and drainage; proper regulation of youthful offenders; an amendment to election law; provision for our helpless wards, a uniform test, a blanket primary, good roads, reform in jury system, a home for indigent widows and wives of Confederate soldiers; abolishment of taxes on useful occupations; perfection of tax laws; a separate department of agriculture; a supplementary resolution against trusts, monopolies and combinations in restraint of trade.

A resolution was passed recommending appropriation by the legislature to purchase the historical papers and documents of the late John H. Reagan now in the possession of his widow; also a resolution recommending larger rivers and harbors appropriations and smaller naval appropriations by the federal government.

Candidates were now placed in nomination in the order named: J. W. Bailey for U. S. senate, by Cone Johnson of Tyler; and Bell, Brooks, Campbell and Colquitt for governor, respectively, by Yancy Lewis of Dallas, Jed Adams of Kaufman county, Judge J. H. Robertson of Austin and Barry Miller of Dallas.

From 7 p. m. until late at night the convention had a very tedious time calling the roll on the pro-rated vote presented by the executive committee to the convention.

A telegram was received in Crockett Thursday evening, about 3 o'clock, by Col. J. E. Downes from Hon. I. A. Daniel, announcing that T. M. Campbell had been nominated. This welcome news of course was the cause of much rejoicing among Col. Campbell's supporters in advance of assured verification by newspaper reports.

Thursday the first ballot for governor lasted from 9:30 to near noon, showing the following result: Campbell 213,341, Colquitt 169,934, Bell 163,257 and Erooms 156,218. Brooks was then dropped, and made an address urging his followers to vote for Campbell.

Campbell was afterwards nominated before the roll call had proceeded beyond the counties beginning with the letter D. The sudden end of the agony was reached by the ruling of the chair, approved by the convention, that the unit rule must govern counties in casting the dropped vote. When the dropped vote of Dallas county was cast for Campbell, and Colquitt learned that the chair had been sustained, he announced his withdrawal, urging his supporters to go to Campbell. Bell followed in like vein, and nomination of Mr. Campbell was practically unanimous, who then made a bow of thanks to the convention in a brief address. The convention then adjourned, at 4:30 p. m., to 8:30 p. m.

The night session seems to have been a very tame affair, with only a few in attendance. A simple resolution introduced the candidates, who were practically nominated at the polls, their unanimous nomination succeeded, and good speeches were made by each of the successful and defeated ones.

The state officers nominated are lieutenant governor, A. B. Davidson of Cuero; attorney general, R. V. Davidson of Galveston; controller, J. W. Stephens of Austin; land commissioner, J. J. Terrell of Austin; treasurer, Sam Sparks of Belton; public instruction, R. B. Cousins of Austin; railroad commissioner, L. J. Storey of Lockhart; chief justice supreme court, R. R. Gaines of Austin; judge court of criminal appeals, J. N. Henderson of Bryan.

Geo. A. Carden of Dallas, was elected chairman of executive committee, as well as the members of said committee.

The convention passed a resolution of thanks to Mrs. Hal Sevier (nee Miss Clara Driskoll) for her work in securing the Alamo to the state. Other usual resolutions were passed, when the convention adjourned sine die.

"I had diabetes in its worst form," writes Marion Lee of Dunreath, Ind. "I tried eight physicians without relief. Only three bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure made a well man." It is a medicine free from poisons and will cure any case of kidney disease that is not beyond the reach of medicine.

Quick Relief for Asthma Suffers
Foley's Honey and Tar affords immediate relief to asthma sufferers in the worst stages and if taken in time will effect a cure.

Augusta Letter.

EDITOR COURIER:

The past week has been a record breaker for sultry, hot weather, yet it has been the means of forcing cotton to open, and if it continues ten days longer cotton picking will begin in earnest. The old familiar song of the growler can be heard on every corner about the ravages of the boll weevil, men who know well that they have the best crops this season than they have had for years. Yet it is hereditary, we presume, and they can't help it. Mr. Will Holcomb informs us of several parties who will be in the coming week with cotton and is having his machinery overhauled and will be fully equipped to meet the demands. From his store of wide information he tells us there will be an excellent crop and with the flattering prospects in view has had his gin saws re-sharpened and put in good condition.

It is learned that Dr. Evans of Belott contemplates moving to Augusta. The citizens here are ever ready to welcome new comers to their midst, and no doubt the doctor will find the change agreeable to him, financially and otherwise.

The correspondent of the Messenger from Augusta, as well as a host of influential citizens, endorse your correspondent's views in regard to working the public road by convict labor.

Miss Dolie Cook, in company with her father, Maj. T. S. Cook, paid Grapeland a visit this week.

Mr. Charley Kennedy, of the popular firm of Kennedy Bros., made a flying business trip to Grapeland Wednesday last.

Miss Mary Wilson will enter school at Lufkin about the first of September, where she will remain during the full term.

The Rev. Sweany, who was to have opened a protracted meeting here Sunday night, failed to materialize owing to indisposition of the learned divine.

Mr. Sam Long has completed his work on the public road leading out to the big mills and has placed himself in an attitude for his commendable services that will be highly appreciated by the traveling public.

Capt. Henry Gregg's home has undergone a wonderful change, having received a neat coat of white paint with delicate trimmings, and all the rooms wainscoted and papered, and now his friends are asking, "what has come over the spirit of his dreams?" There are a few others who will probably follow his example and do likewise.

The summer days are slowly waning and will soon be a thing of the past, yet they have been blissful, fraught with many pleasures, and we are loth to see them disappear. Soon the autumn days will take their place, and with what a bountiful hand Cornucopia turns out to an industrious people. And then comes "the melancholly days, the saddest of the year," when the harvest is over and all the good things nature has bestowed upon us are carefully housed, both for beast and man. Yet, there are some who, if they had half of Texas and it enclosed with a stake-and-rider fence, would complain.

Hurrah for Tom Campbell.
Ever thine,
DONNELLA.

Plaintiffs allege that the claim of defendants casts a cloud on their title.

Wherefore, plaintiffs sue and pray judgment for said land removing all clouds therefrom and quieting their title to same.

The Whole Paint Question

When you buy paint "ready-mixed," you buy oil that may have stood for months or even years in sealed cans exposed to the chemical action of the driers. That means you buy dead oil—oil that won't do its part in making your paint stick, but the worst of it is that you are paying full paint prices for this dead canned oil when the best new oil costs only about one third as much as paint.

Oil is the life of paint. Buy one gallon pure Linseed oil and one gallon can HAMMAR CONDENSED PAINT, mix them yourself—all you need is a stick, then you know the quality of oil—put it in yourself—it only takes about two minutes and you save one-fourth of your paint bill by the operation. When you paint you know you are putting on the best paint in the world and pure, fresh linseed oil and have the peace of mind that the paint mixed in this way is guaranteed by the great HAMMAR PAINT HOUSE of St. Louis, to wear for five years. It costs 25% less than any other high grade paint and saves 100% in its wearing qualities. Looks better and is better than any other paint.

Come in some day and let us give you a few more paint points.

RIO GRANDE SITUATION.

The Brownsville Road Trying to Save Big New Bridge Just Completed.

Kingsville, Tex.: It was learned yesterday at the offices of the St. Louis, Brownsville & Mexico Railway that the Colorado river is still rising, and that the railroad tracks between Buckeye and Bay City are under water for a part of the distance. Work trains are at the scene of the high water and trainloads of sand, gravel, etc., are being rushed there to protect property. Vice President Jeff N. Miller is on the ground directing operations, and it is hoped the big new bridge which the railroad has just completed will not be washed away, as the Gulf Coast Line has just lost a bridge over the Brazos river, and is now confronted with high water at Brownsville and on its Hidalgo Branch. Advances state that the Rio Grande, while on a standstill at Brownsville, has fallen some at Laredo, which gives hope it will soon begin to fall at Brownsville.

500 COTTON PICKERS.

To Be Distributed Among the Planters of Guadalupe County.

Seguin, Tex.: San Antonio and vicinity always contribute a rough crowd of cotton picking Mexicans to the population of Guadalupe county in the fall, and in spite of the great advantage of their labor to the farmer, the towns do not halt their coming with unmixed joy. Seven "drunk and disorderly" were arrested last night by the police and are now languishing in the city lockup. There is a scarcity of cotton pickers and Commissioner George Lillard goes to San Antonio to get 500, which he will distribute to those who have filed their needs with him. The plan is a good one and is of much benefit to short handed farmers.

Brownsville U. S. A. Outrage.

Brownsville, Tex.: Maj. A. P. Blackson, United States Army Inspector General of the Southwestern Division of the army, has arrived here to investigate the outrage committed upon Brownsville by negro soldiers of the Twenty-Fifth Infantry. Maj. Blackson was with the citizens' committee over two hours yesterday morning and was given typewritten copies of all evidence taken by the committee. He says he will investigate the matter thoroughly and report his findings to the War Department.

Accident at Batson.

Batson, Tex.: John McClure had his right arm broken Saturday while pulling tubing at the Oriole wells. The tubing wire broke while pulling the tubing, when the hook, which weighs about eighty pounds, was about thirty feet high it fell and struck Mr. McClure on the arm, mashing it almost to a pulp. It was to be amputated, but Dr. Downs, who attended him, says now that he will be able to save his arm.

Carnwell Murder Case.

Belton, Tex.: The Carnwell murder case will be called today in the district court and a special venire of 200 men has been summoned. Carnwell is a young man, and is charged with the killing of Jim Howell in Tennessee Valley on the first Monday in December.

Transfer of Oil Land.

Shreveport, La.: B. L. and L. Z. Crawford yesterday transferred to G. W. Hardy, trustee, of Beaumont, seventy acres of land located on Pine Island for $8000. Pine Island has recently developed strong indications of oil.

Gins Can Catch Up.

Victoria, Tex.: One and one-half inches of rain fell here yesterday afternoon and evening. While it has delayed picking, it is not known what effect it will have on cotton. The gins are taxed to their fullest capacity and this delay in picking will give the gins a chance to catch up.

Mullin's First Bale.

Mullin, Mills, Co., Tex.: The first bale of the season was ginned and marketed here yesterday, weight 460 pounds, sold for 960c, clas middling, $20 premium. The crop is two weeks late this season. Late rains have caused a good deal of complaint of boll worms.

Mexia, Tex.: Limestone county's August term of the county court will convene today and will be in session four weeks. The docket will be a heavy one, as a great many cases were carried over from last term.

THE LAXATIVE OF KNOWN QUALITY

There are two classes of remedies; those of known quality and which are permanently beneficial in effect, acting gently, in harmony with nature, when nature needs assistance; and another class, composed of preparations of unknown, uncertain and inferior character, acting temporarily, but injuriously, as a result of forcing the natural functions unnecessarily. One of the most exceptional of the remedies of known quality and excellence is the ever pleasant Syrup of Figs, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., which represents the active principles of plants, known to act most beneficially, in a pleasant syrup, in which the wholesome Californian blue figs are used to contribute their rich, yet delicate, fruity flavor. It is the remedy of all remedies to sweeten and refresh and cleanse the system gently and naturally, and to assist one in overcoming constipation and the many ills resulting therefrom. Its active principles and quality are known to physicians generally, and the remedy has therefore met with their approval, as well as with the favor of many millions of well informed persons who know of their own personal knowledge and from actual experience that it is a most excellent laxative remedy. We do not claim that it will cure all manner of ills, but recommend it for what it really represents, a laxative remedy of known quality and excellence, containing nothing of an objectionable or injurious character.

There are two classes of purchasers; those who are informed as to the quality of what they buy and the reasons for the excellence of articles of exceptional merit, and who do not lack courage to go elsewhere when a dealer offers an imitation of any well known article; but, unfortunately, there are some people who do not know, and who allow themselves to be imposed upon. They cannot expect its beneficial effects if they do not get the genuine remedy.

To the credit of the druggists of the United States be it said that nearly all of them value their reputation for professional integrity and the good will of their customers too highly to offer imitations of the manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., and in order to buy the genuine article and to get its beneficial effects, one has only to note, when purchasing, the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—plainly printed on the front of every package. Price, 50c. per bottle. One size only.

LABORING MEN SCARCE.

Urgent Demand in San Francisco for Men in the Building Trades.

San Francisco, Cal: While the press of the Eastern States has made mention of the extreme scarcity of labor in San Francisco (both skilled and unskilled) the conditions are worse than reported by the newspapers. The truth is that the rebuilding of San Francisco is being seriously retarded, because contractors and other heavy employers of labor can not secure enough men to do the work required.

There is plenty of work, but a scarcity of laborers. For example, take the case of the United Railways (i. e., the street car lines). They now have 2,000 men busy reconstructing their track. They could use 3,000 to 4,000 additional men to good advantage.

The Union Iron Works are short 500 men. The fruit growers are in need of as many men as they can get to help gather in expensive crops.

And the steam railroads are in need of laborers. The state labor commissioner, W. V. Stafford, has officially announced to mechanics and other workmen throughout the country that there is an urgent demand in San Francisco and adjoining cities for thousands more men in the building trades. He says that carpenters, electrical workers, sheet-metal workers, brick layers, hod carriers, plumbers, plasterers, cement workers, and structural iron workers are particularly wanted, adding that they will be sure of plenty of work at good wages. This statement is endorsed by the secretary of the San Francisco building trades' council.

The following schedule of wages now prevails, based on an eight-hour day:

Bricklayers, $7.00; cement workers, $5.00; hod carriers, $4.00; plasterers, $5.00; stone cutters, $4.75; carpenters' helpers, $2.50; cabinet makers, $3.50; mill men, $3.50; lathers, $6.00; shinglers, $4.00; painters, $4.00; painters' helpers, $2.00; fresco painters, $5.00; sign writers, $4.00; paper hangers, $4.00; plumbers, $5.00; plumbers' helpers, $2.50; machinists, $3.75; tanners, $4.00; sheet metal workers, $4.00; boiler makers, $3.50; stationery engineers, $4.00; tile setters, $4.00; glaziers, $4.00; unskilled laborers, $2.00 to $2.25; carpenters, $4.00.

You will note that the above scale of wages is higher than prevails in the East.

Steady employment is guaranteed all through the winter months, at which time building operations in the East have practically ceased owing to cold weather. As a rule the California winter is warm and sunny, permitting outdoor work nearly every day.

It is thus greatly to the interest of Eastern workmen to go to San Francisco. The colonist rates authorized from September 15 to October 31 will enable the trip to be made at minimum cost.

Fay Arrested for Theft.

Port Arthur, Tex.: Among the numerous arrests made Monday evening one white man giving his name as Frank Fay was arrested for picking the pockets of G. H. Lang, obtaining therefrom the sum of $28, which was taken from him when arrested. The theft was witnessed by several parties, who this morning appeared against him. Fay was bound over to the grand jury and sent to jail at Beaumont.

Cut a Dozen Times.

Bryan, Tex.: In a difficulty here Monday afternoon between V. Benson and Walter Brown, Benson received probably one dozen severe knife wounds in the head and breast. Deputy Sheriff Conely arrested Brown and lodged him in jail. The parties are colored. Brown gave bond this morning in the sum of $250.

Must Report Contagious Diseases.

San Antonio, Tex.: The city council Monday passed an ordinance recommended by the board of health providing penalties for undertakers and physicians who do not report to the board of health cases of contagious diseases of who bury or ship bodies of persons who died of contagious diseases.

Farmers in Good Condition.

Cuero, Tex.: Cotton farmers of this county are as a general rule in good shape. Several refused to sell Saturday on declining prices and returned home with cotton. They have no warehouse at this place.

CALAMITY AT VALPARAISO.

Severe Earthquake Shocks Thursday Night, Followed by Fires.

Valparaiso, Aug. 18.—The city of Valparaiso, the chief port of the most go-ahead of Latin-American republics, has within the last two days suffered a calamity similar to that which recently devastated San Francisco. On Thursday evening at 8 p. m., and without the least warning, this whole district, which is of gigantic gneiss formation, was shaken by a most violent shock of earthquake. The first blow was almost instantly followed by another of really dreadful violence, and at once whole rows of houses collapsed upon numberless unhappy victims attempting to escape.

Within fifteen minutes a great number of fires appeared in different parts of the town, and later it was seen that the whole Bellavista portion was doomed to destruction.

No news has been received from Santiago, telegraphic communication being entirely cut off, but it is feared that the disaster there is even greater than in Valparaiso. No trains can run owing to tunnels having fallen in and numerous landslides.

Up to the present no idea can be formed of the loss of life, as owing to the continued shocks it has been impossible to remove the dead from the ruins, but there is no doubt that several hundreds lost their lives, and fire has laid waste nearly the entire business portion. The calamity is of such magnitude as to put Chile back a hundred years in the scale of civilization.

The captain of the British vessel Iran, who has just arrived at Coquimbo, states that when at sea, twenty miles from Valparaiso, he could see the immense fires raging.

Valparaiso is the principal commercial and manufacturing center of Chile, and the most important seaport on the Pacific Coast of South America. It consists of the old town, Puerto, and the new town, Almendral. It was founded in September, 1544; was taken by Drake, 1578, by Sir Richard Hawkins, 1594, and by Dutch pirates in 1600; has several times been devastated by earthquakes and fires; and was bombarded by a Spanish fleet under Nuñez, March 31, 1866. Population in 1901 was 132,941.

Honolulu, Aug. 18.—The tide gauges here show a disturbance apparently of distant origin. Beginning at 5:23 o'clock this morning three waves per hour have been indicated, showing an oscillation from the normal tides of between three and four inches.

Paper for Texas City.

Bay City, Tex.: J. O. Murray, owner of the Bay City News plant at this place, is arranging to move it to Texas City, where he will start a weekly newspaper to keep the world posted on the progress of that aspiring burg.

No Negro Troops Seen in Laredo.

Laredo, Tex.: Probably as a precaution against any disturbance on account of the excited feeling engendered by the recent outrage at Brownsville, none of the negro troops stationed at Fort McIntosh are to be seen on the streets of Laredo.

To Move Hearne Academy.

Hearne, Tex.: It is likely that the Hearne Academy, the negro school which has been located here for several years, will be moved to Fort Worth. It is claimed by the faculty that Fort Worth is better located for the school and that fine inducements are offered if the academy will be moved to that city.

Man Has Charbon.

Rosenberg, Tex.: Mr. E. E. Mesieke, a German farmer from south of town, was suddenly taken ill with charbon in a most violent form. He was removed to an infirmary in Houston and his condition is said to be greatly improved, though he was reported at one time to be dying.

Mrs. Tabor Dead.

Austin, Tex.: The state health department was closed yesterday on account of the death of Mrs. Tabor at Bryan, mother of State Health Officer Tabor. Mrs. Tabor was 75 years of age and had been in feeble health for the past several weeks.

Need of Pickers.

Temple, Tex.: This section of the state is going to need a lot of cotton pickers before very long. The negroes are drifting to the cotton fields in squads, causing a scarcity in household and manual laborers. Many farmers are taking time by the forelock and making engagements with cotton pickers before the last moment.

DOCTOR CURED OF ECZEMA.

Maryland Physician Cures Himself—Dr. Fisher Says: "Cuticura Remedies Possess True Merit."

"My face was afflicted with eczema in the year 1897. I used the Cuticura Remedies and was entirely cured. I am a practicing physician, and very often prescribe Cuticura Resolvent and Cuticura Soap in cases of eczema, and they have cured where other formulas have failed. I am not in the habit of endorsing patent medicines, but when I find remedies possessing true merit, such as the Cuticura Remedies do, I am broadminded enough to proclaim their virtues to the world. I have been practicing medicine for sixteen years, and must say I find your Remedies A No. 1. You are at liberty to publish this letter. G. M. Fisher, M. D., Big Pool, Md., May 24, 1905."

Transmission of Facial Characteristics.
It would appear that the transmission of facial traits subordinate to a definite law, that is to say, that neutral facial expression and appearance are more often than not transmitted through the female members of the family, who generally do not exhibit the same characteristics to the male offspring, and that the younger generations show, as a rule, all the facial conditions and signs which were present in a remote ancestor.—North American Review.

Career of Veteran Engineer.

Charles Haynes Haswell, 97 years old, is a practicing engineer in New York city, and was an interesting figure at the laying of the new Engineers' clubhouse corner stone by Mrs. Carnegie the other day. He saw Robert Fulton's first steamboat on the Hudson river, and expects to take a prominent part in the Fulton and Clermont centennial next year. In the civil war he was chief of the engineer corps in Gen. Burnside's expedition and received high praise for his work.

PECK'S BAD BOY ABROAD.

The Bad Boy and His Dad Call on King Edward and Almost Settled the Irish Question.

BY HON. GEORGE W. PECK (Ex-Governor of Wisconsin, formerly publisher of Peck's Bad Boy, etc.) (Copyright, 1904, by Joseph B. Bowles.) London, England.—Dear Uncle Ezra: The worst is over, and dad and I have both touched a king. Not the way you think, touching a king for a hand-out or borrowing his loose change the way you used to touch dad when you had to pay for your goods, but just taking hold of his hand, and shaking it in good old United States fashion.

The American minister arranged it for us. He told somebody that Peck's Bad Boy and his dad were in town, and just wanted to size up a king, and see how he averaged up with United States politicians, and the king set an hour for us to call.

Well, you'd a dide to see dad fix up. Everybody said, when we showed our rand at the hotel, notifying us that we were expected at Marlboro House at such a time, that we would be expected to put on plenty of dog. That is what an American from Kalamazoo, who sells breakfast food, said, and the hotel people said we would be obliged to wear knee breeches, and dancing pumps, and silk socks, and all that kind of rot, and men's furnishers began to call upon us to take our measure for clothes, but when they told us how much it would cost, dad kicked. He said he had a golf suit he had made in Oshkosh at the time of the tournament, that everyone in Oshkosh said was out of sight, and was good enough for any king, and so he rigged up in it, and I hired a suit at a masquerade place, and dad hired a coat, kind of red, to go with his golf pants, and socks, and he wore canvas tennis shoes. I looked like a picture out of a fourteenth century book, but dad looked like a clown in a circus. One of dad's calves made him look as though he had a milk leg, cause the padding would not stay around where the calf ought to be, but worked around towards his shin. We went to Marlboro House in a hansom cab, and all the way there the driver kept looking down from the hurricane deck, through the scuttle hole, to see if we were there yet, and he must have talked with other cab drivers in sign language about us, for every driver kept along with us, looked at us and laughed, as though we were a wild west show.

On the way to the king's residence it was all I could do to keep dad braced up to go through the ordeal. He was brave enough before we got the invitation, and told what he was going to say to the king, and you would think he wasn't afraid of anybody, but when we got nearer to the house, and dad thought of going up to the throne, and seeing a king in all his glory, surrounded by his hundreds of lords and dukes and things, a crown on his head, and an ermine cloak trimmed with red velvet, and a six-quart milk pan full of diamonds, some of them as big as a chunk of alum, dad weakened, and wanted to give the whole thing up and go to a matinee, but I wouldn't have it, and told him if he didn't get into the king row now that I would shake him right there in London and start in business as a Claude Duval highwayman and hold up stage coaches, and be hung on Tyburn Tree, as I used to read about in my history of Sixteen-String Jack and other English highwaymen. Dad didn't want to see the family disgraced, so he let the cab man drive on, but he said if we got out of this visit to royalty alive, it was the last tommyrot he would indulge me in.

Well, old man, it is like having an operation for appendicitis, you feel better when you come out from under the influence of the chloroform, and the doctor shows you what they took out of you, and you feel that you are going to live, unless you grow another verminiform appendix. We were driven into a sort of Central park, and up to a building that was big as a lot of exposition buildings, and the servants took us in charge and walked us through long rooms covered with pictures as big as side show pictures at a circus, but instead of snake charmers and snakes, and wild men of Borneo, and sword swallowers, the king's pictures were about war, and women without much clothes on from the belt up. Gosh, but some of those pictures made you think you could hear the roar of battle and smell gun powder, and dad acted as though he wanted to git right down on the marble floor and dig a rifle pit big enough to git into.

They walked us around like they do when you are being initiated into a secret society, only they didn't sing. "Here comes the Lobster," and hit you with a dried bladder. The servants that were conducting us laughed. I had never seen an Englishman laugh before, and it was the most interesting thing I saw in London. Most Englishmen look sorry about something, as though some dear friend died every day, and their faces seem to have grown that way. So when they laugh it seems as though the wrinkles would stay there, unless they treated their faces with massage. They were laughing at dad's dislocated calf, and his scared appearance, as though he was going to receive the thirty-second degree, and didn't know whether they were going to throw him over a precipice or pull him up to the roof by the hind legs. We passed a big hall clock, and it struck just when we were near it, and of all the "hark from the tombs" sounds I ever heard, that clock took the cake. Dad thought it sounded like a death-knell, and he would have welcomed the turning in of a fire alarm as a sound that meant life everlasting, beside that doleful sound.

After we had marched about three mile beats, and passed the chairs of the noble grand and the senior warden, and the exalted ruler, we came to a bronze door as big as the gate to a cemetery, and the grand conductor gave us a few instructions about how to back out fifteen feet from the presence of the king, when we were dismissed, and then he turned us over to a little man who was a grand chambermaid. I understood the fellow to say, "The door opened, and we went in, and dad's misplaced calf was wobbling as though he had locomotor attacks-ye."

Well, there were a dozen or so fellows standing around, and they all had on some kind of uniforms, with gold badges on their breasts, and in the midst of them was a little, sawed-off fat fellow not taller than five feet six, but a perfect picture of the cigar advertisements of America for a cigar named after the king. I expected to see a king as big as Long John Wentworth, of Chicago, a great big fellow that could take a small man by the collar and throw him over a house, and I felt hurt at the small size of the king of Great Britain, but, gosh, he is just like a Yankee, when you get the formality shook off.

We bowed and dad made a courtesy, like an old woman, and the king came forward with a smile that ought to be imitated by every Englishman. They all imitate his clothes and his hats and his shoes, but he seems to be the only Englishman that smiles. May be it is patented, and nobody has a right to smile without paying a royalty, but the good-natured smile of King Edward is worth more than stomach bitters, and the English ought to be allowed to copy it.

THE KING AND DAD HAVE AN AFFECTIONATE TIME.

There is no more solemn thing than a party of Englishmen together in America, unless it is a party of speculators that are short on wheat, or a gathering of defeated politicians when the election returns come in. But the king is as jolly as though he had not a note coming due at the bank, and you would think he was a good, common citizen, after working hours, at a round beer table, with two schooner loads in the hold, and another schooner on the way, frothing over the top of the stein. That is the feeling I had for the king when he came up to us and greeted dad as the father of the bad boy, and patted me on the shoulder and said: "And so you are the boy that has made more trouble than any boy in the world, and had more fun than anybody, and made them all stand around and wonder what was coming next. You're a wonder. Strange the American people never thought of killing you." I said yesir, and tried to look innocent, and then the king told dad to sit down, and for me to come and stand by his knee, and by ginger, when he patted me on the cheek, and his soft hand squeezed my hand, and he looked into my eyes with the most winning expression, I did not wonder that all the women were in love with him, and that all Englishmen would die for him.

He asked dad all about America, its institutions, the president, and everything, and dad just was so flustered that he couldn't say much, until the king said something about the war between the States, in which the southern states achieved a victory. I don't know whether the king said that just to wake dad up, cause dad had a grand army button on his coat, but dad choked up a little, and then began to explode, a little at a time, like a bunch of firecrackers, and finally he went off all in a bunch. Dad said: "Look a here, Mr. King, some one has got you all balled up about that war. I know, because I was in it, and now the north and the south are United, and can whip any country that wants to fight a champion, and will go out and get a reputation, by gosh!"

The king laughed at touching dad off, and asked dad what was the matter of America and Great Britain getting together and making all nations know when they had better keep their places, and quit talking about fighting. Dad said he never would consent to America and Great Britain getting together to fight any country until Ireland got justice and was ready to come into camp on an equality, and the king said he would answer for the Irishmen of Ireland if dad would pledge the Irishmen of America, cause we had about as many Irishmen in America as he had in Ireland, and dad said if the king would give Ireland what she asked for, he would see that the Irishmen in America would sing God Save the King. I guess dad and the king would have settled the Irish question in about fifteen minutes, and signed a treaty, only a servant brought in a two-quart bottle of champagne, and dad and the king hadn't drank a quart apiece before dad started to sing "My Country 'Tis of Thee, Sweet Land of Liberty," and the king sang "God Save the King," and by thunder, it was the same tune, and tears came into dad's eyes, and the king took out his handkerchief and wiped his nose, and I bellered right out, and the king rose and offered a toast to America and everybody in it, and they swallowed it and dad said there was enough juice left in the bottle for one more round, and he proposed a toast to all the people of Great Britain, including the Irish, and the king who loved them, and down she went, and they were standing up. And I told dad it was time to go.

Say, it was great, Uncle Ezra, and I wish you could have been there, and there had been another bottle. The only thing that happened to mar the reunion of dad and the king, was when we were going out backwards, bowing. There was a little hassock back of me, and I kicked it back of dad, and when dad's heels struck it, he went over backwards and struck on his golf pants, and dad said: "El, Ennery, I've broken my bloomink back, but who cares," and when the servants picked dad up and took him out in the hall, and marched us to the entrance, dad got in the cab, gave the grand hailing sign of distress, started to sing God save something or other, and went to sleep in the cab, and I took him to the hotel. Yours, HENNERY.

Willie's Treatise on Girls.

Girls is a human bein' that shrieks when there's nothin' to squeel at; but boys is difrent, for they just holler. Girls grow up to wimmin and like dolls, but boys grow up to men and like balls, and when my pa read that he said, "Hyballs, I s'pose you mean, Willie," and then he left, but ma said, "For shame, Joseph!"—Sunset Magazine.

It Didn't Burn There.

"You're always talking about the 'poetic fire,'" she said. "I wish you'd put a bushel of genius into that empty grate there, and see if the children will be able to get any warmth out of it!" And then he went out into the cold streets of the city and wrote a rhymed advertisement for a basket of coal.—Atlanta Constitution.

The Alhambra Music hall, London, placed at its door a box with a slot in it for the receipt of suggestions from patrons for the name of a new exhibition to be given. How Emperor William is Battling Against a Dangerous Heredity.

Emperor William's father died of cancer of the throat.

Emperor William himself had infantile paralysis, and has had to struggle with many infirmities.

It has been whispered that he himself is troubled with the same malady which carried off his father. Royal blood is unfortunately most generally deteriorated blood. Emperor William knows this as well as anybody, and is doing his best to eradicate the bad blood from himself and his family by the adoption of simple life principles.

Through the visit of a countryman of his to Battle Creek, Michigan, while in this country, visiting the World's Fair in Chicago in 1893, Emperor William became acquainted with the Battle Creek idea of simple living and has to a large extent adopted the methods in his family. His wife and children live the simple life and take Battle Creek light baths. Their uncle, King Edward, also has these baths installed in his Windsor and Buckingham Palaces for the use of himself and Queen Alexandra.

Among other things GOOD HEALTH, the oldest health journal in the world, tells about the Battle Creek idea and the simple life. Every number is brimful of up-to-date ideas. Sample copy 10 cents. One dollar a year.

If you will cut this out and send to GOOD HEALTH PUBLISHING CO., Battle Creek, Mich., with a quarter you will receive a trial three months' subscription to this handsome illustrated monthly health magazine. Write today.

That and This.

"Twelve years ago I bought my first bottle of Hunt's Lightning Oil. For Cuts, Burns, Sprains and Aches it was the best remedy I had found to that time. After the lapse of one dozen years I can truly say it is the best remedy I have found to this time." John P. Thompson, Red Rock, O. T.

His Interest Was Personal.
An eccentric member of the British parliament who died recently endeavored vainly during a quarter of a century to get passed into law a bill for preventing persons from standing outside windows while cleaning them. During his last session the old fellow complained to a colleague that his object in introducing the bill had been quite misunderstood by the house for these 25 years. "I introduced the bill," said he, "not for the sake of the window cleaners, but for the sake of the people below, on whom they might fall. The idea of the bill was suggested to me by the fear that a window cleaner might fall on myself."

Another Dig at Powers.
A few days ago Gov. Cobb, of Maine, and Hon. W. R. Pattangall, prominent in politics in the same state, were together on a train. Mr. Pattangall is a lawyer and an editor, the writer of the humorous "Middy-bemps Letters" appearing in his paper, the Macenas Union.

In the course of conversation, Gov. Cobb remarked to Mr. Pattangall: "I don't see why you and Llewellyn Powers should be so extremely antagonistic to each other. Neither of you ever fails to give the other a rap when there is opportunity." At this point an interested listener in the car leaned toward their chairs and asked: "Is it really true that ex-Gov. Powers is of Indian descent?" "Well, the Indians deny it," Mr. Pattangall answered, in his inimitable manner.

SALLOW FACES

Often Caused by Coffee Drinking.

How many persons realize that coffee so disturbs digestion that it produces a muddy, yellow complexion?

A ten days' trial of Postum Food Coffee has proven a means, in thousands of cases, of clearing up bad complexions.

A Washn. young lady tells her experience: "All of us—father, mother, sister and brother—had used tea and coffee for many years until finally we all had stomach troubles more or less. "We were all sallow and troubled with pimples, breath bad, disagreeable taste in the mouth, and all of us simply so many bundles of nerves. "We didn't realize that coffee was the cause of the trouble until one day we ran out of coffee and went to borrow some from a neighbor. She gave us some Postum and told us to try that.

"Although we started to make it, we all felt sure we would be sick if we missed our strong coffee, but we were forced to try Postum and were surprised to find it delicious.

"We read the statements on the pkg., got more and in a month and a half you wouldn't have known us. We were all able to digest our food without any trouble, each one's nerves became clear, tongues cleaned and nerves in fine condition. We no longer use anything now but Postum. It is nothing like it." Write to Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich., for the little book, "Read the Little Book," Washn., D. C.

C. Unger, 211 Maple St., Champaign, Ill., writes: "I was troubled with a hacking cough for a year and I thought I had consumption. Herbine Renders the bile more fluid and thus helps the blood to flow; it affords prompt relief from biliousness, indigestion, sick and nervous headaches, and over-indulgence in food and drinks.

G. L. Caldwell, agent M. K. and T. R. R., Checotah, Ind. Ter., writes April 18, 1903: "I was sick for over two years with enlargement of the liver and spleen. The doctors did me no good, and I had given up all hope of being cured, when my druggist advised me to use Herbine. It has made me sound and well." 50c. Sold by Murchison & Beasley.

An agricultural department, separate on its operation is a momentous essential, not only for the farming interests, but for the public good, which latter will be enhanced by the greater achievements of agriculture made possible through the intelligent help of this department.

Our jury system certainly needs to be reformed, and the procedure in civil and criminal trials reformed and simplified. We suppose this feature of the platform announced at Dallas last week also contemplated minimizing, so far as possible, the resort to delays and technicalities.

The youthful offenders should have the care of the state, as the democratic platform contemplates. A law should be passed to the end that these youthful wards of the state may be "more suitably dealt with."—What is good for the private life of individuals, will redound to the betterment of society and the honor of our commonwealth.

It is evident that the banks, as thousands of dollars are deposited in them of the people's money, should receive more frequent and rigid inspections, and depend less on the confidence placed in trusted employees. They have in their hands too important trusts to risk the present insufficient protection given these deposits. The law placing better safeguards around them would be welcomed by all honest bankers and employees, and it would reduce to a minimum the chance of others to use the banks' funds in speculation.

The expenditures which attended the campaign of each of the four candidates for governor is receiving the serious attention of the public and the newspapers just now. The Houston Post thinks it is questionable if a remedy can be found for this very distressing state of affairs, when a strenuous contest is on, as in the past campaign, in which four determined men are warmed up for the fight. It looks like the Post is right, for expenses in the fight foot up like a streak of lightning. But we are constrained to remark with Geo. T. Jester that "as it is now, a poor man cannot make the race unless he is willing to accept the funds of his friends or some special interest. There are many bright and capable young men in Texas today who, under the present conditions, are debarred from becoming a candidate for office because they are poor. A man may be ever so competent, but unless he has money he cannot seek to gratify any laudable political ambition that he may have."

The San Antonio light makes the following timely utterance as to the purpose of Newspapers:

The world is full of newspapers, and it is running over with people who expect the newspapers to take up their personal fights and carry them on irrespective of consequences. The newspaper is set for the correction of public abuses and not the redress of private grievances. What concerns the public concerns the newspapers, and is considered, but what is merely personal or private does not concern the public and is not newspaper concern. Such matter can only be made newspaper material by being paid for. Is not that right?

Education for the young ought to be as thoroughly practical as possible, in order to fit them for life's work especially if they should be thrown upon their own resources. It is incumbent upon the families, communities and country to fit the growing members of the human family, morally and intellectually, for the responsibilities of individual and community life. The Sherman Register makes the following pertinent remarks in reference thereto:

There is no questioning the fact that education is a good thing, and the boy or girl who misses an education in this day and time is very apt to be left behind in the procession. But the need of practical or industrial education is very apparent. Every man and woman who steps before the footlights to say his or her little speech and receive a diploma should be able to step right down among the multitude and wrest an honorable living from the world. The education that fails to equip one for life's battles is lacking the very essential for what an education is intended. Learn to do things as well as to say things.

They say that the Crockett bar will make a fight on Judge Gardner two years from now in an effort to defeat his election, and that the bar at Palestine and other county seats in his district will do the same. And they further say that it is all because Judge Gardner performs the duties to which he has been elected. From the time he calls the court to order to its adjournment Judge Gardner is judge and no amount of argument, cajoling or ranting on the part of the lawyers swerves him from what he believes is the right course. Judge Gardner longs to see the law enforced and the people will back him in it. It will be useless for the lawyers to try to put some one on the bench whom they can wheedle into any kind of decision.—Houston County Times.

We think the Times does this bar and the rest of the district a great injustice in the foregoing. As a presiding officer, insisting on proper court proprieties and fair trials and execution of law, Judge Gardner's conduct unquestionably, we think, meets the approval of good legal judges, among whom are members of the Crockett bar. We have heard of no special opposition by this bar to Judge Gardner. Let the law be enforced, is the motto of every honest judge, lawyer and citizen.

"Make Hay While the Sun Shines."

There is a lesson in the work of the thrifty farmer. He knows that the bright sunshine may last but a day and he prepares for the showers which are liable to follow. So it should be with every household. Dysentery, diarrhoea and cholera morbus may attack some member of the home without warning. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which is the best known medicine for these diseases, should always be kept at hand, as immediate treatment is necessary, and delay may prove fatal.
